NICKEL DROPS AT MONTREAL

Stocks Weaken as Profit-taking Appears in Interlisted Issues.

CP.R. STRENGTHENS.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 9.—(CP)—A certain amount of profit taking appeared in interlisted issues on the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning.

Brazilian Traction eased to 10⅛, off ⅜ as traders took profits. From a similar cause Nickel dropped ¾ to 10. Trading was fairly active in these two leading stocks.

Canadian Pacific Railway showed further strength, curving sharply upwards to 16¾ at noon, which was a gain of 1½ over yesterday's close.

GRAIN BROKERAGE FIRM HAD SEVERAL OFFICES IN ONTARIO

No Information Known as to Why Action Taken by Exchange Council.

COMPANY TRADES CLEARED

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 9 (C.P.)—E. J. Bawlf Company Limited, grain and stock brokers of Winnipeg with branches throughout Western Canada were suspended from trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Notice of the suspension of E. J. Bawlf Company, Ltd., from the exchange was posted on the trading floor to-day. The firm has fifteen branches in the Provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and holds, it is understood five or six memberships on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

No information is forthcoming as to why this action was taken by the Exchange Council. As far as could be gathered, all the company's trades have been cleared, which led traders to believe that cancellation of the company's registration was requested by the company itself.

The firm operates four private wires—one to Chicago, one to Montreal, and one east and west to its various branch offices.

The company expanded its business substantially about a year ago when it took over business of several grain and stock brokers who had been forced to assign.

Announcement of the company's suspension from the Winnipeg Stock Exchange was also made. In this it was stated that the firm had failed to meet its obligations.

CENTENARY OF MICHAEL FARADY COMMEMORATED BY ENGINEERS

Barry Ottewell Speaks on Discovery of Electro-Magnetic Induction.

The centenary of an epoch-making event was last night honored by members of the engineering profession at the first meeting of the season of the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada at Paragon tea rooms under the chairmanship of A. B. Gates.

Barry Ottewell, treasurer, outlined in a very capable manner the achievements of Michael Faraday, whose discovery of electro-magnetic induction on August 29, 1831 was the basis on which the whole field of electrical engineering was established.

Mr. Ottewell recommended to the engineers a recent issue of the London Times, which carries a full page picture of Michael Faraday and a fund of information concerning his life and work.

From Humble Home.

Faraday was born in London of humble parentage. His father was a blacksmith. At the age of thirteen, Michael was apprenticed to a bookbinder. He was of a studious nature and used to attend lectures delivered by Sir Humphrey Davey. Keeping notes of the lectures, he had these bound and sent them to the lecturer. Some time later Sir Humphrey sent for Faraday to assist at the Royal Laboratories at a salary of 25 shillings per week. He was soon helping Sir Humphrey with his experiments, and was especially interested in electrical phenomena. At the age of thirty-four he was appointed Director of the Royal Laboratories in succession to Sir Humphrey Davey. The outstanding achievement of his lifetime came with his discovery of electro-magnetic induction in August, 1831—a centenary which is now being celebrated in London by engineers the world over.

Faraday died at the age of 76 in the year 1867. "It is interesting to note," said Mr. Ottewell, "that he is remembered not on the day of his birth or death, but on the anniversary of his famous discovery."

Chairman's Thanks.

Before calling upon B. L. Barnes to introduce Dr. N. H. Sutton, District Officer of Health and the speaker of the evening, the chairman thanked the members for having elected him to the chair for the ensuing season. He mentioned that F. G. A. Tarr, who had been again returned as secretary, had found it necessary to leave the city, and that W. Auld had consented to act in that capacity.

He suggested a membership campaign, as he was of the opinion there must be a number of members of the engineering profession, newcomers here within the last few years, who are not acquainted with the activities of the branch. "The E.I.C. embraces all branches of the engineering profession," he said.

Dr. Sutton gave an interesting illustrated lecture on "Water Supply and Sewage Systems From a Medical Standpoint," and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks by the membership of the branch.

SAYS GAME WARDEN SHOWS VIGILANCE

David Montgomery Intercepted by Dr. Kennedy in the North.

While returning from a trip into the northern part of the county where they had been picking cranberries, David Montgomery and his son Harold of Hall's Bridge were hailed by Dr. M. P. Kennedy of Lakefield, who was appointed game warden for the county a short time ago. It turned out that Dr. Kennedy was on the lookout for persons who might have ignored the restriction against the shooting of partridges. Mr. Montgomery says partridges are fairly plentiful now in the upper townships and he was impressed by the alertness of the new game warden in extending his activities into that section of the county.

LONDON LIFE MESSAGES

"What's wrong with the world?" is a much mooted subject. Economists and students of international affairs, however, are fairly well agreed that if confidence could be restored it would go a long way towards bringing about a new era. An outstanding example of confidence in the future is that of the London Life Insurance Company which has undertaken a new series of weekly messages in which it will give current business facts and figures of general interest to the public.

The messages of this company are particularly significant because it is fifty-seven years old and has passed through every phase of this country's economic history since that time. Moreover it happens to be the largest Canadian life insurance comany devoting its business to the Dominion of Canada.

PURSUIT OF OLD MAN PAR IS OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY

More Space to the Doings of Golfers Than Ever Before.

BALLOON BALL?

(By John C. Porter.)

In one of the New York week end papers, I think it is the Herald Tribune, golf has made a great new stride. Next to the shipping news, comprised of a half page of tabulated details of the arrivals, departures and positions of nearly every ship at sea, one finds with equal prominence displayed, the results of golf played over local links.

Thus news of the Bremen's arrival at port came into the same class of importance last week as the father and son tournament at the Pelham club or the kickers' handicap at Kitchawan or the fact that Buddy Heatte, had set a course record for juniors at Valley Stream with a neat 42 for nine holes.

For years golf championships have been front page stuff, but with the publishing of news of the doings of every week-end event at a hundred and one golf clubs parked in long, neat columns alongside the stock market quotations and the marine reports, golf's grip on the populace is shown to be increasing with compelling rapidity.

Baseball standings make their daily place on sporting pages, but no one ever reads of the backyard bouts of the local nine down at the corner of the street. Golfers have become avid for news of their doings, the pursuit of par has seized the imagination of the masses.

And another instance. When a national issue crops up, city editors send men off to get the opinions of the great. Experts are lined up and interviewed. Half a dozen opinions are published. That generally suffices. But when a proposed change in the new golf ball was announced in the United States recently, editors were not satisfied with six opinions because this issue thought they seemed even more than national.

Thus, judging for themselves the importance of the news, the editors of one New York daily published no less than 32 thoughts on the new ball as propounded by well-known golfers. When they ran out of golfers, they resorted to practically anybody who had ever heard of the game.

Although we in this country were far from being involved in the controversy which raged regarding the large, lighter ball which was inflicted on the golfers of the United States during this last season, it is interesting to discover just what some of the leading experts do think about the proposal to make the golf ball heavier, but of the same size.

For and Con

For making the ball heavier were lined up such glittering names as Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Willie MacFarlane, Gene Sarazen, Chick Evans and Johnny Farrel. Against it were Tommy Armour, A. Espinosa, Ed Dudley, Joe Kirkwood, Dave Hackney and Mrs. Philip Corson. Still others were unwilling to commit themselves on such a grave issue. These were Billy Burke, the United States open champion, Jess Sweetser, Miss Helen Hicks, the United States ladies' champion, and several other noted golfers.

What they had to say to the New York Times is interesting. Armour declared the present balloon ball was the greatest contribution that has been made to the game of golf and that he was sorry to see the change.

Ed Dudley stated that he had not tried the heavier ball yet, but that he had heard that it "floated and ducked badly."

Joe Kirkwood, who ought to know quite a bit about the actions of a golf ball, was of the opinion that the present ball had added many yards to the average golfer's distance because it got up into the air sooner.

Dave Hackney thought the present ball was "all right."

On the other hand, Walter Hagen said he was "all for more weight" and that more weight would help everybody, star and duffer.

Mrs. Philip Corson ventured that the change in weight would rob women players of considerable distance.

Leo Diegel stated that the combination of the present size and the new weight would be perfect.

Willie MacFarlane thinks that the new sphere will be a "100 per cent. ball."

Gene Sarazen said that it was the best ruling yet. What they should do, he added, was to give players the option of using any weight between 1.55 and 1.62.

Chick Evans held that the balloon ball lies better on the fairway than the old one and that now with a little more weight to stabilize shots in the wind it is as nearly perfect a ball for all classes as can be made.

HORSES AND STEERS ARRIVE FOR RODEO

Welsh Brothers at Brock Street Rink Next Week.

Two carloads of horses will arrive in Peterborough to-night for the Welsh Bros. Rodeo which will take place at the Brock Street Rink all next week. Accompanying the stock are fifteen of the best-known riders in Western Canada. The rink is quite large enough to put on a real good show.

In an interview with George Hamilton, manager of the Rodeo, he says that he and the rest of the Rodeo are very much pleased at the idea of being back in Peterborough again, and will give the patrons of the show a real Western treat.

There will be sixty head of horses and twenty head of wild bucking steers which will provide lots of excitement and fun for the audience. With the Rodeo will be Louis Welsh who holds the world's record for high jumping which is 8 feet, 11½ inches, riding Bara Ladd. He will have here with him another famous horse, Two Step and will give an exhibition of high jumping every evening of the show. The record he holds is recognized by the Rider and Driver, of New York City.

Johnnie Anderson, of Pincher Creek, Alberta, will be on hand again after a bad fall at London three weeks ago and it will be a real treat to see this boy ride. Herb Biggart, of Vulcan, Alberta, runner-up at the Medicine Hat stampede, will be riding steers—and just watch him go!

One of the many features of the Rodeo will be nine-year-old Joe Wilson Jr., who will entertain with trick riding, trick roping, etc.

Two of the boys, Louis Welsh and Herb Biggart, are at work getting the rink in shape for the show, and they say it is one of the best places they have seen for putting on a Rodeo.

The show, which starts on Monday evening, will include bronco riding, steer riding, bareback bronco riding, double-deck steer riding, trick riding, trick roping and many other features.

STERN WARNING SENT TO CHINA

Halt Hostilities or Take Consequences Says Japanese Note.

WARSHIPS SWARM COAST.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9 A.P.)—Chinese indignation surged high today over the bombing of Chinchow, Manchuria, by Japanese airplanes. At the same time Japan moved against the burning hostility with a sternly-worded note of warning.

While anti-Japanese feeling was sweeping the whole Yangtse Valley from Chengtu to Shanghai, Mamoru Shigemitsu Japanese Minister to China, left here on a destroyer for Nanking with a note warning the Chinese Government to "take prompt and effective measures" to halt the wave of hostility or take the consequences.

Simultaneously Japan moved strong naval reinforcements toward Shanghai. The cruisers Tokiwa and Tenryu left Sasebo and Kure Japan, this morning and are due here tomorrow.

Counting these two men-of-war, Japan had twenty fighting ships arrayed against possible violence from Chunking to the sea, a stretch of about 1,000 miles along the thickly-populated shores of the Yangtse River.

HOUSE BURNED NEAR OAK LAKE

Prize Winners in Belmont Boys Home Garden Club Are Announced

CARD PARTY HELD.

HAVELOCK, October 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. John Wood of Oak Lake suffered a rather severe loss in a fire on Wednesday, October 7, when his farm house, together with a number of outbuildings and contents, near the shore of Oak Lake, were consumed. The fire started in the roof at about five o'clock in the evening, and made rapid progress. None of the contents were saved, and there was a very small amount of insurance. The log cabin which stood apart from the other buildings alone was saved. Mr. Wood is a fire ranger, and his home during the summer months is a tourist hotel where a number of regular patrons come and enjoy the splendid fishing and hunting privileges of the various seasons.

The prize-winners in the Belmont Boys' Home Garden Club, sponsored by the Belmont Junior Farmers' Association and the Peterborough County Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, have just been announced by J. B. Nelson, agricultural representative.

Following are the prize-winners and also the high competitors in the garden and in the exhibits: Trip to the Royal Winter Fair as a member of the "500 Party," Arnold Whitney, Oak Lake. Cash prizes—1, Randal Anderson, $3.00; 2, Wesley Steenburgh, $2.50; 3, Harold Smith, $2.00; 4, James Fitzpatrick, $1.50; 5, Arthur Anderson, $1.00. Best gardens — Arnold Whitney, Randal Anderson, Harold Smith, Golden Varty, Wesley Steenburgh, James Fitzpatrick, Arthur Anderson. Best exhibits—Wesley Steenburgh, Arnold Whitney, Reggie McQuigge, James Fitzpatrick, Ronald Anderson, Arthur Anderson, Harold Anderson, Harold Smith. Best leader—Isaac Anderson.

Although a few of the boys in the competition were from the village, the winners were all from the township, showing that the country boys are better gardeners. Mr. Nelson, in a letter to each of the boys, congratulated them on the splendid showing and was sure that most of the boys who completed the work learned a great deal from the competitions.

The competitors purchased the seeds from the Department at a price below cost, and were coached by members of the local Agricultural Society. All the work in connection with the project was done by the club member, according to the regulations set by the Department, which distributed circulars from time to time with helpful suggestions. The boys were given a booklet with directions for planting, etc. All the boys were required to do was to give their time and keep a record of time of planting, kind of soil kinds of fertilizers, if any were used, and the vegetables grown in the same place the previous year. The boys who completed the work stated that they got a great deal out of the competition.

Havelock Junior Institute and Agricultural Society held a delightful card party at the Orange Hall on Wednesday evening, October 9, when fifteen tables of progressive euchre were played. First prizes were won by Miss Irene Craighead, who received a beautiful glass cream and sugar set, and Mr. Roger Young, who was presented with a handsome silk tie. Consolation awards were won by Thelma Gibson and Will Post. After a delicious lunch was served, the young people repaired to the basement, where dancing was enjoyed, the music being furnished by an orchestra of the young people's own club. The next regular meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 4.

The Ladies' Aid of the White Church, Rush Point, served a sumptuous fowl supper last evening to a large number of friends from the surrounding country, as well as their own church members. Shortly after six o'clock the first tables were filled, and until after eight o'clock they were replenished and refilled from time to time until all were served. As usual there was plenty of fowl and other good things for all-comers, and thought this year the price was 35 cents instead o fthe usual 50 cents, there was no shortage of the excellent food served, for which the ladies have gained a wide reputation.

Afterwards a splendid musical program was enjoyed.

STUDENTS WILL PROVIDE BILL

Executive of St. Andrew's S.S. at Millbrook Holds Quarterly Session.

PLANS FOR WINTER

MILLBROOK, Oct. 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—The executive of the Sunday school of Saint Andrew's Church met in the regular quarterly session on Tuesday evening the superintendent, W. Fred Fallis in the chair. After discussion it was decided to leave the securing of a minister for the school anniversary on New Year's Sunday with the pastor and the superintendent, and to give the entertainment, with talent supplied by the scholars of the school; on the evening of New Year's Day.

The superintendent introduced the subject of taking up special temperance lessons with the boys and girls for a brief period each Sunday, the six week's course to be followed by examinations, the material being supplied in the Sunday School periodicals distributed each Sunday. This course will be followed, beginning in the immediate future.

The executive endorsed the appointment of Kenneth Fallis as missionary superintendent of the school, and the meeting proceeded to consider what awards should be given another year for perfect attendance and the recital of verses, deciding on the same plan which has been followed in previous years with the addition of special prizes to those scholars in the intermediate part of the school who learn, and recite without a single error, the Ten Commandments at some time during the year.

The offering on anniversary Sunday will be given to the church thankoffering fund, and accounts outstanding were ordered paid by the treasurer, W. G. Hetherington.

On motion, it was decided to change the hour of meeting for the school on the first Sunday in November from 10 a.m. to 2.30 p.m., for the winter months.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer, the next quarterly gathering being in December.

NEW ROAD MARMORA-STIRLING RAPIDLY NEARS COMPLETION

Building Records Being Broken to Finish Job Before End of October.

MANY DIFFICULTIES.

MARMORA, Oct. 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—With the exception of a minor stone-crushing operation, the interesting series of road operations which is being carried out by the Routly Construction Company of Toronto for the Ontario Department of Highways on the fourteen-mile stretch of the King's Highway between Stirling and Marmora will be completed by the end of the present month.

This work which commenced on June 18, at one period furnished employment for about 200 men while at present 125 men are being retained, a good percentage of whom are local men. The contract calls for widening of the right-of-way, elimination of dangerous curves; cutting, filling, grading and surfacing with traffic-bound macadam. Thousands of tons of boulders have had to be disposed of. These came into the picture when the Department of Highways purchased land for the widening of the existing 40 feet roads to the standard wide of 66 feet. The Routly Construction Company has tackled the many difficulties incidental to this road construction with a well-organized force of road builders fully served by modern equipment.

Records Broken

To complete the work by the end of October, some records are being established in the production and application of materials and in cutting, filling and finishing. As a preliminary most naturally there was much grubbing and cleaning up to do. Rocks and stumps had to be removed. At some places boulders were of such dimensions that they had to be reduced to workable sizes by drilling and dynamite. Stump removals have been of the expensive type, especially in the case of green elm stumps which yield very stubbornly even to blasting.

Grading operations have called for three different classes of treatment. Hand labor and teams have functioned over long stretches of shallow rough surface. Three 60 h.p. caterpillar tractors with two strings of Maney scrapers, an Adams leaning wheel grader, a Sawyer-Massey grader, and two Killifer road rippers have been utilized, and for the period of two months which ended August 28, they handled 25,000 cubic yards at other sections of the fourteen-mile stretch. The heaviest cuts are being excavated by a Model 75 Thew-Lorain gasoline shovel with 1¼ yard dipper served by five four-yard International trucks. The cuts convenients to the quarry at Harold are being taken out by an Erie steam shovel. The Lorain shovel when it ceases operations at the end of the month will have excavated approximately 74,000 cubic yards.

Boulders Big Job

The nature of the material excavated south of Springbrook has been chiefly a fairly stiff clay. North of that village, great numbers of imbedded and surface boulders have been removed. Also in connection with the other operations, vast quantities of boulders have had to be removed. Some of these were lying in their original positions outside of the ditch line of the present narrow roadway, while others formed the roadway fence lines erected by the pioneer farmers with stone-lifting machines many years ago. Hundreds of these fence boulders are from one to three cubic yards in size. In most cases they have had to be drilled and blasted before becoming part of the fills.

Speaking on the matter of these boulders to The Examiner representative, Mr. H. T. Routly said it was somewhat unique that in this contract all the boulders had been disposed of, so that no unsightly piles were to be seen outside the ditch line. "It is generally the case," he said, "that if these boulders are not removed during grading operations, they are not removed at all, because of the greater expense entailed."

Most pleasing transformations of the highway have been caused where a layer of earth covers solid masses of rock which once was unsightly boulder.

Road Been in Use

During construction operations, the public have experienced little difficulty in using the road. As soon as a section of grade is completed and trimmed it is covered with a layer of fine crushed limestone produced in the quarry at Harold. This quarry has been producing an average of 610 tons per day, a record in itself for the equipment there. On this 14-mile contract, there are fifty standard highway culverts and bridge extensions.

The average rate of culvert installation has been approximately five per week, the work commencing June 12 and finishing September 10. Mr. Routly said this had established a record for this class of construction in the province. In culvert construction crushed stone from the local quarry was used for coarse aggregate. Sand was obtained from the Fuller pit for the culverts situated in the southern ten miles and for the balance from the Flynn pit in North Marmora. Cement has been trucked as required from the Canada Cement Company's plant at Point Anne.

About forty men are residing at the camp at Harold which is in charge of W. A. McDonald. D. H. Norman is the general superintendent, and Charles Langlois camp clerk and timekeeper. For the Department of Highways the work has been under the general supervision of A. A. Smith, chief engineer; Major W. L. Saunders, Port Hope, resident engineer; W. A. Anderson, assistant resident engineer, and E. E. Downes, instrument man.

At present most of the opertaions are between the C.P.R. crossing at Bonarlaw and the outskirts of Marmora. A large quantity of fill is being taken from a field near the crossing at Bonarlaw, which is owned by Mr. Melville Neal. This field contained an old gravel pit and not only has gravel been taken from it, but the undulating surface of the field is being levelled off and thus will become more serviceable to the owner.

CRITICIZES BRITISH MEALS

The nation's persistence in "bad old habits" in regard to cooking is sharply criticized by Sir George Newman, chief medical officer, in his annual report. "We permit our meals to become monotonous and stale badly cooked, unappetising, untidily served," he states.

NEW CABINET YET UNFORMED

Chancellor Bruening's Chances of Quick Re-organizatoin Are Not Considered Bright.

MANY DIFFICULTIES.

BERLIN, Oct. 8 (C.P.).—Germany has been without a Cabinet for twenty-four hours, and at midday Chancellor Bruening's chances for forming a new Cabinet quickly did not seem very bright.

The delay has caused some pessimism, for it had been expected that Dr. Bruening would be ready with a new Cabinet a few hours after his Ministry resigned yesterday.

He faces difficulties from three sides. President Von Hindenburg wants the new Ministry distinctly Richtist, eliminating the Socialist and Trade Union influences; the Social Democrats, on the other hand, threaten to swing into open opposition if the Chancellor moves to the right, and the Fascists refuse to have any part in any Cabinet which Dr. Bruening heads.

If the Chancellor finds a satisfactory way out of this dilemma, political observers say he will have performed another miracle, especially since the emergency decrees promulgated yesterday have brought expressions of dissatisfaction from many quarters.

Mrs. George Armstrong of Toronto is visiting Mr. and Mrs. James A. Armstrong.

MANY ECONOMIC MISTAKES MADE DURING GREAT WAR

Three Men Who Understood Mechanism of Modern Finance Are Dead.

DEALS WITH SITUATION.

(By William H. Moore, M.P.)

It is with extreme hesitancy that I comply with the request to express an opinion on the present financial situation. There is an old adage which runs that there were only three men who ever understood thoroughly the mechanism of modern finance and they are all dead. However, it may not be necessary to understand every part of that highly complicated mechanism to see clearly how we got into our present mess and the way out. It may well be that we have given so much detail that the statement of a few general principles will be useful!

Everyone agrees that our real troubles began with the war, although there were indeed signs of trouble before. Memory is short, and in the lapse of years we sometimes forget the size of the economic loss during the war period; let us recall that it has been estimated to equal the value of all property in the United States in 1913.

War Mistakes.

During the war we made many economic mistakes and that we should have made them was inevitable. When the war was over we made more mistakes and some of them were inexcusable. Our initial mistake now appears to have been in attempting to bring back "business as usual." It simply could not be done.

The United Kingdom with a huge shrinkage in wealth and none in pride could not forget that London had long been the centre of the world's finance and even in the light of the present day is so to be excused for the resolution to regain, if not its old position, then a place among the leaders. To that end it was considered necessary to bring sterling back to its pre-war value in gold. That action appears now to have been a mistake.

There is however, no doubt about the wisdom at the time of stabilization of the gold basis. Most of the nations of the world had left the gold standard during the war, even the non-combatants. For several years after the war currency inflation was the rule, not the exception, with wild movements in circulation and prices spreading destruction of savings and the incentive to thrift, particularly throughout central Europe. The stabilization of sterling on the pre-war value was not taken without careful soundings and not until 1925 was it brought about by legislative and with it the currencies of countries that had stabilized on the pound.

A Gigantic Task.

The undertaking of the United Kingdom, to pay its debts on the basis of the old pound was highly commendable an action that makes a man proud to be called British. But what a gigantic task! On August 1st 1914 the debt of the United Kingdom was placed at £654,000,000 and in 1919 it was £8,033,000,000 An heroic effort of a proud people! And it might have been done for by March 31st 1931 the debt had been reduced to £7,473,000,000.

Before I attempt to outline why it was not done,may I say a word or two about the change that came over the so-called "gold standard" after the war. It is a bit technical for those who have not given thought to the subject but a knowledge of the change is essential to an understanding of what happened in London the other day.

The pre-war idea of the gold standard was unlimited convertibility of notes into gold coins or bars, the free export of gold and a free circulation of gold coins. The financial committee of the League of Nations taking in hand the reconstruction of disorganized finance and fearing undue pressure upon gold supplies when the nations generally returned to the gold standard discouraged the use of gold as domestic currency. The circulation of gold coins speedily became almost obsolete. Monetary gold became concentrated in the vaults of Central Banks as reserves against which stated amounts of currency would be issued (a safe-guard against inflation) and as a means by which international balances would be settled.

The Gold Standard.

Right here came a change in the "standards," for in certain countries provision was made that the central banks could treat foreign exchange when tied into gold as gold's equivalent, e.g. "cheques and drafts on foreign banks of high standing payable at sight convertible in gold."

The practice was not unknown before the war but was confined to the weaker countries that were ambitious (but not quite able) to reach the gold standard. After the war the unusual practice became common practice. The switch from the "gold standard" to the "gold exchange standard" and the practice of carrying all gold reserves of the nations in New York, London and Paris has not, in my opinion received the attention it deserves as contributing cause of our troubles. Not infrequently criticism is levelled against the gold standard which properly belongs against something else.

Quite conversely it is said (sometimes bitterly) that the United States has grabbed more than half the world's supply of gold. The statement is inaccurate if it is meant that Americans of the United States own more than half the world's gold since a not inconsiderable portion of the gold within the United States belongs to foreign nationals. Nor is the custody of that gold an unmixed blessing for the United States. There is reason to believe that its presence contributed to the easy money that incited the orgy of stock speculation culminating in 1929 and the equally disastrous land boom that has brought bank after bank into the receivers hands. And then there is the danger of recall. But of that again.

Might Have Succeeded.

The present situation is by no means due to faulty monetary organization, nor is it to be cured by change in monetary organization. Great Britain is not alone in its inability to pay debts but just now we are concerned mainly with its attempt to pay, and its future. I have said the United Kingdom might have succeeded and I believe it would have succeeded had payment been taken by the creditors in the goods it produced. No. Perhaps I should put the matter another way.

The solvency of the United Kingdom, not unlike that of an industrial concern, depends upon the extent to which it could find a market for its products. The resources of the British Isles are not sufficiently varied for the support of British people. Britain must buy and sell abroad in a big way or shrink to the measure of its self-sufficiency. Before the war it was the creditor nation of the world. Not so many years ago it was the creditor of the United States and received freely from the United States goods in payment of obligations. Now the positions of creditor and debtor are reversed. The United States and France have become the creditors of the nations of the world. The United States in ten years sent more money abroad than Britain in 150 years and will take only part payment in goods. How then is re-payment to be made?

Politicians may meet at Geneva or any other place, economists may hold conventions; and special sessions may be held of congresses and parliaments but until that question is satisfactorily answered we shall have undischarged debts and financial insecurity. Plainly the creditor nations have just three alternatives: they may take payment in goods (if it is not too late), they may forgive in whole or in part the debts, or suffer repudiation.

Not a Well Done Job.

But let us return to the causes for Britain's failure. Whatever may be said for the national redistributor of Europe it was not an economic job well done. The peoples that had found political independence set out to attain economic independence regardless of the sacrifice. The orient caught the spirit. Door after door was closed to the products of British factories—even the British doors of Over-seas Dominions. India went into economic revolt. Australia raised high its tariff walls, sometimes prohibitive walls, against Great Britain, labelling them all the while a preference. And Great Britain with scarcely a murmur of protest struggled on. The nations of the world admired her pluck and closed their doors to her trade.

That was their privilege. Many of them were under financial obligation to Britain but they were not of the British Empire. And Britain struggled to pay her debt and hold the Empire together. To that end Britain expended $5.2 million in 1931 for naval expenditures alone. And in that expenditure Canada is concerned for surely the burden of Empire is partly ours so long as we are a part of the Empire and at times we boast that we are no mean part.

By the autumn of 1930 it became apparent to most of us that Britain had a great load than could be carried. And then it was that Canada struck a staggering blow at British trade and did it, if you please under the plea of protecting Canadians against the low-waged workers of British factories. And all the while we left those low-waged workers to carry the burden of our naval defence. The tariff blow against Britain was repeated by the Canadian Parliament in its legislation of 1931. I do not say that Canadian tariff action was the cause of Britain's financial downfall. I do say that it contributed and took the heart out of British people, and damaged Britain's prestige abroad.

Attack on Standard.

And that is not quite all the story. For some time past a well organized attack has been made, ostensibly on Britain's behalf by men prominent in finance and politics against the gold standard. Their object is difficult to understand. Britain's problem did not lie in inability to secure gold. More than half the world's annual supply of new gold is produced within the British Empire. Britain's problem lay in inability to hold its gold against debt demands and in face of the tariff barriers of the nations of the world, including British Dominions. In the years 1925 to 1930 gold imports into the United Kingdom amounted to $1,334,882,000 whilst exports for the same period were $1,389,486,000 — a net export of $55,604,000. It will be recalled under the gold exchange practice that London was with New York and Paris a gold centre for the world's central banks. The natural consequence of declining foreign trade and denunciation of the gold standard by prominent British men was a withdrawal of gold; in short a "run" on London.

On Sept. 19th it was cabled that Holland alone had withdrawn £4,000,000 from London within a few days. The final chapter of Britain's plucky fight to maintain its place in the financial world was written when on that historic Sunday the Chancellor of the Exchequer announced that a measure would be introduced in Parliament to declare "that sub-section 2 of section 1 of the gold standard act of 1925 shall cease to have effect"—a suspension of gold payments.

What then of the future. If I have correctly outlined the cause of the disaster the cure ought to be apparent; it lies not in abandonment of the gold standard, but rather in return to it; no permanent good was ever accomplished by playing "tricks" with money. The main cause of disaster obviously dies not in monetary organization but in the transactions for which money is merely the medium of exchange. While the world's monetary organizations may not be all good, the world's method of international trade is obviously all wrong.

SOVIET STUDENTS HAVE COMMON AIM

Object is to Fit Themselves to Take Responsible Positions in Country.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 9 (C.P.) —"The universities of the Soviet Union are being organized and conducted upon a scholarship basis. Whether or not a student is fit for higher education is decided upon by the authorities. Consequently no people are attending universities in Russia to-day because it is the correct thing to do socially. On the contrary, students are there for one thing, and one thing only—to fit themselves to take a responsible place in the building up of their country."

The above was told in an interview by Dr. Felix Walter, Associate Professor of Trinity College, University of Toronto. Dr. Walter, who is a graduate of McGill University and a former Quebec Provincial Scholar, passed through Montreal recently on his way back from an extended trip to Soviet Russia.

"The gulf between professor and student is also a thing of the past in the Soviet university," continued Professor Walter. "The professor is no longer a glorified schoolmaster, a remote and impressive being enthroned upon a learned Olympus. Rather he is a guide, a friend, a companion to the student. The very fact that professors as well as students dress like the workers, speaks volumes for the spirit that prevails.

"The separation of the university from the town and its accompanying aloofness of the professor from the worker which is and has been for centuries a feature of the western world, is non-existent in Russia to-day. In short, the Soviet university has divested itself largely of what is summed up in the popular imagination as academic and has substituted for it what is practical and in touch with life.

"I found that Southern Russia was the most impressive part of the country. The Ukraine, in particular, is the cream of the Soviet Union. The people here are among the finest and most independent types I have ever met. It is rather a pity that the majority of tourists confine their attention largely to Leningrad and Moscow. The Ukrainians would be able to give them a much greater idea of the potentialities of the Union as a whole, I think.

"Personally, I found that coming out rather than going into Russia was an anti-climax, or a let-down if you like. The atmosphere in the land of the Soviets is charged with an electrifying energy. You feel that every Russian has a definite purpose in life. In fact, he knows exactly where he is going and what he wants when he gets there."

130 TEACHERS AT CONVENTION

Sessions of County Teachers Held at Normal School.

VISIT QUAKER OATS CO.

The annual convention of the county teachers opened at the Normal School Thursday morning with an attendance of one hundred and thirty teachers.

The Rev. Mr. Millyard conducted the opening exercises and in a short address urged the teachers to make the part of good character building of greater importance in the schools.

Following a short business session came the appointing of committees. The president, Mr. Yuill then gave his address embodying a plea to the teachers each to do his best in helping solve the problem of unemployment and its attendant dangers in his community. The address was well received. Mr. W. R. Potter led the assembly in community singing after which the morning program ended with the reading of the report of Miss Faulkner, delegate to the O E A.

The afternoon session was opened by Mr. J. B. Nelson Agricultural representative for the county with an invigorating talk on planning and caring for the school garden. The school garden is not primarily for the food which it produces but it is intended to give the teacher and the pupil something concrete to work upon. The carrots or raddish may become infested with worms. This provides an opportunity to meet and deal with the problem in a concrete manner. Fertilizer may be used on parts of the garden for experimental purposes. The pupil immediately becomes interested and derives considerable benefit from these experiments due to the fact that he has something tangible to work with.

The next item was a demonstration of music with a rural class by Mr. W. R. Potter. The class although small in number sang exceedingly well. Mr. Potter then gave a short talk on the place of music on the school curriculum.

The main speaker of the afternoon was Miss Morgan, B.A., of the North Bay Normal School who delivered an inspiring address on literature and the writers of literature. Our Public School readers are lacking in good Canadian literature and Miss Morgan ably impressed the teachers that some of the poems which are now in our readers should be replaced by poems having a true Canadian atmosphere.

In the evening the teachers attended a theatre party at the Capitol Theatre.

To-day's program began with another talk by Miss Morgan, whose subject was the teaching of history. Inspectors Copp and Downey addressed the convention, Mr. Copp's subject being "Group Games Suggestions." The teaching of composition was covered by Miss M Boyce and Miss A. Laird and the morning session was completed by a demontration of materials for practical work in fifth class biology by Mrs. Cameron and Miss Nelson.

In the afternoon the teachers visited the Quaker oats plant, an excursion expected to furnish helpful teaching material concerning the industry.

YOUNG PEOPLE HEAR ADDRESS

Rev. Frank Hoffman, D.B., L.L.D., Hungarian Missionary, Speaks at Bailieboro.

SPLENDID TALK

BAILIEBORO, Oct. 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The members of the Fraserville circuit as well as the local Young People's Society enjoyed a rare treat on Tuesday evening when Rev. Frank Hoffman, B.D., LL.D., a Hungarian missionary from Saskatchewan, addressed a gathering in the United church and outlined his program of work among the foreign and Anglo-Saxon races in the great West.

Rev. E. F. Swayne introduced the speaker as well as conducting the devotional service. The Y.P.S. organist, Miss F. Watt, presided at the organ.

Dr. Hoffman briefly outlined his life previous to coming to Canada, in his opening remarks. He was born in Kunmadaras, Hungary, and educated at Iglo. He was taught how to speak fluently five or six languages.

After serving two years in the army Dr. Hoffman entered the Agricultural College at Kenthely, Hungary. Following graduation he was appointed manager of the model farm at Kolozsvar. He then took a course in law, which secured for him his doctor's degree. In 1905 he was professor of economics and statistics at the Agricultural College at Kasa.

In 1907 he was sent to study conditions in Switzerland, Germany, Holland and United States. In 1909 he visited Canada, travelling as far west as Victoria. In 1910 he filled the position of secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor of the County of Esztergam. In 1913 his wife died and he took his son to New York to place him in the Presbyterian school at Manhattan.

Upon returning to Hungary he found war was declared in 1914 on August 1st he was enlisted to the Hungarian Hussars and sent to the northern front. He was wounded and made prisoner of war, and interned in Siberia. On March 17, 1917, Bolshevism overthrew the government and took charge of the prison camps and Dr. Hoffman on April 24 was sentenced to be hanged as an anti-revolutionist, but that night he escaped and managed to get to Chetan. Disguising as a missionary he finally made his way to Nikolsh Ussuash, where he was received by the British Military Mission and kept as a refugee and worked in the British army warehouse until the conclusion of the war.

Coming to Canada in 1920 Dr. Hoffman registered at St. Andrew's College, Saskatchewan, and in 1923 was ordained as a minister. He was then appointed missionary to the Hungarians in Canada.

In his work he covers a distance of 2,768 miles and visits 27 appointments. Part of this journey is made by rail, part by motor car, part on horseback and about 500 miles on foot. He visits his appointments from three to five times a year.

Dr. Hoffman brought to his listeners a vivid picture of the famine and state of destitution of the people residing in that territory and also of their wonderful faith and sincerity to God despite their hardships.

A Demonstration of Land Clearing with BLASTOL

At Wm. Whittington's farm, Wednesday, Oct. 14th at 9.30 a.m.

At R. T. Lillico's farm, Thursday, Oct. 15th at 2.30 p.m.

BLASTOL has been developed for all types of farm improvement work. It is a general utility powder that will shatter a boulder, blow a stump, or make ditches equally well. Cases will average 150 sticks, about 20 more than other farm explosives.

Its low freezing point makes it suitable for blasting in winter or summer and it works efficiently in dry or wet ground.

Blastol will enable you to turn your waste land into fertile acres at a very small cost.

Be sure to attend this demonstration. You will be amazed at the efficiency of Blastol, the new farm explosive.

N OF PETERBORO PIONEERS ANDREW FAIRBAIRN IS NOW 89

Member of Lakefield Presbyterian Church for 72 Years.

RECALLS PARENTS.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 9.—Still a regular attendant at church and Sunday school, and a member of the Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church here which he has worshipped at for 72 years, Andrew Fairbairn now in his 89th year still enjoys a fair share of health and contentment.

Mr. Fairbairn, the son of a pioneer of this district, is the sixth and only surviving member of a family of eleven. His father, Andrew Fairbairn, was born in Scotland in the year 1806. He was a shepherd lad, and at eighteen years of age he migrated to Canada, arriving at a farm home 1½ miles west of Cobourg, where he remained for six years.

A Son of Pioneers

Mr. Fairbairn's mother, formerly Eliza Ann Hagerman, was born on a farm, 1½ miles east of Port Hope in the year 1811. The marriage took place on February 13, 1833, shortly after which the couple migrated to Smith Township. They passed through Peterborough when it was a mere hamlet, and journeyed on nine miles further through an almost unbroken forest. They arrived at a log house, which Mr. Fairbairn's father had built a few months previously as a home for his bride. It was at that time the only house in the neighborhood, the remaining buildings being shanties.

This hardy old pioneer had also purchased a two-hundred acre bush lot from the Government at four shillings per acre.

In 1853 or some twenty years later the couple had a family of seven boys and four girls. Andrew Fairbairn, who provides The Examiner with these interesting details, being the sixth of the family and the only survivor.

Loyal to His Church

"My father died in June, 1863, and my mother died in April, 1895," stated Mr. Fairbairn, and he added, "I have lived 78 years on the old farm on which I was born. My son of the third generation is now tilling the old farm situated one mile from the village of Lakefield."

Mr. Fairbairn enjoyed 59 years years happy, contented, married life, and has become a great grandfather. A member of the Presbyterian Church for 72 years, he was in 1900 chosen Commissioner to General Assembly at Halifax. In 1903 he was present as Commissioner at Vancouver, and seven years later was again Commissioner at Halifax. He heard the question of unity debated, and heard the determination of the Presbyterian denomination to carry on.

SILVER MUST BE RESTORED

Is Most Vital Element in Trade Structure, Declares Hon. H. H. Stevens.

GOLD INSUFFICIENT.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9 (By The Canadian Press)—Gold alone as a basis for domestic currency and international exchange settlements is insufficient, said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address to the Empire Club yesterday. Mr. Stevens said he was convinced that a fiduciary currency, while highly convenient for internal trade in times of peaceful stability, is subject to extreme fluctuations in periods of social or economic disturbance and consequently could not be considered as a reliable measure of values. Silver was a most vital element in trade structure and still played an important part in the activities of a large portion of the world's population.

"Restore silver to its ancient position as a companion with gold, as the basis of a real and useable money," urged Mr. Stevens. "Open once again the mints of the world to silver and you will restore and stabilize the economic life of two thirds of the human race and open up to the nations of western civilization those vast markets, which by the wanton action of 1873 have been gradually but surely closing to your trade."

Denies Ancient Right

Mr. Stevens pointed out that in 1873 Britain and Germany, followed later by France, Spain and Italy, denied to silver its ancient right of admittance to the mints of the nations. Thus deprived of its use as money, he said, silver lost much of its value and became a mere commodity. New methods of trade settlement were then introduced. There was fiduciary currencies by the billions. Use of gold was restricted to bank reserves and international settlement," Mr. Stevens went on. "But steadily the commerce of the world became more and more difficult, first in the far east and now over the arrogant nations of gold standard Europe and America stalks the phantom of want and misery and unemployment."

In other words, Mr. Stevens said, in debasing their money "you have destroyed their capacity to trade."

TENANTS GET FIRST CHANCE FOR ESTATE

Owner, Forced to Sell, Refuses Offers of Syndicates to Break Up Holdings

Rather than allow syndicates to break up the Burdon estate which was offered for sale at Sunderland, England, Major C. D. Gregson rejected their offers in order that tenants might acquire the property.

Portions of the estate are of much historic interest. Included in it are the villages of Burdon, near Ryhope, and Dalton-le-Dale, a hamlet near Murton and Seaham Harbor.

Together with Burdon Hall, the ancestral home of the Gregsons since 1569, and the villages, there were 20 farms, 47 cottages buildings and 2,668 acres of other land. The estate came into the possession of Major Gregson upon the death of the Rev. Charles Gregson, at Bournemouth, and was put into the market through the imposts of death duties and other taxation.

'NORB' MILLAR'S FLYING VICTORY AT EXHIBITION BRINGS PRAISE

Expert Sees Big Future for Young Flier Already With Fine Record.

LEARNED MUCH IN NORTH

By CAPT. W. M. GLADISH
(Canadian Aviation)

Out of the blue sky came a young man to capture the highest honor and the cash prize of $2,500 in the memorable Tip Top Aerial Derby, which was the outstanding feature of Aviation Day at the Canadian National Exhibition. This aviator who "arrived" with a vengeance, practically unknown and unsung, was W. N. Millar, age 26, a native of Peterborough, whose flying headquarters are at New Liskeard, in Northern Ontario. Millar, whose friendly name is Norbert, has been flying approximately five years and, during that time he has made great headway in his chosen profession.

This pride of the North Country holds certificates both as a Commercial Pilot and Club Instructor, and as an Air Engineer, having fitted himself not only for the operation of an aeroplane but also for the taking care of it so that the man and the machine are as one.

Much Northern Flying

Millar has learned much of aerial navigation over the uncharted expanses of Northern Ontario as well as across the plotted areas. The Hudson Bay and James Bay regions are not unkown to him as the pilot of the Tom Montgomery Prospecting Syndicate, while flying into unmapped country is all in the day's work for him. Therefore, it was natural for him to launch upon the 449-mile course of the Tip Top Derby through Western Ontario, though strange to him, as if it were part of that job of his up North. He had a map and there were certain marks to follow, so he just went ahead with the 1929 Gipsy Moth and eventually landed home the winner without a miss of the motor which he, himself, had tuned up. Just in passing, it is interesting to note that Capt. Jack Yonge, instructor of the Toronto Flying Club, who finished in fifth place just a few seconds outside of the prize money, was the tutor for one of the qualifying courses which Millar took to prepare himself for an air career. For the race, Millar replaced the floats with wheels and after he had received first prize he repaired himself to the task of installing the pontoons once more, did a little fixing around the machine and shortly hied himself back to the Northern stamping ground with Tom Montgomery, his boss, as a passenger.

Resourceful

Millar is resourceful—in line with the traditional ability of Canadian pilots. He has become adept at aerial photography and is frequently engaged in picture taking as a part of his work. When prospecting trips fall a little slack, he turns to passenger-carrying to keep busy, furthering the cause of aviation in the North Country as well as picking up the odd currency for maintenance cost. Millar has conditions to meet in Northern Ontario about which pilots in other sections know little or nothing. He is no sunny-day flyer and keeps at it in all kinds of weather, winter and summer. Once he pulled off the trick successfully of effecting a ski landing on the bare ground, with a son of Tom Montgomery as a passenger. They had been scouting in the Far North in the early spring. The snow and ice were still plentiful in that particular area and there was still the necessity for skis on the Gipsy Moth. When the intrepid pair returned to New Liskeard, they found open water in the lake and the fields devoid of snow. After circling around for several minutes, they saw that a field of the Ontario Government Experimental Station presented the best chance for a snowless landing and they literally skidded over the clay to an abrupt stop. In the meantime, a physician had noticed their plight and, grabbing his surgical kit, dashed in their general direction in his automobile. It was a case of medical man going to an accident before it ever happened and there was a good laugh all around when the medico arrived at the scene a few minutes after Millar and Montgomery, Jr., had alighted without a scratch.

Too Busy to Wed

As yet, Millar has been too busy and often too far from habitants to think of getting married. He is popular among all with whom he comes into contact but he gives first consideration to his flying, which is his business. His policy is to play safe and, therefore, he is a one-man ground organization that takes good care of the Gipsy Moth. He knows pretty well what he can do and how to do it. Hence, when he heard about the Tip Top Aerial Derby and wanted to compete, he quickly gained the permission of his boss to make the hop to Toronto and take part. Not only that, but Tom Montgomery and his partner in mining generally, Col. C. H. Ackerman, of Peterborough, both came to Toronto to view the race. Montgomery declared he wasn't surprised when "Norb." flew past the flag pole at the Exhibition Grounds ahead of the field. That's what they call faith in a fellow. Norb. did not fail. That's a North Country custom.

Modernized Bible Soon To Be Issued

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—An entirely modernized Bible is soon to make its appearance. The new testament version will be by Dr. Edgar J. Godspeed, while the old testament will be presented by Dr. J. M. Powis Smith. Both are members of the faculty of the University of Chicago.

"We feel our work will supply a great public need," Dr. Goodspeed said, "for while King James' version is a very level one, and there will always be those who cling to this old translation, the majority of the people do not understand the meaning of the Bible in its old terminology."

Dr. Goodspeed said that from the discovery of old papyrus documents in Egypt, left by the Grecian colonists of many centuries ago, scientists had solved the mystery of the wording of the Greek translation of the New Testament.

POINTERS ON ART OF ENTERING LEAVING AND DRIVING A CAR

Allowing Elbow Outside the Window Very Bad Form.

CORNER TIPS

This brings to us another important issue: Should the elbow be allowed outside the window? This point is highly provocative of controversy. In the name of Beauty, I would advocate the Golden Mean. The time and place for the exposed elbow must be considered. Obviously, when a lady is gowned for formal occasions, she would spoil her ensemble of gown and car by such informality. In driving to Morning Service I am certainly opposed to such carelessness of posture; it is incongruous. On the other hand, the loose sleeve of a blazer, or the sun-tanned arm itself, is a most charming sight. Undeniably it is a triumph for the doctrine of Grace at the Wheel.

Turning corners must conclude this preachment. One cannot drive a car for long without becoming familiar with the angle of 90 degrees. At first we incline to make it over a hundred by mounting the curb. Later, we may still make it over a hundred by cutting in on the left-hand side of the road. One thing is quite certain, a corner taker on two wheels is a most unlovely sight. It may sound nervy, and it may feel venturesome, but it looks vile. Presupposing, then, that the car is travelling at a gentle pace, the Lady will find it possible to swing the wheel with a predominant movement of either left or right arm, supplemented by a smaller, but equally firm movement of the other. A gorgeous circular sweep can be made by letting the dominant movement continue around the entire circumference of the wheel. This greatly enhances the beauty of the turn, but must be manipulated with restraint. If done lavishly it reminds one of a clown tumbling through a hand-spring. It should always be remembered that ordinary steering requires little effort, so that it is quite safe, and extraordinarily effective to let the fingers trail delicately over the wheel instead of invariably holding it like a vice. At speed, however, hold the wheel with both hands firmly.

Sound pictures of moose and deer are being taken this year in the famous Miramichi River district, New Brunswick.

A Cordial Invitation

Arrangements are now almost completed, and citizens have been very generous with their contributions and prizes. The committees have worked hard for months, and now urge that all district plowmen, who possibly can, enter the County Contest on Tuesday next and the International events Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

THE PRIZE LIST IS THE BEST THAT HAS EVER BEEN OFFERED TO THE FARMERS OF ONTARIO.

The County Match consists of fifteen classes, divided in such a way that nearly all plowmen are sure to win. Boys under 16 will all get a prize. The other classes are divided so that new men will not have to compete with those who have already done plowing at previous matches.

The same obtains in the International Contests. Consequently, the committees have every reason to urge plowmen to enter, so as to help make for this year's match and the County of Peterborough an outstanding record in the history of Plowing Matches in the Province of Ontario.

There will be plenty of teams and tractors for all who wish to enter.

MOUNTIE SAVES ESKIMO WOMEN

Beothic Brings Back Strange Tale of Religious Fanaticism.

DEATH BY STONING

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 7—How a Royal Canadian Mounted Police Corporal travelled 500 miles by dogsled and arrived at his destination just in time to prevent the stoning to death of several eskimo women, is described by H. W. Porter, Halifax Herald staff writer, who made the trip north this year on the Government supply ship Beothic, and heard the story at Port Burwell.

Some two years ago an eskimo known as Miller, who had become converted to Christianity, began to preach on his own responsibility, taking as his circuit Leaf River and Fort Chimo in Ungava district. He conceived the idea that his flock must wear on their clothing all sorts of decorations, mostly running to stars, squares and circles, and that he as leader, must adopt flowing robes and turbans.

Marching to service with flags on long staffs and other procedures were added to the ritual, until the natives last winter become more and more hysterical. They read the Bible closely, but practically reversed the meaning of its injunctions. Finally they felt they had been literally commanded by God to stone all barren women.

Husband Seeks Aid

One of the husbands of the women selected for the stoning made the journey over snow and ice to Fort Burwell for assistance. On the day of his arrival Corporal F. McInnis left by dogteam for Leaf River, 500 miles away.

He reached Leaf River in record time, just as the stoning was about to commence, and immediately got in touch with Miller through an interpreter. Proceedings were stayed while the corporal invited the evangelist to go to Fort Chimo where there was a white man who knew both languages, and to this Miller readily agreed, declaring a moratorium upon religious bloodshed in the meantime.

Arriving at Chimo, McInnis got out a Bible and with the interpreter, went over in Miller's presence the various passages on which the natives' practices were based. Finally the new apostle was convinced that some, at least, of his ideas were wrong, particularly those concerned with violence ,and readily went back to Leaf River and explained his new interpretations to the flock.

The childless women, in fear of their lives, had become half insane, and it was not until life had become normal in the settlement that McInnis made the long trek back to Burwell.

Peterboro Madrigal Singers In Recital

The Madrigal Singers of Peterborough, under the direction of Dorothy Allan Park, were heard in recital on Saturday evening at the Eaton Auditorium. There was a good sized audience. Assisting artists were: Maurice Solway, violinist; Philip Spivak, 'cellist; Madge Williamson, pianist, and Gwen Donley and Weldon Kilburn, accompanists. Program included madrigals, glees and part-songs by Purcell, Arne, Rimsky-Korsakov, Grieg, Brahms, Leo Smith, Healey Willan, Elgar, and Hungarian and English folk-songs. Elgar's "The Snow" was done with violin, 'cello and piano acompaniment. Maurice Solway played Schubert's "Ave Maria," and Mme. Allan Park sang a group of songs.

Madrigal Singers.

There are twenty-eight ladies in this Peterborough ensemble, singers all and charmingly costumed in picturesque old English garb. They are good to look at and delightful to listen to. There is humiliation in the confession, but the truth must be told. They brought to Toronto music lovers on Saturday night something that Toronto couldn't send to Peterborough. They sing always sweetly and easily, there isn't a sixteenth of a tone "wobble" in their note, whether they are singing as softly as harmonized zephyrs or as powerfully and brilliantly as exultant seraphs. They sing on their words all the time, and every bar of their music is memorized. Two hundred and fifty year old Purcell sounded as young and fresh as music improvised the day before yesterday. They took his florid passages as freely and smoothly as a choir of flutes turned human. They whispered musically, and phrased as beautifully with an intuition for cadence as though it was solo and not concerted work that they were doing. As an exhibition of choral scholarship their offering was conclusive, as entertainment it was enjoyable beyond praise.

"The Music Makers"

They sang Purcell with a lilt that was as delicate as it was impersonal. And Brahms was just as excellent in a different sense. His temperamental harmonies were achieved so smoothly and evenly, no hesitation in difficult progressions, that you thought of the steadiness of stately candle flames in symmetrical array down an Old World panelled hall. Welcome to your mood was Leo Smith's setting of Arthur O'Shaughnessy's "The Dreamers of Dreams", "We are the music makers!" A far from obvious bit of scoring, with many dramatic stresses and most expressive lingerings on the deep reflective moments of the poem. They sang it with uncanny sympathy and understanding. A beautiful number that in a sense emphasized their evening's mission. They were indeed "The Music Makers" from Peterborough, and their singing has left many precious memories.

Mme. Allan Park.

Mme. Dorothy Allan Park's solo singing was equally memorable. Without doubt her madrigal singers have caught their gifted director's spirit. One of the purest and most sympathetic soprano voices heard in Toronto is hers. Her coloratura passages are done with oratorio-like dignity and every note—in the most rapid phrase—is placed exactly where it belongs. Her words are clear as Hempel's, and her English perfect. She sang "Drink To Me Only" with a lightsome detachment that some of our greatest singers might cultivate with benefit to their artistic souls. There was no labored sentimentality about it, no 20th century neurosis superimposed on a 17th century delight. It is rarely indeed that the music lover enjoys two such experiences in a single concert as the choralism of Peterborough's Madrigal Singers and the singing of Dorothy Allan Park.

PURSE OF GOLD TO MR. AND MRS. SHAW

Golden Wedding Anniversary —20 Grandchildren, 1 Great-Grandchild.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 9.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw of Campbellford was celebrated yesterday when friends and family numbering over one hundred gathered at their home to shower upon them congratulations and good wishes for the future. The occasion was marked by the gift of a purse of gold from the family which proved to be an agreeable surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were fortunate in having all their children with them for the occasion, with the exception of their son, John, of Cardinal, who sent greetings to his parents. Other out-of-town visitors included a brother of Mr. Shaw's, Mr. Andrew Shaw of Ironwood, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. Anson Armstrong and Mr. Armstrong of Toronto and Mr. Charles Pomery of Warkworth. Mrs. Robert Neer of Winnipeg, Manitoba, also sent congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw were married at Warkworth on October 7th, 1881, by the Rev. D. Sutherland. Their marriage has been blest with five sons and three daughters, the sons being William, Charles and Harold of Campbellford, John of Cardinal and George of Tweed. The daughters are Mrs. Bessie Jones, Mrs. Gilbert Reid and Mrs. Walter Blake, all of Campbellford. In addition there are twenty grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Accompanying the presentation of the purse of gold to the happy couple the following address was presented to the parents by their children:

Dear Mother and Father:

It is with hearts full of gratitude to God we meet here this evening to celebrate your golden wedding anniversary—your fifty years of married life. For many of these your childen were too young to appreciate the joys and sorrows that filled your days, but, as we grow older we could see things from your viewpoint more clearly. You have had a goodly measure of health and strength, your family near you constantly and your lives have fallen in pleasant places. It is our earnest wish that you may be spared many years longer to each other and us and we want you to accept this token of our love and gratitude.

Signed by the Family.

Obituary

MRS. CLINTON ATWOOD

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Mrs. Clinton Atwood was held on Wednesday afternoon from St. John's Church and was attended by many friends. The W.A. (of which Mrs. Atwood was the oldest member) were present in a body to pay respect to one whose active work past, still remained an inspiration to her fellow-members because of her interest and enthusiasm for the work.

The service was conducted by Rev. W. J. Creighton, M.A., assisted by Rev. A. W Mackenzie, D.D., while Archdeacon Warren of Toronto gave the address. It was very fitting that these three clergymen should be present at the service as they are those connected longest with the parish than any other living clergymen and all knew Mrs. Atwood as a beautiful Christian character, whose life was spent serving God, and His church.

Two hymns were sung by the choir, "Hhe Leadeth Me" and "Unto the Hills Around Do I Lift My Longing Eyes." Mrs. E. de C. Fletcher presided at the organ.

Archdeacon Warren spoke of the life here and hereafter and of the varied duties and responsibilities which were ours in life, in home, church and community, duty to God and to our neighbour. He paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased lady who had fulfilled in such great measure the duties of her life in home, church and community and of her intense loyalty to her church.

The pall-bearers were Dr. H. C. Amys, Messrs. Thomas Watson, C. M. Heddle, J. C. Strickland, F. M. Dela Fosse and O. A. Langley. Interment was made in the family plot in Hillside Cemetery.

Mrs. Atwood, who was in her ninety-third year, was born quite near the village on the farm later owned by the late E. R. Tate when her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Traill, were living. She was the second of their three daughters and was married to the late Clinton Atwood in the little old stone church (the first in Lakefield) now used as St. John's parish hall. After her marriage she lived for years in the Rice Lake district, removing with her husband and family to Lakefield more than forty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood purchased "Ashelworth," the picturesque residence which has been the family home ever since. Mr. Atwood died some years ago and Mrs. Atwood lived with her daughters who were devoted in their care and attention to her. Mrs. Atwood was a lover of good reading and was the oldest patron of the Lakefield Public Library. Her handwriting was beautiful, clear and distinct and her letters were treasured by those privileged to receive them.

Mrs. Atwood inherited her mother's love of nature and was herself a gifted naturalist, loving birds, animals and flowers. Birds found a sanctuary at "Ashelworth" and fortunate were the animals which found a home there.

Mrs. Atwood's mother, the late Mrs. Catherine Parr Traill was a very remarkable person and was a picturesque figure in the community for many years. Mrs. Atwood was the oldest member of St. John's Parish and although, through the infirmities of years, she has been unable to attend the services in recent years, her interest remained strong and her love for her church never failed.

The gracious lady, who for some many years was Chatelaine of "Ashelworth" will be greatly missed in the comunity where she has so long resided. Mrs. Atwood is survived by four daughters, Mrs. F. H. Lingwood, Mrs. J. W. Todd and Misses Annie and Florence Atwood, all of Lakefield and two sons, Clinton of Grand Forks, BC., and G. Evans of Toronto. A brother, Mr. Walter Traill of Western Canada also survives.

What a happy baby!

BABY'S happiness is so largely a matter of health and comfort. If he frets and cries, it's quite likely a rash, or a chafed skin or a stopped up nose is making him miserable. You'll be wise to prevent these little troubles with "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly.

After the baby's bath, apply a light film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly all over the delicate skin—head, too. Then with little cotton swabs on toothpicks, very gently apply to the baby's nostrils. This cleanses and lubricates them and tends to prevent colds.

These are safe, easy things to do. "Vaseline" Jelly has been used for babies by mothers and doctors and in great hospitals for more than half a century. And remember when you buy that the trade-mark Vaseline on the label is your assurance that you are getting the genuine product of the Chesebrough Manufacturing Co., Cons'd, 5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal, Canada.

The Spokesman-Review of Spokane, Washington, of recent date, has the following account of the wedding of Miss Cecelia Ann Moloney, of Spokane, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Moloney of Ennismore:

"The marriage of Miss Cecelia Ann Moloney of this city to R. Turnbull Smith, Berkeley, Cal., was solemnized in Holy Angels' Church, San Diego, Cal., on August 7 by the Rev. Father John Anthony Sheppard.

"Reminiscent of the quaintness of the period known as the gay '90s was the bride's attire, a dress of white mousseline de soie with large floral design of pale blue and rose. It was gathered at the waist line with a blue sash and worn over a white crinoline petticoat. She wore an off-the-face white braid hat trimmed with blue flowers, lace mitts, and blue and white slippers. Her flowers were a bouquet of summer garden blooms. The bride's only jewellery was a gold necklace and locket which had been worn by her mother at her wedding.

"Mrs. Rudolph Naccarato, Spokane, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of peach bloom chiffon with cocktail jacket, trimmed on the sleeves with fur. Her hat was a turban of darker chiffon. She carried Talisman roses and pansies.

"Mr. Naccarato, who with his wife motored to San Diego for the nuptials, was best man for Mr. Smith. Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Pickwick Hotel.

"Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Dallas, Texas, after September 15, but until leaving for Dallas they are staying in San Diego.

"The bride, who attended the Spokane schools, was graduated from the Sacred Heart School of Nursing. Her engagement was announced in the early summer, and before leaving for San Diego she was honored at several delightful parties. Mr. Smith was graduated from the University of California with a degree in engineering in 1930."

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little wearing, a lovely green voile—an imported dress—lost color so completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it any more. On hearing the reason, she advised dyeing it and recommended Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, it turned out beautifully. I have a lovely new dress that really cost just 15c—the price of one package of Diamond Dyes..

"I have since used Diamond Dyes for both tinting and dyeing. They do either equally well. I am not an expert dyer, but I never have a failure with Diamond Dyes. They seem to be made so they always go on smoothly and evenly. They never spot, streak or run; and friends never know the things I dye with Diamond Dyes are redyed at all!" Mrs. R. F., Quebec.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Every person who is blamed for the way she does her work cannot fail to wish that the one finding fault could or would do the work herself and see what problems presented themselves.

• • • • • • •

The critical onlooker sees things accomplished and if not to her liking, she feels certain that the work could have been done, and usually she thinks easily done, to bring satisfactory results.

• • • • • • •

It takes a person who has performed similar tasks to appreciate the amazing number of little things that can arise to frustrate and make difficult even the simplest job.

• • • • • • •

Fault finding is the recourse of small or cramped minds; of persons who are ill or who have little real understanding.

• • • • • • •

It is seldom correct, since it is, in itself, destructive. It is a negative quality and requires the person blamed to see the opposite point of view to be able to benefit at all.

• • • • • • •

Parents who are constantly finding fault and blaming their children for displeasing actions seldom have the best behaved offspring.

• • • • • • •

Blaming someone for unsatisfactory work or finding fault with him is quite another thing from admonishing him, which is done with the intent to caution and help. It may or may not be coupled with criticism, but if it is, it is constructive criticism.

• • • • • • •

A husband who blames his wife when the running of the house is not to his liking, may have just reason. Perhaps she is a poor housekeeper.

• • • • • • •

But she is apt to remember the unkindly criticism rather than to mend her ways. If she is a good housekeeper, she resents the blame, knowing that the man knows nothing of the difficulties.

• • • • • • •

How she wishes he could run the place for just one day. However, the good housekeeper is not apt to be blamed for her housework unless the man is not well, or has been upset by his own business problems, or is disappointed in her unexpected failure, which, of course, bothers the woman sorely.

• • • • • • •

A wife who blames her husband for not making more money or for not being more successful in his business affairs, may have just cause. He may lack good business judgment, but blaming him makes him depressed and angry, and never more efficient.

• • • • • • •

If he actually has good business acumen, and finances have gone wrong temporarily, he certainly must wish she could face his problems, if only for one day, and realize the obstacles he has to surmount.

• • • • • • •

But, unless the woman is ill or entirely lacking in knowledge of business, she is not apt to censure such a business man except in certain instances, when the man probably is as disturbed over the turn of affairs as she is.

• • • • • • •

It is his turn to need sympathy, the kind that is inspiring and encouraging.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

CHEW YOUR FOOD.

One of the hopeful signs of the times is to see the number of individuals who are now willing to have their own teeth removed owing to infected roots and also pyrrhoea.

Formerly it meant months of waiting until the gums would be in good firm condition to have a permanent set of artificial teeth put in. Now, however, just as soon as the gums have healed—a matter of days—a set of temporary teeth, or a partial set as the case may be, can be worn, and the individual is not ashamed to be seen on the street, and what is even more important, he can actually chew his food.

Is chewing important?

During the war the teeth were almost the first thought in so far as the physical examination of the recruit was concerned. He must have at least one grinding tooth immediately above or below another grinding tooth so that chewing could be done.

Chewing the food gives it a real start in digestion. Some individuals are able to bolt their food without chewing it and enjoy a fair measure of health, but most of them will have gas pains in stomach or intestines.

Chewing the food gives the digestive juice of the mouth a chance to get well mixed with the food, thus changing the starch into sugar, and breaking up the starch granules, which if not broken up in the mouth may pass through the stomach and small intestine, and when finally broken up in the large intestine give raise to a great deal of pain from gas pressure.

Chewing also gives the digestive juice a real chance to moisten and soften the food, thus making it easier for the stomach to prepare it for further digestion and absorption into the blood from the small intestine.

Another point that should be remembered is the part the brain plays in digestion. When the food is well chewed the taste buds in the mouth are aroused by the flavor of the food, the brain thus sends impulses to the digestive glands of the mouth and they then pour out more digestive juice to act on the food.

It is certainly a real health habit to chew your food properly.

When the little County Council school at Traset, England, reopened after the summer vacation there were only four pupils, all of whom had walked three miles across mountain burns, and they planned to do so daily.

Whole Wheat MUFFETS

give sun vitamin D...

Nourishing biscuits of whole wheat, with all its bran, plus the Sunshine Vitamin D—that's a Muffet.

All the natural flavour . . . all the goodness. For Muffets are just plump whole wheat in a fascinating form. The cooked grains are rolled into a ribbon of open texture and wound round and round to Muffet size and shape. Then baked in huge electric ovens and toasted through and through.

Muffets contain the Sunshine Vitamin D. No other whole wheat biscuit has it. This is the vitamin which nature needs to help you use precious mineral in your food. Without this mineral, bones and teeth of children can not grow sound and hard, nor can adults repair daily wastage.

Serve Muffets with milk or cream, or with fruit. Or heat, pour on hot milk and then, if you wish, add cream. Eat at breakfast or any other meal. All grocers have Muffets.

HEALTH FACTS about Irradiated Muffets

1. For Growth — Contain protein of greater concentration than in ordinary refined cereals.
2. For Bones and Teeth—3 times as much phosphorus as in white flour, 20% more calcium than even in ordinary whole wheat bread.
3. For Your Blood — 3 times as much iron as in cornmeal or rice.
4. For Well-being — Roughage, in the exact proportion intended by nature.
5. Vitamins — The new sunshine vitamin D that helps you use precious minerals in your food.

Buying Wisely

An old and conservatively managed banking institution has issued to its 240,000 depositors a circular message that merits consideration, also by customers of savings banks generally on the North American continent.

This bank points out that hoarding and thrift are not synonymous terms; that, in fact, they are quite as different as courage and fear. The circular therefore gives the following advice:

"Keep on deposit a reasonable reserve against emergency, not a hoard."

"If you have a surplus above all likely need, make careful purchases of things you want for permanent use while prices remain low."

"See that your home is put in good repair. Do not let your automobile or any other property get run down. If you have long needed an added piece of furniture, shop carefully and buy it now."

"Buy clothing and other needs in reasonable quantities. Buy real estate if you are planning for a home of your own."

"Wise spending at the right time is just as essential as preventative measures to insure good health. Wise spending of available money encourages prosperity and corrective measures, good health and enjoyment."

"Every citizen who spends such money in some useful and wise way is contributing to the relief of unemployment and to the return of confidence and prosperity in this city and county."

Babson's Statistical Organization in their Canadian Babson's Chart, points out: "We feel that pessimism has been allowed too free a rein. In our anxiety to get over the world's depression epidemic we sometimes fail to give proper evaluation to existing conditions. The depression is acute, not chronic."

CITIES OF MILLION POPULATION NOW NUMBER NEARLY TWO SCORE

Mexico City is the Latest Addition, According to 1931 Census.

MOSCOW ALSO HIGH

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 9.—Nearly two score cities of the world now have a population of a million or more, it was revealed with the announcement that Mexico City had gone over the magic mark in its 1931 census by annexing its suburbs.

Another indication of the great trend of population to the cities and the tremendous rates of growth metropolitan centres have experienced was noted in the recent Moscof census which gave the capital of the Soviet republic 2,745,000 inhabitants, an increase of 35.5 per cent since 1926.

Even Leningrad, one time captial of the Czars, which was understood to be slowly dying as the Soviet state neglected it in favor of the development of Moscow, was revealed as having jumped into the two million class, with a gain of 38 per cent. in five years.

Mostof the great cities of the earth have been counting heads in the last year and some startling figures have resulted. London showed 8,000,000, while New York reached 7,000,000. Chicago jumped into the three million class, Berlin just stopped short of 5,000,000, two additional U. S. cities— Detroit and Los Angeles—counted above a million. Seven countries now have cities of more than a million China leads the list with seven. United States is next with five cities directly credited with one million or more, and six others with a metropolitan population above a million

England, Germany, Russia, Japan and India each have two cities of more than a million, while one each is claimed by Argentina, Egypt, Turkey, France, Brazil, Australia, Poland, Austria and Mexico. The cities are Bombay, Calcutta, Berlin, Hamburg, Buenos Aires, Cairo, London, Glasgow, Istanbul, Leningrad, Moscow, Montreal, Osaka, Tokyo, Paris, Rio, Sydney, Warsaw, Vienna and Mexico City.

JUDGMENT FOR GARAGE OWNER

William Baker, of Norwood, Wins Action in County Court.

SOLD LAST YEAR.

In County Court yesterday before His Honor Judge L. V. O'Connor, the case of William Baker, plaintiff, and Colman Alldred and Roy Longhurst, defendants, was tried.

This action was to recover the balance of purchase price of garage equipment in the Village of Norwood. The evidence disclosed that in October of 1930, Baker had sold to Colman Alldred and Roy Longhurst, the contents of his garage for $556. On account of purchase the defendants paid $350 but declined to pay the balance, alleging that the Bulk Sales Act had not been complied with, and that other technical points stood in the way of the plaintiff succeeding, although it was proven beyond doubt that the goods were turned over and received by the defendants.

The defendant Alldred counterclaimed for $1,000 damages, by his solicitors, Gordon & Elliott, and the defendant Longhurst counterclaimed for $500 damages for breach of warranty, the latter being defended by W. F. Huycke, Esq.

At the trial yesterday, His Honor Judge O'Connor awarded the plaintiff, who was represented by J. A. O'Brien, the full amount of his claim with costs, and dismissed the counterclaim of both defendants with costs.

Watermelons of a good size and quality were successfully grown this year near Outlook, Saskatchewan.

AGED PROSPECTOR'S SECRET REVEALED BY BIG GOLD STRIKE

Indians Speed Into Calgary to File Claims With Government.

DIED FIVE YEARS AGO

CALGARY, Alta., October 9. — (C. P.) — Gold discovered northwest of the Morley Indian reserve, has shed some light on the mysterious trips of an aged prospector of Calgary, who died without revealing the source of his wealth. Yesterday twenty-five Indians from the reserve sped into Calgary in automobiles to file gold claims at the government office. They said they would begin working claims 50 miles northwest of Morley, which is 50 miles west of here.

The Indian invasion recalled Calgary's mysterious prospector. Few knew the aged gold seeker's name, but his reticence was well known. Each spring the veteran would journey to Cochrane or Morley, hire a pack horse and head northwards. A few months later he would return. Little sacks of gold burdened his pack horse. It was said that the average return for the prospector's few months' work each year was $2,000.

Tells Soldier.

The silent gold hunter decided to reveal his find to a soldier who had been wounded in the war. The prospector informed the war veteran that he would take him to his secret find where in a few months "you will make enough to keep you the rest of your life." Death claimed the prospector before the treasure-seeking hunt could start.

Now Indians have discovered gold in the area into which the mysterious prospector disappeared yearly. The new strike is around Fallen Timber Creek.

The prospector died five years ago. Many gold searchers have entered since then but have returned disappointed. The Indians are staking their claims at the headwaters of Fallen Timber Creek. They refuse to reveal anything about their find.

LINCOLN'S LOG CABIN A MYTH

Kentucky Judge Declares Abe Born in Comfortable House.

ANCESTORS NEIGHBORS

NEW YORK, N. Y., October 9. — The Evening Post says to-day that Judge Harvey H. Smith, 70 years old, living in retirement at a New York hotel, took issue yesterday with historians who say Abraham Lincoln was born in a one-room log cabin on Nolin Creek, Kentucky.

As a matter of fact, the newspaper quotes him as saying, Lincoln was born in a comfortable two-storey house owned by his father, who was not poor, but a man of means.

Judge Smith, the Post said, has written to the Congressional Committee on Appropriations that the maintenance of the enshrined cabin on Nolin Creek "supports a myth which does not add to Lincoln's reputation or to the sound sense of Congress in continuing the error."

Father had Means.

"Contrary to the popular belief," the judge wrote, "Thomas Lincoln, the president's father, was not a poor man, but a respected man of means. He owned a vast farm on Mill Creek, which he acquired in 1803 and sold in 1814. On this property he built a large, comfortable two-storey house.

"On December 12, 1808, which is 60 days before the president was born, Thomas Lincoln secured a contract for the deed to Nolin Creek. It is inconceivable that the president's father would have moved his wife from a warm, comfortable house on Mill Creek to a one-room shack on Nolin Creek.

"Actually, the log cabin was built after Abe Lincoln was born, and was used by Thomas Lincoln as a temporary residence during the summer months, when he farmed land in Nolin Creek."

Judge Smith, the Post said, was born and raised near the Lincoln homestead and his ancestors were in close touch with the Lincoln family as far back as 1766.

OLD CEREMONY OPENS THE OYSTER SEASON

And Prince of Wales Will Attend Colchester Oyster Feast

Colchester, Eng.—The Colne oyster fishery, which belongs to the corporation of Colchester, was officially opened with the customary ceremony over the oyster beds in Pyefleet Creek, off Brightlingsea.

The ceremony was attended by the mayor and members of the corporation, and the borough mace was carried by the town sergeant.

The health of the King was drunk in gin, after which tiny squares of gingerbread were eaten in accordance with ancient custom.

The oysters were found to be in splendid condition. Last year they established a world's record in price and, as supplies are still limited, it is not likely that they will be any cheaper this season.

The Colchester oyster feast will be held on October 21, and will be attended by the Prince of Wales.

Common Crier Tells London Of Election

LONDON, October 9. (C.P.) — The City of London—the small part in the centre of the great modern metropolis—jealously preserves its titular independence of the crown of Parliament, and sticks to its traditional way of making royal proclamations known to its good citizens.

Thus the city did not hear—officially—of the proclamation dissolving parliament Wednesday night until the common crier and sergeant-at-arms of the city, in wig and gown attended by beadles wearing cocked hats and carrying staves, mounted the broad flight of steps before the Royal Exchange, and read the proclamation yesterday afternoon.

The odd little ceremony was a mild diversion for the thousands of passers-by, probably not one out of a thousand of them being entitled to call themselves citizens of the city of London proper.

A.A. Champions Defeat Wings in Seventh Game

ROCHESTER PITCHERS POUNDED FOR 17 HITS AND 9-5 VICTORY

Saints Reduce Wings' Margin in Little World Series to One Game.

SMALL ATTENDANCE.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 9.—The rampaging St. Paul Saints strung out the Little World Series for at least one more day when they smothered the Rochester Red Wings under an avalanche of base hits, winning 9 to 5 here yesterday in the seventh game of the series.

The visiting team, champions of the American Association, advanced to within one game of their International League rivals by the win. Rochester still leads, four to three.

Yesterday's contest, played before a crowd of only 1,628 because of the frigid weather and clouded skies was virtually a replica of yesterday's St. Paul victory. Every man on the visiting team got at least one hit. Saltzgaver, flashy Saints' second baseman, led with three safe blows.

In addition to pitching a careful game, Walter ("Huck") Betts collected a double and a triple for the winners. Exhibiting fine control and a puzzling change of pace he held the Wings to six hits and two runs in the first eight innings. Coasting behind a seven run lead in the ninth, he loosened up a trifle and was reached for five hits and three runs. A home run by Paul Florence, giant Red Wing catcher, with two runners on the bases, accounted for the last inning scores. Two men were on base when Betts forced Moore to foul to Fenner for the final out.

The Saints score once in the first inning on two hits, bunched three more bingles for two runs in the fourth, and added another score in the fifth. In that inning Rochester crossed the plate twice. But the St. Paul hitters continued pecking away at the Wings' pitching, and added a run in the sixth, two in the seventh and two more in the ninth.

Ray Moss who was batted from the box in his previous series, suffered the same fate yesterday. He was followed by Hill, Foreman and Judd.

The series will be continued here to-day.

Not in the World's Series history has any one player dominated the classic or caught the popular fancy as has the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is shown above in two batting poses. His exploits have been amazing and but for him the Athletics in all probability would now be world's champions again instead of trailing their National League rivals by the odd game in five.

MRS. C. S. EDDIS IS ELIMINATED IN SEMI-FINAL

Present Canadian Champion, Marjory Kirkham, Plays Brilliant Game.

ON LAMBTON COURSE.

Miss Ada Mackenzie Advances to Final, Beating Mrs. Whittington.

TORONTO, October 9. — The last stroke determined the result of each match of the semi-final round of the Canadian women's closed golf championship at the Lambton Golf and Country Club.

Miss Marjory Kirkham, of the Forest Hill, Golf and Country Club, with her limited amount of experience but a rugged constitution and a fighting spirit successfully defended her title in her match with Mrs. C. S. Eddis of the Rosedale Golf Club. Miss Ada Mackenzie, of the Toronto Women's Golf and Tennis Club, the most experienced golfer in the tournament, eliminated Mrs. W. E. Whittington of the Toronto Golf Club. Miss Kirkham, as a consequence, will meet Miss Mackenzie to-day.

For a moment only during her trying defence of the title which she won last year in Montreal did Miss Kirkham lead Mrs. Eddis until she reached the last hole. Mrs. Eddis drove her ball into one of the traps guarding the flat and perfect putting surface. She blasted her ball out and found herself with a twenty-foot putt for a half. Her putt rolled up and hung on the lip of the cup. The titleholder was short, but out of trouble so frequently found about the last green. She chipped up and made the putt, bringing the match to a dramatic finish.

Miss Mackenzie's Victory.

In much the same fashion, although the traps did not play a part, the match between Miss Mackenzie and Mrs. Whittington came to an end. Both players hit fine balls from the tee. Miss Mackenzie chipped to the cup and made her 3, while Mrs. Whittington was short in her approach and missed a longer putt for the half.

Miss Kirkham's victory yesterday was regarded as remarkable. She played through the Canadian open championship, and, in a much stronger field, although lightly considered, reached the final along with Miss Maureen Orcutt, one of the finest golfers on the continent. She lost her match by 6 and 4. She proceeded to the Lambton Club for practice and then the tournament, and, in spite of the trying week which had preceded, she disposed of all she was called on to meet in her bracket. It meant eleven days of tournament golf.

Results in the championship consolation yesterday:

Semi-Finals.

ALLEY BOWLING POPULAR SPORT

Indoor Pastime Originating From "Greens" First Played in New York City.

ALSO CARPET BOWLING

With the coming of the cool autumn evenings, and a distinct hint of winter just around the corner, indoor sports begin to attract more and more followers. And no indoor sport in Peterborough has the following that bowling enjoys. Between alley-bowling and carpet-bowling, thousands of men and women, girls and boys enjoy the sport, fun and social contacts that go with the game.

Of course, lawn bowling has proven a popular summer sport here, but with so many other attractions in the outdoor season, the game does not get anything like the following that the winter versions do. And, besides, most of those participating in the lawn game are playing the five-pin or ten-pin kinds during the cold weather.

Bowling is supposed to have started in Germany in the 12th century, although historians believe it was played in the Stone Age. The game spread through Europe, practically becoming the national sport in Holland. The Dutch introduced it into the States some three hundred years ago, giving Rip Van Winkle publicity which has lasted through the centuries. The earliest American settlements of the Dutch River in the banks of the Hudson River in the Catskill Mountain region. In New York City, they set apart what is now Battery Park as the official green, and it is still often called "Bowling Green."

First Indoor Greens

In 1840, an indoor "greens" was constructed in New York, with baked clay first being used, and finally wooden floors, with the word "alley" taking the place of "greens." The games were two-pin, three-pin and later nine-pin. Late in the 90's, it developed generally into ten-pin games and the sport reached much popularity. The American Bowling Congress, now the official governing body of bowling, was organized in 1900, with the first annual tournament being the following year. These have followed every year.

Of course, lawn bowls and carpet bowling are somewhat different games than those on the alleys, but they are closely related. Lawn bowls was a mighty sport in England, the country which claimed its birth, for hundreds of years, and is popular there to-day. The Scot adopted the game in the 16th century and are credited with having improved on many of the rules governing it. It was introduced into the States and Canada more than a hundred years ago, and it has a large following, as has its sister game, carpet bowling, at the present time.

MANAGER STREET CONFIDENT PAUL DERRINGER AND MARTIN CAN WIN TITLE FOR ST. LOUIS

Oklahoma Flyer Playing Spectacular Ball is Out to Set Records.

A's IN HAPPY MOOD.

Express Feeling Rather Face Giant Rookie Than Burleigh Grimes.

(By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor)

ST. LOUIS, Mo. Oct. 9.—(AP)—The principals in each corner today with the world series drama nearing its grand climax, were John Leonard "Pepper" Martin, and George Livingston "Moose" Earnshaw, with baseball's greatest prize at stake.

It loomed as one of the "naturals" of a sporting decade, whether Earnshaw went back to the firing line for the Athletics today to check the St. Louis Cardinals or was withheld for a possible seventh game tomorrow, on the theory Lefty Grove could be depended upon to beat Paul Derringer again and square the count at three games each.

The Martin bomber, leader of the Cardinals' flying squadron, twice has flown into action against Earnshaw, the famous right hand ace of the world champions, in as dramatic a baseball show as the national game has known since Walter Johnson pulled the Senators through to victory in 1924.

They have broken even so far as the results are concerned, although Martin has had much the better of the duel, so far as his personal score against Earnshaw is involved.

The first time they were introduced, Martin literally "stole" the game from the A's star by rapping two hits, stealing two bases and scorning the only two runs of the game.

On their next passage at arms, Martin alone stood between the giant Earnshaw and a no-hit triumph, by gathering the only two hits Big George yielded in blanking the National League champions.

Earnshaw was the hero of the 1930 world series, gaining credit for two victories and paving the way for another over the Red Birds. He had again proved the only member of Connie Mack's staff able to throttle the Cardinals—all, that is, except the "Pepper" Martin. The truth about Martin, as most everyone knows by now, is stranger than fiction.

He has tied two world series batting records. He has an excellent chance to break six records, unless Earnshaw or Grove contrived by some miracle to check this "Wild Horse of the Osage" this afternoon. Neither has done so, thus far.

The Cardinals relied on Martin and their other outstanding freshman Derringer, right-handed pitcher to beat Earnshaw. Al Simmons, the rest of the Athletics and give St. Louis, as well as the National League, its first world championship in five years.

Derringer Chosen

Manager Street took his ball club out to Sportsmen's Park at 3 p.m. yesterday to practice hitting and fielding in the home environment. He has chosen big Paul Derringer, the giant rookie from the Kentucky Hills who lost the opening game of the series to "Lefty" Grove here, as his starting pitcher.

"I still have absolute confidence in Paul," he said. "I thought he'd win two games for me in this series, and I still think he'll get one of them. If Earnshaw should happen to have another great two-hit game in his right arm, then I'll have Burleigh Grimes ready to pitch the seventh game."

Not since the Cardinals won their first pennant in 1926, and Charles Lindbergh brought the original "Spirit of St. Louis" back here a year later, has the Missouri metropolis been in such a state of excitement. The Cardinals, needing but one game for the championship, conquerors of both the great Robert Moses Grove and the even greater Earnshaw in the course of the "Pepper" Martin three-ringed circus, are favorites as they go into the climax struggle.

A's Not Downhearted

There was no discouragement in the champions' fold. With Earnshaw, already credited with a two-hit shoutout that would have been the first no-hit game in the history of the World Series conflict if he could have but suppressed Martin, in condition to duplicate Hallahan's feat of winning two games, the A's feel to-day's game already is won. Then they look for final victory in the seventh game on Saturday, with "Lefty" Grove, the big disappointment of the series, striving to redeem himself.

Daniel Boone Had Nothing On Martin

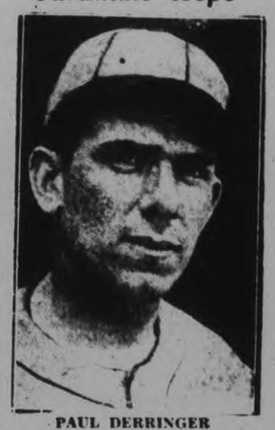
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 9.— The Texas League has its own legends about the amazing speed of "Pepper" Martin, hero of the World Series. One of the best is told by Roy Moore, team mate of "Pepper" on the 1929 Houston club.

"Old Pepper goes out on the prairie and scares up a bunch of rabbits," Moore explained, in recounting Martin's prowess as a hunter.

"He runs along with these rabbits. He reaches down and feels the sides of these rabbits.

"If the rabbit is a bit thin, he lets him go, and takes out after another one; but, if the rabbit is nice and fat, old Pepper picks him up and puts him in his bag."

Cardinals' Hope



PAUL DERRINGER

Manager Street confident giant Cardinal rookie will pitch St. Louis to world's series championship to-day.

MINERS OUSTED IN FINAL GAME

McIntyre Mines Team Lose to Smith Falls Nine 8 to 3.

WOODS ON MOUND.

SMITHS FALLS, Oct. 9.—Carl Wood's fast ball failed to check the vicious hitting streak of the Smiths Falls team in the second game of the E.O.B.A. semi-final series, played at the Canadian Pacific Recreation grounds here yesterday, and the locals wiped out the challenge of the North when they downed McIntyre Mines 8 to 3, taking their second successive victory in the semi-final series and eliminating the Mines squad from further competition.

The locals will now enter the final series with Timiskaming for the championship of Eastern Ontario and the first game will be played on Saturday. All of the final games will be played in Smiths Falls.

Little Jimmie Rasson yesterday made district baseball history when he turned in his eighth successive play-off triumph, holding the visitors to six well-scattered hits and striking out eight. The midget southpaw artist was again a complete puzzle to the visiting batsmen and he was in command of the game at every stage. Chilly weather failed to slow up the starry little Irishman and he mowed down the opposition with almost monotonous regularity, rising to great heights of pitching prowess in the pinches and always crushing out Mines rallies before they assumed really threatening stages.

Once again the Railroad bats backed Rasson with powerful walloping and the locals secured nine safe smashes from the offerings of Carl Wood and "Lefty" O'Donnell. They bunched five hits in the fourth inning and combined these with four errors to produce six tallies and secure a lead which made their position solid for the remaining part of the game.

Jimmie Meade headed the local hitters. In four trips to the plate Meade hit safely three times for a trio of two-base hits. Meade drove in three of the Railroad runs and scored once himself. Ed Muldoon was another of yesterday's big hitters with two singles, and Paquette, Gilligan, McCrum and Rasson accounted for the other hits.

"BEANO" WRIGHT AND BOADWAY ON TIGER LINE-UP SATURDAY

Coaches and Teams Set for Eastern Canada Rugby Season Opening.

HOBBS DISAPPOINTED.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9 (C.P.)—With the clamor of pre-season drills still ringing in their ears, aspirants for places on senior grid squads will enjoy a rest to-day prior to the opening of the Eastern Canadian rugby season to-morrow.

Final workouts were conducted by coaches last night and all players are expected to be at the peak of their condition for the important opening tilts Saturday.

High hopes of once again winning the Inter-Provincial title prevailed in the Hamilton Tigers camp last night as Coach Billy Hughes sent his stalwarts through the final pre-season workout in preparation for Saturday's encounter with Toronto Argonauts. All of the Tiger regulars, with the exception of Ken Walker, will see action in the Big Four opening in the Bengal City Saturday. "Beano" Wright and Ray Boadway, who have been absentees from practice during the week owing to injuries were in uniform last night and underwent the heavy drill with the remainder of the squad. Wright will occupy his position on the half line while Boadway may be used to alternate at quarter if Coach Hughes so desires.

McGill will have no easy victory at their hands when they invade London, Saturday, to meet Joe Breen's University of Western Ontario Mustangs. In the opening game of the Inter-collegiate Union. The Londoners underwent a stiff practice last night and are reported to be in excellent condition for the coming McGill tussle. They have formed a neat defence for the forward pass and have also improved their aerial attack which lacked proper timing in the game with Hamilton Tigers, of the Big Four, in the Ambitious City last Saturday.

Hobbs Disappointed

Coach Harry Hoggs was disappointed with the showing of the University of Toronto's Inter-Collegiate squad in the final workout again the "Orphuns" last night, in which the first team could score no more than one point. So much was the Varsity mentor disappointed with the showing of the Inter-Collegiates, that he expressed the opinion he wished he could send the "Orphuns" against Queen's in the opening game in Toronto Saturday Coach Hobbs announced his starting line-up following last night's workout and said Jack Sinclair, Johnny Fitzpatrick and Hal Richardson would be used on the backfield, while Jimmy Sinclair would fill the flying wing, and Bill Twaites the quarterback position.

Thirty Argonaut players will journey to Hamilton Saturday, but only twenty of this number will get into the game with the Tigers, Coach Buck McKenna announced following last night's drill. Although the Toronto coach would not make any prediction regarding the outcome of the Big Four opening, he said he never travelled to the Bengal City with higher hopes than on this occasion. No announcement as to the starting line-up of the Scullers was given, but it was understood that Frank Turville and Jack Taylor would get the backfield assignment.

With the exception of Archie Kirkland, who has been on the injured list for some time with a bad ankle, Balmy Beach will be at full strength when they journey to Kitchener tomorrow to oppose the Twin City Panthers in the opening game of the Eastern Section of the O.R.F.U. Senior series. The Beaches concluded a heavy week's training last night without incurring any injuries and will rest today in preparation for the heavy week-end's program which faces them. They meet Kitchener tomorrow and return to Toronto Monday to engage the Varsity "Orphuns" in a scheduled game.

FAIR AND WARMER.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., October 9 (C.P.).—The sun was shining brightly in a clear sky early to-day and the weather forecast for the sixth game of the World Series was "fair and somewhat warmer."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Townsend Is Making N.Y. Debut To-Night

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 9. (CP) William "Billy" Townsend, welterweight smasher from Vancouver rides into Madison Square Garden to-night intent on making his New Yerk debut a successful one.

The Pacific coast blonde meets Eddie Ran, somewhat of a slugger himelf, in the ten round semi-final to the Joe Sekyra-James J. Braddock 10-round feature.

Townsend rules a slight favorite over Ran. Should he halt the upward climb of his opponent he will be matched with Paulie Walker, local welterweight sensation.

Billy is aiming for a shot at the uncrowned king of the welterweights, Jimmy McLarnin, the two fisted Irishman who also calls Vancouver his home.

With the exhibition slate cleaned Canadian gridiron contenders are all for the championships grind. Win, lose, or draw, three well-trained teams from Toronto, in Varsity, Argos and Balmy Beach, will take the field. For weeks past each big squad has put in hours of strenuous training, and it hasn't been altogether confined to chasing the elusive pigskin either, as the above layout would indicate. Nos. 3 and 4 show the Argonauts and Varsity going through setting up exercises. No. 1 is Armour Munro, half-back of the Scullers, and No. 2 is Claude Harris, fleet half-back and flying wing of Balmy Beach.

MARTIN RODE FREIGHT RODS TO ST. LOUIS

Spent Railroad Fare Sent By Club to Bring Him From Oklahoma City.

DARING BASE-RUNNER.

Christened "Pepper" By Blake Harper, Western Association Club Owner.

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9.—Early in the Spring of 1928 there stumbled into the lobby of the St. Louis Cardinals' hotel a youngster who looked like anything but a ball player.

His hawk-like face with the flashing black eyes was smeared with dirt and there were cinders in his dark, touseled hair. Just about the last swagger he could muster was in his slightly bow-legged stride as he marched up to the surprised desk clerk.

"Tell Bill McKechnie," he announced with a weary grin, "that his new centre fielder has arrived."

Sunk deep in an easy chair a few feet away, his face buried in a paper, Bill McKechnie, then manager of the Cardinals, raised his eyes at the sound of his name. He looked from the husky figure of what might have been a hobo to the inquiring gaze of the desk clerk. He moved his head a trifle from side to side and retreated again behind his paper.

"He's not here just now," the desk man announced, "but I'll fix you up with a room."

Thus it was that John Leonard Martin, World Series hero, joined the Cardinal ball club. He had spent the money sent him to pay his fare from Oklahoma City to the training camp. He had to ride the rods of freight trains to get there.

A hot bath changed his appearance considerably and he was back at the desk again, looking for McKechnie. The first fellow he met who would talk to him was an old friend Blake Harper, owner of the Fort Smith Club in the Western Association. It was Harper who had greeted Martin as follows when he appeared for work at Fort Smith years before:

"What's your name?"

"Johnny Martin."

"Nope," said Herper. "You're 'Pepper' Martin. There are too many Johnny's in the league now."

And that was the way he got his name.

For days McKechnie, trying to tame the cocky youngster, gave him what was politely known as the "runaround," avoiding him. Martin went out to the practice sessions and hung around the edges; sneaking in a catch here, a slug at the plate there, when he could horn his way in. He belted a few to the outlying districts and he dragged down flies on a dead run. McKenchnie gave in. He called the youngster in and offered his hand.

"You're 'Pepper' Martin," he said. "our new centre fielder. I'm McKechnie. I guess you were telling the truth."

Pepper wasn't exactly telling the truth. He sat on the Cardinal bench through that season and he was farmed out to Houston, Texas, for the 1929 campaign, and Rachester, in the International League in 1930.

Daring Base Runner

"He's naturally a great ball player," says Frankie Frisch, who taught him to slide head first when stealing bases. "He can hammer the ball or drag his hits. He's a streak on base, a great thrower, a grand fielder. He never makes a mistake, and what a fellow to have on a ball club. Full of fun, never moody. And what a fighter.

"Bell Herman, the Cubs' second baseman, tried to block him off going into the bag one day. 'Pepper' hit him in the middle. Herman landed in left field and the ball into the dugout."

"What about it?" asks 'Pepper,' to Herman, as he gets up and dusts himself.

"And what do you think he said to me on the bench before the sixth inning of that last game in Philadelphia?

"'Get on Frankie,' he says. Get on. I'm going to hit one into the seats out there. I'm going to hit one nine miles.'

"Well, I got on. And all he did was hit one nine miles right into those seats. You can't beat that kind of a ball player."

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL BLANKS PRINCE OF WALES ELEVEN 1-0

Losers Eliminated From Running City Public School Championship.

CLEVER GOAL TENDING.

Queen Mary School soccer eleven eliminated Prince of Wales from the running in the league yesterday afternoon, on King Edward Park, by the score of one to nothing, D. Mortimer connecting at the right time from a rocket drive by S. Nimon. This win puts the winners in the same category as the King Edward team—two wins.

Choice of ends fell in favor of Queen Mary who decided to play with the sun at their backs In the early stages, the Prince of Wales boys made many dangerous raids upon the opposition goal but lacked the necessary vim to carry the attacks to the point of perfection. McIlmoyle evaded the full backs to test Smith, the custodian, who cleared the ball upfield. Many interesting combination plays transpired on the respective wings but were intercepted by the halves before they got inside the goal area. Both front ranks raided the goals with close-in passing and missed the uprights from close range. At this stage, Smith, Queen Mary custodian had a busy session holding his goal intact. Half time — Queen Mary 0, Prince of Wales 0

Keen Tactics

It was evident, on resuming, that the contestants were out to carry the issue to a successful conclusion. Mid-field play continued until a few fouls for infringements altered the swing of the play and the forwards made good use of the openings presented. Moore and McDougall battled for supremacy against the stalwart defense man Nimon, of Queen Mary, who never faltered to punt clear whenever the ball lay near the goal. Repeatedly he broke away on his own after the attacking force had been stopped in his territory. His aggressiveness acted as a stimulant to his forwards. On one occasion, the Prince of Wales boys had the goal at their mercy until Nimon blocked the ball at the post. Quickly he transferred the ball to the other end as he beat along the wing, beating opponents easily. Near his objective, he drove hard and fast. The custodian ran out to stop the ball but Mortimer ran in between the two full backs to simply touch the sphere into the goal. Prince of Wales were awarded a penalty through White handling inside the dreaded area. McIlmoyle shot past the post. Queen Mary 1, Prince of Wales 0.

Scorer—D Mortimer.

Prince of Wales—E. Doughty, goal; G. Scholey and H. Webb, full backs; J Johnson, F. Williams and J. Platt, halves; C. Moore, R. McDougall, J. McIlmoyle, W. Lucas and R. Sutherland, forwards.

Queen Mary— V. Smith, goal; D White and S. Nimon, full backs; S. Easton A. Millard and G. Whiteside, halves; J. Leith, D. Mortimer, G. Clark, M. Chesher and R. Harding, forwards

Marathon Swimmer Victim Of Robber

WOLFVILLE, N. S., October 9.—(C.P.)—Warren Anderson, a Sydney boy, who went to Toronto and finished third in the exhibition swimming marathon this year, has been deprived of about one third of his $1000 prize money by a thief. Warren is registered as a freshman at Acadia University here. He went to the College gymnasium to indulge in his favorite pastime in the swimming tank, and on emerging found that $330 had been taken from his clothes in his locker.

CASUAL COMMENT

The P.C.I.-Lindsay rugby game in the Scugog town Saturday has them all het up there, as they figure they'll be meeting a classy rugby machine in the Petes. Coach Legon is confident his team will make a clean sweep of their games this year and so far they look good. They go to Oshawa the following Saturday.

• • • • • • •

Local fans will have an opportunity of seeing the Collegiate second team in action here to-morrow when they clash with the Oshawa intermediates. They've picked themselves a hard outfit to lick in the Motor City huskies, and it should prove to be one tough exhibition of the gridiron game.

• • • • • • •

There is a possibility of an exhibition game of English rugger between two Toronto teams here within the next month, if present plans go through. And two of the Peterborough Cricket Club players—Seagar and Mawhood—will take part in this game. We've never seen a real game of rugger but understand there is plenty of action in one.

• • • • • • •

A large crowd is expected to take in the girls' softball game at the Bowl Monday afternoon. Players from four different teams will form an all-star team to meet the league champs, Keene, in an exhibition tilt, the proceeds to go to several girls players who were injured some time ago.

• • • • • • •

The battery for the All-Stars has not been announced yet, but Mary McCarthy and Dot Gainor will strut their stuff for the out-of-towners. The latter crew will be at full strength again as their absentee players are home from college for the holiday. With all the sluggers of the league taking part in this contest, Louis Yeotes says the box of chocolates for a homer is no longer in effect. We don't blame him either.

• • • • • • •

The spectacular "Pepper" Martin of the Cardinals is getting more notice now than the veteran Alexander did when St. Louis turned back the great Yank machine in '26. Stories of his former doings, his supreme confidence in himself, and his wise cracks, are springing up on all sides. Now we hear that the Oklahoma Cyclone played third for a Quebec pro team five years ago where he was noted for his timely slugging. He is a real "money player."

• • • • • • •

Smith's Falls eliminated McIntyre Mines from the E.O.B.A. race yesterday when they hit two pitchers hard to win 8 to 3. "Irish" Rasson again twirled fine ball for the victors, while his teammates hammered the fast ball of Carl Wood to send him to the showers. His successor, O'Donnell, had no better luck

• • • • • • •

George Godfrey won his wrestling bout, while Ali Hassan was defeated by Loew, the 200-pound Montrealer, in a good card staged in London last night. Fifteen hundred fans saw the "beef trust" show with nothing but heavies grappling. Local fans seem to prefer the fast bouts put on by the lighter wrestlers to the slower heavyweight tussles.

• • • • • • •

A number of relay teams, both junior and senior, are beginning to work out these nights in preparation for the Y.M.C.A. road races on Memorial Day. It should be an easy matter to get four teams in each division, and the first four to enter each class should send their entry to the "Y," as first come first served.

• • • • • • •

With two rugby games, a girls' softball match, and an exhibition lacrosse game, Peterborough teams will have plenty of action over the long week-end. The lacrosse tilt and one rugby game will be out-of-town affairs, with the intermediate rugbyists and the softballers here.

• • • • • • •

And just at the last minute, we hear there is going to be an exhibition girls' softball game to-morrow afternoon at the Bowl. The East City All-Stars will meet the picked league team which is to play against Keene on the holiday, sort of two all-star outfits tangling. This fixture is due to start sharp at three o'clock.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

BURGESS STORY—OCT 9 ZEHR

BILLY GOAT DOES SOME CLIMBING.

In judging other be discreet
For some have talents in their feet.
Farmer Brown's Boy.

For perhaps a minute Billy the Mountain Goat stared at Farmer Brown's Boy with a look that seemed to say, "Who are you? What business have you up here? Where did you come from anyway?" And for that same minute Farmer Brown's Boy stood motionless, staring at Billy as if he had lost the power to move or speak. His eyes were so wide that they seemed to be trying to pop out of his head, and his mouth was wide open, for he had forgotten to close it after the first gasp of surprise. You probably would look the same if what you thought was a little patch of snow should suddenly get up on four legs.

Billy Goat was the first to recover from the mutual surprise. He shook his head, which made his long white beard wag, then turned and started off up the mountain without appearing to hurry, yet moving right along. It was plain he didn't care for the company of Farmer Brown's Boy. Once or twice he turned to look back and shake his head and wag his beard as if he couldn't believe that he, Billy Goat, could possibly have allowed any one to surprise him taking a nap.

He moved with dignity, and though he didn't appear to pay any attention to his footing, never once did his small, black hoofs slip. Up the rocks he moved and then along the face of a cliff that dropped sheer for hundreds of feet. It didn't seem as if there was handhold for a Monkey, to say nothing of foothold for sharp-edged hoofs. No wonder Farmer Brown's Boy gasped again. No man or boy could possibly have followed Billy Goat along those narrow ledges, yet he appeared to feel quite as much at home as if he were on level ground, as indeed he did. He would jump from one little ledge down to another, then up to a third without hesitating a second.

On one little rocky projection where there was just room enough for his four feet he stopped to look back and then down to the floor of the valley hundreds of feet below. It made Farmer Brown's Boy dizzy just to watch Billy. But Billy wasn't dizzy. He never was dizzy in his life. He didn't even get a thrill out of this climb along the face of the cliff. He got no more thrill from it than you or I would get in walking along a quiet street. You see, he was used to it. He had been that way many times. He knew every projecting bit of rock along the whole face of that cliff. His balance was perfect, and best of all he could trust absolutely those little black-hoofed feet of his. They would never slip, never make a mis-step.

Farmer Brown's Boy, watching in open mouthed wonder and admiration Billy's progress along the cliff, marveled at the way those hoofs clung to the rock. "I've often heard the saying 'sure-footed as a Goat' but until now I never realized what it meant," said he, talking to Billy Goat, who at that distance couldn't hear a word he said which really didn't matter in the least. "You ought to be named Billy Surefoot. That name just fits you. That is what I am going to call you, Billy Surefoot. Oh, I say! You mustn't try that. No one without wings can ever get up to that ledge you are heading for."

Of course, Billy didn't hear this. It would have made no difference to him if he had. He knew where he was going and how to get there. There were tiny shelves and projecting points of rock which Farmer Brown's Boy couldn't see from where he was. But Billy could and did see them. They were like so many steps to him, and though he was clumsy-looking, he wasn't the least bit clumsy.

Farmer Brown's Boy held his breath as Billy climbed up and up. Finally he reached a little point of that ledge where he was outlined against the sky, and there he stood motionless, looking out over the Great World, and particularly down at Farmer Brown's Boy. At that distance Billy looked like a little toy white goat.

"Some climber!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy admiringly. "Some climber!"

IN A RUN-DOWN CONDITION FOR TWO YEARS

WILLIAM CADEAN

Victoria Harbor, Ont.—"I was in a rather run-down condition for about two years. I tried different medicines, also consulted a doctor but nothing helped me in the least, and as I had one of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisers and read it quite often I found in the book where one similarly afflicted had been relieved by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried two bottles of 'Ironic Tablets' and used four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and I felt like myself once more."—Wm. Cadean, Box 170.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 9th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 9:10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 2 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

The creative worker will have great possibilities on October 9th, according to what the Stars foretell. All those with mechanical or electrical interests should follow up any ideas that may occur to them for new devices, inventions and processes. Breakers lie ahead for married couples, and mutual tolerance and confidence will be necessary in order to avoid friction.

A child born on this October 9th will possess considerable latent talent, and will be courageous and energetic. Its passions will be liable to get it into trouble, and it must be taught the lesson of self-control. Its love will be whole-souled, but it will always strongly resent any interference with its individualism.

You, if born on October 9th, have a very strong character, rather dogmatic and set in your ways, but, it must be admitted, generally right. You value the good opinion of others very highly, and will go out of your way to secure this end. In much that you do, you seem to work for the applause you hope to receive, and not for the sake of the work itself. There is a suggestion of "staginess" about you. Yet, although in love with the limelight, you accomplish much that is worthwhile.

Although materialistic, in a marked degree, you are interested in things psychic, even though generally ashamed to admit it. If a woman, you are superstitious, and try to hide it. Love affairs occupy a large share of your thoughts, and you are always building castles in the air, with yourself as the Fairy Princess. You, too, in conversation, have an unfortunate habit of exaggeration, which, at times, is anything but convincing.

Men and women born on this day experience occasional lapses from practicability, and become excited and gay, without any thought for to-morrow. These fits are generally followed by a time of depression. Marriage for them will be free from adventure and will follow the path of least resistance.

PEPPER MARTIN PESTERS MACK

St. Louis Sensation Has the Old Master Worried.

IS ALMOST UNIQUE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., October 9 (C.P.). — Sixty-eight-year-old Connie Mack, after a heart to heart talk with each of his regulars, ordered them to bed early last night and completed his plans to check a wild youngster of only 27.

The old master won his first American League pennant before Pepper Martin was born, but he freely admits he has never seen anything, in all his half-century of baseball, to math the exploits of the Cardinal outfielder.

If necessary the A's were prepared to bow to the exigencies of strategy to-day and walk Martin. In five games, Pepper has not received a pass, although it might have been the very best of tactics to have walked him considerable in the fifth game. It isn't safe to walk Martin, however, unless second base is occupied, and even then the menace is increased.

Mack was understood to have decided on keeping all his regulars in the line-up, at least for the start of to-day's game, despite the benching of Bishop and Haas in Philadelphia. The reserves will be on their toes, however, for an emergency.

THREE MURDER CASES IN WEEK IN ENGLAND

Lead to the Question as to Crime Wave Spreading Through Country

London.—Is a new murder wave spreading through England?

In one week three charges of murder have been heard. One man has been condemned to the gallows, another committed to trial, and a youth remanded.

Arthur Faraday Salvage, 23, was charged with the murder of 11-year-old Ivy Godden, whose body was found in a wood.

It was contended that a confession made by the accused had been forced from him.

"I was fed up," said Salvage. "I thought I might as well say anything to satisfy them. I did not care what I said."

Salvage's mother said that when she told her son that people were saying the child had been murdered, he replied:

"Poor little girl. I cannot think who would want to kill Ivy. She was such a nice child."

Marsh grass seed found in the dead girl's hair and similar seed found in the turn-up of the accused youth's trousers, were clues at Portsmouth police court when William Ernest Kell, an 18-year-old unemployed photographer, was charged with the murder of Madge Winifred Cleife, 15, stated to have been his sweetheart. The girl's body was found on marshy land near Great Saltern's golf course.

The accused was remanded.

Henry Daniel Seymour, 29, a commercial traveller, was committed for trial on a charge of having murdered Mrs. Annie Louisa Kempson, 58, a widow, at her home, Boundary House, St. Clement's, Oxford.

West Clare Citizen Attacked at Midnight

Mr. Wm. McInerney, a prominent citizen of Kilrush, West Clare, Ireland, was attacked at 12.40 a.m. at the door of his home in Vandeleur St. While taking his latch key from his pocket he saw a piece of paper pasted on the door with a drawing of a skull and cross-bones with the words, "Spies beware."

Just then five revolver bullets were discharged by unseen assailants. It is hoped he will recover.

ARMED PEACE THREATENS WAR

General Smuts States World Headed for Great Cataclysm.

DISARMAMENT ONLY HOPE

SHEFFIELD, England, Oct. 9 (C.P.)—A rallying speech in the cause of international disarmament was delivered at Sheffield University last evening by General the Rt. Hon. Jan C. Smuts, distinguished South African soldier and statesman, and president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Declaring that unless a real measure of dismarmament puts an end to the present "armed peace" the world was making for a cataclysm infinitely worse than the Great War, General Smuts said he did not think it a matter of life and death that spectacular success should mark the coming World Disarmament Conference. Most important of all was that there should be a definite halt to further armaments, and a definite reversal of the policy of increased armaments hitherto pursued, he said.

Control is Necessary

"Control and limitation are the steps immediately called for, to be followed up by ever-increasing reductions afterwards," he declared. "If once the policy of armaments is definitely arrested and armaments instead of growing are progressively limited, the critical step will have been taken and the future reductions will become progressively easier with the improvement of the international atmosphere and the decay of the old war mentality."

General Smuts' address was in the form of the Basil Hicks Memorial lecture, under the foundation established by Prof. William Matchinson Hicks and his wife in memory of their son Basil, killed in the battle of Loos.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH CHOIR CONCERT WILL PROVE EXCEPTIONAL TREAT

Half Proceeds Are to be Given to Examiner Relief Fund.

SET FOR OCT. 30

At the concert to be given by the St. John's Church choir on October 30, which is being arranged in conjunction with The Examiner, those who have not yet heard this talented group of singers will have a chance of hearing a program quite different to any previously carried out in the city.

The choir has hitherto held an annual concert in the parish hall of the church, usually attended by the congregation of the church. This type of concert was abandoned last year when the boys' choir alone gave a very enjoyable recital.

This year the full choir will be employed in a more ambitious entertainment to be given in the auditorium of the P.C.I. One-half of the net proceeds will be used to help The Examiner relief fund.

St. John's boys have as good voices as any anywhere, and under the tutorship of Mr. F. G. Mann have attained good tones besides ability to control and use their voices. If you have not heard them their performance will be for you quite a revelation.

The adult choir through their diligence and interest in their singing are well able to perform with the best being particularly proficient in unaccompanied singing.

Of the individuals composing this choir or should we say this chorus, and their musical interest, we might mention that many of them have distinguished themselves at various competitions, no less than three having won gold medals at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The patrons of the forthcoming concert can be assured of a well worthwhile evening's enjoyment besides helping a good cause.

So come and enjoy yourself. Tickets may be had from any of the choir members or at Kent's Drug Store.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR NO. 101

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

In the silence of mingled joy and sorrow, they passed along through the familiar jungle. As the afternoon was waning there came faintly to the ears of the ape-man the murmuring cadence of distant voices. Half an hour later the two came upon a horde of ebony warriors which Basule had collected for his war vengeance upon the raiders. With them were the captured women of their tribe, rescued from the Arab's village, and tall, even among the giant Waziri, loomed a familiar black form.

It was Mugambi, whom Jane had thought dead amidst the charred ruins of the bungalow. An, such a reunion! Long into the night the dancing, singing and laughter awoke the somber echoes of the woods. Again and again were the stories of their various adventures retold. Dawn was already breaking when Basuli for the fortieth time gleefully related how he and a handful of his warriors had watched the battle for the golden ingots which the Abyssinians of Abdul Mourak had waged against the Arab raiders of Achmet Zek.

How, when the victors had ridden away, they had sneaked out of the river weeds and stolen away with the precious ingots to hide them where no robber eye could discover them. Pieced out from the fragments of their various experiences with the Belgian, Lieutenant Werper, the truth concerning his malign activities became clear. "Lost are the jewels of Opar forever," smiled Tarzan. "Much good may they do the villain!" The golden ingots of Opar were restored as were the lives of those dear to him and Tarzan was happy.

Busy weeks were to follow. The willing hands of laughing laborers, made happy again by the return of the master and mistress they had mourned dead, restored the ruined bungalow and farm house for the "Big Bwana." Life took on again the former peaceful, happy existence. Lord and Lady Greystoke had known before the renegade Werper betrayed their hospitality and the jewels of Opar had been discovered in the temple vaults of the Sun Worshippers. But one more page was to unfold before the jewels of Opar's tale was told.

PEACE REIGNS AT CITY HALL

No More Boxing in Hearing of Council Chamber, Moncton Aldermen Rule.

MEANS LESS REVENUE

MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 9.—This city's aldermen may now pursue their deliberations without fear or interruption by the thud of gloves and the roars of fandom. Moncton's youths who aspire to eminence under Queensberry rules must work out their careers against another background. In brief, boxing has been banned from the city hall.

Informed that the city received a fee of ten dollars on each occasion that scheduled fights were held in the city building, Alderman Steeves expressed a view that the community had better get along without this extra revenue and allow the council to work in peace. When bouts were in progress, he said, it was almost impossible for the civic body to carry on its duties, because of the noise made outside by a number of youngsters who frequented the bouts and "should be at home studying next day's lessons."

A motion to ban boxing from the city hall was thereupon carried by the casting vote of the chairman.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 9 (C.P.)—L'Association des Hoteliers de Campagne de la Province de Quebec (Quebec Association of Rural Hotelmen) is the realization of a project advocated by Rev. Basil Jellicoe, cousin of Admiral of the Fleet Earl Jellicoe, as a means of discouraging vice, comments La Patrie. The Montreal French daily discussing the cleric's opinions expressed in an interview shortly before sailing for England said:—

"This English pastor wishes the establishment of a hotelmen's corporation which would lend dignity to those engaged in the hotel business. In truth his wishes are already realized in the Province of Quebec by L'Association des Hoteliers de Campagne, by similar institutions in urban centres, and by our large hotel corporations. In the last ten years the progress noted in this connection in both rural and urban centres is remarkable. Untoward happenings in hotels have little by little disappeared. The barkeeper is no more. Tenants of establishments which do not meet financial obligations are reprimanded and dispossessed of their permits when milder measures are ineffectual. Thus it has come about that hotels are better kept, the laws of morality and hygiene are respected, and persons of ill-repute are not tolerated.

Rev. Jellicoe's remarks will no doubt precipitate considerable debate in circles where tolerance is not an article of faith. Nevertheless the basis of his opinions is moderation in all things."

The cleric told his interviewers that "cabarets and taverns are quite legitimate forms of amusement and should be encouraged, provided the right atmosphere is created and maintained around each of them. The business of taverns should either be properly run or abolished."

He explained thath is reclamation of one of the worst slum districts in London included the building of a "pub," and would in due course include a night club. He added that he hoped to see a guild of taverns in operation throughout Great Britain and the formation in that way of an honorable profession.

A. B. GATES OF C.G.E. GUEST OF KIWANIS

Speaks of New Refrigerator Department of Factory

"Negotiations are underway to supply the world market outside of the United States with General Electric refrigerators from our Peterborough plant," A. B. Gates engineer of the Canadian General Electric plant here told members of the Kiwanis Club at noon today which dealt with the development of electric refrigerators.

"Remember I said negotiations. The matter has not been definitely decided as yet, but I predict that the world market will be supplied from Peterborough. We will first endeavour to sell the hot ocuntries where electrical refrigeration is badly needed and then turn our attention to win Great Britain and Europe over to this method of refrigeration."

Mr. Gates said that already between $80,000 and $90,000 had been spent in the Peterborough plant in developing the building of refrigerator cabinets. Thirty units a week are now being built here.

The early development of domestic refrigeration was briefly traced by the speaker. Two reels of motion pictures wereu sed to explain the perfect mechanism of the C.G.E. electric refrigerator.

J. W. Watson, of Watson's Tire and radio Supply store, was booster of the day and the prizes were two miniature C.G.E. refrigerators, Mr. Watson being local agent of the C.G.E. machines.

Everything is ready for the big Produced-in-Canada exhibition to be held in the armouries next week, C. S. Brown, chairman of the exhibition committee, reported.

LUMBER COMPANY SUES FRED SMITH

Defendant Makes Counter Claim in County Court

In a County Court action that opened before His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke this morning and which is still proceeding, Vincent M. McCabe, account for plaintiffs, the Alfred McDonald Lumber Company, was subjected to a lengthy period of questioning and cross questioning in the witness box.

Plaintiffs arec laiming the sum of $914.57 and costs from Fred Field of Alnwick Township, while defendant is counter-claiming for commissions amounting to $951.53. The suit arises in connection with lumber deals between the parties, and was referred for settlement to Judge Huycke by Mr. Justice Wright when the action came before him at the recent sessions of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

J. A. O'Brien is solicitor for plaintiff company and defendant is legally represented by J. B. McColl, K.C., of Cobourg.

Evidence given by the accountant consisted of the identification and explanation of a large sheaf of order forms and invoices concerned in the business between plaintiffs and the defendant Field.

Counsel for defendant asked that each item might be dealt with separately, and brought forth the comment from Mr. O'Brien that at that rate the action would last for months. The judge cheerfully interposed with the observation that "Christmas is coming."

MOVE FOR WAR DEBT REVISION OR EXTENSION OF MORATORIUM BY U.S. LIKELY IN FEW MONTHS

France Reported to Have Demanded Definite Agreement on Debts.

MANY MOVES IN AIR.

Banks Feel Position Risky Until European Situation Settles.

WASHINGTON, D.C., October 10 (By Ken Clark, C.P. Staff Writer).—A move for the revision of war debts or failing that an extension of the moratorium of inter-governmental debts will probably be made by the United States Government within a few months. President Hoover will endeavor to obtain a reduction in the armaments of Europe, but whether or not this may be accomplished, Washington sees no alternative to the scaling down of European debts to this country.

It is laid down as a principle of the administration reiterated to emphasize the United States proposes to attract no funds from a debtor beyond its capacity to pay. Simultaneously, it is reported that France has demanded of this Government there should be no repetition of the incident of last June when without the knowledge of the Quai d'Orsay Washington suddenly announced a year's moratorium on inter-governmental debts. France is said to have demanded a definite agreement. These reports added to the situation in Europe produce the deduction: President Hoover will scale down war debts.

Second Objective.

The opinion continues to grow here the second and not less important objective on this week's drama—the summoning to Washington by airplane of legislators of both parties for a White House conference — was a general agreement upon the necessity revision of debts. The President, who last June encountered opposition when he attempted by a long distance telephone to obtain full support of both Republicans and Democrats on his year's moratorium proposition, this time was forced to bring the Senators and Representatives to the White House in an attempt, by laying before them the whole financial position both national and international, to get unanimity.

The importance of his plan for breaking the vicious financial circle in this country is not minimized. In brief, he proposed by liberalizing credit to small banks to prevent the necessity of their throwing collateral in the open market thereby further depressing prices, and to restore the confidence of the depositor, stopping withdrawals of currency. It is apparent also the formation of a billion dollar credit pool by the big banks was only an immediate part of the President's scheme. Behind the pool lies the prospect of formation of a Government corporation which, like the War Industries Board would support the business of the country with the unlimited financial resources of the nation. Such an organization would be called into being only if the national emergency justified it to the President and his advisors. In the meantime it becomes obvious working of the domestic plan and action on the war debts are inter-dependent.

Banking Angle

The banking angle is this: International banks with perhaps twenty billion dollars abroad cannot collect until the European situation is rehabilitated. With a dictatorship established in Germany, with Great Britain facing a general election and the announcement by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald the defeat of his Government would result in political overtures elsewhere the position is risky, more particularly as countries go off the gold standard and no economist will guarantee the outcome.

16 ARE INJURED AS SNOW PLOW HITS TROLLEY

Plow Swings Over, Ripping Car Open From End to End

NEAR BUFFALO.

Control Box Short Circuits and Fire Breaks Out, Adding to Panic.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Sixteen persons were injured sufficiently to require medical treatment, and about 20 more were less seriously hurt today in a collision between a crowded trolley car and a snowplow.

Part of the equipment of the snowplow swung out over the track on which the trolley car was traveling and ripped the side of the car open from one end to the other. At the same time the control box on the trolley car was short-circuited and a fire it went along more than 15 feet before it stopped. By that time the windows had been gouged out by the section of the snowplow that swung across the tracks in front of it.

"Many of the passengers jumped out of the windows. Men helped the women and children out and all were more or less cut and bruised. It was nearly a panic.

The snowplow, which had been reconditioned during the summer, was being taken to the car barns in readiness for use in the winter. Damage from fire was reported as slight by the fire department.

SEEK TO AVOID SPLITTING VOTE OF GOV'T PARTY

New Nationalist Forces Face Problem in Some Ridings.

SOME CONFUSION.

Audience Admitted By Ticket to Hear J. H. Thomas.

LONDON, Oct. 10 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer).—An example of how contests between Conservative and Liberal Nationalists are unavoidable in many constituencies, splitting the Government vote when polling takes place on Oct. 27, is afforded at Epping, Essex. Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer, will be opposed there by the well-known lawyer, Comyns Carr, Liberal candidate. The local Labor party is also nominating a candidate. Both Mr. Churchill and Mr. Carr are supporters of the National Government.

Efforts are still continuing over the country to avoid running two "Nationalists." But party preferences are making it difficult to complete such arrangements.

Tories Complete List

The Conservatives have completed a list of candidates for all ten Manchester seats, of which Labor held five, Conservatives three and Liberals two in the last House. The Manchester Liberals so far have only two candidates, P. M. Oliver in Blackley, and Philip Guedalla, historical and political writer, in Withington. Mrs. C. F. G. Masterman, widow of the well-known Liberal Cabinet Minister, may be the Liberal candidate in Manchester, Rusholme.

The Scottish Liberal Federation has endorsed the action of Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the Liberal Nationalists, in supporting Prime Minister MacDonald, and urged Liberals to give him their support.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, the only member of the old Labor Cabinet campaigning for a House of Commons seat along with Prime Minister MacDonald, opened his campaign for re-election in Derby last night to an audience of 600, admitted by special ticket.

Thomas Well Received

Mr. Thomas had a good reception and a resolution supporting him was carried with only 30 dissenting votes. Derby has two seats in the House, and the members last time were Mr. Thomas and W. R. Raynes, another Laborite who is seeking re-election, but is not a supporter of the National Government.

In Central Leeds, Sir Edward Grigg, Conservative candidate, will stand aside in favor of Hon. R. D. Denman, Laborite Nationalist, who has been repudiated by the local Labor party. Mr. Denman was the member in the last House.

Another prospective Conservative candidate standing aside in favor of a Nationalist is G. H. Strauss in Huddersfield. Full Liberal and Conservative support will be given William MacBane unsuccessful Liberal candidate in the last election.

VARSITY LEAD AT HALF BY 1-0

VARSITY STADIUM, Toronto, October 10 (C.P.). — There were several last minute changes in the line-up when Varsity kicked off against Queen's. For the entire period the teams resorted to straight football. Queen's did try the forward pass twice, making a 3-yard gain the first time and the pass being intercepted the second.

Carter and Sinclair matched kicks throughout, both booting beautifully. There were several fumbles with most of them being recovered. Varsity seemed stronger in line strength and gained yards twice. Queen's never broke through for yards in the entire quarter.

First quarter over—Varsity 0, Queen's 0.

Second Quarter

The first break came when Sinclair threw a perfect forward pass which Caldwell of Queen's promptly gathered up and ran back 10 yards. Queen's went on a rampage and smashed into Varsity but couldn't get through. Sinclair's kicking was the feature, with the lanky Varsity star getting 55 yards to a punt. Varsity finally got possession on the Queen's 35-yard line and Sinclair kicked for the first point. Varsity gained yards for the third time on an end run. Another Sinclair kick seemed a sure point but Carter, caught it and passed to Gilmore, the latter ran it out of the danger zone. The end of the half came with Queen's in possession on the 30-yard line.

Half Time Score

Varsity, 1; Queen's, 0.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Monday is Thanksgiving Day, set apart by order-in-council as a day of national thanksgiving for the people of Canada.

From a material viewpoint this annual occasion of expressing gratitude for the blessings vouchsafed throughout the year comes at a time when many of our people may find it difficult to visualize reasons for giving thanks, and yet Canadians, of all the people on the globe should be able in this economic crisis to enter into the spirit of Thanksgiving Day.

The pressure of this period of depression has been felt less in this great dominion than elsewhere; a large proportion of our population has indeed been untouched by the so-called hard times and those fortunate ones have every reason to have thankful hearts.

Generally too, the slump in business and industry and the depreciated value of farm products have indirectly supplied a cause for National thanksgiving, for they have developed in the face of this emergency a nation-wide sympathy for, and willingness to help those who have been hardest hit by the conditions.

Never, indeed, has there been such a spirit of generosity abroad in the land—everywhere purse strings are being untied and assistance is being freely given to the less fortunate of our people; easterners are sending car loads of supplies to the drought victims in the west; municipalities and social service organizations and generous individuals are supplementing government efforts to mitigate the suffering occasioned by the depression.

That condition and the certainty that when the world moves back to better times, Canada would be in the fore front of the triumphal parade provide in themselves ample reason why Canadians should give thanks.

The day should find gratitude for our advantages mingled with a firm resolve that whatever may lie ahead co-operation and the will-to-help-others will carry this country through the troubled seas of economic distress into the safe harbor of prosperity.

REV. CANON CODY IS APPOINTED TORONTO UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Prominent Divine Succeeds Sir Robert Falconer Next July.

DECLINED MANY HONORS.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10 (C.P.)—Known throughout the ecclesiastical world and more particularly in the Anglican communion as one of the outstanding clergymen of the Church of England in Canada, Rev. Canon Henry John Cody, M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., has been appointed to succeed Sir Robert Falconer as President of the University of Toronto on Sir Robert's retirement, which has been tentatively set for July 1 next year.

Canon Cody has been rector of St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, for 32 years and in resigning to become the sixth president of the great university, enters a sphere of public service which for years has meant scarcely less to him than his duties as head of one of Toronto's largest and most influential parishes. From the time he graduated in 1889, Dr. Cody's interest in the institution to which he will shortly return as head, has been unbounded and in all Provincial enterprises for the furtherance of education he has been one of the outstanding figures.

Preferred Parish Work

The decision to accept the high educational post is all the more notable in view of the refusal of the distinguished churchman to accept high posts in the church. In 1921 Canon Cody was elected Archbishop of Melbourne Australia, but he declined the honor, preferring to continue his work in the parish where he had labored for so many years. Seventeen years earlier he declined the bishopric of Nova Scotia. During the past year his name had been prominently mentioned for the primacy of the church in Canada.

Famed as a preacher, Dr. Cody has preached before the King and Queen and occupied the pulpit in the Cathedral of Geneva, in connection with the seventh assembly of the League of Nations.

Announcement of the appointment has been hailed with enthusiasm on all sides. Premier George S. Henry is of the opinion that no other man was better fitted to assume the presidency of the university "I think it was quite the obvious thing to do" declared Provost F. H. Cosgrave of Trinity College, a brother-cleric and this view is general in educational circles.

Dr Cody stated last night that he accepted the post with deep humility and a sense of overwhelming responsibility. "All I can say is that I hope to maintain the traditions so well established by Sir Robert Falconer and to consolidate education in the province" the president-elect said.

It would be a great hardship to leave his church after so many years of service. Canon Cody intimated but he considered it an opportunity to be of greater service to a large number. He said he would continue to worship in St. Paul's and remain in touch with the church.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR ARCHDEACON DAVIDSON

TORONTO FLYING CORPS TO GIVE LOCAL DISPLAY

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM.

Chamber of Commerce Promoting Plans for Airmen's Visit.

For some time the Toronto and District Flying association which trains pilots and aims to develop flying with a view to having it take its forward position when prosperity returns, as a commercial proposition has been desirous of staging a demonstration at the Peterborough Airport. On Friday afternoon, Col. Joy of the Department of Defence and Lieut. Clang of the flying association went out with Mr. J. H. Burnham, licensee and lessee of the airport and Mr. Stinson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce will have charge of the Peterborough end of the meeting of flying clubs from all parts of Ontario to be staged at the airport, Oct. 24.

There will be a very attractive program and it is gratifying to find that Peterborough is regarded as one of the chief centers of commercial aviation. There has been a great development of the air service in recent years in Canada as elsewhere. The reduced cost of manufacture and speed and certainty of the service has introduced a new element into transportation. Col. Joy and Mr. Clay flew down from Toronto in 35 minutes in one of their new planes.

The Weather

LLOYD GEORGE SCORES TORIES OVER ELECTION

Free Trade Stand Likely to Split Gov't Backers in Many Ridings.

PLANS GOING AWRY.

Labor Manifesto is Clear Cut Appeal for Socialism, Public Control.

LONDON, Oct. 10 (C.P. Cable)—The bluntly-phrased statement of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George last night, in which the Liberal leader castigated the Tories for forcing the general election for party purposes, and reiterated his determination to stand by Free Trade, threatened today to split Conservative and Liberal supporters of the National Government, in many constituencies.

Liberal Free Trade candidates and Protectionist Conservatives in some districts are finding the pull of party politics and long-standing prejudices are more powerful than the appeal to back the Government. Arrangements have been made in many cases to stand aside and thus ensure a straight fight with the Laborites. But in many places the plans are going awry.

Seek to Avoid Split

National headquarters of the two parties are exerting the utmost influence with local organizations, which select the candidates and determine the issues, to avoid splitting the Government vote—or the "Nationalist" vote, as it is coming to be called.

Mr. Lloyd George's statement from his sick room at Churt, Surrey, was coincident with a slashing manifesto from the Labor party and a vigorous opening speech by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin at Birmingham, the cradle of Protection.

The Liberal leaders statement described the election as the "most wanton and unpatriotic into which the country ever has been plunged" and accused the Conservatives of plotting the election in order to foist a protective tariff on the country. "I shall happy to do all in my power in the next Parliament," he said, "to assist any government or party which is striving faithfully to get us through our troubles, but I decline to assist a mere Tory ramp to exploit the national emergency for Tory ends."

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin dwelt at some length on the unfortunate decisions in some quarters to oppose Conservative Nationalists with Liberal Nationalists, and vice versa. He regretted Sir Herbert Samuel, Home Secretary, and leader of the Liberal Nationalists, was to be opposed by a Conservative candidate in Darwen, Lancashire, but "two people should play the game as well as one," he said, adding he had been perturbed by the news that Liberal candidates apparently had been instructed to oppose Conservative Nationalists wherever possible.

Tariff, Baldwin's Keynote.

Tariff was naturally the keynote of Mr. Baldwin's speech. Two Sons of Joseph Chamberlain were at his side as he extolled the advantages of tariffs and explained why he believed they were the most effective means of redressing the adverse balance of trade. He also stressed that part of his election manifesto which expressed hope the postponed Ottawa Imperial Economic conference could be held shortly and the foundation for greater imperial economic unity laid on a firm basis.

Socialism, public ownership and control of finance and most industries, world peace and disarmament and the wiping out of the inter-allied war debts and reparations structure, were urged in the Labor party's manifesto. It was a clean-cut document stressing that it contained definite pledges as against the appeal by the Nationalists for a free hand." "Labor insists that we must plan our civilization or perish," was one of its striking declarations. "The decay of the capitalist civilization brooks no delay."

The Labor party offers planned reconstruction National and International, in place of a chaos and anarchy which are the parents of disaster."

Many Exhibitors And Large Crowd

Every Department of Fair Crowded With Exhibits.

BIG POULTRY SHOW.

Gate Receipts Decidedly Satisfactory to Directors.

WARKWORTH, Oct. 10 (Examiner Staff Reporter).—A wonderful autumn day with just the least suspicion of frost in the air in the afternoon to render the jostling with good-natured crowds, a not-too-arduous ordeal, favored the 81st annual Exhibition held here yesterday.

Growing steadily in favor from year to year, the fair drew steady streams of exhibitors and patrons from early in the forenoon till quite late on in the day, and all the usual sideshows, refreshment stalls and other attractions were fully represented.

Livestock exhibits were unusually heavy, while there was a wonderful entry list of horses in the light horse, roadster and carriage classes and in the heavy horse specials.

Big Poultry Display

J. H. Warrington of Cornwall, veteran poultry judge, told The Examiner that in this department the entries were apparently more numerous than ever, and compared very favorably with larger shows at which he had been a judge this season.

The poultry building was overcrowded with pens, and Mr. Warrington relayed to The Examiner the information that the directors are planning an enlargement for next year.

J. R. McKnight a Judge

J. R. McKnight of Cavan township was judge of the heavy horses, and was kept busy until half-past five o'clock deciding the winners in the heavy draught and agricultural classes. Reeve John F. Davidson of Cobourg handled the light harness horses. This department was even more attractive than usual, with a big entry list.

The cattle overflowed from the big building that has served several classes of livestock during recent years.

The big entry list in every section of the Fair coincided generally with the experience of other fairs in Central Ontario this Fall. This development, as previously observed, is probably due to the keener interest which breeders of producers have taken this year in exhibition work, and perhaps the cash prizes have a little sharper attraction for everybody.

Attendance About Average

Directors were not certain whether the attendance was up to the average. The estimate at the gate was around three thousand, but due to conditions this season which are causing people to husband their money more carefully than in the flush years that preceded the big slump, there may be a falling off in attendance, and also in spending along the midway. Warkworth presented a long row of refreshments stands and legitimate games, but it is improbable that most of them made any substantial profit yesterday. That is another common experience this year. One man at a bingo game said his profits this year were not much more than forty dollars altogether from three or four fairs.

Deputy-Reeve Merrill of Percy Township was the director in charge of the heavy horses, and M. McCann had the light horses under his supervision. Other directors assuming similar duties were as follows:

RESCUE FOILED BY FEW HOURS

Doctor Claims German Flier Had Lived for Days in Bay Waters.

HELD UP BY LIFE BELT.

PARRSBORO, N.S., October 10.—Fritz Simon, German mail flier, whose lifeless body was found floating on Cobequid Bay yesterday afternoon, lived for two or three days after his mail plane, New York, crashed on the bay early on Tuesday morning, in the opinion of Dr C. S. Henderson of Parrsboro', who conducted an autopsy last night at the direction of the Nova Scotia police.

"He certainly lived for some time after the accident," Dr. Henderson told the Canadian Press. "He had not been dead very long when they found him, and it is my opinion that he died during the last 24 hours." The doctor pronounced death due to exposure. No inquest will be held.

Simon's body was found shortly after noon yesterday by Lieutenant Louis Leigh, Maritime and Newfoundland Airways pilot, who had been directing search parties from the air. Flying low over a channel where he had found wreckage of the ill-fated plane on Wednesday, he saw first a piece of broken pontoon. A few minutes later he sighted Simon, who was kept upright in the water by an inflated life-belt. Leigh signalled the tug Almac, which picked up the body and another piece of the pontoon that had been located by the flier as the boat approached.

POLICE CHECK GOLD RUSHERS

Turn Back All Improperly Equipped at End of Auto Trail in Alberta

FEAR EARLY BLIZZARD.

CALGARY, Oct. 10. (CP)—Biting winds swept from mountain tops yesterday to aid Provincial and Royal Canadian Mounted Police in stemming the rush of poorly-equipped prospectors into the Big Timber Creek area, but thef orces of nature and man were unable to quell the ardor of eight outfits seeking gold in the newly-found field. To-night the wind lost some of its severity, even though temperatures were dropping close to freezing point.

Reports from Morley, last town the prospectors leave in the race for the yellow metal, said there were five professional outfits and three composed of amateurs from Calgary heading into the area which lies 65 miles northwest of the Indian Reserve at Morley. The 26 Indians who staked the original claims are believed to be within a few miles of the creek.

Fearing an early blizzard, Constable W. B. Shaw, Provincial Police, and Corporal W. Stiven, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, have been stationed at a lumber camp where the auto trail ends—to turn back poorly-equipped outfits. Unless well-provisioned and well-clothed, prospectors are being refused permission to pass the camp.

ARCHDEACON J. C. DAVIDSON SUCCUMBS TO BRIEF ILLNESS

Former Rector of St. John's Church Dies in Toronto.

WAS 93RD CHAPLAIN.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Toronto Jail and both the men's and women's jail farms lose their chaplain in the death last night of the Ven. John Cheyne Davidson, archdeacon of Peterborough and honorary canon of St. Alban's Cathedral. He was 70 years of age, and had been ill at his home on Cottingham street for several weeks.

Archdeacon Davidson was rector of St. John's Church, Peterborough, for 30 years, from 1890 to 1930. He was chaplain of the 57th Battalion (Peterborough Rangers) for 25 years from 1890 to 1920. He was overseas with the rank of major as chaplain to the 93rd (Peterborough) Battalion.

Born in Newboro, Ontario, in 1861, of United Empire Loyalist stock, he was educated at Uxbridge High School and Trinity College School, Port Hope. He came to Trinity College, Toronto, where he graduated B.A., in 1882, and M.A. in 1884.

Studied in England

After reading Divinity, Mr. Davidson was curate for two years under the late Rev. Frank Boyd at Teddington, England. Returning to Canada, he became rector of Colborne, Ont., where he remained about two years. From there he went as assistant rector to St. John's Church, Peterborough, in 1888, becoming rector in 1890.

In 1896 he married Maude, eldest daughter of the late F. J. Lewis of the Bank of Montreal.

In 1905 he was made Honorary Canon of St. Alban's Cathedral, Toronto. He went in 1908 to England as delegate to the Pan-Anglican congress. Being appointed Archdeacon of Peterborough, he gave up the rectory of St. John's and came to Toronto as commissioner of the Anglican Forward movement in 1920.

Thereafter he became a diocesan social service chaplain, serving at the Toronto jail and the municipal farms until his death.

Among many other unusual jobs which Archdeacon Davidson tackled with initiative and enthusiasm was the Lenten missions in St. Louis, Chicago and Buffalo from time to time. He preached in York Minster (England) and St. Margaret's (Westminster).

He is survived by his wife, two sons, the Rev. John F., at Upper Canada College, and Philip of Seattle; two daughters, Mrs. J. O. L. Mason, Myitkyina, Burma, and Miss Joyce, at home. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. C. A. Gossage, Mrs. A. H. Loosemore, and Mrs. H. C Rae, all of Toronto.

OLD GIPSY TRICK STILL EFFECTIVE

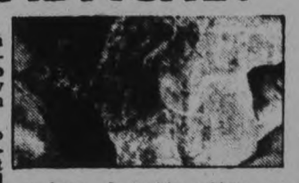
Silver Crosses the Palm and Cash Disappears Near Grimsby.

WRONG TRIBE ARRESTED.

GRIMSBY, Oct. 10. — Refreshment booth proprietors on Barton street yesterday complained they had fallen victims to age-old gipsy tricks, and as a result a carload of Romanie spent five hours in Grimsby Jail before it was established that police had arrested the wrong tribe.

Mrs. George Tremaine and William Wells were complaints. They said the crossed brown palms with pieces of silver, they harkened to prophesies of their future, and after all this they found their tills short. They telephoned to Grimsby, and police here found a motorful of gipsies had just passed through town. Traffic Officer Bond chased them, halted them and brought them back here; five hours later Mrs. Tremaine arrived and recognized none of them. It was learned later there had been two carloads of gipsies.

"SICK HEADACHE?"



IT is not necessary to give-in to headaches. It is just a bit old-fashioned! The modern woman who feels a headache coming on at any time, takes some tablets of Aspirin and heads it off.

Keep Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, systemic pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they're fairly started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping; your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little nagging aches that bring a case of "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. In every package of Aspirin tablets are proven directions which cover colds, headaches, sore throat, toothache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, and even rheumatism.

The tablets stamped Bayer won't fail you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them whenever you need them, and take enough to end the pain. Aspirin is made in Canada.

Gold Proves Brass Lads' Dreams Fade

WINDSOR, Ont., (CP). — G. C. Bateman, secretary of the Ontario Mining Association, yesterday announced news that will prove very disheartening to the four boys who found a cache of "gold" in the Hawkey bush recently.

Mr. Bateman declared that the supposed gold, the value of which was variously estimated at from $2,500 to $4,000, is in reality worth only $6, for it is nothing other than pure brass, if brass is pure. At any rate, it is brass and not gold.

Using acids known to all mining men Mr. Bateman quickly dissolved a sample of the stuff that had been found by the boys. To satisfy the officers, Mr. Bateman then took a piece of pure gold and submitted it to the same test. It, of course, survived.

The brass simply melted away as will the dreams of the four young "pirates" who found it."

SEES TAX BOOST TO HELP RELIEF

Cannot Go On as We Have in Past Says Premier Brownlee.

MUST CHANGE POLICY.

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 10.—Taxation will increase if it is demanded that the Government provide work for every one, and before three months pass the Governments of Canada will learn that "we cannot go on as we have done in the past." Premier J. E. Brownlee declared in a speech at the "Produced in Alberta" Exhibition yesterday.

"How could Great Britain have arranged to take care of its three or four or five millions of unemployed by providing work at fair wages?" he asked. "It can't continue in Canada to-day. How far can we go in Canada providing food and clothing for our unemployed in the present way? We will probably learn in the near future that we can do it much better and at only one-quarter of the expense as at the present time."

W. A. MEADOWS RE-ELECTED HEAD DURHAM COUNTY LIBERAL BODY

Dr. G. McQuibban Strongly Urges Probe of Certain Hydro Deals

BANQUET PLANNED

Vigorously assailing the government and strongly advising an inquiry regarding certain transactions of the Hydro Electric Commission, Dr. George A. McQuibban, M.P.P. for North Wellington addressed the annual convention of the Durham County Liberal Association which was held at the Town Hall, Orono, on Wednesday afternoon. Other speakers were W. J. Bragg, M.P.P. for Durham and Hon. Nelson Parliament, organizer.

Wednesday afternoon's rain did not detract from the convention and when the meeting came to order at 2.30 the meeting room was well filled with Liberal followers. W. A. Meadows, Port Hope was re-elected president of the Association for the second term W. F. Rickard of Newcastle was elected to the vice-presidency and L. C. Mason of Bowmanville was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The vice-presidents for the various districts are:

Bowmanville—Joseph Gray.
Port Hope—Lorne H Giddy.
Millbrook—Mr. MacDowall.
Newcastle—Major Harry Dudley.
Hope Township—John Bosnell.
Clarke Township—John Stewart
Darlington Township—Silas Williams.
Cavan Township—James Douglas.
Manvers Township — William Morton.
Cartwright Township—Fred Philip

Lady district representatives were appointed as follows:

Bowmanville—Mrs. H. W. Burk.
Port Hope—Mrs. Harry Mitchell.
Millbrook—Miss Elson.
Newcastle—Miss Ethel Lockhart.
Hope Township—Mrs S. B. Dickinson.
Clarke Township—Mrs O. Ralph.
Darlington Township—Mrs. W. R. Courtice.
Cavan Township—Mrs. William Kennedy.
Manvers Township—Mrs. McGill.
Cartwright Township—Mrs. Thomas Smith.

Delegates Appointed

Six delegates were appointed to attend the Liberal Convention which will be held at London on October 30 and are: W. J. Sielding, Port Hope; Thomas Baker, Darlington; Isaac Whitfield, Cartwright; Mrs. J. R. Cooper, Orono; Mrs. Hubert Foster, Bowmanville, and Mrs. Luther Mountjoy, Blackstock. The alternates are, president, vice-president, secretary Miss M. Henwood, Port Hope, Mrs. R. Gibson, Newcastle and Miss Elson, Millbrook.

Banquet Planned.

Mrs. O. Ralph, Orono, introduced the subject of the hearing of the reports of the delegates following their return from the London convention. The matter was left with the executive regarding a banquet to be held at Newcastle Community Hall, the date to be decided later, at which the delegates will be heard and it was decided to invite Mitchell Hepburn Ontario Liberal leader, as the guest speaker.

Votes of Confidence.

At the conclusion of the meeting, votes of confidence were made and were readily endorsed by the audience toward Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, Federal Liberal Chieftain, Mitchell Hepburn and W. E. N. Sinclair.

Dr. McQuibban.

Dr. McQuibban's address was well received and he delivered it with a vim and vigor. He dealt at some length upon transactions by the Ontario Hydro Commission and strongly recommended an inquiry into the matter.

At some length, the speaker dealt with the Hyro situation and reviewed the Hydro purchases of private Quebec power. Power was purchased at varying prices from different companies, the amount of the government contracts invariably being sufficient to carry the companies' interest, thus enabling them to develop additional power at no additional cost. Thus, he stated, the people of Ontario were paying the way for private companies to wax fat on the profits from their privately developed power.

Mr. McQuibban deplored the purchasing of power from Quebec notwithstanding the fact that there is available Hydro on the St. Lawrence. "Ontario has been the victim of betrayed confidence," he said. "I do not blame the rank and file but to those who steer the ships of state."

"What we need is statesmanship," he said in conclusion. "Men to go out on the platforms before it is too late and men to pioneer for the sake of the province. A judicial probe is demanded and the people are crying for something deeper."

Hon. Nelson Parliament.

Hon. Nelson Parliament, Liberal organizer, was not billed as one of the speakers on the program, but on being noticed in the audience was asked to come to the platform. His short fiery address was a fitting end to the convention. He urged a rebirth of Liberalism in its real form in Ontario and Canada.

DEATHS FROM WORRY JUMP SINCE STOCK MARKET CRASH

Number Taking Their Own Lives in Ontario Increased by 33½ Per Cent.

MIDDLE AGE BAD

Business Men Particularly Victims of Trade Depression, Say Insurance Heads

Not only have the number of suicides in Ontario increased over 33 1-3 per cent. in the two years since the stock market crash, but incomplete figures for this year seem to indicate an even higher percentage. The data is made available by the provincial secretary's department.

In 1928, the year just prior to the depression, 285 people in Ontario took their own lives. The next year, the year of the crash, 320 persons killed themselves and, in 1930, the total reached 402. While the 1931 figures are not yet complete, it is known they are even higher.

The figures go to support the statements made yesterday at the diamond jubilee convention of the Confederation Life Co. in the Royal York hotel by V. R Smith, chief actuary, and C D Devlin, general superintendent, that since the general business depression there has been evident more general illness and a greater number of premature deaths and suicides. Worry over the failure of many companies and the discontinuance of dividends and interest payments even on bonds is ascribed as the cause.

Worry Kills

NEVER, perhaps, in the history of the world has there been such a trying time on the nervous system.

Worry and anxiety waste nervous energy at a tremendous rate. The result is sleeplessness, digestive troubles and, sometimes, mental disorders or heart failure. You lose hope and confidence and become discouraged and despondent.

As a means of restoring the exhausted nervous system Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is generally acknowledged as the most effective treatment.

Business and professional men in large numbers are finding that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of great benefit to them in restoring the nerves and enabling them to rest and sleep well and regain vigor, confidence and good health.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Restores the Tired, Sleepless Nerves

Upside Down And Downside Up

By WILLIAM SOUTHERN.

LOCATED at the northern end of an inlet of the Gulf of Saloniki, about 140 miles south of Sophia, is the modern city of Saloniki. It is a busy port, a city of about 160,000 people and well adapted for a great seaport. A new harbor was opened in 1901, with a great quay fifteen hundred feet long and wide piers at each end. In this harbor vessels of all nations may be seen at all times and this is one of the stopping points of most of the world cruises. Saloniki was the headquarters for the direction of the allied forces during the Great War.

The Saloniki of to-day was the Thessalonika of St. Paul's time. Previously for several centuries it had been a great city. It was founded about 315 B.C. and named after a step-sister of Alexander the Great. It came under Roman rule and was made a free city in A.D. 42, governed by six magistrates.

Thessalonika became a great Christian centre and the church founded here by Saint Paul became the starting point for Christian influences. The Mosque of Saint Sophia, modeled after the great Mosque of that name in Constantinople, was hardly second to any in splendor with its vast dome and beautiful mosaics. The city was in the hands of the Turks from 1430 to 1912.

It was here that St. Paul about A.D. 50 experienced one of his greatest adventures. Accompanied by Silas he found friends in Thessalonika and lived a guest at the home of one Jason, probably a prominent Jew and likely a manufacturer of tents. Visitors to Saloniki walk along the Via Egnatia which was the great highway in Saint Paul's day and wonder if his feet touched the same stones. It brings to visiting Christians a better reality of the real figure of Saint Paul and of the great work that he accomplished. Here walked Saint Paul. Here I walk. The whole story and history ties in and fits with the account given by Dr. Luke in the Acts.

When the Apostle Paul accompanied by his friend and co-worker Silas made his first visit to Thessalonika in Macedonia, they began teaching in the synagogues. For three weeks they taught and won so great an interest that, according to the record made by Dr. Luke, a great number of devout Greeks and a host of the leading women joined them and formed a fine nucleus for what was afterward to be one of the great churches founded by Paul. Again hostile Jews followed and assaulted Paul, and when they could not find him, arrested his friend Jason in whose house Paul and Silas were guests and made Jason give bond that his friends would leave the city.

The preachers were not charged with simply teaching and preaching, but with attacking the established order, which is the greatest crime one can commit to this day. Men and women do not like to be disturbed. The charge read: "These men have turned the world upside down."

Dr. Galus Glen Atkins, of Auburn, N. Y., writes: "The world was wrong side up two thousand years ago. Pride on top and mercy underneath, war on top and peace underneath, power on top and humanity underneath, the body and appetites on top and the soul underneath, selfishness on top and love underneath, despotism on top and justice underneath. That world needed turning upside down. The world objected, of course; vested interest and hoary wrongs and regnant and unrighteous habits, always object to being turned upside down, the upside is so comfortable and profitable and sunlit and easy."

The world two thousand years ago was very different from the world of to-day and yet the world to-day seems to need turning upside down or downside up quite a bit and the world still objects just as it did in Paul's day. The prohibitionists turned quite a bit of the world upside down and downside up some ten years ago and what a wailing there was and is! Vested interests were attacked and profits destroyed. It is not safe to turn the world upside down or downside up. Did you ever walk in the woods and turn over an old log? Remember how the bugs and many legged worms and all kinds of life which had been safely hidden in the dark, damp coolness of that big log raced and skittered and hunted a hiding place. Light was the very thing they did not want and where they could not live.

It must have been a wonderful and welcome change when Paul and Silas went down to Berea. The people of Berea were not illiterate. They studied what they had of the Bible. It was their Book of the law, the book by which they measured everything. I think Berea must have been a college town and a suburban residential district, certainly not a manufacturing seaport city like Saloniki.

When Paul and Silas explained their idea of Jesus and His teachings the Bereans dd not run them out by force. Neither did they agree and acclaim. They said let's see about this, let's measure this new doctrine by the old one which we know is true. Paul wanted nothing better. Page by page, prophecy by prophecy, he tied them together and there was no discrepancy.

The world is not entirely right side up after two thousand years of Christianity. Men and women who try to expose the down side and turn it up to the light are still in danger of being run out of the city, as was Paul. Not every city is like Berea, willing to set up the measuring stick which the Bible offers. We have a much improved measure which not only includes those owned by the Bereans, but their own record and Paul's record and the record of Jesus and His followers since that time.

On Growing Old

MOST people who are frightened at growing old are people who have never cultivated self-reliance. They are folks who are always expecting others to do things for them instead of doing things for themselves. They are "self-pityers"—which means that they are self-centred. They fear, no so much old age, as a resourceless old age—a very different thing.

I think there is nothing so valuable in life as the deliberate cultivation of balance of thought, the ability to see all sides of a question, and not only the gloomy side. For there are two sides to this question of growing old; and there is, I fancy, a big balance on the credit side if we will only look at it in the right way.

There are a lot of compensations in growing old, for age is a ripening, a broadening out. The only people who need fear to grow old are those who have allowed their hopes to die and those who have allowed themselves to become useless. To the very end you can do something — and only by doing something can you ever hope to be happy.

Age gives a philosophy that youth lacks. If we grow older we also grow more patient. If we lose our youth we also lose that sense of crushing disappointment that goes with the fiery enthusiasm of youth.

We learn the wisdom of realizing that what we cannot do to-day may be possible to-morrow. We learn—a thing of rare value—that life is not a brutal tyrant to be fought, but a rich storehouse from which we can take what we will.

"The best is yet to be . . ."—but only if we deliberately choose the best. If we want friends we must make friends. If we want happiness we must create happiness. If we want peace and a calm mind we must deliberately cultivate a reliance on ourselves. We must not spend all our energies in the hopeless endeavor to run away from ourselves. We must make life cheerful by refusing to be morbid and make it happy by refusing to be miserable.

Nobody can do any of these things for us. We must do them ourselves. If we really try we shall be far too busy to listen to the melancholy whisperings of "ghosts."

For age is opportunity no less
Than youth itself, though in another dress,
And as the evening twilight fades away
The sky is filled with stars, invisible by day.

Bogies are unsubstantial things. They are beneath the contempt of a reasonable being, for they can only live in a morbid mind.—By the Editor of Tit-Bits.

The new Grand Lake electrical station will use 30,000 tons of New Brunswick coal annually. Erected by the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, this ultra modern pulverized fuel plant produces 5,000 killowatts, or 6,700 horse power of electrical energy.

Pursuit of Wealth

WITH increasing facilities of production, it may be that a four-day working week shall suffice to keep the world in necessities and ever-increasing comfort. The threatening problem that thus looms on the human horizon is what may be the fruit of more hours of unpaid leisure for which, not passively as in the workshop but actively, as his own master, the man is responsible, alike to mankind and to God—hours of choice that should also be of purpose. He is a man, good or bad, great or little, according as he uses these. Social economists put "pleasure" as the right and desired use of such hours. It is a word that misses its mark altogether. Pleasure is indeed to be sought. But pleasure means satisfaction and, try as we will, there is postitively no satisfaction except in service. The question increasingly pressing is how man may adjust himself to added leisure. One authority says mental hygiene will have to solve the problem. Mental hygiene, whatever its part, had better get busy, as the problem has arrived. The greatest change that is coming upon our civilization is the release of the self-named proletariate from what it calls wage slavery. With a fair distribution of hand work, men will be personally responsible for the right use of a substantial proportion of their time and will have to learn to use it and not to throw it away.

Man's Chief End.

While mental hygiene is developing its plans for "leisure," we would suggest plans for higher service along the line of the old but much neglected sovereign prescription, namely, the pursuit of the Kingdom of Heaven. The supreme purpose of every man on earth is to glorify God by bringing that about. Happy is he who finds himself doing so at his daily task, as every man should. But it is the hours that are his own—the hours for which he gets no pay, that reveal him as he is—the hours in which he has the joy of giving his special powers as a free-will offering to the service of the coming kingdom that are his responsibility. Except in such whole-hearted devotion there cannot be the fullest satisfaction in life, for that is what man is made for. That is what man is coming to. That is what man is being trained for. When there is not enough work to go round, it should in some way be possible for those guilds of workers who are calling for unemployment insurance to fulfil the same ends in a way in which the employed would be able to pay their premiums in the form of sharing the working hours with the unemployed.

Lassitude of Labor.

It is a usage among labor advocates to speak of wage earning as "toil." That pitying word has always been more applied to work one does for another or for that abstract thing, a company, than to what one does for himself. Working for his art, or for his invention, the difficulty is to get a man away from his work. That is a question for those psychiatrists to puzzle over. It suggests that Hamlet was right when he said that there's nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so. It is, however, not human to spend one's life at some trivial detail that cannot call upon his mind or heart. For his own well-being he must have something better than such dry husks to feed his soul on if he would be a man at all. The tedium of monotonous labor is dwelt upon by philanthropists till one might think that something to do was the worst thing that could happen to a man. But many are learning that, irrespective of pay, nothing to do is a much worse and more heart-breaking thing.

To shorten working hours can easily be out of the frying pan into the fire. The most melancholy condition known to man is that of the out-of-work, whether through what is called "independence," or through poverty, with no high purpose to satisfy the soul. The tedium of toil is nothing to the positive melancholy of the pursuit of diversion, amusement, entertainment, all which words, invented by the leisured classes, express, in their origin, the tedious emptiness of the gayest life. Only the word "recreation" may be interpreted as looking to better fitness for service. The peasant of old who spent his twelve hours and more in communion with nature, had little need of recreation other than his family and his share in the household cares. It is the void in the soul of the worker of to-day, as well as of him who has no work, that is the problem. The more the worker is free from his task, the more he is himself; and he is great or little according as he uses it. There is enough great work to be done. The harvest is plenteous, the laborers are few.

HYMN.

Thou hidden source of calm repose,
Thou all-sufficient Love Divine,
My help and refuge from my foes,
Secure I am, if Thou art mine;
And lo! from sin, and grief, and shame,
I hide me, Jesus, in Thy name.

O God, our Father, we turn to Thee for light and guidance, and reach our hands out to Thee in the darkness which surrounds us. Thou art our strength and our deliverer. MEDITATION.

Psalm 4:6: "There be many that say, Who will show us any good?" There are certain circumstances of life which make for a pessimistic outlook. It is not within the ordinary course of human nature to sing some cheerful song when the heart is burdened with anxiety and care. More likely it is that one will be inclined to say, "Who will show us any good?" You will note that the Psalmist finds a source of good apart from the blessings of increased harvests and material prosperity. The gladness which he finds in his heart surpasses the gladness which springs from such. It is the gladness which comes from trust in God, and from the assurance of God's protecting care. Those who have built upon the rock Christ Jesus have no fear of the storms. They lay them down in peace and sleep, knowing that the Lord maketh them to dwell in safety.

APPOINTING TEACHERS.

Some comment has been occasioned by reason of the fact that the Board of Education has seen fit to choose an outside applicant for a position on the staff of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, despite several local applications.

The Examiner is not in possession of all the facts in the case nor do we know the regulations governing the appointments by the board.

There is this to be said, however, that provided the qualifications of the applicants were on the same level there does not seem to be any logical reason why the appointment should not have gone to a local resident.

The maintenance of Peterborough's school system is a decidedly heavy item of expense, representing a large part of local taxation.

There are many people who believe that the burden from this source is becoming unreasonably onerous.

However true that view may be it should be at least apparent that an institution that costs the public so much should make all the financial return possible to the community which foots the bills.

In many cases it is not practicable to appoint local teachers, but wherever such a course is feasible The Examiner believes that it should be followed as a matter of justice to the people upon whose shoulders the burden of carrying the school system falls.

A TAXATION MISTAKE.

The Toronto Board of Trade, it is intimated, will inaugurate at the annual meeting of the Ontario Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at Windsor this month a strong attack upon the Corporation Tax Act passed at the last session of the Legislature, and there is little doubt but that they will have the general support of business interests in that stand.

The Examiner believes this levy upon corporations has been a mistake and was not justified even by the admitted necessity of the Government securing additional revenue.

To impose such a tax when business and industry were beginning to feel the full blunt of the economic situation was merely to put an additional burden upon these firms just when the pressure would be the most severely felt.

Obviously, such a tax is likely to have the effect not only of discouraging business expansion and curtailing employment, but also in the withdrawal from investment here of large reserves.

Most people will agree with the Brantford Expositor that the additional revenue needed by the Government should be secured by adequate taxation on motor trucks and buses.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

There is one feature of British politics that Canadians admire and would like to see adopted here; and that is the brevity both of election campaigns and of election speeches.

The British fight will be all over in three weeks, a vivid contrast to the Canadian practice of extending Dominion campaigns over a period of two months or more until many electorates are wearied of the thing long before election day.

And there is nothing of the marathon nature in the addresses that the British leaders deliver during these brief, snappy campaigns.

As a rule they strive at saying a few things that are worth while, and that will stick in the minds and appeal to the judgment of the voters, a much different method than that followed by the majority of Canadian politicians, who seem to have an idea that they can overwhelm their audience by a sheer mass of words.

In Parliament, too, the British statesmen set us a good example; four-hour speeches there would be regarded as an imposition on the patience of the members, and as a matter of fact, even the leaders rarely speak for more than half an hour at a time.

From every viewpoint the British method is infinitely to be preferred.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

Although there is nothing to indicate that a general provincial election is anywhere in the offing, there has been considerable political activity during the present week.

In the first place, Mitchell F. Hepburn, the Liberal provincial leader, opened his speaking campaign with a slashing arraignment of the Henry Government on the ground of extravagance and political interference with the Ontario Hydro Commission, and called for a judicial investigation into Hydro administration.

This was followed by an intimation from Premier Henry that if one of the sitting Liberal members would resign his seat to make way for Mr. Hepburn the Government would not oppose the Liberal leader.

"We would like to have him in the House," declared the Premier.

And then came the announcement of a by-election next month in Wellington to elect a member for the seat left vacant by the death of Hon. Lincoln Goldie.

It is not expected that Mr. Hepburn will accept the Premier's offer or that he will be a candidate in Wellington as he is pledged to his own constituents to stand for re-election in Elgin.

However, these three events represent unusual political activity for what can truthfully be described as an off year.

A VIRGINIA JUDGMENT.

On this side of the line we are inclined, and with a good deal of truth, to believe that our system of laws and our administration of justice are superior to those of our cousins to the south.

Judging by a decision given a short time ago by the Supreme Court of Virginia in a traffic accident case we have something to learn from that body as to the responsibility of motorists in regard to the safety of children.

This judgment dealt with an accident arising out of a child being pushed by a companion in front of a woman driver whose car struck the tot and inflicted severe injuries.

The children were at the side of the road as the car approached, and while the court agreed that the woman could not have foreseen the shoving of one of them in front of her automobile, it held that it was her duty, having seen the little ones there, to have had her car under such control that she could stop readily, the judgment pointing out children could not be expected to use the same judgment as adults in cases of this kind.

There is common sense in that viewpoint.

In Ontario, however, the tendency seems to be to regard similar mishaps as entirely accidental, and most drivers feel and are confirmed in that opinion by jury verdicts—that so long as they stay within the speed limit in passing children on or near a highway or street they are not guilty of carelessness should a child suddenly run in front of their machine.

If our law does not provide for carefulness under such circumstances it is time it was changed to give children that amount of protection.

HIDDEN GOLD.

(Toronto Star)

Canada might, of course, base her currency on her great quantities of gold which have not been dug out of the ground yet. There's lots of it and it is about as useful where nature hid it as it would be where Uncle Sam hides his.

About five billion dollars in gold, which is nearly half the world's monetary gold, is locked up in the vaults of the United States. That country evidently regards the gold standard as a world system, not as a system which it should support and aid in operating, but as a system which it should beat if it can and as much as it can. The gold standard is an international system, but the United States has a national consciousness only.

Most people find it difficult, if not impossible, to grasp the intricacies of the gold standard, and this failure on their part is not attended by any particular consequences, but when a great nation suddenly finds itself the creditor nation of the world and does not comprehend the obligations of its position in world finance the consequences are many and tragic.

For half a century past Great Britain, as the great creditor nation, kept a large and necessary part of the world's gold in motion, to enable the various countries to adhere to the gold standard so that it might be, as nearly as possible, a world system. The Bank of England knew that gold in motion, internationally distributed, energized world trade, and world trading was Britain's main interest. The United States knowing, evidently, that gold is a good thing gets all she can of it, would get it all if she could, and buries it in the ground in a safe place where it can be removed if need be. A conference of the nations will probably be called to discuss the gold standard and decide whether to keep it or discard it.

SPEND SENSIBLY.

"Here a little; there a little," in accordance with the old prophetic precept was how the present depression would be solved, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. H. H. Stevens, told members of the Kiwanis Club of Ottawa in his address to them on Friday. He declared that there was too much of a tendency in Canada to leave things to the Government.

Individuals must help, he said. Mr. Stevens made the definite and practical suggestion that anybody who could see a way to spend money at the present time should do so.

"This is a good time to paint your house," he suggested. Or to buy a new suit of clothes rather than try unduly to make the old one do, he further suggested.

It all sounds very simple, but if individuals acted upon his advice in Canada alone, it does not need many complicated calculations to convince any thinking person that the effect would be immediate and enormous.

For the sake of illustration, suppose instead of cluttering up the banks with more deposits which they don't know what to do with, the population of Canada spent five dollars per capita more during the next month or so than they had planned. It would mean fifty millions of dollars circulated within the Dominion. And that would help start trade considerably.

It is true, of course, that every one of the ten million population cannot do this. But there are those who are in a position to spend much more than the five dollars suggested. And if everybody took to heart the practical suggestion of the Minister of Trade and Commerce there is not a question that it would be a tremendous impetus to trade in the Dominion. It is up to individuals to try and consider in what way they can start trade revival. And the old adage about the will and the way still holds. Think it over.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Fire Prevention Weeks ends to-day, but the lesson it was designed to teach should last throughout the year.

One thing is already assured in regard to the British elections. There will be no dearth of candidates.

"Pepper" Martin should try dropping a fly with the bases full if he wants to find out how fleeting is baseball fame.

Peterborough citizens should not miss the plowing matches next week. This will be one of the biggest events of its kind ever staged in this district.

The unemployed men who have been given jobs on the trans-Canada highway scheme are seeing Canada first.

Clean up the fire hazards round the home if you want Fire Prevention Week to mean anything.

News of Our Own Village

The staff of this bustling journal has been give the raspberry from several sections this week, due, however, to the warm weather producing a 2nd crop.

Movies was took of the village Rotary Club as they were lapping their soup at Graham's Hotel Mon., but as the picture will not be with sound effect it will not tell the whole story.

This berg had a unemployed parade Thurs. a.m., but our worthy mayor, Rolly Denne, missed the same, he being out of town. It just shows what can happen when the mayor is away.

The Welsh Bros.' rodeo is going to put on a show in the village rink all next week. It's a suitable place, many opine, because more than one hockey team has had a rough ride in the ice-box.

Up to the present writing no mayoralty candidates has tossed their hats in the ring. So, except for the news that Walt. Stocker ain't going to run for the same, they ain't much in municipal politics to cause excitement.

Many of the villagers has been busy this week listening to the world's serious baseball games, south of here, and the local opinion seems to be that this young Pepper Martin is quite a ball player.

This village expects to go rural next week, the plowing matches out the gravel road expecting to draw quite a crowd of folks.

The village Kiwanians' Produced-in-Canada Fair is holding the boards at the drill shed all next week, and a big time is expected by all.

Mon. will be Thanksgiving Day in the village, so folks should get busy over the weekend figgering out what they got to be thankful for.

A THOUGHT.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SAINT SWITHIN'S DAY LEGEND

There are two facts behind the St. Swithin's legend which have now been established by meteorologists.

The first is that for the British Isles the month of July appears on a year's rainfall chart as a "secondary" maximum, the wettest month being October. These figures are based on an 85 years average, and, if five-day periods are taken, the July maximum occurs in the period July 20-25.

The second is that there begins about St. Swithin's Day an immense transfer of air from the Southern to the Northern Hemisphere, equal to about half a million tons.

The possible connection between these two facts may be the basis of the legend.—Sir Napier Shaw, the meteorologist, in the "Morning Post."

Will Protect Rights Of New York State

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 10. — (By Ken Clark, C. P. Staff CWriter).—The State Department to-day rested upon the assertion of Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson, that the rights of the State of New York would of course be protected in the negotiation of a St. Lawrence waterways treaty with Canada. The Secretary pointed out, however, treaty making powers were vested in the Federal Government.

The statement last evening of Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the state power authority of New York insisting upon the interest of New York in the St. Lawrence project created little disturbance in official cricles here.

The United States is at preesnt the largest source of petroleum imports into Finland.

WHITE FAWN

by Olive Higgins Prouty

INSTALMENT 28

Dan stood at the front window looking out at a driving March rain. His hands were shoved deep into his trousers pockets, and between his brows there was a puckered, drawn-together expression. Behind him Dr. Warburton was seated in the swivel desk-chair, as if he had not changed his position since last he had talked to Dan about Fabia Vale. They were not talking about Fabia now, but it seemed likely that at any moment they would slip through the thin partition that each had carefully observed all winter. No mention had been made of Fabia's name since Dan had decided to follow Dr. Warburton's advice and see her no more.

He had followed the advice literally. He had not even looked in the direction where she might be. Ever since Christmas, Dan had grimly, doggedly, applied himself to his work, doing all in his power to eliminate idle periods for futile longings and misgivings. For Dan had begun to be haunted by misgivings. He had supposed that Fabia would fade with time; that once the separation was definite, he would instantly begin to convalesce, like a patient after the removal of the cause of his pain. But such had not been the case.

For the first time in his life, Dan had begun to question the wisdom of Dr. Warburton's advice, which he had followed almost as blindly as if he had been at the operating-table, under his command. He had scarcely referred to his own intimate knowledge of conditions; nor to his own feelings; nor to Fabia's. If it was so hard for him to forget Fabia, what had it been to her? Had she suffered, too? Was she still suffering? Ought he to go and see her? Again and again these questions had knocked at Dan's door since Christmas, but he had not admitted them. As if in justification, he had given himself to his profession more earnestly, more ardently, as if it was a holy order of some sort, excusing him from all responsibilities but its own rigorous demands.

There had been little joyousness in his ardor. "What's the matter, Danny?" his mother had asked him a fortnight ago. All winter he had, as usual, dropped in every Saturday night for supper with his mother and father. "What's up, son?" his father had asked a week ago, and now again as he gazed out of the window he heard behind him a similar refrain from Dr. Warburton.

"What's on your mind, Dan?"

Dan replied shortly, as to the others, "Nothing. I'm all right."

"You haven't seemed like yourself since Christmas."

"Sorry."

"Dan, your father comes of a happy, genial race. No excuse for you to be otherwise."

"I'm only half Irish," objected Dan churlishly.

"Whatever you are, a cheerful manner is an asset to you. Your job isn't finished when you've taken off your rubber gloves, Dan. I've been thinking things over," Dr. Warburton went on. "You haven't had a vacation since you came in with me, three years ago. It wouldn't be a bad idea if you could get away for several weeks and have a good time."

"I don't want to go away. I didn't go into medicine to have a good time."

"Dan, my boy, what is it?" asked Dr. Warburton very kindly.

"Nothing. I'm all right."

"What are you doing with yourself evenings lately?" Then courageously, "How's Agnes Hearn?"

"I'm sure I don't know. I can't get interested in Agnes Hearn."

"What's the trouble?"

"Nothing. She's all right, I guess."

"I thought she was just the girl for you, Dan."

"I know you did," said Dan, turning around now, and facing Dr. Warburton. "And according to your theory, she is still just the girl. She'd never interfere with my work. She'd stay in the background without a murmur forever. Saving. Economical. Likes my family. Fits the place perfectly, but she's no inspiration. Now Fabia Vale——" At last the name had been spoken.

"Still thinking about her?"

"Sometimes," acknowledged Dan. "I get to wondering if you were right about Fabia not being suited to me."

"I haven't changed my opinion a bit."

"It seems to me," Dan went on, "success would be worth just twice as much to a man if he were married to somebody who could take care of it for him once he got it. And all the time he was getting it, think how wonderful it would be, if there was some one at home as keen and eager as himself, and as alive to opportunities. Agnes would be satisfied if I was just a 'fair-to-middling' doctor all my life. While Fabia—Fabia is a challenge—a dare. I'd have to succeed, and in more than just my job, too, if I married Fabia. She'd put me on my mettle, bring out the very best in me. I never realized what I'd lost till I gave her up."

He turned and looked out of the window again. He sighed deeply.

"No use crying over spilled milk, Dan," said Dr. Warburton cheerfully from behind his back. "I still think it was well spilled. She'd make trouble for you later, my boy. All you need is a little change of air and scene, and you'll think so, too."

"Have you heard anything about her lately?"

"About Fabia Vale, you mean?" Dan nodded.

"Not much. I run into her mother occasionally. Saw her at a board meeting last week. We talk you two over sometimes."

Dan turned again to the rainy window-pane. It pulled at Dr. Warburton's heart-strings to gaze upon Dan's dejected back. Why not cheer the boy up, when he could so easily?

"I had lunch with Mortimer today," he remarked. "He had some interesting news for me."

"I know what it was," Dan replied despondently. "Dawes is going to get that appointment."

"No, Dan. I wasn't going to tell you today, but you're in such a funk I think I will. You're going to get it."

Dan wheeled around sharply.

"What did you say?"

"There was a special faculty meeting called last week," Dr. Warburton went on. "Your name was officially voted upon, Dan. When your duties begin in the Medical School next fall, we'll have to look around for a second assistant to help us here, I'm afraid?"

The blood had mounted to Dan's face. His voice trembled when he spoke. "Do you mean to tell me that they took me? That it is all decided? That I'm actually in?"

"Yes, Dan. That's what I'm trying to tell you."

"I have to thank you for the appointment, Dr. Warburton. There was a pause. "Gosh!" exclaimed Dan. "How pleased Fabia would be!"

"Good Lord, can't you forget that girl for five minutes?"

"Not when a good thing like this happens. I've a good mind to think up some excuse and call her up, and drop around and see her some day."

"I wouldn't advise you to do that, Dan. Mrs. Vale told me last week that Fabia wanted to announce her engagement this spring."

"Her engagement!" ejaculated Dan. "To whom is she engaged to be married?"

"Morris Haverford. But you're not to say anything about it."

"Who is Morris Haverford?"

"Oh, Dan, who is Paul Revere?"

"How long has Fabia known him?"

"Oh, probably always. Anyway, the families have always known each other. It's a very appropriate engagement. Highly pleasing to both sides. Come, Dan, don't waste any more time or thought on Fabia Vale. You're well out of what would have been a very unfortunate situation here in Boston."

Without replying, Dan started toward the door.

"Where you bound for, my boy?"

"I have an engagement."

"I hope you can break it without much difficulty," said Dr. Warburton, observing Dan closely, "because I want you to go out to Dover as soon as possible and have a look at a possible appendix for me."

"I'm sorry, but I can't go now, Dr. Warburton. And I've no idea how long my engagement will keep me. I realize it may result in your being through with me forever. I can't do anything until after I've seen Fabia."

A moment later he had left the room, the house. Dr. Warburton saw his car disappearing up the street.

Fabia wasn't in when Dan called. When she returned, half an hour later, she saw Dan's car drawn up under the portecochere, and entered by a side door. Jennie met her in the back hall.

"It's the surgeon!" the maid announced in an excited whisper.

Jennie knew more about Dan than Lisa now. Fabia had found it easier to talk about him with some one who admired him. Jennie would have admired any one whom Fabia admired. Her early worship of Fabia had become devotion now.

"I don't think I want to see him, Jennie," said Fabia.

"You'd better. You'd always be wondering what he wanted to say. You won't be a bit happy if you don't."

"Hello, Dan," said Fabia calmly, from the threshold of the library a moment later. "Do you want to see me?"

"Yes, I do. Fabia, is it true you're engaged to be married?"

"It isn't announced yet. Mother wants me to wait until we get back from Europe before it's announced."

"When are you going to Europe?"

"We sail a week from tonight."

"Who's going?"

"Mother and June; and possibly Nichols, my cousin. Anything else you want to know?"

"Yes, there is. Is Morris Haverford going?"

"Not with us."

"Oh! He's going over later?"

"Possibly."

"Is it true you're engaged to be married to him?" asked Dan, back again at his first question.

"I think I am. I'm not positive. It's a sort of trial engagement, like a trial marriage. That's why I want it announced—to put an end to all doubt."

"Oh, how could you, Fabia?" Dan burst out, his voice, his eyes, his whole manner reproaching, rebuking. "How was it possible so soon?"

"Dan," said Fabia, "I was ready once to ignore every one's advice and trust my whole life to you. But not now. I wouldn't dare to now. I'd always be afraid you'd hurt me again, and you probably would."

"No, I wouldn't, Fabia. I didn't mean to hurt you. Do you hate me, Fabia?" he asked as he had the last time they had met.

"I guess I must."

"No, you don't."

He was standing very close to her now. Fabia had always been conscious of a sort of aura around Dan—an emanation, like the corona of an eclipse. She could never be within two feet of him but that she was aware of its effect upon her. Quickly now she stepped outside its thrall—dashed outside it rather, putting out her hand, as if to push him away, and walking out into the center of the room.

"I think you'd better be going," she said. "I must go and get ready for dinner now."

"When can I see you again?"

"There is no reason to see me again."

"We can't leave things like this."

"It's best, Dan."

"No, it isn't. You're throwing away something you want as much as I—you need as much as I. Don't do it. Don't do it!"

"Come, Dan, please go now," she insisted, and he led the way into the hall. He had to follow her. As soon as the front door had closed upon Dan, Fabia went immediately to her room.

WOMEN CLING TO CAR ON HIGH CLIFF EDGE

Hit While Sitting at Table and Carried Through Railing

Margate, Eng.—Two women clinging to the radiator of a motor car on a cliff edge, with a sheer drop of ninety feet below them.

This was a dramatic scene enacted at Kingsgate, near Margate.

Mrs. Beatrice Neal of Ealing and Mrs. Caroline Wood of Hemel Hempstead, were in the garden eating at a table and a motor car crashed into them and broke through the railing at the cliff edge. They were not badly hurt but needed hospital treatment for shock.

TORONTO LIST HOLDS STEADY

Few Issues Slip Off Below Friday Night's Close in Light Selling.

TRACTION UNCHANGED.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10.—(C.P.)—The stock market did little one way or the other on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. The price range was narrow and gains and losses were mixed on end. They were of no consequence, however.

Broadly speaking, the market opened fractionally higher. Late in the second hour there were some recessions from the opening prices with a few issues slipping below where they had left off last night.

Walkers was rather heavily sold and slipped back from its recent figure to show a small los sat 3½ where it met with some measure of support.

Oils were depressed towards the close and Imperial Oil and International Petroleum slipped slightly below previous finals. B. A. Oil was steady [illegible] 9 or better.

Brazilian Traction, Dominion Stores, closed u[illegible]hanged. Nickel came down from its best but held a small advantage .C.P.R. at 16 wa soff ¼ point Ford of Canada sold higher, being up more than ½ point at 13¼.

The turnover in the aggregate was light.

HUDSON BAY SHOWS GAIN

LAKE SHORE DIPS 40.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10.—(CP)—Pre-holiday atmosphere surrounded the Standard stock and mining exchange market in today's two-hour session, both trading rate and price action remaining dull and irregular.

Hudson Bay was the only feature, price advancing 50 to above $3 in a few late sales. International Nickel also firmed a few cents in reflection of moderate strength in New York, but Noranda was subjected to slight pressure with the close fractionally below last night.

Among the higher-priced golds, Lake Shore dipped 40 to $25.10 and McIntyre a quarter to $18.50, while Hollinger sold up 10 and Wright-Hargreaves and Teck-Hughes gained 5 apiece. Cheaper golds were mixed, Alexandria, Brett, Big Missouri, Buffalo, Moss and Sylvanite firming a cent or less and Kirkland Lake Gold, Moffatt-Hall and Hilltop slightly lower.

Total sales of 132,170 shares compared with 67,915 last Saturday.

WALL STREET HOLDS FIRM FOR WEEK-END

Principal Issues Register Gains of 1 to 4 Points at the Close.

MILLION SHARE TURNOVER

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 10. — (CP)—The stock market realated week-end profit taking and maintained a firm undertone in a placid half-day session today.

There were numerous gains of 1 to 4 points in the principal shares at the close, although a few showed losses of a point or more. The turnover was about a million shares.

Wall Street received a rather pleasant surprise when U. S. Steel announced its unfilled tonnage as of Sept. 30 at the close of the market, showing a reduction of only 24,524 tons from Aug. 31. U. S. Steel common moved narrowly and closed at 70⅝ up ⅝ of a point.

While the Steel Corporation had been working at one-third of capacity or less during the month, incoming business had been reported at such low levels that Wall Street would not have been surprised if the orders on the books had shown a substantially larger contraction.

Wall Street was somewhat less certain today that the Interstate Commerce Commission would announce its decision on the higher freight rate plea over the week-end and the rail shares moved uncertainly.

News at the end of the week was meagre, but financial markets showed no flagging of the renewed confidence which came with announcement of the formation of the huge credit pool to aid banks.

The bond market moved narrowly, but maintained a good undertone. Commodities were mostly higher, with bullishness in the Chicago wheat pit attracting wide attention.

'DEAD' CHILD REVIVED IN ENGLISH HOSPITAL

Stopped Breathing 40 Minutes Then Became Conscious and Lived 12 Hours

Portsmouth, Eng.—The case of a child collapsing under an anaesthetic administered for a minor operation and being technically dead for forty minutes before being revived to live another twelve hours was investigated. The child was Edward William Cook, aged seven, son of an able seaman of North End, Portsmouth.

It was stated that the child was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Portsmouth, for a small operation.

Dr. J. E. Myers, who conducted the operation, said he noticed that just as he had completed it the child ceased to breathe. He immediately commenced respiration and administered a restorative into the heart muscle, but without avail.

Dr. MacPherson, medical superintendent, said that he decided to open the walls of the abdomen and diaphragm and massage the heart, and after a few minutes of massage the heart began to pulsate rapidly and strongly. Respiration was resumed and the child's breathing became regular. The child recovered sufficiently to be removed from the operating theatre to a ward, where he died twelve hours afterwards.

A post mortem examination showed an enlarged thymus gland, which would help to produce heart failure under an anaesthetic, a factor contributing to the death.

The doctor said that the child was actually dead 40 minutes, and recovered sufficiently to recognize its mother.

LIVERPOOL TO BE THE CHICAGO OF BRITAIN

New Cattle and Meat Market Occupies Seventeen Acres, Cost $3,000,000

Liverpool. — This city aims to be "the Chicago of Great Britain". Her hopes in this direction lie in the vast cattle market, abattoir, and meat market just opened. It consists of a group of a dozen buildings, which have been erected about two miles from the centre of the city with an imposing frontage to Prescot Rd., the main highway out of Liverpool to the industrial north and to London. Apart from the value of the site of seventeen acres, the scheme has cost nearly £627,000. The first project proposed by the markets committee would have involved an outlay of £1,000,000, but the city council regarded this as too ambitious, and the plans were modified by the deletion of certain buildings, which, however, it is expected, will be required in the near future.

The slaughter capacity for ten hours is 1,000 cattle, 3,700 sheep, and 1,000 pigs. Under pressure it will be possible to do a great deal more than this.

With one slight exception all the material and equipment are of British manufacture. Efforts have been made, but so far without success, to provide a landing place on the Liverpool side of the Mersey for the stock from Ireland. This has been a disappointment, but the markets committee are well satisfied with the L.M.S. company's plans for the transit of stock and look for a great increase of business. It is claimed to be the largest municipal venture of this kind in the world.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

NEW YORK SECURITIES SURGE UPWARD IN WEEK'S TRADING

Hoover's Plan for Immediate Credit Relief Brightens Speculative Outlook.

NUMEROUS GAINS.

By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The road back to confidence was opened for traffic this week and the security markets celebrated with the biggest splurge in two years.

President Hoover's plan for immediate relief cut at one of the depression's most obstinate roots—frozen bank assets—and the speed with which his proposed $500,000,000 emergency corporation was formed gave assurance that the practicability of his program would be tested without delay.

Wall Street went home in fear after the close of business on Monday: stocks and bonds had dropped dizzily and there seemed to be no bottom. Banking circesl were alarmed, brokerage houses frightened. Twenty-four hours later the financial community closed its offices after the largest one-day advance the stock market had had since November 14, 1929, and in pe[illegible] of percentage gain, the largest in[illegible]ted in available records covering many years.

Corner is Turned.

While Wall Street dared to hope that the corner had been turned, it was emphasized in many quarters that the plan for relieving banks, however valuable it might prove to be as a restorative, did not constitute an immediate cure-all.

With the increase in the New York Federal Reserve bank rediscount rate to 2½ per cent, some observers see an end to the period of artificially cheap money, although none expects funds to become particularly firm. When the rise was announced it was said bankers hoped there would be no interruption in the outward flow of gold; if that movement continues the Federal Reserve would probably offset any possible effect by expanding its outstanding credit, which has already been swelled by more than $700,000,000 in less than a month.

Bankers believe the firming money rates will prove helpful. The extreme easiness of recent months proved ineffectual as an offset to extremely adverse influences in the bond market, nor did not encourage lending, it may have encouraged withdrawals of deposits. The slight trend, it is felt brings the level nearer to normal and allows the banks a fairer return without imposing any undue hardships on seekers of credit.

Donie Bush Resigns As White Sox Pilot

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—"Donie" Bush, manager of the Chicago White Sox for the last two years, to-day submitted his resignation, and it was accepted.

Except for the announcement that his resignation had been accepted, neither Bush nor Charles A. Comiskey, owner o. the Chicago American League Baseball Club, would comment. Bush came to the White Sox on a two-year contract at the end of the 1929 season, which he had spent with the Pittsburg Pirates.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICE^ HIGHER

Large Decrease in Production Predicted Through Lack of Moisture.

NEW FEATURES.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 10 (CP).—Ground-work is appare[illegible]y being laid just now for a momen[illegible]s crop scare in the United States wi[illegible]r wheat belt next spring. Compre[illegible]nsive trade reports here say delays to fall seeding over widespread areas west and southwest embrace many millions of acres already, and that unless moisture without stint is received soon, the current estimates of new domestic wheat production to be expected will have to be largely curtailed. Based on an average yield per acre, the present prospect is reported as for a total output turn not much if at all greater than actual domestic needs.

Faced by such a contingency, wheat this morning was ⅞-1¼ cents a bushel higher, with corn a shade to ⅝ up, oats ⅜-⅝ advanced, and provisions varying from 20 cents setback to 35 cents gain.

How many millions of bushels of wheat from the 1931 crop will be fed to livestock, or wasted, is yet a big question, and appears likely to remain so until the end of the season.

A notable new feature in wheat trading at present is that on price declines the execution of stop-loss orders has at times become a rarity. The deduction is drawn in various quarters that a majority of owners of wheat future delivery contracts now are in a position to take care of themselves. Another curious development in the pit has been revival of the trade maxim that wheat was better collateral than a government bond or coined gold, because one could always eat the security behind the grain loan if necessary.

One of the possibilities of a bull movement in the corn market is hope that the textile industry will commence to buy starch on a normal scale. Oats are independently firm owing to prevalent belief that at present it is more profitable to feed oats than to market them.

Provision specialists say that activity in marketing of immature hogs promises a scarcity of good heavy hogs later in the season.

Canadian Dollar 91 Cents To-day

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 10.— (By Canadian Press.)— Continuing its upward climb, the Canadian dollar to-day rose to 91 cents in United States funds on local foreign exchanges. This is the strongest point the dollar has reached since S pt. 26 when it was quoted at 91¼.

The dollar opened this morning at 90½ which was the closing figure of Friday.

To-day's high point represents a discount still of nine per cent.

FIRMER TONE AT MONTREAL

Pre-holiday Spirit Prevails During To-day's Short Session.

C.P.R. UNCHANGED.

MONTREAL Que., Oct. 10. (CP) There was little change in the price list at the close of the short Saturday session on the Montreal stock exchange to-day. The market was quiet and orderly with an underlying firmness. Trading closed at noon to-day till Tuesday morning, Monday being a holiday on the Montreal stock exchange and also on the Montreal curb market.

Brazilian closed to-day with a net gain of ¼ at 10. Nickel was also firm, advancing to 9⅜ for a gain of ⅛ over yesterdays final prices.

Manitoba Legislature Strives For Union

According to reports from Winnipeg there must be a union between the various political parties in Manitoba, or an election is inevitable. Above, left, is Premier John Bracken, who is renewing his plea for a non-party government in his province, and, right, top and bottom, are Col. P. G. Taylor, Conservative chieftan, and John Queen, Labor leader, who are discussing the matter.

WINNIPEG GRAIN IS HIGHER UNDER HEAVY EXPORT DEMAND

All Months Finish Weak With Moderate Gains Despite Hedging Pressure

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 10 (C.P.)—Responding to encouraging foreign market reports and a stronger export demand for Canadian wheat, grain prices pushed slightly forward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange during the past week. Despite heavy hedging pressure, which partly put down earlier advances, all months finished the week with moderate gains.

October scored the greatest gain, holding an improvement of 1½ cents at 54 cents, while November held 1¼ cents stronger at 54¼ cents. December gained ⅛ cents to 53⅝ and May held ⅜ higher at 57½ cents.

Reflecting the bullish sentiment on other markets, which followed receipt of reports of smaller Black Sea shipments, enthusiastic trading bolstered prices locally. Continual hedging, due to larger deliveries of wheat in the country did much to retard spasmodic advances which were partially maintained by local buying.

It was difficult to place a figure on actual export sales, but the pit trade revealed good support from houses with seaboard and foreign connections, and advices from New York and other seaboard points confirmed a much improved foreign trade with Canadian wheat figuring quite largely in the sales to Europe.

Demand for cash wheat was quite keen during the week with all grades wanted by various interests. Spreads improved materially in the higher grades with No. 1 hard closing the week with a premium of 3½ cents over October wheat, and No. 1 was quoted 2¼ cents over the current future.

A small cash trade in coarse grains was confined to small lots of low grade oats for domestic use and little barley for export. Deliveries of new crop coarse grains were small and hedging sales were consequently light.

With the exception of flax seed, all prices were fractionally higher for the week.

J. J. MURRAY, C.L.U., who has been appointed Superintendent of Agencies for the Dominion Life Assurance Company. Mr. Murray was for several years manager of the company's St. John, N. B., branch; and during the past year achieved great success as head office Supervisor of Training.

INSURANCE HEAD HAS FINE CAREER

John J. Murray Recently Appointed Dominion Life's Superintendent of Agencies.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—John J. Murray, the Dominion Life's recently appointed Superintendent of Agencies, has had an eventful career in the life insurance business. It began on his return from overseas in 1919, when he started as an agent for the Dominion Life in Pictou County, Nova Scotia. During his first four months on the territory, he produced $72 000 of business, a large total for a new man.

In order still further to develop his selling ability, and to increase his knowledge of the theories of life insurance, Mr. Murray then left his field work for a two months' course in life insurance salesmanship at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, at that time conducted by John A. Stevenson. Within a year of the completion of this course, he was appointed Acting Manager of the company's St. John, N.B., branch, and after eight months became Manager. During the seven years which followed, he proved his worth as a producer and organizer, and brought some very successful agents into the Dominion Life field organization. He has always been vitally interested in educational matters. He was one of the first Canadians to obtain the Chartered Life Underwriter degree by examination, and has always been an active worker in the Life Underwriters Association.

MILLION-POUND LOAN FOR DUBLIN HOUSES

Corporation Aims to Build at Rate of 2,000 a Year

Dublin.—At a conference of the Association of Municipal Authorities of Ireland in the Mansion House here, the lord mayor stated that negotiations were taking place with the banks as a result of which the corporation hoped shortly to be in possession of £1,000,000 which would be expended on housing in the city.

The corporation, he said, had completed 2,000 houses in twelve months. They had 1,400 others in the hands of the builders, and had set their minds on building 2,000 houses a year.

RURAL HOMES FOR WORKMEN

ITHACA, N.Y., Oct. 9.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt wants to attempt a state experiment which he believes will aid the farmers while alleviating economic distress among city employes. He wants to provide cheaper rural homes for city wage earners, the state financing the project. He has named a commission which is to consider state financing of the project, as well as co-operation betwen public and private capital.

He wants quick action, the commission being ordered to report by December 1, so plans for legislation may be whipped into shape for presentation to the 1932 legislature. Mr. Roosevelt believes that modern transportation will permit the factory workers to live in rural communities where food will be cheaper, and he believes also that development of electric power resources point the way to location of factories away from crowded cities, permitting workers to live among cheaper rural surroundings, at the same time providing the farmer with easily accessible markets.

IRISHMAN CATCHES SHARK

While line-fishing, Mr. R. Ryder, Wicklow, hooked a shark. He succeeded in getting it into a position from which the occupants of the boat killed it with gaffs. The shark measured five feet in length.

STRANRAER ELECTRIFIED

The inauguration of electricity in Stranraer, Scotland, was celebrated at a civic function. The provost expressed the hope that it would lead to a new era in the prosperity of the burgh and turned on the light.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

THANKSGIVING FINDS MARKETS REGAINING MUCH LOST GROUND

Even Failure of Montreal Brokerage Houses Fails to Cause Panic.

HOOVER'S STATEMENT.

By A. D. O'Halloran. Special to The Examiner. Copyright 1931.

TORONTO, Oct. 10 (SNS). — Thanksgiving Day comes around this year to find traders on the Canadian Stock Exchanges in a much better frame of mind than was to be expected at the beginning of the week. The Dominion market this week had its first major development in the way of adverse news to contend with for months and as a favorable influence had the announcement of President Hoover of the formation of a credit institution to relieve United States banks, liquify frozen assets and provide extended credit for business. The obstacle of the brokerage failures was passed over in favor of the better news and the market made substantial progress in recovering from the extreme low level of the opening session of this week.

At any other time failures such as those experienced among prominent brokers on the Montreal Stock Exchange would have started a near panic and heavy liquidation of securities. On this occasion the bad news was hardly out before the good began to work its influence and the net result was the most spirited advance in some little time. The expected liquidation, as the result of the failures, failed to materialize and instead of securities being pushed for sale buying power developed in sufficient quantity to push prices higher and practically maintain the new level to the close. Of course, pegged prices helped, but the free issues left no doubt that the lines of least resistance were on the side of the advance and not the side of the decline.

Trouble of the Montreal brokers can be traced to the banking position in the United States, that which President Hoover moved to correct this week. Withdrawal of deposits and hoarding of currency forced the banks across the board to place their assets in a liquid position. To meet his demand it was necessary to call loans and sell securities. Some time ago a representative of New England bankers visited Canada and offered call loan with Canadian securities at, as collateral, a lower rate of interest than that demanded by Canadian institutions. A few Montreal firms took advantage of his cheap money and the loans were called by the American bankers at this time when the Canadian dollar was at a discount and most securities pegged on the local exchanges since September 19. The discount at which Canadian funds are quoted was a heavy penalty for such brokers and the situation aggravated on account of the pegged prices, making it next to impossible to liquidate large block of securities on the Canadian exchanges.

All this trouble centred in Montreal, however. Toronto brokers were approached by the United States banks but loans of this type in Toronto are negligible and not a factor in the situation. Prominent Canadian bankers such as Beaudry Leman, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal, and C. E. Neill, vice-president and managing director of the Royal Bank of Canada, all came out with reassuring statements to the effect that Canadian banks were in a sound liquid position and that call loans with Canadian banks are at a minimum and well secured by first class collateral.

CYCLIST KILLED CRASHED IN FOG

C.N.R. Messenger Boy's Companion May Die—Hit Wagon.

MIDNIGHT TRAGEDY.

LONDON, Ont., Oct 10. (CP)—A light motorcycle carried one telegraph boy to his death on the highway near here early this morning and left a second youth in Victoria Hospital with but slim chance for recovery. The dead messenger, Jack MacKenzie, aged 19, of 44 Carfrae Crescent, was riding on the back of the machine when it struck a milk wagon. The driver, Vincent Smee, also 18, of 590 York street, received serious head injuries. His condition is considered extremely critical.

Both boys were employed by the Canadian National Telegraph Company and were out for a ride after their nights work ended at one o'clock this morning. Disaster overtook them as they were travelling up the Winery Hill, between the city limits and Glendale, on No. 2 highway.

Road Wrapped in Fog

It was quite foggy at the time and it is believed that Smee failed to see the rear of the milk wagon ahead.

The light cycle crashed into the rig and, rebounding, went many yards over into the ditch. Both youths were thrown off. Mackenzie was almost instantly killed as his head struck the concrete pavement and young Smee, apparently hanging grimly to the handlebars, was carried along with his machine as it wobbled crazily ditchward.

The cycle was found, a battered wreck, at the side of the road and nearby Smee was picked up in an unconscious condition.

National and Provincial Parks in Canada, covering nearly 25,000 square miles, are areas withdrawn from exploitation and preserved in their virgin beauty and wilderness for purposes of pleasure and recreation.

VISIT TO SILVER GREY FOX FARM PROVES AN INTERESTING EVENT

Springbrook Pens Hold 109 Members of Reynard Family.

COMPLICATED DIET.

MARMORA, Oct. 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—About one and a half miles west of Springbrook on the Campbellford road, is the silver grey fox farm which is named after the village and is the largest of several such farms in the vicinity. It is almost four years since Dr. Owens of Springfield, Ill., a former resident of the district, decided on enclosing 2 acres for the purpose of raising these animals. A two-storey wooden structure which serves as the larder for these most interesting members of the Reynard family is all that can be seen of this establishment from the highway. The farm is now under the management of Mr. K. A. Copp, who has been connected with the industry for the past twelve years, the major portion of which time he has spent in his native New Brunswick.

Dogs on Guard

After wending one's way on a winding track which passes through two field to the rear of the Copp residence, the enclosure is at length reached, and barking which has been heard from the time the visitor has entered the first field is found to have come from three dogs who are stationed just within the enclosure door. There is a chained police dog of none-too-friendly a sort, a somewhat handsome collie dog, and "Jiggs" a friend Boston bull.

Not allowed their favorite dish—luscious chicken, but given instead vegetables, tripe, milk, bonemeal, yeast, fish meal, rabbit and H.P. powder, 109 foxes thrive and play a sort of hide and seek in the various pens of the two long runs within the enclosure. Fifty-four of these are this year's pups which are waiting for the annual visit of the inspector to decide their ultimate fate. With their fur having a decreased value to-day, the future of the fox industry with its costly upkeep, becomes uncertain as viewed locally.

W. V. DREWRY RE-ELECTED HEAD

the coming year would be more and better meetings at the factories. He expressed pleasure at the success that had attended these meetings during the past year saying that they had been far beyond his expectations. The Cheesemakers' Association, he said, had started a movement for the co-operation of the makers and patrons and had donem uch to accomplish this end. As for the association Mr. Drewry declared that it needed at the present time all thep ush that could be put into pointing out that if all the members got behind it and the industry there would be no doubt of its accomplishments in the future and asked for the support and co-operation of every maker during the coming year.

Mr. Irwin in a brief address to the meeting voiced his pleasure at the success of the association, especially during thel atter portion of the year when he stated that there had been far more enthusiasm over the meetings, which had been of a very high standard, than earlier in the season.

The factory meetings in particular had been more than a success all through Central Ontario and had made the farmers look to the association for direction in connection with their work. He thought that one of the things that should be undertaken was the linking up with the Cheesemakers' Association of one patron from each factory, to be elected by the factory, as a member so that through that patron the farmer would be more closely in touch with the makers. This, he thought, would be the first step in getting the farmers organized, a very necessary action at the present time.

Rancid Flavors

Speaking of rancid flavors Mr. Irwin stressed the necessity of steaming cans, giving instances where factories had entirely eliminated their trouble by this measure. The installation for this was very cheap, he said, and felt that if this habit was established it would eliminate 90 per cent of undergrade cheese. The quality of cheese this week was much better, he stated, but urged the makers to watch the moisture in the cheese and to see that the proper warmth was maintained in their rooms.

The speaker also stressed the importance of attendance at the fourth annual convention to be held at Belleville at which one of the speakers was to be the Rev. Mr. Johnstone of Eggleton.

As for the Herd Competition, he was sorry to say that this year it had not come up to expectations, giving it as his opinion that it would have to be dropped in the future. Some districts with small entries, he said, would have to be wiped out altogether.

J. A. Murray, district instructor, also spoke in high terms of the meetings held this year, especially those staged at the factories. These he said had had a good effect on the patrons and would help to build up the industry in the future. Touching briefly on the hiring situation this year, which he called a serious problem for the makers owing to the cheese situation generally. He thought that it would be a bad thing to put up tenders. It had been suggested, he said, that the makers wait until spring to see if the price of cheese advanced or remained. He still believed that cheese was the best game in the bunch for the farmers, he said. He was also of the opinion that the sterilization of cans by steaming would eliminate lower grade cheese.

Find Canadian Indian Slain In U.S. Waters

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 10.—(CP)—Owing to the fact New York State troopers have secured proof that Angus Thompson met his death in the United States section of the St. Lawrence River, further investigation into the death of the Canadian Indian will be carried out by U. S. authorities. Five Indians of the St. Regis reservation are being held in jail in Malone, N. Y., in connection with the case, pending arrival of a Federal District Attorney to take over the investigation.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Ontario Provincial Police, who have been cooperating with United States officials in probing claims that Thompson was slain during a quarrel in a row boat on the St. Lawrence on the night of September 23, returned to Cornwall yesterday.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Conditions on the local butter market this week differed very little from those prevailing last week. Trade was slow and prices were about steady, brokers asking 20½c for the choicest lots and trading generally on a basis of 20c to 20¼c for No. 1, solids and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2. There were reports of movements to the United States, due to the exchange rates in effect which offered Canadian shippers an opportunity of "hurdling" the tariff barrier. Supplies sent to markets over the line were of the very finest quality as a high per cent. butterfat test is required.

Cream

Cream prices were steady with the new ranges of last week at 20c to 21c for special, 19c to 20c for No. 1, and 16c to 17c for No. 2 f.o.b. country points. There was a feeling that quotations would be lower in the near future unless butter showed more strength.

Cheese

Prices for new cheese gained ½c at the end of the week. Brokers were quoting new large at 12c, twins at 12¼c and triplets at 12½c. Retailers were offered new large at 13c, new twins at 13¼c and new triplets at 13½c.

Eggs

Egg prices gained 5c per dozen this week for extras and about 3c to 4c per dozen on firsts, with seconds up 1c. Supplies were very light and the demand exceptionally good, which resulted in daily increases in price levels quoted to country shippers for fresh lots. For ungraded eggs, delivered, cases returned, shippers were quoted 33c for extras, 28c for firsts, and 15c to 16c for seconds. Retails had to pay 40c for extras in cartons, 38c for extras loose, 33c for firsts loose and 19c to 20c for seconds loose. Brokers were selling graded eggs in used cases at 36c to 37c for extras, 31c to 32c for firsts and 18c to 19c for seconds.

Firmer Tone

With the season of scarce fresh supplies approaching egg markets are assuming a steadily firmer tone and price advances on the higher grades have been quite common during the past week.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Heavy selling, largely ascribed to efforts to realize profits for recent speculative buyers, led to material setbacks in grain prices late yesterday. Irregularity of the stock market contributed to the pressure on grains, which were also bearishly affected by reports of big new sales of Russian wheat to Great Britain today. In explanation of the increased selling here to realize profits, it was pointed out that wheat had made almost 5 cents a bushel advance this week.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼c to ⅝c lower; corn, ¼c to 1c down; oats, ¼c to ⅜c off; and provisions, unchanged to a rise of 10c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 10. — A better tone to the securities markets gave an upward swing to wheat prices here yesterday. Values at the close were ⅜c to ½c higher than Thursday's close.

October closd at 54c, up ⅜c; November at 53⅝c was up ⅜c to ⅝c; December was ⅝c higher at 53¾c; while May ended at 57½c, up ½c.

A marked improvement in export demand for both Canadian and United States wheat injected bullish enthusiasm into trading and at one time advances of 1¼c dominated the market. Hedging sales, however, increased proportionately and retarded the improvement in prices.

COMMISSION IN NORTH BUSH FOR TWO CHURCH MINISTERS

Emergency Measure Taken to Cope With Northward Trek in Saskatchewan.

DISTRESS EXPECTED.

TORONTO, October 10. (Special) —The United Church has laid its hand on two young ministers to go into the Saskatchewan bush country with farmers who, it is learned, have been trekking north from the dried-out areas of southern Saskatchewan. Rev. John L. Nicol of Saskatoon, home missions superintendent, has been importuning the home mission offices at Toronto for months in behalf of these new settlements, and will be relied on to assign the fields. He wanted four men. After prolonged discussion and conference it was decided to send two unmarried ordained men at once, in the hope that some eastern Church or Presbytery would provide funds to make it possible to continue them there next year.

"Dr. Nicol has made out a good case for sending four men, but even the two are an absolute necessity," said Rev. R. B. Cochrane, D.D., the Home Missions Secretary, announcing the decision.

Rev. W. J. Graham, of Kelvington and Rev. A. R. Taylor of Meota, are the men chosen. They are ordained unmarried ministers, well settled in charges farther south.

"I told them they would have no settled abode," writes Dr. Nicol, "that they would have to leave their cars behind, clothe themselves in sheepskins, ride horseback, visit homes that are comfortless and be a general servant of the people in their perplexity and want."

Some Newcomers Desperate.

Dr. Nicol tells of newcomers to the unorganized territory in northern Saskatchewan, who are as desperate as was Jean Valjean, when he broke the baker's window to get bread for his children. There are 8,000 people newly arrived in one area of 4500 square miles beyond North Battleford.

The missionaries will have to discover the people in their new shacks hidden in the bush and do considerable relief work amongst them. Six college students were working as missionaries all summer in the general area to which the new appointees are to go, beyond Prince Albert and North Battleford.

"We will have to send them bales of clothing for relief and, unless Government aid reaches the people quickly, there will have to be a little money to meet cases of hardship," said Dr. Cochrane. "Our primary aim is to have the Bread of Life broken for the people, but we cannot see them starve."

Dr. Oliver and Dr. Cochrane saw the trekkers going north when they visited northern Saskatchewan in July and have been issuing warnings ever since that northern Saskatchewan must not be neglected, while the south is being clothed and fed.

So far the appointment of the two extra men is unofficial, as was the Moderator's challenge extraordinary and the appointment of the National Emergency Relief Committee, until these actions were ratified by an official body.

Rev. John Coburn, organizer of the National Emergency Relief Committee of the United Church, has already sent special bundles of clothing direct to five northern Saskatchewan missionaries, without waiting for any instructions from the Regina headquarters of the provincial relief commission.

Men are Ready to Go.

Rev. Angus R. Taylor, B.A., was called to Meota, Saskatchewan, last year and has made good progress there. In reply to Dr. Nicol's request that he consider leaving for the new frontier, he wrote:

"You can count on me for work in the north. I am prepared to go if it is the will of the Church. I know that you will make provision for the work there."

"With deep appreciation of the confidence you have placed in me for this great work."

After taking a day to consider Rev. W. J. Graham, B.A., of Kelvington, telephoned that he would go, "if the Church wants me."

Dr. Nicol informs the Toronto office that he has arranged with both men to go. In fact he had done so before presenting their offer to the Home Missions secretary, so anxious was he concerning the conditions which he studied a fortnight ago in the north.

Exploring part of the trail taken by Big Bear as he fled from General Middleton's forces in the Northwest Rebellion of 1885, Dr. Nicol found a railway under construction beyond St. Walburg, in the North Battleford hinterland. Returning south he struck northward again to Meadow Lake. In both areas he heard of an inrush of homesteaders and squatters far beyond the reach of clergy or municipal officers.

From what he saw Dr. Nicol is convinced that there will be extreme hardship in hundreds of cases.

Tenderfeet near Lake Makwa.

"The trek is still going on," he reports. "There is a colony of city unemployed which has settled near Lake Makwa. These are largely from Saskatoon. A similar colony north of Lake Makwa is made up of Moose Jaw unemployed. These colonies are special wards of the Government and have been promised food and groceries for the winter.

"All others," he adds, "are there at their own responsibility. Many have but scant clothes now, and many have as yet no place in which to live for the winter.

"While I was in the National Resource office a man came in pleading for food. He said they had nothing in the house and his wife was sick. After he went away Major Proctor remarked, 'And it is only September yet!' That sentence is very significant."

Murder Will Out

Justice was a long time getting into action, but when Philip Knapp (above), finally was caught and sentenced, after being sought for the murder of a taxicab driver on Long Island, he received 20 years in Sing Sing Prison for second degree murder. Knapp is a scion of a Syracuse family.

KIWANIANS PLAN TO ASSIST NEEDY

Lindsay Club Calls on All Service Bodies to Aid—Municipal Wood Yard Suggested.

LINDSAY, Oct. 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Faced with the possibility of a fall and winter of privation and want for a great number of the local unemployed, the Kiwanis Club is going to ask the co-operation of the other service clubs in launching a campaign in aid of the need. The matter was introduced at a meeting of the Kiwanis on Thursday. It was felt that the town council had not asked the government for sufficient money for unemployment relief work. It was also pointed out that at present only married men were being employed, and nothing done for the hundreds of single men who were out of work.

Mr. T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., thought it would be a good idea to establish a municipal wood yard, buying the wood from the farmers in Haliburton, who needed an outlet for thousands of cords. Trucks from Lindsay could haul the fuel, and some of the unemployed could be hired to cut it. The farmers could now be helped out by buying their vegetables and storing them some place for winter use. They could be secured from the farmers of the district for the asking. Mr. Stinson pointed out that Peterborough's grant from the government was $100,000. Lindsay, he claimed, should at least require $50,000 as a matter of proportion.

A committee was appointed to launch the project.

YOUNG YORKSHIREMEN HAVE A SUICIDE CLUB

Bored With Life and Kil Themselves or Take Unnecessary Risks

A correspondent of a Yorkshire paper says:

I have just talked with a young Yorkshireman who told me quite cheerfully that five of his friends had either committed suicide or had caused their deaths by taking unnecessary risks within seven weeks.

He discussed this "Suicide Club" laconically. His friends had done this because they were bored with life.

Some of them were university students. He mentioned their names. One gassed himself on the eve of his return north; another had been killed when his car crashed; two had been drowned (one near Cayton Bay); and the fifth had committed suicide.

LAWRANCE D'ORSAY WAS 78 YEARS OLD

Famous for Playing Roles of English Lords

London.—Lawrence D'Orsay, the actor, who died at his home in Rathbone Pl., Oxford St. W., played more dukes, lords, captains and people of that sort than any other actor on the stage.

He went to New York in 1900, and was not seen again on the English stage until he appeared in the part of a knight at the Wimbledon theatre in 1929. Last year he played the duke to Paul Robeson's Othello at the Savoy.

Mr. D'Orsay, who was 78, was born in Northamptonshire. His real name was Dorset William Lawrence.

His recollections of stage people were arranged by him in a book entitled "Fifty Years on the Stage," and he recorded a number of his stories for the gramophone.

Stays At Home

The Duke of Connaught, uncle of His Majesty King George and former Governor-General of Canada, has decided not to spend the coming winter abroad as in former years, although he has passed the eighties, so that he can help in the Motherland's troubles and be an example to the thousands who desert England in the winter for warmer climes.

Britain's Ex-Champ Now a Barber

Phil Scott, the so-called heavyweight championship contender, who has star-gazed from more rings than any other boxer, was definitely and finally knocked into retirement by Larry Gains, the Canadian champion. Although his British supporters admit that he is no longer a champion or even a contender for a championship, they admit that he is a first-class barber. Here he is in his barber shop at Thornton Heath, England, where he is said to regale his customers with tales of how he almost whipped everybody.

RICH WOMAN'S BODY IN BLAZING HOUSE

Mysterious Telephone Call Is Being Investigated

Glasgow, Scotland.—Search is being made for a mystery woman, whom the police wish to interview following the death of Miss Alice McSally, a wealthy recluse of 60, whose body was found in a blazing house at Rothesay.

The house is one of two villas Miss McSally owned along with her permanent residence in Sauchiehall St., Glasgow.

The body was untouched by the flames, and it was supposed that the woman either died of shock or suffocation.

Neighbors say that a strange woman was seen leaving the villa and a mystery telephone call is also said to have been made by a woman to a neighboring house asking for particulars of the fire.

PLOWMEN SURVEY MATCH PLANS STAGE ALL SET FOR NEXT WEEK

J. Lockie Wilson, Provincial Managing Director, Highly Satisfied.

THE FINAL MEETING.

The final meeting of the local committee of the Ontario Plowmen's Association was held last evening under the chairmanship if J. J. Duffus, when without exception, favorable reports were received from all sub-committees.

J. Lockie Wilson of Toronto, managing director of the Association, expressed both pleasure and surprise at the way in which arrangements for the mammoth event that opens here on Tuesday morning have gone ahead so smoothly and expeditiously, and was quite optimistic as to the final outcome.

Included among the large number of executives and committeemen present at the meeting were Louis H. Winslow of Ida, past president; A. E. Wilson, director and member of the local committee; Clark Young, treasurer; James McLean of Richmond Hill and Alderman Melville Turner.

Plans For Banquet.

The latter who is chairman of the Reception Committee of the City Council outlined plans that are being undertaken for the Plowmen's Banquet—one of the largest ever staged in this city, that is to be held in the market hall on Friday evening next as the grand finale to The International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration. Seating accommodation is being planned for between 600 and 700 people, while the hall is to be equipped with amplifiers to facilitate the hearing of speeches. The probability of the city providing visiting ploughmen with some form of souvenir of their visit to Peterborough was also suggested. An orchestra and vocalists are being engaged to provide entertainment during the progress of the banquet.

As an added attraction at the match itself the committee are endeavouring to obtain a yoke of oxen to draw a wooden beam plow—a feature that will be strongly reminiscent of pioneer days.

All during this week Mr. McLean along with J. B. Nelson and Mr. Duffus have been throughout the district coaching young plowmen in readiness for competitive work next week, and for the purpose of selecting three boys to represent the county for the Provincial Inter-County Championships which will be plowed on Friday next. The boys have been selected.

At the close of the meeting, which like all former meetings in connection with the big event has been marked with a singleness of purpose, Mr. Duffus thanked the members of the various committees for the wholehearted support which had been given by each individual concerned, either at the meetings or at the scene of operations itself. He remarked that since the first meting of the local committee was held in November last every suggestion that had been put forward in the interests of the Association and the match had carried unanimously. There had never been a dissenting voice. He also paid tribute to the work that had been performed by their energetic secretary, J. B. Nelson, local agricultural representative.

Meeting This Morning.

Probably the energetic officers and directors of the Ontario Plowmen's Association established a new record today in so far as the time for meetings is concerned. At any rate it is a fact that there was a meeting held this morning at 8.30 at which J. Lockie Wilson, managing director of the Association; J. J. Duffus, chairman of the local committee, and others were present.

CAMPBELLFORD LEGION BRANCH LAYS REMEMBRANCE DAY PLANS

Special Service to be Held With Parade and Laying of Wreath Later.

HONOR FALLEN COMRADES.

CAMPBELFORD, Oct. 10.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—This year, as the result of many years' work on the part of the Canadian Legion Armistice Day will be observed on November 11th under the title of Remembrance Day and it becomes emphatically necessary that members of the Legion do their part to see that this day is observed according to the principles that the League has advanced for so long. For years past the Legion has fought for the proper observance of Armistice Day and it will be remembered that it was the opinion of the organization that the holding of Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day together tendered to lessen the observance of Armistice Day and the proper honor was not paid to those of our comrades who paid the supreme sacrifice.

While the two-minute silence has always been observed it has in the past been the custom to hold a memorial service on the Sunday nearest the holiday. As this year November 11 is a holiday it is felt by the Provincial Command of the Legion that a service should be held on the morning of this day with which should be incorporated the two-minute silence.

It is therefore advocated this year that each branch have a committee to meet with the local ministers in a spirit of co-operation, the service itself being in their hands. It is also thought that all military units and civic authorities should participate as well as boy scouts, girl guides, lodges and all units that have patriotic ideals. A parade is also suggested and at the conclusion of the service the laying of a wreath on the War Memorial. All people should wear poppies, which will be sold under the auspices of the local branch of the Legion and all ex-service men are urged to wear medals and decorations.

Zone 14A in which Campbellford is located will fall in line with this plan, their representative, N. Alex MacColl, being expected to call meetings in the main centres in the near future to arrange for the sale of poppies and the service organization. All branches are getting lined up to observe Armistice Day in a proper way and to make it the big Memorial Day of the year.

See Early Election For New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Oct. 10.—(CP Cable via Reuters).—New Zealand has been strongly influenced by the dissolution of the British Parliament and the forthcoming election and there is said to be a growing feeling in cabinet circles that an early general election is desirable here. As in Great Britain, a National Government representative of both the former Government and opposition parties was formed here recently to deal with the economic and financial emergency.

HASTINGS COUNTY TO SPEND $10,000

Work on Belleville to Bancroft Highway Will Run Well Into Winter.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 10.— Ten thousand dollar relief program has been undertaken by Hastings County Council on the county highway from Belleville-to-Bancroft, starting at the Hole-in-the-Wall hill and proceeding northward.

In fact Hole-in-the-Wall will not exist for travel soon as the plans are to skirt the side of this hill. Excavating is proceeding here. Other hills to be cut down are Hall's Hill and the McCabe Hill, near Bancroft. Owners of land about the Hole-in-the-Wall hill have given gratis title to land to permit the changing of the road.

Hastings does not secure any extra grant for this work, securing only the usual fifty per cent. grant the government provides on such roads.

This work of winter construction is not new, for Hastings County tried it out on a small scale last winter in getting out rock for summer road work. While a little more costly, the winter operations will undoubtedly relieve the unemployment conditions in the county.

The coming winter's plans will be mainly carried on up to the Christmas holidays or the end of the year, though they may be carried on longer. Road Superintendent Simeon Fox stated to a reporter that the work at Hole-in-the-Wall hill was proceeding rapidly and that when the unemployment relief job is in full swing about forty men will be given employment.

Indians travelling from the west to trade at Hudson aBy reported the existence of te tar sands now worked at MacMurray, Alberta, more than 200 years ago.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains ..... sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass
No envy sour the mind
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

[illegible] was the topic discussed at a recent Institute gathering the older members being responsible for furnishing the information, gained through years of experience and 'tried and tested' as the president gave assurance.

To prevent flour from lumping was explained by one motherly-looking woman, who told of mixing the tablespoon of flour, added to a fruit pie to keep the juice from boiling over, with an equal amount of sugar before adding to the fruit filling. "The same is true of cornstarch," added the speaker, "in making either desserts, or gravies."

"When using sour milk recipes," said another homemaker, "try using one-fourth spoonful of soda and one spoonful of baking-powder, instead of each spoonful of soda asked for. You will be delighted with the result; the food will be lighter, and there will be no taste of soda."

A good use for mosquito netting was advanced when the giver of the knowledge told of tying greens or cabbage in a square of the netting, when cooking a boiled dinner, and then putting in the kettle to boil. "When ready to take out, raise with a fork and hang on the faucet to drain while the rest of the dinner is dished. You will also find other uses for these squares such as draining cottage cheese, squash, pumpkin, and the like."

A "short cut in cooking" came from an experienced mother, who said much work could be avoided if, when flouring chops, steak, chicken, or anything to be rolled in cracker-crumbs of corn-meal, one would use a small paper bag to hold the flour, etc., instead of putting it on a plate. "This is a clean method, takes less time, and save any mussy dishes to wash. Just drop one or two pieces into the sack, hold tightly, turn upside down quickly once or twice, remove and drop into the hot fat. Doughnuts may be nicely sugared the same way."

Ostrich feathers coming back recently into favor, the idea of cleaning many that have been put away for years, and will likely now come out for wear, made the information given quite popular, the giver assuring the hearers that after cleaning in gasoline "they may be used at once." "To a quart of gasoline add about five drops of oil of sassafras; dip the feathers in this solution and rub briskly; then shake out the plumes until dry. It is supremely important that this should be done in open air, quite away from any fire. The brisk shaking does away with any disagreeable odor."

"Just before frying eggs I add a generous pinch of flour to the grease and stir; this prevents the usual sputtering of the dripping as the flour absorbs the moisture."

And as a last item the president herself gave this advice: "When I am frying pancakes, to avoid the usual smoke and make less work, I put one rounded tablespoon of lard in my pancake batter; this does away with any need of greasing the pan, the cakes will not stick, and they come out a nice brown, with no smoke filling my kitchen."

WARSAW

There has in some cases been some discussion about the summer delegates. Some reason the money could be better spent, others that they are absolutely necessary. Both statements have much truth, and neither is wholly correct.

The salaries are not nearly so high as many suppose, and if expenses run too high they are questioned. Reasons for doing something in a more expensive way than expected must be given. I had to explain why I took a dollar taxi to the station instead of a street car. The reason simply was that the car stalled, and after waiting for a few minutes, and seeing the conductor settle himself and some others get out of the car, I asked the reason, and learned me might be a long time as there was a fire. There was no other way of reaching the station except a taxi, and I took the dollar one.

Left to ourselves we often get into a rut, we do in our homes, in our church and in our Institute. If the lecture can rouse interest enough to put the branch, or branches which she addresses on some new line give more zest, and interest in the work, broaden the view of the branch so that the members of the branch are better women, and therefore the branch will do better work she is worthwhile to the branch.

It often happens that a really splendid address has been given, the members enjoyed it, and talk about it, but if they do not singly and collectively act upon it, it is true the expense was not worth while.

If on the other hand, it has been more than enjoyed, it has caused thought, awakening and action, then the expense is fully warranted. As a rule it would seem, the result depends partly on the members of the branch, and partly on the lecturer.

Where there are branches fairly close, and several can unite for these and other special meetings, it lessens expense and really does better work. It is more interesting to speak to seventy-five or one hundred, than to twenty-five or thirty.

Then there is another side, a delegate is in a position to bring back to the home branches helpful ideas.

When all is said and done, we individually and collectively must choose our own way for—

"To every man their openeth
A way and ways and a way,
And the high soul climbs the high way,
And the low soul gropes the low,
And in betweeh, on the mistly flats
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man theres openeth,
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth
The wa his soul shall go."

The Leaflet Series.

Rickets; prevention and cure.

Maternal care.

These leaflets are so helpful and practical, so adapted to the needs of the many, and can be had for the asking, that no person should be without the ones particularly adapted to her circumstances.

They contain many ideas of the proper way of doing things, in maintaining the health and consequently the happiness of the whole family.

Our motto, "For Home and Country," embraces both of these phases of work. This motto furnishes the inspiration under which we work and which have brought such remarkable results.

Premier Baldwin of England said: "The greatest contribution Canada has made to the British Empire is the Women's Institute."

We know the position our Institutes hold in the world and it is largely due to our association with the government, with its helpful literature, demonstration courses, and etc., and to the worthy aims and objects which were laid down for us in the beginning. If we wish them to live up to the ideals embodied in that motto, the ideal of service, let us keep it ever before us. It was for that we were organied, and it is for that we wish to carry on. "For it is not what we get, but what we give; not how we pray, but as we live; there are the things that make for peace, both now and ever after."

Hindu women of India are adopting expensive western evening dresses.

Three Graceful Interpretations Of Evening Mode

(1) Rich, dark rose velvet and silvery blue metallic cloth make this pyjama ensemble suitable for formal evening wear. Cut on slim diagonal lines, with flow flared fulness, it is exceedingly becoming as well as useful. (2) Flesh pink crepe romain, embroidered with strass, and a long wrap of the same material accented with gray fox fur, fashion this formal evening ensemble and make it one of rich loveliness for the young maid or matron. (3) The evening wardrobe is never complete without a black face dress. Lace and chiffon is particularly attractive when worn with cape of lace, caught at the shoulder with a cluster of gardenias.

Workman Hit By Car Comes Near To Death

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9 (C.P.)—Dragged fifty feet by an auto that crashed into him while he was at work, grinding tramway tracks on Yonge Street early this morning, William Browning rolled when he hit the pavement again and managed to save himself from serious injuries. Taken to the General Hospital, he was found to be suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg and minor cuts and bruises on the body.

Joseph C. Webster, driver of the car, has been arrested on a criminal negligence charge.

Bureau Loses Appeal, Will Hang On Nov. 20

QUEBEC, Que., October 9 (C.P.).—Alphonse Bureau, of this city, today lost his appeal from the death sentence imposed on him for the murder of Yvonne Poulin, and will be hanged at the Quebec Jail on November 20, next. The body of Yvonne Poulin was found weighted down in Lac Des Aulnaies, near St. Raymond, Portneuf County, in September, 1930, and Bureau was arrested in this city eight days later.

MacDonald Opens Campaign Monday

LONDON, Oct. 10—(AP)—Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald will make a flying start to open his campaign for re-election Monday, using an airplane for the journey to Seaham Harbor if weather permits.

He went to his country home at Chequers yesterday for a week end of rest after taking part in a family birthday breakfast at No. 10 Downing Street. He will be 65 years old Monday.

His daughter Ishbel has gone to Seaham Harbor to organize the campaign among the women. Many letters are being received from Sesham laborites supporting his candidacy but the official party control the organization and he may encounter difficulties even in hiring halls.

Canada's total wool clip is about 21,000,000 pounds annually, while Canadian mills use at least twice as much as this every year and Canadian consumption of manufactured woollens equals about four times the clip.

KEEPS little AILMENTS from growing into BIG ONES!

It may be just a coated tongue tonight . . . with dull eyes, bad color and breath. But by these symptoms Nature is telling you that you may have a sick child tomorrow.

Help tonight is simple. Tomorrow it may be harder. A single simple dose of Castoria is usually all that's needed to bring relief; it often keeps a serious illness from developing.

Castoria, you know, is the children's own remedy—made specially to give the gentle help their delicate organs must have. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

In any starting illness such as a cold, a little fever, a food upset, a first-aid dose of Castoria is always a wise precaution.

It's never hard to get children to take Castoria. They love its taste, and are grateful for the relief it always brings to tied-up systems.

For babies or for older children, depend on Castoria's gentle regulation. It has kept many a little ailment from growing into a serious one! Genuine Castoria always has the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

BRITAIN'S WOMEN AS CANDIDATE WORKERS, VOTERS PLAY BIG ROLE

All Members of Last Parliament Except Lady Mosley Seek Re-election.

Girls Take More Interest.

LONDON, Oct. 10 (C.P. Cable)—Great Britain's women, as candidates, campaign workers and voters, will play a decisive role in the coming general election to determine the life of the National Government.

All the women members of the last parliament excepting Lady Cynthia Mosley are seeking re-election. These include three peeresses—Viscountess Astor, the Duchess of Athol and Countess Iveagh, all Conservatives. Lady Noel Buxton, returned in a by-election early this year, is also seeking re-election.

New Candidates

Among the new women candidates are Mrs. Ronald Copeland, who hopes to gain Lady Cynthia Mosley's old seat, Stoke, Stoke-on-Trent. Lady Cynthia was elected there as Labor candidate in 1929, with a majority of 7,850 over a Liberal opponent. Mrs. Copeland is a supporter of the National Government and has been prominently identified with Staffordshire's social and political life for a considerable time.

Hon. Mary Pickford, Conservative candidate in Farnworth, Lancaster, in the last elections, will appear in North Hammersmith this time. She is a daughter of the late eminent jurist, Lord Sterndale, and has been a factory inspector under the Home Office.

Ill-health prevents Lady Cynthia Mosley seeking re-election.

The Labor party is expected to run between 20 and 25 women candidates and the Conservative and Liberals will have probably a dozen each, while there will be a number of independent women.

69 Ran, 14 Elected.

In the 1929 election 69 women candidates were put forward and 14 were elected.

Lady Astor seeks re-election as Conservative member for Sutton, Plymouth, where she had a majority of only 211 over a Laborite in 1929 her vote being in a minority of the total vote.

The Duchess of Atholl, who was parliamentary secretary to the Board of Education in the last Conservative ministry, seeks re-election for the Kinross and Western division of Perth and Kinross. In 1929 she had 12,245 votes to 9,128 for a Liberal and 3,834 for a Laborite.

Countess Iveagh was Conservative member for Southend on Sea in the last House, having a majority there in 1929 of 5,721 over a Liberal opponent.

Political organizations are being beseiged by women and girls who are eager to lend a hand in boosting the candidacies of their favorite nominees. Most of them will be used in the routine work of distributing campaign material but perhaps a total of 100 women will be stumping the constituencies.

Ishbel MacDonald Active

Among the most tireless campaigners of this and past elections is Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister, although she is not a member of parliament. Miss MacDonald has had considerable experience in the London Metropolitan Government. She is carrying the fight for her father's re-election in Seaham Harbor, Durham, where the local Labor executive have repudiated him. She will also assist her brother Malcolm in his fight for re-election from Bassetlaw, Nottingham.

Miss Megan Lloyd George is not only battling for re-election as Liberal member for Anglesey but is devoting most of her efforts to aiding her father. Mr. Lloyd George is opposed by a woman Labor candidate and a male Conservative in Carnavon.

Under the new register which dates from Oct. 15 more women may exercise the franchise than ever before. Of approximately thirty million voters the women number sixteen million, a majority of two million over the men. The extension of the franchise to women 21 years of age placed five million of them on the register in 1929.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

One of the fascinating things that a bride and groom have to do when they go to housekeeping is to furnish the new home.

• • • • • • •

It may be a spacious dwelling or a small apartment, but the zest remains the same. Unless the purse is unlimited, as few are, the matter of knowing what to get must be solved if the result is to be satisfactory.

• • • • • • •

The fact that no two persons demand exactly the same furnishings is true, but there are certain essentials that all require.

• • • • • • •

There must be sufficient furnishings in the kitchen to insure the proper preparation of three meals. There must be a table to serve the meals on, and a place to sleep. There must be also some one of the rooms in which the living room idea is stressed, a room in which comfortable chairs form part of the furnishings, good reading lights and one or two tables.

• • • • • • •

No place worthy of the name of a home is minus these essentials, although one, two or three rooms are all that can be afforded.

• • • • • • •

Since the four room apartment comprises the minimum number of separate rooms for housekeeping, let us consider one having a living room, bedroom, dining room, kitchen and bath.

• • • • • • •

Three rooms can supply the needs, provided the kitchen is a kitchenette which is not calculated as a room. In most instances it is so small it could compare with an old-fashioned closet off the kitchen known as a sink room.

• • • • • • •

It must be supplied with cooking utensils, and cutlery in small or large numbers and variety to suit the requirements of the new "cook."

• • • • • • •

A dining room suite fills all essentials for the dining room. Since many prefer to buy separate well-suited pieces, these are an extension, drop leaf, or refectory dining table, four to six dining room chairs and sideboard or buffet.

• • • • • • •

The bedroom requires a double bed or twin beds, a bureau or dresser and a chiffoniere or its equivalent. There should be two chairs at least, a stand or sewing table and a bedside table.

• • • • • • •

The living room should have two comfortable easy chairs, one distinctly a man's chair, a sofa, or davenport, one or two chairs, besides a desk, table and one or two occasional or end tables. At least one reading or table lamp should be included and one for the bedside table in the bedroom.

• • • • • • •

There must be rugs or some floor coverings. Hangings for the windows dress up a room. There probably will be many dainty furnishing accessories from the bride's hope chest, besides her household linens and silver for the dining room from wedding presents.

• • • • • • •

It would be impossible to name each needed article, but the essentials have been enumerated.

LADY BESSBOROUGH PURCHASES AUTUMN WARDROBE IN LONDON

Blue, Red, Green and Gold Are Popular, and, of Course, Black.

LACE STILL SHOWN.

By BETTY TWIST

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(Special to The Examiner).—Part of Lady Bessborough's autumn wardrobe is coming from London. Rosemary, the countess' dressmaker, acting on her instructions have added an interlining to the coats and costumes they are sending out. At their dress display this week they are showing a two-piece ensemble similar to one chosen by Lady Bessborough. The coat is in brown herringbone tweed, patterned with fawn and white and has the new beaver collar and beaver-trimmed sleeves. The frock in fawn, of a lighter weight, has a brown spot design and features the full-elbowed sleeves.

Blue, red, green and brown are the colors this house is starring. Purple, which has made such a sensational come-back, does not appear in their collection. Black is always smart wear at London society functions, and Rosemary uses it frequently. One black coat shows a clever manipulation of fur trimming. A band of pony fur round the shoulders gives the fashionable cape effect and there is an intricate scarf collar looping through in front. A panel of the same fur reaches from neck to hem on the left-hand side, so that the wrap-over just meets it. When the coat is fastened it is impossible to distinguish whether the panel is on the right or left of the coat. Brown, in a peculiar mousey tone more attractive than it sounds makes a good foundation for the varied furs which are used plentifully both on coats and costumes.

It is interesting to observe how this establishment approached the new styles and tones them down to the restrained models which are their specialty. "Paris knows how to launch a new mode," I was told, "but Paris does not know how to fit." And with English women the fit is always the first consideration. The lightest reference is made to the bustle in a black satin gown with a couple of gathered frills at the waist, and with this is combined the sash which bows at the front.

Lace is as popular as ever. A particularly graceful model which spreads out from the figure, as if slightly stiffened, was unsuspectedly heavy to the touch. It was made of net gathered and embroidered on a plain net foundation and had all the appearance of net with none of its flimsiness.

U. S. Speed Ace Hopes to Link Capitals Of Three Nations With 12-Hour Flight

CHICAGO, Ill., October 10 (C.P.). — Major James H. Doolittle hopes to link the capitals of three nations with a 12-hour flight.

The man who spanned the United States in 11 hours 15 minutes last month will take off on Monday, or the first good flying day thereafter, from Ottawa.

His next stop will be Washington, and his destination Mexico City. The trip will be made at a lower rate of speed than that which broke the trans-continental speed record, he said.

The major's average speed on his 2,454 mile flight across the United States last September 4, including three stops for gas, was 223 miles an hour. His route from Ottawa to Mexico City will be about 2,500 miles. He plans to stop for gas at Washington, D.C., Birmingham, Ala., and Corpus Christi, Texas.

MONEY STOLEN SCOUT IS HELD

Toronto Youth Accused of Breaking From Church After Taking Collection.

CONFESSION ALLEGED.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Taken into custody last night, Kenneth Lush, 23, Cumberland Street scoutmaster of Park Road Baptist Church, is said to have confessed hiding in the church Sunday afternoon and stealing $155 collected at the morning service last Sunday.

The charge against Lush is one that has not been made in the city for a great many years, according to the police. Lush is charged under section 455 of the criminal code with breaking out of a house of worship after committing an indictable offence.

"I did this because I wanted to go to England to see my mother" he is said to have told Detectives Gadd and Semple at Belmont Street station last night. "I bought a return passage at Hoseason's shipping agency on Yonge Street, near Bloor, with the money I took. I just had barely enough money to book a return passage when I called there on Thursday."

Hid in Basement

Lush, so police say, hid himself in the basement of the church Sunday afternoon. After the janitor locked theb uilding late in the afternoon, he left his hiding place and forced open the door of the church office with a screwdriver. Then prying open the drawer of the filing cabinet, he forced the cash box where the uncounted morning collection had been placed.

After taking the money, so police state, he took the collection envelopes and, making a pile of them in the recesses of the ravine lit a match and burned them. On Monday he went to the Dominion Bank branch at Avenue Road and Davenport Road where he made his first deposit. A second deposit was made on Tuesday and he bought his return ticket from the shipping agency on Thursday.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

PSYCHONEUROSIS—BELIEVING YOU ARE SICK WHEN YOU ARE NOT

One of the hard problems for parents is just how to handle a neurotic or nervous member of the family who gets certain ideas into his head such as—not being well enough to work, or go to school, fear of being sick if he does go to school, fear of high places, closed or open spaces, of animals, complaints of headache, indigestion, hearing, eyesight and so forth.

The family physician and the parents know that there is really no organic trouble, which, of course, is reassuring, but the fact remains that the individual has these feelings and fears, and it interferes with his happiness and health, and also with the happiness of the family.

Now a number of these cases inherit a nervous tendency and this accounts for the physoneurosis, as this condition is called

Very often it is due to emotional shock of some kind, which leaves this mental disturbance as a result.

Overwork, mental and physical, is another common cause.

Poisoning from infection—teeth, tonsils, sinuses, intestines—is responsible for very many cases.

Unfortunately, the surroundings of the home—anxious nervous fretful parents—encourage the continuance of symptoms from which the chlid might be cured, if he were left more often under the influence of school and playmates, and sensible teachers.

Sometimes something which occurred in eary childhood may be still having its effect upon the individual.

On the other hand sometimes parents when they know that there is really no reason for this behavior, are apt to be unsympathetic and impatient which is not good treatment.

The ideal treatment is to be kind to the patient, but not sympathetic towards his behavior. He has to be shown by the physician that although he has the fear, the anxiety, the pain, there is really no underlying reason for it, nothing about his body to cause it, and that he is just nursing the idea because it pleases him, or is the easiest thing to do.

Once any infection is cleared up, the patient should be given a good mixed diet, some outdoor exercise, mix with other people, and try to do what he should be doing in the world; not leaning on this condition for an excuse for not taking his full place in the community.

THE ROBERT FAIR COMPANY

SAYS BRIDGE NEAR BROCKVILLE WOULD HELP CENTRAL ONTARIO

No Bridge Between Montreal and Niagara Falls to U. S.

ADVANTAGES URGED.

While there are many bridges permitting of easy access across the border from Niagara Falls west to Detroit, there is not a single bridge between Niagara Falls and Montreal on the St. Lawrence. This is a most important matter for all of Central Ontario, and in the following letter from L. B. Howland, who is interested in the matter, will be seen the effort he has put into the idea of a bridge facilitating traffic between New York State and Eastern Ontario. The matter has come to such a point now that Mr. Howland believes if the Central Ontario district gets behind the idea, a bridge will be built that will be of immeasurable value to the district. He writes as follows:—

"As far back as 1892 I became associated with a group of gentlemen composed of New York Staters as well as Canadians, in the construction of a combination railway vehicular highway traffic bridge, to cross the St. Lawrence River at or near Brockville, Ont., to Morristown, N.Y. State. We secured a very efficient charter with broad privileges and maintained a complete company organization, complied with all the Government requirements in every way, besides doing considerable actual construction by way of erecting masonry piers for the main span on the islands which are in line with the right of way, forming stepping stones for the structure.

Ahead of the Times

Unfortunately we were much ahead of the times as the highway vehicular traffic was practically nil and after exhausing very strenuous efforts to conclude a satisfactory traffic agreement between the Grand Trunk Railway, the New York Central, and the Bridge Company, it became very apparent to me that the completion of the undertaking was hopeless unless I could be assured of sufficient traffic to warrant the expenditure. Accordingly in 1904 I decided to abandon the project temporarily, until better conditions proved more worthy, besides my time was severely demanded in operating and constructing not only a railway but an extensive lumber business all in Ontario. And not until 1927 did I fully realize and appreciate the many appeals from different sources to have my proposition renewed. At this time I was living at the Pacific Coast, but immediately commenced the process of renewals, but had only gotten nicely started when my counsel and others, who duly advised me to withdraw my bill in Parliament as there were such a grist of applicants for St. Lawrence River Bridge charters, that hunters were going to be disappointed, and that it might be embarrassing to be included in the pact. Besides the Governor of New York State had decided to veto any private bridge bill bordering his jurisdiction.

Consequently after very considerable communcations with the three Governments and Mr. Stewart, who recommended my dealing direct with the different powers, I decided to return to Ontario with a view of following it up with the fullest extent of my ability; accordingly I have given my entire time to the proposition for the last two years, and I believe with much success, as the triangle plan as I call it, meaning Toronto, Ottawa and Albany Governments are quite in accord with the plan. The Albany Government in particular has gone to a great deal of expense by appointing a bridge commission, which has been painstaking in preparing plans and specifications as well as a report.

Needs Co-operation

This comprehensive plan requires the approval, co-operation and determination of concentrated effort to convince the respective Governments the urgent demand for such a facility. It has just about reached the realm of ability of a one-man power, so I heartily appeal to you all in Central Ontario to come to my assistance in forcing the issue of immediate construction of the bridge nearest to Lake Ontario as possible.

INCOME RETURN WAS NEGLECTED

Local Man Fined $25 for Failing to Give Information.

WARNING TO OTHERS.

The Government intends to prosecute those who have failed to make their Income Tax returns, The Examiner was advised this morning by a local lawyer.

In come Tax papers are sent out each year and must be filled out and returned within thirty days. "It does not matter how little or how much a person is making, the papers must be returned giving complete data of salary and earnings", stated the lawyer. "If a person is making only a small salary and knows he cannot be taxed that does not absolve him from filling out the papers and returning them."

One local man was prosecuted before Police Magistrate Langley yesterday for failing to make his Income Tax returns in 1929 and was fined $25. The Magistrate warned him that he had got off very lightly since the Act provides for a fine of $25 for each day the papers are late in being returned.

"This is only one of many cases that are likely to come up shortly unless the people hasten in making their returns' the lawyer stated.

OLIVER BALDWIN STICKS TO LABOR

Will Campaign on Straight Issue of Socialism Versus Capitalism.

OPPOSES HIS FATHER.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Oliver Baldwin, 32 year old son of the Conservative leader, is one who does not follow in his father's political footsteps.

He has announced his acceptance of the Labor party's nomination for the House of Commons from Chatham. He will campaign on a straight issue of Socialism versus Capitalism. Thus he will be arrayed against Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, his father, who is supporting the National Government.

Malcolm MacDonald has backed his father, Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald throughout his controversy with the Laborites but will seek re-election as a candidate of that party. His sister Isibel is not a candidate for parliament but is campaigning for her father in his rebellious constituency.

Megan Lloyd-George is stumping the country in support of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George's Liberal principles and is seeking to retain her own seat. Arthur Henderson, Jr., is a Labor member of the House and so far as is known will cling to his father's party in the election.

Rochester Retains Minor Series Honors

WINGS SCORE FIVE RUNS IN FIRST INNING

And Little World Series Supremacy is Over as Far as St. Paul is Concerned.

STARR IS MOUND ACE.

Only 1,227 Fans Brave Chilly Weather to Watch Wings Triumph in Final.

ROCHESTER N.Y., Oct. 10 — (CP) — While their "big brothers" the St. Louis Cardinals, continue to struggle for the baseball championship of the world, the Rochester Red Wings again are safe on the top of the minor league heap as winners of the "little world series."

After seeing their victory put off two days in succession with only one more game needed to settle the battle between the International league champions and St. Paul winner of the American Association flag, the Red Wings came through behind "iron man" Ay Starr yesterday to down the Saints 9 to 3. The Margin was five games to three.

Starr, whose feats during the regular season included pitching three complete doubleheaders and winning 29 games, held St. Paul to seven hits yesterday, fanned nine and made Rochester's second little series triumph look easy. A year ago the Red Wings defeated Louisville for the minor league crown.

Rochester settled the battle for all practical purposes in the first inning when they drove Van Atta from the hill with a cluster of four hits, a walk a hit batsman and a sacrifice for five runs. Prudhomme failed to survive the second inning and Murphy and Nichols finished the game for St. Paul.

Fenner came to the Saints rescue in the sixth inning and kept them from being shut-out by clouting a home run with Saltzgaver and Durst on the base.

The last game of the long series brought the smallest crowd. Only 1,227 fans braved the chilly but clear weather to see the Red Wings triumph.

REGINA RIDERS GETTING READY FOR FALL FIGHT

Al Ritchie Will Again Have Formidable Team For Grid Campaign.

WANTS THE CUP.

REGINA, Oct. 10 (Special to The Examiner)—For many years western Canada senior rugby teams have been knocking at the door which leads to the Dominion championships. At first those within paid no attention; but of late the pounding has been so loud that the gridders from the so called wide open spaces are beginning to attract some notice from the former, vastly superior eastern aggregations.

Two years ago the Regina Roughriders, now five times in succession champions of the west, visited Hamilton, faced the mighty Tigers right in their own den and lost—but put up a game. Last fall the Riders opposed Balmy Beach in Toronto, lost again—but this time established one and for all the fact that the west is "in there."

What does 1931 hold in store for the west? Will the Grey Cup be brought to the prairies for the first time in history?

There is one man who believes that it will and that is Alvin Horace Ritchie, the master mind of the Roughriders.

Minus only three of last year's stalwarts and plus enough new talent to give the 1931 team the bulge on the 1930 aggregation insofar as playing strength is concerned, the Roughriders this year have not only a western Canada crown as their objective, but the elusive Grey Cup. Nothing short of bringing the trophy to the prairies will satisfy Ritchie.

And Currie, sorrel-topped backfielder; "her" Meyer, husky lineman, and Fred Brown, peppy end man are the only absentees from the Regina camp.

The major portion of the newly found strength lies in the backfield. There Ritchie has Curtis Schave, former University of North Dakota star, and Eddie "Dynamite" Hames, recognized by all and sundry, including Mike Rodden, former Hamilton Tiger mentor, as one of the best line plungers in the game today. Schave's specialty is forward pass tossing, but he can also skirt the end of any line in quick fashion. To James, just returned from Winnipeg, will be entrusted the care of smashing through opposing lines when a few yards means a touchdown.

Surrounding these two backfielders are last year's stalwarts. Desmond, Grubb Grassick, Saul Bloomfield and Fred Goodman will all be in harness again, with Goodman looking the find of the year and rated as the most improved youngster on the team. Orville Heron completes the backfield.

In kicking the 'Riders should be stronger than they were a year ago for the Schave can hoist the pigskin with anybody in the west while Bloomfield was not in his usual form last fall. George Gilhooly is also being trained for this job.

Diminutive Angie Mitchell, the "little general" will be calling the signals again with "Jersey" Campbell holding down the snap position.

Three new end men, Paul McKinnon and Clare Warner, Reginians and A. S. McNeil, formerly of Calgary, are out with the teams along with Harold Urness Reinhorn and Harding of last fall's squad.

The loss of Meyer's bulk in the line is taken care of by Cliff Boyle, a former 'Rider staging a comeback and "Stu" Clark, a member of the 1929 team who was out of the game in '30. "Tiny" Thompson, Gordon Barker, Johnny Garuik, Jack Patrick, Albert Urness and "Tubby" Renwick are back again to bring the line up to the standard of 1930, plus the experience of playing in two consecutive Dominion finals.

Ritchie has always maintained that the rugby players in the east are no better than those in the west and that the day will come when the prairie men will triumph. He believes that this is the year and the Regina Roughriders are being primed for their greatest triumph of all time.

Taxis Sponsoring Local Sports Day

An athletic meet will be held on Saturday afternoon, October 24th at the Exhibition Grounds, Peterborough. This meet is open to all Sunday school groups of boys, ages 12 to 18 in the city and county.

The following are the events for boys 12 to 14:—

75 yard dash, 60 yard potato race, running high jump, running broad jump, 6 lb. shot put and throwing the baseball.

Events for boys 15 to 18:—

100 yard dash, 60 yard potato race, running high jump, running broad jump, 8 lb. shot put and throwing baseball.

The junior section will get under way at 1 o'clock and the older fellows will start at 3 o'clock.

Scoring scheme

Each boy will be scored individually according to the table for Tuxis and Trail Rangers. Credits for each event will be found in the Badge Book scoring tables. A large panel picture of Sir Galahad will be presented the winning group. The winners will be determined by dividing the total number of credits obtained by the number of members on their class roll. This means that even though a boy makes only 10 points out of a possible 100 in each event he is helping to raise the group score.

This meet is sponsired by the Peterborough Boys' Work Board. Groups that are interested are asked to communicate with John Hunter at the Y.M.C.A. not later than Thursday, October 22nd.

Information needed:—

1—Name of leader.

MISS KIRKHAM IS DEFEATED IN THE FINAL

Toronto Golfer Has Won Canadian Championship for Fourth Time.

INTER-PROVINCIAL MATCH.

TORONTO, Oct. 10—Miss Ada Mackenzie of the Toronto Women's Golf and Tennis Club yesterday won the Canadian women's closed golf championship at the Lambton Golf and Country Club, defeating Miss Marjory Kirkham of the Forest Hills Golf and Country Club, Montreal, by 3 and 1.

Miss Kirkham won the title last year in Montreal, defeating Miss Cecil Smith of the Toronto Golf Club. Miss Mackenzie is a former champion, and is generally accepted as the Dominion's most experienced golfer. She won the title in 1926, 1927 and 1929.

The final of the championship assumed an Interprovincial aspect, Miss Kirkham, in addition to other titles, holds the Quebec championship, while Miss Mackenzie won the Ontario championship last summer at the Glendale Golf and Country Club.

Miss Mackenzie won the first four holes, the first hole with a long putt for a birdie 3; the second with a perfect 3, while Miss Kirkham took a 4 after she had pitched her ball into a trap; the third with another birdie after Miss Kirkham had hit her second into a trap, and the fourth when Miss Kirkham drove into the rough and after playing out hit her third into the river.

The fifth hole was halved and then Miss Mackenzie increased her lead to 5 up. Miss Kirkham lost the sixth when she took three putts. Miss Mackenzie's lead became 6 up at the seventh hole. Here Miss Kirkham hit her ball into the river, while Miss Mackenzie cleared the stream and was just off the green.

When she took the eighth, Miss Kirkham won her first hole of the match. Miss Kirkham hit her second into a trap, but played a nice shoe out, and holed a 5 foot putt. Miss Mackenzie missed a half when she failed to make her 3 foot putt. Again missing a short putt, Miss Mackenzie lost the ninth hole, but passed the turn 4 up.

Miss Kirkham rallied after her poor golf of the opening, winning the tenth with a 5, while Miss Mackenzie was taking a 6. Miss Mackenzie lost the seventh when she drove her ball into a trap and reached the edge of the green with her third. Miss Kirkham was just short with two strong irons, chipped dead and made her 4.

Miss Mackenzie won the twelfth, with a birdie 2. Both players were on the green, probably 20 feet from the cup. Miss Mackenzie's putt rolled in, while Miss Kirkham's missed by inches. Miss Mackenzie became 4 up at the thirteenth. At this hole Miss Kirkham missed her second, and placed her third over the green. Miss Mackenzie lost the fourteenth.

Miss Mackenzie retained her lead of 3 holes and won on the seventeenth by 3 and 1.

The Cardinals were unanimous in agreement that Left Grove pitched better ball yesterday than in his two previous starts against the Red Birds. He was "faster" and had more "stuff," they said.

MARTIN OUT FOR RECORDS.

(By Edward J. Neil, A. P. Sports Writer)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 10. — The curtain that flashed back ten days ago on a vivid world series drama started fluttering down today, the play all but ended, the audience hoarse and thrill-racked, the black mustachioed villian and the blonde hero right back where they started for the hand of the fair heroine.

Six games the world champion Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals have played to capacity. Today the question of conqueror and conquered rested solely on the decision of one ball game, the seventh and last of the world series of 1931. It came to an end as it began, one of the most exciting struggles in all the history of the annual fall battles and as is just and befitting the time-honored course of all true drama, two of the outstanding characters in the play locked in a final duel for right and justice.

On one side was "Big Jarge" Earnshaw, the mighty right hand ace of Connie Mack's pitching staff, saved by a daring bit of strategy for this one climax effort. Glaring at him across the stage, backed almost off the boards by tactical blunders as open to censure as Mack's gamble was to praise, stood bitter Burleigh Grimes, the embattled spit-ball veteran, his snarling pugnacious features bristling under a two-day growth of whiskers.

It was most fitting that these great right handers, each the hero of a two-hit masterpiece, should come down to the end of the final act locked in battle for the heroine's hand, the gold and glory of baseball's world champion.

There was another hero in the piece, too, although the brightness of his armor had dimmed a bit in the reverses every hero must meet before right can triumph and justice mete out its final award. He was John Leonard "Pepper" Martin, the wild Wahoo, lionized, feted, presented with everything from a watermelon to a shotgun, all of which he would gladly swap today for a couple of those base hits that came so easily in the first five games of the series.

It was just possible that "Pepper" the irrepressible, could throw off the shackles Robert Moses Grove, the left hander, placed upon his wrists and ankles yesterday in the Athletics 8 to 1 victory that evened the count at three games all and forced the series into a seventh game for the first time in five years. True drama is like that and "Pepper" still hitting .571, the bat that broke up three of the six ball games and was a thunderous factor in two others, still swinging, can make or break the final act for the Cardinals.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, by the time this here screed gets into print everybody'll know whether I was hitting 1.000 or zero when I picked Mister Connie Mack's Athaletics to cop the big serious. To-day is Thurs., and right now me and the A's is running somewhat behind, with Mister Gabby Street's boys leading 3 games to 2 and the balance of the battle on their own ball yard. I ain't, however, give up hope yet, for Mister Mack has Mister Earnshaw and Mister Grove to toss at the Cards, and they's a nice parcel of pitching wrapped up in them 2. Mister Earnshaw is poison to them National Leaguers, and the elongated left-hander, while bumped hard twice, is liable to shoot a brand of fire balls the next time out that will cause no joy in St. Louis.

Anyway I been kinda gypped in this here serious. Here I been thinking it was a battle between the Cards and the A's. It ain't nothing of the sort. It's a struggle between the A's and a young fellow by the name of Pepper Martin, who has hit everything but the toboggan slide and stole everything but Mister Mickey Cochrane's mask. Mister Martin wasn't hardly heard of until just before the serious when he loudly told the world that he was going to smash everything the A's pitchers tossed at him. Most folks murmured Oh yeah! and let it go at that. But Mister Martin fooled them. He started hitting the 1st day and he never did stop. Grove, Earnshaw, Hoyt, Walberg was all the same to this rookie, who has just been sloughing curves, fast balls, slow balls or what have you all over the lot, and running bases like nobody's business. This wildman has supplied nearly all the punch to the Cards' attack—in fact, he's made up for the failure of Mister Hafey and Mister Bottomley to hit the size of their collar.

Outside Mister Martin the serious so far, Mac, has been notable for some mighty smart pitching and sparkling fielding. Five games in a row without a unearned run creeping in shows how air-tight the defence has been, old-timer, while Mister Hallihan has only allowed the A's 1 run and Mister Earnshaw permitted the Cards 2 runs in 2 games each, while the battling Mister Grimes win his game on a 2-hit basis. If that ain't throwing it'll do till we get some.

Well, Mac, unless old Jupe Pluvius enters into the argument it will be all over when the customers see this, so they ain't nothing to be done about it now.

Our Collegiate football team entertained us to a smart game here last Sat., Mac. The Oshawa lads were plenty big and put up a real argument, but they couldn't bust through for a major score, while the home lads kicked a field goal and finally crashed over for a touch just in time to avert a tie game. Mister Legon's boys are going very nicely and oughta make a real bid for the Central title.

I'll be seeing ya at the plowing match next week.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

CANADIENS WIN LACROSSE TITLE

Leafs Lose Out in Final for Pro Box Lacrosse League Honors.

FINAL COUNT 6-3.

TORONTO, Oct. 10. — Montreal Canadiens won the championship of the International Professional Lacrosse League here last night when they were full value for their 6 to 3 victory over the Maple Leafs. The locals never could hit their stride after the flying Frenchmen took advantage of a penalty to Bill Davis in the second period and scored twice to gain a one-goal lead. That sentence to Davis was a costly one.

It was conceded on all sides that Canadiens were the better team on the night's play. They used safety-first defensive tactics, it is true, but results tell the story in sport as in anything else, and no one can begrudge them the honors so meritoriously won.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 10.—(C.P.)—The necessity for a seventh world series game was a break for employes of the city of St. Louis, Mayor Victor Miller, himself an ardent fan, decreed a half holiday, beginning at noon to-day, for all city employees. His action, he explained, was prompted by the fact that St. Louis, for the first time, is the scene of the seventh game of a world series, and a desire to see the park filled to capacity.

Watching the perfect satisfaction and joy he seemed to get from this, prompted me to ask him how he could enjoy a pipe so much. I did, and now, smoking two or three pipes of Turret pipe tobacco a day, I am always refreshed and satisfied. Unable to put into words that which makes Turret pipe tobacco 'Just Right', I pass the word along—'Try a pipe with Turret pipe tobacco'".

QUEEN ALEX DEFEATED 5-2

Injuries to Losing Team's Players Spoils Their Chances of Gaining Points.

GOOD COMBINATION.

The second canto combination play in the school soccer game between King George and Queen Alexandra resulted in a win for the former by the score of five to two, on Nicholls Oval, yesterday afternoon. The scoring honors was well distributed and Burton registered two well manouevred goals after beating the full backs. He had to retire to centre-half to recuperate from the gruelling test that he had come through. George Bousfield filled the vacancy to perfection. Injuries to two Queen Alex. boys spoiled their chances to gain the points. This win puts the King George eleven as team leaders.

In the early stages, the boys confined their tactics to mid-field with the halves holding the forwards outside the shooting zone. Then the East City teams were surprised when the right wing man Dorrington of the north end eleven broke away on his own to beat the opposing goalie with a nice goal. A few minutes later, Hopcroft gained possession outside the goal area to get the equalizer. Then Wood added further to the King George tally to find that a penlty registered by Pink brought them back on an even basis again. Just before the interval Lee put his side into the winning column to make the score King George 3. Queen Alex. 2.

Keen Tackling

After the customary respite, it was revealed to the King George boys that they were playing against ten men instead of eleven, through one of the opposition retiring with an injury. They played havoc in the position vacated to cause the full backs a lot of running. Burton, King George battled all the time to put the issue in the safe column and was rewarded when individual effort of his own found the inside of the uprights. Dainton, the custodian, stopped the shot but bounced off his hands into the goal. Continued pressure by the same player caught the goalie napping when he landed a hot drive in below the cross-bar for number five. At this period, the losers lost another team-mate when he had to retire with a twisted knee and the Queen Alex. boys held the score to five to two and even had a chance to increase it through a penalty but Pink shot the ball into Legon's arms who kicked clear. King George 5, Queen Alex. 2.

King George—Jack Legon, goal; N. Hewett and O. Gardner, full backs; E. Charten, G. Bousfield and E. Smith, halves; F. Earl, R. Wood, L. Burton K. Hopcroft and W. Lee, forwards.

Queen Alex—J. Dainton, goal; J Pink and A. Sharp, full backs; R. Mackey, J. Bradley and J. Ash, halves; R. Ash, J. King, J. Galley and J. Reynolds, forwards.

Referee—Fred Sutcliffe.

CASUAL COMMENT

To-day's game will wind up the World Series for this year, and we can settle down and prepare for winter again. There'll probably be a certain amount of settling up first, though, as the baseball classic always finds a flock of people who know the American Leaguers will win, and another flock who are sure the Nats can't lose.

• • • • • • •

The next big sports campaign to start will be the hockey, and that's a couple of months away yet. In the meantime, we have rugby here a road race next month, and a boxing show. In fact, there'll be two fight cards here soon, the pro one in a couple of weeks' time, and a local amateur show about two weeks after that.

• • • • • • •

On Thanksgiving Day, the lacrossers journey down to Kingston for an exhibition game, while over at the East City bowl, the girls' softball benefit game between Keene and the All-Stars is billed for 2.30 o'clock. Mary McCarthy and Dot Gainor make up the champs' battery, while Mary Hall, of Sixth Line, will pitch and Dot Millar, of Brintons, will hold her up, for the All-Stars.

• • • • • • •

The Men's Softball League banquet will be held at the Empress within two weeks, the usual sumptuous affair with fancy food and lots of it, prominent speakers and guests and a popular orchestra. The players of the championship and the runner-up teams, Sugar Bowl and Westclox, will receive medals, while the former outfit is presented with the Taylor Trophy once again.

• • • • • • •

The men's loop didn't draw such crowds throughout their schedule despite the first-class softball displayed. However, the five-game play-off series brought them well out of the "red," as the fans flocked to Central School grounds in droves.

• • • • • • •

By finding the Maple Leafs' net three times oftener than the Toronto players could reach theirs, the flashy Montreal Canadiens, under "Newsy" Lalonde, won the first championship of the International Pro Lacrosse League in the Queen City last night. They had a great team this year, but had to fight hard all the way. The box lacrosse game has become an established sport now, and will grow bigger each year.

• • • • • • •

We get tired of hearing old-timers boasting the sports of yesteryear and knocking those of the present time. To hear them talk, men were men in the days gone by, boxers were tougher, hockey was trickier, runners were faster, and so on

• • • • • • •

But the record books don't back these old-timers up worth a dime. For instance, only yesterday in a field meet at McGill, the dusky Canadian, Phil Edwards, had no trouble knocking 10 seconds off the record of 4 minutes 36 seconds for the mile run made in 1908. He also clipped a full second off record of 51 4-5 for the 440-yard event made 27 years ago. Two other records of long standing also fell to runners at this meet.

• • • • • • •

It just goes to show that athletes improve with each generation, and that's the way it should be in this progressive age. None of the hockey teams of twenty years ago could touch last winter's Canadiens for speed, none of the veteran ball players, Cobb excepted, had anything on the present crop. Jack Dempsey in his prime could lick John L. Jeffries, Johnson, et al. And there you are!

• • • • • • •

There'll be a flock of disagreements over these statements, but where figures are available, the records agree with us. The difference in boxing is just a matter of judgment, but that's the way we feel about it, with all due respect to the old-timers.

Latest news and views of the Golfing World

BY RALPH H. REVILLE

So once again the Duchess of Connaught's golf cup, symbolic of the Ladies Open championship of Canada, crosses the border, in the custody of Miss Maureen Orcutt the brilliant New Jersey player who, throughout a week of dazzling golf, blessed with ideal autumn weather, was right on the top of her game and was generally picked upon to repeat her triumph of last year at Montreal. Everyone wanted to see either a Canadian or British player annex the title but Miss Enid Wilson the champion from England, never quite got her irons working smoothly and it remained for Miss Marjorie Kirkham of Montreal to come through to the 36-hole final. That at any rate was some sort of a consolation because for the past three years now, two U.S. players have fought it out for the title and that is not in the best interest of the game in this country. The Montrealer who won the Canadian Close championship last year and this year, the Quebec and Montreal championships, has made an enviable name for herself the past few years and if her game improves as rapidly in the future as in the past, she will give even the best of the American, an argument. Miss Orcutt was a little too good for her last week at Rosedale but she put up a game fight and made hosts of friends and admirers. On her showing the past year or so she must be ranked as the best lady player in Canada, an honor for some time enjoyed by Ontario representatives. The pendulum however, has now swung Quebec-wards and it looks as though Miss Kirkham is going to keep it swinging that way. It is now five years since a Canadian player has won the Open. Miss Ada Mackenzie ranking Ontario player having won it in 1926. Since its inauguration in 1901 or thirty years ago, Americans have annexed the title eight times and British women six times.

For the first time in many years, the Royal and Ancient has made a change in the rules of golf. At a meetin last week at St. Andrews, Scotland, Rule No. 28 (1) was, "Any loose impediment may be removed from the putting green by hand or with the club, irrespective of the position of the player's ball" and Rule No. 28 (2) "In removing any loose impediment the club must not be laid with more than its own weight upon the ground nor must anything be pressed down either with the club or in any other way."

Previously loose impediments on the putting green could only be removed by hand and not with the club. Mr. Ramsay, President of the United States Golf Association, announces that his association, too, has decided to follow the new ruling of the R. and A. and the Royal Canadian Golf Association, will also most probably follow suit. The old rule was always very much abused, very few player realizing that it was the loss of the hole in match play if say, loose leaves or twigs were scraped aside with the club and not lifted by hand. Now they can be either scraped aside or lifted at the option of the player.

Like a bolt out of the blue, came the resignation last week of R. J. H. Stokes, from the Secretaryship of the Province of Quebec Golf Association, as a protest against what he claims is the growth of semi-professionalism in the ranks of Canadian amateurs. Mr. Stokes has for ten years occupied the position of Secretary of the Quebec Association and is unquestionably responsible to a great extent for the marked success of the organization. He is too, Secretary of the prominent Mount Bruno Golf and Country Club, Montreal. He claims that the past 2 or 3 years many leading amateurs have been accepting favor from railway companies, steamship companies, summer resorts and sporting goods manufacturers and his resignation is a protest against the continuance of these practices, which he claims are seriously undermining the high standard of Canadian Amateur golf. Mr. Stoke's letter of resignation has called forth a storm of protests from golfing executives both in the East and the West, who claim that amateur golf in the Dominion, is on a very high plane and that the Montrealer has greatly exaggerated the situation. The definition of an amateur as laid down by the Royal and Ancient and the Royal Canadian Golf Association is as follows (1), an amateur golfer is one who, after attaining the age of 18 has not (2) carried clubs for hire (b) received any consideration, either directly or indirectly, for playing or for teaching the game, or for playing in a match or tournament (c) because of his skill as a golfer, received after 21st December 1922, a salary or remuneration either directly or indirectly from any firm dealing in goods relating to the playing of the game, (d) played for a money prize in any competition."

It is the "B" clause in the definition, which Mr. Stokes no doubt thinks is being broken by several leading amateurs. There can be no disputing the fact that of recent years players have been accepting transportation and hotel privileges both in Canada and the States, from leading companies in order to participate in tournaments. If this is interpreted as receiving "any consideration, either directly or indirectly" then many amateurs have endangered their amateur status and Mr. Stokes is to be commended on the rather dramatic stand he has taken. The accusation coming as it does from such an authoritative source should and no doubt will be thoroughly investigated by the Quebec and other Provincial associations as well as by the Royal Canadian Golf Association, the governing body of golf in the Dominion. The taint of professionalism, must never be allowed to fasten its fangs on such an outstanding game as golf which in the past has always been kept clean in every country in which it is played.

Walter Hagen, with his 16 cylinder Packard car, was a visitor to the Ladies' Open Championship last week at Rosedale and incidentally, picked up a cheque for $836.80, his share of the gate money taken in at the Mississauga Club in the play-off for the Open Championship of Canada with Percy Alliss last July. "The Haig" was a bit disappointed at the size of the cheque as it was generally thought that there was a gallery of some 5,000 to witness the play-off but as is generally the case this total was greatly exaggerated. As a matter of fact $2712 was the extent of the gate money. Against this amount the bill of expense of the Mississauga club came to $542 and the Ontario Government's Amusemer tax of $271. Then there was printing and other expenses leaving a net sum of $1673.60 to be divided between Hagen and Alliss or $836.80 each. All said and done, not bad picking for a day's golf. Hagen also had another grievance. Owing to the unfavorable rate of exchange prevailing just now, he will have to pay over $100 discount on his cheque, so "taking one consideration with another" the Canadian Open Champion who has been spending a month fishing in the Nipissing District, was not in a particularly happy frame of mind during his visit to Rosedale.

RECORDS BROKEN AT McGILL MEET

Phil Edwards Shatters Mark in the Quarter and Mile Events.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—A galaxy of track and field stars, probably the greatest collection of athletes in the history of McGill's interfaculty competition, which dates back 59 years, made a devastating assault on McGill's college records at the annual track and field meet of the university held here yesterday.

Four records, two of which had stood for 23 years of interfaculty competition, were broken and in two cases the times for intercollegiate competition were bettered.

Phil Edwards, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., middle-distance star and United States' national half-mile champion, broke both the quater-mile and the mile McGill marks.

In The Automotive World
WEEK-BY-WEEK

Did I hear someone saying that women drivers were inferior to those of the stronger sex?

From New York to Los Angeles in three days, 19 hours and 17 minutes is the mark set last week by Mrs. Lavia M. Willard, well-known society woman of New York City, in her Stutz Model BB Blackhawk automobile.

Mrs. Willard's mark is total elapsed time and includes necessary stops for meals refueling, and so forth. It is believed to constitute a world's record for non-professional drivers and is probably the shortest space of time it has ever taken for a woman to drive such a route.

A swarm of Peruvian gnats caused Billy Barnes of Taniequah, Okla. to run his car off a steep embankment, completely demolishing the car and severely injuring Barnes.

The gnats attacked him viciously, and while fighting to protect himself, he lost control of the car. The youth was hysterical when found by a police officer.

Economy and greater safety are said to be the motive behind a proposal made in Berlin to eliminate the green light at all street intersections, using the red light only as a signal for traffic to stop. Frank C. Perkins, president of the City Council, is responsible for the plan, which, he declared, would cut the city's signal light bill in half.

His idea is that the absence of light in the direction of "go" traffic would cause motorists to approach intersections more cautiously. The red light would serve as a halt signal for both traffic and pedestrians, he said. Mr. Perkins' recommendation was made at the same time that he submitted a proposal for an investigation of the present system, which is considered expensive.

Sir Malcolm Campbell, who holds the world's land speed record of 246 miles an hour, still wants to do 300. He is convinced that the Blue Bird can register better than the record figure he hung up on the Daytona sands, and he has plans to change the car in various particulars to add to its speed. Plans for this speed stuff this winter depend in part on what Wizard Smith, the Australian motorist, accomplishes on Ninety Mile Beach, also on whether or not any fast stuff develops here in the United States. When the Blue Bird's record-breaking career is ended, Sir Malcolm hopes the car will find a permanent home in the British Museum.

The Boys' Club Federation of America, acting in co-operation with the National Safety Council, has enlisted in a nation-wide campaign to reduce the number of deaths and accidents among children in city streets.

The campaign was decided upon after a study of traffic accidents figures for 1930 which reveal that 7,345 children less than fifteen years old were killed and 233,259 injured in automobile accidents throughout the United States. Spot maps, prepared by the Council, show that the preponderance of accidents occur in the same underprivileged areas in cities where juvenile delinquency is highest.

In parking, stop the motor, set the brakes, and if on an incline, turn the front wheels toward the curb, the Silverton Safety League advises motorists. Lock motor and car doors to prevent tampering.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

KID SUREFOOT IS SCORNFUL.

Be slow to ridicule and scorn,
For haste may give you cause to mourn
Old Mother Nature

Billy the Mountain Goat, whom Farmer Brown's Boy called Billy Surefoot, stood for a long time on a narrow ledge near the top of a great cliff looking down on Farmer Brown's Boy on a slope far below. Then he climbed up over the edge of the cliff. Not far away lying down he found Mrs. Surefoot, whose name is Nanny, and their only child, Kid Surefoot. Kid surefoot somewhat awkwardly scrambled to his feet and ran to meet his father.

"I was looking for you," said the latter gravely. He is always grave.

"Well now that you have found me what do you want of me?" inquired Kid Surefoot somewhat pertly, for he was just at that age when he thought himself very smart and lacked proper respect for his elders.

"I want you to come with me. I have something to show you," replied Billy in that grave manner of his.

He turned and led the way back to the top of the cliff and disappeared over it. For an instant Kid Surefoot hesitated. He had never been down on that ledge where his father was now standing and it looked very narrow and the way down to it very steep.

"What are you waiting for?" demanded his mother just back of him. Then she crowded him to one side and went down to join Billy.

Kid waited an instant longer, then drew a long breath and made his way down, setting his feet carefully. At last he stood between Billy and Nanny looking out over the Great World. It was a wonderful view, but Kid Surefoot had seen many just such views since he had been big enough to follow his mother about. It didn't interest him. "Is this what you brought me down here to see?" he demanded somewhat impatiently.

Billy gravely shook his head and when he did this his long white beard waved back and forth. Kid idly wondered if he would ever have a long white beard like his father's. "Do you see that two-legged creature down there among the rocks?" demanded Billy.

The kid looked eagerly but at first didn't see Farmer Brown's Boy. When he did his eyes opened very wide. "What is it?" he demanded. "Does it always walk on two legs like that?"

"Yes," replied Billy, "excepting when climbing. That is what is called Man and Man is the one enemy you have most reason to fear. Take a good look at this one so that you will never fail to recognize one when you see him. That is what I brought you down here for."

"Do you think he has one of those terrible fire sticks?" asked Nanny anxiously. Of course she meant a gun.

"No," replied Billy. "I saw him at close range and he is harmless." He took care not to tell how he had been surprised napping by Farmer Brown's Boy.

"What is a fire stick?" asked the Kid.

"It is a stick that only Man ever carries and it flashes fire and makes a loud noise and from a long distance throws something that hurts and sometimes kills. So whenever you see one of these two-legged creatures get out of sight as quickly as you can. Get a rock between you and him and don't be the least bit curious about him," replied Billy more gravely than ever if that were possible.

Meanwhile Farmer Brown's Boy was scrambling over the rocks as he tried to climb to a point where he could see better. Kid Surefoot watched him slip and slide and scramble. "Pooh! I don't see anything to fear from that fellow!" he exclaimed scornfully. "Look at him. Did you ever see any one so clumsy? Why he couldn't get near enough to me to see what I look like!"

"I have just told you that this one is harmless, but the next one may have a fire stick and he would be dangerous even as far away as that fellow is," replied Billy. "So if you would live to grow a beard heed what I say and lose no time in getting out of sight of any Man you may happen to see, and in climbing where he cannot follow."

Kid Surefoot promised that he would heed this advice, but there was still scorn in his look as he watched Farmer Brown's Boy struggling up over the rocks. "Such a way to climb!" he muttered.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 10th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:35 a.m. to noon, and from 5 p.m. to 8:10 p.m. The only danger period is from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

October 10th, from an astrological standpoint, favors the artist and all those interested in shipping, no matter in what capacity. Middle-aged people especially are advised to avoid speculation and risky investment, no matter how thickly the pill is sugar-coated. The signs are indicative of Cupid's influence, and many,so far heart-whole, will be pierced by the little god's dart.

Children born on this October 10th will be intense and emotional. Not until they reach the thirties will they acquire a judicial and unbiased outlook on life. Their "extremeness" will handicap their chances, and their greatest successes will be achieved in middle. Experience will then have taught them the necessity of tolerance, sympathy and less "down-rightness."

You, if born on October 10th, are to the outside world cold and unbending. Amongst those, however, whom you love—and their number is very limited—you are courteous, affable and entertaining. In any connection you try to make, your frigidity generally makes a poor impression, and you thereby injure your own interests. If a woman, you are altogether too "stand-offish" to be much of a success with the opposite sex. It is not so much your prudishness, as your apparent indifference, that makes the average man fight shy of you. If a man, your self-imposed dignity and your would-be superiority estranges those who, realizing your capabilities, would otherwise be ready and willing to help you.

You are a materialist—although you pretend you are not. You are clever, intellectual, and interested in a variety of subjects. As a conversationalist you are concise and lucid, but your words lack that enthusiasm founded on belief, which is the sole road to conviction. You have a natural taste for literature, and could develop into an able organizer.

Your marriage will be, probably, based more on reason than on affection. Your horoscope denotes that it will be a wild success, undisturbed by wrangling and unmoved by emotions and thrills.

If October 11th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 12:50 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m., from 1:15 p.m. to 2:55 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

October 11th holds out, from the astrological standpoint, nothing of a very special character. It will be a good occasion for travel, although accidents are foretold as the result of "taking chances." Peace and contentment is foretold for domestic circles, although, after 8 p.m., there may arise some disturbing factors, which may cause a ripple of worry.

Children born on this October 11th will be very bossy and quick to anger: they will be emotional, and not afraid, or ashamed, to show their feelings. As they mature, this trait will be accentuated, and they will be valuable, loyal friends, but bitter and resentful enemies. Their lives will be eventful, full of contrasts, and none too happy.

You, if born on October 11th, are attractive, clever, and have a charming personality. The trouble is that you rely too much on the latter to achieve your ends. A winning smile can carry you all the way, unless backed by perseverance and effort. You should exploit your personality as an accessory, not as the sole factor.

As a conversationalist, you are entertaining and convincing. You dabble in all sorts of reading, possess a retentive memory, and have a sparkling line of talk. You are of course very popular in social circles—especially if you are a woman. You are "au fait" with drawing-room accomplishments, and, in addition, are an all-round outdoor sport.

No matter what your environment may be—rich or poor—you are never patronizing nor obsequious. You are always natural and charming. Your horoscope denotes that you can easily become a leader but you will not do this until satiated with a certain fruitless exploitation of the many gifts with which you are endowed. Not until you wake up, or necessity stares you in the face, will you accomplish anything that is worth while. Your married life will be successful and harmonious.

Mission Band Holds Japanese Tea Party

MADOC, October 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — On Monday evening, just after school, the Mission Band of Trinity United Church held a Japanese tea party, entertaining their parents and friends with a very fine program given entirely by the children, afterwards serving a very dainty tea of sandwiches, cake, and tea, in which the boys and girls joined to see that the wants of thier visitors were liberally supplied.

Miss Phyllis Stokloser, president of the Band, was chairman. The introductory responsive service was given from memory by three groups of the members, all joining in the closing verses, and all singing 'Jesus wants me for a sunbeam.' The story of the Good Samaritan was beautifully recited by Donald Rutherford, and prayer read by Jean Nickle. A missionary dialogue was nicely given by Margaret White, Helen Wellman, and Madeline Bailey, and was followed by a bright little solo by Sadie Tumelty, "The Twilight Express." Francis Cassidy gave a reading, "Inasmuch," after which the "Twelve Months in Japan," given by Phyllis Stokloser, Francis Cassidy, Loreen Bennett, Mervyn Rutherford, Robert Bristol, Harley Smith, Harold Lowery, Jean Nickle, Jean Whytock, and Lorna Roberts.

A Japanese motion song, "We are your Japanese Cousins," was prettily rendered by Harley Smith, Phyllis Stokloser, Margaret Moon and Loreen Bennett, in costume.

Lorna Roberts gave the story of little Miss Chrysanthemum, and the hymn "Tell me the old, old story" was followed by the benedicaion by the leader, Mrs. H Bailey, who, with her assistants Mrs. Rutherford, Miss Garrett, and Mrs. Lowery, were highly complimented on the success of the afternoon and also of the progress made by the Mission Band throughout the year.

Nearly 7,500,000 acres in Soviet Russia were sown to flax this year.

MADOC W.M.S.

Mission Work in Korea is Chief Topic of Session.

MADOC, Oct. 10—(Examiner Correspondence).—The regular meeting of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church was held at the home of Mrs. George Maybee on Thursday afternoon, October 1st, with a good attendance. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Ashley and Mrs. Harrison read "The Man of Silence" (James), after which prayer was led by Mrs. J. Henderson. Mrs. Dafoe gave the minutes of the last meeting and roll call was answered by verses using the word, "Peace."

After some discussion regarding life members, reports were received. Strangers' secretary reported 18 calls, and Mrs. Bristol for temperance reminded the members of the S.S. work to be started at once. Mrs. Maybee for Christian Stewardship gave some thoughts on giving. Mission work in Korea was dealt with by Mesdames Ashley, Rutherford, Huffman, McMechan and Nickle. A beautiful duet "Wonderful Love" was given by Mrs. Maybee, Sr., and Mrs. Huffman. Heralds of the Watchtower, Mesdames L. Ashley, Maybee, and Miss Wood reported news from Indians, Africa, and Trinidad, also Mrs. Huffman for general news. The Doxology and afternoon tea closed a pleasant afternoon.

APSLEY SEEKING GRANT FOR RELIEF

List Shows 162 Jobless, of Whom 78 Are Married—$8,000 is Request.

APSLEY, October 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Russell Hales, the Reeve of Chandos, is making a determined effort to secure a grant from the Unemployment Relief Fund for his municipality. A list of the unemployed has been prepared showing 162 men who are seeking work this winter, of whom 78 are married with dependent children numbering 245. An application will be made for a grant of $8,000 to be expended in road work this winter.

While the prospects of securing a grant are not very bright, according to the view of those who should be in a position to know, it is felt that the effort will be worth while, even if it only results in bringing the condition of these back townships to the notice of the Government.

The latest addition to Apsley's street improvements is the erection of a "silent policeman" to guide the traffic at the corner of Wellington and Burleigh Roads. Councillor John Coones made and erected the sign, the lettering being done by N. Emmal. A "stop" sign will also Mr Coones states, be placed at the end of the Wellington Road.

SOURCE OF AL CAPONE'S MONEY QUESTION OF INCOME TAX TRIAL

Prosecution Charges $80,000 Telegraphed to Gangster in Miami in 1928-29.

Sun Beau Is Best Of Money-Winners

CHICAGO, Ill., October 9 (C. P.). — They all say horses and horse players die "broke," but not old Sun Beau.

Packing the fattest one-horse roll in all turf history, he munched his oats in peace and contentment to-day — through with racing for ever, and hailed as the wonder thoroughbred of the age.

He was given a rousing farewell yesterday when he crushed Mate by a length and a half in the mile and a quarter dash for his last stake — the $25,000 Hawthorne Gold Cup. The triumph added $20,000 to his all-time winnings, making it $376,744 for five years of campaigning.

CARRIED HUGE ROLES.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct 10. (CP)—The "money from home" that enabled Al Capone to live in the manner to which he was accustomed while wintering in Florida today was a subject for interrogation, clarification and objection at his income tax trial.

The Government had read into the records some $80,000 worth of telegraphic money orders which passed in 1928 and 1929 between Chicago and Miami. The gang chief's relationship to most of them was that of ultimate recipient, the prosecution charged.

Where the money came from was a subject barely touched on yesterday—the first order of business to-day. A sending blank transmitting $1,500 to Capone and signed "Same Cusick" was identified by a Western Union employee and then court adjourned for the day. The witness said he did not know the sender.

Aide in Jail

(Sam Cusick, an alleged lieutenant in the Capone liquor-gambling-vice syndicate, is now serving a one year sentence in Leavenworth Penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to evading income taxes).

The Miami end of the telegraphic transactions was pretty well exhausted as a matter of court record. Capone's own attorneys helped to speed up the matter by agreeing that the money orders were bona fide, that the sums up to $5,000 were undoubtedly transmitted, but they argued unsuccessfuly that orders were immaterial and irrelevant to the case.

"The fact that a man had money," said Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, "and that he paid money out would seem to be a least a circumstance that there was money coming in."

Government evidence purported to show that Capone, while living in Florida, received under various names sums ranging from $300 to $5,000. Every few days money transfers arrived from Chicago. During a normal week the amount was from $1,500 to $2,000.

Florida was not the only place where Capone had and spent money, according to prosecution witnesses.

Carried Huge Rolls

Fred Avery, former manager of the Metropole Hotel in Chicago, said that Capone carried huge rolls of currency, while a resident in the establishment, gave $5 tips to bell boys, occupied an eight-room suite, and once "threw a $3,000 party lasting two days."

Expenses for "incidentals" originating in the Capone suite were also recounted. The hotel record, identified by MacRamsay Smith, a former clerk and assistant cashier, showed payments as high as $1,633.

The money spent in purchasing and improving a palatial home for the Capone family at Miami Beach, Fla., was another matter of much discussion. The down payment of $10,000, which a witness said came from Capone's capacious pocket, was only about half of the amount spent in building a swimming pool, wall around the premises, and "exotic gardens," the prosecution declared.

World Series Notes

Pepper Martin's autograph is the most sought after at Sportsman's Park. Grand stand patrons yesterday presented him score cards, envelopes and note books to sign. Pepper signed without protest, although he had little time for fielding practice, which, however, didn't seem to bother him in his work. He handled his only fielding chance without effort.

The bleacherites shouted long and loudly for the band to play "The St. Louis Blues" yesterday. Last night the old town had "the St. Louis Blues" in a big way.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR NO. 102

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Months had passed. The labor of the Waziri and the gold of Opar had rebuilt and refurnished the wasted homestead of the Greystokes. Once more the simple life of the great African farm went on as it had before the coming of the Belgian and the Arab. Forgotten were the sorrows and dangers of yesterday. For the first time in months Lord Greystoke felt that he might indulge in a holiday, and so a great hunt was organized that the faithful laborers might feast in celebration of the completion of their work.

In itself the hunt was a success, and ten days later a well-laden "safari" took up its return march toward the Waziri plain. Lord and Lady Greystoke with Basuli and Mugambi rode together at the head of the column, laughing and talking together about the coming feast. Jane Clayton's horse shied suddenly at an object half hidden in the long grasses of an open space in the jungle. Tarzan's keen eyes sought quickly for the reason. "What's this!" he cried, swinging from his saddle. A moment later the four were grouped about a human skull and a litter of whitened bones.

Tarzan stooped and lifted a leathern pouch from the grisly relics of a man. The hard outlines of the contents brought an exclamation of surprise to his lips. "The jewels of Opar," he cried, holding his pouch aloft, and, pointing to the bones at his feet, "all that remains of Werper, the Belgian." Mugambi laughed. "Look within, Bwana," he cried "and you will see what are the jewels of Opar—you will see what the Belgian gave his life for," and the black laughed aloud.

"Why do you laugh?" asked Tarzan. "Because, replied Mugambi, "I filled the Belgian's pouch with river gravel before I escaped from the Abyssinians' camp. I brought away the real jewels. That they were afterwards stolen from me is my shame and disgrace. But, anyway, the Belgian lost them. Tarzan had untied the thong. The contents trickled forth into his palm, a stream of brilliant, scintillating gems. "The jewels of Opar," cried Tarzan. "But how did Werper come by them again?" None could answer. Both Chulk and Werper were dead and no other knew.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 1

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Nkima danced excitedly upon the naked, brown shoulder of his master. He chattered and scolded, now looking up inquiringly into Tarzan's face and then off into the jungle. "Something is coming, Bwana," said Muviro, sub-chief of the Waziri. "Nkima has heard it." "It's a party of men," said Tarzan. "Perhaps they are not friendly," suggested the black. "Shall I warn the warriors?"

Tarzan glanced about the camp where a score of his black fighting men were busy preparing their evening meal and saw that, as was the custom of the Waziri, their weapons were in order and at hand. "No," he said. "It will, I believe, be unnecessary, as these people who are approaching do not come as enemies would, nor are their numbers great." The advance of the strangers was now audible.

A tall, black warrior was the first of the party to come within sight of the camp. When he saw the Waziri he halted and an instant later a bearded white man came forward, making the sign of peace. Out of the jungle a dozen or more blacks followed him. Most of them were porters, there being but three or four rifles in evidence. The Waziri realized at once that it was a small and harmless party.

"Doctor von Harben!" exclaimed Tarzan, as the stranger approached. "I scarcely recognized you at first. What brings you into Tarzan's country, Doctor? I hope it is only a neighborly visit and that no trouble has come to you." "I, too, wish that it were nothing more than a friendly call," said von Harben, "but as a matter of fact I am here to seek your help because I am in serious trouble, I fear."

Weddings

JAQUITH—BUCK.

KINGSTON, October 10 (Special to The Examiner).—A wedding was solemnized in Grace United Church, Sydenham, on Tuesday evening, when Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth united in marriage Lila Edna Buck, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Earl J. Buck to Kenneth Jaquith, only son of Edward Jaquith, Peterborough, and the late Mrs. Jaquith. The bride looked charming in a gown of dark blue lace with shoes and stockings to match. The couple were attended by Miss Edith Barclay, who wore a gown of pussy willow crepe with shoes and stockings to match and Robert Barclay. After the ceremony the couple left by motor for the home of the bride at Harrowsmith, where a delightful wedding supper was served to the immediate relatives and friends. After a short honeymoon, Mr and Mrs. Jaquith will reside in Sydenham.

Plowing Match Special

A Cordial Invitation

Arrangements are now almost completed, and citizens have been very generous with their contributions and prizes. The committees have worked hard for months, and now urge that all district plowmen, who possibly can, enter the County Contest on Tuesday next and the International events Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

THE PRIZE LIST IS THE BEST THAT HAS EVER BEEN OFFERED TO THE FARMERS OF ONTARIO.

The County Match consists of fifteen classes, divided in such a way that nearly all plowmen are sure to win. Boys under 16 will all get a prize. The other classes are divided so that new men will not have to compete with those who have already done plowing at previous matches.

The same obtains in the International Contests. Consequently, the committees have every reason to urge plowmen to enter, so as to help make for this year's match and the County of Peterborough an outstanding record in the history of Plowing Matches in the Province of Ontario.

There will be plenty of teams and tractors for all who wish to enter.

J. J. DUFFUS, Chairman J. B. NELSON, Secretary

CHINESE WANT ENEMY TROOPS MOVED AT ONCE

Dr. Sze States Failure in This Means More in Future Cases.

WAR AT STANDSTILL.

Direct Negotiations with Chinese Are Demanded by Japanese Delegate.

GENEVA, Oct. 13.—(A.P.)—The League of Nations Council heard both sides of the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria to-day and adjourned until to-morrow or later without taking action.

Dr. Alfred Sze, representing China, demanded that the League act against what he called Japanese military aggression, not only in the interests of peace in Manchuria, but on the grounds that "unless we can co-operate in this grave emergency, we shall fail to instill any confidence in International security and order."

Kenkichi Yoshizawa, the Japanese spokesman, insisted on continuing direct negotiations with China, and disavowed his Government's responsibility for the Manchurian troubles.

"China never will accept direct negotiations," Dr. Sze said, "as long as Japanese troops remain illegally on Chinese soil. China still leaves this affair in the hands of the League."

Ideas Linked

"And with the idea of disarmament goes the whole idea of international security, for the two are indissolubly linked. If we fail now, when America offers her co-operation, and fail in February with disarmament, what chance have we of working out some form of permanent association, some provision for a conference under the Kellog pact to avert threats to peace?

"However remote and irrelevant this disturbance in the far east may seem to the west engrossed in its pressing cares, the web of fate binds us all together and unless we can co-operate effectively in this grave emergency, we shall fail in disarmament, we shall fail to instill any confidence in international security and order, and by the same

WAILS OF BABY SAVE FAMILY

Mother Collapses After Saving Children From Deadly Gas Fumes.

FATHER AT WORK.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 13.—The faint cries of a three-month-old baby girl were the means of saving the lives of a Stratford family of six yesterday, when deadly carbon monoxide gas from the furnace filled the house and threatened to claim the family, which slept soundly, unaware that anything was wrong until the mother was awakened through the cries of her baby.

To-day Mrs. Lowe Kenendy, 65 Strachan street, is on the road to recovery after having been overcome by the fumes. She was considered to be in a very serious condition, but the attending physician stated at noon that she was out of danger. The children were not affected to the extent of the mother and are up and around to-day as usual. The father, Lowe Kennedy, a C.N.R. railroadman had left the house late Sunday night and had gone on his run.

WELSH RODEO OPENS IN CITY

Pleasing Program Was Provided Last Night in Brock Street Rink.

HERE ALL WEEK.

Bronc riding may be all in a day's work for the Welsh Brothers and their rodeo companions at the Brock street rink, but the depression will have to get a lot worse before these Western men need fear any competition. There are too many spills and tosses to that game, at least there were last night when the Welsh Brothers renewed their acquaintance with Peterborough after the hit they made at the local Exhibition last year. One of the riders, Ranger Granger of Vulcan, Alberta, in a bare back break away hung on till his horse reached the north end of the rink where he was thrown over its head for a heavy fall on his shoulder. After the performance it was reported that he was not seriously hurt and would be out again to-night.

Welsh Brothers will be at the Brock street rink every night this week. Coming east again this year their bookings are still running. Last week they were at Leamington, and from here they go to Ottawa all next week, and if last night's program is a good sample of their show they should please all their old friends and many of the visitors who are here for the Plowing Match. The only disappointment last night was in the high jumping due to the fact that the earth and sawdust covering the floor was too loose to afford secure footing. That condition will be corrected to-night by taking up an additional stretch of the floor and leaving the solid earth for the take offs.

Three horses were sent out for the jumps, "Lady Gray" with Louis Welsh riding, "Pirate" under Bobby Watson and "Two Step" with Jose Welsh in the saddle. They are three beautiful animals, and instantly ap-

COURT OFFICIAL FAILS IN ESCAPE AFTER ARREST

Held on Drunk Driving Count R. A. Sage Caught Going Out Window.

FREED ON $500 BAIL.

Companion, Deputy Bailiff in Same Detroit Court, Arrested Also.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct 13 (CP)—An attempt to escape from custody was balked by provincial police when they caught Robert A. Sage, Commissioner of the Detroit Circuit Court, trying to climb through a window at the police barracks. Sage had just been arrested for drunk driving, following an auto crash on Howard Avenue, Roseland. He was temporarily confined in an office of the police headquarters, while bail for him was being discussed. He put up no struggle when detected in his effort to get away.

Sage, together with Clifford Martz of 1715 Field Ave., Detroit, a deputy bailiff in the same court, who is charged with being drunk, will appear in Sandwich Police Court Wednesday morning. Sage is at liberty on $500 property bail, and Martz also gave a property bond.

As Commissioner of the Detroit Circuit Court, Sage has important duties, such as the selection of jurors. Some years ago he was widely known as a middleweight boxer. At that time he fought under the name of "fighting Bob" Sage. Later he became an attorney and secured his court appointment

NEW COASTGUARD CRUISER DOCKS IN PETERBORO', BUILT IN ORILLIA

117 FEET LONG.

One of the largest craft ever in local waters—the Customs Cruiser Adversus of Ottawa in command of Engr.-Lieut.-Commander Charles Stephen, R.N. (Ret.)—tied up at George Street Government Wharf on Saturday afternoon. Bound from Orillia to Montreal and Sydney, Nova Scotia for service with the Preventive Branch of the Department of National Revenue, the craft left her berth at daybreak on Monday. Throughout her stay here she was an object of admiration to hundreds of people, who visited the wharf by car and afoot in a continuous stream.

The cruiser has just recently come off the stocks at the shipbuilding yards of Ditchburn Boats Limited at Orillia, and is the first of a new type of coast guard patrol boats for the Government. She is a vessel of exceedingly strong construction built to withstand the exceptional weather conditions which she is likely to encounter off the Nova Scotian coast. The prow is heavily steel plated, while the wheel house and navigating bridge similarly constructed, has the appearance of a submarine conning tower being entirely enclosed to afford protection from the elements. Her hull and superstructures are a greeny-grey color, common to that in use by the Imperial War Department.

Length 117 Feet

Every inch of her one hundred and seventeen feet length is suggestive of speed—a speed that was not divulged to the press by her commander. She is powered with two 8-cylinder Winton-Deisell engines, each with a potential h.p. of 365 at 400 r.p.m., she also has an auxiliary Gardner-Deisel engine. Throughout all the machinery is duplicated Tanks provide storage space for 7,500 gallons of fuel oil. One of Tampa Bank Fails; All Paid in Full, Plus 8 per Cent.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 13.—Here's a new sort of story about bank failures.

The Bank of Tampa closed January 19, 1911, and J. A. Griffin was appointed receiver.

To-day he filed his final report, showing all depositors were paid the full amount of their deposits and 8 per cent. interest besides.

After all that was done, a balance of $3,095 was left and this was paid over to the State Treasury.

Through Traffic Is Detoured On Highway

Through traffic on the Peterborough-Port Hope highway is being detoured between Scott's Corners and Tully's service station, from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. until the International Plowing match is concluded Friday evening.

This morning Traffic Officer A. E. Hornick was stationed at the east end of the closed section, and at the west end Traffic Officer Allister Lawrence of the Lindsay-Peterborough beat was directing cars by the temporary route, which is designed to avoid accidents and also for the convenience of all persons attending the match. Cars going to the plowing match are passed at each end where ticket sellers are located to enable the public to reach the grounds with the least delay. Traffic Officer Byles of Belleville has also been transferred to this section to assist in the control of traffic during the days of the plowing match.

In this detail the arrangements seemed to be perfect this morning, and cars moved along without the least delay.

Wolves Resume Raids in Haliburton; Farmer Loses Two Cattle—Deer Suffer

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 13.—(CP)—Wolves are causing farmers of Haliburton County uneasiness according to James Hutchinson, farmer of the district, who reported a pack of wolves had killed two of his cattle recently.

Wolves are also playing havoc with the deer in the district, he said, and losses of cattle by other farmers have been reported. He blames the depredations of wolves for ending the sheep industry in Haliburton County.

BATTLE WITH SOCIALISM ITSELF, SETTING UP PROTECTIVE TARIFFS ARE TWO MAIN ELECTION ISSUES

Danger of Socialist Rings Mainspring of Tory and Liberal Pacts

NOMINATIONS FRIDAY.

Tory Opposition to Samuel and MacLean Alarm Liberal Free Traders.

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(CP Staff Writer)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(CP).—In the swiftly changing picture of this most confused of British general elections two clear issues are emerging:

(1) A fundamental battle with socialism itself.

(2) The establishment of protective tariffs.

The "danger" of the return of the Socialists rings from a thousand Government platforms up and down the land. It is the mainspring of the pacts between Conservatives and National-Liberals which are every day eliminating more and more perilous three-cornered fights.

Nominations are only three days away—Friday — and the polling takes place on October 27, just two weeks from today.

Defeat Socialism.

"The first issue is the urgent necessity to complete the defeat of Socialism," declares Rt. Hon Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"How many free traders are there in this country who really prefer a Socialist victory at the polls to the risk of some modification of our fiscal practice at the hands of the National Government," 'echoes Sir John Simon, leader of the protectionist Liberal faction supporting the Government.

The selection of Conservative candidates to oppose Sir Herbert Samuel and Sir Donald MacLean, members of the National Government, because they remain free traders, has filled the old free trade Liberals with alarm. They see in Conservative platform declarations an attempt to secure election to the House of Commons a bloc powerful enough to establish a system of permanent protective tariffs despite any opposition the Samuel Liberals might offer.

"The Conservative Party's aim," said the Liberal News-Chronicle today, "is to make itself sufficiently powerful in the new Parliament as to sweep away all opposition and so

GERMAN POLICY TO BE UPHELD

Bruening Presents New Cabinet to Representatives of the People

WANTS PRACTICAL DEEDS.

BERLIN, Oct. 13—(AP)—Germany's foreign policy of reconciliation remains unchanged, Chancellor Heinrich Bruening told the Reichstag immediately after presenting his new cabinet to the representatives of the people today.

"I shall continue the foreign policy in the spirit of the conversations of the last few months especially the most recent Franco-German conversations," he declared as the opening of the Reichstag session.

"The Reich's Government does not expect salvation solely through international negotiations, or with the aid of foreign countries but Germany during the past decade has experienced more than all her neighbors how the unsolved problems of the world have increased domestic distress to the limits of what is bearable and have nourished a growing despair in all sections of our people.

"That is why Germany has a right to appeal to all the peoples of the world at last to translate their efforts for an understanding into common effort into practical deeds."

Sing Sing Inmates Have Rugby Teams

OSSINING, N.Y., Oct. 13.—(C.P.)—Football has come to Sing Sing, but the teams won't make any road trips.

Warden Lawes thinks the game will do the prisoners good—"Teach them to play according to rules," he explained.

Two dozen football outfits have been donated. The Warden said the teams would be coached by several High School and College men among the prisoners.

One advantage Warden Lawes sees in prison football over the college kind, is that the alumni is hardly likely to squawk about the way the team is handled.

MAN WOUNDED WHILE HUNTING

Victim Receives Full Charges in Legs and Side as Gun Goes Off.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL.

LINDSAY, Oct. 13. (Special to The Examiner).—A serious shooting occurred on Saturday evening at Little Bobs Lake, eight miles from Minden, Haliburton County Mr. H. P Blunt of the teaching staff of Upper Canada College, Toronto, being the victim.

Mr. and Mrs. Blunt and party at the time, were in the northland enjoying a week-end duck hunt.

At the time of the accident Mr. Blunt was occupying a position on a ledge of rock, which gave way precipitating him about fifteen feet In the fall the gun was discharged, the contents of both barrels entering Mr. Blunt's left leg and knee. A number of the pellets also lodged in his chin and chest.

For three hours the injured man lay where he fell until one of his companions, M. K. Parlee, paddled two miles across the lake for help, afterwards having to carry Mr. Blunt through the bush without even a trail, for a distance of three miles, in order to get in communication with Dr. Frain, of Haliburton, who after attending to the injured man ordered the ambulance from Lindsay. The victim was taken to Toronto General Hospital.

Mr. Blunt's injuries are a critical nature, and grave fears were expressed that he might lose his leg.

KIWANIS FAIR IS PROVIDING GOOD PROGRAMS

Produced-in-Canada Exhibition Opened in Armouries Last Night.

TWO SHOWS NIGHTLY.

Pat Rafferty and Charles Reeves Are on the Program Each Evening.

Bigger and better than ever and coming fully up to the expectations of its sponsors and patrons the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Annual Exhibition opened last evening for a full week's run and was well attended by an appreciative number of spectators.

Gay with bunting, bright in its illumination and decoration, and resounding to the droll patter of an inimitable couple of comedians, and the applause of the audience, the Armouries was completely transformed from its customary impression of a cavernous emptiness.

The comedians referred to, and who absolutely won the affection of last nights audiences, are none less than Charles Jeeves and Pat Rafferty of the original "Dumbells Company." Gloom is non-existant in the face of their continuous barrage of cross-talk and patter, their comic songs and sketches to say nothing of the original antics of Pat, whether he appears as the convict or half wit or whether he happens to take a rise out of his more sedate companion Charles. They are accompanied at the piano by Miss Yokum and in some of the sketches last night also had the assistance of Art Blade who showed unsuspected histrionic ability.

Two shows nightly are being presented by these entertainers throughout the week—shows that will be varied each night, and which will be supported by a strong array of local talent. To-night for instance Rafferty, Jeeves and Yokum head the bill along with St. Paul's Choir also a male quartette and male chorus under the direction of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O. On no two nights during the entire period of the exhibition will a similar program of entertainment be given.

Noted improvements are evident this year in the construction of the stage at the west end of the hall and in the sound equipment under

WINDSOR PLANS BEING PREPARED

Hope to Start Building Housing Gov't Services, in Few Months.

To Cost Nearly $1,000,000.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct 13.—(CP)—Plans for a public building at Windsor, Ont., to house the various services of the Dominion Government in that city, are being prepared by the Department of Public Works. It is expected the work will cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars, or perhaps more. The present building which is too small to accommodate the postoffice, customs office and immigration offices, is to be demolished and the new building will be erected on the same site in which the Government has considerable land not covered by the present structure.

Tenders will be called for demolishing the existing building as soon as temporary accommodation can be secured, and it is hoped that the work will begin within a very few months. Although the plans have not been finally approved it is expected the building will contain in the neighborhood of six storeys and be a fireproof and imposing structure.

New Record Is Set For Opening Day Of Plowing Match

Inter-County Competitions Open First Day of Great International Plowing Match—Entry List Largest in Association's History.

OFFICERS OF PROVINCIAL AND LOCAL ASSOCIATIONS ARE DELIGHTED WITH INITIAL SUCCESS OF THE MATCH

One record was broken this morning at the opening of the International Plowing Matching and Farm Machine Demonstration which is being held under the auspices of the Ontario Plowmen's Association two miles west of Peterborough this week.

The first record to topple was the entry list for the opening day which is customarily assigned to a local or sectional match. Today's competitions are confined to the four counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough and Victoria. They were held on the farm of Byron Williamson near Brealey's school in the 12th concession of North Monaghan, north of Hendren's fox farm.

Officers of the provincial and local plowmen's associations were delighted with this initial success, which they regarded as a favorable augury for the week.

J. Lockie Wilson of Toronto, secretary and managing director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association and the international match, D. A. McIntyre of Alvinston, president of the provincial association, J. J. Duffus, president of the Peterborough county plowmen's association, J. B. Nelson, secretary of the local committee, and others all expressed themselves as highly pleased with the immediate outlook for the week and with the interest displayed by so many plowmen from the four counties.

New Record for First Day

They were also unanimous in declaring the number of entries a new record for the first day of the big match.

"We are getting away to an auspicious start" said Mr. Duffus. "This is the biggest entry list we

HISTORY OF DAY.

Rotarians Hear Romantic Story of First Thanksgiving of Pilgrim Fathers.

Pointing out that Thanksgiving Day, after having been merged since the war with a celebration of Armistice Day, had just been re-established this year, Rotarian Rev. Dr C. V. McLean of St. Andrew's Church, in addressing his fellow members at the weekly Rotary luncheon today, urged that the occasion should be made notable by special consideration for parents and elders generally, as Christmas was a special day for the children

Rev. Dr. McLean expressed his approval of the return to the old custom of setting apart a day for thanksgiving, separate altogether from thoughts of the war, feeling that it should be a day of philanthropy, and his hope that the New England practice of making a day when elder people were especially thought of would be followed

The speaker related the history of Thanksgiving Day in a most interesting manner. Its origin could be traced back many hundreds of years to the valleys of the Nile and the Euphrates, where every month on the return of the new moon there was rejoicing and feasting. The thanksgiving of the England of the middle ages was planned by Rev. Dr. McLean befor

ACCIDENTS LAID TO MAN FAILURE

Psychiatrist Urges Avoiding Unhappiness in Work—Produces Fatigue.

LEADS TO INACCURACY.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 13—Dr. Harold S. Halbert, Chicago phychiatrist told the National Safety Congress to-day that "ninety-five per cent. of all accidents are due to man failure."

"Thinking of safety in the presence of danger," the psychiatrist said, "is not so important as clear thinking at work, and avoiding the diversion of attention to personal problems."

This "man failure," Dr. Halbert pointed out, was not one of insanity or continuous mental incompetency, but thoughtless and carelessness.

Avoid unhappiness in your work, he said. "This produces fatigue and fatigue contributes toward inaccuracy and accidents.

CARS WRECKED IN COLLISIONS

Three Accidents Occurred on the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway on Monday.

CHARGES TO BE LAID.

Three accidents on the Peterborough-Port Hope highway were investigated Monday by Traffic Officer A. E. Hornick.

Turning out to pass an oil truck near the main gate of the plowing match headquarters, Robert Innis collided with a car driven by George Howarth of Peterborough. The two automobiles met almost head on, and both radiators and front fenders were deeply dented with considerable damage to each car Mr. Howarth suffered chest injuries Mr. Innis will face a charge of reckless driving. The Examiner was informed today.

Completely Wrecked

At the Millbrook turn a Norwood and Toronto car crashed on the holiday about 4 p.m. The Toronto car was driven by Herbert Thilthorpe, who was accompanied by his wife and daughter and Frederick Cope. In the Norwood car was Mrs. Mary Fennell with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark. As their car reached the highway it collided with Thilthorpe's which was almost completely wrecked as it was rolled over sideways and landed again on all four wheels. Mr Thilthorpe and his family were returning home from a week-end outing, and their car was interiorly fortified with bedding, a condition which is said to have been a chief factor in preventing serious injuries to the occupants. Mrs. Thilthorpe was said to have a wrenched back, but the other members of the party escaped with only the shock of their alarming experience.

The right front fender, the radiator, spindle bolts and other frontal parts of Mrs. Fennell's car were damaged

The third of these cluster of holiday mishaps occurred at 6:15 p.m on the stretch of highway near the plowing match farms. D. Arthur Campbell of Toronto, according to The Examiner's information, crashed into the rear of a waggon which was driven by Stuart Nelson of Keene Mr. Nelson was thrown from his seat, the wagon rolled over him, and his team of horses ran away. They broke through a road fence, and one of them was not found until after ten o'clock Monday night. It is understood that Mr. Campbell will be charged with reckless driving.

FIERY APPEAL BY MACDONALD STIRS MINERS

Seeks to Justify His Leadership and Stand in National Gov't.

OPPOSES SCHOOL MASTER.

Repartee Silences Hecklers Suggesting He is Too Old for Job

LONDON, Oct. 13. —(AP)— Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, three times Premier of Great Britain, stumped the coal mining region of Durham today, continuing his three-day struggle to defend his parliamentary constituency against a 47-year-old schoolmaster.

He spoke to 2,000 miners and their families at Easington last night in an effort to justify his leadership of the National Government and his economy measures against the attacks of William Coxon, secretary of the Labor executive that nominated him and his only opponent for re-election.

Simplifies Problems

Reducing complex problems of national and international import to 'simple problems of housekeeping —Government housekeeping,' he asked his hearers to return him to the House of Commons so that he might finish the job of reinstating Great Britain in her place in the sun.

He tried to show them that world confidence in the British financial structure meant world confidence in the British citizen, that the inflation of British currency meant a deflation in the individual's standard of living, that if the Government did not make ends meet the people could not make ends meet.

"You don't eat pounds,' he said at one point, "you don't wear pounds. Your shillings are worth only what you buy.

"Men and women of humble circumstances, you who have never been forced to deal with these great problems, I want you to go out as apostles to the coal pits, the street corners and home fireplaces to explain the situation."

Silences Hecklers

He silenced his hecklers with forthright language and when a young blade insinuated he was getting too old for his position, he retored:

"Perhaps you would be willing to take over the job. My youth is being renewed by my reception here. During the last few weeks I have worked harder than ever. I have exhausted a half-dozen assistants and am still going strong."

Over in Seaham, Coxon, fat and jolly, sat before his fireplace in shirt-sleeves and carpet slippers and told how he would be victorious and how the "money magnates would have to find MacDonald a safe constituency in Parliament.'

"MacDonald's mantle will fall on Coxon," he said. "The pupil will dethrone the teacher, who has grown old and perhaps decrepit."

Policeman Obliging; Cranks Thief's Car

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 13. — Juan Pita, known as "hard face," recently robbed a silk store of its entire stock, loaded it into a motor truck and then got a policeman to crank the engine prior to driving away with the loot. Juan was arrested last night while trying to steal automobile tires. The policeman who arrested him was the one who cranked the truck.

FERGUSON GIVEN WIDER POWERS

Now Has Control Over All Canadian Gov't Officials in United Kingdom.

SAILS ON WEDNESDAY.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13 —Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, High Commissioner for Canada in London, will leave for England on Wednesday with added authority conferred upon him by the Dominion Government. He will now exercise considerable control over all Canadian Government offices and officials in the United Kingdom, and will be generally responsible for Canadian policies in the Old Country.

With Increased Authority

An Order-in-Council has been passed respecting the enlarged status of the High Commissioner, who will have charge, supervision and control over all officials in the Departments of Trade and Commerce, Immigration, Pensions and National Health and Agriculture who are in the United Kingdom.

Following conversations between Premier Bennett and Mr Ferguson, the Cabinet, upon recommendation of the Prime Minister felt that the High Commissioner should have a large voice in respect to Canadian policy in the Old Country, and that services of the various departments of the Canadian Government over there should be co-ordinated instead of being operated as watertight compartments and administered entirely from Ottawa.

Immigration And Trade.

The Department of Immigration maintains offices in the larger centres of population, while the medical officers who examine intending emigrants in the United Kingdom before they book their passages are under the Department of Pensions and National Health. The Department of Trade and Commerce has a corps of Trade Commissioners and other officials in all the large cities and the Department of Agriculture maintains a number of officials who have to do with the marketing of Canadian products in the Old Land.

Precisely what degree of control Mr. Ferguson is to have over all these officials, numbering several hundred, is not defined. That will have to develop in actual practice. Previously, Canadian Government officials in the United Kingdom have not relished the idea of being under the High Commissioner, and departmental heads at Ottawa have been jealous of their authority. So the details of the new plan will have to be worked out. Mr. Ferguson is a man of large experience in the affairs of government, and the Prime Minister of Canada has every confidence that new methods will make for the more efficient handling of Canada's business with the Motherland.

LEAGUE COUNCIL PROBES TROUBLE IN MANCHURIA

Chinese Representative Claims Failure Means Collapse of World Peace.

Defends Country's Action.

Gen. Chang Withdraws Troops in Face of Japan's Warning.

GENEVA, Oct. 13 (A.P.)—The League Council convened at noon to-day to consider the dispute between China and Japan over the occupation of Manchuria, with Foreign Minister Briand of France in the chair.

M. Briand was substituting for Foreign Minister Alejandro Lerroux of Spain, who was unable to be present to occupy his post at President of the Council. Lord Reading was representing Great Britain and Dino Grandi was the delegate for Italy. Other nations represented were Germany, Poland, Spain and Jugoslavia.

The chairman reviewed the events leading up to the conflict, and recalled the promises of both parties not to aggravate the situation. He said the Council's hopes for a pacific settlement unhappily had not been realized.

China's Case

Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese delegate, declared in an emotional appeal for the League's intervention that the entire edifice of world peace would collapse if the League failed to settle the controversy.

The Chinese attitude has been calm and loyal, while awaiting the League's work of justice and peace, he said in English. He invoked the covenant and the Kellogg Pact, and declared that security and disarmament would crash if the League failed to perform its duty.

Troops Withdrawn

TOKYO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Military reports from Mukden today said the Chinese troops of Chang Hsueh-Liang were withdrawing from Manchuria, his domain, to a point south of the Great Wall in the face of a "strict warning" from Japan against possible repetition of a clash with Japanese forces of occupation.

The warning reputedly stated that in the event of another attack similar to that at Chinchow where Chinese troops allegedly fired upon Japanese airplanes and forced them to bomb the city as a defensive measure, "the responsibility for the aftermath rests entirely upon the Chinese."

Reports said the warning was

CHINA DRAFTING REPLY TO JAPAN

Message States as Both Are Members of League Peace Should be Sought.

DELIVERED WEDNESDAY.

NANKING, Oct. 13 (A.P.)—Pinning its hopes on possible action by the League of Nations to settle its dispute with Japan over the occupation of Manchuria, China to-day drafted a reply to a warning from Tokyo against anti-Japanese demonstrations.

It was learned from a high official quarter that the reply, to be delivered tomorrow, would reiterate that the Japanese invasion of Southern Manchuria was a violation of international agreements, and would contend that the occupation constituted a state of war.

The Chinese reply was understood also to contend that both the Chinese and Japanese Governments, being members of the League and signatories to the Kellogg Pact renouncing war, should seek a peaceful solution of the disputes, but that the League had asked Japan to withdraw her troops from Manchuria and Japan had not complied.

The reply also was expected to state that the Chinese Government never had offered armed resistance and had kept the feeling of the Chinese people in check, protected Japanese lives and property, and fulfilled her promises to the League.

The Chinese Government says there at present are 25 Japanese warships on the Yangtse River.

Roasted 'Hoppers Are Great Delicacy

AUBURN, N.Y., Oct. 13. — Grasshoppers, when freshly roasted and "dry and crisp" are a great delicacy, Dr. Paul Harrison, medical missionary in Arabia, said to-day.

Al Capone's $700 Worth of Apparel Touched Off With $275 Belt Buckle

FEDERAL BUILDING, CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—What the well-dressed gangster wears, including a $155 custom-made suit and a $275 diamond belt-buckle, was brought out in full detail yesterday at Al Capone's trial on income-tax evasion charges. Also the prosperous gangster is expected to do his Christmas shopping early, extensively and without stint, the testimony of a dozen Chicago department store clerks indicated. Capone, for instance, was said by the clerks to have selected such gifts for friends as $400 silverware sets, $150 overcoats and $20 beaded bags by the score. Capone, biggest gangster of them all, was said by the clerks to ordinarily wear about $700 worth of fine raiment. His customary dress, according to the testimony, included a $27.50 shirt with $1 monogram, $4.95 tie, $2 collar, $135 suit, $150 overcoat, $275 belt-buckle, $10 suit of silk underwear, $20 hat, $20 shoes and $2 socks.

And when the testimony was completed for the day, it was revealed that Capone started out in life at a rather lowly position—tending bar in a saloon at Coney Island, New York. That evidence was given by Henry E. Keller of Miami Beach, Fla., who built a boat dock on Capone's winter estate and often lunched with "Mr. Al."

Long Hours Of Sleep Overtake Edison

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 13 (CP)—Long hours of heavy sleep have come to Thomas Edison—he who labored indefatigably most of his 84 years on a meagre five hours of rest a day.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, the inventor's physician, said to-day the "Wizard's" resistance to the complication of diseases from which he suffers has been "amazing."

"His heart is good," said Dr. Howe, "but he is definitely failing, day by day".

Six teaspoonsful of stewed pears was the only nourishment the dying man could take yesterday, Dr. Howe said. This, he added, is not enough to maintain his strength against the combination of ailments.

Guard Given Members Of Free State Gov't

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 13 (C.P.)—Members of the Free State Government arrived to-day under strong guard to participate in the debate over the Public Safety Bill, scheduled to be introduced in the Dail to-morrow.

The measure would establish military courts to try political crimes and major offenses with the power to inflict capital punishment for homicide. It would also restrict the press from advocating violence or publishing reports regarding bodies whose activities are repugnant to the constitution.

ANGLER DROWNS NEAR ORILLIA

Toronto Man Suddenly Stands Up in Boat and Topples Out.

BODY NOT FOUND.

ORILLIA, Oct. 13.—Reported by his companions to have taken a fit and fallen from an outboard motor boat, Thomas Noton, aged 29 of 64 Cowan avenue, Toronto was drowned in Lake Couchiching yesterday.

According to his three companions Frank Samway, 513 Jones avenue, Toronto; John Robb Woodbrige, and John L. Hamer 40 Vermont avenue, Toronto, Noton suddenly stood erect and toppled into the water. He did not return to the surface.

Unable to rescue their companion the three men made for shore where they notified Provincial Constable Purvis. Dragging operations were conducted until after dark, without avail.

Noton who was of English birth was single and had no relatives in Canada. He was employed by the city of Toronto as a draughtsman.

The four men came up from the city earlier in the day on a fishing trip. Noton was with Samway in the outboard motor-boat when he apparently took a sick spell or fit, and, staggering to his feet, overboard.

The other man, unaccustomed to operating the motor, endeavored to take the boat back to the spot but succeeded only in stalling the motor.

The lake where the drowning occurred is 30 feet deep. If the body is found, an inquest will probably be conducted.

SHOT AT JUDGE PUZZLES POLICE

Bullet Perforates Clothing and Sears Side of Medicine Hat Man.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Oct. 13. —(CP)—Fired at by an unidentified assailant at midnight Saturday, Judge George W. Greene, district court circuit, miraculously escaped death and to-night police still were searching the whole territory for the gunman. No arrests have yet been made.

Reason for the attack on Judge Greene was puzzling to authorities and no explanation could be offered by the judge himself. There have been no recent disturbances in the district nor have any heavy sentences been meted out which might bring friends of convicted persons to seek revenge.

Judge Greene was working in the basement of his house when he heard the sound of someone walking over the grating which is situated over part of the basement exit to the outside and saw a man standing on the house property 15 feet from him.

As the judge appeared, a shot sounded and the assailant fled. Judge Green felt a burn on his left side, hurried into the house and notified police. Examination showed the bullet had pierced Judge Green's clothing on the left side at a level with the heart and had only torn the flesh slightly.

Mrs. Greene who was in the house with her daughter, did not hear the shot.

Alcohol Is Seized; Pair Held By Police

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct 13 —Herbert Sootheran and Edward McComb, both of this city, were arrested Sunday night by Provincial Sergeant Elliot and Officers Archer and Johnson of the Customs Preventive Service, and were arraigned yesterday on charges under the Inland Revenue Act. It is alleged that the two men were starting to remove 162 gallons of alcohol, said to have been smuggled into the Dominion. The alcohol was in a local garage, and the officers say they had been keeping it under surveillance for two days. The liquor was in one and five gallons tins, and is believed to have been smuggled into Canada in boats in the upper river. Smuggling of alcohol is said to have become prevalent recently, and this is said to be the first move in a drive to stop the traffic.

Innocent Soap Bar Makes Jail Mystery

WELLAND, Oct. 13.—An innocent bar of soap, wrapped in brown paper, created excitement yesterday afternoon among the officials and prisoners at the Welland County Jail. The packet was resting on the top of the high prison wall, and was noticed first by one of the inmates, who informed one of the guards. First thought was that it might be a bomb, while again it might have contained something to aid prisoners to escape. Officials investigated, and the turnkey took the package with due care from its resting-place. As it was opened gingerly, it was discovered that it was only a cake of soap.

PRESBYTERIANS OF BURNBRAE TO OBSERVE 91 ST ANNIVERSARY

St. Andrew's Church Had Its First Minister, Rev. Dr. R. Neill.

REV. K. C. NICOLL TO SPEAK

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Featuring the ninety first anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Burnbrae, on Sunday, Oct. 18, the guest preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. C. K. Nicoll, of Trenton, Moderator of Kingston Presbytery. Services will be held both morning and evening and will include special music by the choir. In connection with this celebration a fowl supper and entertainment will be staged on the evening of Oct. 20.

This occasion will mark ninety-one years of organized Presbyterianism in the township of Seymour, started away back in the early history of the settlement by staunch Scots who came as immigrants to Canada and settled in this portion of the continent.

The first minister was the Rev. Dr Robert Neill who was inducted into the charge in 1840 but worked two years before this coming into the district in 1838. He preached his first sermon in the store on the farm of the late Mr. Allan, west of Hoard's Station. From this point on the Presbyterian cause grew rapidly, churches being built at Campbellford, Hastings, Stirling and Warkworth. The first church at Burnbrae was built on the site of the present stricture in 1840, the land being donated by the late Thomas Ketcheson. This church served the congregation until 1866 when a fine stone structure was built seating four hundred people. In 1896 this building was struck by lightning and burned and replaced the same year by the present church which is one of the finest church edifices in rural Ontario.

The first manse was also destroyed by fire and another of stone built but this was sold and the present brick structure erected about eleven years ago. The beautiful church with the manse and the well cared for cemetery is a tribute to the loyalty and devotion of the congregation and ministers who have served the church at this point.

Upon relinquishing his pastorate after forty years service Dr. Neill was succeeded by his son-in-law, Rev. Jacob Steele who after three years was succeeded by the Rev. John Moore. Mr. Moore served the united congregations of Burnbrae and Rylstone for thirteen years being followed by the Rev. J. E. Smith who occupied the charge for seven years, being replaced by the Rev. C. C. Salisbury. In 1918 Rev. J. J. Black accepted a call from the united congregations. In 1924, Rev. Donald A. McKenzie, the present pastor took charge of St. Andrew's Burnbrae where he is doing splendid work for the church among the descendants of those old pioneers who made Canada the prosperous country it is to-day.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sister. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the color of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have.

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the worlds most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

A SPLENDID APPOINTMENT.

The appointment of Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, M.A., as president of the University of Toronto to succeed Sir Robert Falconer next year has been received with an unanimous chorus of approval.

No more popular selection could have been made.

Rev. Canon Cody's qualifications for the position are so generally recognized, his warm interest in university affairs has so long been manifested, his willingness to work unsparingly for the furtherance of education in Ontario has been so often attested to that public opinion stamps his appointment to this high educational post as one entirely worthy of approval.

University problems are familiar to the president-elect, who has long been associated with the affairs of the provincial seat of learning, and who can be depended to bring to his new position a staunch desire to make Varsity an even greater force in education in Ontario.

The Board of Governors, in selecting Rev. Canon Cody to carry on the fine work of Sir Robert Falconer, have contributed splendid service not only to the university but to the cause of education generally.

It is fitting indeed that a distinguished graduate should become the sixth president of Ontario's great university.

THE KIWANIS EXHIBITION.

The Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition got under way last evening and will provide entertainment and education for the balance of the week.

This annual event is worthy of enthusiastic support on at least three grounds; first, because it gives an opportunity to Canadian manufacturers and producers to demonstrate the fine qualities of their goods and thus stimulates a sale of made-in-Canada articles; second, because it is a splendid show in itself, and third, because the proceeds are devoted to the social service activities of the Kiwanis Club.

For all of these reasons there should be a record patronage throughout the week; visitors to the Armouries will find themselves well repaid both by the interesting exhibits and the entertainment provided, and by the feeling of satisfaction that comes from the knowledge that a most worthy object is being assisted.

The work of the Kiwanis Club needs no introduction to the people of Peterborough, who are familiar with the fine social service efforts that the organization has carried on here ever since the club was launched.

They have earned the support of the public, and it should be forthcoming in full measure this week.

ARCHDEACON DAVIDSON.

Peterborough has lost a warm-hearted friend in the death of Archdeacon Davidson, who for over thirty years was rector of St. John's Church and whose relations with the citizens generally had always been characterized by a deep love for and interest in his fellow-men.

Archdeacon Davidson's long residence in Peterborough was marked by a genuine desire to serve others; full of the milk of human kindness as he was, he had always a comforting word and a helping hand for those in trouble or in want.

As a church man, as a citizen, as a member of the militia, he measured up to the highest standard.

No project that had as its object the betterment of Peterborough looked to him in vain for assistance, and in recent years, although absent from the community in which he lived so long, he never lost touch with the activities of this city or interest in its welfare and that of its citizens.

The happiness of those around him, the improvement of his home city, the spiritual well-being not only of his own congregation but of mankind in general, the stimulation of loyalty toward King and country—those were the things that mattered with Archdeacon Davidson.

Characteristic of him was his pride in being associated with the Canadian militia in peace and war.

Not a robust man, showing little of the martial appearance that might be associated with military service, he possessed a mighty spirit of service that was satisfied only by many years as chaplain of the Peterborough Rangers and by a war-time post as chaplain of the 93rd Peterborough Battalion.

In his passing Peterborough feels a distinct sense of loss, for while in late years he had lived in Toronto, he had never ceased to be enthusiastically interested in this city and its people.

THE WORLD'S SERIES.

By this time the annual competition for the world's baseball championship is already fading into history, and many people are wondering just why they should have got so excited over the fortunes of a couple of baseball teams that few of them had ever seen or hoped to see.

The intense interest that is stirred up by this series each year is a striking tribute to the power of the press and of that newer distributor of information, the radio.

If the newspapers did not play up baseball throughout the season and devote many extra columns to the world's series it is certain that there would be little of the excitement that always goes with this clash between the champions of the two major leagues.

After all, it is possible that the thing is overdone.

A short series between two ball clubs really settles nothing, except which one is to get the bigger share of the gate money.

In the few games that make up the annual competition it is generally the case that some of the stars fail to shine, and other players from whom little is counted rise to dizzy heights.

The batting skill that carries a man to the top during the long grind of a 154-game schedule sometimes deserts him momentarily, the crack pitcher finds himself just a little below par, a clever catcher may be suffering from a minor injury—in these and other similar factors usually decide the title.

In the series just closed the result was in doubt until the last ball of the seventh game had been pitched; the question of which was the better team could hardly be said to have been settled when the whole issue hung on one play.

However there does not seem to be a more feasible way of deciding the question, and so long as the series continues to draw capacity crowds it will be popular with both players and magnates.

THIS "KING" BUSINESS.

(Editorial in the Montreal Star)

Amid all the present stress and worry over depression, there is one thing that seems to provide a certain type of individual with food for mirth—constant railing against monarchies and monarchs. "This 'King' business" has come to be a regular slogan with some tabloid publications whose cynicism but indifferently conceals their venom. Thus during the past few days the reading public has been regaled with lurid statements about "mutiny" in the British Navy, about sailors singing "The Red Flag," an allegation indignantly denied by the men themselves and similar scare stuff, always winding up with some tag about the "king idea" and the suggestion that the existence of a monarchy in Britain is at the bottom of all the trouble. Even Ely Cuthbertson, the famous bridge expert, has been affected by the virus, for he remarks, on his return from Russia, that the Russians are so anti-monarchical that they have actually removed the picture of kings and queens off the face cards, and substituted either a portrait of Lenin or a blank.

Those who understand what the British monarchy is, what it stands for, and what it means to the people of the British Empire, can afford to smile at the railings of the prejudiced and the ignorant. It certainly provokes a smile when we read that mutiny may spread into the army and police forces because the King is on the throne; that the whole vast scheme of administration designed to maintain peace and order in the Old Country is in grave danger of collapse because Britain still has her King. The vicious jabs of the spiteful little chaps who find inspiration in poking fun at England's King are unlikely to do England any harm, though they may stir some dim emotion in some ignorant minds. One can only smile—and pity those who think this sort of thing is clever.

• • • •

There is, however, a more serious side, for the tabloids have their readers by the millions, and poison disseminated in sufficiently large quantities and insidiously enough is likely to have effect, in the final analysis. For those who may feel inclined to wonder if, after all, there may not be some substratum of truth in these fulminations about "the growing unpopularity of the king idea," it is permitted to ask: What would England have done in the recent crisis without her King? What other man could possibly have handled the situation so fraught with serious possibilities as he did?

They do not understand—they cannot understand, these petty slanderers—that the King of England stands above and aloof from any political party. He serves no party, but the State. He knows no personal self-seeking, and the people of Britain and of the British Empire have full and implicit faith in the King's honesty of purpose, his impartiality, his sense of justice, his devotion to his people and his proven gifts of diplomacy and of statesmanship. All thoughts turned to Balmoral when the crisis developed with startling suddenness. All England watched that swift journey from the Scottish moors to Buckingham Palace. And all England experienced a sense of deep and certain relief when the part the King had taken in the emergency was made known. It gave them renewed faith in themselves, in the old stock, the British race, the traditions of their land and its ability to stand foursquare to all the world of trouble.

What other man could possibly have been in a position to achieve this, save King George? It is no reflection upon the ability or the sincerity or the skill of any of Britain's statesmen to ask this. They are serving her well, and she knows it. But not one of them could have achieved what the King achieved for none of them could occupy, in the public mind, the place he does. No other man was enough above party to bring all parties together. His services to the nation during the past few weeks have been worth every dollar the monarchy has cost Britain for a century past—if we measured such services by monetary standards. But we do not. They are beyond all price.

Britain and the Empire are grateful to-day that King George sits firmly on the throne, how firmly the little agitators with their poisoned pens can never understand. The British monarchy has secured its hold upon the affections of the British peoples everywhere more firmly to-day than ever before. "This King business" may be all very well for puny folk to gibe about. But the British people know—and thinking men and women in all other nations throughout the world know—that the King of England is the greatest servant of his country to-day. And Britons honor and love him for what he has done in their behalf. Britain envies no other country its form of government. She is content to have a monarchy and a King on the throne who knows how to do his duty—how to serve his people as none other could serve them while the dark clouds of adversity go rolling round the world.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The international plowing matches are under way. Peterborough citizens should not fail to see something of this most interesting event.

The world's series is over, and in a few weeks somebody will be saying, "Now, let me see. Who was that young fellow who did so much hitting for St. Louis?"

The Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition is in full swing. Both on its own merit and because of the worthiness of the cause to be helped it deserves a record patronage.

RED MOTOR CAR INVITES SMASH

Plea for "Care, Courtesy and Common Sense" by Highways Department.

DEATH RATE CAN BE CUT

Streaking along the highway, regardless of traffic rules and the safety of others, the antics of a red automobile last night held a large crowd spellbound. It wove its crazy course past long lines of other traffic, cutting in with impunity or overtaking on hills and curves—seeking disaster and eventually meeting with it.

There was no loss of life, neither will the antics of this automobile be the subject of any traffic prosecutions, for the simple reason it merely formed part of an ingenious mechanical exhibit of the Department of Highways at the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition which opened at the Armouries last evening.

Designed by the Stallworthy Studios for the Department of which the Hon. Leopold McCauley is the head, the exhibit is in charge of Charles Carson an old Peterborough boy, who left here five years ago to teach the doctrine of "care, courtesy and commonsense"; T. Burton who was with the studio that built the exhibit before it was sent on tour; and Len Rooker.

Twenty-eight feet in length the model represents a panorama of typical Ontario countryside, complete with villages, highways, level crossings and all the other minute detail all built to scale. Travelling the highways are model vehicles mechanically controlled and perfectly synchronized. Little red automobiles, symbolic of the reckless and negligent driver to whom the exhibit points with particular significance, may be observed cutting-in on traffic, racing the train to the level crossing, overtaking on hills and curves and committing numerous other offences the result of indifference to the safety of others and to the safety of himself.

Without doubt it is a wonderful model, not only from a mechanical or artistic standpoint, but as a means of educating the motoring public—and who does not drive a car these day?—to the absolute need of care, courtesy and commonsense, as a means of cutting down the steadily mounting death toll due to traffic accidents.

The idea of the model was conceived by J. Cockburn, secretary to the Minister of the Department of Highways, and has brought forth favorable comment from countless users of the highways and from the State Highways Commission who viewed the model when it was on display at the Canadian National Exhibition. The display also drew large crowds at Lindsay Fair and promises to hold the close interest of the patrons of the Kiwanis Exhibition throughout the remainder of this week.

INSTALMENT 29

Morris Haverford arrived at eight o'clock. Fabia had recovered her poise.

She sat beside him on the sofa in the library, quite close to him. There was no aura around Morris. They played several games of double Canfield on a low tavern table drawn up in front of their knees. If only Dan hadn't come back, perhaps in time—in time—Funny how little aware she was of Morris' presence. Morris was like a steady noise, or hum, that you didn't notice till you stopped to listen to it. Dan was like a single voice calling. You couldn't get away from Dan.

"Let's not play any more," said Fabia, after the fourth game. "A week from tonight," she sighed. "I'm so sorry I can't be surer, Morris."

"That's all right. You're to take all the time you need. I shan't be over until August, anyway. That's about four months, and, when I come, if you need still more time, I shan't press you. I'm willing to wait for anything I want so much."

"You are an angel to me, Morris. Everybody is an angel to me." Then, abruptly, casually, she remarked, "Dan was here today."

"Oh, was he? What did he want?"

"Me, I guess."

There was a long pause.

"And what do you want, Fabia?"

"You, Morris. Truly, I do—if I can ever possibly be sure."

"What did you tell Dan?"

"Oh, I sent him away. I don't expect to see him, again. But——" she added, "I still seem to like him a tiny bit."

To Lisa an hour later she said the same thing. "I sent him away, mother, but I still seem to like him a tiny bit."

Lisa replied very gravely (Lisa was apt to reply gravely of late), "Often those we send away we still like a tiny bit."

Fabia looked at her mother silently. Barry Firth had been gone two months now.

"But," Lisa went on, unaware of Fabia's seeing eyes, "if it's best for everybody concerned, it can be done, can't it?" she smiled.

To Jennie alone could Fabia reveal what lay behind the barrier of her reserve. It was not necessary to be anything that was expected of you, as a Vale.

Jennie was in Fabia's room when she entered it at eleven o'clock. To Jennie Fabia said, as to the others, "I sent him away, but, oh, Jennie, oh, Jennie!" and she flung herself down upon the bed, face down and burst into tears.

Jennie looked down upon her with no sense of shock or dismay. She herself often indulged in a good cry.

"Why did you send him away, Miss Fabia?"

"I had to. I had to, Jennie. Oh, I'm so unhappy. I'm so unhappy." Sobs shook her body.

"I don't see why you had to," placidly Jennie remarked. "I know you're just head over heels in love with the young surgeon, Miss Fabia."

"Don't you remember that night he—he didn't come? I hope I've got—I've got a little pride left. Oh, dear, oh, dear, I mustn't do this. I mustn't give in to my feelings like this."

"Feelings aren't no crime, and God gave us tears to use 'em, Miss Fabia. Have a good cry, I say."

Jennie remained at the foot of the bed waiting till the spasmodic jerks had ceased, then she inquired, "What's the good of pride, Miss Fabia, when it loses you what you want?"

"Oh, I can't have what I want, anyway."

"Who can, then?"

"You, for one, Jennie, and all the other lucky girls in the world who don't belong to some old dyed-in-the-wool family like mine," she brought out savagely, "with their petty little standards of who's good enough for them, and who isn't, and their everlasting talk about who's who, and what's what. I simply hate being a Vale. I'd give anything in the world if I could get away from the whole tribe——"

"I know, Miss Fabia," broke in Jennie. "Well, I wouldn't let anything—dyed family, or whatever it was you said they was, nor nothing in God's world, stand between me and the man I loved. You've got guts just as good as mine. If I was you, I'd marry the young surgeon and just show 'em, Miss Fabia."

"Oh, no, you wouldn't! Not if you were a Vale, Jennie, and had to live in Boston!"

"Well, you won't be a Vale if you marry the young surgeon, and why have you got to live in Boston?"

"If I married Dan, I'd have to live in Boston. A girl has to live where her husband's work is, Jennie."

"And isn't there any work for surgeons outside Boston?"

"Dan has already started here, Jennie."

"And what of that? He's young and real smart, you say."

"Oh, you don't understand, Jennie."

"Probably I don't. But Martin and me are going to clear out just as soon as we've got enough cash saved up to risk it. We're going West some place where dad and mom can't pick on Martin all the time for being in the butler business. My goodness, some butlers get to running places of their own sometimes. Martin might be a hotel man some day. No telling. Boston ain't the only place where a man can get up to the top of his job, I tell Martin. Miss Fabia, why don't you and the young surgeon clear out, like Martin and me, and start a tribe of your own out West some place?"

"That would be impossible, Jennie," said Fabia shortly, definitely, but she looked at Jennie with sudden alert attention.

"You know your own business best," shrugged Jennie. "But I don't see why it's so impossible. It's no more than the Pilgrims did. Martin and me saw an elegant picture of the Pilgrims last week. These Pilgrims came way over here in their little boat, and fought storms and diseases and Indians and everything, just to live as they pleased and not to be picked on. That picture was what gave Martin and me our idea about going out West and living as we pleased. Of course Martin and me are different from you and the young surgeon, and it's none of my business, but, oh, Miss Fabia, I would just love to see you married to Dan Regan. I think he's grand. Somehow I don't take half so much to that Mr Haverford. He is so used to servants I suppose, he don't notice 'em any more than doors. Besides, his eyeglasses is so thick, Miss Fabia and he wears rubbers and mufflers sometimes. I help him off with his things, and——"

"You mustn't say anything against Mr. Haverford, Jennie."

"Excuse me, Miss Fabia. I forget at times." She stopped a moment. Then, "Would you like I should draw you a nice hot bath?" she asked.

"No thanks, Jennie. I think I'd just like to be left alone now, if you don't mind. Good-night, Jennie."

"Good-night, Miss Fabia."

Fabia lay very still after Jennie had closed the door, her eyes fastened on the space at the foot of the bed where Jennie had stood as if a sign had appeared there written in flame—a message expressed in homely words and phrases, but mediums were usually simple, uneducated folk, it flashed over Fabia. "Why don't you and the young surgeon clear out and start a tribe of your own out West some place?"

At first only objections rose up to meet the message. Why, Fabia would as soon suggest that Dan change his profession. His ambitions were rooted in Boston. The very obstacles in his way were a spur and inspiration, he had told her. He didn't love her enough to give up success in Boston. She was sure of that. So that was that!

She'd better undress. It was after twelve o'clock.

Supposing Dan hadn't been a surgeon. Supposing he had been in business, or a bond salesman, like a lot of the boys she'd met this winter. Supposing it didn't matter to him where he was successful, just so he was. Boston wasn't the only place where a man could get to the top of his job, Jennie had said. She was right. It wasn't the only place a surgeon could get there either. Oh, supposing Dan and she could go forth together alone, just the two of them and live as they pleased, like the Pilgrims, with nobody to pick on them, as Jennie put it, and start a tribe of their own!

Jennie's suggestion was interesting to contemplate, but she wasn't going to mention it to Dan. He might think that she thought it practical.

She rose, undressed, raised both her windows high, and crawled in between the sheets. But she couldn't go to sleep. The sign at the foot of her bed was still shining brilliantly. She closed her eyes, but it burned through her lids.

Her mother's chief objection to Dan was entirely wiped off the slate by Jennie's suggestion. The welfare and happiness of their children would be safe out West, beyond the Mississippi, beyond the Corn Belt, beyond the Rocky Mountains. The Vale prejudices were penetrating, but they could n't reach as far as that.

Out West! Out West! What if she and Dan—— She mustn't think of it! She must go to sleep. She wasn't going to marry Dan Regan. She was going to marry Morris Haverford. Whom would she have for bridesmaids? With grim determination she set her mind to work on the list. In spite of her resolutions, there floated across her field of vision, obliterating the names completely, a map of the United States. She saw the crooked hook of Cape Cod. Compared with the rest of the map, it was about the size of a new-born baby's little finger.

As if her darkened field of vision was a screen in a moving picture theatre and she was looking on from the audience, she saw the map fade into a background, and against it, clearly outlined, appeared two figures—a man and a girl, Dan and herself, crossing the states together. They were hand in hand, trudging along—stepping over the Rocky Mountains without any difficulty whatsoever, smiling and confident. She herself knew little of the West. But surely out there somewhere there was a city waiting where a young surgeon possessed of rare gifts would be recognized and appreciated. What joy it would be to her to help Dan succeed out there in that new growing country.

She turned over again. What time was it, anyhow? Half-past two! Of course she must have Morris' sister for one of the bridesmaids. It would be a church wedding. Would she send Dan an invitation to the wedding? Would he come? How perfectly adorable he had been this afternoon. Like a little boy asking to be forgiven. She had never loved him more. Oh, she did love him! She did love him! But marriage was lots more than loving. Why couldn't she sleep?

When she saw the first gray streaks of dawn, she rose and went to Lisa's room.

"Mother! Mother! Do you mind waking up?"

Fabia sat down on the edge of the bed. "Mother, do you know any city on the Western coast that is well known as a medical center?"

"What did you say?"

"Mother, how would you feel if I should marry somebody who took me to Portland to live, or Topeka, or Seattle?"

"What are you talking about, Fabia?"

"Mother, do you think Morris would feel terribly if I can't ever care enough for him?"

"Come, dear, go to bed now," said Lisa. "It is not light yet. The dawn is no time to solve problems. There's nothing to solve, anyway, until we get back from Europe. My mother used to say to me, 'Leave it to God.' I say to you, 'Leave it to Time.'"

Fabia replied, "I think I shall leave it to Dan."

A THOUGHT.

OUR BEAUTIFUL WORLD

Mr. C. C. Benson tells a story somewhere about meeting an old priest in South America who had taken the savings of a long life of service and pressed them into the joys of travel to see the beauties of the world. Said the old man to Benson, "I find the world beautiful beyond compare!" The world of Nature, in field and forest, by the lake and mountain-side and on the sounding sea, is beautiful beyond compare these glorious summer days. To see Nature with an open eye is enthralling and lovely; but to see Nature as one sees it who finds in its every line and color and movement some expression of the thought and feeling of an Infinite Being from Whose hand it comes is to see it with an added touch of beauty.

LOTTERY TICKET SELLER IS FINED

Advertising Scheme for Sale of Chances Costs $88 in London Court.

SHARE TO HOSPITALS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(CP)—The sweepstakes on the English St. Leger conducted by the "Oldest Colony Hospital Trust" of St John's, Newfoundland, was mentioned in the Guildhall today when Charles A. More of Fetter Lane, London, was fined $25 with costs of $63 for publishing a proposal or scheme for the sale of chances in a lottery by Act of Parliament.

J. Myers, counsel for the defendant, said it was a perfectly genuine sweepstake and that as a result of the sale of tickets on the race $215,000 had been subscribed to hospitals. In Newfoundland lotteries of this description were legal, although in this country More had no alternative but to plead guilty, he said.

Alderman Sir Harold Downer, who was on the bench, said the Act of Parliament was not quite clear on the subject and he imposed a mitigated penalty.

Three Men Injured At Burning Oil Well

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 13.—Three workmen were slightly injured today in clearing away sections of the melted derrick of the burning Empire Gustin oil well on the edge of Oklahoma City in preparation for an attempt to snuff out the flames.

The injured are Art Wallace, J. S. Sisson and Harry Smith. Charles Biddle, farm boss, was killed by an explosion which ignited the well yesterday.

Fire fighters were planning to use a charge of explosives to blow out the torch rising from the well. It appeared likely that the preliminaries would not be completed before tomorrow.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13 (C.P.).—Exchange rates to-day were as follows:

Pound sterling in Montreal 4.28.

Pound sterling in New York, 3.89½

Canadian dollar in New York, 90c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 13 (C.P.) — Grain prices averaged higher early to-day influenced by scantiness of wheat supplies on ocean passage and by hostilities between Japan and China. Fears were expessed that the warlike complications would eventually involve Russia.

Opening ¾ to 1⅛ cents higher, wheat afterward held near the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to ⅛ cents up, and subsequently reacted.

BODY OF CAR VICTIM IDENTIFIED.

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 18.—(C.P.) —Provincial police to-day identified the man killed in an accident on the highway between Black Diamond and Turner Valley Monday as Nate Russell, farmer living six miles from Turner Valley. Russell was driving a hay rack on the highway when an automobile crashed into his vehicle, killing him and injuring three occupants of the motor car.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 13 (C.P.). There was little interest displayed in trading on the Montreal Stock Market this morning after the Thanksgiving holiday. Prices held substantially the same as Saturday's close, with the exception of a few small fractional changes.

Brazilian Traction led the light trading this morning, and after selling off to 9¾, recovered to 9 7-8 at noon for a net loss of 1-8 on the morning's transactions.

Nickel was unchanged at 9⅛. Canadian Pacific Railway stock showed firmness and moved up slightly, registering a gain of ¼ at 16¼. Industrial Alcohol eased 3-8 at 1⅝. B.C. Packers was off ¼ at 1. and Dryden Paper made an appearance at 2, off a point from the previous sale some days ago.

NEW YORK SHARE PRICES LOWER UNDER ADVERSE DEVELOPMENTS

Political Affairs in England and Germany Does Much to Sober Market.

RAIL ISSUES ACTIVE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 13 (C.P.) —Share prices drifted quietly lower to-day, as last week's buying enthusiasm appeared to have subsided somewhat over the holiday week-end.

Developments in political affairs in England and Germany, and last week's premature expectations of a week-end announcement of the Inter-State Commerce Commission's decision on the petition for a 15 per cent. increase in freight rates, left Wall Street somewhat sobered. Nevertheless, the progress made in setting up the billion dollar credit corporation was still distinctly a stabilizing influence.

Rails were the heaviest group in shares, declines of 3 to 5 points appearing in New York Central, New Haven, Baltimore and Ohio, Santa Fe and Union Pacific. Losses of 2 to more than 3 points appeared in such issues as American Telephone, General Electric, U.S. Steel, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Eastman, Woolworth, Corn Products, Borden, American Tobacco "B," Allied Chemical, Dupont and Westinghouse. Losses of a point or more appeared throughout the list. Stock was not offered in large volume, however, and sales were largely regarded as profit-taking on last week's sweeping advance.

The firmer money market which has followed last week's increase in the New York rediscount rate was reflected in a sag in the high grade, low yield bonds which normally respond to changes in trends in the money market.

Suspension of the old bond house of Kountze Bros., was without notable influence.

NEW YORK FIRM IS SUSPENDED

Kountze Brothers, Bond Distributors, is One of the Older Houses on Wall Street.

Kountze Bros. were prominent bond dealers and distributors. The firm is one of the older houses in Wall Street, having been formed in 1870.

taken we shall fail to grapple with the world economic crisis.

"China has put herself in the hands of the League and abides the issue with confidence in her destiny and in the moral forces of civilization. The League cannot fail, for its success is bound up with the interests of all civilized nations, with that of Japan and America as well as that of China and other members of the League."

Yoshizawa presented his side of the case when the council reconvened after luncheon.

Japan still insists on direct negotiations with China, he told his colleagues, and meanwhile an official note from his Government indicates that in its military operations in Manchuria are at a standstill.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO PRICES

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13 (C.P.) —Prices were graded slightly lower on Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. The session was one of the lowest since restrictions were placed upon trading.

Stocks were not offered freely but the local market reflected New York and as bids were withdrawns prices sagged under their own weight. Brazilian slipped ½ point and C.P.R. about ¾, selling under 16. International Nickel, Noranda, Dominion Stores, Ford of Canada were down ¼ to ½ point at the close.

Oils, slow to make their appearance, turned downward with the others as the session progressed. B.A. Oil and International Petroleum closed with fractional losses; Imperial Oil with a loss of 1 point.

Walkers slipped slightly and Canadian Industrial Alcohol from which the pegged price was to-day removed, sold at 1½. Reports that the sales organization of the three leading Canadian Distilleries had been disbandoned and price-cutting following led to liquidation of the liquor stocks.

Steel of Canada at 22 was above its minimum price.

Standard Exchange

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13.—(CP) —Though trade remained at a low rate and some irregularity developed in the last hour, the Standard stock and mining exchange list closed with small gains predominating.

Higher-priced golds gave the firmest performance, Dome, Hollinger and Teck-Hughes finishing up 10 apiece, Lake Shore gaining 45 on the day and Wright-Hargreaves 8. McIntyre was steady in light turnover.

Among the cheaper stocks Macassa retained a leading of 6, Sylvanite recovered 4 and Kirkland Lake Gold a cent. Niplissing sold off.

Brett-Trethewey lost a couple on profit-taking and Moffatt-Hall and Columario were down a cent or so each.

Noranda dipped 25 to $13.40 in the forenoon and held that level, while Hudson Bay added 10 to Saturday's gain to close at $3.25 and International Nickel gained a similar amount. Oils were quiet and somewhat mixed in their movements.

WALL STREET CLOSE

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 13.—(CP)—Stocks reacted to-day but the decline was accompanied by a marked contraction in volume, many prominent issues, however dipped 2 to 3 points or more U.S. Steel, General Electric Woolworth, Borden and American Can dropped a couple of points, while American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Case, Consolidated, Du Pont, Coca Cola, New York Central and New Haven were off more than 3. Western Union, Auburn and Atchison yielded half a dozen points. Sales totalled less than 1,500,000 shares.

Lead Stocks Decline On London Exchange

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Dull conditions prevailed on the London Stock Exchange to-day and early profit-taking caused recessions in gilt-edge securities, industrials and home rails. Japanese bonds were quoted lower, but Argentine Rails were firm.

Transatlantic stocks were dull awaiting news from Wall Street. Hydro-Electric was quoted at $10¾, International Nickel at $11⅛, Brazilian Traction at $11¾, and Radio at $18.

Foreign exchanges were idle and the quotations barely were maintained. The dollar was quoted at 3.87½, and the franc at 98⅜.

BATTLE WITH SOCIALISM

effect behind the farcical pretence of a national mandate, a complete fiscal revolution. Our advice to Liberals in this critical emergency is plain. Their first and immediate duty in the constituencies is to put into the field the largest possible number of candidates who, in the words of the Liberal manifesto, are convinced that freedom of trade is the only permanent basis of our economic prosperity and the welfare of the Empire and the world."

Opportunity for Majority

"To the Conservative Party," says the Liberal Manchester Guardian, "the election means one thing only —an opportunity to secure a Protectionist majority. The more Conservatives that are returned to the House, the more certain and more complete will be the new tariff system. Many Liberals clutching the hope that unreasoned, bad economics can still be exercised from the minds of the Protectionist majority, are willing to take the risk because of the fear that the return of Labor will be a still greater evil."

Two more constituency pacts were recorded this morning between the Conservatives and National Liberals. In Finchley, Middlesex the Liberal candidate has withdrawn. Finchley elected a Conservative by a majority of 4,855 on a minority vote in 1929. In Luton, Bedford, the Conservative candidate has withdrawn. Luton elected a Liberal by a majority of 3,318, on a minority vote, in 1929.

Conservatives declare the net result of the increased number of straight fights will be that Labor even with the same popular vote as in the last election, is likely to return a less number of Members to Parliament. Labor was elected in 118 constituencies on minority votes in 1929.

NEW RECORD SET FOR OPENING DAY

have ever had for the opening day. That is one accomplishment to begin with, and everybody is delighted."

Lockie Wilson was equally enthusiastic about the preliminary contests for the week, and also with the general prospects for the major matches which begin Wednesday morning. The plowmen registered this morning at a table in the Williamson yard with a committee composed of Clark Young of Milliken, treasurer of the provincial association, William Doherty of Toronto, honorary treasurer, Chas. F. Moore and R. Dixon of the Peterborough County Association.

New Record Set

The weather was perfect. It may have seemed a little too ideal to last through an entire October week. A woods nearby hung a wonderful autumnal tapestry in the background, and the level fields of sod and stubble were ready for the plowmen.

"It is very encouraging to see so many farmers from this district turning out for their own match" Mr. Wilson remarked to The Examiner. "I have always held the belief that a good plowman is a good farmer. The man who plows a straight furrow and who keeps on turning them over, knowing what he is about is nearly always a good farmer, and I think you will find that he shoots straight every way you take him. In other words a good plowman is in nearly all cases a good man. That is the type of man you find at the matches, and the more you see turning out the better it looks for the community and for the province as a whole. Why shouldnt they try to be good plowers? They are adding just that much more value to their own work and their own industry."

Tractors Noisily Tune Up

Tractors were noisily tuning up in their fields for the day's competition, and in others the horses were lining up for the important start which is known as making the scratch.

In one sense, if the baseball world series ended last week, the plowing world series begins Wednesday in North Monaghan. The International Plowing match is open to all comers, and is acknowledged to be the biggest affair of its kind in the world. It is the major plowing league, and Lockie Wilson is its Judge Landis. The contests carried on today are minor league stuff, but are of special importance in their district effects. In the preparations for the inter-county match which embraces fifteen classes, the four counties have co-operated unselfishly, and that spirit undoubtedly was the essential factor in the big success which the local committees presented to the provincial directors.

Some 60 Tents Erected

Meanwhile, the headquarters field was blooming with some sixty tents where other directors and George A. Gillespie were busy with the multiplying details of listing contestants, alloting ground space for exhibitors and other phases of the big match. All the arrangements were clicking smoothly. The highway was closed except to traffic heading for the plowing match, and a fee of twenty-five cents was charged each car for parking space. Traffic Officer Hornick informed Examiner that this precaution had been inspired by the threat of the automobile accidents and also by the necessity of handling with the lease possible delay the large number of cars which are expected in the parking areas this week.

If today's weather holds the local directors believe the multi-thousands of their attendance aspect will be fully realized.

AIR TO RUN CARS SAYS INVENTOR

Machine Powered With 6 Cyinder Radial Type Engine Does 35 M.P.H.

Has Compressed Air Tank.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 13.—Roy J. Meyers, inventor, predicts motorists soon may refill their tanks with air instead of gasoline.

Meyers demonstrated an automobile with a six-cylinder radia type engine, minus the usual carburetor and ignition and cooling systems, but equipped with a compressed air tank filled to 500 pound pressure.

He pulled a lever and the car picked up speed quickly and smoothly, with a slight hiss of air from the exhaust valves. The motor was geared so the maximum speed reached was 35 miles per hour, but Meyers said that, with a gear shift and a higher powered engine, speeds equal to or higher than those of gasoline-driven cars may be attained.

As the air goes through the engine, forcing pistons up and down, much of it is recaptured and recompressed, Meyers said. The cooled air returns to the pressure tank, which is heated by electricity from batteries and a generator.

This heating, he explained, expands the air in the tank, increasing the pressure. He did not make clear how many pounds of air would be required per mile.

Football Flashes

By JOHN W. STEWART

The Mustangs of Western University have up and done it. On Saturday they upset all calculations and predictions by trimming the Shaughnessy-coached Red and White team of old McGill to the tune of 7-3. Shag isn't so keen about his forward pass system now.

The McGill team tried no less than 31 forward passes and only completed five for a net gain of 112 yards. Western used the new play thrice and completed two for a gain of 36 yards. And Joe Breen said before the season opened that he didn't like the new play and wasn't going to use it much. He must have liked it well enough to form a mighty sweet defence for it.

This boy Patterson, of the Western team is a much improved player over last year, and he was no slouch then. His kicks travelled high, wide and handsome on Saturday and he scored every point for his dear old Alma Mater. (No one that almost wouldn't let him play this year).

In all, the new forward pass rule didn't make much of a hit as far as the teams were concerned. As for the fans, they got a great kick out of it. It is the unexpected that gives the thrill, and anything can happen with a forward pass. As a play, it must be timed to perfection to be of any use at all; otherwise it remains as only a threat play around which other trick plays can be formed. The fans, however, seem to like it, so it will no doubt remain for good.

Led by their elusive and sensational backfield star, Perry the Montreal Winged Wheelers got off to a flying start on Saturday against the weak Ottawa Senators. In the last half they threw in all their subs against the Senators, and the latter aided and abetted by Dave Harding, were able to score their only touch of the game. The score at half time was 30-0, at full time 32-6. It will take a super team to stop the Montreal team this year—and they have had the Indian sign on the Hamilton Tigers for the last two years. They play in Toronto next week against Argos who face elimination by virtue of their defeat in Hamilton on Saturday. It looks like curtains for Argos but one never can tell.

The Intercollegiate seems to be woefully weak this year. In pre-season games Queen's were defeated by Montreal A.A.A. 23-0; Varsity took it on the chin from Argonauts who in turn were beaten by the Tigers. Western were swamped by the Tigers, only to turn around and beat McGill favored team in the Intercollegiate race. The student league is in for a bad year unless they do some tall stepping from now to the end of the season. From the looks of things now Western and Queen's will fight it out for the championship—which is a feather in the cap of the Mustangs this being only their third year in the league.

It's a dangerous job making predictions even on the first games, because plays are not timed properly, players are nervous and not in the best of condition.

The Windsor Greyhounds sprang a big surprise on Saturday when they trimmed Freddy Veale's Tiger Cubs 23-7. The Cubs were fancied as the team in the Ontario Union to give Balmy Beach a battle whereas the Greyhounds have tasted defeat three times already this year. They displayed a powerful wing-line and some particularly brilliant passing plays in their game against Hamilton.

Alec Ponton's Balmy Beachers, champions of Canada last year, had little difficulty in Kitchener on Saturday but their game against the Varsity Orfuns on Monday was a bit of an eye-opener. Alec has a mighty smart team again this year and with Ab Box's kicking they don't need any forward passes although they have shown themselves to be adept at the new play. Box at the present time can outkick almost any man in Eastern Canada senior football and that's no exaggeration. He is destined for a place in the hall of fame of Canadian gridiron heroes.

Next week's game will just about decide the issue in the various leagues except the Big Four which will probably be fought out between Hamilton and Montreal. What a game it's going to be when these two meet! There'll be Sloan-a-plenty me hearties.

And if something doesn't happen soon up around Toronto Varsity that aggregation of players are going to find themselves in the cellar. They have not worked out a defence for the forward pass like Western have, and if McGill toss thirty of them against the U. of T. team the latter will be too dizzy to pay much attention to their own attack—and they really have a line that might do something if it need only use a little more interference.

THANKSGIVING CONSIDERATION

passing on to the first Thanksgiving Day on the North American continent, May 27 1578 when Sir Martin Frobisher and his gallant little band of explorers held a service of thanks on the shores of Newfoundland.

The first Thanksgiving Day of the Pilgrim Fathers in Massachusetts on December 13, 1621 was next described by the speaker whose story of that first day of worship and feasting in which the Indians joined with the scanty band of colonists was most interesting. When Washington with the establishment of the republic sought to decide which features of European life should be discarded and which retained, the custom of Thanksgiving Day was one of the things preserved, the speaker declared, and a proclamation in 1789 set apart November 26th as the date of this annual event. However the occasion was observed principally in the New England States and it was not until the middle of last century that the efforts of Sarah Hale resulted in annual proclamation from the governors of individual states announcing Thanksgiving Day.

Rotarian Manson Comstock voiced the appreciation of the Club to Rev. Dr. McLean.

As a tribute to the memory of Venerable Archdeacon J. C. Davidson the Rotarians stood for a minute in silence.

Rotarian W. R. Morris in a brief reference to Archdeacon Davidson remarked that although the former rector of St. John's church was not a Rotarian, he had the Rotarian spirit and the Rotarian motto "Service before self" was truly his. "He was a friend of Peterborough to the last hour" declared Rotarian Morris after pointing out Archdeacon Davidson made everybody's trouble his and that the conditions following the war in which he served as a chaplain had undoubtedly influenced his health.

The decision of the directors of the Club to have Rotarian signs placed at the principal highway entrance into Peterborough was approved when introduced by President R. F. Downey.

Rotarian Jack Gillespie was assigned the responsibility of securing a large Peterborough delegation to visit Toronto on October 28th to hear International President Sidney Paschal of London, England.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO MEMORY OF FORMER RECTOR

Memorial Services Held in St. John's for Late Archdeacon Davidson.

FUNERAL ON MONDAY.

Deceased Had Capacity for Friendship and Able to Make and Keep Friends.

From the pulpit in which the Rev. J. C. Davidson M.A., Archdeacon of Peterborough, had preached to his congregation for thirty-two years the Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, rector of St. John's Church, paid eloquent tribute to his revered memory at a special memorial service attended by a large congregation on Sunday morning.

There was a difficulty, the preacher observed, in speaking of the life of so great a personality to avoid being inadequate on the one hand or fulsome on the other. "There are a few things, however that make it comparatively simple and easy. Things that are obvious to us all. The first is the length of time of Archdeacon Davidson's ministry here. Thirty-two years is a long time for any pastor to minister to a flock. A long time to celebrate the sacrament. A long time to stand in this pulpit and preach to one congregation."

In such a long period the preacher thought the roots of friendship were bound to grow down very deep. He described Archdeacon Davidson as "One who had ministered most faithfully, sympathetically and loyally to everybody, everywhere who was in trouble."

The outstanding characteristics of the man were his unbounded energy in the service of others. He loved his church and believed in it. He was a liberal churchman whose sympathies extended beyond his own church.

As a citizen he was equally as great and broadminded. "He loved this city. It was always in his thoughts and work, and outside the church there was no interest or enterprise in which he was not deeply concerned.

The speaker referred to the Archdeacon's long and faithful service as chaplain of the 57th Regiment and also his services as chaplain with the 93rd (Overseas) Battalion.

"He had a capacity for friendship, and was able to make friends and to keep them." Anyone who could do that observed Dr. Blagrave was possessed of splendid characteristics of personality. "We are here to-day to lay our tribute at his feet, to remember him and to speak well of his memory and to thank God for his service." Continuing he said that it was not for the dead, but for the living that sympathy was [illegible] of the wife and family, so well-known and so highly respected and so well loved in this church, who are left to mourn. But he pointed out, it is the same journey we all have to make, although the loss of a dear one is a loss that cuts into life and leaves a vacancy. "As we extend our sympathy to the family of Archdeacon Davidson," he said in conclusion, "may we try to do what he and all who have gone before would wish us to do."

At the funeral service held on Monday afternoon from the Church of the Messiah, Toronto, there were representatives from all the Anglican Churches of Peterborough, and also the Rev. J. T. O'Connor-Fenton representing the Archdeaconry of Peterborough, the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean pastor of St. Andrew's United Church representing the Ministerial Association and representatives of numerous other bodies.

NEW COASTGUARD CRUISER TIES UP

these tanks alone weighs 4,800 pounds.

During her stay here the craft took aboard 3,000 gallons of 3-Star fuel oil and 3 barrels of Marvelube oil, obtained from the Imperial Oil Company's local depot in charge of Art Blade.

The long trip from Orillia down the Trent Waterway and the mighty St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean commenced on Thursday last. Montreal will be reached next Thursday it is anticipated, and here the boat will take on her regular crew of fourteen hands, after having been subjected to speed trials. She was towed as far as Peterborough by the tug "Jerome L" in charge of Jerome Dorris of this city. Leaving here on Monday morning at about eight o'clock the "Adversus" proceeded downstream under her own power. She had seventeen hands aboard including Commander Stephen, who is chief engineer and technical adviser to the Preventive Service of the Department of National Revenue; Captain E. L. Croft, who will have charge of the vessel when she is commissioned for patrol duty; and Dan McAllister, pilot of Gore's Landing, besides a number of mechanics from Ditchburns Limited who are adding finishing touches to the interior of the craft even as she is under way. When on service the boat will carry a maxim gun, as her only armament.

Through the courtesy of Commander Stephen, The Examiner was privileged to undertake a tour of inspection with Captain Croft which commenced at the wireless room, not yet equipped with instruments. The Captain's cabin appeared to be a cosy little den, complete with hot and cold water. Accommodation for the crew was no less commodious, and the mess room if somewhat small provided ample space for a dozen or more husky salors to wield their knives and forks.

The galley stowed away amidships provided an object lesson in the scientific utilization of space. It was complete to the last detail—even to the husky cook who was busily occupied over the stove, apparently with the preparation of the evening meal. Adjoining the crew's quarters was a shower bath.

Going aft and descending the companionway one enters the engine room, an amazingly spacious place housing the engines that provide the motive power for the twin screws; the lighting plant, pumps, etc.

Over the engine room hatchways two lifeboats are suspended from their davits, while amidships there is a dummy funnel, sloping at a rakish angle, and further enchancing the suggestion of speed which appears to be so strongly emphasized.

the direction of Dick Lush which counteracts the acoustical defects of the building. In the disposition of the exhibitors stalls also, and certainly in the originality and freshness of the exhibits themselves it sistance of Art Blade, who displayed leaves nothing to be desired.

In addition to the many bingo games, wheels of chance and other forms of amusement run by an army of energetic Kiwanians certain of the other stalls strike a note of novelty, chief among them being the wonderful electrically controlled exhibit of the Provincial Highway Department (dealt with spearately in another column); the Quaker Oats Limited and the Kiwanis stands.

Red, blue and yellow decorations form a striking background for the Quaker Oats novel exhibit, which consists of a working model of the "gun" in which the famous Quaker Puffed Rice is processed. The model is flanked with packages of a large line of Quaker proprietry articles.

The Kiwanis booth presents a pictorial and statistical record of the child welfare work that has been accomplished this year at the Kiwanis Health Camp at Jackson Park, with the assistance of a sympathetic public and Peterborough Health Association. It provides incidentally an undeniable reason for public appeals for assistance, and a strong plea for continued support of the good work on the part of every citizen.

Facts and figures as quoted from a chart which hangs within the booth speak for themselves:

Meals served	10,017
Daily quota of children	63
Loaves of bread	990
Qts. of milk	1,895
Pounds of butter	206
Eggs	672
Groceries and veg.	$210
Nurses and helpers	$400
Playground and equip.	$518
Miles of bus travel	340
Child'n taught to swim	30
Free tonsil operation	39

The exhibition is under the direction of a capable committee of Kiwanians with Carl S. Browne, past president as chairman of the general committee and Vern E. Morphet, vice-chairman who have the assistance of every Kiwanian from President John I. Allen down to the newest member.

Coboconk Man Held On Liquor Charge

LINDSAY, Oct. 13.—Walter Olsen, of Coboconk, who had been convicted several times in the past on liquor charges, was again gathered in by the authorities during the week-end. Provincial Constable Nelson and Preventative Officer O'Connell have had Olsen's home under observation for some time, making several raids on the premises, but without success.

On the latter occasion, however, the above mentioned officers, with Officer Lawrence, hove in sight as Mr. and Mrs. Olsen and three alleged customers, were standing near an auto in front of the house. One bottle of "swamp" whiskey was seized another bottle was samshed, it is believed, intentionally by one of the men. Olsen was remanded on the charge that he "did offer for sale or have in his possession, spirits unlawfully manufactured or imported, contrary to the Excise Act." Bail was set at $2,000.

WELSH RODEO

pealed to last night's comparatively small crowd.

Welsh Brothers have thirty-seven horses, twelve steers and twenty riders to draw from, and the very uncertainty of some of their work is a guarantee of variety for the whole week. The bronc and steer riding from chutes provided the spills, although some of the riders managed to stay aboard. The rodeo opened with Louis Welsh riding "Morning Glory" and Henry Nicholls of Medicine Hat on "Dynamite." Both horses took the air route, but failed to throw their riders. Paddy Preston was shot out on a steer, and lasted just about two jumps when he picked himself out of the sawdust.

Jose Welsh, the star of the show, gave a fine exhibition of trick riding and Roman jumping. In the latter act he went over the barrier standing on two horses. "Gray Coach" failed to throw Louis Welsh, but a steer tossed Bobby Watson. Jonny Anderson kicked in with an exciting ride on "Tornado" and "Black Beauty" gave Louis Welsh a rough ride.

The humor of this business of bronc riding is of the same category as that of a man who skids on a banana peeling. There's not much fun in it for the skidder, but it cracks a smile on the most philosophic face. So with the boys who take their whirls on the bronc and steers. When they make it they get a hand, but when they sprawl the crowd laughs. In that class was the steer race. Four of them were to start from chutes, but one must have been hard of hearing. Any way he wasn't interested in that race, and it was just as well for none of the other three reached the far end of the rink. Half way down the riders were spectators in the sawdust.

Jose Welsh came out on "Gentle Annie" and how that mare belied her name. She bucked with a vengeance, but Jose stayed on. Louis Welsh contributed some trick roping, and a wild horse race stirred up a lot of excitement. The horses had to be saddled and ridden, and the resulting melee was reminiscent of a fireworks display when a whole flock of bombs and other things are exploding together. How these broncs dislike the saddle!

Those were the high lights of last night's show. A new string of horses will be out to-night, with three special numbers which had to be omitted from the opening performance. If you like horses and clever riding, with spills and thrills, you should like the Welsh Brothers' rodeo, with the added feature that you are close up to the whole works. In fact you are almost too close, for last night several of the men were tossed along the side boards, and it looked at times as if some of them would be flung up among the spectators.

As we said, the Welsh Brothers and the Ken Maynards of the films can be "crazy over horses." It's a lot more cheerful looking on. Icy sidewalks and cars that zip around corners make like life too hazardous for pedestrians without any stirring of that boots and saddles spirit that lies latent in the most of us.

Mrs. J. H. Payne entertained a number of ladies at afternoon tea on Wednesday afternoon in her pretty home on Bridge street. About twenty ladies were present and spent a very delightful afternoon. A feature was a contest, which taxed the ingenuity of the members, and which was embroidery for memory the form of "Fifi", the Jiggs' dog on squares of white cotton. The results were amazing and many ludicous in the extreme, the judges awarded the prizes to Mrs. John A. Northey. Afternoon tea was served, Mrs. John Hendren and Misses Mildred Purdy and Eva Hendren assisting the hostess. The afternoon was delightful and much enjoyed by all present.

On Saturday afternoon last a number of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker, Nelson street, called on them for a social hour to mark the thirty-eighth anniversary of their marriage. The gathering was quite informal and was one of those neighborhood gatherings in which "Kentucky" delights and knows so well how to stage. Mr. and Mrs. Baker received the good wishes of their friends and a social hour was spent over a cup of afternoon tea.

The A.Y.P.A. opened its regular meetings on Monday evening and celebrated visitors' night by entertaining a number of visitors. Miss Winnie Payne, the president, was in the chair. It was decided to hold a progressive euchre party in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening October 15th.

A card party is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Garvey, "Maplegrove Farm," Smith on Monday evening under the auspices of St. Paul's Church.

On Wednesday of last week Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Creighton, Mrs. J. W. Todd, Mrs. Earnshaw, Mrs. Purdy, Miss G. M. Atwood and Miss L. Hampton motored to Hastings and attended the Deanery meeting of the W.A.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Every homemaker knows the delight and despair of having unexpected guests arrive about dinner time, guests whom you are so pleased to see that they are urged to remain for the meal, although it will tax ingenuity to know just how to eke out the meat so that it will appear ample.

• • • • • •

The main meat dish can be augumented in various ways according to the kind and method of cooking. For example dumplings for a stew take but a few minutes to prepare and cook.

• • • • • •

Be sure not to put in much shortening as the fat from the meat supplies almost enough. If made for a ragout, which is in a rather shallow saucepan, especially if the cover does not fit absolutely tight, it will be necessary to transfer the ragout to a deeper pot, with well-fitting lid, and add a little more liquid, either water or soup stock.

• • • • • •

Put in enough for the dumplings to cook for fifteen minutes without the contents burning. There should be a rich gravy.

• • • • • •

Steamed baking powder biscuits make a good substitute for dumplings. Put them around the serving platter and pour the gravy over them. If hamburg steak, or any mince meat preparation, is the main dish, rounds of toast under small cakes of servings of the meat help out decidedly.

• • • • • •

A simplified "assorted cuts" meat dish can be made when cold sliced meat is the main dish, and there is not ample of any one kind. For this emergency, canned food may be called upon.

• • • • • •

Slices of corned beef and tongue can be alternated with whatever variety of meat you already have. Arrange the slices attractively in alternation and dress the dish with parsley, celery tops or whatever green succulent vegetable there is on hand.

• • • • • •

Baking powder patties can be used for any meat preparation, minced or diced. Celery can be added and various other ingredients which not only increase quantities but add to the deliciousness of the flavor.

• • • • • •

Sweet pepper slivers, mushrooms, chopped carrots, tomatoes and shreds of uncooked onion or chopped boiled onions are favorite ingredients to include in these patty-filling mixtures.

• • • • • •

Cut a circle from the centre of each biscuit and scoop out most of the inside to form shells from ready baked biscuits. Or make flat, thin biscuits and put a ring of the dough on top of each, securing the two together with white of egg, and bake.

EMIGRANTS ASK GOV'T FOR HELP

Hundred Thousand Would Return to England From Australia.

PLEA BEING CONSIDERED.

LONDON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — A petition from one hundred thousand emigrants in Australia, asking that they be brought back to Great Britain because of their sufferings, is under advisement by the Government.

As presented by the British Emigrants' Association, the plea said the emigrants were induced to leave their homes by "mischievous, misleading and untruthful propaganda" on the part of Australian Government agents and that they now were in a condition of "misery semi-starvation and despair."

"Suicides are lamentably frequent," the petition said. "Hundreds of young women are exposed to the gravest dangers and young men are herded together in interment camps under worse conditions than those to which criminals are subjected in His Majesty's jails."

The Government also was asked to compensate the petitioners for their losses.

Canada has a total of over 2,700 dairy factories. Creameries numbered 1,200, according to the 1930 census of industry, and there were 1,202 cheese factories, also 291 factories making both products and 26 concentrated milk plants. Production of creamery butter was the highest on record totalling over 187 million pounds.

Acidity For 10 Years

Before He Found the Remedy

Many people endure suffering unnecessarily. This man did. If he had known ten years ago what he knows to-day, he would have been spared a great deal of suffering.

"I feel I must write a few lines in appreciation of your Kruschen Salts. I have suffered for 10 years from chronic acidity of the stomach. I tried nearly everything, until I was advised by a friend to try Kruschen, which I have taken for the last two months, and I am pleased to say I have had no return of the acidity. —W.B.

Kruschen Salts swiftly neutralises acid, takes all the torment out of it and gently expels it from the system. And by stimulating your organs of elimination to perfect regular action, Kruschen will prevent this harmful acid from ever accumulating again. After that you'll experience no more misery after meals. Kruschen will keep your inside clean and sereng. Pure and invigorated blood will be sent coursing to every part of your body. You'll feel wonderfully energetic and well. As healthy and hearty as it is humanly possible to feel.

Cheese Notes

CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Friday's grading at the Campbellford Grading Station registered 652 boxes of cheese, 17 lots as compared with the same week last year which totalled 18 lots 682 boxes of cheese. This week there were eleven pick-outs. For the week ending October 3rd there were 14 lots, 474 boxes as compared with the corresponding week last year which was 18 lots, 652 boxes.

Some cheese factories in West Northumberland which have been shipping for the past few months to Toronto are again selling locally as the Toronto demand is being supplied by Western Ontario producers.

A commission, the personnel of which is not yet determined, is likely to be sent to Wisconsin by the Ontario Department of Agriculture to study and observe dairy activities in the United States of America.

A slight upward in the price of cheese is noticed on the Belleville market.

Mr. J. P. Griffin, secretary of the Milk Producers Association with Mr. James L. Irwin were through this district recently inspecting the grading station and some of the factories.

ROAD TO ALASKA QUITE FEASIBLE

Hon. Geo. Black Will Urge Building of Route to Federal Gov't

ROUTE NOT DECIDED.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 10.— Hon George Black, M. P. for the Yukon, Speaker of the House of Commons, who was elected chairman of the Canadian-American Alaska highway committee, declared after a meeting of this committee here yesterday that the engineering feasibility of a road to Alaska had been completely demonstrated by data already gathered. He indicated that while no decision on this point had been reached a route straight north to the Yukon boundary was favored.

A road running across the Yukon could be repaired for a trunk highway at a cost of $5,000,000 it was estimated.

Mr Black said a report would be submitted to the Canadian government, the British Columbia government and the United States Congress outlining the committee's views on the route of the road, feasibility of construction and probable cost.

CHINA WEDDING IS HELD AT LAKEFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Kingdon Celebrate 20th Anniversary of Their Marriage

DISTRICT NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 13 (Examiner Correspondence).—Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Kingdon celebrated the 20th anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday evening at their home on D'Eyncourt street. Between 25 and 30 guests were present, including a number who were wedding guests twenty years ago, when Robina Kirkwood of Blantyre, Scotland, was united in marriage to Orville Kingdon. A number of the guests were also natives of Blantyre, and the evening was a real Scottish reunion, with music and songs reminiscent of the "Land of the Heather" sung. Beneath it all was the love of the old land, for, as Harry Lauder said, "Though other lands are bonnie and though other hearts are kind, there's one scene and one only that is ever in my mind."

But the party was not a sad one as everyone enjoyed the evening very much.

There were four tables of cards played, and other amusements kept the guests entertained till the "wee sma' hours." Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon received some beautiful gifts including a very handsome pure linen damask tablecloth from their family.

Among the absentees were Rev. H. J. Keith of Edmonton, formerly of Knox Church, who was the officiating clergyman twenty years ago, and Major Smith, who was unable, owing to family bereavement, to be present.

In dispersing, the guests united in hoping that a similar gathering would take place in five years, when the silver wedding would be celebrated.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Clementi Lodge, No. 313 A. F. and A.M. entertained a very distinguished visitor at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the person of Mr. Fred Dinwoodie, the "Grand Old Man of Campbellford," who recently celebrated his 90th birthday. Mr. Dinwoodie, who is a former resident of the village, is the only living charter member of Clementi Lodge, which was organized in 1876 during Mr. Dinwoodie's residence here. He was an honored guest in the lodge room, and entertained the members with very interesting reminiscences which were much enjoyed. The "Grand Old Man" is old only in years, and possesses the pep and enthusiasm of youth. His visit was a genuine treat to the brethren who, one and all, urged him to return again.

EXAMINER PLANNING TO SPONSOR COOKING, HOMEMAKING CLASS

School Will Open on Tuesday, October 20, Continue to Friday, October 23.

POPULAR LECTURER.

The Peterborough Examiner will sponsor a Cooking and Homemaking School by the famous DeBoth cooking and home-making experts, starting Tuesday, October 20 and continuing through Friday, Oct. 23.

Miss Clair Andree, lecturer, is popular with her audiences wherever she goes and will come here from Winnipeg, Man., where she is conducting a school this week for The Winnipeg Tribune. Miss Andree has had very successful schools this fall at Kitchener, Brantford St. Thomas and Stratford.

The term "cooking school" may sound dull and uninteresting to the average feminine citizen of Peterborough, that is if she has never attended a De Both Home Makers' School. It needs only one attendance to make of her pupil a De Both fan for life. To discover in a single afternoon or evening a lot of fun, a lot of interest, the most deft of instruction and even a thrill or two.

The atmosphere of "school" is missing. From the moment Miss Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools appears on her stage there is an instant feeling of expectancy. This may be due in part to her attractive personality, her quick and ready smile, as well as to the confidence she inspires in her thorough familiarity with the listeners' problems and training in how to meet them.

The first-time visitor needs only that first glance to know that this will be an afternoon of delight and surprises. The setting before which she stands is not dull. It is a kitchen—and yet what a kitchen. There are miracles to be done with those pans and glasses and measures and glittering stoves, and this smiling sorceress is going to evolve from the things before her such creations as would set to sighing every hungry man, woman and chick-a-biddy the wide world over.

There is only one doubt in the first-time visitor: Will she, the visitor, be able to perform the miracles she knows will be under way directly. Will she ever acquire that deftness and sureness, that calm certainty that exact results are to be expected? And then Miss Andre begins to talk. It isn't exactly a talk, either. It is rather a chat, the brisk advice of the expert, the friendly suggestion of a neighbor all held together with a sparkling running comment and a host of practical suggestions.

Here's fun. Here's a drama. But, most important of all, here is real information, real usable magic. Why, that complicated appearing cake is just play. That epicurean dream of a roast and its bright garnishments is no impossibility. She, the visitor, can make it. Crowded right into the fun the instructions and demonstrations have slipped their way.

The first-time visitor may know that Miss Andree has an imposing array of knowledge, is further trained directly under Jessie M. De Both in the practical problems of housewives, and has passed on her training and experience to enthusiastic audiences throughout the country. That knowlege gives the visitor assurance that what she hears is scientifically correct. She'll find even more—she'll find this a truly "royal road to learning."

Who said the kitchen was dull, filled with thankless labor, worry and drudgery? Instead it can be—for there it is before her eyes—a work shop for creative art, a playground, a scientific laboratory filled with exciting possibilities. Cooking from being a necessity suddenly opens into a fascinating field for triumphs.

The dullest imagination can see the eyes of her family grow round with wonder if duplicates of those tempting wishes could be made at home. And conviction leaps from out of the fog of doubt as the session moves on its bright way. She, the visitor, can do it. It's easy. As easy as it is wonderful.

Miss Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools will be in Peterborough for a four day session and there will be just one problem: Where to put all the women of Peterborough who will want to see and hear her. That isn't guess work. That statement is based on the experience of the De Both lecturers throughout the country for years past. Reserve dates.

THE MISTAKE OF A FAMOUS DOCTOR

Dr Robert G Jackson's paternal grandfather, father and eleven paternal uncles and aunts, and his own brother and sister all died of heart disease. At 50 the great Sir Wm Osler gave the doctor himself only four months to live, dying from heart disease and "general breakdown." He'd lived five years on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years after Osler gave him up he climbed the fifty storeys in Washington's Monument, up and down, and was not even tired. All as a result of changed living habits—chiefly a change from civilization's disease-causing acid foods to alkali-forming Roman Meal. His 428-page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL," tells the entire story—shows how anyone may be always well, by natural means. Remit $3.00 by P.O. order for a copy, or write for descriptive literature to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 502 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont., or write for his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and sample of Roman Meal and the new alkaline beverage, "Kofy-sub."

Springville W.M.S. Sets Social Date

SPRINGVILLE, Oct 13. (Examiner Correspondence).—The October meeting of the Springville W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the church with the president in the chair. Thirteen responded to the roll call with verses of Scripture. The Bible lesson was read from Matt. 28 chapter beginning with the 9th verse. The secretary, Miss J. Schaffer read two communications thanking the society for flowers and letters received during sickness.

The Thank Offering date was set for Oct 18 and a committee appointed to make arrangements for special music for the day. Rev. Mr. Kemp of Havelock will preach.

On Oct. 30 a Hallowe'en social will be held under the auspices of the W.M.S. The programme will be given by Stocks' Bread Co. of Peterborough.

Mrs. A. Hunter continued with her interesting account of the Study Book. The non-Christian religions of Japan are reflected in the lives of the people resulting in cleanliness and morality. Mrs. Hunter clearly brought out the contrast of Christianity and the struggle for its survival in Japan.

Mrs. Hunter presided for a Ladies Aid meeting to make definite plans for the Plowing Match.

The bale for the West was packed ready for shipment.

After receiving a petition "11 miles long" against the proposed bill granting Sunday movies, the English government has decided not to push the measure in Parliament.

CLEMENCY APPEAL THOMAS CRACKNELL

Harwich Township Farmer Has Been Convicted Twice on Murder Count.

CHATHAM, Oct. 13—A. L. Hanna, who defended Thomas Cracknell during his two trials on murder charges, both of which resulted in verdicts of guilty, is preparing to make final representations to the Minister of Justice for clemency to be extended to the Harwich Township farmhand. Cracknell is under sentence to be executed in the yard at the county jail, November 27, for the slaying of his wife, Alice. When returning with a verdict of guilty after the second trial, at which the defense argued insanity, the jury recommended Cracknell to mercy, and this will be emphasized in the representations the lawyer will make to the Minister of Justice.

Trent River Group Hears Number of Fine Impromptu Speeches.

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 13. —(Examiner Correspondent.)—The Efficiency League held their meeting Thursday instead of Friday this week. George Armstrong, president, had charge of the opening exercise as follows: Hymn, "Rescue the Perishing"; prayer led by Tom Haywood followed by Lord's Prayer. After the reading of the secretary's report, the president spoke a few words in regards to the program for Friday night at the convention to be held at Bethany. There were several of the members offered to drive their cars to take any of the members who wished to attend.

Psalm No. 5 was read responsively. Hymn, "Work for the Night is Coming." Mr. Isaac Lawson, who had charge of the missionary topic was absent, and George Armstrong conducted the following program: Hymn, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling."

A number of the members engaged in impromptu speeches as fololws: "The Battle of Trafalgar," by George Armstrong; "Country Life" by Milton Hawley; "City Life," by Thomas Haywood; "The World Seroes," by Mrs. George Holmes; "Touring," by Thomas Haywood; "The Life of a Ford Car" by Gerald Chaplin; "Summer Resort," by Milton Hawley; "Camping," by Thomas Haywood.

The sides grouped for the color count and the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Recent efforts to stimulate traffic between the Dominican Republic and South America, Panama and Gulf ports are said to have been successful.

"YES—I am 39 years Old!" SAYS IRENE RICH

This charming screen star tells how Hollywood keeps the lure of smooth, youthful skin . . .

Photograph by Autrey, Hollywood 1930

● IRENE RICH confesses frankly to thirty-nine birthdays! And why not? Years have only added to her charm!

"I DON'T mind confessing it a bit," says Irene Rich with her warm, irresistible smile. "I really am thirty-nine years old!

"A screen star never worries about birthdays, you see, as long as she doesn't look old.

"To hold her public—to face the cruel test of the close-up—she must keep the fresh loveliness of youth.

"That is why in Hollywood we guard complexion beauty above all else. We know it says 'youth' quicker than anything else. Any woman who wants to keep her charm right through the years should keep her skin always soft, smooth, youthfully aglow."

How does this lovely star guard complexion beauty? Just as so many other Hollywood actresses do—605 of the 613 important ones! "I use Lux Toilet Soap regularly," she says, "and I have for years."

For every type of skin, Hollywood will tell you, this fragrant, delicately white soap is the perfect complexion care. Surely you will want to try it!

ROCK GARDENS TALK SUBJECT

John Clark Gives Interesting Address Under Auspices of Women's Institute.

IN HAVELOCK HALL

HAVELOCK, Oct. 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — Rock Gardens was the subject of an address by John Clark, given in the Town Hall on Friday evening last, when at the invitation of the Women's Institute quite a number of local citizens assembled there to hear this foremost authority in the employ of the Ontario Government in one of his notable lectures on the subject of home beautification.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Clark urged the audience to make the acquaintance of the little furred and feathered creatures which inhabit fields and forest, and to cultivate their friendship, rather than hunt them for the purpose of slaughter. He showed many beautiful colored pictures of birds and animals in their native haunts.

Should Copy Nature

He urged those who would build rock gardens to copy nature in the manner in which the rocks and stones were placed. Nature never places trees in a straight row, nor stones in a square or diamond or oval shape. They are placed irregularly, and the beauty of nature cannot be improved upon. The beauty of a rock garden lies in its informality. Best rocks to use are limestone on account of their shape and the material of which they are formed.

During an intermission of the lecture Mrs. Clark who was present, delighted the audience with two vocal numbers, "In the Garden of My Heart," and "A Bowl of Roses" both of which were very much appreciated.

Leslie Chiles operated the lantern slides very efficiently. After the lecture was concluded, members of the Institute tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Clark for their very fine entertainment.

LEAGUE COUNCIL PROBES TROUBLE

sent to Chang yesterday in the form of instructions to the Peiping legation, which relayed them to the Manchurian general.

In moving to a point south of the Great Wall of China, General Chang apparently has been pushed entirely out of Manchuria, where he had ruled under the auspices of the Chinese Nationalist Government until the recent occupation by the Japanese of Southern Manchuria.

In Tokyo yesterday the way was opened toward possibly peace negotiations between Chinese and Japanese officials.

Chang Tso-Pin, Chinese Minister to Japan, and Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, conferred about three hours. It was understood Shidehara had outlined certain principles which Japan felt should be agreed upon prior to the opening of negotiations for adjustment of the Manchurian trouble.

Havelock Rebekahs Visit Lindsay Lodge

HAVELOCK, Oct. 13.—(Examiner Correspondence)—About forty members of Dorcas Rebekah's journeyed to Lindsay recently and exemplified the degree in the lodge room of the Rebekah's there. Members were there from Toronto, Peterborough, Millbrook and other sister lodges, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

The degree team from Havelock, all in spotless white put on the work perfectly, and drew warm praise from the District Noble Grand, who was present for the occasion. Afterwards each individual member presented the Noble Grand and President with the single pink and white carnations worn during the ceremony.

After congratulatory speeches by visiting dignataries all repaired to the banquet room nearby, and enjoyed a sumptuous repast, returning to their homes in the small hours of the morning.

W.I. ANNUAL OUTING

Apsley Members Spend Enjoyable Afternoon at Loon Lake.

(Examiner Correspondence)

APSLEY, Oct. 13.—The Women's Institute spent their annual outing on Wednesday by the kind invitation of Mrs. Stanley Windsor at her summer cottage on Loon Lake. There were 22 members present and a very enjoyable day was spent.

The members were conveyed to Scott's landing by motor by Mrs. Windsor, Mrs. W. Lean, Stanley Windsor and Owen James and thence by motor boat to the cottage by Chas Smith and C. S. Windsor where they arrived in time to enjoy a sumptuous dinner prepared by Mrs. J. Downing and Mrs. Marshall of Smithville. The afternoon was spent in community singing, recitations and stunts. Sandwiches and tea were served before the members left on the return journey. Just before leaving prayers were read and a hearty vote of thanks on motion of Mrs. Roy Brown was accorded Mrs. Windsor for the pleasant day they had spent accompanied by the singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Regular Meeting St. Paul's W.M.S.

The members of St. Paul's W.M.S. held their regular meeting on Friday with Mrs. W. R. Turner, president, in the chair. A short business session was held when reports were received from Mrs. J. McCaw and Miss Nina Davidson. Mrs. Richard Cowan sang a beautiful solo, accompanied by M. N. Chenhall.

The devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. W. Lyburn and Mrs. James Dutton, while Miss Craw, the speaker, gave an inspiring address on "Enthusiasm and Inspiration." She gave a vivid description of conditions in the West and made an earnest plea for more enthusiasm in Missionary work. Mrs. W. R. Turner moved a vote of thanks to Miss Craw.

The Thank offering meeting will take place on November 13.

NIGHTLY PRIZES AT KIWANIS FAIR

Tickets Numbered 2435 and 442 Win Prizes on Thanksgiving Night

Each night during the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition staged in the Armouries for the remainder of this week, door prizes are being given to the holder of the ticket bearing the lucky number, while a nightly raffle is also held in addition. Last night the door prize went to the holder of ticket number 2435—and with winter just around the corner it was a prize worth winning or at any other time of the year it would be doubtless equally welcome. Presented by H. B. Taylor and Son the door prize last night was one ton of coal. The prize won in the raffle with ticket number 442 was a handsome clock donated by The Western Clock Company. Prizes may be obtained by the winners on application to any member of the Kiwanis Club. Every paid admission to the "Ex" has an equal chance of sharing in valuable prizes the remaining five nights of this week.

Centreton

CENTRETON, Oct. 13 (Examiner Correspondence)—The fowl supper held in the Sunday school hall on Tuesday evening was very successful.

The tables were laden with good things to eat and following the supper an excellent program was given in the church, for which Rev. M. F. Hawley acted as chairman.

The program included: recitations, "Caleb's Fortune and What it Brought" and "The Shadow on the Blind," Mrs. Janes, Cobourg; quartette and cornet solos; recitations, "The Comforting Visitors" and "The Foolish Little Maiden" Mrs. McLauchlin, of Grafton; "Job's Comforter," Mrs. S. McBride.

Rev. A. McLaughlin, of Grafton, gave an address and everyone enjoyed the solos given by Harry Fiske, of Wicklow, accompanied by Rev. A. McLauchlin, at the organ. These included, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," "The Watermelon on the Vine" and "I Think I'll get Wedded in the Summer Time." The local orchestra played at intervals during the program and the personnel was: Charles Wilton, traps; R Webb, J. Smith, A. Richardson, R Curtis and Hadyn Smith, violin; Mrs. Jones, autoharp; Joseph Webb, guitar.

P.C.I. Seniors Win Third Straight Victory

FORWARD PASS AND EXTENSION PLAYS FEATURE LOCALS' WIN OVER LINDSAY SCHOOL SQUAD

Scugog Students Unable to Cope With Clever Playing of Garnet and Grey.

FINAL COUNT 40-5

Petes Score Seven Touchdowns and a Field Goal for Their Big Total.

Unloosening an aerial attack with unerring use of the forward pass, Coach Ernie Legon's P.C.I. rugby squad ran their season's victories up to three straight in Lindsay on Saturday afternoon by smothering the Lindsay Collegiate twelve beneath a 40 to 5 score.

The Scugog boys were wholly unable to cope with the speed and cleverness of the smartly-coached Peterborough team. The game proved to be nothing but a workout for the Garnet and Grey players and they seized the opportunity to perfect their forward passing and extension plays.

The Petes scored seven touchdowns, two of which were converted for extra points, and a field goal for their big total. Lindsay's one score came in the second quarter, after Campbell snared one of P.C.I.'s forward passes for a thirty yard gain. That pass, the only one during the day that Lindsay intercepted for their own game, placed the Scugog boys in scoring position for the first and last time of the game, and they cashed in on it by sending Tripp over for a touchdown on a well-executed extension in which the halves handled the ball.

The Garnet and Grey were not at full strength for the game but this seemed to have little effect on their play. Injuries kept several of the regulars out of the fray, but the substitutes proved their worth.

Verne Armstrong, P.C.I.'s stalwart middle, nursed an injured hip on the sidelines throughout the game. Armstrong was kept out of the melee until near the end of the first half, and was in for one play only. He was handed the ball on that play and crashing through the line re-injured his hip. However, the injury is not serious and Armstrong should be in first-class shape for the crucial fixture next Saturday.

Gardner As A Kicker

The game proved to Coach Legon that he has at last unearthed a kicker among his squad, something which the team has lacked in previous games this season. Jack Gardner, hard tackling outside, has been given instructions in booting the pigskin during the past week, and on Saturday he was kicking well-placed spirals fifty and sixty feet.

Most of the P.C.I. scores followed big gains on forward passes. Marsh, long-legged snap, showed great form in snaring these passes thrown by Young and Richardson, his extra height making him a great target for the hurler and he was faultless in receiving them.

During the first quarter the Petes threw the game wide-open with their forward passing and passing extension plays. They paraded the ball to three uninterrupted touchdowns.

Lindsay held the attackers much better in the second quarter and intercepted one of the forward passes for a touchdown.

In the third quarter Peterborough tossed up the defenders by sending plays through the line for big gains and in the final spasm the winners again opened up their aerial attack.

The teams:

Peterborough Collegiate — Flying wing, Jopling; halves, Young, Richardson and Thirnbeck; quarter, Fraser; snap, Marsh; insides, Clayton and Waddell; middles, Lord and Sloane; outside, Reynolds and Gardner; subs, Armstrong, Clark, Kirkwood, Dinesen and Breckenridge.

Lindsay Collegiate—Flying wing, J. Lamb; halves, Tripp, Smith and J. Campbell; quarter, D. Lamb; snap, D. Campbell; insides, Hodgson and Ringland; middles, McIlmoyle and Beatty; outsides, Groves and Reid; subs, Betts, Beall, Sloane, Abbott and Dunlop.

Referee—Art Carew, Lindsay; umpire—Westbrook.

Summary

First Quarter

P.C.I. 5, Jopling's touchdown.
P.C.I. 5, Young's touchdown.
P.C.I. 6, Waddell's touchdown, converted by Young's forward pass to Gardner.

CUBS DEFEAT WARSAW 18-7

Bridgenorth Retains Lead in Intermediate Section of Lakefield League.

SUGAR BOWL IN 4-ALL TIE

TO-NIGHT'S GAMES

The games for Tuesday night are:
7 p.m.—Canucks vs. Sugar Bowl.
8 p.m.—Selwyn vs. Bridgenorth.
9 p.m.—Business Men vs. Warsaw.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 12 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday evening last a large and very enthusiastic crowd gathered in the rink for the triple-header softball match. The first game had the great local interest as the Cubs and Warsaw met in a fast game which left Warsaw the small end of a 18-7 score. So far Bridgenorth leads the Intermediate League. In the Cubs-Warsaw game, E. Briant at the plate and B. Blewett at bases were umpires, and had a busy session.

Thompson of Warsaw scored the only home run of the fixture; McCarthy struck out ten men and held his own at bat. Wingett with three runs had the best record at bat.

Cubs.—McCarthy, p; Wingett, c; White, 1b; Stewart, 2b; Morrison, 3b; F. Payne, rss; Lancaster, lss; Chaplin, rf; C. Payne, lf.

Battle to 4-all Count

The third and closest game of the three ended a tie 4—4 at the end of seven innings and one more innings was played to break the deadlock between the Sugar Bowl and Decks, the former scored 3 in the eighth while Decks scored none, so the game remains a Sugar Bowl win.

Vinette in the 8th scored a home run. Elliott, Decks' snappy little pitched had fifteen strike-outs to his credit, with no walks. G. Dormer scored three counters for his team. The line-up was as follows:—

Sugar Bowl.—Simmons, p; Calladine, c; McLeish, 1b; Corbett, 2b; H. Dormer, 3b; Wilshaw, rss; G. D. lss; Baker, rf; Vinette, lf.

Decks.—Elliott, p; O'Rourke, c; Ellis, 1b; Howe, 2b; Starr, 3b; McCormick, rss; Anderson, lss; J. Meyette, rf; Welsh, lf.

GARNET AND GREY SECOND TEAM REVENGE 'SELVES BY SWAMPING MOTOR CITY UNDER 32-4 COUNT

Will Now Meet Hefty Bowmanville Team for First Position in Group.

PLAY CLEVER GAME

Visitors Provide Little Opposition After the Opening Moments of Game.

After dropping their opening game of the season in Oshawa two weeks ago, the P.C.I. Intermediates came back with a vengeance Saturday afternoon at James Stevenson Park when they handed the Motor City crew a 32-4 lacing and put themselves in a fine position to battle it out with the hefty Bowmanville team for first place.

With the exception of early in the contest, the P.C.I. boys were never hard pressed and after half time they tore the Oshawa line to shreds and ran up major tallies with monotonous regularity. Every man on the team worked well in the winning effort but Art Wood looked particularly good on line plunges and the big fellow sifted through for lengthy trips on every call. Wood had an all star supporting cast with Don White running and catching in high class style, 'Toby' Westbye kicking lengthy spirals that had the visitor's back field badly worried and also the alround playing of Tranter, Dearborn and Wilson.

The visitors also had their heroes although they found the going rather hard against the inspired Peterborough squad. Trewin made a nice job of the kicking assignment but wasn't afforded very strong protection on the line. Hern, Backageorge, Marks and Storie also did some nice line work and tried hard to break through the stout P.C.I. line for gains and not without success.

The Garnet and Grey team, after a not too brilliant start, settled down nicely and showed the crowd some rugby that would be a credit to many senior collegiate teams, and if the boys can keep the form that they showed Saturday, they will be hard to beat for the district title.

One of the Best

Wood, the 'galloping galloper' of the locals, after some classy plunging, dropped a beautiful kick over the bar for three points to give his team a start and after that all the plungers did fine work and White, Westbye and Tranter looked after the back-field duties in faultless fashion.

The forward pass was not used to any extent by either squad although the 'Petes' benefited by Oshawa's attempts, Robertson picking a couple out of the air to turn them into big gains for the locals and put them in sure scoring positions.

The contest started out as if it would be a low scoring game with single points to count and at half time P.C.I. had a 9-4 lead obtained from a try, a convert and Wood's drop kick, to Oshawa's two singles and a safety touch.

P.C.I. Takes Lead

After the rest, however, things took on a different aspect as the locals commenced to plough through the opposition line. P.C.I. took complete command of the entire situation and had the ball practically the entire thirty minutes. It was in this half that Wilson, Dearborn, Robertson, Wainman and Westbye showed to advantage. Westbye, after booting a high one from the thirty yard line, tore down after his kick to fall on it behind the Oshawa line for the prettiest piece of work of the day and a really spectacular touchdown.

Oshawa fought back desperately in the dying moments of the game in an effort to add to their meagre score but the 'Petes' were just as good and didn't give the visitors a chance to tally. It was at this stage of the game that the Motor City boys tried several forward passes but without success as the locals seemed to sense everything that was coming in plenty of time to form their defence.

The Teams

Oshawa C.I.—Bell, centre; Storie, Hern, inside; Backageorge, Allan, middle; Collis, Backageorge, outside; Maindrill, Bradd, flying wing; Marks, Trewin, halves; Andison, quarter; Cornish, Chappell, Johnson, McKenzie, Hodgson, Pollard, spares.

Peterborough C. I. — Duncan, centre; Wood, Chesler, inside; Wilson, Mackay, middle; Glover, Wainman, outside; Robertson, Sedgewick, flying wing; White, Tranter, halves; Dearborn, quarter; Westbye, Waddell, Parnall, Weddell, Braund, Darcy, McKone, Hewett, Johnson, spares.

Referee — Macdonald, (Peterborough).

Umpire—Bond, (Oshawa).

KEENE SQUAD 16-10 VICTORS

Draw Last Blood of Softball Season by Defeating the All-Stars.

PLENTY OF HITTING

Keene girls' softball team drew last blood of the year yesterday afternoon at the Bowl when they welloped an all-star team picked from the league by the score of 16 to 10. Despite the chill in the air about five hundred fans watched the contest, which was marked by good playing on the part the winners all the way.

The All-Stars went good in the early stages, getting three runs in the first, four in the second, two in the third and one in the fourth. They were blanked the rest of the game by good pitching and fine fielding. Keene scored five runs in the first and none in the second. They broke loose in the third to counter seven times. Four more in the seventh put the game in the bag. They hit regularly and took advantage of poor defensive work on the other side.

Mary Hall, twirling for the All-Stars, struck out three and issued three walks, while being touched for fifteen singles, many of them of the scratch variety. Her opponent, Mary McCarthy, improved as she went along, holding the Stars hitless in the last five frames. She fanned four, walked three and gave just eight hits.

Dot Chapman played a bangup game at short for the losers, while Freda Pavy and Dot Webb pulled off a few nice ones. Mary Brown, Helen Nelson and Jean Nelson all fielded their positions in fine style, and their teammates backed them up.

D. Webb, with a triple, and G. Mortimer with a two-bagger, led the losers in hitting, none of them getting two hits. For the Keene outfit, H. Nelson was the main sticker, getting three hits in five times up. I. Short, M. McCarthy, V. Dickson, R. Gainor and G. McCarthy, all had two bingles. In fact, only one of the visiting players failed to get at least one safe blow.

TERRIERS WIN O.B.A.A. TITLE

St. George's Suffer 2 to 1 Defeat in Deciding Game at Hamilton.

IN PITCHERS' DUEL.

HAMILTON, Oct. 13.—Galt Terriers retained the Ontario Amateur Baseball Championship, when they defeated St. George's here yesterday afternoon 2 to 1, before a crowd of 5,170 paid customers, the largest turnout for a baseball game in this city. It was a duel between Wilbur Kress and Bert Cook, and the former won because he was airtight in the pinches.

The Saints scored their lone counter in the first, and threatened again in the third, but from then on they were helpless against the speed and curves of Kress, who never allowed anything that appeared like a hit in the last six innings of the game. Cook also pitched a fine game, but he weakened slightly in the fourth, and before he settled down, the Terriers had shoved across two runs which proved enough to win.

Irish Rasson Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game

SMITHS FALLS, Oct. 13.—James "Irish" Rasson hurled a no-hit, no-run game here yesterday, scoring his thirteenth consecutive victory when the Smith's Falls team downed Timiskaming 9 to 0, thus winning the Eastern Ontario Baseball Association title and the Ottawa Journal Trophy in the second straight game of the final series.

It was announced directly after the game that the manager, Harry O'Neill, would wire a challenge to the Galt team, O.B.A.A. champions, for a series with the Ontario title hanging in the balance.

JACK SHARKEY WINS DECISIVE VICTORY OVER PRIMO CARNERA

30,000 People See Pair Tangle in Fifteen Rounds of Spectacular Milling.

VENETIAN TAKES BEATING.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 13.—The bigger they come, the better Jack Sharkey likes it and Primo Carnera, for one, won't venture to deny it. In the same rink where he found 170-pound Mickey Walker so tough a foe to take a few weeks ago, Sharkey blasted his way to a decisive victory on points over the 260-pound Carnera in Ebbets' Field last night and bounced himself right back to the forefront of challengers for Max Schmeling's heavyweight crown.

While a surprisingly large crowd of 30,000 looked on, Sharkey went to work methodically on the big Venetian, and relentlessly cut him down to size. Before the Boston sailor's hand was raised in token of victory after 15 rounds of spectacular milling, Sharkey had floored Carnera for one nine count, closed one of the Italian's eyes and given him so savage a beating that Primo was on the verge of a knockout on a half-dozen occasions.

But if the fight reinstated Sharkey to his position as a leading contender it served also to remove any lingering doubts as to Carnera's courage and stamina. The huge Italian failed to exhibit his vaunted punch, but he demonstrated all kinds of courage. Subjected to punishment severe enough to have finished almost any other heavyweight, the Italian Man Mountain still was in there, offering what resistance he could when the final bell sounded.

Carnera won only one round, the third, and held Sharkey even in another, the thirteenth. The others all went to the Boston sailor, whose excellent showing was especially surprising in view of his draw with Walker recently.

Carnera weighed 261 pound; Sharkey, 202½.

C. G. E. DEFEATS BRINTON A. FOR GORDON TROPHY

Daynes Plays Brilliant Game Between Goal Posts for Electrics

LACK OF PRACTICE.

Ben McMaster Gets Three Goals—Cordoroy, Dyer and Westwood Also Score.

A cup tie battle between the Brinton Athletic and the Canadian General soccer elevens ended in the former being ousted from the G. N. Gordon trophy competition by the score of four to two. Lack of practice, or rather games, resulted in the Carpet boys falling away as the battle progressed. The winners now await the result of the Caley-C.P.C. game.

There was no advantage in the spin of the coin, both elevens giving an excellent exhibition through combination and defensive methods whenever near the goal. In the early stages, two goals was registered by Dyer, for Brinton and McMaster for the C.G.E. Two flag kicks fell to the Carpet boys who attempted to carry the attack close in on the goal before shooting. They met a hard tackling defense that conceded corner kicks. From a flag kick, Dyer placed the ball on the cross-bar to go out. Clark intercepted the movement to his team-mates' benefit. He sent the right wing down the field where Murphy evaded the full backs inside the goal area to leave Ben McMaster in possession who met a close formation but Cordoroy took Curtis by surprise as he connected into the far corner.

Brilliant Goal-tending

This setback to the Carpet boys resulted in the play going out to the wings. Boon and Dyer delivering rocket shots into goal. The right wing combination ended in Boon sending a rocket drive into Dayne's charge who picked the ball away from the foot of O'Halloran. Then he had to fall on the ball to safe-guard his citadel from Eric Jones' low grounder. Before the interval, the whole forward rank of the Brinton endeavoured to penetrate the solid defensive tactics of the C.G.E. but failed. Canadian General 2, Brinton Athletics 1.

Second Half

No changes in the position were noticeable on resuming the play. The C.G.E. team indulged in long swinging passes and at times reverted to close combination to keep the leg weary opponents on the run. A break away by Darling on the left wing, gave Ben McMaster ample time to swing the ball to his inside right who returned it quickly as he tore in with a rocket drive. Repeatedly the Brinton boys travelled down into the shooting zone but they were off the mark. O'Halloran always being a fraction too late when an opportunity was presented. They confined the play into the C.G.E. half. Then a breakaway by Murphy transferred the ball to the other end where Curtis held a smart drive from the foot of Jack McMaster. Darling was back again on an individual effort and after travelling the length of the field, slipped the ball to Ben McMaster who made no mistake with a rocket drive that bulged the net.

Change Line-up

At this stage, Westwood went up into the forward line in place of O'Halloran. Hawthorne taking up the inside left position. Their presence resulted in the C.G.E. players dropping back to holding the meagre lead. From a nice opening by Eric Jones, up to his captain, Westwood scored from a short distance, Daynes failing to get a proper hold on the ball. The concluding episode was the break away by Ben McMaster who had only the custodian to beat. From five years out, he smashed the ball against the upright. Canadian General 4, Brinton 2.

Scorers: Ben McMaster (3) and Cordoroy, Brinton, Dyer and Westwood.

Brinton—W. Curtis, goal; D. Green and S. Laidler full backs; R. Creighton, T. Westwood and J. Hawthorne, halves; F. Dyer, E. Jones, J. O'Halloran, J. Sweet and T. Boon, forwards.

Canadian General—J. Daynes, goal; J. Thomas and E. Lewington, full backs; J. Chamberlain, S. Clark and R. Clyde, halves; R. Murphy, J. McMaster, B. McMaster R. Cordoroy and H. Darling, forwards.

Referee—Alex McKinley. Linesmen, D. McGregor and A. Smith.

McGILL IS BEATEN BY WESTERN 7-3

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 13—With a perfect defence for the forward pass and aided by the superlative kicking of Paterson, University of Western Ontario Mustangs defeated McGill 7 to 3 in the opening game of the intercollegiate senior football race at Little Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon and are now sharing the top of the heap with Queen's. In the first game of the afternoon the opener in the intercollegiate intermediate schedule, Western Colts went down to defeat before the McMaster Baptists, 7 to 1, mostly due to the fact that the Western line failed to hold.

CASUAL COMMENT

Both P.C.I. rugby teams snowed their opponents under last Saturday, the seniors burying Lindsay Collegiate under a 40 to 5 count in the Scugog town, while here at Riverside, the intermediates handed Oshawa a 32 to 4 licking. It made it three straight wins for the senior squad, while the intermediates had sweet revenge on their Motor City opponents, who beat them a couple of weeks back.

• • • • • • •

A fast, shifty P.C.I. team ran their Lindsay rivals dizzy, throwing forward passes whenever the mood hit them, and altogether looked much the better team in every quarter. Although not at full strength, the Petes just romped through to win, with their kicking and passing opening up the game and providing plenty of interest to the fans.

• • • • • • •

Jack Gardner's booting was a feature, as was the receiving of Marsh, who took the long throws of Young and Richardson on the dead run, with just one pass being intercepted on him. This one, incidentally, figured in Lindsay's only touchdown.

• • • • • • •

During the last half of the game here Saturday, it was just too bad for the Oshawa line, as they were hit hard and often as the Petes steam-rollered over them to an easy victory. The intermediates, taken all around, look like they might be in at the death yet, as they are showing much-improved rugby the past week or so. Coach Ernie Legon will have some real material there next year.

• • • • • • •

Only a small crowd took in the girls' softball game at the Bowl Saturday, which the All-Stars won 9-8 over the East City crew. Hilda Joyce threw them in for the winners, and Barbara Blade pitched for the easterners. There was little to choose between the teams, although none of the players took the game seriously.

• • • • • • •

A good crowd, for this time of year, saw the girls' benefit softball game at the Bowl yesterday afternoon, and now they know why the Keene outfit won the loop title. The visitors played an All-Star team and outhit, outpitched and outfielded them all the way through to win 16-10. It was a good game to watch—something doing all the time.

• • • • • • •

The Keene management wasn't missing any arguments, in fact, for a while the diamond was just cluttered up with all the different managers of that team. They objected strenuously when two of their runners were called out in one frame for leaving the base too soon. The umpire seemed right to us, but regardless of that, all the arguing in the world won't change his decision, so why fuss?

• • • • • • •

Jean Nelson, at first for the winners, was a busy target all afternoon, having fifteen putouts. Mary McCarthy pitched a fine game, had two hits to her credit, and helped with five assists as well. Her teammates gave her much better support than the Stars gave Mary Hall.

• • • • • • •

Down in Kingston, our lacrosse players lost a close game 7 to 6 yesterday, but with several of their regular players missing from the lineup, they had a swell alibi. Still it was a good battle, and a large crowd of fans got a big kick out of it. It was just an exhibition fracas, so the players had some fun out of it too.

LAST-MINUTE COUNTER GIVES TRICOLOR WIN OVER VARSITY

Kicking Duel Between Sinclair and Carter Feature of Intercollegiate Game.

FINAL SCORE IS 3-2

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—Shades of Frank Merriwell, fiction hero of long ago. Memories of this famous character of a vivid imagination were revived on Saturday afternoon when "Red" Gilmore kicked a goal from placement in the last minute of the game to wipe out a two-point lead and give Queen's University a 3 to 2 verdict over University of Toronto in the opening game of the Intercollegiate Union series.

The teams were well matched, so much so that they staged a glorified punting duel almost all the way, with Jack Sinclair having the better of the argument with Howard Carter. The Blue and White were no mighty aggregation, but in the matter of defense and attack they were possibly slightly superior to their old rivals. They gained a one-point advantage in the second period, tacked on another, and were headed for a victory until the Tricolor rallied in the dying moments and went on to win.

Later Westwood accepted an opening to beat the goalie with a low grounder. He was followed by Ackinson who scored on an individual effort. Twice the Packers tested Curtis to find him unbeatable. Before the interval, the Brinton added another to make the tally stand Brinton Athletic 3, Canadian Packing 0.

Half Time.

On resuming, the Packers took up the attack in real earnest to bombard the Brinton goal. Nicholls endeavored to reduce the lead, but Curtis held them scoreless. Later in this period the Brinton added another count. Two minutes before the end, the Packers tallied after a continued scrimmage. Brinton Athletic 4, Packers 1.

Brinton Athletic—W. Curtis, goal; J. O'Halloran and C. Hanson, full-backs; S. Laidler, T. Westwood and J. Taylor, halves; R. Dyer, D. Green, E. Jones and A. Adkinson, forwards.

Canadian Packing— W. Rickard, goal; E. Hakin and J. Chamberlain, full-backs; F. Nicholls, N. Downer and A. Bromley, halves; G. Downer, A. McPhate, I. McPhate, J. Ross and D. Best, forwards.

Referee—T. Bartley.

BRINTON ADDS SOCCER POINTS

At Canadian Packers' Expense by Winning 4 to 2 Victory.

ON THANKSGIVING DAY.

The Brinton Athletic added to record of league achievements on morning of the Thanksgiving holiday when they defeated the Packers by four goals to one, at King Edward Park. The losers trotted out many new faces in their lineup. This win gives the Brinton the best average in points of any team in the local soccer league.

Poor Shooting.

In the early stages, the forwards had many opportunities but failed to connect at the proper times.

Teams Finish Their Soccer League Schedule for the Present Year.

McMASTER SCORES AGAIN.

The Canadian General and the Canadian Packing concluded their soccer league schedule on Thanksgiving by registering a draw—one goal each—before a meagre attendance of spectators. Deloro was scheduled to play but at the last minute were unable to do so and Canadian Packers were called in to fill the breach. Ben McMaster got his usual goal.

From the kick-off, the Packers took the ball down into the C.G.E. goal territory to test the ability of Joe Daynes who had quick work ahead of him to avert a count. Stan Clark relieved the pressure to permit Bet. McMaster to make an attempt to open the scoring. He met a keen exponent in Hakin at full-back, who tackled at the right time to offset his marksmanship. Mid-field exchanges continued with the Packers half-back division frustrating the over-anxious C.G.E. forwards. At last, an individual effort by Ben McMaster ended in him getting the advantage of the full-backs as he tore in quickly on the run. Jones tackled him near the goal, but the C.G.E. pivot man landed a left footer to divert the ball into the far corner of the net, away from the custodian. Hard and fast tackling prevailed for a while with the exchange being on an even basis until the interval arrived with the Canadian General 1, C.P.C. 0.

KEEN TACTICS.

On resuming, the players introduced a lot of pep into the game by a combination that was pretty to see. Then Murphy on the right came into the picture through a very good opening and brought the play in front of the goal. No less than three times did Newt Downer break through to find that he had left his shooting boots at home. After a prolonged session in the triangle play by Nicholls and Brother Downers, the younger boy stretched Daynes in an effort to put the ball over the bar. Lewington aided the packers, a little later, when he headed into the corner of the goal a ray out of the reach of his own custodian, to even up the count.

Canadian General — J. Daynes, goal; E. Lewington and J. Chamberlain, full-backs; R. Lovatt, S. Clark and R. New, halves; R. Murphy, R. Cordoroy, B. McMaster, J. McMaster and B. Bolam, forwards.

Canadian Packing — B. Wise, goal; E. Hakin and A. Roberts, full-backs; A. McPhate, E. Jones and A. Bromley, halves; G. Dormer, T. Williams, N. Downer, F. Nicholls and W. Rankin forwards.

Referee—T. Bartley.

TIGERS BATTER SCULLERS 12-7

Sprague, Timmins and Zvonkin Are Highlights of Hamilton Victory.

HAMILTON, Oct. 13.—Taking an unmerciful pounding from those Tiger tanks, Dave Sprague, Brian Timmis and Abe Zvankin, Toronto Argonauts made a courageous stand against the Interprovincial Union champions here yesterday afternoon in the opening Big Four fixture, but had to accept a 12-to-7 defeat.

The terrible Tigers plowed their way to victory, scored two touchdowns through the line-ripping ability of the long-geared Sprague and two single points from the booting of "Beano" Wright, but they had to fight an up-hill struggle most of the way. It was not until the third quarter was well spent that they went to the front for the first time in the game.

Argonauts electrified some 7,000 rabid Hamilton fans in the first quarter by taking a 6 to 0 lead through the outstanding scoring play of the day. Young Jack Taylor, the former Upper Canada College and Argonaut junior player, sprinted for 55 yards through the Tiger team to score a touchdown which Frank Turville converted. It was the first time Argos had crossed the Tigers' goal-line in Hamilton since Bruce Hutchinson picked up a loose ball four years ago and ran it over for a major score.

SHORT GAME GREAT FACTOR IN PLAY OF GOLF CHAMPIONS

Mastery of Shots to the Pin All-Important Medium to Success.

THE STARS PRACTISE

(By Fred G. Jackson)

How is your short game? Can you take a mashie, mashie-niblick, jigger, or niblick and place the old golf ball pin high and get down in one putt when necessary?

If not, you will never win a golf title.

The above random thoughts are merely the gleanings from an extensive campaign of golf tournaments starting back in June with the Ontario women's championships and terminating Friday at the Lambton club when Miss Ada Mackenzie came back to the golfing wars by dethroning Miss Margery Kirkham of Montreal.

When one plods along behind these shot-makers day in and day out and sees them plant shot after shot in one-putting distance of the cup it is easy to see how utterly dominating is the short game.

Take the case of Miss Maureen Orcutt, smooth-stroking Canadian open champion for two successive years. Time after time throughout the week she clashed with opponents who were just as long, if not longer, off the tee, who could crash out brassies and long irons with just as much ease, only to falter before the deadly chipping and putting of the New Jersey girl.

Not a Lucky Shot

When she dropped her chip shot against Miss Van Wie to win the match at the eighteenth hole there was no fluke about it. The ball was perfectly hit, beautifully timed and was in the cup all the way. She is always trying to drop her short shots instead of merely being content to get them somewhere on the green. Again on the following day when up against Miss Kirkham she was successful in sinking a chip, this time at the 26th hole.

Possibly the most glaring example of the difference between a keen short game and a long hitter was in the Marion Hollins-Maureen Orcutt match. Here were two exact opposites. Miss Hollins didn't fool with her tee shots, they were sent crashing far down the fairways. At times she outdrove her rival by 25 yards. But when it came to the short pitches, etc., she was lost and was ultimately defeated by the same short shots.

Then again what better example can be found than in the close championship semi-finals at Lambton Golf Club Thursday. Here were two matches all square at the eighteenth. Only two players out of the four could win and Miss Mackenzie and Miss Kirkham crashed through by reason of brilliant pitches from 20 feet off the green that stopped less than a foot from the pin. You could go down the line in every championship and point out countless more examples of the value of the short game. But would it do any good? I doubt it!

Champions Work on Shots

The champions put in hour after hour pitching and putting, chipping and putting, but what do you find the average players doing whenever they feel the urge to put in a few practice licks.

Out comes the trusty driver, several dozen balls, and they whack away to their heart's content until the slice has been eradicated, the hook straightened out and they are once again satisfied. At times they will work on their brassies, spoons and long irons.

There is a certain something about a successful tee shot that appeals to the average player. Possibly vanity has a lot to do with it. Your tee shots are always the ones that come in for the most notice with players, or spectators usually gathering around a tee to watch the drives. Nothing like starting off on the right foot!

Soon Be Too Late

Slowly but surely the local golf season is dying a natural death. The greatest campaign from a competitive sense is just about ready to throw up the sponge. Tournament after tournament has been held, championships decided and awards handed out.

The Ward trophy match at the Royal York Tuesday between Ontario and New York state professionals marked the end of the 1931 tournament season and now nothing remains but friendly games until the snow flies, fairways freeze up and the greens are obliterated by Old Man Winter.

Still, there are many days of golf left and why not start in now, Mr. Average Golfer, and go to work on that all-important short game?

It will return you some handsome dividends!

Hamilton Tigers even without Mike Rodden, seem to be the very same line smashing, powerful team of former years. Sprague, who "sprag" into prominence last year with his sensational ball-carrying, has this year sported a helmet, which should add another few yards to his total.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

HATE IS BORN OF FEAR.

Who greatly fears will soon or late
Find in his heart a burning hate.
—Old Mother Nature.

It always has been so, and probably always will be so. Fear comes first, and if it is long continued, or even if it is sudden and very great, it is almost always followed by hate, hate of the cause of the fear. It happened just this way to Kid Surefoot.

He had wandered off by himself, and at last stood on a little ledge admiring a wonderful view. It was as peaceful a scene as it was wonderful. Then in one little second all was changed. There had been a little puff of smoke among the rocks on the opposite slope, something terrible had whined past him and splintered the rock back of him, a strange and unknown fear had filled him, and almost without realizing what he was doing, he jumped behind a big rock, which was the wisest thing he could have done. There he stood, trembling from head to foot, not knowing what to do, so wisely staying right where he was.

Now, when that hunter had shot at Kid Surefoot the sharp sound of his gun had echoed and re-echoed among the cliffs. It had brought Nanny Surefoot to her feet instantly, a great fear in her heart when she could see the Kid nowhere. At once she started looking for him, all the time calling. Billy Surefoot had heard that gun and wasted no time in hurrying to rejoin his family.

"Have you seen the Kid?" bleated Nanny anxiously as Billy joined her.

"No," replied Billy in his usual grave manner. "I left him with you."

"Was it you that fire-stick tried to kill?" asked Nanny.

Gravely Billy shook his head. "No," said he. "I feared it might be you."

"Then it must have been our darling," bleated Nanny. "It must have been him, and probably he has been killed. Oh, why did I let him go off by himself?" She was running about frantically.

Just then she heard a faint, pitiful bleat, and without thought of her own safety rushed in that direction, Billy following. There behind a big rock, trembling with fright but alive and seemingly unharmed, was Kid Surefoot. Heedless of danger, she rushed to him. She had to cross an open space in view of that opposite slope where the hunter was hidden among the rocks. As she did so there was another sharp report and a little bunch of hair flew from Nanny's back, cut by a bullet from that terrible gun. Behind the rock with the Kid she was safe. But to get back out of sight of that hunter they would have to cross that open space again.

Billy saw this. "Stay where you are until the way is clear," he commanded, and started to climb swiftly to a ledge higher up which commanded a full view of the slope where the hunter lay hidden. He stepped out on the ledge and calmly looked down on the opposite slope. Of course, the hunter saw him instantly. He forgot Nanny and the Kid. Billy, with his long beard, was the one he wanted. It was a long shot, but there was a chance that he could get him. He aimed with the greatest care, and fired. There was a little puff of dust at Billy's feet and Billy moved a few steps, then turned to look back. The hunter fired again, and this time Billy gave a little jump. Then he turned and rapidly climbed beyond range.

While this was going on Nanny had seen her chance to lead Kid Surefoot to safety. Now, she was worried over Billy, and it was with a sigh of relief that she saw him coming to join them. There was a spot of red on one flank of his white coat. "Oh, my dear, you are hurt!" she cried.

"It is nothing," replied Billy, and in fact it wasn't much more than a scratch. "Now, you two follow me. When there are hunters with terrible firesticks, about the only thing to do is to climb where they cannot follow."

So Billy led the way up, up where the Kid had never been before and where no man could follow. He kept close to his mother's heels, and in his heart was such fear as he never had known before, and with it was hate—hate of the two-legged creature called Man, and his fire-stick.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 13th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:10 a.m. to 1:35 p.m., from 4:10 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 9:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from 9:05 a.m. to 10:50 p.m., from 2:10 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 9:20 p.m.

The astrological signs of October 13th point to disturbing factors, and some unpleasant conditions may arise, especially in business. Quick decisions will have to be taken in order to avoid disaster. In the home the atmosphere may be clouded, but, after sunset, it will clear and peaceful conditions will prevail. Unexpected travel is indicated.

Accuracy, calmness in emergency, consideration for others, and a sympathetic nature will characterize the child born on this October 13th. It will be self-contained, with great reserve forces, not at all demonstrative, but loyal and constant. Its horoscope—be it boy or girl—denotes a life well and successfully spent.

You, if born on October 13, are naturally humorous, and a congenial, and lively companion. You, like everyone else, have your fits of depression, but no outsider is permitted to glimpse them, or is made to suffer by them—not even in the intimacy of the home circle. Your ideals are high; your ambition is great; to realize the one, or satisfy the other, you do not find it necessary to give yourself any airs of importance or dignity. You achieve more by a smile and a cheerful word than is ever gained by pomposity.

You will travel a great deal, and benefit, intellectually and materially, thereby. You have a warm, passionate nature, and lucky is the man or woman with whom you mate. Endowed with practical common sense, you can demonstrate it in a light—rather than heavy—manner. On life's stage, you are a comedian, not a tragedian.

You are fond of reading, and can express yourself well and entertainingly. You are intelligent, fairly industrious, and conscientious. Your chief asset, however, is your attractive personality. Your serene, cheerful attitude in the face of difficulties that would submerge those who take life seriously, is appreciated by all, and has often converted a seeming failure into an outstanding success.

MINOR FIRES OVER HOLIDAY

Householders Are Urged to Check Over Pipes Before Starting Furnaces.

ONE FALSE ALARM.

The advent of chill evenings and frosty mornings with the consequent commencement of furnaces in homes brought forth its usual crop of minor fire outbreaks over the week-end. Although none of the fires were of a serious nature, they were without exception fires that could have been avoided according to Fire Chief Gimblett, who urges householders to carefully check over stove pipes and other heating equipment before putting it into use.

Following a false alarm on Saturday afternoon from box 43 at Edinburgh and Bethune streets the brigade had another run late in the evening to 860 Water street. The alarm was caused as a result of defective pipes and furnace, a cause that was also responsible for another outbreak on Sunday night at 502 Water street. In this case the flames which broke out on top of the furnace in the basement, ignited the floor beams under the stairway and caused considerable damage to the panelling of the room above, as well as inflicting smoke damage on furniture. A defective chimney occasioned another run this morning shortly after seven o'clock to 587 Sherbrooke street.

12 Bankers Named In Credit Association

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.— Twelve bankers, representing each of the twelve Federal Reserve districts of the country, have been named to the directorate of the National Credit Association, which will administer loans to banks as proposed by President Hoover.

The Board has been ordered to report Saturday for an organization meeting at the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

Native Hollander Operates Hand Loom

An antique hand-weaving loom with a Dutch maiden busily turning raw material into finished products attracts considerable attention in one of the booths near the stage at the Kiwanis Fair in the Armories. It is at the Women's Art Association stand that the young weaver, dressed in her native Holland costume, hums as she turns out purses, handbags, scarves, small rugs etc.

The girl, Miss Lous Van Berckel, has been away from her native Holland less than two years, taking up residence in Canada where she demonstrates and sells her handicraft at the C.N.E., fall fairs, club exhibitions, etc. Two years ago, at the request of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, Miss Van Berckel wove a small fancy rug of the finest material for a Christmas present for Princess Juliana. The various articles woven are of the most modern type belying the quaint-looking loom, a relic of the centuries.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EM PIRE NO. 2 By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Erich von Harben, at the age of twenty-three, had achieved distinction in Europe as an Alpine mountain-climber, as an archaeologist and as a student of dead languages. His father maintained a mission in Africa, and there his son visited him. Immediately the young student became interested in the study of various Bantu dialects.

The old men of the native tribes told him the legend of the Lost Tribe of the Wiramwazi Mountains and young von Harben became imbued with the idea that this tribe might be one of the lost tribes of Biblical history. The reports had it that somewhere in the depths of the great mountain-range was a mysterious tribe of white men.

Young von Harben organized an expedition to penetrate beyond the Wiramwazi in quest of the lost tribe. But his expedition had not been gone long enough to accomplish its mission when a frightened member of his party returned to his village. He told strange tales of malign spirits, for the lost tribesmen were supposed to be blood-thirsty ghosts.

Dr. von Harben tried to organize a relief expedition but he soon discovered other deserters from his son's party had spread terror throughout the land. The natives shuddered at the name of the Wiramwazi Mountains and their fear gradually infected the Doctor himself. In desperation he set out to find the only man to aid him, Tarzan of the Apes

Weddings

ARMSTRONG—FITZGERALD

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday morning, when Josephine daughter of Mrs. A. Fitzgerald, was united in marriage to Arthur Armstrong, son of Mrs. Oliver Armstrong, of Peterborough, the ceremony being performed by Rev Father Costello.

The bride wore a smart brown suit with fur trimming and hat and shoes to match. Miss Teresa Fitzgerald, of Chicago, was bridesmaid and was gowned in brown, with hat and shoes to match. Mr. Gordon Armstrong, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

After a dainty wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Cavanagh, to immediate friends, the happy couple left on a short honeymoon, and on their return they will reside at 200 Antrim street.

SOLLITT—YOUNG

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Wymilwood, Queen's Park, Toronto, at 2.30 Saturday afternoon when Winnifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, of Manesing, Ontario, was united in marriage with Alex Sollitt, son of Mrs. Frank Sollitt and the late Frank Sollitt. The young couple were attended by Bernice Young, a sister of the bride, and Alex Elliott.

The Rev. William Allan, formerly of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church here, performed the ceremony.

Heavy Black Frost Swept Northern Part of the County Last Night

The thermometer took a big drop last night and a destroying black frost that killed many plants was the result. A party, who spent the week-end fishing in the northern part of the county, reports that there was ice a half-inch thick on the quiet pools of many streams. One man on the party stated that his car "froze up" last night.

CLUB HONORED HUGH CAMPBELL

Fountain Pen Presented to Hugh Campbell by Peterbrough Club.

GOING TO WAUKEEGAN.

Members of the Peterborough Club spent a most pleasant time on Saturday night at the Club when they gathered to congratulate Hugh Campbell, one of their members, on his appointment as manager of the parent plant of Johnson Motors Limited, at Waukeegan, Ill.

His Worship Mayor Denne occupied the chair, and in a short address paid tribute to Mr. Campbell on his success here. He regretted his departure from Peterborough, but felt he was one of the best missionaries Peterborough could have as his new position would bring him into touch with many citizens of the United States who might be looking for points in Canada at which to locate a Canadian plant, and he felt that Mr. Campbell would turn their attention to Peterborough.

Manson Comstock, president of the Club, presented him with a fountain pen. Mr. Campbell thanked the members for their kindness and reiterated what he had on many occasions stated, that Peterborough was as fine a city as he had resided in, and that he was sorry it was necessary for him to leave. He had made many friends here whom he would miss, and anything he could do at any time would be in the interest of the city.

Aldermen Hamilton, Macdonald, McNabb, Turner and others all expressed regret at Mr. Campbell's leaving. From those who were unable to attend owing to absence from the city, Mr. Campbell had letters of congratulation.

Mrs. Margaret Langley McCarthy

Mrs. Margaret Langley McCarthy passed peacefully away at her residence, Park street north, early this morning following a serious illness. Her passing, while not wholly unexpected is grieved by a wide circle of friends throughout this city in which she had lived for the past twenty-nine years, and in which she had worked with such untiring remittance for her church and its teachings, the principals of which she practised so closely in her everyday contacts with the world.

By all who knew her Mrs McCarthy will be remembered as a woman of broad human sympathies a character rich in charitable works and strong in forbearance.

Her activities have been closely allied throughout her residence in Peterborough with St. Peter's Cathedral, while for a period of twenty-eight years extending right up to the time of her recent illness she was librarian at the Holy Name Society rooms, formerly the T.A.S. rooms. The study of literature was one of her favourite pursuits, and to engage her in conversation on this subject was to know something of her dignity of mind and the lofty purposes which she pursued.

Mrs. McCarthy was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Langley and was born in Adiala Township County of Simcoe. She was of pioneer stock her father having been born in Nova Scotia twelve days after his parents had arrived on Canadian soil after having crossed the Atlantic Ocean in a sailing vessel from their native Ireland.

Marie, John Langley of Toronto and Charles Langley of St. Catherines and two sisters, Mrs. S. McCormick of Westmount, Montreal and Mrs. A. McDonald of Toronto. Six brothers predeceased her.

Ex-Trenton Family Stranded in Windsor

JOHN STAPLES HELD IN JAIL SINCE AUG. 19

U. S. Officials Take Action When Wife, Children Barred From Canada.

IN DETROIT 6 YEARS.

Father Complains of Treatment—Allowed No Doctor—Had Belongings Stolen.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 14—(CP) — The family of John Staples, formerly of Trenton, Ont., was stranded in Windsor today, being cared for by the Salvation Army, after being deported from the United States by immigration authorities at Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Staples and their four children were in custody at Detroit—the parents in the Wayne county jail and the children in the juvenile detention home—from August 19, Mr. Staples said in an interview today. He complained of the treatment he received at the hands of the United States immigration officials.

In Detroit Six Years

The family had been living in Detroit for about six years, Mr. Staples said. On August 19 his wife and the four children, left for Toronto, where they have relatives. The father was to follow in a few days.

Mrs. Staples and the children were refused entry to Canada, however, because of their inability to prove their Canadian citizenship. Upon being returned to Detroit, United States immigration officials learned they had originally entered that country illegally, Mr. Staples said. By questioning the family, the officers were enabled to arrest Mr. Staples at his home, 20747 Lynden Avenue, and the entire family was then held in custody.

Belongings Stolen

Mr. Staples, who says he has been suffering from appendicitis for several years, was unable to obtain either a doctor or medicine while in jail, he charges, although he made repeated requests for both. When deportation arrangements had been completed, Mr. Staples was taken by officials to his home to gather up his clothing. They found, however, that all his belongings except a little furniture had been stolen during his confinement in jail. Consequently his wardrobe is so diminished now, that he hasn't a pair of sox to wear, Mr. Staples complained. The immigration men refused to allow him sufficient time to arrange for bringing the remaining furniture over to Canada, he charges.

The Salvation Army, for which Mr. Staples has high words of praise, promptly provided shelter for the penniless parents and children upon their arrival in Windsor Monday. The organization is endeavoring to arrange for the family's transportation to Toronto, Mr. Staples said.

LET CANADIANS LEAD WAY BACK TO PROSPERITY

Premier Bennett Sounds Call in Address at McGill.

URGES CONFIDENCE.

Gov't Leader is Honored With Degree of Doctor of Laws.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 14 (By Thomas Green, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—With every word, every syllable, echoing unbounding confidence in Canada—"more powerful to-day than ever before"—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett in an inspirational address here to-day, declared some nation must lead the way back to better economic conditions. "Why should it not be Canada?" the Prime Minister exclaimed amid great applause. And he sounded this note: "The world's troubles may not be over, but ours will be the sooner over the sooner we march fearlessly to meet them."

The Prime Minister spoke at the convocation of McGill University, which bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws. With McGill graduates gathered in a three days' re-union, the noisy and colorful welcome accorded Canada's Premier vied with the well-recalled reception given to Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain by McGill a few years ago.

"Canada is more powerful to-day than ever before," the Prime Minister declared, "with greater ascertained resources and with an economic structure which has been tested by hard times and has triumphantly stood the test, with a people whose wisdom has increased with experience and whose resolution has been strengthened by trial. Why then cannot we go forward once again?"

Meet Trouble Fearlessly.

The world's trouble may not be over, he continued, but Canada's trouble would be the sooner over the sooner Canadians marched fearlessly on to meet them. "I decry recklessness. I counsel caution," Premier Bennett asserted, "but I condemn the timidity and the fear engendered, not by the real facts of the situation, but by fancies that have no place in the clear, straightforward minds of Canadians."

BRONC BUSTER HAS LEG HURT

Rider of Welsh Bros.' Rodeo Show Thrown During Last Night's Performance.

THRILLS ON PROGRAM.

Thrown against the boards while attempting to ride one of the broncos in one of the feature acts of Welsh Bros.' Rodeo Show at the Brock Street Arena last night, Johnny Anderson, of Pincher Creek, Alberta, suffered severe bruises and a bad strain to his left ankle. Anderson was riding bare back one of the several bad broncos among the untamed horses with the rodeo.

Nothing in the way of thrills was missing from the rodeo bill last night. Rearing, plunging and with their backs arched and tensed like a bow, the wild horses came catapulting from the shutes with the hardy cowboys astride them. The boys showed great agility in staying on the raging bronks, but the horse always won, spilling them heavily on the saw dust floor.

The full program of the rodeo was given last night as it will each night this week. The program lasts one hour and a half and there is not one dull minute throughout.

A complete layout for brewing beer was found in the cellar of the garage in addition to 55,300 gallons of beer in six large vats and 300 gallons of malt syrup.

A Message from Premier Henry

Office of
The Prime Minister and President of the Council
Ontario

Toronto, Oct. 12, 1931.

ALL Ontario is interested in the International Plowing Match to be held in the vicinity of Peterborough in the month of October. It will not only stimulate the art of plowing, but also the application of many kinds of machinery intended for the improvement of cultivation. Not the least significant feature of these gatherings is the demonstration they offer of the increasing use of electrical power by the up-to-date farmers of Ontario. A few years ago it was my privilege to have one of the local matches, of which this is the clearing house, on my own farm, and I can testify to the practical value of the rivalry on that occasion.

BEST PLOWMEN IN FOUR COUNTIES COMPETE ON FIRST DAY OF MATCH TO BEAT ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Inter-County Match Most Successful Event of Its Kind.

OVER 100 COMPETE.

Prizes Fairly Well Divided Between the Four Counties.

Apart from its incidental connection with the Ontario Plowing Match, the district competitions on Tuesday were a most gratifying success. More than one hundred plowmen were engaged, the total number having exceeded the estimates of the local committee although ample preparation had been made in regard to available ground, for more than the actual number of contestants.

The four counties of Victoria, Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland made an excellent show of it in every respect, in the plans, the prizes and finally in the distribution of the honors. The counties were fairly evenly represented in the list of winners. Their joint committees worked together in complete harmony, the weather was perfect, and the attendance was quite large, although the spectators were necessarily scattered over quite a large area.

A great deal of the success of the district match Tuesday was due to the local directors on the board of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, J. J. Duffus, L. H. Winslow of Ida, past president, A. E. Wilson of Hope township in Durham county, and Alex MacFayden of Cameron in Victoria county. They enlisted around them a strong body of assistants with J. J. Duffus as the general chairman of the local committee, and J. B. Nelson, secretary. Since last November they have worked faithfully on all the little details which together formed the fabric of the inter-county match and essential elements of the provincial and international competi-

VIENNA, Oct. 14. — (AP) — Eighty physicians, nurses and members of the staff of the Vienna General Hospital, were suddenly stricken today with paratyphoid, a disease akin to typhoid, and were segrated in special wards. They were said to be affected in a mild form.

RECLUSE PLANS TREASURE HUNT

Mrs. Ida Wood Insists All Her Money and Jewels Not Been Found.

RAISE GUARDIAN'S BOND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. — Just as soon as her ankles get better, Mrs. Ida Wood intends to "go out and look for the rest of my money."

The folds of her old fashioned gowns and hiding places in her hotel room already have yielded a fortune in currency and bonds — nearly a million dollars. The 70-pound 93-year-old lady insists, however, that there is more.

Her ankle weakness, physicians said, is due to lack of nutrition during the months she lived frugally in her simple quarters with bundles of $10,000 banknotes, diamonds and other costly jewels within arm's reach.

Dismayed At Expenditures

Mrs. Wood, after years of living on such slender budget as to call for the purchase of a single egg at a time, would be dismayed at the amount already expended in her behalf since the court has taken over her affairs.

Bills filed with the court and approved, it was reported today, include a physician's fee of $3,800, and $7,900 to a detective agency which has maintained guards at the hotel since last March.

The bond of Mrs. Wood's guardian, Otis Wood, was raised from $225,000 to $1,000,000 yesterday after other claimants to relationship had filed protests. Wood is a nephew. The opposing faction is headed by Mrs. William C. Shields, a step-grand-daughter.

CIVIL SERVANTS TO TAKE SLASH IN THEIR WAGES

Toronto Newspaper Claims Graded Levy Comes in Force November 1.

EFFECTS WHOLE CABINET.

Salary Saving be $1,000,000 —Further Taxes on Cars Foreseen.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 14.—A Toronto newspaper today carries the following:—

"A graded cut, or levy, in salaries of all Ontario civil servants, to come into force November 1, has been decided upon, it was learned today at Parliament Buildings.

"Announcement to this effect, in a program of economy and reduced expenditure for the 1932 fiscal year, is expected from the Ontario Cabinet either this week or next as an estimate of the total saving in this connection is in preparation by the audit department.

"The scale of reduction," the newspaper continues, "is at present said to be as follows: Exemption up to $1,000; from $1,000 to $2,000, reduction of 5 percent; from $2,000 to $3,000, 7½ percent; $3,000 to $6,000, 10 per cent, and over $3,000, 15 per cent.

Applies To Whole Cabinet

"This cut will apply to members of the Cabinet. It is also said a reduction will be made in the yearly indemnity paid members of the House. The indemnity stands now at $2,000 and the cut is likely to be $500.

"These reductions, it is said, are planned with a view to reducing expenditures for the next fiscal year by at least $3,000,000, in order to balance the present mounting expenditures for unemployment and the contrasting reduced revenues.

INTERESTED IN MINING.

KENORA, Ont., Oct. 14.—Col. Harold A. C. Machin, former member of the Ontario Legislature and veteran of South African and Great wars is dead here. A prominent lawyer Col. Machin represented the Kenora district in the Legislature from 1908 to 1919. In 1925 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the House of Commons.

At the outbreak of the Great War Col. Machin organized the 94th Battalion and commanded it on its journey overseas, serving for a time in France. He later returned to Canada as a registrar under the Military Service Act and at the end of the war resumed his law practise at Kenora. He was actively interested in mining in the Lake of the Woods district.

Col. Machin was born at Rochester N.Y., in 1875 and educated in England and at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Thayer Lindsley of Toronto and Miss B. Barr at home.

Tuesday Unlucky Day For Farmer

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 14.—(C.P.) — Yesterday was Paul Mazouki's unlucky day. In the morning the barn on his farm at Summit, Ont., burned. He lost all his farm equipment and had no insurance. In the afternoon Chief of Police Lee Smith of Burlington arrived at the farm and arrested Mazouriki on a charge of attempted theft of a circular saw, the property of Roy Palmer, Hamilton.

Rain Fails to Halt Big Plowing Match 166 Plowmen Start

New Record Set When 166 Plow Teams Start Out in the Stubble Competitions—Plowmen Here From Glengarry in East to Lambton and Sarnia in West.

EMERGENCY CALL WAS SENT OUT FOR MORE TEAMS LAST MINUTE ENTRIES COME FROM HALTON COUNTY

James Johnston of Campbellville, in Halton County, Arrives With Yoke of Oxen, Which Will be Seen Plowing at the Match on Thursday and Friday.

The second day of the International Plowing Match upset another record when 166 plowmen, as compared with 154 on the corresponding day at Stratford last year, made their scratches in the stubble on the farms of Torrance and Norman Lillico.

The inter-county match on Tuesday brought out 106 contestants, list of entries that completely overshadowed the 61 on the opening day at Stratford. Peterborough's total number of plowmen for the first two days was announced at 272 as compared with 215 for the same days at Stratford.

Are Farmers Interested?

These figures briefly indicate the essential success of the present match in its early stages, and emphatically answer the question, "are farmers interested in plowing matches?"

Over night the weather changed its mood from the blandness of a sunny autumnal day, the morning rain drizzling on the fields, the foliage and the tents, dimming the glorious colors of fall, and dampening the enthusiasm of everyone, even the directors who were otherwise elated at the large representation of plowmen from a wide strip of the province from Glengarry on the east to Lambton and the Sarnia countryside on the west.

As for the plowmen themselves working on four farms on both sides of the highway they would probably have been out on their own farms if they hadn't come to the match. Reeve John McIntosh of North Monaghan remarked that a mere drizzle wouldn't keep farmers in doors if there was work facing them that had to be done. However, the field conditions were decidedly unpleasant. The earth had been sprinkled just enough to cause it to stick to the ploughshares, and spectators were not inclined to tarry along the lines of operation.

Emergency Call For Teams

In spite of all the optimism of the committees and the preparations they had made, this morning's tide of plowmen swept all the available teams into use, and left about ten men, some of them last minute arrivals from Halton county, wondering whether their quest at Peterborough was to be frustrated by lack of equipment. G. A. Gillespie, Wm. Knox and others who had charge of the recruiting of teams sent out an emergency call for more horses, and the assurance was given to the plowmen that all of them would be provided for. In that event the day's entry list may actually run up to the 170 mark.

The details of the entries were given out by Miss MacArthur, secretary to Lockie Wilson, at 11 o'clock as follows: fall in stubble); first class, open, except to former first prize winners in this class, 16 entries; Second class, for any type of plow other than high cut, with former winners excluded, 35 entries; Third class, any type of plow except high cut, open only to those who had never plowed at an International match, 56 entries; Fourth class for boys under 18, open, 25 entries; Fifth Class, two furrow walking or riding plow, not less than four horses, except in opening and finishing, when two horses could be used, 6 entries. Also the two tractor classes, one reserved to those solely engaged in farming, 8 entries; and Class 2 open to those who had never won a prize at an International plowing match, 21 entries.

Details Well Handled

The detailed task of alloting all these plowmen their fields and places was handled smoothly by the provincial executive. Experience in handling former matches was invaluable this morning, and in spite of the large number of questioning men eager for directions, they were given their assignments without any confusion or delay.

While the rain failed to daunt the people of the country, the prospects of a large general attendance day faded out of the hopes of the executive who resigned themselves to the possibilities of Thursday and Friday. Tomorrow the troops move into the sod with one

TORY, LIBERAL JOIN IN ATTACK ON SOCIALISM

British Elector Left Bewildered By Fiery Campaign Addresses

VOTING 13 DAYS AWAY

Laborites Adding To Confusion Quote From Snowden's Free Trade Speech

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, Oct. 14. (C. P. Cable). The bewildered British elector is wearily ploughing through seas of election literature. He finds it very hard to understand. It is sweeping over him from parties, groups and numberless societies in an endless tide. The more he reads the more he's puzzled.

In this election campaign, with the voting only 13 days away—Oct. 27—the voter sees Conservative and Liberal alike joining the attack on Socialism. "The vital issue in this election," exclaims the Liberal Evening News, "is capitalism against Socialism." One of the pamphlets issued from Liberal headquarters is the text of a speech by Sir John Simon, now leading a band of Liberal protectionist supporters of the National Government, in which Sir John replied to a Socialist resolution moved in the House of Commons eight years ago by Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden.

At the same time the elector learns that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, repudiated by the Labor party, still declares himself a Labor man.

ELECTION NEAR FOR MANITOBA

Autumn Ballot Likely Be Announced by Premier Bracken, Friday.

TERM EXPIRES 1932.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 14.—(CP)—Within six weeks, the West is to see its first 1931 provincial election according to authoritative reports in Manitoba Government circles. The Progressive Government of Manitoba will go to the country in the latter part of November, it is forecast, and Premier John Bracken is expected to announce the Autumn ballot on Friday.

The announcement, it is stated, will come at the close of an all day Government caucus and writs will be issued promptly, paving the way for an election within 35 days. Premier Bracken has refused to outline the nature of the Friday caucus or of the statement he has promised for Friday.

The Bracken group, holding a bare majority in the 55-seat legislature, recently sought to arrange for a coalition with opposition grounds. The suggestion was favored after some consideration, by the Liberals, but has been rejected by Conservatives and Laborites, who hold 23 seats. The Government's term does not expire until next year.

CHURCH ORDERS FACED IN SPAIN WITH EXTINCTION

Assembly Favors Dissolution of All Recognizing Higher Authority Than State.

STORMY SESSION.

Police Called Out to Quell Demonstration Against Church in Madrid

MADRID, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—The repudiation of Catholicism as the State religion of Spain was followed to-day by the incorporation of an article in the new constitution which threatens church orders with extinction.

The National Assembly after a stormy 15-hour session adopted, by a vote of 259 to 178, a compromise amendment to Article 24, providing for the dissolution of those orders recognizing a higher authority than the State and those considered dangerous to the State. It also stipulates that property may be nationalized where it is deemed beneficial.

Lengthy Debate

The vote was preceded by a long drawn-out debate in which Catholic Deputies proposed twenty other amendments one by one in order to defend the interests of the church and was followed by an outbreak of fist-fighting between Catholics and Socialists on the chamber floor.

Article 24, providing for the immediate dissolution of all church orders and the nationalization of their property was previously rejected by a vote of 164 to 39. It was sponsored by the Radical Socialists and opposed by the Socialists, who were ultimately victorious on the amendment.

Provisional President Alcala Zamora and Minister of the Interior Miguel Maura expressed disfavor with the amendment on the grounds that it was too radical. Some leaders said it was aimed at the expulsion of the Jesuits. Others said expelled orders would find refuge in Belgium and other countries.

The Catholic Church was divorced from its age-old union with the state with the adoption of article 3 of the constitution by the assembly last night, voting 267 to 41. It declared that "no state religion exists" and banned the church from engaging in commercial, industrial and educational activities.

Demonstrations

It was followed by demonstrations against the church in Madrid and Oviedo in which extra police and civil guards were called out to prevent disorders. Stores and cafes closed their doors here in fear of looting but authorities were able to keep the situation under control.

The legislation shattered a tradition of centuries by which the Catholic Church had enjoyed a preferred position in the eyes of the Government and redeemed the pledges of Republican leaders who promised to separate church and state when Alfonso XIII was overthrown last spring.

The defection of Spain leave Belgium, the Irish Free State, Italy, Poland, Bolivia, Colombia, Venezuela, Peru and Paraguay as the principal nations in which Catholicism is the state religion. Countries that have separated church and state in recent years include France, Portugal, Mexico, Chile and Russia.

THIEVES LOOT VILLAGE SHOPS

Merchandise and Money Taken From Millbrook Stores During Night.

$38 IS TAKEN.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—A grocery store and the adjoining barber shop in Millbrook were entered and robbed some time last night. Cigarettes, tobaccos, candies, and $38 in cash, were taken by the burglar or burglars. The Provincial Police are investigating.

Entrance was gained into the Burnham Brothers' grocery store by boring a hole about six inches square in the back door and lifting the iron bar that guards the door. After cleaning out the cigarettes and candies there, the adjoining barber shop was entered through a connecting doorway and the cash register was rifled of $38 and a quantity of tobacco was taken. A large safe was unopened but showed signs of having been tampered with. The barber shop was owned by Harold Nattress.

George Burnham discovered the burglaries at seven o'clock this morning when he arrived to open the shop. He immediately got in touch with the Provincial Police, who are now investigating them.

Rescued Aviators Arrive In Germany

HAMBURG, Germany, Oct. 14 (A.P.)—The three aviators who fell into the Atlantic while attempting to fly from Lisbon to New York and were rescued after six days afloat came back to Europe by steamship to-day and were cheered by a large crowd at the docks.

They were Captain Christian Johannsen, Willy Rody and Fernando De Costa Viega. The Senate officially welcomed them after they came ashore.

BORDER CHINESE PLAN BOYCOTT

Five Hundred Form Anti-Japanese Association—Destroy Goods

READY FOR WAR

WINDSOR, Oct. 14. — The 400 Chinese of the Border Cities have formed an anti-Japanese Association and pledged a permanent boycott on Japanese goods. During the week-end large quanties of sea foods and green tea were destroyed. These had been bought through Japanese importers in Canada. The local Chinese have declared they will not buy Japanese products again.

The Chinese colony in the Border area is preparing for the eventuality of war between Japan and China. While declaring that they are for peace, they add that they are ready to fight in case of war.

A message has been sent to the Chinese Government demanding that Japan be given one week to withdraw her troops.

Two young Chinese from this district are now in Germany completing special courses in aviation. They are Kimmie Hong and Lee On. Both were educated in Windsor schools. The expenses of these boys have been paid by the local Chinese colony, and they have been advised to hold themselves in readiness to hurry to China if war is declared. Eight other young Chinese from the Border are prepared to leave school immediately on the declaration of war, and undertake intensive aviation training with the hope of getting to the front quickly.

Some fifty Chinese army reservists are watching the situation, and if war is declared will leave at once for China. The local colony will help with expenses where necessary.

Managing Director

JAMES LOCKIE WILSON

Managing Director and Secretary of the Ontario Plowmen's Association since it was organized more than a score years ago. Mr. Wilson has been Superintendent of Ontario's Agricultural and Horticultural Societies. To his leadership and enthusiasm in the promotion of agricultural enterprise in this province is largely attributable the great success of the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration which is being held near Peterborough this week. Before being appointed to his present position Mr. Wilson was a successful breeder and exhibitors, specializing in Aryshire cattle, Shropshire sheep and Berkshire swine. For 22 years his herd of Ayrshires was never beaten in the show ring. He was awarded the gold medal given by the Agricultural and Arts Association for the best pedigreed herd in Eastern Canada. Mr. Wilson, besides beng a member of the Canadian National Exhibition and chairman of the Seed Committee of the Royal Winter Fair, holds the following offices: Secretary-Treasurer, Ontario Horticultural Association; Secretary, Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibition; Secretary, Ontario Field Crop and Seed Growers' Association; Secretary and Managing Director, Ontario Plowmen's Association.

DIRECT DEALING BY CHINA, JAPAN FAILS AT START

Private Communication Between Two Ministers Cease For Present

LEAGUE CONTINUES WORK

How Far U.S. Will Go To Prevent War Interests Members Greatly

TOKYO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Preliminary conversations designed to open the way for direct negotiations between Japan and China for settlement of their controversy over Manchuria resulted in failure today.

For the time being, at least there will be no further private conversations between Baron Shidehara, Japanese Foreign Minister and Chiang Tso-Pin, Chinese minister to Japan. The Nanking Government was represented as having taken the view that any further such talks might be misconstrued as indicating China's willingness to enter into direct negotiations with Japan.

Vernacular reports of the conversation here Monday between Chiang Tso-Pin and Baron Shidehara indicated the Chinese envoy had insisted upon the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Manchuria as a prerequisite to any immediate negotiations.

The Japanese foreign minister was represented as having taken the attitude that since his country's principal interest in Manchuria was the protection of Japanese lives and property, China would have to give assurance of this before Japanese soldiers could be recalled.

League Council Busy

GENEVA, Oct. 14 (A.P.)—Laboring to fulfill the purpose for which it was founded, the Council of the League of Nations continued in private conversations to-day its efforts to restore peace between Japan and China.

The negotiations revolved around Aristide Briand, celebrated man of peace; and Lord Reading, one time Viceroy of India, for the League, and Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to London; and Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese Ambassador to Paris, for the disputant nations. Prentiss B. Gilbert, Consul General to Geneva, remained in the background as United States representative.

The members were increasingly interested in knowing just how far the United States was willing to go in concerted action to prevent a Sino-Japanese war over the military occupation of Manchuria. There was a strong feeling that no nation was so much concerned in a peaceful settlement of the question as the United States.

Youth Is Arrested In Garage Hold-Up

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 24—Donald Holliday, 21, said by police to be the son of a Montreal magazine publisher, was arrested here last night two hours after Ernest L. Spohn, Pasadena gasoline station owner, was shot through both lungs by a robber.

Officers said Holliday admitted the shooting.

Spohn was shot when he disobeyed the robber's command to raise his hands. Holliday was traced to a Los Angeles garage by the license number of his rented automobile.

Surgeons said Spohn had only a slight chance to recover.

TYPHOON TAKES HIGH LIFE TOLL

Thirty Known Dead in Central Japan—200 Reported Missing at Oga.

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Thirty were known dead and many were missing today following one of the worst typhoons in years. First reports that 200 persons were missing in the town of Oga, Miye Prefecture, could not be confirmed.

Torrential rains, accompanied by high winds, swept Western and Central Japan yesterday, leaving floods and devastation in their wake in many districts. In the Tokyo-Yokohama district a slight earthquake occurred at the height of the storm, adding to the anxiety of the populace.

Considerable damage was done to shipping and property along the coastal regions and the inland sea. The greatest damage, however, was done along the Choshi River in Miye Prefecture.

Numerous rescue parties were searching for refugees in the river districts of Yamaguchi Prefecture, where several hundred houses were washed away.

Bridges and roads were washed away in Osaka, Yokohama and other large centers. Thousands of houses in low-lying districts were flooded.

SMALL BOY HAS THIGH BROKEN

Hubert Mitchell Severely Injured When Run Down By Truck.

AT MILLBROOK.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, Oct. 14.—On Monday afternoon about four o'clock little Hubert Mitchell, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mitchell, of Millbrook, was struck by a truck and severely injured. The boy was rushed to Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital where it was found he was suffering from a broken thigh and several bad cuts about the face.

The truck, driven by Aubrey Podd, was given no chance of stopping when the little fellow ran out in front of it near the King Street bridge. Mr. Podd was not travelling rapidly but the truck could not be stopped instantly. The driver took the boy to the hospital where he has been confined since. Besides a broken thigh, it is possible that a small bone in the face may be also broken. While the accident was quite serious, the boy is not in a dangerous condition.

More Out Of Work, Crime Spreads In U.S.

GENEVA, Oct. 14. — (AP) — A statement that the growth of unemployment in the United States had been accompanied by an increase in crime was made today in the weekly publication of the International Labor office.

"Similar phenomena have ceased to appear in countries where adequate and regular payments are made to workers involuntarily unemployed," it was said. The publication predicted a winter of "very great hardship for the unemployed" because "more and more people are becoming pauperized."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14. — Payment within 30 days of nearly $7,000,000 to more than 125,000 depositors of three closed Philadelphia banks was pledged today by Mr. William D. Gordon, state secretary of Banking. He also advanced a plan whereby depositors of closed institutions in Pittsburgh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton would receive dividends soon.

FIRST ONTARIO PLOWING MATCH HELD IN YORK COUNTY IN 1913

Provincial Plowmen's Association Organized at Richmond Hill in 1910.

SUMMARY OF GROWTH.

Plowing matches are nothing new in the experience of Ontario people. Shortly after the early settlers had their lands cleared and began to enjoy a little leisure, plowing matches became one of the chief sports.

Of course none of those early matches were on a large scale, and their originators never could have conceived that some day more than 100,000 people would be attracted to a plowing match, such as has been in the case in recent years when the International Plowing Match has been held. Nor could those plowmen of bygone days turn up as much sod in a set time or with as much skill as those now exhibiting their skill in the International Plowing Match. Plowing with modern plows, along with other pursuits, has reached a new peak of excellence.

However, those plowmen of other days were no mean hands and they certainly were expert at swinging around stumps and taking short turns about stones.

York County was always in the lead in interest in plowing and seems only fitting now that the Provincial Association which has grown to such magnitude should have had its birth near Richmond Hill in York County.

First Match in 1913

In 1910 a few enthusiastic men met at Richmond Hill and organized the Ontario Plowmen's Association. The first match under its auspices was held on Sunnybrook Farm on the outskirts of Toronto, in 1913, with but a few entries in the hand plow classes, and one tractor.

In the following year, the match was held on the same farm with 24 horse-drawn plows. On each of these occasions a banquet was given by the late Joseph Kilgour, owner of Sunnybrook Farm.

The Ontario Agricultural College provided the ground for the 1915 match, and 28 plows and six tractors competed. The number of hand plows on the Fleming Farm for the 1916 match were 30 and 25 tractors.

The match was held on Oak Park Stock Farm, Brantford, in 1917, when 50 hand plows and 30 tractors were in operation. Arrangement had been made in 1919 for the International Plowing Match to be held in Ottawa, but an outbreak of the "flu" caused it to be cancelled.

Tabulated Growth.

MANY FEATURES OF INTEREST TO PUBLIC AT PLOWING MATCH

Farm and Household Labor-Saving Machines Are Shown.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

(By D. A. McIntyre, Alvinston.)

To the visitor approaching the scene of the International Plowing Match for the first time, the outstanding feature is the great tented city, beautifully situated on Highway No. 28, about four miles west of the City of Peterborough. Centrally located in the front row, will be seen the headquarters tent, where the Managing Director, Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, and his staff, will be found busily engaged in doing the vast amount of secretarial work necessary for the conduct of the match.

Near by will be noted the great tent of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, wherein will be found many farm and household labor-saving machines operated by Hydro. This tent is under the direction of Mr. Purcell, Superintendent of Rural Hydro Development. We see also the tents of many of the leading commercial and industrial organizations of the Dominion.

Our farm implement manufacturers will have a splendid display of implements and machinery of all kinds, many of them in operation during the four days of the match.

Caterers' tents will be very much in evidence, but conspicuously absent will be the modern midway so often seen at many of our fairs and exhibitions. The tented city will in itself be well worthy of a day's visit.

Tuesday, October 13th, is devoted to the local competitions, open to residents of the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Durham and Northumberland.

Here we find a splendid array of fifteen classes, covering the whole field of plowmanship, as practiced in these counties. This should result in a record-breaking first day.

The Big Match Opens.

Wednesday, the 14th, the first day of the International Match, is devoted to stubble plowing.

Too much stubble plowing is not considered to be good farm practice, but nevertheless it is at times necessary. The growing of small grains year after year on the same land, provides a first class nursery for noxious weeds. In plowing stubble it is essential that the furrows be cleanly cut and properly turned. This feature will be amply demonstrated by the seven classes on the program.

Finance Chairman

VINCENT EASTWOOD
chairman of the local Finance Committee.

Plowing for Sod.

Thursday, October 15, we will see one of the most important cultural operations on the farm, sod plowing.

A rotation that provides for clover at regular intervals is perhaps our most economical source of fertility, and promotes weed control as well. The classes for the day provide ample scope for an exhibition of skill on the part of many of the best plowmen in the province.

Friday, October 16, will witness a battle of the giants, when the open competitions will take place.

In these classes many of the plowmen who were barred on Wednesday and Thursday, by reason of their victories at previous matches, will be allowed to compete. This will insure an excellent program for the day. There will also be the inter-county competition open to one team of three boys from each county. This is an excellent feature and is creating a great deal of interest throughout the province.

Display of Horses.

The specials for teams and equipment donated by the Federal Live Stock Branch, Ontario Horse Breeders, Ontario Plowmen's Association, F. P. O'Connor, and the late George Pepper, will insure one of the finest displays of horses ever seen in Peterborough County

Space does not permit the mentioning of many other interesting features that will assist in making the 1931 International Plowing Match well worthy of the traditions that have been established down through the years.

The success of the match will be due in no small measure to the splendid work of the local committee, the county councils, city council, the press, and all others who have given so generously of their time and their means. The people of the City and County of Peterborough have every reason to be proud of the success of the 1931 International Plowing Match.

Twenty-three of the 70 acres surrounding Windsor Castle, England, were planted to vegetables this year.

No British Columbia eggs were offered. The higher prices of eggs in cartons to retailers which were announced on Saturday went into effect yesterday. Receipts were 249 cases.

Ontario cheese dropped ¼c at 11¾c to 12c and Quebec cheese declined the same amount at 11¼c to 11¾c a pound. Receipts were 1,416 cases.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter in carlots was unchanged at 19¾c to 20c a pound. To retailers solids at 21c to 22c and prints at 22c to 23c a pound were both unchanged. Receipts were 1,569 cases.

Montreal potatoes were quoted at 30c to 40c per 80-pound bag and New Brunswick Cobblers were 45c to 50c, while New Brunswick Green Mountains were 50c to 55c per 80-pound bag.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Local brokers increased their prices on graded eggs from 1c to 4c per dozen yesterday, but there were practically no receipts from any rural points. There was an exceptionally good demand for firsts and this grade benefited 4c per dozen, while extras were required at a 3c per dozen advance and seconds brought 1c more, graded and in used cases. The prices to country shippers for ungranded eggs, delivered, cases returned, were stronger; firsts commanding 2c more per dozen, while extras and seconds were steady with last week-end levels. Retailers were asked to pay more for firsts, this grade being quoted 2c better per dozen.

Brokers offered 40c for extras, 36c for firsts and 19c for seconds, graded, and in used cases. Country shippers were quoted 33c for extras, 30c for firsts and 15c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 40c, extras loose at 38c, firsts loose at 35c and seconds loose at 19c to 20c.

Poultry

After the holiday trade local poultry buyers altered their quotations to country shippers, the new lists showing a general 2c per pound decrease for live and dressed birds. Spring chickens, broilers, hens and roosters, all weights, were quoted 2c less than last week-end.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Oct. 14.—Wheat prices strengthened fractionally on the Winnipeg grain market yesterday. Though slightly lower than the day's high marks, all months showed improvement. October was ⅜ higher at 56⅝, November ⅞ at 56, December ⅜ to ¼ at 55 and May ¼ at 58½ to 58⅝.

Further good export sales of Canadian wheat, a healthier statistical position in regard to world wheat supplies and a broadening of speculative interest was chiefly responsible for the improvement in yesterday's prices.

Five Strike Miners Allowed Out On Bail

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 14—The five miners arrested following the riot in Estevan last month who were refused bail when they came up in the District Court with their fellow miners, were granted bail when they came up in the District Court yesterday, before Judge J. W. Hannon.

They were Martin Day, Peter Smartz, Joe Bernatas, Isadore Minster and Dave Rowsen. All were released in their own recognizances of $3,000, and a like security each of $3,000. Isadore Minster and Dave Rowsen were ordered to return to Manitoba and remain there until the date of the trial.

All of the 13 miners have now been granted bail, and await their trial at the next sitting of the King's Bench Court in Estevan on March 3, 1932.

The judges were the following provincial directors: Elliott Moses of Ohsweken; Wm. Doherty, Toronto; Wm. Barrie, Galt; George Waldie, Stratford; James McLean, Richmond Hill; D. D. Gray, Ottawa.

Mr. McLean who is a veteran plowman and judge, told the Examiner that the inter-county plowing was very creditable.

"Considering that the ground was a bit dry, and the clover sod was inclined not to hold, it may be said that the work was reasonably good under those conditions," Mr. McLean remarked. And all those who know Mr. McLean are aware of his characteristic of being sparing with his praise.

EDISON ROUSES SPEAKS TO WIFE

Gradual Progressive Somnolence Preceding Inevitable Coma is Noticed.

NO NOURISHMENT TAKEN.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 14—The condition of Thomas A. Edison, critical for weeks, remained unchanged to-day. His doctor noted a "gradual progressive somnolence" preceding, he said, the inevitable coma.

The only nourishment taken by the 84-year-old inventor in four days has been six teaspoonsful of stewed pears.

He roused from heavy sleep yesterday and recognized his wife, whispering something in her ear. His mind, said Dr. Hubert S. Howe, has remained clear, and even his body has shown little outward evidence of the complication of diseases from which he is suffering.

Robert (Uncle Bob) Sherwood, 75-year-old circus clown and friend of Edison's for half a century, called at the Edison estate yesterday. The two met for the first time when a circus wagon broke down near the home of Edison's father-in-law near Akron, O.

De LAVAL MILKERS and SEPARATORS

For Every Size of Dairy and Every Size of Bank Account

A De Laval

SEPARATOR FOR EVERY NEED AND PURSE

THE "GOLDEN" SERIES

The De Laval "Golden" Series are the world's best cream separators. They are the most completely and conveniently equipped, the cleanest skimming, easiest running, and most durable separators ever made. Perfectly designed and finished in gold and black lacquer colors, they are likewise the most beautiful. Seven sizes, varying in capacity from 200 to 1350 lbs. of milk per hour. Hand, belt or electric motor drive.

THE "UTILITY" SERIES

The De Laval "Utility" Series separators are identical with the "Golden" Series in construction and separating efficiency, but lack several non-essential equipment features. They are finished in all black "crinkle" japan. While their prices are somewhat less than the "Golden" Series, they are superior in every way to any other make of separators. Three sizes—350, 500 and 750 lbs. milk separating capacities per hour. Hand, belt or electric motor drive.

THE "JUNIOR" SERIES

The De Laval "Junior" Series is a new quality line of smaller size separators, intended for the small user to whom price is a consideration. They are most efficient and durable machines, and finished in royal blue. Aside from the "Golden" and "Utility" Series, there are no other separators of their size nearly as good. Three sizes—150, 225 and 300 lbs. of milk per hour. Hand drive only. May be equipped with iron stand.

THE "EUROPA" SERIES

The De Laval "Europa" Series is another new line of still lower price European-made De Laval machines, designed to meet the requirements of the few cow owners to whom price is a limiting consideration. They are good separators, superior to any others of their class. They are finished in cardinal red. Table and stand types—four sizes, 150 to 400 lbs. separating capacities. Hand drive only.

A De Laval

MILKER FOR EVERY PIPE LINE AND POCKET BOOK

DE LAVAL MAGNETIC MILKER

The De Laval Magnetic retains all the good features ever developed in the De Laval Milker, plus a simplicity of installation, minimum power requirements, ease of operation, uniformity and perfection of milking, with reliability and dependability of performance never before approached. It is a combination of years of practical experience and the most advanced science of modern engineering.

The De Laval Magnetic not only retains the famous De Laval principle of controlled and uniform pulsations, but accomplishes this result with less power, less expense, less installation and greater reliability than was ever before possible. With the Magnetic, pulsation control is instantaneously uniform, simultaneous and perfectly balanced.

DE LAVAL UTILITY MILKER

The development of the De Laval Utility Milker came about through the fact that many farmers who had previously purchased other makes of milkers and who wished to secure the advantages of De Laval milking without sacrificing all of the investment in their outfits, inquired if De Laval Milker Units could be used with their installations of pipe lines and pumps.

This need encouraged De Laval engineers to continue work upon the problem, with the result that a new type of pulsator was developed which could be attached to a De Laval Utility Unit and enabled it to work upon single pipe line installations in a very satisfactory manner.

BARN-LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

It is now possible for users of De Laval Magnetic Milkers to obtain electric lighting for their barns while the milker is in operation, at no extra expense beyond that of purchasing the lights, wire, etc., which is a relatively small item.

This is made possible by utilizing the surplus current from the generator on the pulso-pump of the De Laval Magnetic Milker.

In the Agricultural Experimental Stations, on farms devoted to registered stock, and on many and many a farm out in the country where farming is a business, DE LAVAL SEPARATORS AND MILKERS are used. Wherever cows are kept or milk handled De Laval Equipment will be found, and no matter where situated DE LAVAL SERVICE can be quickly and easily obtained if ever necessary.

GOVERNMENT RADIO

The Canadian Radio League created for the purpose of stimulating interest in a Government-owned broadcasting system in Canada is endeavoring to keep the question alive until the Privy Council has decided upon the question of Provincial and Federal jurisdiction as regards control of broadcasting.

The argments in this issue will be heard by the Privy Council next month or in December and it is expected that a judgment will be given in time for the question to be considered at the next session of Parliament.

Should the verdict favor the position of the provinces, a national broadcasting system would of course be impossible.

On the other hand if the authority of the Dominion to regulate broadcasting is established, the way would be open for such a system; whether or not it would be advisable to go ahead with the launching of Government radio is another matter.

With financial conditions as they are most people are inclined to feel that to embark into a publicly-owned broadcasting plan with the possibilities of a heavy deficit, would be a most unwise proceeding.

TOO MANY SALESMEN.

The Sarnia Observer calls attention to a condition that also exists in Peterborough and doubtless in every other centre, namely, the small army of house-to-house canvassers at work just now.

Economic conditions are doubtless responsible for the marked increase in the number of such canvassers whose visits are keeping housewives busy answering door-bells and listening to the sales talk of agent after agent.

The inconvenience caused in this way is not the only evil occasioned by these persistent seekers after orders: local business houses suffer from their activities and money that should be kept in circulation at home goes far afield.

"Why should the citizens be burdened with these transient traders?" asks the Sarnia paper. "This business would be welcomed by the local merchant, who has an overhead to take care of such as taxes, rent and a staff to pay."

This question might just as pertinently be asked here where the same conditions apply and where the sales from door to door by outsiders is taking on new proportions, to the injury of local business and with little benefit to the citizens who buy from these wandering salesmen.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

In his plea at Hamilton the other day for a general overhauling of the administrative machinery of the country Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Citizens' Research Institute, gave voice to the thoughts of many Canadians.

When it is realized, as Dr. Brittain showed, that over one-tenth of the Canadian people are on the public payrolls, the desirability of curbing the ever-growing expenditure in this direction must make itself obvious.

In our Municipal, Provincial and Federal governments we have built up an administrative system that is impoverishing us to keep in operation and every year sees the cost increased as more names are added to the public payroll and the remuneration of these public servants increases.

Can it be seriously claimed that nine provincial legislatures, with all the employees involved therein, are necessary for efficient government in Canada?

Would it not be feasible for one such body to administer the affairs of the Maritime provinces and for the business of the prairie provinces to be looked after by one legislature instead of three? In other directions, too, there is room for curtailment.

The truth is that Canada is over-governed and has to pay through the nose for a lot of administrative machinery that in the interest of economy might well be scrapped.

WELCOME, PLOWMEN!

It is with the greatest pleasure that The Examiner welcomes to-day the hundreds of plowmen and the thousands of people interested in plowing who have gathered here for the annual matches of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

That this district should have been chosen for this outstanding agricultural event is a matter of satisfaction, because the people of Peterborough City and County are delighted at this rare opportunity to play hosts to so many people associated with the basic industry of agriculture throughout the Province.

These annual plowing matches have developed into a red letter event on the calendar of the farmers of Ontario, and rightly so, for no operation connected with farming is of more interest or of more importance than is plowing and the technique of the art of preparing the land for the annual crops lends itself admirably to these competitions, which are to those familiar with the skill necessary for success are full of color, interest and to a considerable degree of excitement.

To a farmer who knows his business a well-turned furrow is a work of art: he appreciates watching experts at work, and the experts in turn have the pride that comes from a job well done as well as the thrill of competing against other master workmen.

Again the plowing matches serve another very desirable end.

They afford an opportunity for the showing and demonstrating of the latest inventions in agricultural machinery, and thus the manufacturer is able to reach and interest the clientele whose patronage he must depend upon, while the farmer in turn is given the chance of keeping in touch with the newest and best in the line of modern farm appliances.

A third advantage—and an important one—is the part these plowing matches play in developing a closer understanding and better relationship between country and city, between farmers and urban dwellers, who are thrown together in preparing for these annual competitions, and to a greater degree during the events themselves, attracting as they do armies of visitors not only from the countryside, but also from urban centres.

For all these reasons, as well as from the general sense of hospitality to all visitors for which Peterborough and district is noted, the competitors and spectators at this year's matches are most cordially welcomed in our midst.

The Examiner wishes all plowmen an interesting series of contests in which success will crown the most worthy competitors, and all others who attend the thrill of watching a splendid event and the enjoyment of a visit to one of the best sections of Canada.

THE IMPROVED VILLAGES.

No person can re-visit the villages of this section of the country after a lapse of some years without marvelling at the improvements that have taken place within that period and coming to the conclusion that, after all, there are far worse places in which to take up permanent residence.

A few years ago, these places were, as a general rule, rather dilapidated and down-at-heel communities. The streets were muddy and dirty, the plank sidewalks treacherous for traffic. Where street lighting was practised, illumination was furnished by the coal-oil lamp. Hideous old unpainted buildings formed the reminders of canished industries. The inhabitants, moreover, led rather drab and monotonous lives without much apparent pride in either the appearance or the welfare of the communities in which they resided. There was, indeed, very little to recommend life in the typical Eastern Ontario village at that period, and it is little wonder that it recorded a reduced population on the part of very many of them, together with an all-round decline that threatened their very extinction.

Something has, however, happened during the past few years. The Women's Institutes, the horticultural societies now so widely established, and the other organizations that have come into their stride have been at work and have accomplished marvels. The great majority of the villages in question now have at least one well-paved street along which their business establishments are situated. The years have witnessed the substitution of the granolithic sidewalk for the old planked passage-way. With the growth of the good roads movement and the universal use of the motor car, larger centres of population where entertainment and amusement may be obtained are readily accessible. Hydro has spread its network over the country to carry modern illumination into the homes and the streets of the villages and to come to the relief of the housewife with its modern domestic appliances. The radio has come into existence to bear the latest in entertainment into thousands of village homes. The radio owner in the country village now receives his broadcast of a baseball game or other sporting events or his other radio entertainment at the same moment that his city cousin is listening to it. The telephone has spread over the country to such an extent that it is now regarded with the same indispensability as is the case in the towns or cities. The rural free delivery routes cover the concession lines and the village subscriber receives his evening newspaper on the day of publication, reading the same late news that reaches the city subscriber.

Coupled with all this, there has come about a new feeling on the part of the village residents. No longer are they so sorry for themselves as was once the case. A much greater contentment with their lot is now visible. They know that they now enjoy very many of the advantages of the city residents, without the disadvantages to which the latter must submit, and, realizing their good fortune, they have taken new heart and pride and set about making their communities even better places in which to live. Almost everywhere this new pride is apparent, the expression of it being in improvements that are easily recognizable and that are distinctly for the better.

The improved spirit of the villagers makes it clear that they are determined to persevere in this work. Recent census statistics indicate that in the great majority of cases, they are holding their own in population. That they are better places in which to live and that their inhabitants enjoy many advantages denied their predecessors is readily apparent. And if urban tax rates continue to soar, who can tell if the next few years may not witness a movement of population back to the villages, where life is far from being the monotonous, distasteful thing that a great many people believe?—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT

Don't miss the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition of the Kiwanis Club in the Armouries. A fine exhibition in aid of a splendid cause.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald may be a tired man but there is not a trace of fatigue in the election speeches he is making.

According to Senator J. J. Davis, the laziest thing in the United States to-day because of fear is the dollar. A similar change might be made against the Canadian dollar.

It is worthy of note that the Welsh Bros. rodeo showing here as part of the Kiwanis entertainment for the week was also Produced-in-Canada.

Have you tried yet to provide a job for one of Peterborough's unemployed? Even a few hours work will help some one whose income has been cut off.

The trans-Canada highway project, as a producer of work, is satisfactory except that it cannot begin to provide jobs for all who need them.

Up to the present no Liberal M.P.P. has offered to give up his seat to Mitchell F. Hepburn. Mr. Henry was probably counting on that when he made his offer.

It is not difficult to decide who made the most errors in the world's series. That distinction unmistakably belongs to Graham McNamee.

It costs $4,400,000 to save one life by level crossing elimination, according to a speaker at the good roads convention. This sounds like a good argument for advocates of military disarmament.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

WHITE FAWN

by Olive Higgins Prouty

INSTALMENT 30

Dan didn't see Fabia again before she left Boston. He tried to. He telephoned the morning after he had called at her home. Her voice was very kind. His heart leaped in hope when he first heard it. She called him Dan. But she was very definite. No, she couldn't see him that day, nor the next either. She was sorry.

"I'll write," she said.

"So will I," he replied.

His letter arrived the next morning. It was brief. "Fabia, don't punish me any longer. I've suffered enough. Forgive me and marry me, please.—Dan."

He watched every mail for her reply. When it hadn't come by Saturday, he again called her number.

"Miss Fabia has left for Europe," the voice answering informed him.

"Any name, please?"

"Regan," said Dan shortly, grimly.

"Oh, is it Dr. Regan?" exclaimed Jennie. "Miss Fabia left sooner than she expected. Her mother decided to spend the last three days in New York. They're at the Ritz if there's any message."

"There's no message."

"They sail at midnight, Wednesday," Jennie went on, "on the Aquitania. In case you want to reach her."

It was not until Wednesday, the day Fabia sailed, that Dan received her letter. It was postmarked New York. He turned it over and recognized the crest of the Ritz Hotel. Absurd to be afraid to open it. No operating table had ever made his heart hammer like this. Finally he drew forth four double gray sheets of crested note-paper covered on both sides.

"Dear Dan," he read on a slip of white paper, torn evidently from a small telephone pad, "I have waited till my last night to mail this to you. I didn't want you to get it until the day I sailed, because I want you to have a long time to think it over before answering it. I didn't see you before I left because I wanted to keep my mind clear to write this letter. Please read it slowly and carefully.—Fabia."

"Dear Dan" the letter itself began, "I stayed awake all night after you called to see me, thinking about you and me, and the reasons why we wouldn't be happy together." Dan's heart sank at that, but he went on: "Your profession is your career. When I marry, my home and children will be my career. In these days it's a fifty-fifty proposition between men and women. Both their careers should be equally considered, I think. I don't believe you think that way, Dan. When your note came asking me to forgive you, and to marry you, I did the first right off. But there's only one way I could ever marry you, Dan, and that one way is so impossible, from your point of view, that it's rather a waste of time, I'm afraid, to tell you about it. But I'm going to tell you about it just the same, because you'll know then, Dan, I do love you, even though I never marry you."

He stopped abruptly, closed his eyes a moment, then opened them, and let them rest and feast on those four words, "I do love you." Nothing else in the whole letter mattered. "I do love you"

He turned the page, dazed and blinded a little. Where did it go next? "Just so it's very far away," he read on, "and a place where success will mean most to you. I know what it means even to suggest that you leave Boston. But, Dan, the Pilgrims—" Leave Boston! What was this? He must have skipped a page. He'd better go back to the beginning and start again. What could she mean? Leave Boston!

It was after one o'clock before he finished Fabia's letter. He was busy until four.

By tomorrow morning she would be out of reach, but of all possibility of touch. She sailed at midnight. Suddenly Dan took out his watch. If he hurried, he could catch the five o'clock train to New York.

"Please call a taxicab immediately," Dan said to the maid in the office, and mounted the stairs two at a time; threw a few toilet articles into a bag, dashed off a few lines of explanation to Dr. Warburton, and in less than ten minutes was running downstairs. As he passed the office door, the telephone rang. He answered it from force of habit.

"Come as quickly as you can to the Phillips House. It's Mrs. Montgomery. My husband is worse. It's a blood clot, the nurse is afraid. She's with him."

It was eight o'clock before Dan left the Phillips House, too late even to fly to Fabia. He stopped at a telegraph office on his way back to Dr. Warburton's: "Coming on next boat Dan," he wired her. He sent the message to the Aquitania. She ought to get it before she sailed.

He found Dr. Warburton in his office. Dan inquired casually, "Does that offer for a vacation still hold good?"

"Surely, my boy."

"I may take you up on it. Some sort of an ocean trip wouldn't be bad. I'll look up steamers tomorrow." Then abruptly, "What do you know about surgery in the West, Dr. Warburton?" asked Dan.

Ten days later Dan walked into the Hotel Berkeley in London. Dan had had no time to buy clothes before he sailed. He wore the same rough-napped overcoat that had done service for him both summer and winter for four years; the same brown felt hat with the soft unbound brim.

"Is Miss Fabia Vale staying here?" asked Dan of the clerk.

"What name, please, sir?"

"Regan," said Dan. "R-e-g-a-n. Ask if Miss Fabia Vale is there. I'll speak to her over the telephone if she is."

"They're not in," the clerk reported three minutes later.

"I'll come back," said Dan. "Where can I check this suitcase?"

Five times he came back. It was half-past ten in the morning when he first asked for Fabia. It was after four in the afternoon when he last asked for her. Between his calls he tramped the streets of London. As he was leaving the desk after the fifth call, Lisa entered the hotel. Dan was the first to speak.

"How do you do, Mrs. Vale!" he exclaimed.

"How do you do," Lisa replied, looking at him with a vague, groping expression.

"You don't know me. My name is Regan. Dan Regan. Fabia's friend."

Lisa put out her hand. "Why, of course. Forgive me for not knowing you instantly. Where in the world did you drop from?"

"From Boston. Didn't Fabia tell you I was coming?"

"She couldn't have known it."

"I sent her word."

"She has never received it. When did you send it?"

"The night you sailed."

"Where?"

"To your boat, The Aquitania."

"But we didn't come on the Aquitania. The last day we changed our plans so as to be with friends on the Ile de France."

"Oh!" burst out Dan. "I don't seem to do anything but fail Fabia." All his self-assurance had deserted him. "Tell me, please, what is she thinking of me? He was like a child turning to Lisa for help."

"You didn't fail her," she said kindly. "Fabia didn't expect any word from you."

"Oh, yes, she did. She must have—down deep. She'd written me a letter, you see. It was a very important letter." He was still terribly distressed.

THAT UNEMPLOYED PROCESSION

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—On Wednesday morning last the whole of Peterborough's constabulary cap-a-pie fully armed and proceeded "as bulletined" to disperse unemployed agitators who wished to air their grievances — something like using a steam hammer to crack a nut. There was no disorder nor threat of such, no sedition, no illegality, bar perhaps a mere technical obstruction, no blood, Red Communism but only the weird white spectre of starvation and destruction facing those men through no fault of their own.

Now look on the other side of the picture. Is it not a scandal and a disgrace that in a civilized Christian community scores of men should have no place to sleep but under the canopy of God's sky, and every morning wake up (if they sleep) without any prospect of good food to keep life in them—except such as is provided by the charity of sympathetic citizens and here let me say that for weeks, nay months, past, food for these men and clothes to protect them have been provided by kindly disposed citizens. This has been done without self-advertisement and will surely be credited to them when the Great Account is taken.

What are these men to do? Can they not take any orderly lawful steps to bring their desperate state known? Are they to be allowed to suffer from hunger and cold in our midst without anything being done for them? ? One could wish that for just one week those in authority might be placed in their condition. Dumb animals are more cared for and protected than are these men.

On a monument in your cemetery there is an epitaph which reads, 'She did not preach to the hungry—she fed them." The local official view seems to be not to feed them, but to persecute them.

This "Red" bogey is the merest camouflage. These men are no more Reds than is the Chief of Police who used, or was prepared to use, all his array of force to "disperse" them: they have the more vital question of existence to consider without worrying about Communism.

Yours truly,
Workless.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETIES

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—As a well-wisher of this work, I would like to state that the drop in Children's Aid tag receipts from as high as $1,600 to a little over half that for two years in succession is a serious matter.

Beyond saying that the work of the Society has increased, I understand, I shall refer no further to that fact. But I want to emphasize a few other facts that are apt to be lost sight of while many hundreds of homeless children have been found homes the best work of the society is the protection of children from cruelty.

There is nothing more desperate in the whole world than a wee waif whipped and starved, cold and half-clothed trembling with fear and knowing nowhere to fly, a case unfortunately not uncommon. This society is under the Children's Aid laws and has the power under the Magistrate dealing with all crimes against poor little homeless children. The Saviour has put it into our hearts to do His work in protecting for has He not said that whoso injures one of these little ones it would have been better for him to have had a more dreadful fate. This cruelty branch of the C.A.S. work is not infrequently called upon and since it is all a branch of law-enforcement as well as benevolence, the police take an official as well as personal interest in the work with the finest possible results.

Now the beauty of benevolence if not the greatest effectiveness consists in its quiet unobstructive and voluntary part. The "hearts" of the people must quietly go out to these little ones or the true value of the work will be lost. This society in all its branches is the only one that "protects" the waif. Other societies might obtain the legal sanction so to do no doubt. But at present this most awful part of rescue work devolves upon this society alone and diminishing returns from tag day show that the public must once again be reminded of the terror and the appeal of the terrified child. Neighbors are often as much afraid to speak as the child, but not so with the society. In the last analysis this is the most important branch of the work for the terror of the starved and beaten child is too awful to think of.

It is necessary, however, that the complainant and the defendant in such cases should both be protected by the magistrate when any case comes to a show down, and it is in the right to this legal protection for both sides that the value of the C. A. S. movement consists. A merely benevolent society has no authority or calling to take strong measures and no protection for itself and anybody who knows what some people can do when in a fury will realize that the only true worthwhile protection to the homeless orphan and the cruelly-ill-used as well as to their protectors, is in the power given to a society by the law devised for that special purpose.

Well Wisher.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 14 (C.P.)—Turnover on Toronto Stock Exchange was small during the morning. It was even less in the afternoon. The action of the market told nothing. Prices were irregular, net changes mostly on the side of the decline at the close. But the price range was narrow, nor was there any increased selling when individual issues softened.

Dominion Stores, Noranda, Ford of Canada, Massey-Harris in the general list closed with losses of about ¼ point each. Ford was slightly above its low for the day. Massey-Harris at 2¼ was the lowest in the history of the present stock. Oils slackened, B.A. Oil and International Petroleum closing slightly lower and Imperial Oil unchanged.

Brazilian left off unchanged as did Nickel. Bell Telephone was steady at 121 and Steel of Canada unchanged at 21⅜. Walkers came out slightly lower but closed unchanged at 3½. Canada Bud was firm at 10.

Stocks, still governed by minimum regulations, were inactive. The few issues which did appear were for the most part unchanged.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 14.—(C.P.)—Standard stock and mining exchange market lacked definite tone to-day, trading holding at an unusually light pace throughout the session. Firmness marked action of gold issues in the forenoon, but an irregular to lower tendency developed in the day in response to weakness on other boards.

Eldorado came out at 86, firmed above 90 for a time but eased off later to show a net loss of 15 from the previously "pegged" price. Lake Shore was a strong spot, closing a half higher, and Teck-Hughes was fairly active but unchanged.

WALL STREET CLOSE

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 14.—(CP).—Stocks were unable to extend a morning advance today and slipped lower during most of the slow session, closing heavy. Western Union, off 8, and Eastman, down 6, were conspicuous soft spots. American Telephone, Atchison, Du Pont and Union Pacific lost about 4 and U.S. Steel, New York Central, International Harvester, Westinghouse, American Can and Allied Chemical 2 to 3. Sales were well under 2,000,000 shares.

WOULD LINK UP SHIPPING LINES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.—(C.P.).—Carrying a plan for the joint operation of the United States Lines and suggestions for strengthening the American Merchant Marine, a group of leading American shipping men is en route to Washington to seek the approval of the United States Shipping Board.

NEW YORK LIST FAILS TO HOLD MORNING GAINS

Mid-week Business Statistics Cause of Few Bright Spots During Session.

NUMEROUS SMALL LOSSES.

Weekly Steel Trade Reviews Report Some Improvement in Buying.

NEW YORK, N.Y. Oct. 14.—(CP).—The stock market was bolstered for a time by a few bright spots in the midweek business statistics today, but was unable to sustain a rally, and turned distinctly heavy after midday.

The market pushed up rather briskly for a time in the morning, but ran into fresh selling after midday. Morning advances of 1 to 3 points were converted into losses of 1 to more than 3. Trading, as in the previous session, was in small volume.

Woolworth sold up 3 points, on announcement of a $2 extra dividend, but later lost its rise. An early upturn of 2 points in American Telephone was replaced by a net loss of more than 3. Miscellaneous issues losing 2 to 3 points included U.S. Steel, New York Central, Dupont, Allied Chemical, Johns Manville, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and New Haven. Reading, a thinly traded issue, lost more than 6. Losses of a point of so were numerous.

The weekly steel trade reviews, while reporting little change in ingot output, spoke of some improvement in buying, particularly from the automobile industry, as the time approaches when production must be started on new models.

Among the first of the important quarterly earnings statements was that of American Telephone, which was about in line with Wall Street forecasts. While the net for the September quarter of $2.11 cents a share was 14 cents under the quarterly dividend, the aggregate for the first three quarters amounts to $7 or 25 cents above the dividends for the entire period. Furthermore, the last quarter usually shows a fair gain over the third, so that the entire annual dividend of $9 a share is expected to be earned by a fair margin.

NARROW MARGIN FOR BRUENING

Chancellor Hopes to Save New Gov't From Defeat by One Vote.

SUPREME TEST FRIDAY.

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (A.P.)—Chancellor Bruening had in prospect today a one-vote margin with which to save his internationally-minded Government from defeat at the hands of the Nationalist Opposition and to push his legislative program through the Reichstag.

Political observers predicted he would be able to control 289 Deputies or one more than a majority. The Social Democrat Centrist and Bavarian parties would give him 243 votes, it was believed, and he would be able to pick up at least 46 more from three other parties commanding 67 votes.

The major opposition numbers 107 National Socialists, 40 Nationalists and 78 Communists, the latter remaining silent as to their course. Even if the Communists range their power against him, it was held that he would be able to corral enough strength to win by a close margin.

He will face the supreme test Friday, when the Reichstag votes on a Nationalist motion to declare non-confidence, and will resign if repudiated. He said in his address yesterday that improvement was a matter of evolution and that he would give way to someone else if his policies were not deemed satisfactory.

President Von Hindenburg has accepted the chairmanship of the new Economic Council, viewed as the most significant part of his program.

It will be composed of economic experts, industrialists and Labor representatives and will negotiate directly in wage disputes and other problems in the hope of leading the way out of the economic slump. It will suggest ways and means of reducing unemployment, lowering the cost of industrial production and scaling down the cost of living.

CIVIL SERVANTS

"The Government will save in the reduction of salaries, roughly $1,000,000, the total salary being around $10,000,000 annually. In the reduced annual indemnities for members, which now amounts to $224,000, a saving on a reduction of $500 would be $56,000.

"The cut also likely will apply to members of the Liquor Control Board staff but it is unlikely to apply to the Ontario Hydro Commission.

"Other drastic methods of retrenchment in expenditures are also expected.

More Taxes on Cars

"In looking for increased revenues," the newspaper adds, "the Government plans a further tax on automobiles, irrespective of the license of probably $5 per car, which would net in revenue $2,500,000, as well as increased taxations on buses and trucks operating on the highways.

"Civil servants," the newspaper concludes, "are now said to be discussing the question of the salary cut in connection with their proposal of donating one day's pay per month to a fund for unemployment to be given over to the Red Cross. If the cut is made, it is said the Civil Servants Association will dispense with the donation."

Zamora Resigns; Cabinet Follows

MADRID, Oct. 14.—(AP).—Niceto Alcala Kamora, for six months President of the Spanish Republic, resigned this afternoon and his whole cabinet stepped out also in protest against passage by the Chamber of Deputies of Radical anti-Catholic legislation which the cabinet has disapproved.

Alejandro Lerroux, the Foreign Minister, broke the news to the chamber. In the midst of his announcement he interrupted himself to call for three cheers for the Republic.

Canadian Dollar Firmer at Noon

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 14 (By The Canadian Press).—After showing early weakness the dollar and the pound sterling strengthened slightly toward noon. Traders on local foreign exchanges quoted the dollar at 89 cents in United States funds. This compares with an opening quotation of 88⅛ cents.

Sterling firmed one cent and a half, being quoted at $3.88½, compared with an opening of $3.87.

PLAN PARADE FOR ARMISTICE

Legion and Militia Unit Discuss Combined Remembrance Day Parade.

SERVICE AT MEMORIAL.

Tentative plans were formulated at a meeting of the Canadian Legion executive here last evening, under the chairmanship of James Abraham for a large combined remembrance day parade of various organizations in conjunction with members of the Legion.

Captain Abraham presided in the absence on other duty of President Arnold E. Everett. Lt.-Colonel W. Gordon Hall, O. C. 137th Infantry Brigade, represented the militia units that are to take part in the parade which will include representatives of the entire garrison, and the Collegiate and Public School Cadet Corps. Col. D. J. Lawrie, Major J. Dewart, M.C., Commissioner J. T. Hornsby of the Boy Scouts' Association and representatives of the Salvation Army and Rangers Bands were present. It is understood that the S. J. A. B., the City Police and members of the Fire Department are also to be invited to take part in the parade. Ald. M. Turner was present representing the City Council. Following a short service at the Cenotaph, the main service is to be held at the War Memorial in Confederation Park, after which the various units will parade through the principal thoroughfares of the city. In the event of inclement weather arrangements are being made to hold the service in the Armouries.

Another meeting of the executive is to be held in the near future to complete the plans now formulated.

class open to all, and Friday's program also enables former champions to go into action.

Oxen to Plow

This morning's arrivals brought James Johnston of Campbellville in Halton with a yoke of oxen which he regularly uses in his farm work. They will be seen at the match tomorrow and on Friday.

J. Lockie Wilson called attention to-day to the fact that fifteen counties are already entered in the inter-county competition which will be one of the features on Friday. Each county will be represented by three men with teams. "The Ontario Farmer" and Bank of Montreal trophies are awarded in this competition.

To-day's activities were a reminder that plowing matches are of the same category as soccer and lacrosse, in the fact that there are no rain checks issued. The weather is ignored by all three of them, but if Peterborough is to make any kind of showing in the attendance of spectators, the weather will have to make up handsomely for to-day's reverse.

British Funds Show Strength At London

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP). — The London stock exchange was quiet and steady to-day with a hardening tendency in British funds and industrial and further strength in Argentine Rails.

Trans-Atlantic stocks were slow. Hydro-Electric was quoted at 10½, International Nickel 11⅛, Brazilian Traction at 11⅛ and Radio at $17.

Foreign exchanges were steady with the pound on New York listed at $3.88 and on Paris at 98.50 francs.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 14 (CP) — Fresh upturns in Chicago wheat prices early to-day reflected Liverpool quotations higher than looked for. Berlin advices said Russia had 100,000 troops massed along the Manchurian front. Argentine wheat acreage was reported 20 per cent less than last year. Opening at ¼-⅜ cent advance, wheat afterward held near the initial figures. Corn started unchanged to ⅛ up and continued to point higher.

CURRENCY LEAVES RHODESIA

CAPE TOWN South Africa, Oct. 14. (C. P. Cable).—The spectacle of a fleet of aeroplanes rushing to Northern and Southern Rhodesia from Southwest Africa, bearing Rhodesian currency, was a remarkable incident following announcement the Rhodesias would go off the gold standard. The rush was necessary to take advantage of the short time limit for conversion of Rhodesian notes on the gold basis.

Attendance at Kiwanis Exhibition Corresponds Favorably With Last Year.

CLEAN AMUSEMENTS.

The tastes and inclinations of a large crowd in search of wholesome amusement and pleasure, are necessarily varied, and with the numerous visitors in the city this week in connection with the International Plowing event the high-class entertainment afforded regularly by the two talkie theatres here has been augmented, by the attractions offered all this week at the Kiwanis Annual Produced-in-Canada Exhibition at the Armouries, and by the Welsh Brothers Rodeo sponsored by Kiwanis, at the Rink.

In addition to possessing characteristics worthy of support on their own merits these two efforts sponsored by Kiwanis, have the additional merit of being in aid of child welfare work.

So far this week the patronage at the exhibition corresponds favorably with attendance on the corresponding period last year. The general quality of exhibits, and the type of entertainment offered this week is without a doubt of an equal standard, if not better. At considerable expense the services of an inimitable pair of entertainers from the original Dumbells Company, in the persons of Pat Rafferty and Charles Jeeves, have been secured. They are a show in themselves, as patrons who have already witnessed their entertainment can testify.

Valuable Door Prize

Every evening throughout the remainder of the week every person passing through the turnstile into the Armouries stands a chance of winning a valuable door prize. Two such prizes were awarded last evening to the holders of tickets number 2095, a blanket given by The Richard Hall Store, and to number 10695, a load of wood, donated by The Scott Lumber Company.

Nightly prizes are also awarded in a raffle, the winner of an electric lamp donated by the C.G.E. Company last night being ticket number 39.

A load of coal given by H. B. Taylor and Son and won on Monday night by the holder of ticket number 2435, has not yet been claimed, neither has the clock donated by The Western Clock Company and awarded to the holder of ticket number 442. Prize winners are reminded that they may obtain the awards on application to Vernon E. Morphet, vice-chairman of the Fair.

TORY, LIBERAL JOIN IN ATTACK

quarters are not without a touch of irony in again issuing during the present campaign "Labor and the nation" that famous summary of Labor aims to which Prime Minister MacDonald himself wrote the foreward. In the present edition of "Labor and the Nation" the foreward appears textually over Mr. MacDonald's signature. It contains this declaration:

"The Labor party unlike other parties is not concerned with patching rents in a bad system but with transforming capitalism into Socialism.... The party is essentially one of action and it asks for power both in order to lay the foundations of a new social order and to relieve immediate distress."

All Conservative literature urges tariffs. There is a poster depicting protection as the dawn of better days. But a Liberal leaflet, similarly urging the return of the National Government, roundly declares in black underlined type: "We are convinced that protective tariffs would be futile and stupid, doing far more harm than good."

And to complete the circle of confusion the Laborites are issuing the text of a free-trade address by Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, retiring Chancellor of the Exchequer, made in 1930. The opening paragraph of this runs:

"Our free trade policy is gravely menaced by a powerful combination of interests and persons, and a widely-circulated newspaper press all aided for the time being by the temporary wave of world-wide depression."

Capone Poor Judge Picking Race Horses

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Ills., Oct. 14 (C.P.). — Alphonse Capone to-day opened his fight for acquittal on charges of evading income taxes with an account of his gambling losses.

The husky gang leader is a poor judge of race horses, the jury in United States Circuit Court was told to-day. "He won some bets, but not very many," Milton Held, a bookmaker, testified.

Held, although he had no records to prove it, and could remember no individual transactions, estimated that Capone lost between $8,000 and $10,000 during the summer meeting at the Hawthorne Race Track in 1924 and about $12,000 in the fall of 1925 at the same track.

Scrapping of the street car lines of Pontypridd, Wales, is to be started at once so that municipal busses exclusively may supply the service.

STOCK EXCHANGE OFFICIALS BROADCAST REASSURING NEWS

Statements Made By Three Presidents Regarding Present Market Situation.

SUSTAIN CONFIDENCE.

Tending to sustain confidence in Canadian conditions and investments, statements made to The Financial Times by the presidents of the Montreal, Toronto and Standard Stock Exchanges were broadcast from Toronto on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in connection with The Times' daily market service. The statements follow:

Montreal Head

W. E. J. Luther, president, Montreal Stock Exchange: "Disturbed financial conditions the world over, and a temporary retardation of the pace of industrial activity have depressed Canadian security values to levels inconceivable even a year ago. Constructive forces have not ceased to operate, and as readjustment proceeds, the foundations of returning prosperity are being laid on a firm and lasting basis. It seems well that the reckless sacrifice of equities in thoroughly sound Canadian undertakings should have been halted by the recent action of the stock exchanges, and that investors should pause to renew their faith in the destiny of their country."

Toronto President

G. G. Mitchell, president of the Toronto Stock Exchange: "Having regard to the severe deflation that has occurred in the stock markets over an extended period in my opinion it appears to be inadvisable to liquidate securities at the present time unless it is absolutely necessary. Patience is needed, combined with reasonable confidence in the future business of Canada. Underlying conditions in Canada are sound, deposits in the banks have increased and business generally is at least holding its ground. Many industries indigenous to this country stand to benefit as a result of the discount on Canadian funds. Should further reactions in share prices take place they cannot but be small, as compared with appreciation that appears assured, once a general revival in business sets in. Investors who have faith in Canada will find that Canada will reward them."

Standard Official

F. J. Crawford, president, Standard Stock & Mining Exchange: "Holders of the better class of gold stocks are in a well secured position. International economic developments, that have made for downward readjustment in general business, proved beneficial to the gold industry. Operating costs of mines have been reduced in face of a constant price for gold, and the premium accruing to gold mines, due to the discount on the Canadian dollar, has been substantial. Of greater importance, however, because of its relative permanence, has been the rapid growth in physical assets of the leading gold mines, and their steady increase in earning power during the past two years. While base metal securities have been adversely influenced because of the low prices of those commodities, leading Canadian companies have increased their physical assets and modern plants have been completed during the period of depression, thus assuring material earning-power when the tide turns."

WHEAT POOL COST FARMER $1,000,000

Western Wheat Pool Comes Under Fire of Winnipeg Grain Man.

HOUSTON, Texas, October 14 — Asher Howard, a Winnipeg grain man, declared yesterday that the Canadian wheat pool had cost the farmers of Western Canada not less than $100,000,000.

He predicted that the "Farm Board Experiment will cost the taxpayers of the United States not less than $300,000,000.

Howard addressed the annual convention of the National Grain and Feed Dealers' Association.

"The Wheat Pool operated in Canada eight years, and in not a single year did the pool farmer receive as much for his wheat as the non-pool farmer," Howard declared.

"Not only that, but the pool farmer only received about two-thirds of the value of his wheat when he marketed it, and 140,00 farmers in Western Canada are still waiting for the other one-third of the 1928 crop and all the crops they have marketed since.

"The Canadian pool used printers' ink, the radio and the platform for eight years to denounce the system to which they have now returned.

"The Farm Board in this country undertook to eliminate speculation, and they became the greatest speculative force that ever operated in grain and cotton. The undertook to stabilize the ocean waves. They prevented surpluses by increasing surpluses. They made orderly marketing disorderly."

LET CANADIANS

The Prime Minister paused and then he issued this call: "Yes, us be confident. Let us be bold and to put to shame those who in their assumed wisdom forecast unending trouble and in the greed that springs from fear prefer themselves and their own interests and exploitations to the welfare of Canada as a whole. Turn from those who, to serve a class or a community, would deny to the length and breadth of this land the benefits for which it has struggled. Abandon sectional causes, knowing that no part can really prosper at the expense of the others, and that the prosperity of the whole must be reflected into its remotest regions."

Worst is Over

Again the Prime Minister paused and then he put this statement to his large audience: "Look at the facts and tell me why should we not go forward once again. The storm may not have spent itself but the worst is over. Pause and ask yourselves: Why do we hesitates? What do we fear? Where is the gain that comes from vacillation and dismay? If there were some basic weakness in our economic structure, if we were without resources, if our people, too weak to be governed, abandoned Government and plunged into social and political chaos, then we would have to wait until some stronger hand lifted us from the morass.

"But Canada needs no help from others so long as each one of us is ready to help our fellow citizens wherever and whatever they may be. There is no material factor or combination of factors in our domestic situation which we can fairly say is responsible for our present situation, save only those enumerated—which we are correcting—and some other mistakes about which there may be differences of opinion and which it is untimely for me now to discuss or even mention.

We have lost nothing but confidence in ourselves. We can regain it, if each of us will look at the facts and recapture the faith without which we cannot prevail."

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 14 (CP).—Prime mercantile paper, 3½ per cent. Foreign exchanges steady. Demand rates: Great Britain in dollars, others in cents: Great Britain, 388 francs, 3.94; Italy, 5.17; Germany, 22.75; Canadian dollars at 1/32 per cent discount.

MORE ABOUT BUSINESS

(Weekly Message)

"If the Life Insurance Companies could double their business next year they would bring back prosperity"—declared an eminent economist in a public address last month.

This man-of-affairs realized two things:

1. The premium deposits guarantee financial security to the home—and the home is the basis of the nation.
2. The funds of the companies are not kept in vaults, but invested in mortgage loans, government and municipal bonds, to provide homes, build roads, schools and hospitals, develop transportation, agriculture and industry. Silently and effectively they are improving general conditions.

The London Life's contribution to the upbuilding of Canada since October, 1929, can be measured by:

1. More than $200,000,000 of new Insurance; and
2. New investments of $24,000,000.

CRIMINOLOGIST CLAIMS CRIME TRACEABLE TO DIVORCE, ALIMONY

Deplores Growing Deprivation of Suitable Parental Guidance to Children.

POLICE CHIEFS MEET.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 14.—Dr. Carleton Simon, Criminologist and former deputy chief commissioner of New York, today told the International Association of Chiefs of Police here one of the fundamental causes of crime is traceable to divorce "and its accompanying evil—alimony."

"Reviewing the problem of juvenile delinquency in its connection with increased prevalence of crime, Dr. Simon said: "Nothing assumes greater proportion nor is of greater significance than deprivation of suitable guidance to a growing child."

"Separation of parents, either by death, voluntarily or by legal means," he said, "is the reason why most of the family circles are destroyed.

"The lack of uniformity of divorce laws in different states is pernicious, making the solemn bonds of matrimony a travesty. The ease with which divorces may be obtained in some states deprives the child too readily of its birthright, not only in parental love and affection but in moral guidance as well. In some instances," he added, "alimony is comparable to legalized prostitution; the woman frequently seeking matrimony with the one idea that her marital relations will be of short duration and that the law will provide her for an income for life."

Raps Breach Promise Suits

Breach of promise suits also were condemned by Dr. Simon who declared, "this type of action should not be permitted by our judiciary."

"Money can never compensate a moral woman and no honest woman desires the money of a man who does not want her. This legal action has been used as a tool by the blackmailer and untold victims have been gouged by designing women and bands of criminals."

Dr. Simon characterized as wreckers of the home the congested living quarters in large cities, the high cost of living and "the increasing practice of living beyond income."

Dr. Simon said he had found abnormal children were more likely to remain criminalistic, despite special training and care after they become delinquent." He said if crime is to be curbed, each state should demand by legal procedure the enforced education of its illiterates.

Obituary

CHARLES EUGENE LAUDER

MOUNT JULIAN, Oct. 14—Following an extended illness there passed away recently a highly respected resident of this community in the person of Charles Eugene Lauder.

Though there had been months of suffering from prolonged weakness yet this was borne as only those who have the love of Christ abiding within could bear. There was never a word of complaint but rather there was continually up till the hour of his departure that true life of unselfishness and contentment which will always be remembered by his many friends.

Though very quiet was his disposition, no one knew the influence he held among his wide circle of friends because of his earnest Christian life.

He was an active member of Eden United Church, the building of which he had a large part, many years ago. He was also secretary-treasurer for over thirty years.

The funeral service was very largely attended at Eden United Church and burial was made in the Lakefield cemetery.

Owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Taylor, Rev. Mr. Ogden a former pastor and Rev. Mr. Wesley of Lakefield took charge of the service.

Mr. Ogden's text was taken from II Timothy 4, 6-9, "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand."

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge shall give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing.

Mr. Ogden in his sermon said that these words were also true of Mr. Lauder and dealt very largely on the splendid type of character found in him and the good example set by him.

Mr. Wesley stated that since Mr. and Mrs. Lauder had done so much toward the building of the church and the maintaining of it that it should be a memorial to him.

The following hymns were sung "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "That Beautiful Land" and "The Home of the Soul."

Mr. Lauder was born in Huntingdon, Quebec in 1853 and hence was 78 years of age.

In 1896 he married Maturia M. Church and since then has resided at Mount Julian.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his sorrowing wife and several nieces and nephews.

The many beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which he was held.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Wm. Thompson, Albert Darling, Cecil Shewen, Bruce Reid, W. T. Northey and Harrison Bronson.

See the Plowing Matches and See Our City

While the main object in visiting Peterborough at this time is to witness the art of the World's Most Skillful Plowmen, there will also be time to get an idea of the attractiveness of the Electric City as a model home town—a progressive business center, and with great possibilities as a manufacturing point. May we assure our visitors that such inspection is heartily invited. See our splendid Schools—our numerous Factories, Railway Facilities, Highway Approaches, Modern Stores, Busy Streets and cheerful, contented people.

An Hour's Drive to Fairyland

By all means, do not leave our midst without having seen our wonderful Lake Resorts. A drive over a fine road of 15 minutes takes you to Peterborough's near-by summering place, where we have a floating bridge a mile long, handling heavy traffic all summer. An hour's drive in many directions takes you to such scenic points as South Beach on Clear Lake; Kawartha Park at the junction of Clear and Stoney Lakes; Burleigh Falls, a beauty spot at the head of Stoney Lake; Crowe's Landing, at the other end of Stoney Lake; via Omemee to Sturgeon Lake; Bewdley on the shore of Rice Lake, and many more delightful spots that reveal the Kawartha Chain of Lakes as a veritable fairyland.

Our Institutions of Learning

Peterborough's schools are well worthy of inspection. The King Edward and Queen Alexandra, King George and Queen Mary, Prince of Wales and Central, as well as three Separate Schools, are all modern buildings and take efficient care of an army of vigorous young Canadian public school scholars. All are advantageously situated to take care of a considerable growth in population. The Collegiate Institute and Vocational school combined is of quite recent erection, and of a high standard in every way. The Normal School is one we may well be proud of, a fine building in spacious, well-kept grounds, and with a first-class staff of teachers. There is also a successful Business College, whose pupils rate high as office help anywhere. We are proud of our schools—have a look at them.

Peterborough as a Shopping Center

The modern fronts presented by our uptown places of business are a criterion of the fine stocks carried by our merchants. Buying in Peterborough is profitable and satisfactory.

Railway and Shipping Facilities

Peterborough is served by both of Canada's great Railway systems, the lines running in every needed direction to make the Electric City the hub of a very large section of Eastern Ontario. Lying also on the famous Trent Canal, much produce is carried to the City by water, while the canal and connecting lakes are the excursion waters during holiday season.

Our Fine Manufacturing Establishments

Peterborough is the home of the largest plant of the Canadian General Electric Company which when at normal capacity employs upwards of 2,000 hands. The immense exporting plant of the Quaker Oats is also located very centrally. The De Laval Company has its Canadian branch here, and is a prosperous concern, kept at a steady rate of production the year round. Two mills of the Canadian Woollens, Ltd., are in constant operation. Many other fine industries include: Westclox, Lock Works, Nashua Paper Co., Raybestos Co., Canadian Packing Co., Brinton Carpet Co., Martin-Hewitt Containers Co., Ltd., Peterboro Canoe Co., Canadian Canoe Co., Canadian Johnson Motors, The Wander Co., and many others that all help in keeping a lot of workers in employment.

Scores of large marquee tents laid out in streets, each a throbbing hive of industry and brilliantly illuminated by electric lights has magically sprung into existence at the site of the largest event of its kind—the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration now in full swing but a few miles from the centre of this city.

The streets in this community which has sprung up with such mushroom-like growth are named, and at a strategic point on Front street, which faces Highway No. 28, is situated the large headquarters tent of the Ontario Plowmen's Association wherein the executives are kept busily employed registering entries and attending to a hundred and one other details necessarily connected with such a large project.

Features of the services in this tented "city" are the daily mail delivery and collection; the Bell Telephone System facilities for local and long distance calls; a hospital tent in charge of doctors and nurses and the installation at the grounds of modern sanitary conveniences including a daily collection of garbage.

Manufacturers and sales representatives of all kinds are on hand showing their products through the marvellous appeal of actual demonstration. These displays cover a considerable portion of the area and should prove of great educational advantage to visitors in showing the advance that science has made in agricultural and kindred pursuits. Dining tents, lunch counters and refreshment tents have their place in the feeding of the hundreds of hungry competitors at the matches, and in providing also for the needs of hungry spectators.

De Laval Exhibit

Chief among the numerous interesting exhibits on the grounds is that of The De Laval Company, situated at the junction of West Main street and Industrial Avenue.

It is an exhibit demonstrating to perfection under actual working conditions, the efficiency of the De Laval Magnetic Milking Machine and the Alpha Power Plant. A high-class herd of Holstein cows is housed in a section of the tent and the cows milked twice daily under the very eyes of the crowd of interested spectators that are invariably to be seen crowded round the exhibit. The herd is owned by G. N. Moncrief. Milked one at a time, the animals are led from the stall space at the rear of the tent, up an inclined plank and on to a raised platform and into an improved type of stall. "Bossy," a picture of contentment, and with an air of detached unconcern for her audience munches at the luscious hay that awaits her. The teat cups are adjusted by an attendant. The machine is set in motion and the milk is to be observed steadily streaming into an elevated glass container.

De Laval equipment, made in Peterborough; simple of operation; sanitary to the highest degree of perfection and in full operation, to be judged on its merits. There is an obliging staff on hand, ready and anxious to give information to anyone who is interested concerning installation of equipment to meet the needs of the individual dairy herd breeder.

Quaker Oats Limited

The Quaker Oats Limited, also manufacturers of world renown, have an exhibit with a particular appeal to the poultryman and stock feeder. Their "Ful-o-Pep" product, endorsed by thousands of poultry breeders all over the continent, has prominent place along with such favorite stock preparations as Schumacher Feed, Quaker Dairy Ration, etc.

Adam Hall Limited

With colder weather now here, and winter not far away, the exhibit of Adam Hall Limited, featuring their wide variey of heaters, cook stoves, etc., has a popular appeal. The stand, situated at East Main street, is neatly arranged and in common with all other exhibits, is manned by a courteous attendant solicitous for the needs of the discriminating home owner, in the matter of economical heating equipment.

T. Eaton Company Limited

A haven of rest for the tired mother and her children or for more elderly people who find the strain of walking too severe, is provided on Front street, close to the O.P.A. headquarters tent by the T. Eaton Company Limited. The large marquee is amply provided with seating accommodation, and is heated. It is open all day and from the hours of 1 to 4 p.m. tea is served to all-comers free of charge. A welcome is displayed near the entrance, inviting visitors to make use of the rest room at any time.

J. J. Duffus Limited

Right next door to the Eaton Rest Room is situated the J. J. Duffus Limited automobile exhibit, carrying a complete line of Buick and Pontiac cars and G.M.C. trucks for which this old established firm has the district agency.

Canadian General Electric

In a tent that carries a complete line of electrical household equipment Grant and Thorpe, agents for the Canadian General Electric Company, have made a very fine showing. The scope of the products displayed is at once comprehensive in variety, and outstanding in the workmanship and finish upon which this famous firm bases its reputation.

J. K. Hughes Limited

At the junction of Industrial Avenue and East Main street the sightseer is halted in his footsteps by an irresistible display of automobiles shown by J. K. Hughes Limited, dealers for Chevrolet cars and General Motors products.

SPLENDID TALKS HEARD AT STIRLING

Women's Institute of Holloway Baptist Church Hold Splendid Meeting.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

STIRLING, October 14. — A splendid meeting of the Women's Institute of Holloway was held in the Baptist church on Thursday evening. Representatives from Stirling, Wallbridge, Union Vale, River Valley and Stirling were present.

Mrs. Finkle of Chatterton, occupied the chair.

The opening number after the address of welcome, was a chorus, "O Canada," by seven girls.

Mrs. Leonard Prest welcomed the visitors, saying they appreciated the splendid response to their invitation.

Mrs. Mitts gave a talk on "How to Make Common Place Life worth while."

Mrs. Jack Butler sang a solo, "Sing me to Sleep." Mrs. E. Rowland accompanied her.

Mrs. J. Sager, of River Valley, gave a talk on "Education." This is a most comprehensiv subject.

"The co-operation between the home and the school must be considered. The school, besides book-knowledge, helps children form health habits. A school should teach a child to do well at home. Children should be given a share in the home responsibilities."

A quartette was given from Union Vale.

Mrs. Shaw of Stirling, district president, gave a talk concerning the coming convention in Belleville.

The Union Vale Institute has a junior girls' guild branch, which has formed a garment making club. The members make aprons, towels, smocks, darn hose and learn the use of patterns.

Mrs. Holmes of Wallbridge, gave a talk on "Historical Research." They had in possession a "Belleville Intelligences" of 1854. Many interesting records were there. At that time it was proposed to build a road between Marmora and Belleville.

A photographer's ad. stated that if people would come he would execute a beautiful likeness.

The Chatterdon girls gave another chorus, "Billy Boy."

Mrs. Roscoe Vanderwater gave a talk on "Music in the Schools."

The so-fa method was discovered in the 10th century by an Italian priest.

The first lesson teaches the child to distinguish noise from musical tones; 'do' is the father note; 'so' is a happy one; 'me' is the mother note; 'ra' is a razzy note; 'ti' a piercing note; 'fa' is desolate; 'la' sad and weeping.

These lessons develop observation and stimulate reasoning and memory. The result of this teaching will be apparent in years to come.

The Reeve made a few remarks. He referred to the old newspaper mentioned by Mrs. Holmes. He said in 1792 Sidney township was organized and was the oldest in existence.

Joe Wilson, the agricultural representative, gave a talk on the testing of cattle for T. B.

A farmer receives 2-3 compensation if his cattle must be destroyed. A farmer gets every consideration. In Dundas 56 per cent. of the cattle were affected. The interests of good health demands this test.

Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn of Stirling, gave a humorous reading, "How to serve Husbands—a Tested Recipe."

Lunch was served at the close.

CONDEMN BIRTH CONTROL

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 14 — The National Council of Catholic Men closed their annual convention here with resolutions condemning birth control and asking the members to advace the "unity and sanctity of the Christian home." The convention closed last night.

"So-called birth control is an infidelity of God, a denial of individual dignity of man and woman, and a selfish betrayal of our country's welfare," the resolution said.

Plowing As a Science

By DR. A. J. MADILL, Peterborough Normal School

Plowing is a science as well as an art. As an art it includes a study of the best practices connected with plowing, the best methods of plowing the depth, width and kind of furrow, and such related topics. To understand the principles underlying these practices, to know why one practice is better than another, to develop new practices that are better than the old ones, is to study the science of plowing. The art includes the how, the science, the why.

From the days of the crooked stick, the wooden mould-board, the steel plow, to the modern gang, drawn in turn by the ox, the horse and the tractor, man has been improving the methods and finding out more about the principles, at the same time being enthusiastic over the progress made. The satisfaction of good plowing, with a large wooden plow, was expressed by Daniel Webster nearly a century ago (in 1837), in an address, when he said, "When I have hold of the handles of my big plow in such a field as this, with four yoke of oxen to pull it through, and hear the roots crack and see the stumps all go under the furrow, out of sight, and observe the clean mellow surface of the plowed land, I feel more enthusiasm over my achievement than comes from my encounters in public life at Washington."

Although agriculture is the oldest and most important industry, it has been within the last hundred years that the inventor and scientist have done most to improve the methods and speed up production. The books on agriculture of Lord Bacon's time, when studied by the noted English philosopher, so disgusted him that he ordered his servant to burn them in the garden as they dealt only with the art of agriculture and contained no principles. Since that time the old type of farming has been replaced by a new agriculture, an art and a science combined. At our agricultural colleges, in the research laboratories, and in the field, professors, students and agriculturalists are constantly making new discoveries relating to the science of plowing and agriculture.

In the preparation of the soil for the seed and later crop, plowing is usually the first and at the same time the most important operation. Plant food consists of several elements, chief among which are carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium, iron, sulphur and magnesium. While some of these are obtained from the air and the water, most come from the soil. Among those ten elements there are four to which greatest attention must be given by the farmer for best results, nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and calcium. Plowing aids in making these elements available for the use of the plants. The turning over of the soil, the loosening of it up, its exposure to the air and moisture help in breaking down the compound which contain these elements or causing other chemical changes to take place so that the substance can be gotten into soluble form, be dissolved, and taken into the roots of the growing plant. Plowing, going deeper into the soil and exposing more of it to the air and moisture is better than most farm processes for such preparation of the seed bed.

Proper plowing at the right time aids also in making the soil finer, giving it a granular or crumbly structure, and in causing it to be loose and friable. Such soil is said to be in good physical condition or in good tilth, a requisite for best results, especially in clay or other heavy soil.

Some causes of poor physical condition of the soil are: plowing and working the soil when it is too wet; this causes the crumb structure to break down and the particles to compact. Hard clods form when such soil dries. A heavy beating rain or lack of a good supply of organic matter (clover, other plants, straw or other vegetable material), plowed under, will also cause poor tilth.

The loss due to weeds is enormous. Good plowing, constant plowing and deep plowing followed by other cultivation in summer fallow or rotation of crops, make it difficult for such deep-rooted or root-stocked weeds as the Canada thistle, perennial sow thistle and bladder campion to thrive.

Plowing at the proper time is an effective check on many insects as the grasshopper, white grub, wireworm, cutworm, corn borer and hessian fly. In the egg, larva, or pupa stages, these insects are disturbed, or exposed to frost and other unfavorable weather conditions and to the birds, the natural energy of such pests.

Spring plowing for corn and later crops is the usual practice in many districts. In such cases early spring plowing is likely to be preferable to late as the soil has more time to settle, to make a firm seed bed, retain more moisture and permit more plant food to be available.

For oats, barley and early spring sowing, fall plowing is recommended. Some advantage of fall plowing are, the soil is better exposed to the effects of the frost and weather, thus making it smoother and more mellow, or in other words giving it better tilth. More time is given for the decay of vegetable matter turned under, thus increasing the supply of available plant food. A closer connection is established between the plowed and the under soil thus more effectively permitting the water in the sub-soil to come up by capillary action to the roots of the plants. Injurious insects are exposed to the birds and unfavorable weather.

Fall plowed land should not be disked or harrowed until early spring. The loose, rough surface will have greater area exposed and will in the drier regions, catch and retain more winter rains and snow. Shallow cultivation of this land with the disk or cultivator in the spring will help, besides preparing a seed bed, to dry the top surface, warm it up more quickly—thus hastening early germination of the seeds—and aid in retaining more of the moisture stored up during the winter season.

It has been demonstrated that for fall wheat, early plowing in many sections increases the yield very markedly. There are several reasons why plowing in July rather than in early September should give better returns, first, it holds weeds in check. Not only the the weeds killed, but the moisture and plant food that the weeds would use up, if allowed to grow, are retained. Second, by forming a deep mulch (loosened surface), over the soil the moisture again is retained in the soil beneath. Third, it unlocks plant food and allows it to accumulate in the soil ready to sustain the young wheat plants in the fall and winter and give them a good start in the spring. Fourth, it helps to insure a firm, compact and moist seed bed (the moisture due chiefly to the capillary movement of the water, facilitated, by seeding time, by the close contact between the upper and lower soils), well laden with available plant food. This means an early and uniform germination of the seed wheat which also gives it a good start. Fifth, it aids in destroying the hessian fly. This is done partly by keeping down volunteer wheat if on wheat stubble and partly by helping in the accumulation of usual plant food and moisture, thus furnishing better conditions for a delay in seeding until the danger from the fly is past.

Much has been said about, and opinions differ relative to the merits of deep and shallow plowing. In many districts, for fall plowing, and early plowing for wheat, six or seven inches in depth is advocated By plowing deep more soil is brought under cultivation from which plant food may be obtained. Greater depth of soil is also loosened for plants which are deep-rooted. Others claim that owing to poor or cold subsoil, or because of their kind of land, shallow plowing is preferable. In many cases also, due to lack of time or for other reasons disking or shallow gang plowing is the method used for early cultivation of the field for fall wheat. There is an advantage in this rather than letting the stubble stand, as this early shallow cultivation aids in holding the weeds in check and in retaining moisture until deeper plowing is done later.

Since there are so many kinds of soils, fields and other conditions existing, the same results will not always follow the same methods of plowing. It is well therefore for the plowman, while following the principles generally, to study the effects of the various practices upon his own land, experiment carefully, observe intelligently and be guided according to his own findings.

POPPY WREATHS FOR MEMORIALS

Legion President Asks Govt's to Lay One on Every Shaft.

TOKEN OF RESPECT.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 14 (C.P.)—All the Provincial Governments have been asked by Major John S. Roper, Dominion President, Canadian Legion, to place a poppy wreath upon all war memorials in their respective provinces on November 11, national Remembrance Day.

Major Roper who was in Ottawa over the week-end, sent the following telegram to each provincial Premier last night:

"On the occasion of the first national Remembrance Day in Canada —November 11, the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League asks that all provincial Governments undertake the responsibility of placing upon all war memorials in their respective provinces a poppy wreath, manufactured by disabled soldiers in vetcraft shops, operated under the direction of the Department of Pensions and Health, and distributed by the Canadian Legion. This token of respect to the dead is already in effect, in at least one province in Canada (Nova Scotia). The Dominion Parliament has made November 11 a day of sacred memories. Will you co-operate?"

While in Ottawa Major Roper discussed with Dominion executive officials of the Canadian Legion, plans for the celebration of national Remembrance Day throughout the Dominion. It is his intention to be present at the national Remembrance Day ceremony in Ottawa, to be conducted by the Canadian Legion at 11 o'clock on the morning of November 11, on Parliament Hill.

Governor Attempts To Satisfy Strikers

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 14.—Governor Joseph B. Ely to-day stepped cautiously into the role of peacemaker, and gave personal attention to the strike situation in Lawrence, where 22,000 textile workers are idle in protest against a 10 per cent. wage reduction.

Governor Ely, who assured 60 representatives of the Lawrence strikers yesterday that he was anxious to help but didn't want to "make it worse," to-day was to confer with a smaller group of workers and also was to attempt to communicate with the mill owners.

The Modern Note In Plowing

THE TRACTOR PLODS ITS UNWEARY WAY

A common scene on many of the farms of Ontario at this season of the year. Machines have revolutionized virtually all the industries, and on the farm the tractor has broadened its usefulness in many branches of work. Its modernness appeals to farm youth, especially the young farmer with an aptitude for mechanics. Long since passed the experimental stage, its young operators today are doing excellent work which is simply accentuated by the provincial and local plowing matches.

TRACTOR AFFORDS MANY USES AND ECONOMIES FOR FARMERS

Power Farming Adds Interest and Eliminates Drudgery of Old Method.

CUTS PRODUCTION COST.

A more general practice of power farming will prove to be the solution of one of the basic problems of Canadian agriculture in its present-day competition for business in world markets, according to J. J. Quinn, in charge of tractor sales for Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited. Mr. Quinn is in Peterborough for the competitions of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

"One of the principal problems before the Canadian farmer today is the production of more abundant crops at less cost so that Canadian agricultural products may be able to compete in world markets," said Mr. Quinn. "These costs may be reduced if Canadian farmers will adopt more widely the practice of power farming.

"It is widely recognized today that farmers are not receiving adequate returns for their products. Competition in agriculture is world-wide and world prices govern the prices which Canadian farmers receive. Because farm production costs in other countries are now below those at present prevailing in Canada it is imperative that the agricultural industry in Canada find a way to reduce its production costs. Power farming offers the most effective solution.

"No one can tell how long prices of agricultural commodities will continue at their present low levels. The Canadian farmer takes second place to none in efficiency, but there are still great possibilities of reducing costs. Better organization and management of farms and wider use of tractors, other farming machinery and technical methods in production will assuredly widen the margin between prices and costs and bring increased net incomes to more farmers.

Grounds Chairman

R. TORRANCE LILLICO

of North Monaghan who is chairman of the Grounds Committee and on whose farm the big demonstration tents are erected.

Mechanical Power Advantages

"Many farmers will question why it should be necessary to purchase mechanical power when they already have ample animal power to operate their farms. The answer to this question is that the adoption of mechanical power permits timely work; that is, puts the farmer in position to perform necessary work at the right time. A tractor can be worked 24 hours a day if necessary. The average work-day for horses is ten hours.

"There are many advantages of power farming. In the first place, a tractor works better in hot weather, which curbs the efficiency of horses. Moreover, it is necessary to grow or buy feed for animals, whereas the land now devoted to production of feed crops might better be used to grow income-producing crops or to graze sheep. Profits from either would more than pay for tractor fuel.

"The fact is that farmers actually work more days a year caring for their horses than the horses work for them. The government estimates that horses actually do productive work only 100 days a year. Yet records show that the average farm horse requires of his owner 88 hours of work a year, if it is properly taken care of. In other words, a stable of ten horses would require 880 hours of work a year, or the equivalent of 110 eight-hour days. It must be remembered, too, that the time spent in caring for horses might better be spent in income-producing labor.

"Horses require food 365 days a year, although they work only 100 days of that time. A tractor requires fuel only when at work. Horses require extensive stables for housing and barns for storage of food. A tractor needs only a weather-proof shed and a barrel for storage of fuel. The fact that a tractor can displace many horses at seeding or harvest time and yet costs nothing when not employed is one of its most attractive attributes.

"A tractor permits a farmer to take advantage of good weather in preparing seed beds, permitting crops to be put in early and increasing the yield. More effective weed control is also possible because summer fallow can be cultivated more often and when it needs it most.

A Pleasanter Method.

"Most important, however, power farming is more pleasant and interesting than the older method. Drudgery is eliminated and farmers are able to effectively plan their work. There are many uses on a farm to which a tractor may be put. Among them are discing, plowing, cultivating, seeding, mowing, cutting and harvesting grain, combine work, threshing, sawing wood, stump pulling, rock removal, every kind of work requiring belt power including grinding and silo filling, moving granaries and other buildings and grading land and ditching.

"We can never hope to obtain better prices for our crops in Canada than the world market allows us. We are governed entirely by the world-wide law of supply and demand. There is only one way out for the farmers of Canada and that is to lower production costs. Every possible means to this end must be made use of and the farmer of the future who succeeds will be the one who demonstrates that he can raise the most abundant crops at the lowest cost.

"Power farming is a necessity in such a program. It is the brightest hope for better agriculture."

Marmora

MARMORA, Oct. 13 (Examiner Correspondence)—Services of a national Thanksgiving nature were held at St. Paul's and Holy Trinity on Sunday, the rector officiating throughout the day. The subject of the sermon at morning prayer was "Joyful thanksgiving." The preacher exhorted his hearers to be thankful for the Lord's mercies, the Church, our country and our opportunities for service.

At the evening service "The duty of thankfulness" was the theme. At both services appropriate hymns were sung and the National Anthem at the close. Next Sunday the Sunday School and morning prayer will be combined, due to the day being observed universally by Anglicans as Children's Day. There will also be a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m.

United Church

Bright services at the United Church on Sunday were marked with the spirit of thanksgiving. In the morning the pastor Rev. F. H. Howad spoke from the text "He careth for you" and in the evening from "O that men would praise the Lord." Next Sunday the anniversary services of the church are being held with Rev. W. H. Clarke of Shannonville, a former highly esteemed pastor of the church as preacher for the day.

Average wheat yields per acre, over a 15-year period, for the chief exporting countries were Western Canada 17.5; United States 14.1; Argentina 10.6; Australia 10.4, and Russia 9.4 bushels.

Ontario Contest Premier Plowing Match in World

J. J. Tierney, of Brockville, Sketches Importance of Present Competition.

MODEL FOR COUNTIES.

Plowing Matches Trace Back to Europe of Sixteenth Century.

Interesting observations on the origination of plowing matches as far back as the sixteenth century, and of their growth in popularity and usefulness in Canada and in Ontario in particular, are contained in a report delivered by J. J. Tierney of Brockville at the annual meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association. No less interesting in view of the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration which is now in full swing outside the city, is the report of J. Lockie Wilson, managing-director and secretary of the Ontario Plowmen's Association and the man behind the scenes in the great event.

"The staging of plowing matches is by no means a present day idea in competition in the art of plowing," states Mr. Tierney. "On the continent of Europe, as far back as the sixteenth century, we read of plowing matches being the cause of great interest and rivalry among the agricultural classes. In Ontario for over half a century plowing matches have been held, with plows that make the antiquated exhibit for our Provincial matches now. Today from the Atlantic to the Pacific, plowing matches are staged in every Province of the Dominion under entirely different auspices and in many cases fostered by our Agricultural Societies, but in all cases the main object predominating is demonstrating the better cultural methods of the soil. Nearly a quarter of a century ago, Agricultural members of our Government decided they would use their influence to have grants made to Associations, who would annually encourage plowing competition, and thus several associations came into existence, bringing about the necessity of a central organization and a superintendent of activities. Thus, we have the Ontario Plowmen's Association and J. Lockie Wilson, both in the embryo stage, as far as possibilities and achievements are concerned."

Largest in the World.

"From a small beginning twenty years ago, the match and demonstration staged by the Ontario Plowmen's Association has rapidly grown to be the largest Agricultural demonstration in the world today, and has likewise spread sufficient enthusiasm and interest to be duplicated on a smaller scale in practically every County in the Province."

The duplication of plowing matches referred to by Mr. Tierney, are to be seen in the successful events that are staged at frequent intervals in the various counties throughout the Province. Peterborough boasts a particularly live and efficient Plowmen's Association under the presidency of J. J. Duffus, while there are also the Home Plowing Matches run in conjunction with it, under the kindly auspices of the Department of Agriculture, and with the full co-operation of the local representative, J. B. Nelson, an enthusiast so far as all matters pertaining to agriculture are concerned.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association is made up of representatives from almost every branch association.

Should Rotate Matches.

"With such problems in mind, the Ontario Plowmen's Association endea oured to make their matches and demonstrations thoroughly practical and strove to encourage classes best suited to local conditions and good farming practices. It is a well established fact that any event of importance did not happen by accident, thus our plowing matches stand to give testimony of organization and thought. Many of our older matches are splendid examples of what can be accomplished by co-operation, but we still have counties not fully organized and thereby not functioning to proper strength. Some counties, I feel, made a mistake by holding their matches, annually, in almost the same centre. By so doing, you are likely to have all of your Directors and supporters from that locality. In counties where only one match is held in a season, that match should be on a four or five year circuit, as it were, and held each year at a point where your directors, at their annual meeting, decide it will best serve and stimulate new interest. Most of the Directors of this Asociatsion are able to impart the practical knowledge of the art of match plowing and any Board of Directors, if they feel any section would benefit by a demonstration, should make application and secure an instructor for a day or two previous to the match to coach the men and boys. Many of your men are good plowmen but are a little timid because they are not quite sure of the rules and standards required at a match. I believe home plowing is a good means of starting the boys off right."

Breed Better Horses.

"The efforts of the Ontario Plowmen's Association to encourage the breeding of good horses, by offering $500.00 for matched teams properly equipped at our Provincial match, cannot but have a stimulating effect on the local branches throughout the Province is encouraging them to pay more attention to this feature of their matches."

"Then when the day is over and we have had the co-operation of all, we forget the personal effort that was necessary on our part, and we realize that in trying to stimulate interest in the major operation of our agricultural life, by becoming better acquainted with our rural and urban neighbours, our work is not in vain."

"To close our matches with a banquet brings in a social activity that is to be commended. Most matches are held close to a hall of some kind that will accommodate the plowboys and their friends and supporters. In most cases such bodies as the Women's Institutes are willing to help out by providing an attractive meal at a nominal charge. Every rural community has sufficient talent who will assist with the evening's entertainment. The distribution of prizes will be of great interest and words of encouragement and advice should be tendered the boys. Such subjects as good seed and farm drainage and other items of importance could be discussed."

Lockie Wilson's Report

Mr. Lockie Wilson's report, extracts of which are quoted below, also contain a large measure of encouragment and advice. He goes fully into the working of the Ontario Plowmen's Association that he was instrumental in founding twenty or more years ago, and discusses the various offshoots of organizations combined in a stand for better agricultural methods, which probably came into existence inspired by the success and idealism back of the O.P.A. today acknowledged as one of the largest institutions of its kind in the world.

"Among the many farmers' organizations established in Ontario, none has made greater progress than the institution that is holding its annual meeting here today. Organized less than a score of years, and started in the smallest kind of a way it has gone forward with leaps and bounds. Today it is acknowledged to be the largest institution of its kind in the world. This has been accomplished through the enthusiasm and earnest efforts of the men you have elected from time to time as officers and directors, backed up as they are by branches in every section of the province, with a large membership and the hearty co-operation of manufacturers, professional, and business men, in nearly every walk of life, and we must not forget the splendid support given us by the Press of Ontario—both urban and rural—which has been a tower of strength to us. In this connection our thanks are due to the several hundred Fairs and Exhibitions that have given us, free of charge, a page advertisement in their prize lists. Generous, indeed, have our patrons been as shown by their donations of valuable trophies and cash prizes. Local branch plowing matches are held between the border line of Manitoba in the west, and Glengarry, which adjoins the Province of Quebec, in the east. Each year shows a rapid increase in our membership and in newly-formed branches."

"Owing to the rapid increase in our branches, a tax is placed on the Department to secure a sufficient number of competent judges to fill the many requests made for them. Short courses have been held from time to time for this line of work. The short course was held in 1930 at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and was the most successful yet staged by the Association"

Local Branch Matches

"Our branches hold local matches where scores of plowmen compete. Good prizes are offered, and the attendance is usually large. The judges for these matches are supplied, and their travelling expenses and per diem paid, by my Branch of the Department. I think you will agree with me that Home Plowing Competitions are invaluable, and in order not to have too many organizations, I have suggested to the Minister that a reasonable grant be placed in the estimates for this purpose, and that the grant for Local Branch matches be increased, and that substantial prizes be offered by each local Branch holding a match for classes for plowboys under 20 years of age. This would avoid the holding of small Junior Matches and the added expense and loss of time. Only a few of these Junior Matches have been held, with competition and attendance very limited."

"Short Courses and Plowing Demonstrations are put on by the Ontario Department of Agriculture at different places during the year, these are well attended, and great interest manifested in the various counties in which they are held. The Annual Meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association is held each year, during the first week of February, in Toronto, and delegates from the Branches are in attendance. Improved cultural methods are discussed and necessary changes are made in rules, regulations, and prize lists. The place selected for the holding of the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration is usually decided upon at the annual meeting. The policy of the Association is, other things being equal, to hold the demonstration, alternately, in sections of eastern and western Ontario."

SECESSION TALK IS NOT HEARD OF IN WEST INDIES

Fred Chenhall Returns From Jamaica After Five Years' Service.

HAPPY PEOPLE.

Depression Has More or Less Passed Jamaica By.

The recently suggested scheme that Great Britain cede the West Indies to the United States in lieu of payment of war debts would not meet with the approval of the natives of the West Indies is the opinion of Fred Chenhall, who has recently returned to Peterborough after having spent five years on the island of Jamaica.

"The natives are intensely loyal to the British crown and are looking for closer trade relationship with Great Britain and Canada," stated Mr. Chenhall.

Fred Chenhall is a son of Martin Chenhall, A.R.C.O., organist of St. Paul's Church, and was with the Bank of Nova Scotia in Jamaica. After the expiration of two months' leave of absence he will renew his work in the head office of the bank in Canada.

Depression Unnoticed

The depression has more or less passed Jamaica by, Mr. Chenhall told The Examiner. Bananas have taken the place of sugar as the chief crop of the island and the trade, although prices are lower, is booming with Jamaica bananas being sold widely in the United States, Canada, and northern Europe.

"There is little or no unemployment, although it must be remembered that the Jamaicans work for very small wages," he stated. "They receive between one and two shillings a day, but that is uite enough for them to live happily and contented.

Happy People

"They are a happy, laughing, song-loving people, and contrary to northern opinion of them are quite willing workers. They sing as they work and the loading of a steamer is something of a ceremony with their continuous blithesome chanting."

The enterprise of the Jamaicans is reflected in the cleverness of their professional men who have entered the fields of medicine, teaching and law. The island's population is close to a million, of which only ten to fifteen thousand are wholly white.

"Jamaica is a land of sunshine and is a paradise for golfers, tennis players and other forms of outdoor sport, since the games can be played the year around. The Jamaicans are great lovers of sport, the youngsters taking up cricket almost as soon as they can toddle about," continued Mr. Chenhall.

Delightful Climate

Jamaica is rugged little isle with mountains resembling that of Scotland. Its climate is most healthful and the fame of its sunshine as spreading until it is fast becoming a health resort for Americans.

Anyone desiring to visit Jamaica and the West Indies would be wise to book their passage on the Empress division of the Canadian National Steamship Lines since in this way twenty-two days on the ocean is obtained as compared with ten on any of the American lines. The Canadian steamers are larger and better equipped than the American ships, stated Mr. Chenhall, and the cost is no more.

A Message From Hon. T. L. Kennedy

ONTARIO
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
OFFICE OF THE MINISTER

SUCCESSFUL agriculture is the foundation of Provincial prosperity; competition is synonymous with enthusiasm; and enthusiasm is the primary requisite of success in any endeavor. Following this line of reasoning, I believe that the big International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration, to be held at Peterborough from October 13 to 16 inclusive, merits the staunchest of support, and the greatest of encouragement, not only of those directly engaged in farming, but of everyone in Peterborough and the vicinity.

A competition of this type results in directing attention to the basic importance of thorough soil cultivation. Further, it is an interesting means of demonstrating the great amount of skill required for ultimate perfection in this work. Another constructive phase of this event is that it enables manufacturers to centralize an exhibit of the latest type of farming machinery.

But most important of all, this competition is interesting the farmer's son. Special contests for these younger men fill them with an ambition to become even more skilled than their fathers in farming practice. When we have secured the complete enthusiasm of youth, only then will the constant progress of agriculture be assured.

In addition to this big event, numerous smaller plowing matches are held, each autumn, throughout the province. These competitions represent a hand-in-hand effort, of farmer and manufacturer, to further promote the development of Ontario's agricultural resources.

Yours very truly,

Thomas L. Kennedy
Minister.

BOMB EXPLODES BEFORE THEATRE

Police on Guard Kick Missle Into Street—Open Fire on Bombers.

UNION WAR WITH OWNERS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 14.—The thirteenth bomb hurled at theatres involved in the controversy between Allied independent owners and the Motion Picture Operators' Union was exploded early today.

It had been tossed at the feet of two policemen on guard in front of the Easterly Theatre. They immediately kicked it into the street and began firing at the fleeing bombers' automobile. None was injured.

The bomb exploded there, shattering windows in the theatre and in other buildings within the radius of a block.

This explosion occurred 28 hours after a loop theatre was bombed. About 24 hours after four operators brought from eastern cities to work in the theatres said they were fired upon while eating in a downtown restaurant, and within nine hours after the fourth attempt to settle the differences between the union and the owners failed.

LIME HASTENS HEALING.

In one of our large hospitals, in order to thicken the blood, regular doses of chloride of lime were given to three or four patients. This is also called calcium chloride and is not the commercial chloride of lime that is used for disinfecting purposes. Doses of about 15 grains were given in a spoonful of syrup about three times a day.

It so happened that a couple of these cases had very severe varicose uicers, the little sores that are sometimes found with varicose or thickened veins in the legs. Notwithstanding the local treatment that had been given for these ulcers they had refused to heal. However, after the use of lime it was found that some of these ulcers had healed, and others were in the process of healing.

The surgeon in charge decided to try this chloride of lime on other cases, and the results were extremely satisfactory.

What causes ulcers to be slow in healing?

Apparently one cause at least is a lack of lime in the system or a lack of lime in the food eaten.

This has lead some physicians to use lime in various forms, often by injection into the veins in cases of ulcer of the skin anywhere, ulcer of the stomach and small intestine, and also in ulceration of the heart itself.

It is not that these individuals do not get the usual amount of lime in their food, but that the glands that control the use of the lime in the system may be at fault.

This explains to some extent why some individuals seem to heal very slowly when they have a cut or any wound, whereas others find that any cut, scratch, or other injury heals up in a very short time.

The lesson for all of us, of course, is to remember that the system needs lime, and so milk, oranges, grapefruit in season and all kinds of vegetables should be eaten regularly.

In some cases the use of the chloride of lime itself in 10 to 15 grain doses in syrup three times a day may be necessary.

Your druggist can get the chloride of lime in syrup, from a wholesale drug house, if he doesn't care to make it up himself.

QUEENSBORO L.A. HOLDS SOCIAL

Games, Community Singing and Stunts Provide Interesting Program.

Y.P.L. MEETS.

QUEENSBORO, Oct. 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid at Pine View a very successful social evening was held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Anderson. There was a large representation, especially of young people, some having come from Cooper and Queensboro. After an opening hymn and prayer, games and community singing and stunts full of humor and contests were enjoyed to the full by everyone present. The alphabet contest won splendid favor. The letters of the alphabet were written on square pieces of cardboard and placed in a pail of water. Individuals were blindfolded and turned three times around and then required to pick up a card out of the pail and the letter written on the card was given out as the first letter of the name of his or her future mate.

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies and all pronounced the evening a splendid success. The collection amounted to over eight dollars.

The Young People's Fellowship at Hassard's Corners met in the church on Thursday evening with a good attendance. In the absence of the president Miss Marion Mutton who was at Tweed attending the teachers' convention the meeting was opened by the pastor with singing "The great Physician now is near" and prayer. The scripture lesson was read alternately by the young men and young women from Luke ii, 1-12. Mr. Everson gave a short talk on the lesson. It was decided to make the membership fee twenty-five cents and have no collections for local expenses.

Mrs. William Blair, convenor of Christian Fellowship then took charge and "Jesus calls us o'er the tumult" was sung. Allan Ketcheson then read St. John 3, 1-18 introducing the subject, "What do we believe about Jesus?"

Miss Jennie Ketcheson recited the Apostles Creed, as demonstrating one's belief about Jesus. Miss G. Anderson and Miss Francis Harris gave paper on the subject. Miss Alma Keene and Mrs. Philo Harris sang sweetly, "The old rugged cross." The meeting closed with singing, "All the way my Savious leads me." The topic next week will be taken by Miss Jennie Ketcheson.

"WHEN I was first married I had a miscarriage and felt perfectly miserable.

"I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and later gave birth to a fine baby boy.

"I now have five children. I always take the Vegetable Compound during pregnancy and it helps me. It benefits my sisters-in-law too." Mrs. W. J. Zinston, R. R. No. 2, Lakefield, Ontario.

Monthly Meeting Group A W.M.S.

The members of Group A of the W.M.S., of the George street United Church, met at the home of Mrs. J. Fairbrother, Dublin street, for their regular meeting, with the leader, Mrs. J. C. Wood, presiding.

The meeting opened with the roll call, the members responding by repeating a verse of Scripture. This was followed by a devotional period when Mrs. Reynolds read the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. Copp and Mrs. Wellwood led in prayer.

After a short business session at which finances were discussed, a very fine address was given by Mrs. A. J. Brown, who spoke on Thanksgiving and what it should mean to us.

Margaret Fairbrother rendered a pleasing piano solo, and the meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah Benediction in unison.

Forty Years on the Job..and "Hasn't Scratched Yet"

"Forty years" means back in the gay Nineties—"On the job"—means on millions and millions of jobs—in cottages and palaces—wherever people prefer their bathtubs and sinks sparkling clean.

"Hasn't Scratched Yet"—means just what it says. Bon Ami cleans, polishes, —but never scars and mars the porcelain that it makes so clean and gleaming. Never leaves gritty sediment in the bottom of tub or sink. Never roughens or reddens your hands.

Warsaw Institute

WARSAW, Oct. 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The regular meeting of the Warsaw Women's Institute was held in the room on Thursday afternoon when the quilt was quilted.

There was some discussion on several matters and it was decided to pay off the debt on the building. Cash over on hand will be used for taxes, insurance and relief. Mrs. Henry Clements offered her home for a meeting during the winter.

Mrs. E. N. McDonald's invitation to the W.W.F. to visit the U.F.W.O. and put on the program was accepted, and the meeting will take place on Friday evening, October 23 at her home. Notice was received that to a club of ten members or more, the Canadian Home Journal will be sent for 40 cents a year each. To fewer 50 cents a year.

Votes of thanks were tendered Mrs. J. A. Crowe for her kindness in lending her home to serve the meals on school fair day; to J. A. Crowe for his kindness in fetching and returning chairs and dishes and placing tables, also to others who helped in any way at the hot-dog booth or at the dinner.

It was decided to have a member devote three minutes to current events at each meeting. Mrs. Arthur Edwards will be the committee for members. The subject of billboard is laid over.

Junior Branch

The junior branch held its meeting at the same time in the north room. They decided to hold their meetings in the homes. They are asking to have a nursing class not later than the first two weeks in December. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mr and Mrs. Albert Webster. Miss Mary Rose was elected president as Miss Annabel Carlow resigned.

District Notes

The social held in United Church S.S. room on Wednesday evening was well patronized.

Cottesloe W.M.S. plan a social on Wednesday, October 21.

Mrs. John Sargent spent the week-end with cousins in Oshawa, and now has her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long of Oshawa as guests.

A number of Health Books, for 1931 were received at the W.I. and distributed, at the request of T. P. Lancaster, M.L.A. of Havelock. These are not just for the Institute, and it is hoped that through the Institute they may reach many of the homes.

Quinte Convention Report Discussed

EAST EMILY, Oct. 14 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Young People of Bethel United Church held their opening meeting in the basement of the church on Thursday night.

The meeting opened with a hymn and scripture reading was read by Miss Eleanor Sherin. Miss Lillian Race of Omemee rendered a beautiful piano solo and the Rev. Mr. Blanchard then favored the gathering with a vocal solo.

F. G. Sandy of Omemee gave a very interesting report of the Laymen's Convention held at Belleville a few weeks ago.

Community singing was then enjoyed and a social half hour was spent. Mr. Harry Jackson moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Sandy and Miss Race and Mr. Edmund Ruth seconded same.

The meeting was brought to a close with the league benediction and singing of the National Anthem.

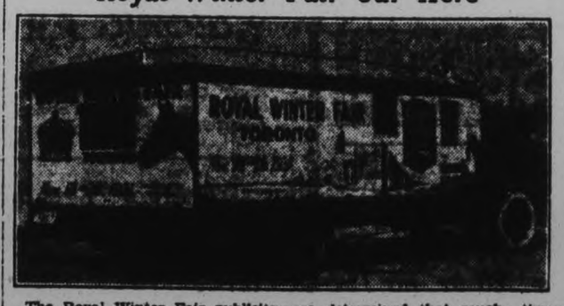
Royal Winter Fair Car Here



The Royal Winter Fair publicity car—a pullman of the King's highways—in the course of its tour of central Ontario is visiting the International Plowing match for the full four days. The sole purpose of the tour is to bring the Royal home to rural Ontario.

Everybody is welcome to hear the story of the Royal from the official in charge. They will find him courteous and friendly—a cheery son of Old Man Ontario.

The rosy outlook for the forthcoming Royal Winter Fair has prompted the management in taking this novel step to bring interest in the Royal to the very doors of its supporters. The co-operation being given by farmers and agriculturists all over the Dominion has never been more wholehearted than this year. It is quite plain that they are determined that rough times abroad in the big world shall only spur them on to greater achievement at home.

The Royal is commemorating the tenth year since its "birth," not to "toot" about its youth or age, but in these uncertain times to recall, as an encouragement to the Canadian people, the great strength and confidence it gave to agriculture when it was founded in the depressed after war years.

Readers of The Examiner are cordially invited to visit the car. And, as special railway rates of a fare and a quarter will be available, everyone is invited, also, to visit the Royal Winter Fair during its eight-day show, November 18-26.

At the plowing match, the Royal car will be the "field headquarters" for the horseshoe pitching contests.

Royal Bank Cup and Shield for Plowmen

As further proof of its long-sustained interest in the Ontario Plowmen's Association, the Royal Bank has presented a solid silver shield valued at $275, together with a beautiful cup which are to be competed for at the International Plowing Match at Peterborough during October 13, 14, 15 and 16.

H. C Sootheran, manager of the Royal Bank, yesterday placed the shield and the accompanying trophy on exhibition in the window of the R. R. Hall and Son store, thus assuring added keeness to the competition in the classic event for which the two prizes are offered. This will be for "the best plowed land in stubble (walking plows), boys under 17 years of age, open only to residents of Peterborough County.

The shield remains in the custody of the bank, but the cup becomes the property of the individual who wins the competition. An engraved shield bearing the name of the winner will be attached to the base of the cup.

The shield is richly ornamented and most artistic and is a worthy addition to the many prizes offered to Plowmen's Association. Mr. Sootheran will present the cup to the winner at the plowing match. Pictures of both cup and shield are reproduced here.

HOARDING

By Molly Bevan

The Blue Bell Poetess

In the golden wonder of an Autumn wood,
Ankle-deep in painted leaves
silently I stood
To watch a small swift squirrel store his Winter food.

I would be as thrifty
in a different way,
Putting bits of beauty by now the years are gay,
Food to keep my spirit
when Life's skies grow gray.

If I may but harvest,
ere my Summer flies,
Friendships indissoluble,
memories to prize,
I shall challenge Winter
with laughter in my eyes.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The thrifty woman who makes her own Christmas gifts looks over what she has from which to make things and sees what can be done without any outlay or at the smallest cost.

• • • • • • •

Left-over textiles of all sorts can be requisitioned, even the bags in which come sugar, salt, flour, etc.

• • • • • • •

She can supplement these with large sacks of cotton, linen, or firm stout burlap which can be bought at many grocers' and grain shops where wholesale quantities are sold in smaller amounts.

• • • • • • •

These bags may be very dirty because of transportation, but with repeated washings, they can be made clean.

• • • • • • •

Salt, sugar and flour bags make excellent dusters. A set of six neatly tied up with colored Christmas ribbon and pretty paper is a good remembrance gift.

• • • • • • •

These dusters are nice when dyed attractive colors and have rolled hems with the overcasting done in contrasting colored heavy thread.

• • • • • • •

Large linen bags, cut into dish towel lengths, are very durable, and being all linen they are also aborbent. The Dish Ran Away with the Spoon is a design made for outlining on towels and can be purchased for very little.

• • • • • • •

Some linen sacks can be made into table covers as the textile is often good enough for this use. The sacks can be left in their original color or dyed light tones.

• • • • • • •

A cross stitch butterfly to be embroidered in corners and a floral design for a border between can be had for about fifteen cents. Work by counted stitches over canvas, afterwards cut and pulled out.

• • • • • • •

Edges of covers can be rolled and overcast in the same colored medium used for the cross stitching. Work first in one direction and then in another and a cross overcasting results which matches well with the other embroidery.

• • • • • • •

Or edges can be bound with tape or bias binding to match embroidery medium. Or edges can be hemstitched, although this is not recommended as the linen is extra heavy.

• • • • • • •

Bags can be made of linen, cotton or burlap sacking. They are lined and have a draw string the color of the lining. Cross stitch decoration lends beauty to these bags. The butterfly is good for this work as is also the floral border.

Favorable Reports By St. John's W.A.

The St. John's branch of the Women's Auxiliary held their monthly devotional and business meeting in the parish house on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 13. There was a large attendance. The rector, Dr. R. C. Blagrave, conducted the opening devotional exercises.

Special mention was made of the recent passing of the late rector, Venerable Archdeacon Davidson, also of the passing of Annette, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Amys, the latter being a W. A. member of many years' standing. The members stood for a few moments in silent prayer in honor of the departed.

All branches reported satisfactory and all were asked to support the rummage sale to be held on Thursday, by giving all clothes, household goods that could be spared to assist in the Dorcas work.

At the close of the meeting, the members' prayer was offered and benediction, after which a dainty tea was served by Mrs. Lemmings and her refreshment committee.

Larnex, Ireland, will erect a tablet in the district hospital to commemorate the gift of an X-ray apparatus.

OLDER BAKING SCHOOL PASSED

Big Aprons and Worried Frowns Among Discards of Modern Housewife.

NO MORE SPOILED DISHES.

Here's a pretty problem. Miss Claire Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools who is to appear in Peterborough under the auspices of The Examiner and give her series of popular demonstrations and talks on cookery on Oct. 20-21-22-23 has created a situation for feminine minds to dwell upon. She shows the women in her audience how to cook and bake so surely, deftly and easily that kitchen hours can be cut in half—and then right on top of that she makes cookery so absorbing and interesting and such fun that her pupils scarcely want to leave the kitchen at all.

The first thing her very feminine audience observes and ponders is the charm of her appearance. Kitchen work in days gone by has often been associated with big aprons and oldish house dresses and worried frowns, to say nothing of burnt fingers and dishes that went wrong—and here is this smiling, attractive woman, as crisp and neat as though there couldn't be any soil in a kitchen, as calm and pleasant and unhurried as possible and yet—

It makes no seeming difference if she is making cakes, meat dishes, vegetables, soups, desserts, a family dinner or a party luncheon. Ingredients leap together, raw materials become a feast, each perfect in outline, appearance, flavor and digestiveness, and all done so easily and happily without a spot or a sputter. It would be a dull mind indeed that did not say, "If one woman can do it—I can."

Poses as Stranger When His Victim is Found Dead

Finger Print Betrays Him

A man was seen running towards a motor car which had crashed into a tree in a park in London. He told the police he was hurrying to give assistance to a man in the car who later was found to be dead.

The police arrested him on suspicion. They took his finger prints. He was a well known automobile thief. Then the police searched the car for finger prints and found one on the driving wheel. It corresponded with the thief's. The dead man had been a victim of careless driving on the part of the crook, who was held without bail by a coroner's jury on a charge of manslaughter.

Thus are finger prints used to protect society and to bring arrest and conviction to criminals.

Your Danger Prints on Foods

You may be surprised to learn that your finger prints are just as dangerous to you—in another way. Not through crime because you are not a criminal—but through disease germs—many kinds of them.

Your fingers pick up germs all day long from things which other hands have touched. These other hands may have checked a cough or a sneeze and so become covered with germs. Then when you touch some article of food your fingers leave on it these germs which enter your mouth and so attack your system. Life Extension Institute has shown that germs of 27 diseases—some very deadly—may be passed around in this way—among them, "flu" and colds.

The Pleasant Way to Safety

These germs must be removed from your hands many times a day—and always before meals. Germs are stubborn things—they resist heat and cold—but one thing they cannot resist—and that is the germicide in Lifebuoy Soap.

Laboratory tests proved it killed even virulent germs when other soaps had no effect on them. Think what a service this is to find in a soap—especially how important for children who are even more thoughtless about what they touch than adults. Yet Lifebuoy is a pleasant—a delightful soap to use.

Brings Beauty Aid

With two fine palm oils as its base, Lifebuoy is also a beauty soap, its creamy, luxurious lather brings health and beauty to the complexion as well as safety from germs. Why not take advantage of both these important factors? Millions all over the world do, every day. You will note a refreshing scent of safety—not a perfume—in Lifebuoy, which vanishes soon after use.

For freedom from body odour trust to the refreshing Lifebuoy bath. For protection from germs—a great service—keep a cake of Lifebuoy always on the wash basin. Teach the children to wash regularly with Lifebuoy. It is the Health Soap for all the family. Get a supply from your dealer today.

CULTIVATION OF SOIL OLDEST OF THE ARTS

Plowing Was a Seasonal Toil in Cradle of Civilization.

THE MODERN PLOW

The cultivation of the soil is the oldest of the arts. Neolithic man had rude implements of stone or flint which were the primitive precursors of the spade and hoe, and rudimentary ploughs were devised in the Bronze Age.

In its elementary form cultivation consists in preparing the land for the reception of seed, after it has been cleared of its natural vegetation. The amount of labor required for this operation depends on the nature of the soil. Deep soil, rich in natural fertility, not subject to extremes of temperature and adequately supplied with water, requires little labour to prepare it for a crop. In Mesopotamia and Egypt from whence Western civilization sprang, agriculture was first developed, and there the sucessful cultivation of the soil involved the artificial supply of water by irrigation.

At the time of the discovery of America by the white man, the Indians were engaged more extensively than has been commonly supposed, in the cultivation of crops. The Europeans who colonized North America found the climate, soils, vegetation and crops so different from those of their native countries that they encountered serious agricultural difficulties, and experienced many discouraging failures. There was the formidable forest to be cleared away to make room for the food crops apart from the fact that these settlers had established themselves as neighbors to a strange and often hostile people, who looked with natural resentment upon the inevitable encroachment into their long held domains.

The primary object of ploughing is to break up the soil to form a seed bed. The plough does this by cutting and inverting the soil in slices or furrows 9 to 14 inches wide and to a depth of 4 to 6 inches, sometimes more. The inversion of the furrow slice exposes a large area of fresh soil to the influences of the weather and smothers the crop which is laid under.

The Plough

In its simplest form the plough consists of a frame or body with the following parts attached: (a) handle or stilts, used for controlling the plough; (b) beam for hauling the plough, carrying devices for making verticle or horizontal adjustments of the draft; (c) the share for cutting the bottom of the furrow slice; (d) the landside which takes the side thrusts; (e) the mouldboard or breast for turning the furrow! and usually (f) the coulter for cutting the verticle side of the furrow.

Frames and beams are usually made of iron or steel, but wood is sometimes used to save expense and weight.

Breast ploughs can be divided into three principle types, lea ploughs or breakers for lea, sod or turf with long sloping shares and breasts of gentle curvature to raise the furrows gradually, without breaking them; digger ploughs for use in stubble and cultivated ground with short abrupt breast which break up the furrows; and general purpose ploughs of an intermediate type which are suitable for general use. Ploughs may also be distinguished as walking or riding ploughs, according as the ploughman walks or drives with the plough, and disc ploughs which employ a revolving disc.

Single-furrow riding or sulky ploughs usually have three wheels, one running on the land and two in the furrow, one in front and one behind which takes the driver's weight and the sideways thrust in the plough sole. Such ploughs are common on this continent, but one little used in Europe.

Multiple or gang plows may be used either with horses or with tractors, and will be seen in operation at the International Plowing Match.

RURAL ELECTRICAL SERVICE

BY

HON. JOHN R. COOKE

Chairman of Ontario Hydro Electric Commission.

The distribution of electrical power in the rural areas of Ontario has been a subject constantly before the Commission for the last ten years.

In 1920 the amount of rural distribution was insignificant and consisted of short lines running out from the towns to individuals; while the economic problem of wide distribution in the scattered rural areas seemed at that time, almost insuperable. The Commission, however, decided on the policy of making the distribution of electrical energy as widespread as possible and for this purpose created what are known as "Rural Power Districts" in the more closely settled portions of the Province traversed by transmission lines. A typical rural power district covers about 100 square miles and the rates for electrical service in such a district are the same for each class of consumer. To reduce the economic rates in such a district, the Provincial Government has come to the assistance of the farmer and rural residents by not only making a grant of fifty per cent of the cost of rural lines and secondary equipment, but also by giving the Commission authority to fix a maximum service charge for any class of service rendered by the Commission in a rural power district.

The Provincial Government, by an Act passed in April 1930 has given further assistance to the farmer, by providing loans, under easy long term conditions, for the installation of electrical equipment on the farm.

The Commission with this assistance, has vigorously promoted the extension of its lines in rural power districts and the rural population has welcomed with enthusiasm this opportunity of obtaining lighting service, as well as a most flexible form of power supply.

The growth in mileage, number of consumers and power taken has been phenomenal in the last ten years, as shown by the fact that in 1920 the Commission had about 305 miles of rural line with 2,880 consumers taking a load of approximately 300 horsepower, and in 1930 this had grown to 7,135 miles with 46,715 consumers taking over 26,000 horsepower.

The amount invested by the Commission in rural lines now amounts to $15,731,836, approximately half of which amount is bonused by the Provincial Government.

the rate of growth at the present time is about 1000 miles of rural line per year.

The Commission on all occasions welcomes the opportunity of explaining rates and conditions of service to the rural consumer and recognizes that the plowing match of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, which is now being held on the outskirts of your City is probably the best opportunity of getting in touch with the farmer and demonstrating the use of electrical power on the farm. Full information on all conditions of service will be available, therefore, at our Demonstration Tent during the progress of the Plowing Match.

The Peterborough Rural Power District is singularly fortunate in having as low rates as any district in the Province, by reason of the large suburban district which is included in the district and consequently any farmer living in the vicinity of Peterborough has an enviable opportunity of using electric power at exceedingly low rates.

PURE WATER SUPPLY FOR PLOWING MATCH

Filtered Water Carried More Than a Mile From Source.

4,000 GALLONS DAILY

Supplying water to two hundred horses, a fleet of roaring tractors and to thousands of human beings at the great International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration to be held outside Peterborough next week is no easy task. Nor is it a simple matter to provide electricity for the six-acre tented city that sprang up over night.

But these two problems have been met and solved in thorough fashion by two of the many committees that have been busily engaged for many months past attending to the many details of the gigantic affair. Filtered water, enough to supply every need, and electricity for all departments of the match and demonstration at which it will be required, is provided without a hitch.

Pipe Water One Mile

The water is secured from a creek more than a mile away from the scene of the match. The rivulet constitutes the upper waters of the Jackson Park creek which eventually winds down through this city to the river.

As the water is taken out of the creek it is filtered with gravel and charcoal and chlorinated under the direction of the Provincial Department of Health. Through a two-inch pipe line that is loaned and constructed free of charge by the Warren Bituminous Paving Company of Toronto, it is forced to the grounds. The pump required in this was installed and operated free of charge by the Lester Manufacturing Company.

A regular water system of pipes has been laid about the tented city to the many points where water is required. A special booster pump takes the water from the pipe line and forces it into this system at a pressure equal to that in the city taps—between 60 and 80 pounds per square inch.

4000 Gallons Daily

It is estimated that 4,000 gallons of water each day will be needed for the horses and the tractors as well as for drinking and for the use of the tent restaurants.

The Utilities Commission looks after the electrical requirements of the plowing match. Its task is to illuminate the streets and alleyways of the miniature city. Poles and strings of lights will be utilized for the purpose. The six more important streets are known as Industrial avenue, Concession street, Centre street, West Main street, East Main street and Front street.

Power machinery requires a heavy supply of electricity. In the Hydro-Electric Commission's exhibit no little power will be needed for the complete display of modern electrical devices of the country and city home that it will contain.

ECONOMIC SYSTEM FALLING

BLOEMFONTEIN, Union of South Africa, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The economic system of the past is collapsing, Premier Hertzog told the Nationalist Party Congress today and there can be no basis of reconstruction without revision of the Versailles Treaty.

The government of South Africa, he said, is determined to retain the gold standard until it is driven off. "The British pound is not good money," he declared, "while the Union pound is good."

Dread Eye Disease Hits Indian Reserve

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 14—(CP)—Reports of an outbreak of Trachoma, dread eye disease, were received here today from the Morley Indian Reserve, 50 miles west of Calgary. More than 100 Indians, resident at the reserve, were reported to have been afflicted in the past few days.

The reserve has a population of about 600, and was the jumping off point in the gold rush which developed a week ago in the Big Timber Creek area, 65 miles northwest of the reserve. The disease cause blindness, and unconfirmed reports said several of those afflicted were already blind.

ENJOYS PAYING NANKING VISIT

British and U. S. Ministers Will Discuss Manchurian Case With Chinese.

ARRIVAL ALLAYS PANIC.

NANKING, China, Oct. 14 (A.P.)—The arrival here to-day of the United States Minister to China, Nelson T. Johnson, and the expected arrival later of Sir Miles Wedderburn Lampson, the British Minister, for a series of conferences with Chinese Government officials had a salutary effect upon the Capital.

The coming of the Anglo-United States envoys largely dispelled fears of Japanese naval action and tended to allay panic which recently caused about 10,000 inhabitants to flee the city.

Mr. Johnson, accompanied by his bride, arrived here by train from Peiping. Sir Miles was expected by airplane.

Mr. Johnson said he was ordered to Nanking from Peiping, the old Capital, by Washington, owing to the critical Sino-Japanese situation. His visit here will be for an indefinite period, he said, depending upon deevlopments in the Manchurian difficulty.

The program of conferences between Sir Miles, Mr. Johnson, and Chinese authorities has not been announced.

The Royal Aero Club of England, exclusively a men's club, is to admit women as guests only, and may give them full membership later.

McLaughlin Pair Win First Place In Doubles

LINDSAY TEAM RANKS SECOND IN TOURNAMENT

Sixteen Couples Take Part in Inter-County Horseshoe Doubles.

CLOSE FINISHES.

Bridgenorth Tossers Make Good Showing in the Preliminary Round.

Sixteen teams entered the Inter-County Horseshoe Doubles tournament at the Plowing Match yesterday afternoon, and dusk had fallen before the final winners were declared. Representatives from all over the district participated, including teams from the counties Durham, Victoria and Peterborough and first money went to the McLaughlin pair from Burketon.

Sixteen courts were fenced off to keep the large gallery of spectators back, each court being the regulation type, and with every one occupied by boys and men in shirtsleeves, it was a picturesque sight. Eight teams made up two sections of the draw, and the three top ones of each division battled it out in the finals. With so many experts present, these final matches were close and exciting in the twilight. Only one point stood between the winners and the second team composed of W. H. Holmes and B. Courtney of Lindsay. Third place went to F. McKay and L. McKay of Reaboro while E Ray and G. Ray, father and son from Lindsay, took fourth money. Four prizes were given, twenty dollars first, fifteen dollars second, two sets of shoes third and five dollars fourth.

Father and Son

Among the teams in the tourney were several father-and-son pairs, and much interest centred on the remarkable showing of little twelve-year-old Roy McLaughlin who shared equally in the hard fight for first place. He threw with confidence and precision that spoke of years of practise, and one after another grizzled veterans of the "barnyard golf" game were eliminated by the boy.

In the preliminary round, the three top team of Section 1 were: T. Drum and Wallace Nichols of Bridgenorth, who won all seven games for a total of 350 points; F. McKay and L. McKay, of Reaboro, with six games and 335 points; and W. H. Holmes and B. Courtney, of Lindsay, who took four games with 324 points. Frank Bedore and H. Clements of Norwood were next with four games and 289 points; B. Smith and J. Smith of Burketon were fifth with three games and 283 points. D. A. Allen and N. S. Osborne of Lakefield followed with one game and 274 points. W. McLaughlin and E. F. Swaine of Fraserville had two games and 256 points, and F. Doughty and J. Crowe of Peterborough took one game and 205 points.

In Section 2, the three winners were: E. Ray and G. Ray of Lindsay who made a clean sweep of their seven games to get 350; the McLaughlin team of Burketon were just one point behind; and W. Fairbairn and W. Osborne of Peterborough, who took five games for a total of 285. Fourth was B. Burrett and J. Cole of Bridgenorth with four games and 303 points, followed by C. Holmes of Lindsay and H. Fowler of Fowler's Corner who won three games and 225 points. S. F. Cullen and E. K. Kimble of Bobcaygeon took two games and 221 points, D. Hickson and F. Tooney of Ennismore had one game for 289 points, and R. Darling and E. Carl of Fraserville finished with no wins and 157 points.

Close Finish

In the final draw between the six leaders, the games were cut down to twenty points because of approaching darkness, and the games were nip-and-tuck to the finish The McLaughlins, Russel and twelve-year-old Roy, emerged victorious by just one point, pitching a fine 99-point match with four wins. The Holmes-Courtney pair were just out of first place, having four wins and 98 points. The McKay combination finished third with thre games and 80 points, and the Ray team with two wins and 78 points, was fourth. The last two teams, Drum and Nichols, with one game and 64 points, and Fairbairn and Osborne with one game and 55 points, were out of the money. Tournaments to-day, Thursday and Friday are expected to draw even larger entry lists.

THE "RODDEN-SHAG" OF THE WEST

The East may have her Mike Rodden's and her Frank Shaughnessy's and sundry other football coaches of more or less merit, but in the West there is only one Al Ritchie. Not even the great Michael or the forward-passing Shag, can boast the record that Al keeps pinned up over the fireplace. For the past five years, no team in the whole province of Saskatchewan has been successful in roping the roughriding broncos from the prairie city of Regina. And the Rough Riders have been champions of Western Canada more times than Winnipeg will tell. (Winnipeg have a great desire to win a western championship again some time). Al's feat in raising champions is something of a miracle, since he has a limited field, and mostly green to draw from, whereas in the East, the boys are coached in rugby from the cradle up. This year, the Riders are stronger than ever, and seem likely to repeat last year's performance—up to the East-West playoff. Once there, who will predict a triumph for the West? "Not I," said the sparrow as he tossed a crumb for a forward pass gain of six inches. "But I'll say this much, the West will have the advantage in the use of F.P.'s (forward passes, not Free) they having used it for a few years back.

NEW PILOT LIKELY FOR TIGER TEAM

Bucky Harris Has Most Disappointing Season With Border City Team.

PITTSBURG JOB OPEN.

Big League Followers Look for More Changes in Managerial Berths.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 14.—The opening season on major league managers already has netted two victims and the baseball world will be mildly astonished if one or two more do not fall before the accurate fire of sharp-shooting magnates.

Donie Bush, a fiery veteran, has been cut loose from the Chicago White Sox and succeeded by Lew Fonseca, an active play still in his early thirties. The Pittsburgh Pirates, after casting Jewel Ens adrift, are looking for a new pilot.

Dopesters, after a careful survey of the situation, look for the next managerial shifts to come from Detroit and possibly Brooklyn. And there seem to be sound grounds for the suspicion that a change may be made in one camp or the other, if not in both.

Disappointing Season

Stanley (Bucky) Harris, who piloted the Washington Senators to American League pennants in 1924 and 1925, has just finished his most disappointing season with the Detroit Tigers. Starting out the season with bright prospects, the Tigers, crippled for month by injuries to Charlie Gehringer and Dale Alexander, finished the season in seventh place, trailed only by the White Sox.

Club owners, in the main, ask for results, and if they don't get them with one manager, they try another. No definite word has come from Detroit in regard to Harris' present status, but it is understood here that Frank Navin, the owner, has notified Coaches Jean Dubuc and Roger Bresnahan they will not be retained in 1932. Some experts professed to see in this a direct hit that Harris also will go.

More Involved.

The Brooklyn situation is a bit more involved. Baseball writers have been hiring a new manager for the Robins for years but, Wilbert Robinson always turns up at the helm when the season starts. He has held his job for some time despite the internal dissension that puts him and Steve McKeever on opposite sides of the fence and he may do it again.

With an opening at Pittsburg and possible job at Detroit or Brooklyn, considerable interest was aroused by announcement of the resignation, apparently without cause, of Nick Williams, who has just plotted the San Francisco Seals into a Pacific Coast League pennant. Williams, in his ten years with the Seals as coach and manager, has made reputation as developer of young players. He may land in the big leagues.

The job at Pittsburgh is understood to be waiting, however, for George Gibson, a former pilot of the Pirates.

Almost simultaneously with Williams' resignation, came the news that Allan Sothoron, former big league pitcher, had quit as manager at Louisville. Later in the day, however, Sothoron signed as coach with the St. Louis Browns where Bill Killefer is manager.

THEBAUD READY FOR SEA FIGHT

Will Meet Bluenose for North Atlantic Fishing Fleet Supremacy.

BEN PINE AT HELM.

(By Tom Horgan)

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 14 (C.P.)—The United States had come to Canada to-day to settle, or more probably, to continue, the question of sailing supremacy of the North Atlantic fishing fleets.

The challenger, the schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, had tied up after what was regarded as a record 31-hour passage from her home port, Gloucester, Mass. The schooner Bluenose, Captain Angus Walters' veteran salt Banker and the present titleholder, was en route from Lunenburg to the scene of the duel which will open off this port next Saturday.

Captain John Matheson, slim, soft-spoken and youthful looking for his years, who never sought his bunk during the 31 hours of driving over the 400-mile ocean waste, was taking his rest. Captain Matheson will serve as mate aboard the Gloucesterman in the approaching contest for the International Fishermen's Trophy, under Captain Ben Pine, her regular skipper.

Sinus trouble caused Captain Pine to travel by train instead of aboard his charge, and he was also here to-day.

President Ernest Savard announced following yesterday's meeting that the local ball club would be affiliated with a major league club next year. Negotiations were being carried on with two big league c[illegible] he said.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

In opening the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto on Friday, August 28, Earl Jellicoe said: "Over a period of 52 years, the population of Canada has increased by 6,000,000; the revenue of the Government from $22,000,000 to $460,000,000 and the value of her trade from $169,000,000 to $2,400,000,000. In the same time, her manufactures have increased ten-fold and her crop acreage three-fold. This remarkable record encourages a feeling of optimism for the future."

Earl Jellicoe also made the following reference: "Canada's record growth constitutes an achievement of world importance and stands as a challenge to future progress. This phenomenal growth is the direct result of that splendid courage and determination which the people of Canada showed so strikingly from 1914-1918".

The record for public favour which is held by Turret Cigarettes is the natural outcome of quality consistently maintained throughout the years. After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred".

BOWLERS HOLDING SUPPER TO-NIGHT

Annual Dinner and Entertainment Will Be Held in Club House.

The big night of the year for Peterborough's lawn bowlers will be to-night when the annual club supper and entertainment will be held in the Club House starting at 7 p.m. It is one of the occasions to which all the members look forward because everything is free and easy, the events of the season are fresh in the members' minds and suggestions are invited from all sides as to how the game and the club's activities can be improved.

The ladies of the club are looking after the catering which means that that important feature will be high class. In addition there will be the presentation of prizes won in the past season's tournaments, short addresses by the different committee chairmen, free and open discussions of any points brought forward by members, and all this will be interspersed with vocal and instrumental music that will help to ensure an enjoyable evening.

In a number of respects, to-night's open meeting is an excellent preparation for the annual shareholders' meeting which will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Club House. The discussions at to-night's open meeting are expected to show the desires of the members and will be fresh in the minds of the shareholders when they meet on Monday. The shareholders' meeting on Monday will wind up the 1931 lawn bowling season and lay the foundations for the season of 1932.

BAILEY MAY HOLD CENTRE ICE POSITION

Addition of Ottawa Players Provides Extra Forward Line for Leafs.

KID LINE CHANGED.

Finnigan-Bailey-Cotton Combination Would Give Needed Strength to Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—With the vast new Maple Leaf Gardens nearing completion, pro hockey fans are taking keen interest in the structure and also in the team that will wear Toronto Leaf colors this coming season. The squad that Conny Smythe and Art Duncan guided so smartly last year has been strengthened by the addition of Harold Darragh, "Sid" Howe and Frankie Finnigan, three star performers from Ottawa, home of hockey.

In view of the fact that Darragh and Finnigan shoot from the right boards, and that Charlie Connacher and "Ace" Bailey are still available to patrol that lane, the club seems over-stocked with right wingers, but the management is considering this situation, and it will occasion no surprise if Bailey is moved over to centre ice to be flanked by Finnigan and Harold Cotton. This trio would make them all step to town with a vengeance.

A Strong Combination.

Bailey starred at centre with St. Mary's juniors, and he can skate, check and shoot with the best of them. Working with two such experienced and capable players as Finnigan and Cotton he would likely shine as of yore. At any rate the experiment is well worth trying.

The Primeau-Conacher - Jackson front line will not be changed, and the other might be composed of Howe at centre, Darragh at right wing, and Bob Gracie at left. Then, too, there is Andy Blair to be considered. The Winnipeg centre man didn't live up to expectations during the last two seasons, but it has not been forgotten that he was a standout player the year he joined the Leafs. Being young he has every chance to make a strong "comeback."

For goal, the locals will have Lorne Chabot and Benny Grant, while "King" Clancy, "Happy" Day, "Red" Horner and Alex. Levinsky will look after the defense work. All-in-all prospects are bright that the Leafs will be powerful contenders for the championship, and none other than Leo Dandurand of the Montreal Canadiens concurs in this statement.

The Leafs report here for training next Monday and depart for St. Catharines. They will hold ice practice later in the week at Niagara Falls.

And the All Saints' Club meets at eight this Friday in their rooms to discuss running, boxing and hockey.

We were surprised at the number of people interested in the Horseshoe tourney out at the Plowing Match yesterday. There was a flock of entries from all over and plenty of spectators throughout the afternoon. All the prizes went to entries from Victoria County, but they had to battle for every point.

• • • • • • •

It's a pleasure to watch experts dropping ringer after ringer on the stake, and not all the pitchers were old-timers either. Why early in the tournament nearly half those tossing the shoes were young fellows from about twelve to twenty. Little Roy McLaughlin of Burketon held the limelight with his great tossing, and he sailed right through to finish on the winning team.

• • • • • • •

The sixteen courts were well laid out, and the fences kept onlookers back far enough so as not to interfere. And the games were certainly handled okay. Kiwanians acting as judges and score keepers and sort of keeping the machinery running smoothly. They deserve credit for the fine layout.

• • • • • • •

Every afternoon for the remainder of the Plowing Match, there'll be more horseshoe pitching, singles and doubles, with the ladies' open singles being held Friday afternoon at two bells. Cash prizes and classy medals go to the victors in the different matches.

• • • • • • •

Now that Galt is the senior O.B.A.A. championship team again this year, other division winners may be summed up. In the bantam section, Toronto St. Andrew's went through. Another Queen City team, Elizabeths, won the juvenile title. Sudbury Juniors won out in that division, Brantford Red Legs topped the Intermediate "A" class and Rodney won in the Intermediate "B" division.

• • • • • • •

Of these six sections of the O.B.A.A., this town was represented by five teams in the playdowns, and for a change, none of our outfits went very far. However, somebody else has to win once in a while, and next year we'll likely take a couple of provincial titles again just to keep up the good work of other years.

• • • • • • •

Incidentally, the Galt senior team may get a trip to Los Angeles next year to participate in the international baseball matches at the Olympics. It's not known definitely yet, but if the Olympic games are run off next year, and is suitable arrangements can be made with the American Amateur Baseball Federation, which is staging this tournament, then the Ontario champs will go a-Hollywooding.

• • • • • • •

Several teams of runners are working out regularly two or three evenings a week, among them a junior outfit. Apparently there will be both junior and senior relay races on Remembrance Day. The Y.M.C.A. has agreed to put up prizes for both classes if four teams for each division enters. Those wanting to enter should get in touch with Doug Loomis soon.

• • • • • • •

The two runs are to be ten miles for senior teams, and six miles for juniors, four men to a team with each runner travelling a quarter of the distance, that is two and a half miles for each senior and one and a half miles for each of the younger racers.

CUNDELL'S NOBE STAR WINS FAMOUS CESA REWITCH STAKES

Clayton's Six wheeler and Brown's Son of Mint Second and Third Respectively.

OVER FIELD OF 26.

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 14.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Carrying the top weight of 124 pounds over the gruelling distance of two and a quarter miles, F. H. Cundell's good four-year-old Noble Star won the 92nd running of the famous Cesarewitch Stakes this afternoon.

H. F. Claytons Sixwheeler, carrying 107 pounds, was second and Jesse Brown's Son of Mint, carrying 108 pounds was third.

Twenty-six long-distance racers started.

Noble Star started at odds of 100 to 6 against; Sixwheeler at 100 to 1, and Son of Mint 100 to 7.

The winner finished a length and a half ahead of Sixwheeler, with the latter the same safe distance in front of Son of Mint.

The race was worth approximately $10,000.

The winner is a bay colt by Hapsburg out of Jester. Sixwheeler is a six-year-old by Metrameter out of Velencie Bay, and Son of Mint is a four-year-old by Son-in-Law out of Lamb Mint.

Jockey Fred Fox, who won the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby on Cameronian, piloted Noble Star to the triumph. Baines had the mount on Sixwheeler, and Cliff Richards rode Son of Mint.

THE LEAF'S 1950 KID FORWARD LINE.

The Toronto Maple Leaf Hockey team of former years has always been noted for its famous "kid forward line." There was Charlie Conacher, Harvey Jackson and Joe Primeau. Being a far sighted individual the last named member of the trio bethought himself of the future he and his pals would be known as veterans and hasbeens. So, out of the goodness of his heart, he has offered to Conny Smythe, the services of his three bouncing baby boys (we're not sure about the bouncing) as the Leaf's kid forward line of 1950. (We might mention incidentally, that the offer was made as a sort of celebration when the third boy was born to the Primeau family the other day. It is rumored that the first thing the youngest member wanted was a hockey stick. (Don't they say something like that about all babies?) At any rate, despite the trials and tribulations of a family, papa Joe is in good shape for the coming season. (He is taking a lot of exercise late in the night by taking the children for a walk). Conny thinks rather highly of Joe he signed him up the other day on a two year contract at an increase in salary.

Heavy Training Program Carded for Balance of Week By Rugby Coaches.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 14. (CP)—A heavy training program is carded for this evening when members of the various senior rugby teams will undergo their first real practise of the week in preparation for Saturday's games. Light signal drills were the most vigorous exercises in which the majority of teams participated last night.

At Varsity stadium, the college grid men worked most of yesterday afternoon and Coach Harry Hobbs has ordered all players to be out to practice at both ends of the day, going into action at 7 o'clock this morning and renewing practice late this afternoon. A similar schedule has been set down for to-morrow and Coach Hobbs hopes to have all his athletes in the peak of condition for Saturday's encounter with McGill in Montreal.

The Orphans, well enthused with their 2 to 1 victory over the dominion and city champions, Balmy Beach, on Monday, are more than pleased with the way their squad worked during the game. No injuries have been reported and the players have an extensive training program to undergo before Saturday's game with Kitchener. This fixture will be played as a preliminary to the Argo-Montreal A.A.A. inter-provincial tilt.

Argo Absentees

Despite the fact they lost to the Big Four Tigers on Saturday, Coach Buck McKenna had an exceptionally large turnout last evening and hopes to have his team in excellent shape for the Winged Wheelers game. Only two players were out with injury. Moe Charney, reliable tackling secondary defenceman and outside Bernie Gilmoure are both expected to be absentees from practices during the week. The latter may get into Saturday's game but Charney is expected to be absent for more than a week. Some talk of "Bub" Britton, former star of Queen's University squad joining the Scullers was denied last night although the burly flying wing attended the practice.

Balmy Beach did not hold a tackling practice last evening. With several of their players absent from the drill with bruises received in the holiday game with Varsity "Orphuns" Coach Ponton sent his men through a light signal practice. A heavier drill has been called for this evening and a more complete turnout is expected.

High Hopes for Mustangs

Hopes of gaining the inter-collegiate leadership for the first time since their entry in the union three years ago prevailed throughou the University of Western Ontario camp last night when Coach Joe Breen sent the Mustanges through a light workout in preparation for the game with Queen's Saturday. Fresh from their surprise victory over McGill last week the London squad will hold a heavy drill to-night while a similar practice has been called for to-morrow.

Following the holiday off night Coach Billy Hughes sent his Hamilton Tigers through only a light signal drill last evening and has called a heavier workout for to-night. The Tigers are not making any mistake in under estimating Ottawa Senators. They will, however, hold only light drills throughout the week, so as the players will slowly round into shape for a coming engagement with Montreal Winged Wheelers scheduled for a week from Saturday.

GOB PLANNING ON LONG REST

Sharkey to Seek Another Try at Schmeling's Title Next Summer.

SPOILS JOHNSON'S PLANS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 14 (CP)—Jimmy Johnston, who will become Vice President and General Manager of Madison Square Garden tomorrow, has laid plans for a series of top-flight heavyweight bouts this winter, but he may have to get along without the services of Jack Sharkey.

There were strong indication that Sharkey and his handlers were preparing to go into partial retirement until next summer, on the theory that the Boston Sailor's exciting victory over huge Primo Carnera entitles Sharkey to a "shot" at Max Schmeling's title next summer.

Johnston's plans for the next few months included a return match, indoors, between Sharkey and Carnera and another return battle between Sharkey and Tommy Loughran.

But now it develops that Sharkey's famous left thumb, cause of a 12-day postponement of the Carnera match, was hurt again on Monday night and that Sharkey will not be able to fight for an indefinite period.

If Jack persists in his winter hibernation plans, Johnston will have to look elsewhere for his talent. It was understood that Ernie Schaaf, clouting Bostonian, who is owned jointly by Sharkey and Sharkey's manager, Johnny Buckley, was prepared to step in and substitute for the sailor. Schaaf, who has compiled a phenomenal string of victories in recent months, announces he is ready for any of the heavyweights, barring Sharkey of course.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

WHAT A COAT IS GOOD FOR.

For each some certain things are best
And thus by Nature have been blest.
—Billy Surefoot.

Kid Surefoot, whose father was Billy Surefoot the Mountain Goat, and whose mother was Nanny Surefoot, was lying down with his parents on the top of the Great World. That is the way it seemed to him anyway. And in truth it wasn't far from being a fact for they were on the snow cap of a great mountain. Never before had he been so high. There was only snow, with here and there a great rock in the shelter of one of which they were then lying, the sky above, and the wind. He wondered if the wind was never still. And there was peace there, a wonderful peace that banished all fear.

It had been a dreadful day. The Kid felt, oh, so much older than he had felt that morning. He had for the first time known great fear, for he had been shot at by a hunter with a terrible gun, and so had his father and mother. So he had learned that the two-legged creature called Man was to be feared even when a long way off and the lesson would never be forgotten. Always now he would fear Man and fearing him would hate him.

"Are you sure we are safe here?" he asked timidly.

"Quite sure," replied Billy Surefoot gravely. "No man can follow us here, nor any other enemy. Even if Man could get here our coats would protect us."

"Why didn't they protect us down below?" asked the Kid with sudden interest.

"Because," replied Billy, "there was no snow down there."

The Kid thought this over for a few minutes and was puzzled. What had snow to do with his coat? While he was thinking about it his mother got up and moved off a little way. He paid no attention to her. He didn't even notice which way she went.

"Where is your mother?" Billy asked suddenly.

The Kid looked all about. He couldn't see her anywhere. "I don't know," he confessed. "She must be behind a rock."

"Wrong," replied Billy. "She is right in plain sight, but you don't see her because her coat is white and the snow on which she is lying is white. See those two little black marks out there? Those are her horns."

The Kid looked closely and presently made out the form of his mother. His father was still grave, for he always is, but in his eyes was a faint twinkle. "Now," said he, "you have learned how your coat can protect you from more than cold up here, but not down there where there is no snow. There it is a source of danger instead of a protection, for against the background of the rocks it can be seen from a long distance. That is one reason we seldom go far below the snow line unless we have to go to get enough to eat. An enemy might pass very near you here and not see you unless you should move. Then he would be almost certain to see you."

"I thought a coat was just to keep me warm," said Kid Surefoot.

"That is one thing it is for and we Mountain Goats have wonderfully warm coats," replied his father. "We never have to fear the weather. But your coat is also to keep you from the eyes of enemies, so always remember that you are safest when there is snow all about you, and in times of danger try to get to it."

"I'll remember," promised the Kid, and he would, for fear is a great aid to memory and he had had a terrible fright that day.

"There is only one trouble with the snow," continued Billy, "and that is that where there is snow there is no food. So we have to go down below the snow to get food. However, it is quite safe to do this early in the morning and just before dark so long as we use our eyes and never forget to keep watch. What any one wants to live way down below among the trees for I cannot understand."

"No more can I," said Nanny, who had joined them just in time to hear this remark.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 14th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:45 a.m. to 9:50 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 8:50 p.m. The danger hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:50 p.m., and from 3:20 p.m. to 5:50 p.m.

October 14th, so the stars foretell, will be pregnant with opportunity. Those who have the nous to grasp it will reap a rich reward, although it may involve drastic changes. In social life, the omens point to success, and Romance will make its appearance, and happy engagements will result. In domestic circles, there will be freedom from worry and anxiety.

A natural tendency to rely on others, rather than on their own efforts, will be noticed in children born on this October 14th. They will need outside help at school, in business, and in the home. Their own judgment will be "wobbly." They will lack self-confidence. As a compensation, their natures will be sweet and their dispositions most kindly.

If born on October 14th, you are quick, original and emotional. No matter the complexity of the problem, you, in your mind, solve it immediately, and herein lies your danger. Your diagnoses are often based on insufficient data and your remedies, at times, aggravate—rather than ameliorate—conditions. You are not a lover of routine or a respecter of conventional usage. You are always ready to scrap old methods—no matter how good they may be—for new systems. You are extremely sensitive, as well as jealous. You show your emotions—largely evanescent—too clearly and too frequently.

Extreme in all things, you become impatient with those who do not immediately subscribe to your tenets and beliefs. You are never willing to admit that there is to any question any side other than your own. Rather a poor judge of "humans," you are easily beguiled by attention or flattery. Losses are indicated by this trustfulness in those who do not merit it.

Your horoscope indicates some grave disappointments in early years, and permanent success is only foretold for later years, when experience has made you realize that "to err is human," and that you are not the only soldier in the regiment that marches in step.

Presbyterian W.M.S. Meeting At Warsaw

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, October 14. — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tedford opened their house on Monday evening to the Presbyterian W.M.S. to hold a social, which was largely attended.

Dr. Munro was chairman, and spoke briefly of the work of women in the church from early times. An interesting program was provided. A "Sting" contest for words ending in 'sting' provided much mirth. A musical and cat contest contributed to the entertainment. Miss Jean Munro played for the musical contest. Miss Milo Payne a piano selection. Miss Burgess and Miss Dorcas Lloyd each gave a short recitation. Mrs. Munro and Mrs. F. David sang "Whispering Hope." Dr. Munro, Tom Davis, accompanied by Miss Jean Munro, gave a violin duet. There was a 5c sale of home made candy, and a few minutes speeches by the winners of the cat contest.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the W.M.S. with the young girls waiting.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Tedford for their hospitality.

When You CAN'T QUIT

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Aspirin tablets when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, they will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Aspirin is harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Aspirin tablets are ready with quick relief—and always work. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Tablets Aspirin Genuine

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

ROSENEATH FAIR OCTOBER 15-16

New Entry Record is Assured for Last Fall Fair of Season

MANY IMPROVEMENTS.

The thousands of visitors who will throng the Roseneath fair grounds on Thursday and Friday of this week for the big fair will observe many improvements to the grounds. The race track has been enlarged and made wider and the south side has been partly fenced assuring the best racing card seen at Roseneath for many years.

Other improvements include the repainting of the poultry shed, erection of a new secretary's office and check room and enlargement of the parking area for motor cars.

Exhibitors will find extensive space to display their exhibits. The baby show promises to be a feature this year, and the committee has saved no effort to make mothers and visitors to the show comfortable.

Secretary C. W. Varcoe has received many entries already and the prize lists containing all information for exhibitors is being distributed. A new entry record is almost assured.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECREASES

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(AP).—Unemployment in Great Britain for the week of October 5 decreased by 33,252 from the previous week. The total was 2,791,520, which was 615,329 more than at the same time a year ago.

The popular explanation of the decrease is a revival of British industry because of abandonment of the gold standard.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR MRS. W. LUNDY

Rev. J. D. Paterson Makes Presentation at Meeting of All Saints' Guild.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. of All Saint's Church was held in the Guild Room yesterday afternoon with a very large attendance. After the regular routine business had been conducted Mrs. J. M. McCulloch gave a splendid introductory paper on the study book for the year on India, entitled, "Out of Bondage."

A very interesting event then took place when Rev. J. D. Paterson presented Mrs. W. Lundy with a life membership of the W.A. on behalf of members of her family and the W.A. of All Saint's Church. Mrs. P. H. Hooper presented the pin and Mrs. S. Harris the life membership certificate.

Before dispersing a social hour was enjoyed when the members wished Mrs. Lundy many years of happiness and continued service in the W.A. Dainty refreshments were served by the social committee under the convenorship of Mrs. J. Bunett.

David Howat Gives Address On Music

The Y.P.A. of George Street United Church met last evening in the Sunday School Auditorium with a good attendance. The program was in charge of Miss Ruth Millyard and her committee, and opened by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever," and "I Need Thee Every Hour."

The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Freda Allison, followed by prayer by Elmer Trethewey.

The subject for the evening was "Learning to Appreciate Music," and David Howat gave a very interesting talk dealing generally with the subject of how to learn to appreciate music. Mrs. Howat gave a talk on the life of Greig, concluding by singing one of his compositions entitled "To Spring," a delightful Norwegian strain.

Games and relays in charge of Miss Birdie Pickering were thoroughly enjoyed, and the meeting closed by singing "God Save the King."

NATIONAL GOV'T EXPECTS LEAD OF 20 ACCLAMTTIONS ON FRIDAY

Twenty-one Laborites Among Over Sixty Predicted to be Acclaimed.

ONE LOSE LIBERAL.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Oct. 14. (C.P. Cable) —The National Government expects to get off to a flying start in the coming general elections. Indications are that between 60 and 70 members will have been returned by acclamation after nominations on Friday. The Government expects to have a majority of between 20 and 30 when these are all in.

Three members have been elected already. The Scottish Universities, entitled to three seats in the new House, have already returned three supporters of the Government—two Conservatives and one Liberal.

On nomination day, according to present calculations, the acclamations should include 41 Conservatives, three National-Liberals, 21 Labor candidates and one Liberal.

Results Divided

Ten expected acclamations in English boroughs are evenly divided between Conservative and Labor. But in the English counties, whose constituencies are largely rural, indications point to 27 Conservative acclamations against six Labor. In the Welsh counties Labor has seven candidates unopposed so far; the Conservatives none.

These calculations will stand in the main, although unexpected candidates may of course appear on the ever of nominations.

Among the Conservatives likely to be elected by acclamation is Col. Hamilton Gault, educated in Canada although a native of England. Col. Gault raised and equipped the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry for active service in the Great war and was wounded three times while serving in France, receiving the Distinguished Service Order. He still retains directorships in a number of Canadian companies, including Gault Brothers Company, and Montreal Cottons Limited.

Col. Gault's constituency is Taunton, Somerset, which he won for the Conservatives from the Liberals in 1924. In the last general elections he was re-elected with a vote of 15,083 compared to 11,121 for Rea, Liberal, and 6,615 for Sparks, Labor.

On election day, October 27, some of the polls close at 8 p.m. and others at 9 p.m.—or 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. eastern standard time. It is expected the results in 200 seats will be available the same evening, but the bulk of declarations will not be made until the morning after polling.

Bale Is Prepared St. George's W.A.

The packing of the bale, contain- an outfit for a girl in an Indian school, was the important part of the meeting of St. George's Woman's Auxiliary on Tuesday afternoon in the church basement. There was a good attendance of members and friends for the opening devotions, conducted by the president, Mrs. E. Tucker. The scripture portion was read by the vice-president, Mrs. J. Huxley, and Mrs. A. Sim, secretary, gave a very interesting report of the recent deanery meeting held at Hastings.

The outfit showed some beautiful work in both knitting and sewing, and has been prepared under the capable direction of the Dorcas secretary, Mrs. J. Dossett. The thanks of the members were accorded Mrs. Dossett and the ladies who had assisted her in the Dorcas work. The Christmas gift included in the bale was donated by the Junior Auxiliary.

An interesting letter was read by the president from her daughter, Miss Grace Tucker, in Japan giving some account of the recent earthquakes felt there.

Following the singing of the W.A. hymn, the rector closed the meeting with prayer. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies with Mrs. W. Stephenson as convenor.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 3 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

After Dr. von Harben explained his son's disappearance, Tarzan announced, "I leave at once!" Taking Nkima, the monkey, with him, he moved silently off into the jungle, his lithe carriage, his noiseless tread, his majestic mien suggesting to the mind of the Doctor a personification of another mighty jungle animal, Numa the lion, king of beasts.

Several days out on the trail, as Tarzan swung swiftly and quietly through the trees, he saw below him some score of natives straggling along through the jungle. A few of them were armed with rifles and all carried packs of various sizes—such packs as Tarzan knew must belong to the equipment of a white man. The Lord of the Jungle hailed them.

The blacks halted, looking up fearfully. "I am Tarzan of the Apes. Do not be afraid," he reassured them, and simultaneously he dropped to the trail among them. "Where is your master?" demanded Tarzan. "He is dead," one of them mumbled. "Where is his body?" "We could not find it." "You are not speaking true words," said Tarzan.

"We were afraid," said a frightened black. "We deserted him upon the slopes of the Wiramwazi." "Go your way back to your own villages," said Tarzan. "If your Bwana is dead, you shall be punished." And, swinging into the lower branches of the trees, Tarzan disappeared from the sight of the unhappy blacks in the direction of the Wiramwazi.

MISS RORKE WILL ADDRESS SOCIETY

Interesting Reports Read at George Street United Church W.M.S. Meeting.

The rally meeting of the W.M.S. of George Street United Church was held in the board room of the Sunday School hall yesterday afternoon with the President Mrs C. Coon in the chair.

The program was in charge of Group G. with Mrs. W. Burns as leader. Mrs. Clemens read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. Sandercock read a devotional leaflet concluding with prayer.

After the secretary and treasurer's reports given by Mrs. W. H. Morton and Mrs. H. Dulmage, Mrs. J. A. Spencer for the Stranger's committee reported 14 calls made and Mrs. J. W. Hales for the sick and visiting committee reported 115 calls made.

Mrs. A. J. Brown convenor of the committee to arrange for a speaker for the W.M.S. Sunday service reported that they had secured Miss Rorke for that occasion. Miss Florence Glenny contributed a delightful solo "May We Rest Within Thy Care" accompanied by Mrs. D. Howat.

It was decided that the November meeting be a nomination meeting and thereby a nominating committee would be relieved of their duties.

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard gave a very practical and helpful talk on the four factors of Christian experience.

The meeting concluded with the singing of a Thanksgiving hymn and prayer by the President.

OSHAWA WINS SHIELD
Oshawa has been awarded the shield for the Dominion-wide "fire waste contest" sponsored by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in recognition of the fact that throughout fire prevention week which concluded on Saturday last Oshawa Fire Department received no fire calls of any description.

Fire Chief George Gimblett, of the Peterborough Fire Department, while not disputing Oshawa's right to the shield, remarked that this city had a similar record during fire prevention week and has in fact been singularly free from fires of a serious nature since last January.

U.S. Aid in Manchurian Case to be Asked

JAPAN OBJECTS TO ANY ACTION BY WASHINGTON

Stimson Explains to Japanese Ambassador U. S. Consul's Stand at Geneva.

ONLY DESIRE IS PEACE.

Japanese Stand Interpreted as Tantamount to Insisting on U.S. Entry Into League.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 15.—(AP).—The League of Nations Council was reported tonight to have decided to ask the United States to participate in a search for means of settling the Sino-Japanese trouble in Manchuria.

The decision was reached by the five principal powers represented on the council despite some objections by the Japanese member on juridical grounds, it was said.

This information was circulated informally at the close of a private session of the five principal members, after which the full council went into private meeting.

Washington's Objective

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—(AP)—The United States Government is making an effort to have Japan withdraw objections to a representative from this country participating in efforts by the League of Nations for peace in Manchuria.

Informed of the Japanese stand, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson today called in Ambassador Debuchi, of Japan, and explained to him the status which Prentiss Gilbert, United States Consul General at Geneva, would have if invited to participate in the League's discussions.

Gilbert's part would be that of an observer to help efforts by the League to invoke the Kellogg-Briand pact for the renunciation of war.

The Secretary of State explained this country's representative at Geneva would not participate in any procedure under the League covenant's instruments to avert war.

The Ambassador is communicating this information to his government.

Japan Objects

GENEVA, Oct. 15.—News from Tokyo that Japan would consider United States participation in the settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute "unfair and irrational" stimulated interest in League circles earlier today.

The Japanese suggestion that the United States should be congratulated if she intends for this incident to be a precedent was interpreted in some quarters as tantamount to insisting on United States entry into the League.

NAVY DRAWS UP REVISED BUDGET

Reduction Made is Not Quite $61,000,000 Figure Set by Hoover.

PLANS NOT DISCLOSED.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 15. —(C.P.).—Meeting President Hoover's demand for greater economy, the Navy to-day completed and transmitted to the White House a revised budget, slashing substantially the appropriations to be requested for the fiscal year 1933.

Secretary Adams let it be known that the reduction made was not quite $51,000,000, the figure understood to represent President Hoover's wishes. He would not, however, discuss the new proposal further. Originally the Navy asked for $401,000,000.

Since the administration is understood to be committed against further cuts in the building program, the reductions are expected to cut right across the existing program for naval activities.

Substantial reductions in personnel, laying up of many fleet vessels and the closing or abandonment of some navy yards have been mentioned as probable means of securing economy.

Naval officials would not disclose the plan pending consideration by the budget bureau.

MARIE, Ont., Oct. 15 (Special).—Ralph Nelson of Carleton has trapped three bears this week, according to information received here yesterday, one weighing 290 pounds, another 200 pounds, and a cub weighing 70 pounds. HUEY P. LONG HOLDING FORT Uses State Police to Keep Opponents From Pressing Claims as Governor.

THIRD CLAIMANT APPEARS.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 15.—With a flourish of arms and the citation of precedents, Huey P. Long held the capitol against the siege of two other claimants to his job of Governor to-day.

Meanwhile, Louisiana's executive became a complicated affair of governors, lieutenant-governors and politics.

Long placed his armed State highway police about the entrances to the State capitol, in the office of Secretary of State and at the executive mansion to prevent Lieutenant-Governor Paul N. Cyr from entering to press his claim to the executive chair.

Cyr, for years a political enemy of Long, charged the Governors recent election to the United States' Senate vacated the State office. "Long is either Governor, or he is Senator," Cyr declared, "but he is not both Senator and Governor."

Tuesday, Cyr voluntarily took the Governor's oath before a deputy clerk at Shreveport, informed Long by letter that he was the Governor now and ordered Long to surrender and "divest yourself of the appearance of chief executive of Louisiana."

Long made public the communication and replied to Cyr "that I have the honor to decline your demands in toto."

As an anti-climax to the Long-Cyr dispute, Walter A. Aldrich, an unemployed resident of Shreveport, unheard of before in politics, took the oath of office of Governor.

Apples shipped from the United States in the last fiscal year filled 12,904,000 boxes and 1,482,000 barrels.

GERMANY ASKED PART OF FRANCE AS PEACE PRICE

Offer Made Two Months Before U. S. Entered Great War.

U.S. AMBASSADOR'S CABLE.

Story Unfolded of Wilson's Efforts to Make Hungary Quit.

WASHINGTON D.C., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Germany's price for peace two months before United States entered the Great War was revealed to-day by the State Department as "a slice of France" and general allied indemnities.

The information was contained in a hitherto unpublished cablegram from Ambassador James W. Gerard on February 4, 1917 to President Wilson. It was part of a 708-page compilation of official correspondence made public by the State Department.

"Even if there is war" it said, "German military caluculated they can starve England before United States can do anything. These people have only one god—force."

"If you decide to make any threat" Gerard advised the President, "threaten war. Germans not afraid of break of diplomatic relations which simply means they can go ahead and do what they please and attack us if they win."

The German Chancellor, he reported had spoken to him of "the great hatred the military and naval people have for United States."

Terms for Peace

The German terms for peace at that time, Gerard informed his chief, were:

"Germany to give up Belgium but retaining so-called guarantees such as railroads, forts, a garrison, ports, commercial control," etc; a slice of France through rectification of frontier; will only give back a small part of Serbia, and Bulgaria can do as she likes with Rumania and everybody must pay indemnities to Germany etc."

Gerard added that "if Bernstorff (the German Ambassador), has given the President any other terms he is fooling him, but do not quote me to Bernstorff."

The untold story of an attempt by President Wilson to induce Austria-Hungary to make peace shortly before the United States entered the war, also was disclosed.

Some slight idea of the extent to which the Association is advertising this district, is gleaned from the fact that no less than $2,613.91 was spent on advertising.

Edison's Condition Remains Unchanged

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 15.—(CP)—There was no change in the condition of Thomas A Edison early today.

He has been sleeping much more than usual, and his slumber has been heavy, prophetic of the coma his physicians say will mark the end His heart, however remains strong, a source of amazement to his doctors.

The inventor's only nourishment since Sunday has been six spoonsful of stewed pears.

Lost Plane Wreckage Hides Aviator's Body

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—Cobequid Bay continues to give up small bits of wreckage from the ill-fated mail plane "New York," which crashed on the morning of October 6, but still hides the body of Rudolph Wogenknecht and the fuselage.

Parts of broken pontoons were picked up by fishermen yesterday and the search is being continued to-day in the hope that the flier's body may be found in the vicinity. Nova Scotia police are co-operating with the North German Lloyd agents and fishermen in the search.

Fritzsimon and Wogenknecht were rushing mail from the North German liner Bremen in mid-ocean to New York, when the plane crashed on Cobequid Bay. The body of Simon was found last Friday, floating off Economy Point.

Young Bride Shoots Self in Heart; Works for 3 Hours After—May Live

CHICAGO, Ills., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Helen Smith, 21-year-old bride is one woman in a hundred thousand.

Although she shot herself in the heart last Tuesday night, she was still living today, and was expected by surgeons at the Edgewater hospital to win her fight for life.

Dr. Charles G. Shannon her physician said that when she fired the shot her heart dilated between beats and the bullet grazed it and lodged in her back. This could not happen again, he added, in a hundred thousand times.

Mrs. Smith shot herself because she feared she would have to undergo a serious surgical operation. For three hours afterward she worked cleaning up her apartment and preparing her husband's evening meal.

Surgeons hope to be able to remove the bullet today.

19 Burmese Sail For London Parley

RANGOON, Burma Oct 15.—(AP).—Nineteen Burmese sailed today for London to take part in a Round Table Conference in November which will decide whether Burma shall be converted into an independent state or an autonomous province within an Indian federation of states.

Mahatma Gandhi and his Indian Nationalists have expressed fears that if Burma is separated from India the British would continue to dominate it and might convert it into a great naval base like Singapore Most of the delegates are understood to favor a Dominion status for their country

Burma has enormously rich resources of minerals petroleum, timber, rubies and sapphires.

A sportsman in Scotland is reported to have shot a salmon with his rifle, after which the bullet ricochetted and brought down a stag on the bank.

Merchants Protest New Dumping Duty

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—The Vancouver Merchants' Exchange yesterday protested the Dominion Government's imposition of a dumping duty upon importations from Great Britain. The meeting resolved the Government of Canada be petitioned to reconsider its position with a view to eliminating the special duty against Great Britain at the earliest possible time consistent with the principle of the protective tariff of Canada and the preferential rates of duty accorded to Great Britain.

PIONEERS FIGHT TO KEEP FARMS

Gov't Ruling States Union Pacific Railway Given 20,000 Acres Too Much.

HOMESTEADERS ARRIVE.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 15.— Pioneer Coloradoans prepared to-day to defend their farms against an influx of homesteaders who, the Federal Government has declared, are entitled to 20,000 acres of the richest soil in the west.

The Government ruling sets forth that the Union Pacific Railway, through one of its subsidiaries, was given 20,000 acres too much under the Land Grant Act of 1857. The land is, therefore, held to be open to settlement.

Although the order was issued in June, it was not made public here until late yesterday, when William R. Eaton and Charles G. Timberlake, representatives in Congress, began a hurried effort to have it rescinded.

More than 200 pioneer families bought the land from the railroad improved and farmed it for more than fifty years.

Anniversary Story Most Premature

The Examiner regrets the premature announcement in Wednesday's issue of the forthcoming fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kemp, 655 George street. In anticipation of this notable event a photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Kemp was obtained in order that it could be sent away for a photo-engraving to be used on the anniversary day. Unfortunately the story was set in type, and was published yesterday through in advertence that must have been embarrassing to Mr. and Mrs. Kemp.

MACKENZIE KING WILL ADDRESS LIBERAL RALLY

Message Rumored to be One of Great Importance to Party.

AT LONDON, TUESDAY.

Whether Opposition Leader Will Deal With Beauharnois Case is Uncertain.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15. (CP)—Breaking the silence which he has preserved since the close of the parliamentary session at the beginning of August, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party will speak at the annual convention of the Ontario Liberal Association in London, next Tuesday evening. The speech will, it is expected, be an important one. Not only will it be the first public address which Mr. King has made since the curtain fell on a strenuous and, at times, bitter session, but it is rumored that the opposition leader will deliver a message of moment to the Liberal party.

The theme, it is understood, will be political organization. This suggests the possibility of reference to campaign fund contributions which bulked large in the Beauharnois power debate last session. Whether or not Mr. King will deal with the contributions made by Beauharnois to the Liberal campaign funds remains to be seen. At any rate it would not be surprising if he touched on the matter in his general discussion of political organization.

The opposition leader dealt at length with the question of campaign fund contributions during the Beauharnois debate in the commons last session. Stating that he knew nothing of campaign fund contributions, he strongly expressed the view that a political leader should not be expected to organize political campaigns.

MUNICIPALITIES ASKED TO BUY POTATOES FOR RELIEF MEASURE

Ontario Marketing Board Hopes by This to Benefit Growers.

MARKET DEMORALIZED.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—In order to help potato growers of Ontario in their effort to obtain better prices, the Ontario Marketing Board has sent a letter to the mayors of all Ontario towns and cities asking that all the municipalities purchase Ontario potatoes and store them away for relief purposes this Winter.

W. B. Somerset, chairman of the board, declared yesterday that while there was no surplus of potatoes for Ontario needs, the present market was demoralized due to general conditions and a panicky feeling among growers.

"At the present time potatoes are being sold at very low prices and if the municipalities were to purchase supplies now, as some of them have already done, it would relieve the market and be of considerable assistance to potato growers throughout the province There is no need this year to import potatoes from other sections into Ontario as we have a particularly fine crop which the growers are grading more rigidly, sending only their best grades to market," he said.

"In urging the municipalities to consider the advantage and economy of buying potatoes at low prices now for relief work this Winter, we are only taking a first step toward urging the public and trade generally to co-operate in using the Ontario crop before importing this year," said Mr Somerset. "In our letter to the mayors of the cities and towns we have urged them to ask their merchants to prefer Ontario potatoes."

In the circular letter the fact is stressed that potatoes may now be purchased at sacrifice prices and that this would be a factor in reducing the cost of relief The demoralized state of the potato market was serious and needed to support of the municipalities and the public generally to bring it back on its feet.

Plowmen Waiting For The Sunshine To Aid Attendance

In the Number of Competitors the Peterboro' Match Has Set Up New Records for Each of the Three Days—Sixty More Than Total of First Day at Stratford.

FINE TEAM OF HORSES OWNED BY FRANK O'CONNOR WORKING IN THE SOD COMPETITIONS TO-DAY

The plowmen are waiting for the sunshine, and only one day remains to redeem the attendance of spectators at the International Match.

In the number of competitors the Peterborough match has set up new records for each of the three days, and their aggregate this morning was some sixty more than the total for the first three days at Stratford last year.

Todays' match was entirely in sod on the farms of Norman Lillico and William Whittington, where 130 plowmen and boys were allotted to the various classes. Last year's figures for the same day were 126, leaving only a small margin in Peterborough's favor. But it was a gain, in spite of disagreeable and discouraging conditions.

Hope For Crowd Friday.

The second morning rain flicked the directors and everybody else on a tender spot that had been irritated by Wednesday needle showers. However, the local committee could do almost everything else but guarantee good weather, and if the sun returns to the landscape on Friday it should bring out a big crowd.

Today's competitions and the number of entries were as follows: Class 1, high cut in sod, open to all, eleven entries; class 7, boys under 18 with jointer plows, former first prize winners in this class not eligible, 21 entries; class seven for Indians only, any type of plow, 13 entries; class 8, open to those who had never won a prize at an International Plowing Match, boys' classes excepted. 50 entries; and 27 entries in two tractor classes; and four entries in two-furrow walking or riding plows, not less than four horses.

In brief, the third day of the match continued the record list of daily entries, establishing new marks for future matches to equal.

Grateful to J. W. Purcell

Directors this morning expressed their appreciation of the invaluable services of J. W. Purcell, an executive of the Hydro-Electric Commission, who has charge of Hydro interests in rural Ontario. He has been indispensable to every match in recent years, it is said his chief contribution being the supervision of the water supply and heating. The pipe lines which carry water a mile and a half to the central headquarters for the match were leaking in places when the match started, and Mr. Purcell immediately had them tightened and the leakage stopped. The water is "boosted" in the Hydro tent by a pump which raises the pressure at the taps to almost the same force as in the city.

Notes of the Match.

A fine team of horses owned by Frank P. O'Connor of Toronto was working in today's match, driven by G. Medd of Woodville. They will be shown in the horse ring Friday afternoon.

In spite of this morning's rain there was a fairly large attendance of spectators at noon. One parking field was filling up with cars.

SHOOT TO KILL POLICE ORDERED

Chicago's Mayor Determined to Halt Frequent Bombing of Theatres.

13 INSIDE TWO MONTHS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15—An order to "shoot to kill" was issued by Police Commissioner James P. Allman to halt theatre bombings.

"The robbers can't keep getting away," he said. "We expect to kill a few of them if they keep this bombing up."

Allman acted in compliance with Mayor Anton J. Cermak's insistence that "drastic measures" be taken at once.

Thirteen theatres have been bombed over a period of two months during which a labor controversy has been raging between the Motion Picture Operators' Union and the hundred theatre owners who are members of the Allied Independent Motion Picture Theatres Association.

Postal savings in Japan increased $18,000,000 in July.

Old Plowing Trophy Shown In City Store

Memories of a plowing match 53 years ago are recalled by the trophy which is shown this week in the window of Victor Tully's jewelry store. It was presented to John Henderson at the Peterborough County plowing match, held on October 22, 1878, on W. B. Stewart's farm, River road, Otonabee township. With it was given a cash prize of $15. The trophy was made by the Makers of 1847 Roger Bros., "World's Finest Silver Plate."

Mr. James Henderson, who is employed by the Peterborough Utilities Commission is a brother of the winner of the prize. He was also present at the match.

Mayor Urges Citizens To Attend Exhibition

Mayor Denne to-day appealed to the citizens of Peterborough to support the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition. "The receipts from the Fair go to a worthy cause in supplying fresh air, supervision and healthy food for the undernourished children during the summer at Jackson Park," he said. "Every citizen who is able should attend the Fair and thus aid in some measure in this work. The members of the Kiwanis Club have worked in preparing their show and they have many things worth seeing at the Armouries. The program given nightly should prove real entertainment to everyone."

EDISON IN DEATH COMA.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 15 —(C.P.).—Thomas A. Edison to-day was on the threshold of the coma from which his physician does not expect he will ever awake.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, the aged inventor's personal physician, said that the "deep stupor" into which Edison has now lapsed is closer to a coma than he has been at any time in the past few days, and that Edison's pulse is showing definite signs of weakening under the strain.

REPORTS SCARCE.

GUAYAQUIL, Equador, Oct. 14 (A.P.)—Word from Quito to-day said President Luis Larrea Alba and his Cabinet had fled from the presidential palace and taken refuge in the military barracks there in the face of an armed rebellion.

The Government put down an armed military movement, a previous dispatch said, and Col. Carlos Guerrero, former Minister of War, and Manuel Navarro, President of the Chamber of Deputies, were arrested.

News was scarce and fragmentary, indicating that a censorship was operating, but the situation in the Capital was believed to be grave.

Liberal Leader Attacks Class Government and Nationalization Program.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Oct. 15. — The hope that the British people, in their desire to nationalize their banks and national resources, would not so weaken the ties of Empire as to destroy any link which bound the Mother Country with the Dominions, was expressed last night by Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, in addressing a dinner in honor of Dr. Anatole Plante, member of the Legislature for Mercier, Montreal.

The Quebec Premier, in a reference to the British elections, stated he, as a Liberal Leader, wished to dissociate himself with one Liberal, and that was Mr. Lloyd George. He preferred a Conservative, like Mr. Baldwin, he said. He hoped that in the Mother Country there would soon come an end to class government; that there would be one of the old parties in power and another of the old parties in Opposition to criticize.

Fears Breaking of Link

"In England we see today that some are asking and proclaiming the nationalization of what has been the strength of the Old Country—the banks, mines and other natural resources of Great Britain," he continued. "Far from me to tell the Mother Country what it should do, and I have no pretensions in that regard, but we are a Dominion here. May it be permitted to me to say tonight to the Mother Country to take care, to think of the rank which you hold in the nations of the world? We here hold to the ties of Empire, but if you destroy what has been your strength and destroy what you have that is best, and what is your strength, well, will not the British link which joins us be liable to be broken at any time?

"I hope that the British sense, the sense of John Bull; that the respect for her past and confidence in the future will be such that they will not do in England in a few days when called upon to vote that which will destroy the British ties which unite the Mother Country to the Dominions.

NEW ROAD STRIP OPEN TO PUBLIC

Hon. L. Macaulay Is Guest of Honor at Banquet in Atwood.

OPTIMISTIC OF FUTURE.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 15—Another link in Ontario's great chain of Provincial highways was moulded and sealed last night when the Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Public Highways in Ontario, cut a ribbon before a crowd of hundreds of citizens and thereby declared officially opened the 9¼ miles of concrete, which has just been completed between Kennicott and Atwood. Never before had been as many Government officials and municipal heads gathered in Atwood at one time, as met for the great banquet, with Warden W. Angus Dickson filling the post of chairman.

The question of extending the concrete pavement right through to Listowel was raised by more than one speaker at the official opening, and while the Hon. Mr. Macaulay did not commit himself in this regard, he felt it would be one of the pieces of road up for consideration when the 1932 program would be gone over next spring.

Mr. Macaulay, replying to a toast to himself at the banquet hall before the public meeting, struck a note of optimism in the future of Canada.

"While Canada may be in a depressed condition, she is yet a young country. Any young country like Canada is bound to come out of a condition like this quicker than other countries and then start on the road to prosperity. There have been depressions before, and now we need confidence in our Canada, confidence that she will step out to lead the world," declared the speaker.

PAINFUL PILES

Quick—No Cutting—No Salve

Relieves only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription—HEM-ROID—to end itching bleeding protuding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this—that's why salves and cutting fail. McDermid & Jilks Bond's Drug Store says HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

Hikes 4,000 Miles; Gains Four Pounds

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 15.—(CP)—At the end of a 4,000-mile hitch-hike trail, smiling Jessie Collins rested at home today. Veteran of the police-banned walking contest at Winnipeg, Jessie travelled from Montreal to Winnipeg and return in 55 days, including a three-week stay with relatives at Minneapolis. She added five pounds to her weight in the journey, she said, and her long-longest single walk was across the Detroit-Windsor bridge.

3 YOUTHS FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

16 Year Old Girl Allegedly Attacked by Trio While on Errand.

WARD OF C.A.S.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—Rose Lefler, aged 16, a ward of the Children's Aid Society, is alleged to have been criminally attacked by three youths yesterday afternoon on a vacant lot at James and Burlington streets. The lot is hidden in part by high billboards. The girl told police she was sent out on a message from the Children's Shelter, MacNab street North, when she was lured into the field and there attacked. Her body bore marks of bruises and criminal violence, so a physician advised police, after he had examined her.

MEXICAN GOV'T LOSES CABINET

President Rubio Appoints Gen. Calles as New War Minister.

MUCH POLITICAL UNREST.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15. (AP)—Former President Plutarco Elias Calles emerged as a dominant figure in the Mexico Government again to-day following the resignation of the cabinet owing to "increasing political unrest.

President Ortiz Rubio appointed Calles, Mexico's "iron man" to the post of Minister of War in succession to General Joaquin Amaro. Last night he accepted the resignations of Minister of Interior Lazaro Cardenas, Minister of Agriculture Saturnino Cedillo, Minister of Communications Juan Andreu Almazan, and General Amaro, but refused that of Minister of Finance Montes de Oca.

"In recent years" the President said, "there has developed a new and major problem, especially in the capital, originating from agitation of various irreconcilables in the political camp. Under such circumstances I felt it my duty to present to the consideration of my collaborators and political councillors the necessity of finding a solution.

"As was to be expected I found among my collaborators the sanest and highest spirit of co-operation disinterest and sacrifice for the realization of this view, in order to leave the chief executive free to continue to reorganize the government."

General Calles pledged his full strength in aiding President Ortiz Rubio to stabilize the Government. He said he felt it was an hour of need for Mexico, and that he would act in accordance with his message to Congress September 1, 1928, in which he warned that the "man on horseback" was over in Mexico.

The exact nature of the political crisis that caused the resignation of the Government was not explained. It was considered partly economic but mostly political.

East Emily Factory Destroyed By Fire

EAST EMILY, Oct. 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—A mysterious fire last night destroyed the factory of the East Emily Dairy Company, formerly known as the East Emily cheese factory. The flames started in the east side of the frame structure and quickly swept through it. A frame stable was also burned.

Farmers hastened to the fire as a result of telephone alarms, but nothing could be done to save the building due to the absence of water. The only well closeby was inside the building and could not be reached for the flames.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The building had been dismantled two years ago, and since then had not been used. As far as is known no one was in the building yesterday. No insurance was carried.

NEW MODERATOR ELECTED

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, M.A., pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Victoria, B.C., was elected Moderator of the British Columbia Synod of the Presbyterian Church last night.

TEACHERS FAVOR SCHOOL CLOSING PLAN IN CHICAGO

Army of 14,000 Instructors Received No Real Money Since Spring.

TAX MUDDLE BLAMED.

Claim They Cannot Wait Till December for Legislation —No Definite Action.

CHICAGO, Ills., Oct. 15.—A proposal to close Chicago's schools for lack of money is being considered by some of the city's army of 14,000 public school instructors.

The proposal was made yesterday by Clyde A. Crowley, one of the thousands of Chicago's teachers who have not received any real money for their services since last spring, due to a tax muddle. Instead they have been paid until recently in scrip, acceptable in exchange for merchandise at some Chicago stores.

Speaking at a Southside mass meeting of about 4,500 teachers, Crowley, a high school instructor, said that it might be well to close the schools to give the pedagogues a chance to seek other lines of endeavor to keep the wolf from the door. He added that North Side teachers also had the plan under consideration.

No Action Taken

Cheers greeted the proposal, but no action was taken. It is to be considered again at another meeting to be held soon. "It is too long to wait until December or January for financial relief through the legislature," Crowley said. "We must have pay now. The teachers can not go on for ever without their pay."

Crowley's proposal was advanced after State Representatives Elmer Schnackenberg and Michael Igoe told the teachers they were in favor of aiding the teachers but they doubted whether the legislature would authorize bond issues if they would result in increased taxation.

"The county tax board," Rep. Schnackenberg said, "is really responsible. If it would collect the $75,000,000 in educational funds outstanding there would be no problem."

The Southside teachers voted to send delegates to the county board to insist that action on backward taxes be speeded up. There are about 200,000 cases of protested taxes pending.

There are approximately 14,000 school teachers in Chicago, who are feeling the effects of the money pinch.

CHURCH UNION LAW IS RAPPED

Presbyterian Moderator Makes Attack Before Italian Congregation.

Depicts Church's Growth.

MONTREAL, Que. Oct 15. (CP) "No more iniquitous law against the liberty of any group of people was ever placed on the statue books of any legislature in the British Empire than the Church Union law" declared the Rt. Rev. W. G. Brown, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, last night when addressing the Italian congregation of that denomination here.

Introduced by the pastor of that religious community, the Rev. R. de Pierro, who told of the struggle which they had had during the past few years, the moderator made a rousing appeal for the members of the Italian Church to emulate the example of their ancestors the Waldenses, who as far as the form of their worship was concerned and their love of liberty, were the Presbyterians of Italy two hundred years before Luther was born.

Statistics relative to the growth of Presbyterianism of late years were given the congregation by the moderator, which included the fact that in the last five years there had been 30,000 persons added to the Sabbath rolls of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and at the present rate of advance, in 15 years that communion would have reached a position as great in numbers as it had occupied prior to the formation of the United Church. Also there had been spent in the building of churches and manses about five million dollars.

Manitoba's Relief Program Slashed

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—Drastic reductions in Manitoba's unemployment relief work program have been made by the Dominion Government, according to word received by A. Macnamara, Provincial Director of Unemployment Relief. Several projects strongly advocated by the Province have been turned down definitely, he said.

By rejection of a scheme for improving the grandstand at the exhibition grounds, Brandon's $45,000 program has been cut to $5,000.

Al Capone Invited by Northwestern To Stay Away From Football Games

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 15. (CP)—Al Capone has been invited to stay away from Northwestern University football games in the future.

Jack Leach, chairman of the editorial board of the Daily Northwestern, student publication of the university, issued the "invitation" yesterday in the newspaper, commenting on Capone's recent appearance at the Northwestern - Nebraska football game.

Under the caption, "Get this Capone" Leach said:

"You are not wanted at Dyche stadium nor at Soldier Field when Northwestern is host. You are not getting away with anything and you are only impressing a moronic few who don't matter anyway.

Leach complained that Capone at the Nebraska game, "swept in with an escort of motorcycle police like an emperor going to his coronation."

Alberta Gold Rush Becomes a Retreat

CALGARY, Oct. 15.—(CP).—Alberta's latest gold camp is deserted, and the rush that started into Fallen Timber Creek district is over, according to word reaching Calgary. Last week men trekked into the Fallen Timber Creek country when Indians reported they had foundn gold in the creek but today only two prospectors remained.

Alberta Provincial Police reported that 100 claims were staked along the creek, situated about sixty miles northwest of Calgary, in the heavy timber and muskeg country near Morley, Alta., but they stated that no gold, outside a few odd flakes, was found. The two prospectors still at Fallen Timber Creek expect to leave the place shortly.

GROVE OLD BOYS HOLD RE-UNION

Thirty Meet to Discuss Old Times and Hold Annual Thanksgiving Dance.

SPORT DAY A FEATURE

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 15.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The Thanksgiving season has grown to be a time of re-union for those who are Old Boys of The Grove and each year a contingent, growing larger each year, returns to the old school to foregather with each other, the present pupils, the masters and last, but not least, the ladies of The Grove and other friends in the community.

As usual, the annual Thanksgiving dance was a feature and was even more popular than ever in its appeal, especially to the young people. On Sunday the services in the chapel were hearty and very beautiful and old boys felt anew the deep sens. of peace and worship of God which they found always in that memorial chapel, a perpetual reminder of those who held high The Grove traditions and died that such British institutions with their teachings, should continue.

On Monday, although the usual School vs. Old Boys football game was not played, the annual sports day was the premier feature and the weather man gave kindly consideration as the day was ideal and the vista of lake, fields and woods, the latter glorious in their red autumn tints, was worth seeing itself.

Another re-union is over and another delightful memory is added to those already held by Dr. Mackenzie and his staff and the old boys who were fortunate enough to be among the thirty who gathered "home" for the week-end.

SCHOOL WATER IS NOT SATISFACTORY

Analysis Report Read at Smith Township Board of Health Meeting.

A meeting of the local Board of Health for Smith Township was held at the office of M. H. O. Dr. J. A. Morgan on Saturday. Those present were M. O. H. Dr. J. A. Morgan, Reeve H. J. Coons, Deputy Reeve G. Fitzgerald, Secretary Percy T. Udy.

Dr. Morgan submitted the report of the Provincial Laboratory re samples of drinking water taken by him from the sources of supply for the several schools in Smith as follows:

Samples from S. S. Nos. 1, 2, 4, 5 (tank and well), 7 and 11 as unsatisfactory.

S. S. No. 3, as fair.

S. S. Nos. 6, 8 and 12, as good.

S. S. Nos. 9 and 10, as doubtful.

The secretary was instructed to write the several school secretaries giving them the report of the analysis of the samples of water taken by the M.H.O. from their respective schools, and advising them when necessary to take immediate steps to have all the evils referred to in his report corrected.

The secretary was also asked to draw the attention of school boards in Smith to the necessity of providing window screens for the school windows and for the carrying out of the recommendations left with the secretaries by the M.H.O.

Dr. Morgan reported the township free from infectious diseases.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

HAS EARNED SUPPORT.

The splendid exhibits and fine program provided as well as the worthiness of the cause for which it is being held should be sufficient to ensure a very large attendance at the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition for the balance of the week.

The proceeds from this annual event are used, of course, to help finance the social service activities of the Kiwanis Club, and the people of Peterborough are so thoroughly acquainted with the splendid work of the organization it should be merely necessary to mention the objects for which the Exhibition is being held to enlist the enthusiastic support of the community generally.

The Kiwanis Club has earned the backing of the citizens of Peterborough, and should get it in unstinted measure in connection with the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition.

AVERTING NEW TAXATION.

The story from Toronto that there is to be a graded cut in the salary of all Ontario civil servants and that members of the Legislature and of the Cabinet will find their remuneration similarly treated, will be received with satisfaction by a large number of taxpayers.

Rural Ontario especially will greet this action as indicative of a decision on the part of the Government to cut down its expenditures rather than to attempt to keep on locating new sources of revenue from a people who are already finding the burden more than they can bear.

If five million dollars can be saved in that way it means that the Province will escape just that amount of new taxation, which will be a decidedly welcome change.

With farm prices dropped to a point where they do not meet the cost of production, the farmers of Ontario are finding the load of taxation that has been piled upon their shoulders almost crushing in its pressure, and any suggestion that means the lifting of even a portion of the burden will be received with delight.

THE TRAFFIC TOLL.

According to an American magazine, the toll from automobile accidents in the United States during the present year will exceed one million people killed or injured.

The estimate as to the total number of lives lost in such accidents is 35,000.

These figures are appalling, and they are made even more so by the indifference with which they are received by the public generally.

A plague that took the lives of 35,000 people and injured nearly a million others would cause a panic throughout the whole country, but apparently this slaughter on the highways is being accepted quite as a matter of course.

On this side of the line we are not killing people at such a rapid rate as our American cousins, but we're quickly approaching their record; in Ontario two lives a day were snuffed out during August and the total of other recent months was about the same.

And outside of such organizations as the Safety League and the Ontario Department of Highways and the newspapers of the country nobody seems to be worrying a bit about the situation.

People are reluctant to give evidence in traffic cases, juries are looking for excuses to acquit, and altogether there is a deplorable attitude toward this question that is bound to lead to even greater loss of life.

IDLE DOLLARS.

Senator Davis, former American Secretary of Labor, said the other day that the American dollar, owing to fear, was the laziest thing in the United States just now.

The same thought has been just as forcibly stressed by the advertising firm of Lord and Thomas and Logan, who in calling attention to some significant features of the present situation, remark: "Thrift is a splendid thing, but idle dollars are a menace second only to idle people. Government aid can do no more than relieve those out of work. It cannot effect any permanent solution of the unemployment problem. The first step in that solution must be to put the idle dollars to work."

In this connection it should be noted that while the sales of commodities have declined in volume and in price, the savings bank deposits have increased.

In spite of unemployment, the income of the Canadian people has exceeded their expenditures, and in the last year they have added forty-four million dollars to their savings in the chartered banks of Canada.

At the same time commercial loans have declined $168,000,000 in the same period, showing that business is making less demand for the savings bank dollar.

In the face of this situation, Lord and Thomas and Logan declare that advertising must work harder in order that the advertising dollar may buy more, and they point out that firms which advertise intelligently now will be a long time ahead when the inevitable upturn in business comes.

It is a point that is well worth the attention of Canadian manufacturers and business men.

CANADA'S DAIRY HERDS.

The information given out by the federal authorities that remarkable progress is being made in the testing of dairy herds throughout the Dominion will be exceedingly gratifying to the people of Canada. It records substantial progress in the safeguarding of public health. The controversy that was carried on for a long time as to whether bovine tuberculosis could be communicated to human beings was finally settled in the affirmative. Eminent authorities on both sides differed in regard to the danger from the use of milk from ailing cows. As long as this disagreement lasted it was not possible to undertake any concerted effort on an extensive scale to cleanse the dairy herds from disease. Since the weight of evidence became conclusive, however, that the consumption of tainted milk was dangerous, extraordinary progress has been made in the detection of the germs in cattle.

The authorities have been generous in the rate of compensation paid for cattle that had to be eliminated from the herds as milk producers and, as a result, the entire Dominion is engaged in combatting this disease. Three of the Provinces, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia, report that all dairy cattle have been submitted to the test. In the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec the fight has been difficult. There are 399,500 tested dairy cows in Quebec, compared with 110,000 untested. In Ontario, out of 377,200 dairy cows recorded, 231,500 have been tested and 145,700 untested. It is evident from the figures of Ontario and Quebec, that much remains to be done in these two older and richer Provinces. As time goes on the owners of herds themselves recognize the increasing value of tested cows, and it will be only a matter of a few years before the Dominion will be able to boast that tuberculosis has been practically eliminated from its dairy herds.—Brantford Expositor.

BRITAIN'S ADVICE WAS SOUND.

In the light of recent events—the growing unemployment throughout the world and the suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain and other countries—the attitude taken by Britain after the war seems to have been the sound one, and the world is suffering to-day because that advice was rejected by the United States. Britain offered to renounce all claim to the money owing to her by her allies and from Germany if the United States would renounce all claim to payments from Britain. In short, Britain proposed cancellation of war debts so that the nations could start with a clean slate.

It was certainly not a selfish motive, because Great Britain stood to sacrifice nearly twice as much as the United States. But the States would not listen to such a thing as sacrificing so many millions of dollars every year for sixty-two years, and the proposal fell through.

Since then, Germany has nearly gone bankrupt, France and Italy have deflated their currency, the buying power of European money has been so restricted that European nations cannot buy as much as they used to, and the United States, while demanding what is owing, will not let European countries make any money by selling. Prohibitive duties have been imposed against foreign goods, and America, in fact, has been hoist with her own petard.

Figures issued this week at Washington show how United States trade has been hit. They show that the exports—which are the vital index of trade—for August were $130,000,000 less than August last year (which, in turn, were less than in August, 1929), and the imports for last August were down $52,000,000. So the trade of the United States in August was $182,000,000 less than in the corresponding month, 1930. Again, the imports for the first eight months of this year were $963,000,000 less than the first eight months of 1930, and the imports for the same period were down $727,000,000, making an aggregate loss of $1,740,000,000.

That is only for eight months. The slump began long before that, and will continue for a great deal longer. How much it is going to cost the United States in the end remains to be seen, but one thing clear is, that the United States is losing more in trade than the war debts amount to. Before final adjustment is made the question of cancellation of war debts is bound to force itself to the front as a live issue.

To regard the matter in terms of human unhappiness, look at the figures of unemployment, also issued this week, by those in charge of relief in New York. The total number of unemployed in Greater New York is 750,000, and of these, 160,000 have reached the end of their resources and are already in want. The relief body asks for donations to the amount of $12,000,000.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, estimates that there will be over 7,000,000 unemployed in the United States during the winter. That means that instead of those 7,000,000 people earning wages and spending money freely, they will be dependent on charity or public works for the bare means of subsistence. In that way, too, the trade of the United States is bound to suffer.

The thought cannot be brushed aside that the British statesmen who made their offer seven or eight years ago had vision, and that the United States is itself suffering, and is causing the rest of the world to suffer, because it rejected the proposal and insisted on what it considered to be its "just rights."

So the term, "Shylock" does not appear to be amiss after all.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The British election is already developing a record number of memorable utterances by political leaders.

Visitors to the international matches must be satisfied that plowing is not yet a lost art.

Premier Bennett's New York speech should have boosted the Canadian dollar up to par across the border.

That message from Premier Anderson of Saskatchewan breathes the real spirit of the Canadian West, the spirit that will triumph over the present difficulties.

There is little to be gained by trying to keep up with Sault Ste. Marie. As soon as we reported the blueberries likely to produce a second crop along comes Algoma with a story that violets are again in bloom up there.

The spirit of optimism with which the British people are said to have become imbued during the past week or so is the best guarantee of prosperity. —Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Wherever it is that flies go in the winter time we wish they would hurry their departure. For pertinacity they can't be beaten.—Sarnia Canadian Observer.

"I know about the letter," said Lisa. "But she told you not to answer it in haste. Come upstairs, Dan," she added. "We can talk better there. Fabia and June and Nichols are at a matinee. We'll all have tea together when they come back."

"What did Dr. Warburton think of your coming?" Lisa asked as they sat in her sitting room.

"Oh, he suggested that I go away for a while weeks ago. He thought I was run down and needed a change. But all I really need is to see Fabia," said Dan, coming immediately to the vital issue between them. "I'm very glad of this chance to talk to you. I want you to like me, Mrs. Vale," he smiled. He was really charming when he smiled. There was something very attractive, too, about the combination of self-confidence and ingenuousness.

"I want to like you, Dan."

"Thanks for calling me 'Dan.' I noticed it downstairs. It makes me feel as if you are going to try to like me, anyway. Of course I realize I am not exactly what you'd choose for Fabia. I understand that perfectly, but what I lack in certain points, I mean to make up in others, after we're married."

"After you're married! How fast you go. I don't know anything about you yet. Do let's get acquainted a little first.' Do I understand that you have decided to leave Boston, Dan?"

"Why, of course! Why did you think I was here? I think Fabia's plan to clear out is a splendid one. Don't you?"

"I think it is a very intelligent one." She stopped a moment and looked away with a meditative expression in her eyes. "I think when two people are willing to be intelligent for the sake of their love it is a proof of its reality. By the way," she broke off, "how does Dr. Warburton feel about your decision?"

"He didn't like it much at first, but he's being a perfect trump about it now. He thinks he may be able to get me an appointment in a hospital in Seattle. I've been looking up Seattle, Mrs. Vale. It's a wonderful city, they say."

"Seattle!" gasped Lisa. "From coast to coast. Oh, are you sure it is wise for a man to make a sacrifice of his professional ambitions for the sake of his marriage?"

"It isn't a sacrifice. It's just a shift. I can succeed on the western coast as well as the eastern. The fact is, Mrs. Vale, I haven't any ambition for success anywhere, if I can't share it with Fabia. A big change has taken place in me. You see," he went on, puckering his brows a little, trying to make it clear, "my ambition is Fabia now. I've simply got to be a success," he brought out emphatically, "if I marry Fabia. Of course I want to support the girl I marry."

"Oh, not so fast! Not so fast!" protested Lisa. "Why, you haven't even talked to Fabia yet."

"She hasn't changed her mind since she wrote that letter, has she?" demanded Dan, alarm in his voice.

"I'll let Fabia tell you that," said Lisa. She wasn't going to betray the fact that Fabia had been haunting the American Express Office for the last three days asking for the letter that might have reached her if Dan had replied immediately.

"Morris Haverford isn't around here, is he?" pursued Dan.

"No, Morris hasn't come yet."

"Mrs. Vale, do you want Fabia to marry Morris Haverford?"

"I want her to marry the man she'll be happiest with, Dan."

Dan got up abruptly. "It's something awful the way I love her!" he exclaimed, in a voice anything but steady, and walked over to the window.

What would men do, thought Lisa, smiling fondly at Dan's back—yes, fondly—if they hadn't windows to look out of, or cigarettes to light, at moments when they couldn't speak? Or women if they hadn't tears to brush away?

After Lisa had brushed away hers, she remarked casually to Dan's back: "It's after five. They'll be returning any moment now. Wouldn't you like to see Fabia alone for a while first?"

"Could I?" exclaimed Dan, wheeling around.

For answer Lisa turned and spoke into the telephone. "Please see that Mrs. Vale's order for tea is sent to the lounge instead of to her rooms," she said. "You stay here, Dan. I'll go down and send Fabia up to you when she comes in."

Dan went up to her and took her hands in both of his. "Thanks. Thanks a lot!" he said, from a heart obviously too full to say more.

Lisa waited over twenty minutes for Fabia and Nichols and June. She asked for stationery, and wrote a note.

"We're late," Nichols explained when they finally arrived, "because Fabia insisted on going for the mail. It was perfectly useless, too."

There passed across Fabia's face a look as if she was bearing a physical pain that she must hide.

"I thought we'd have tea downstairs today," said Lisa brightly, slipping an arm through June's, through Nichols', too, and moving toward the lounge. "I ordered it half an hour ago. By the way," she added turning to Fabia, "do you mind going up stairs and getting my coat, Fabia? I'm a little chilly. And, oh, yes, this note, too! Read it when you get into the elevator."

It was a very short note. Only four lines. From her mother. That was funny.

"Don't be startled when you open the door. There is somebody up there waiting to see you. It's somebody you like and somebody I like, too."

Who could it be? Fabia wondered listlessly as she left the elevator. She fitted the key into the lock. Why be so mysterious? She didn't care who it was! She didn't care if it was the King of England! Oh, why didn't Dan write?

(The End.)

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—In an attempt to have more Ontario supplies of fresh eggs sent to this city local buyers increased their prices to country shippers yesterday 4c on extras, 2c on firsts and 1c on seconds. Whether the new levels will have any result on receipts is difficult to say, but production is at low ebb in all parts of the Province. Retailers were asked to pay 7c more for extras, 5c more firsts and 2c more for seconds, at 47c for extras in cartons, 45c for extras loose, 40c for firsts loose and 20 to 22c for seconds loose. Storage eggs were 2c higher at 30c for extras and 28c for firsts.

Country shippers were quoted 37c for extras, 32c for firsts and 16c to 17c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Brokers were offering extras at 40c to 41c, firsts at 37c and seconds at 20c, graded and in free cases.

Butter.

There were some sales of butter at the steady basis of 20c to 20¼c for No. 1 creamery solids and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2. Generally trade was slow, with only fair-sized movements to large buyers. Business with United States firms was fairly quiet, but reports indicated some fair sales in the very near future, depending on market prices and exchange.

Cheese.

Trade in cheese was very slow, brokers continuing to quote the nominal figure of 12c for new large, with twins at 12¼c and triplets at 12½c. Prices to retailers for new and old cheese were unchanged with Tuesday's figures.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—Egg prices continued their advance while butter, cheese and potato quotations weer unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

Carlot prices of fresh Ontario or prairie eggs were generally higher, extras and firsts gaining a cent at 39c to 40c and 31c to 32c, respectively, while seconds held unchanged at 19c a dozen. With the exception of seconds, all fresh eggs, in cartons, to retailers were from 3c to 4c a dozen higher. Specials gained 3c at 48c and extras were up 4c at 44c, while firsts advanced 3c at 38c a dozen. Seconds were unchanged at 25c, as were storage extras at 34c, storage firsts at 30c a dozen and storage seconds at 24c a dozen. Receipts were 1,442 cases.

Eastern Township No. 1 pasteurized butter, in carlots, was unchanged at 19¾c to 20c a pound, while to retailers solids and prints held steady at 21c to 22c and 22c to 23c a dozen, respectively. Receipts were 1,256 boxes.

Ontario cheese was unchanged at 11¾c to 12c and Quebec cheese held steady at 11½c to 11c a pound. Receipts were 6,116 boxes.

Montreal potatoes per 80-pound bag were quoted at 30c to 40c, and New Brunswick Cobblers were 45c to 50c, while New Brunswick Green Mountain were 50c to 55c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Dampening of ardor for higher prices on grains accompanied a late selling movement yesterday in which stock market unsettlement played a conspicuous part. The fact that the wheat had risen to 7c a bushel higher than low prices last week was a handicap to bulls. Before downswings began, however, fresh war rumors from across the Pacific suggesting more forcibly than heretofore that Russia might be embroiled with Japan and China engaged the major attention of wheat traders, and led to flurried buying at times.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅝c lower to ⅛c advance, corn unchanged to ⅛c off, and provisions at a rise of 7c to 25c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Failing to maintain their early strength, wheat prices yesterday showed net losses from yesterday's closing quotations. The final figures showed depreciations ranging from ¼ to ⅝ October was off ⅜ at 55¼ split; Nov ⅜ to ½ at 55¼ to 55⅝; Dec ¼ at 55⅝, and May ⅛ to ¼ at 55⅝.

Trading started off briskly, and prices advanced to show net gains over Wednesday, but a lull in export trade and considerable hedging turned the early improvement into net losses. The hedging came from elevator interests.

Foreign Buying Bolsters Prices

In the early stages of the session heavy buying orders, particularly from houses with foreign connections, bolstered the market temporarily by rapidly absorbing the large offerings. Liverpool prices also were a shade easier, reflecting the pause in import purchasing. The Buenos Aires market was also softer.

Locally, there was a demand for the top grades of cash wheat, but offerings were only moderate, and trading was not active. Demand for durums was not heavy.

There was a moderate export business in oats which proved the feature of the cash coarse grains. Some export inquiry for rye was evident, but no sales were reported.

Trading in the futures market was fairly active with good buying through commission houses of all coarse grain commodities and purchases of rye.

DANGER LIGHTS AT R.R. CROSSINGS

The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Do you not think it would be a good idea to have a swing system of red lights at the R.R. crossings on Charlotte and Hunter streets?

Of course the gates are presumed to be sufficient protection, but often they are not.

A motorist has not much chance to apply brakes once those arms commence to close, whereas if a red swinging light proclaimed the presence of a train he would be warned in time to draw up slowly instead of causing a traffic jam, and endangering the lives of those following behind him.

The Hunter street crossing is far more dangerous than the one on Charlotte, inasmuch as one cannot see an approaching train if one is coming down the hill, till one is almost under the swinging arms. In my own case recently a hand car was coming at a pretty good rate from the Brock street end of the track and our car had passed under the first arm on the way down the hill before the signal was given, then the lower arm dropped almost on the bonnet of the car. The brakes were applied rather suddenly much to our consternation, and we looked like a party on location for the movies, till we sorted ourselves out and found no parts missing, though we admitted to being slightly bent in places. However it was a case of crash the gate or be crashed. The brakes were good and we did neither. The hand car slowed down a little, the gates were raised and we proceeded on our way, thankful that it was not a full sized train which had come so near sealing our doom.

DECEIT.

There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword; but the tongue of the wise is health. The lip of truth shall be established for ever; but a lying tongue is but for a moment. Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil; but to the counsellors of peace is joy.—Proverbs XII., 18 20.

REV. J. E. GLOVER GIVES ADDRESS

Is Speaker at Anniversary Services of Trent River United Church.

SPECIAL MUSIC.

TRENT RIVER, October 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—Anniversary services were conducted on Sunday afternoon and evening at the United Church by Rev. J. E. Glover, B.A., of Smithfield, who delivered inspiring messages to large congregations.

The choir gave appropriate music at both services, with Mrs. I. Lawson at the organ.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion, with potted plants and cut flowers.

Rev. Mr. Glover chose his text from Ephesians 4:15-16, "Speaking the truth in love may grow up into him in all things which is the head, even Christ." In his opening remarks, Rev. Mr. Glover said an anniversary was an unique event and a milestone in the history of the church. There are many pictures in the New Testament which are used for the relationship of Christ to the Church. "Christ is spoken of as "The Good Shepherd" and we think of the sheep of His fold and He giveth His life for His sheep.

"Again we think of Christ as a great King and we are His subjects—Christ the head, His church, the body. It is a vital relationship. We think of many of our soldiers who returned from the war, disabled. Some valued member of the church we may lose through death, but the work of the church still goes on. God buries His workmen but He carried on the work. The church cannot carry on the work if the Spirit of Jesus Christ is not in the church."

At the evening service, the special numbers by the choir were "The King of Glory" and "Worship the Lord of Glory."

GERMANY ASKED

Wilson offering inducement ... Austria-Hungary to forsake the German cause. He pledged that a previously expressed intention of the Allies to disrupt the Empire State by separating Hungary and Bohemia from Austria would not be carried out.

The effort formed a part of the general attempt made by the United States' Government in December, 1916 and the early months of 1917 to bring peace before entering the war.

It failed when the Austro-Hungarian Government refused to dissociate itself from Germany in negotiations for peace or in the conduct of submarine warfare.

Dollar Is Quoted At 88¼ To-Day

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15 (By the Canadian Press.)—The Canadian dollar weakened ¼ of a cent to 88¼c on local foreign exchanges at noon to-day. The dollar opened at 88⅛, yesterday's closing figure.

Sterling showed less strength than the dollar and dropped a full point to $3.87 in United States funds after opening at $3.88, which was ⅛ a cent lower than yesterday's close.

RAIL ISSUES LEAD ADVANCE AT NEW YORK

Intimation of Move to Stabilize Railway Bonds Accounts for Rise."

SOME LOSSES REGAINED.

Santa Fe Railroad Advances More Than 7 Points—Noon-day Setback Overcome.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Wall Street took a fresh hold on its courage today, as the stock market turned upward before the reaction from last week's high levels got beyond normal technical limits.

The rail shares led a slow but substantial advance. Brokerage circles received intimations of an early announcement of the Washington administrations plan to stabilize railways bonds. The upturn came after the declines of Tuesday and Wednesday had cancelled roughtly half of last week's extreme gain.

After recording numerous advances of 2 to 7 points, the market slipped back a little from the top during the third hour but the advance was soon resumed. Santa Fe Railroad rose more than 7 points, and issues getting up 3 to 4 include New York Central Southern Pacific, New Haven and Norfolk and Western. In other sections of the list, Eastman rose more than 6 and advances of 2 to 4 appeared in such stocks as U.S. Steel American Telephone and American Can.

Brokerage quarters had anticipated a fair setback from the high levels reached in last week's violent rebound. A swift rebound in the market is usually followed by a secondary reaction. If this reaction is checked after cancelling about half of the extreme rise, chart leaders regard it as of merely "technical" proportions. If more than half the advance is lost, chart readers begin to fear that the rebound may have reflected merely the striking of a false bottom. The upturn today, therefore, was regarded as of considerable significance.

Prominent bankers are inclined to view the loss of gold to Europe as of more hopeful significance than otherwise. Although more than 80 per cent of the net gain of monetary gold during the past two years has been lost, it was recognized during the inflow of this metal that it was embarrassing to foreign countries, and several bankers had favored more aggressive measures to check the piling up of metal here.

FURIOUS DEBATE REGARDING DOLE

Labor Federation Brings Prohibition Question Again to Front.

FAVOR IMMIGRANT BAN.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 15.—Elbowed out of the spotlight yesterday by a spirited fight over unemployment insurance the prohibition question was brought to the platform again today by the resolutions committee for action by the American Federation of Labor.

Leaders of the committee, who also are chiefs of the beer movement, said they wanted 2.75 per cent brew, which they said is equivalent to draft beer served in Canada.

Their resolution was regarded as the second most interesting of the convention, the anti-unemployment insurance resolution of yesterday being the biggest issue.

Vote on the insurance or dole proposition came only after hours of furious debate in which a dozen speakers attacked and defended British Unemployment Insurance and assailed capital for failing to do anything to help the workingman.

The convention was unanimous in approving resolutions asking temporary and permanent plans for relieving unemployment, and in reaffirming the principle of persuasion rather than force in settling internal disputes.

Resolutions to be acted upon, which in general were recommendations to the executive council whose ideas have been carried out in the convention to date, would:

Endorse a federal employment service, oppose cancellation of war debts until the foreign nations clean house and disarm, imply that railway freight rate increases now pending before the interstate commerce commission would be preferable to railway wage reductions, pledge support to bituminous coal mine workers in obtaining a universal wage rate, favor application of immigration laws to bar nationa's of all countries except Canada.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET CLOSE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15.—(C.P.)—Extreme gains of 1 to 7 points in active stocks were reduced by profit-taking to-day, but the market, quiet on the upturn, was duller on the reaction and the closing tone was steady. Atchison leading the strong rail group, halved at 7⅛ points rise. American Telephone, a strong pot, rallied nearly 5 and then fell back. National Biscuit, Borden, Allied Chemical, People's Gas and New York Central, were up about 2. Johns-Manville was heavy, losing 3 points. United States' Steel rose before reacting. Sales approximated 1,300,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 15 (CP)—Prices drifted aimlessly within a narrow range on the Standard stock and mining exchange here today, with volume of trading at the lowest ebb in some time. Interlisted stocks were slightly higher but saw only light turnover.

Noranda recovered in the forenoon and held an advance of 40 to the close while International Nickel sold up to $10 and reacted a little finishing with a net gain of 25. In the oil section Imperial advanced 20 and a sale of petrol of was made at 25, up 5 cents.

Golds were mixed in their movements, majority of higher-priced stocks holding in quiet trade. Lake Shore was fairly well taken at 26, an advance of 25, and Wright-Hargreaves firmed a couple, while Teck-Hughes sold down 5 and Hollinger remained unchanged.

Among the cheaper issues Macassa was up a couple and Brett Trethewey and Moffatt-Hall fractionally higher. Eldorado reacted 3 Howey a couple and Manitoba Basin a fraction.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—Gains made in a slow and irregularly upward market in the morning were reduced somewhat on Toronto Stock Exchange in the late afternoon trading.

Nickel closed at 8⅛ compared with 9⅜ last night, while Noranda at 13⅛ was up the fraction. Brazilian held most of its gain at 10.

The Queen of England is reported to be spending much of her time at Balmoral Castle sewing and knitting.

BETHLEHEM AND YOUNGSTOWN MERGER CONTRACT CANCELLED

Impracticable to Carry Out Agreement Made in March, 1930.

DUE TO CONDITIONS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15—(CP).—Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation today announced the merger contract between Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company has been cancelled.

Mr. Grace said that due to changed conditions it was deemed impracticable to carry out the contract made in March 1930 for merging the two companies and that Bethlehem had exercised its opinion to cancel the contract.

The contract, Mr Grace said, had been extended from time to time by agreement of the parties in the hope that conditions would justify consummation of what both believed to be a sound understanding.

BACK DIVIDENDS.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube stockholders who opposed the merger of their company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation will receive approximately $1,700,000 in back dividends.

This was announced by Sheet and Tube officials today on receiving word of the cancellation of the billion dollar merger contract.

Author Discredits Popular Fallacy: Says Beautiful Women Are Not Dull

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15.—Beautiful women are not dumb. Minister's sons usually don't go wrong. Brilliant persons are not subject to nervous breakdowns.

If you disagree with any of these assertions you are merely one of the millions in America who have been deceived by popular fallacies, Albert Edward Wiggam, the author said yesterday in an address.

The belief that gazing at the back of a person's head makes him turn around, that there is such a thing as an undertow in a body of water, and that you can read a man's character by looking into his face were also listed by him as additional notions which have no basis in fact.

"Experiments at Stanford college," he said, "have shown that the concentrated gaze of a hundred persons on another person has failed to affect that person.

ward by G. K. Fraser that interested members of parliament and the Minister of Canals be conducted over the Trent Waterway early next season, with a view to obtaining a realization of all that the completion of unfinished sections of the canal would mean to tourist traffic.

Correspondence on the subject was read from various members of the Federal House, including a letter from E. A. Peck, M.P., and while sympathy with project was shown by them without exception, no hopeful promises were contained in any of the communications. On the contrary the general opinion was expressed that the government had cut the waterway appropriations in view of the more serious and immediate needs concerning the unemployment problem with which they were faced.

Further proposals that the Trent Waterway Association should extend their publicity campaign into the Province of Quebec, were seriously considered, and tabled until next year.

A communication from Perry Alexander complaining of the evil effect of tourist resorts from the shortening of the fishing season, and a suggestion that the season should open before July 1st, were also the subject of much discussion, and resulted in a resolution that the secretary communicate with the Department of Game and Fisheries, with a view to recommending that the fishing season open on the last Monday in June.

In his report Mr. Stinson referred to the success attending the Association's exhibit at the New York Motor Boat Show and at the Detroit and Philadelphia Sportsmen's Expositions. One of the most gratifying results of the shows, he thought was in the fact that requests always came from a number of people for the use of Trent Waterway films, and arrangements were in operation whereby these films were loaned for exhibition in the United States at Kiwanis Club meetings, camera club exhibitions, etc. The films are kept on the move for twelve months out of the year, and much valuable publicity results.

The recently completed government picture of the Trent Waterway, is to be put to similar use, and a letter of appreciation is to be sent to the Federal Government for the free use of one of their boats for the camera party.

A resolution that carried unanimously also offers to the various municipalities bordering the Trent Waterway System an annual exhibition of the Provincial government film, to be sponsored by the municipalities and exhibited under local arrangements under a percentage basis to the Association.

Details concerning the establishment of official T.W.A. information bureaus thorughout the district, were left in the hands of Mr. Stinson to be carried into effect next season.

During the nominations for the presidency, which was declined this year by the immediate past-president, J. C. Miller, of Orillia, on the grounds of business pressure, the name of George J. Overend of Orillia was suggested in many quarters. Nomination for the office was declined on behalf of Mr. Overend, who was unable to be present by his son Harold J. Overend and was accepted with some reluctance.

Mr. W. Fowlds, of Hastings, was then nominated, and was unanimously voted into the presidential chair for the ensuing year.

Regret was expressed by the meeting at the loss of J. Wells-Fraser, who has recently left the district, and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of appreciation to him for his past services to the Association.

After Phony 'Phone Call to Merchant Crook Gets Away With a Pair of Shoes

A phony telephone call, a phony name and a phony house number resulted on Tuesday evening in a George Street merchant losing a pair of new shoes and $16.50 in cash, which was given as change for a phony cheque.

Detectives, who have so far been unsuccessful in finding the crook, label the "deal" as the cleverest pulled here in many years.

It was near closing time when the merchant's telephone rang. "That you, Mr. ——? Well, listen, I'm in a hurry and I want to get a pair of those shoes you have in your window. Send them up right-away because I have to be to work in fifteen minutes. Send them up with the boy. O! yes, and send change for a twenty dollar bill, that's all I have in the house."

A number on Aylmer Street was given, and the boy was immediately despatched with the shoes and $16.50 in change. He returned a few minutes later without shoes and change and handed the merchant a cheque supposed to be drawn on a prominent local legal firm.

The merchant became suspicious at once and sent the boy back to the number on Aylmer Street. Thirty minutes later the boy returned and said "There ain't no such number."

Questioned, he explained that when he delivered the shoes he had been met outside a house by a man, who called out, "Are you the boy with the shoes?" The shoes had been delivered, the change handed over and the cheque accepted on the street.

SUCCESSFUL YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONVENTION OF PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY HELD AT BETHANY

Prof. J. Line of Victoria College, Gives Address at Evening Session.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

New Department for Sponsoring of Amateur Dramatics is Established.

Inspiration was the keynote of the very successful annual convention of the Young People's Societies of Peterborough Presbytery, held in Bethany United Church on Friday afternoon and evening. Representatives of the C.G.I.T. and C.S.E.T. Groups were also present adding their share in the interchange of helpful ideas.

The Young People began to gather at 1.30, when the delegates and visitors to the number of 240 signed the register.

A worship period opened the afternoon session, which was conducted by Bert Monk, representing Bethany Y.P.S. The president, Cleveland Robb, occupied the chair throughout the convention.

Rev. Mr. Scott, pastor of the convention church, gave the address of welcome, giving the young people the freedom of the town, the homes and the church of Bethany, making every member from the very beginning, feel entirely at home and among friends.

Business occupied most of the afternoon session, the first item being the president's address, in which Mr. Robb gave a brief resume of the year's work, passing lightly over the discouragements, while stressing the successes along the way. He told of the establishing of a new department which is sure to give the Young People a wider scope for developing their dramatic skill. The department, "Dramatics," will be under the capable management of Cecil Wasson of Peterborough, and is intended to foster the presentation of one-act plays.

Mr. Robb also emphasized the success of the debating contests held throughout the year, and of the splendid effect of the rallies.

The secretary-treasurer, Homer Borland, gave a very comprehensive and satisfactory report of his work, showing that the financial status of the society is in good shape, with a fair-sized balance in bank. The total receipts for the year, plus the amount on hand at the beginning, was $55.75. This amount was made up of registration fees and collections, and the disbursements were for convention expenses.

Convenors' Reports

Very inspiring were the reports of the convenors of the various departments. Christian Fellowship reported a successful rally held in Norwood last December at which Rev. E. F. Swayne of Fraserville was the special speaker.

Rev. J. V. McNeely gave an account of having held a missionary rally in St. James' United Church, with two out-of-town speakers, while Rev. Mr. Sisco of Cobourg spoke to the young people of a rally called by Rev. J. E. Whithame, convenor of the citizenship department.

Bert Monk of Bethany, in his report for the Literary and Recreation Department, said that they had established a debating competition, and made provision for the trophy to be presented to the winners at this convention, when the final competition would take place.

There was no report from the Leadership Training department; the convenor, Rev. J. O. Totten, having been removed from this Presbytery, was unable to be present. Likewise, Leo Copp was not present to report for the C.S.E.T., of which he is convenor. Mrs. J. V. McNeely, of Keene, in her report for the C.G.I.T., told of some of the discouragements she met in establishing groups outside the city.

The election of the nominating committee resulted as follows: Rev. W. R. Archer, convenor; Rev. J. V. McNeely, Bert Monk, Edgar Clark and Homer Borland.

Splendid Address

"The needs and opportunities for free-time volunteer leaders in our Presbytery," was the theme of the inspirational address given by the Rev. C. D. Daniels of Mark Street United Church. The speaker's enthusiasm was contagious, firing the delegates with a zeal for this type of service and giving them many helpful suggestions to carry back to their societies.

Miss May Thorn, A.T.C.M., of Stewart Hall, presided at organist during the afternoon session and played very pleasingly, while the offering was being received, and also accompanied Miss Hazel Jackson's delightful solo.

Group conferences occupied a large portion of the afternoon's program. In the absence of Miss Helen Burgess, Rev. W. R. Archer, of Lakefield, led the group on Christian Fellowship, while the Missionary group was in charge of Rev. J. V. McNeely. Norman Lemay of Lakefield substituted for Rev. J. E. Whithame, leading the group on Citizenship.

Literary and Recreation was the theme of the fourth group under the direction of Bert Monk, while Leadership was taken by Rev. C. D. Daniel and C. G. I. T. work by Mrs. J. V. McNeely.

At an open forum led by Rev. W. R. Archer, reports of the various discussions were tendered to the convention as a whole. Christian Fellowship department decided that young people need training in prayer and suggested the use of prepared sentence prayers as a means of starting only.

The Missionary Group recommended a definite objective for Missionary giving and also that each society be assigned a Missionary in the foreign field and one in the homeland for prayer, as a means of stimulating missionary interest.

cussion, Mrs. McNeely mentioned the Peterborough Girls' Work Board which is well-organized and offers assistance and information.

Training School

Miss Helen Burns was appointed Secretary of the Leadership group and brought in a suggestion which was later made a motion by her, that a standard training school be held during the winter in each district of Peterborough Presbytery, and that every leader in Young People's work be urged to attend. This was seconded by Rev. Mr. Daniels and carried unanimously.

The report of the Literary and Recreation group urged that a period of recreation be held every meeting night and not reserved to once a month. The continuation of debating work was also stressed. After the closing hymn of the afternoon session the convention gathered in the town hall where a short period of games and social recreation was led by Charles Gunstone of Norwood.

Sumptuous Banquet

Following a short intermission a splendid banquet was served to the visiting young people by the ladies of the Convention church.

At the head table were seated members of the executive and other guests, with Mr. Cleveland Robb, acting as chairman and toast master.

Rev. C. D. Daniels was the enthusiastic leader of the sing song during the supper hour. The toasts to the King and to the Church were proposed by the president, and the assembly responded in the usual way. Following this, the toast to the "Young People's Society was proposed by Miss Helen Heffernan of St. Andrew's C. G. I. T., while Ralph Hanbidge of Fraserville on behalf of the C. S. E. T., also toasted the senior society.

Miss Constance Wagar of St. James' Y. P. S. responded, expressing the hope that these three societies might become more strongly linked together for the extension of Christ's kingdom.

Officers Elected

Rev. W. R. Archer presented the report of nominating committee and elections as follows: Honorary president, Rev. J. E. Millyard, Peterborough; president, Edgar Clarke Norwood; vice president, Homer Borland, Peterborough; secretary-treasurer, Mr. A. Clevaland Robb Peterborough.

Chairmen of the following departments:

Religious Education—Rev. E. F. Swayne, Fraserville.

Greetings to the convention were received from Rev. Manson Doyle, B.A., Associate Secretary of Religious Education, of Toronto, and Stephen Saywell, President of Oshawa Presbytery, brought the best wishes of his young people.

Another outstanding and honored guests was Carroll Anderson President of the Bay of Quinte Y.P.S. Conference, who also extended greetings, and an invitation to attend the biennial conference to be held in Oshawa, October 23-25.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the ladies who so hospitably provided for the guests, and to Bert Monk, who was in charge of local arrangements.

Evening Session

The program for the evening session was continued in the auditorium of the church and opened with a worship period, at which the Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of Warsaw, presided. "O Worship the King" was the stirring and appropriate opening hymn. And the scripture lesson was chosen from the 12th chapter of Romans. Earnest prayer for both the work and the workers of the Y.P.S. concluded this period.

The response to the roll call of societies and groups showed an unusually large and enthusiastic representation in keen competition for the attendance banner.

An interesting feature of the evening was the installation of officers at which the chairman of Peterborough Presbytery, Rev. J. E. J Millyard, officiated, and spoke briefly of the honor and responsibility of assuming office in this executive.

The newly-appointed president, E. Clarke, was called to the platform and introduced by the past president, Mr. Robb, who presided throughout the evening.

As a culmination of the debating held in the Presbytery societies during the year, the two winning teams met in the final test for the debating championship at this convention.

The subject, "Resolved, that a University education is not desirable for those entering a business life," proved most interesting.

The affirmative side was ably upheld by Misses Beavis and McNeely of Norwood Y.P.S., while the negative was taken by Miss Mary Terrace and Mr. Ferguson of Mark Street Y.P.S., Peterborough.

Rev. E. F. Swayne, Fraserville; C. Anderson, Oshawa, and Miss Jackson of Bethany acted as judges, and Leo Copp as critic.

Offertory music was pleasingly rendered by Harold Ktney of Peterborough, who also accompanied the singing for the evening.

Guest Speaker

The distinguished speaker on this occasion, Prof. J. Line, M.A., B.D., LL.D., of Victoria College, Toronto, was introduced by Rev. J. E. Whithame of Cavan, in a few gracious words.

"The message of Jesus and present social and world conditions" came as a stirring appeal to young people to make their religion a practical one. This inspiring address, delivered in Dr. Line's eloquent style, proved to be the high light of the program. In speaking of his attitude toward economic conditions, Dr. Line characterized it as being radical, but continued: "Radicalism is not opposed to genuine religious feeling or love of God." The great business of this convention is to help us reconstruct our lives so they may express this love. This brings us face to face with one or two critical situations. The first of these is the intellectual current which is sweeping over this continent and turning people away from God. This onslaught against Christianity can be met only if we are familiar with the new aspects of science and with the best books of our times. Thus we may become equipped to serve the Church, for without an intelligent grasp of these difficulties, we are useless.

The second challenge comes to us to make Christianity effective in the present economic distress. Jesus Himself was a radical reformer, bidding men prepare for the setting up of the Kingdom of God. We are not faithful disciples if we do not recognize the moral peril of unemployment, which is an even greater evil than intemperance or war. The remedy of social justice cannot be brought about without attacking the problem of distribution and control. A Christian outlook would re-order these, so that they would be exercised, not for private aggrandizement, but for the well-being of the whole. "Unless we can meet these calls," maintained Professor Line, "Christianity must suffer eclipse."

The presentation of the attendance banner and the debating trophy was made by the Rev. Mr. Millyard to the winning societies. The judges' decision awarded the cup to the debating team from Mark Street Y.P.S., while St. James' Y.P.S. again carried off the banner for the largest representation.

The closing ceremony of this splendid convention was conducted by Professor Line, whose parting message to the young people of the Presbytery was a challenge to prayer and more consecrated lives.

Burnham Cup Winner

The Burnham cup which was competed for on Tuesday and was awarded for the best plowed land by a resident of Peterborough county was won by Harold Collins of Keene.

Wednesday's judges were: Class 1, John Morgan of Niagara on the Lake; class 2, D. G. Boyd of the Ottawa Experimental Farms; class 3, W. A. Dickenson of Rockwood; class 4, Chas. Morrison of Creemore; class 5, D. G. Boyd, and the tractor classes Norman McLeod of Galt.

High Class Plowing

The competing plowmen at the International match out the highway enhanced their new record list of entries Wednesday with a quality of work that won high praise from the judges.

Even an urban spectator who had never tried to guide a plow could easily determine the element of quantity or numbers by merely walking up and down the fields and counting the contestants, but the experienced eye of an expert was required to look over those forty-five acres that were turned up Wednesday, award the honors to the finest work done by nearly 170 men, and incidentally compare the composite plowing with that of former matches.

James McLean of Richmond Hill, director and judge, briefly summarized for The Examiner Wednesday work in the stubble, and said that many of the competitors had scored exceptionally high in the scale of points.

"Generally speaking, I think the quality of the plowing was a little better than last year," Mr. McLean stated. "The competition was a little keener. The quality in the walking plow class was notable. It seemed to me to be the cleanest work I have seen for some time in that class. The double furrow work on the whole was better than usual. In fact a lot of the plowing for the second day was of the best I have ever seen."

As previously remarked, Mr. McLean is inclined to understate his opinions, and any commendation that comes from him has invariably been well earned and thoroughly deserved.

Mr. Duffus Delighted

J. J. Duffus, turning the local light onto Mr. McLean's observations which had been made in his presence, said "That means you won't find any better plowing anywhere than you saw here to-day. I have been at many of the provincial matches, and I can say that we have plowing here to-day that is as good as any I have ever seen. As one of the local committee I feel very proud of the results we have had so far, and especially of the uality of the plowing. When we used to invite the Association to hold the big match at Peterborough, we often heard the remark that our soil was too stony down this way, but from what I have heard I believe the provincial directors are all highly pleased with the success of the match so far. I wouldn't hesitate to say that the plowing at Peterborough has been of high a quality as could be found anywhere, and that means as far abroad as anyone wishes to go."

Wednesday's classes were plowed on the farms of J. Torrance Lillico and Norman Lillico, north and south of the highway near the headquarters tents. One of the field extends south half a mile, it seemed, and across it teams were plodding in the mizzlin grain from one fence far down to the other. Much of this work earned warm compliments from competent critics. Crowns were uniformly built up, the rows were as straight as if they laid to lines, and the even spacing was plainly evident.

REGENT STREET CHURCH L. A. HOLDS THANKSGIVING DINNER

Pleasing Program Presented By Orchestra and Members of Congregation.

TRIO MAKES DEBUT.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Monday, the members of the Ladies' Aid of Regent Street United Church held a very successful Thanksgiving dinner in the basement of the church.

There was an abundance of good food and many willing workers who spared no effort to serve the bountiful repast. Mrs. Albert Darling, president of the Ladies' Aid and her assistants spent a busy evening.

During the interval of waiting till the program commenced at 8 o'clock, the Regent Street orchestra played a number of pleasing selections.

The program opened by the singing of the doxology followed by an anthem by the choir, "Blessed by the Name of the Lord." The chairman's address given by Rev. W. R. Archer followed and he briefly said that his address is Regent Street, Lakefield, and that he lives next door to the church and is usually home on Wednesday. He asked the young people to make a note of this fact as lately most of the weddings have been across the bridge. Rev. Mr. Archer expressed the pleasure it gave him to have Miss Bessie Conley as guest soloist, as when he was pastor of the Stirling United Church, Miss Conley was the soloist.

Miss Conley possesses a pure, clear soprano voice, well-trained and of wide range, making her performance a real treat. Probably "The Four Leafed Shamrock" was most appreciated although all her numbers were of high quality.

Trio Makes Debut

The Roy Spence trio of Indian River made their debut in the village at this entertainment. It consisted of piano, violin and cello and their high class selections showed careful practice and love of music. The last number, "A Perfect Day" was especially well given. Mr. Spence sang with good effect several Harry Lauder selections including "The Wee House," "Rosy MacLean," "She's The Lass for Me" and "Come Back Nanny," the first named making a real hit.

Rev. E. W. Rowland, of Stirling, who was some years ago the guest preacher at the anniversary services here, occupied a new role as an elocutionist and he was more than generous with his selections, which varied from grave to gay and he was encored at every appearance. The last selection was very timely and was entitled, "The Sea is God's; He made it" and there was a high note of confidence and optimism in its challenge. Another outstanding selection was "The Island of the Scots," a poem which is stirring and recalls an incident of exiled Scots who sought refuge in France and formed a foreign legion in the French army after the defeat at Killecrankie in 1688, when their leader the gallant Claverhouse was killed. Other numbers included, "Walking Circumspectly" and a very excellent rendition of James Whitcomb Riley's classic "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" with piano accompaniment.

There were addresses by two of the local clergy, Rev. W. J. Creighton and Rev. T. M. Wesley. The regrets of Rev. R. J. Burton were expressed by Rev. W. R. Archer who announced that on Sunday, October 18, there would be no evening service in Regent Street Church owing to the anniversary services in St. Andrew's Church and at Young's Point United Church; also on October 25 there will be no evening service owing to Knox United Church holding anniversary services with Rev. Dr. MacLean as guest speaker.

Rev. W. J. Creighton congratulated the people of Regent Street United Church on the success of their anniversary. During his years as minister he has always tried to live in peace and harmony with the religious bodies and enjoyed kindly relationships and social gatherings "God sent Christ not as a visionary but as the Messiah, to call the whole world back to the knowledge of God, "that they all might be one that the whole world might believe in the Father that sent me."

Rev. T. M. Wesley expressed the congratulations of Knox United Church on the completion of another successful year. "We wish you many happy returns," said Rev. Mr. Wesley. "Destiny is working things out, bringing us all closer together and doing away with those questions of rivalry and suspicion and while we may not all be under one organization, we are growing closer in custom."

A well sung harvest anthem by the choir and the National Anthem closed the fine program.

TRENT RIVER L.A.

Members Hold Special Meeting—Fowl Supper Accounts checked.

(Examiner Correspondence)

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 15. — The Fowl Supper held on Monday evening at the United Church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid was very successful and largely attended.

The tables were arranged in the dining hall and were tastefully decorated with cut flowers, while members of the Ladies' Aid and their assistants were capable waitresses.

Rev. S.A. Kemp, pastor, led in community singing while the tables were being cleared after which the program was given with Rev. Mr. Kemp as chairman. The Board of Managers of the Church asked for a special Thankoffering for the services conducted by Rev. J. E. Glover on Sunday, the objective being $300. The amount received at the services was $147 together with the door receipts on Monday evening being $121.80, making a total of $368.80.

Health Association

It's going to be a much harder winter for those who are ill and suffering than it can possibly be for any who are in good health, regardless of the circumstances. There are calls enough right now to keep the Health Association nurse busy, there will be more later on. Many are calling now who never asked before, many are now unable to pay anything who formerly showed their sturdy independence by paying the nurse something from their pitably small savings.

The work of the Health Association has continued in Peterborough for many years. The people in trouble, unable to pay have turned to it when sick and suffering, their calls have hitherto never been in vain. There are more calls now than ever, the calls from now on will increase rather than diminish. No little life should cease in Peterborough for want of nourishing food or proper nursing. No bread winner of a family should be allowed to perish for want of proper medical attendance. The Association is nearly self supporting, this appeal for outside aid is made but once a year. Surely the work must not be allowed to stop, this year of all others. Please send your contributions to The Examiner or the Bank of Toronto.

The following contributions are gratefully acknowledged: previously mentioned, $422.12; Eastern Star, No. 161, $10; 57th Chapt. I.O.D.E., $10; Miss Edith Murphy, $5; Miss H. Reid, $2; Miss Amy E. Bowles, $1; S. R. Armstrong, $5 — total, $455.12.

Mr. James Ryan, president, was in charge of the affair, and in his opening remarks he pointed out the value in having the business men of the village meet together for discussion on topics of interest to the community. WIFE TRADING DAYS ARE OVER IN FAR NORTH

Sudden Change in Old Eskimo Custom Regarded as Remarkable.

NO MARRIAGE CEREMONY

Wives With Good Teeth and Tailor's Skill Are Preferred.

HALIFAX N. S., Oct. 15.—"The old order changeth, yielding place to the new"—and perhaps in no other sphere of human life has there been such a change in recent years as in marriage customs, particularly true of the Eskimos in the Canadian Arctic. Up until the last decade swapping of wives, though almost unheard of in America, was quite the common thing among the Eskimos, but now the pendulum seems to be swinging back.

H. W. Porter, staff representative of the Halifax Herald who journeyed into the Artic last summer, writes that the sudden change in Eskimo marriage customs is accounted in the North as quite the most remarkable thing that has happened to this type of aborigine since the coming of the white man. Up until a few years ago their marriage customs were along the lines outlined by Admiral Peary in one of his books on Arctic life—"in regard to morals, these people do not stand high—that is, according to our standards. The wife is as much a piece of personal property, which may be sold, exchanged, loaned, or borrowed as a sled or canoe.

Wives Loaned.

"There seems to be no marriage ceremony. The matrimonial arrangement is frequently perfected by the parents while the parties are children. As the female is eligible for marriage much earlier than the male a girl may be appropriated before her intended is old enough to marry by a man whose wife has died. This arrangement may continue, or her intended may claim her when he is old enough. Wives are frequently exchanged—loaned."

Father Gerrard, Roman Catholic missionary at Pond Inlet, and the Rev. Mr. Duncan and Rev. Mr. Turner, Anglican missionaries at the same post, questioned in regard to the customs state that the majority of the Eskimos, particularly those around the settlements, now go through the same marriage ceremonies as white people. Those who do not marry in this way simply announce their marriage and this is considered and proves just as binding as the other ceremony. The missionaries could recall no cases within the last two years of any trading of wives, although they did state that such might occur in far isolated places where missionaries have not yet penetrated.

The Eskimos live together in almost complete harmony. They, however do not display much affection for each other. But for their children, particularly, as well as aged and infirm members of their tribe, they evince the liveliest affection. Boys especially are considered a decided asset as their parents look to them to provide for them when they themselves become too old to go hunting and fishing.

Selected for Teeth.

The wife is not selected so much for beauty of face or form, or the charm of her mentality, but rather with special reference to the quality of her teeth and her skill as a tailor. Clothes are practically as important as food, and good teeth are the first requisite of good tailoring. The skins are first scraped, stretched out on the snow to dry, and then,—and this is where the teeth come in. They are chewed and worked up until they are soft. This must be done before they are fashioned into trousers or boots so that the needle, with its thread made of caribou tendon can pass through. Needles made of bone were one time used but of late these have given way to the regular steel needles which are now procured at the trading posts.

The need of good teeth is still necessary after the clothes are made, for the first act of the man returning to the family igloo is to remove his wet skin clothing. This is promptly hung up to dry by his wife. In the process of drying it becomes almost as stiff as hard wood, so, before her husband arises, the wife chews his moccasins into such a condition of pliability as will permit of further use. In fact the Eskimo women appears to spend the greater part of her time shewing her husband's wardrobe, and it is not unusual for the women to gather together and chew the skin almost the same as women in this country used to gather together and crochet.

It is obvious that the bachelor labors under a great handicap, and as males are considerably in excess there is a heavy demand for wives.

The words moose, moccasin and muskeg have been adopted into Indians. Such cases are extremely Indians. Such acses are extremely rare.

100 PER CENT CO OPERATIVE GOV'T MOOTED FOR PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Plan Calls for Three Tory, Three Liberal, One Progresive and Independent Members.

PREMIER ANDERSON MUM.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 15.—(CP)—On the heels of a Coalition-Government proposal in Manitoba Saskatchewan last night pondered over a suggestion for a "100 percent co-operative" government in the central province of the Prairies. The Saskatchwan plan was advanced yesterday by Jacob Benson, Progressive member of the Legislature who has consistently supported the Government of Conservative Premier J. T. M. Anderson through two house-sessions.

Significance of the Benson proposal is accentuated by the strengthening rumors of a general election in Manitoba following the rejection of Premier John Bracken's coalition move by the Conservative and Labor opposition groups. The term of the Anderson Government does not expire until 1934, while that of the Bracken Government ends next year.

Anderson Mum.

Premier Anderson, whose Conservative group totals only 24 members in the 63-seat house, has offered no comment on the Benson proposal. Neither has a statement been forthcoming from J. G. Gardiner, former Liberal Premier who heads the largest group in the House, 28 Liberal members. Premier Anderson holds his ruling position by virtue of Progressive and Independent support.

Attention was directed tonight to the fact that Mr. Benson has been referred to as refusing overtures by the opposition branded by the government supporters as definite moves to create a break in the Government forces. Mr. Benson's plan, advanced in a letter widely circulated in the province favored a coalition cabinet of three Conservatives, three Liberals, one Progressive and one Independent. This would involve a cut of two members from the present formation with three portfolios transferred from the Conservatives to Liberals.

NO LET-UP IN EFFORTS TO AVOID GOV'T SUPPORTERS CLASHING

Prospect of Three Cornered Fights, as Result Are Fewer Than in 1929.

ANOTHER PARTY SPEAKS.

(By Thomas T. Champion C. P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Oct. 15—Right up to the eve of nomination day efforts are being continued all over the country to avoid having two Government candidates appearing in the same division. How much success will attend the efforts of the respective Government parties will be shown when nominations are received to-morrow. It is certain that three-cornered contests will be considerably fewer than in 1929.

Yet, this confused general election campaign offers the anomaly of leading members of one faction of the Government being opposed in their constituencies by representatives of another, even while the rank and file are reaching more agreements every day. Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal Home Secretary, and Sir Donald MacLean, Liberal President of the Board of Education, will both find Conservatives among their opponents for both are free traders.

Edinburgh in Line

In both east and west divisions of Edinburgh there will be only one Nationalist candidate. In West Edinburgh, George Mathers, Labor member for the division in the last house, will be opposed by the Conservative W. G. Norman, well-known lawyer. In Edinburgh east Dr. Drummond Shields, the former Labor member who was Undersecretary for the Colonies in the Labor Cabinet, will be opposed by D. M. Mason, Liberal. Rev. T. E. Alexander, Scots Nationalists, is a third man in this contest.

For Colne Valley, Yorkshire, the old seat of Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer who is retiring, the National Laborites—who of course are working with the Conservatives and Liberals — have adopted Michael Franklin a nephew of Sir Herbert Samuel. This is one place where the co-operative arrangements have fallen down badly for there are already Nationalist-Liberal, Conservative and Labor candidates fighting for the seat.

Derwent Hall Caine, a son of the late novelist who won Everton, Liverpool, for Labor in the last elections will seek re-election as a supporter of the Prime Minister. In 1929 he was elected by a majority of 1,587 in a straight fight with a Conservative.

Interesting Debate.

The contest for the two seats of the English combined universities will be interesting. The last members were Sir Martin Conway, Conservative, and Miss Eleanor Rathbone, Independent. Miss Rathbone is seeking re-election, promising general support to the National Government, while Sir Martin is retiring and Sir William Jowitt, Attorney-General in the National Government, seeks to succeed him. Miss Rathbone states that while a free trader in principle, she is prepared to make a temporary deviation for the sake of the country's financial soundness.

The Co-operative party has added its manifesto to those of the Prime Minister, Labor party, Conservative party, Liberals, Independent Laborites and Communists, not to mention the Agricultural party and the New party. The present money crisis, the Co-operative party says, makes it clear to the average citizen that international finance is able to impose its will on national governments.

"This opposition cannot possibly be tolerated in this country," says the Co-operative party, which numbers a good proportion of the former Labor members. "As it has arisen because the Bank of England is the property of private persons, it must be remedied by making the bank a public institution." The Co-operatives also register firm opposition to tariffs.

Canadian Church Leaders Interchange

Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, D.D., Moose Jaw (left), representing the West, and Rev. J. H. Arnup, D.D., Toronto (right), who will tour the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada, commencing October 14, announcing the Moderator's "challenge extraordinary" in the East and speaking in the interests of general church work.

Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach or a full bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach creating so-called 'acid indigestion.'

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and often affects the heart.

It is folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (powder or tablets—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

PREMIER USES PLANE IN FIGHT

Will Aid His Son and Thomas Besides Busy Program in Seaham.

HAS STRONG OPPOSITION.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Oct. 15—With the aid of an airplane on certain occasions Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald is planning an active campaign in various parts of the country in aid of members of the National Government.

Mr. MacDonald will remain in Seaham, his own constituency, until next Tuesday, except perhaps for a brief visit to London. On Tuesday, however, he will fly to Bassetlaw, Nottingham, and speak twice there on behalf of his son, Malcolm, Under-Secretary for the Dominions.

On Wednesday of next week, Prime Minister MacDonald will go to Derby and speak on behalf of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions and Colonies. Mr. Thomas is the only member of the old Labor Cabinet who is seeking re-election as a member of the National Government.

After the engagement at Derby on Oct. 21, Mr. MacDonald will return to Seaham for the concluding days of the campaign which ends in polling on October 27.

Backed by Officers

The Prime Minister to-day received a telegram from the Association of Officers of the Great War who rose from the Ranks: "We admire your grit and determination," it read, "and we wish you every success. The National must come first."

The strength with which the Labor party is fighting their old leader in Seaham is evidenced by the announcement that Sir Charles Trevelyan, former Labor President of the Board of Education; Walter Citrine, General Secretary of the Trades Union Congress, and Miss Ellen Wilkinson, a redoutable organizer, are among those going to Seaham to speak on behalf of William Coxon, the Labor candidate.

Nevertheless the number of campaign workers coming voluntarily to the aid of Mr. MacDonald is by no means negligible. Some of these have journeyed long distances to help him fight for re-election.

NEW PRESIDENT CONTROLS SPAIN

Retiring Chief, Zamora, Wishes Former War Minister Best of Luck in Venture.

EXPECT LITTLE CHANGE.

MADRID, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Manuel Azana took possession of his official offices to-day and called an extraordinary meeting of his new cabinet to deal with vexing religious differences.

He spent an hour with retiring President Niceto Alacala Zamora, listening to an explanation of the routine connected with the office and receiving his keys, then with a hearty embrace Senor Alcala Zamora wished his former Minister of War the best of luck in his new venture and left to go into private life.

Casares Quiroga, new Minister of the Interior, occupied his offices and Professor Jose Giral took over the Ministry of Marine, completing the transfer of Government.

Senor Alcala Zamora said he planned to resume his law practice and to write on his political experiences. Many believe that whereas he previously was regarded as a certain choice to be the first constitutional President his chances were diminished in view of his resignation from the provisional post.

Newspapers were filled with details and comments on the shake-up and the sidewalk cafes hummed with conversation on its significance for the future. It was the majority opinion that Senor Azana's assumption of power would not greatly change the policies of the previous administration.

A remarkable population increase of 365.06 per cent in the last decade is shown for St. Joseph d'Alma, Quebec, by the recent Canadian census.

Increase In Insanity Price Of Civilization

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—The price of civilization is an enormous amount of insanity, says Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

In an address before the American College of Surgeons on "Adding Years to Your Life," he said:

"The world has moved ahead so fast in material civilization that man has almost got behind his power of adaptation. Every other hospital bed in the United States is for mentally afflicted. Insane, idiotic, feeble-minded, or senile persons. There is an enormous number who are almost fit for the asylum."

Jury Suggests Roads Beside Highways

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 15—Construction of sidewalks along all highways in the Province as a means of cutting down the accident toll was recommended by a jury before Mr. Justice McEvoy at the Fall Assizes Wednesday.

The jury's verdict, which awarded James McNeely, of Carleton Place, $600 damages on behalf of his seven-year-old son injured in an automobile accident, recommended the construction of sidewalks be undertaken "as soon as possible." McNeely asked damages of $5,000 from Francis J. O'Brien, of Appleton, whose car struck the boy, breaking his right leg.

ANNIVERSARY ZION CHURCH

Rev. S. C. Moore, B.A., B.D., of Oshawa, is Speaker at at Services.

31ST ANNIVERSARY.

MILLBROOK, Oct 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—Rev. S. C. Moore B.A., B.D., of Oshawa who was the pastor when the Zion church was built thirty-one years ago, preached the anniversary sermons on Sunday, congregations occupying the entire seating capacity being present on both occasions

The church was appropriately decorated with fruits of the garden and orchard, foliage and flowering house plants, and members of the choir of Saint Andrew's church, Millbrook, led in the worship of song, the anthem in the afternoon being, "Blest Day of God", the second selection, a quartette, "Under His Wings" being sung by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Mr and Mrs. M. McDowell. Miss Estelle Hetherington presided at the organ.

Rev. W. W. Jones who took Rev. Mr. Moore's work at Oshawa at night made announcement regarding the car-load of vegetables and apples being sent from this entire district for relief in the West, which is to leave Port Hope either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning of this week, twenty-two thousand pounds being required to fill the car. Contributions are to be left at Jeffreys' Creamery, Millbrook, by Thursday, Mr. Jeffrey kindly furnishing storage room and also a truck and driver to convey the supplies to Port Hope. Messrs J. H. Might, Thomas Douglas and Alfred Coulter are in charge of securing contributions, and as there is positive assurance that distribution in the West will be made absolutely without denominational preference, need being the one claim, members of other churches in the district are helping to fill the car, though the United Church has this special relief work under its auspices.

Rev. Mr. Moore chose his text from II Chronicles 29 27: When the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began also" stressing the need of having two shrines in everyday life, the altar representing sacrifice and the choir, voicing thanksgiving for the daily-renewed mercies of God.

In the evening the young people's choir from Millbrook occupied the choir loft, singing two selections appropriate to the Thanksgiving season.

by the orchestra, the members of which are J. L. Byam, J. Isbister G. E. Burnham, Mary Burnham (pianist), Lloyd and William Byam, and E. L. Burnham.

The orchestra was heard more than once during the evening, and was warmly applauded, as was also one of its members, E. L. Burnham, for his cornet solo, an encore being demanded.

A reading by Marie Douglas, and a dialogue, "Because it rained" in which the characters were Marian O'Brian, Sadie Anna and Johnston Rowland, pleased the audience greatly Mr. J. H. George with his reading, "What shall we do with Grandpapa" being obliged to respond to the demand for a recall.

The Men's Bible Class sang two choruses in their usual capable manner, and a final selection by the orchestra, with the National Anthem, closed a most entertaining program.

During the social hour at the close each guest was served with a lunch daintily and conveniently done up in paper serviette, the social committee looking after the cups of coffee.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the class for the pleasant evening provided, mention being specially made of the courtesy of Mr and Mrs. J. Isbister who had come the longest distance for the occasion, the former giving his services willingly and capably for the orchestra

The class funds benefited substantially from the evening, and the members have in mind applying the sum realized for a particular service in the church.

CHURCH CROWDED FOR ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Archer, of Lakefield, Conducts Special Services at Bailieboro.

(Examiner Correspondence)

BAILIEBORO, Oct. 15. — Large congregations attended the anniversary services in the United church on Sunday morning and evening when Rev. W. R. Archer, of Lakefield, conducted both services.

The aisles were filled as well as the seating capacity being taxed at both services.

Rev. Mr. Archer chose his morning text from Hebrews 3:4, "For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God."

The speaker took as his evening text, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, I will draw all men unto me", John 12:32.

In both messages there was a strong challenge to accept Christ now, and strong emphasis were placed on the fact that the curse of drink is drawing many splendid men and women down to a terrible destination. The messages left with the congregation were those of inspiration which will be helpful to those who are endeavoring to serve Christ and obey His commands.

At the morning service the choir's anthem was "Ye Who Stand in the House of the Lord" and a quartette by Mr. and Mrs. N. Thompson, Mrs. W. Bateman and Eldridge White and solo; "Was That Somebody You?" by Mrs. Nichol, of Port Hope, constituted the special music.

A male choir took charge of the evening song service, a male quartette being present from Bethel and gave three beautiful numbers, "Come Home"; "The Old Wayside Cross' 'and "Almost Persuaded.' Miss Frances Watt presided at the piano.

The Church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a special thankoffering was asked for.

FENELON FALLS YOUTHS JAILED

Lindsay Hydro Commission Decides to Press for Lower Rates.

REBATE HELD UP.

LINDSAY, Oct. 15. — Provincial Constable Nelson visited Fenelon Falls yesterday and placed under arrest Archie Jackett, aged 22 years, and Gordon Ellery, aged 23 years. They are charged with breaking into and entering the summer home of Col. W. E. Phillips, of Oshawa, at Sturgeon Point two weeks ago. They came before Police Magistrate Jordan yesterday afternoon and were remanded for a week.

The local Hydro Commission at its session on Tuesday afternoon passed a resolution to the effect that the Hydro Electric Commission be asked to take all necessary and possible measures to have the cost of power in this municipality reduced. It was pointed out that owing to the reduced rates, more power was being used and that the local company had to pay just the same price ($40.00 per H. P.) for power as it did when the rates were higher. The local Commission planned to give all consumers a rebate of one month's bill as a Christmas present, but the Provincial Commission informed them that the matter would have to be held in abeyance for a year.

"Last term several of my boys seemed run down generally. I used Virol with extraordinary results. The whole system was braced up and the effect on the boys was marvellous. I cannot too highly recommend its use for delicate children."

SHOWER IS HELD LAKEFIELD GIRL

Mrs. George Graham, Formerly Leona Kingdon, Honored by Friends.

DISTRICT NEWS.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, October 15. — On Friday evening last a number of friends and neighbors, numbering about 25, gathered at the home of Mrs. Isaiah Graham, and a miscellaneous shower was given to Mr. and Mrs. George Graham (nee Leona Kingdon). Mrs. W. J. Baker introduced the presentation in a happy little speech offering the felicitations of the neighbors to the newly weds. Mr. Graham made a brief but appreciative reply and Mrs. O. E. Kingdon also spoke a few words of appreciation and thanks. The gifts were carried in by Miss Bernice Abrams and Mr. Allan Graham in a tub decorated in bridal colors and containing a large number of beautiful gifts.

Residents of the village got a pleasant surprise on Saturday on receiving receipted bills for Hydro-Electric consumption and in many cases a credit on the next account due to a consumers' refund given by the H. E. P. Commission. It was very opportune at the Thanksgiving season.

Chief of Police R. J. and Mrs. Webster celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Saturday last, October 10th. They are receiving congratulations from a wide circle of friends.

Rev. James Graham of Fenelon Falls will be the guest preacher at the Regent street church next Sunday, both morning and evening. Mr. Graham will also conduct anniversary services in the United Church at Young's Point.

The anniversary services of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will be held on Sunday, Oct. 18th, both morning and evening, with a special preacher and special music. On Tuesday evening, October 20th, the ladies of the congregation are serving a fowl supper in the Town Hall.

"We keep down expenses with Shredded Wheat"

"I've found one way of getting better breakfasts for less money. I serve Shredded Wheat. I don't know anything else that gives so much nourishment and costs so little. It's so easy to digest that every one likes it, too—especially when I cover it with fresh fruit. Shredded Wheat is whole wheat, and with milk it contains every food element we need for growth and good health."

REGENT STREET UNITED CHURCH HOLDS ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Large Congregations Hear Rev. C. S. Riddick of Bloomfield, Deliver Splendid Addresses.

IS FORMER PASTOR.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 15. — The anniversary services of Regent street United Church were held on Sunday with large congregations present both morning and evening. Rev. C. S. Riddick, of Bloomfield, a former pastor of the church, was the guest preacher. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. H. E. Moore, provided several very fine musical numbers and the congregation cooperated in their appreciation of the occasion.

At the evening service, according to the usual custom established many years ago, the evening services in the Knox United, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches were waived, and a large united congregation gathered in the Regent street church.

Rev. C. S. Riddick took as his text part of the 4th verse of the 21st chapter of the Book of Revelations of St. John the Divine—"And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying." We do not know whether St. John meant that we should take these words in their literal sense or figuratively, in any case he had a figure of something he believed would be realized in practical experience. It was a vision of faith, for the facts were against it. At that time the world was full of sorrow and crying, for war was almost incessant; they were scarcely ever free from it, and the people had nothing to say as to whether it should be war or peace, or had they any choice as to whether they would participate or not. Famine followed in the natural course of events. This year we have been very near famine in one small area of our great country in the drought area of Saskatchewan, but all the rest of the country is rushing relief trains out to those people; in the days of St. John relief trains were undreamed of, and the people died, and famine was very common in those times. Disease, too, was rampant, and there was nothing known of sanitation or professional skill. Not 50 per cent. of the children born, grew to maturity. We here in Ontario, know nothing of famine, but we do know of death, and we know sorrow and crying, which is everywhere in the world to-day, for there is not a land where there is not an increasing number of hungry people, and how near it can come to our door remains to be seen. We see in many homes the results of the ravages of the late war, and the very nations which fought a few years ago are still armed to the teeth, and war still threatens.

Age Increases.

Some say the world is growing worse, but the speaker did not agree. The average age of man has increased 50 per cent. in the past 40 years, for science is conquering disease, and the cruelty of old days is not known in this age. We in Ontario can't see the people of Saskatchewan starve, and if we were nearer there would be just as much eagerness to send aid to starving China. The time will come when selfishness will pass away, and also we will not take death as we do now; there should be no sighing or sorrow over the death of an aged person—only for those who die in sin. The vision of faith which St. John had was inspired by Jesus Christ, who was truly the Son of God. He saw the New Jerusalem coming down from heaven, and God will pitch His tent here, and make His tabernacle among men. We are thankful that God has a chance now to make men realize His presence, and we can't help but feel that this depression will turn out to be a blessing in disguise, and that it will help us to know God better.

Rev. T. M. Wesley of Knox United Church, Rev. W. B. Walker of the Baptist church, and Rev. R. J. Burton of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, assisted with the service.

Mrs. MacMillen and Mrs. Walter Hamblin sang a very pretty setting of "Rock of Ages" as a duet, in a most pleasing manner, and the choir sang as an anthem "Blessed is every one that Heareth the Lord," with solo parts by Mr. Fred Mortlock.

Mr. Reddick expressed the pleasure it gave him to meet old Lakefield friends again, and to once more hold service in the Regent street church.

Firemen Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Charlton entertained the members of the local Fire Brigade on Friday evening at their home on Reid street. Mr. Charlton is the assistant chief of the brigade.

The evening was delightfully spent in playing peanut euchre, which was a new game to nearly all the men and one which they enjoyed heartily, as the roars of laughter were ample testimony to the fun. The first prize was won by Mr. Percy Hill while Chief Clark won the consolation prize.

Mrs. Charlton served delicious refreshments, consisting of coffee, sandwiches, pumpkin pie and whipped cream. Mrs. Robertshaw assisted the hostess. The men gave a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Charlton for their hospitality and the jolly social evening.

During the past twelve months four members of the local brigade graduated from the ranks of the bachelors to the benedicts, and an evening like Friday offers strong inducement to the remaining bachelors to get into step with the wedding march.

Aged Lady Honored.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Nathan Payne and Mrs. MacMillen entertained about 15 ladies in honor of Miss Annie Gow, who celebrated her ninetieth birthday on September 22nd. As this was the day of the fall fair the celebration was postponed till a more convenient date. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly in conversation, in which the guest of honor took part, as Miss Gow is a very remarkable woman. She reads without glasses, and reads a great deal, and sews beautifully. A hand-made apron of her workmanship was awarded a prize at the fair.

A delicious birthday cake was a feature of the afternoon tea, which was served by Mrs. Mae Millen, assisted by Mrs. Walter Hamblin.

Following the tea, Mrs. MacMillen read an original poem, paying a tribute of affection to the aged lady who had grown old so beautifully, keeping her heart young, and also to Mrs. J. G. Brown, who had during the week celebrated her 78th birthday.

Good wishes and congratulations were the order of the day and many were received by the two ladies and the hope that the same group might meet again in future birthdays of the young-old ladies.

United Church Thanksgiving

Rev. J. W. Wilkinson preached from the text, "O, give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever." He mentioned that there might be many people just now, who might not feel just that way, as they face the winter with neither money nor supplies, yet food is plentiful, much is being wasted. He spoke of the courage and faith of those in Southern Saskatchewan who, after two years of poor crops, sowed the precious seed once, wind, rain, sun, moon and stars, made conditions unfavorable; they sowed a second time, again failure, and again the third time there was failure.

He spoke of children who are not trained to obedience and gratitude. The great harm done by ingratiture in every way; and ended by stressing the thought that this time of distress for many, economy for others, may be and likely will be a great blessing. People will realize that they depend on God, the loving Father, give to Him and be thankful.

The choir rendered two Thanksgiving anthems. The church was decorated with plants and grain.

FENELLA W.I.

Group Decides to Make Two Quilts and Give Fruit Shower to Fire Sufferer.

FENELLA, Oct. 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. W. Rogers entertained the members of the Fenella Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon when during the business period it was decided to make two quilts and contribute a shower of fruit and pickles to one, who through fire, lost home and all household goods.

After discussing ways and means of raising funds, the following were named a committee to dispose of the autograph quilt at Roseneath fair: Mrs. M. Adams, Mrs. S. Leach, Mrs. Fred Talling and Mrs. John Herrington. The matter of sending a delegate to the area convention at Belleville was laid over. On motion, it was decided that all outstanding accounts to date, be paid.

A letter from Haliburton, asking for aid, was read and laid on the table. Mrs. John Herrington conducted a guessing contest and Miss Muriel Macklin contributed a piano solo, "Star of the Sea."

Community singing was enjoyed and Mrs. Rogers served a dainty lunch followed by a social hour.

COULD YOU AT 30 RUN AS FAST AND AS FAR

Not many men at 30 to-day, especially city men, can run five miles straight away, in any time. Yet, on January 28th, 1930, Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, at 72, did this in forty-seven minutes, before 6 a.m. It's only a matter of keeping the blood normally alkaline, or non-acid, which he does by eating alkaline Roman Meal, the only alkaline-forming grain food, because the only food containing flax-o-lin. Because of a diseased heart twenty-three years ago, Dr. Jackson was given only four months to live. Now he can suspend his body between two chairs, resting on heels and head, with 180 pounds on his abdomen—a great feat at any age, but at 73, marvellous! Write for free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 502 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.

The fashion for washable rugs has made the laundering of them a problem in many a household.

• • • • • • •

To get them really clean after being under the tread of feet is a matter of knowing how. In speaking of washable rugs, it should be remembered that Oriental rugs come under this heading.

• • • • • • •

They are usually sent to experts to be washed, but small rugs can be done at home. Colors are fast and the knotting is firm, if the rug is in good condition, and weaves strong.

• • • • • • •

Bathroom rugs or mats are generally so lightweight that they can go in the ordinary wash of a machine or tub. They are absorbent and therefore will release dirt quickly. They should be laundered frequently so that they are never badly soiled when they go into the wash.

• • • • • • •

They can be hung on a line provided many clothespins are used to keep the edges even. They must be turned often so that the weight at no time is long enough along any edge for the weave to be strained.

• • • • • • •

Heavier rugs should never be hung on a line.

• • • • • • •

Wash rugs of other kinds that are manageable in tubs are washed by laying one part after the other of the thoroughly wet rug over the scrubbing board and scrubbing with a brush.

• • • • • • •

An ordinary bristle hand scrubbing brush will do the work well. Beware of using coarse-fibred brush, but one with short rather fine bristles or coarse hair is fine.

• • • • • • •

Use a mild solution of warm water, white soap and just a very little household ammonia. Keep the brush wet with it. Rub with the way of the nap or weave or across it, not against it.

• • • • • • •

Give special attention to spots. If grease spots do not come out entirely, dip the brush in hot water. Stains will be difficult. Some stains respond to treatment, others while dimmed, may not entirely disappear.

• • • • • • •

Use clear water to rinse the rugs in and do it the same way you washed them. A final spraying from a rubber tube fastened to a cold water faucet is recommended.

• • • • • • •

Dry the rug on the grass, if possible, or on the well washed floor of a verandah or porch, or on the kitchen table or floor. If dried thus in the kitchen let the rug drip in the tubs for awhile.

• • • • • • •

Then cover the table or floor with several thicknesses of newspaper covered with clean white cloth and stretch the rug on it. Be sure that edges are even.

• • • • • • •

From time to time smooth and even the edges with the hands. Change the papers once or twice and always cover with a dry cloth before laying the rug back again.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

THE PHYSICIAN TRIES TO ASSIST NATURE

Some years ago a druggist or chemist invented a machine from which, by inserting a coin, one might get a box or bottle of medicine for any ailment with which he was afflicted.

You can understand that the principle behind it was not very sensible because it took for granted that the patient knew exactly his ailment.

As a matter of fact half the patients who go to see a doctor are not really sick in the sense that they have a real illness. The physician discovers this by asking questions and making a thorough examination. However these patients have to undergo this examination before they know that there is really no illness. You can readily see what a terrible mistake it would be for a patient to think or imagine he had a certain ailment and then go and place a coin in the machine and get medicine for that ailment. It would cause harm to mind and body.

In fact medicine is only meant to help Nature do her work more readily; it is not meant that it should interfere with Nature's work.

If there is something irritating the large intestine causing diarrhoea, the first thought should not be bismuth or opium to stop the diarrhoe, but castor oil or other purgative to help Nature to get rid of the irritating substance. If after using castor oil the diarrhoe continues and become so severe as to endanger life then bismuth or opium may be used.

Similarly with a rise in temperature. When the temperature rises it is because Nature is fighting off some ailment, and heat is the result and heat is of help. Immediately taking some medicine from the slot machine to reduce the temperature is simply interfering with Nature's efforts to fight off the invading ailment. If the temperature gets to the danger point, then a drug to keep the temperature within safe bounds is used by the physician.

In other words your physician nowadays is not trying to cure you of a disease, but trying to help Nature bring about a natural recovery. This means that he is looking for you to bring about a recovery in your own body, by means of your own body processes, and only gives you medicine when he sees just how, when, and where he can assist Nature.

Delivered today Dated today

We leave with your grocer only as much as we think he will sell before the next delivery.

You will love the rich, reviving flavor of this coffee, Canada's favorite coffee for over 50 years.

Coffee . . . delivered to over 30,000 grocers by the same Dominion-wide "Fresh Food" delivery service that brings you Fleischmann's Yeast daily!

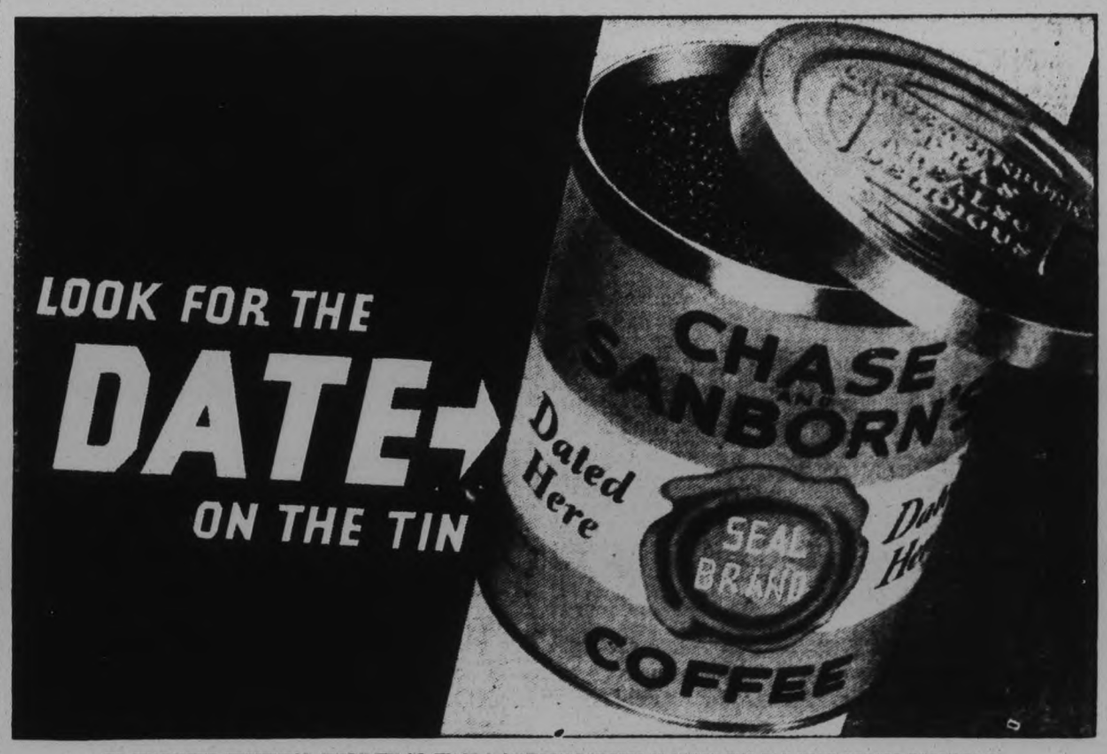
COFFEE IS A "FRESH FOOD," scientists have now discovered . . . subject to rancidity when stale, just as butter is.

That is why Chase & Sanborn now send you their coffee by swift, Dominion-wide delivery system. Every tin of Chase & Sanborn's comes to you at the peak of its flavor. Here is coffee you know is fresh, the date of its delivery to your grocer stamped on each tin. You can't buy a tin of this dated coffee which has been on your grocer's shelf more than ten days!

The scientific explanation behind this dating and delivery system is this . . .

IN EACH POUND of coffee there is about half a cup of delicate oil. Fresh, this oil carries the delicious flavor and aroma you love. Stale, this oil grows rancid—toxic—the coffee becomes flat. Against these dangers, Chase & Sanborn protect you by swift, "fresh food" delivery and the date on each tin.

Buy a tin of this wonderful coffee—DATED—and enjoy the matchless flavor and aroma that have made it Canada's favorite coffee for more than 50 years. See what a difference freshness makes in even the finest coffee. Packed in one-pound and half-pound tins.



TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY TIN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS DATED THE DAY YOUR GROCER RECEIVES IT

LEAVING CANADA FOR SOVIET ON PROMISE OF WORK IN MINES

But Party of 30 Miners From Kirkland Lake Are Sceptical.

CHANGE OF SCENERY

(Special to The Examiner)

MONTREAL, October 15 — Desirous of a change of scenery rather than any particular affection for the Russian economic system was the reason given by members of a group of 30 miners from Kirkland Lake, Ont., who are on their way to the land of the Soviet on the White Star liner, Majestic.

Their contracts call for a stay of a year in Russia working in the mines.

"They have made lots of promises but I am not sure whether they will keep them," remarked one of the party. "However I have my passport, which proves that I am a Canadian citizen."

The members of the party are for the most part Poles. They said that they applied for jobs on their own initiative, and have been promised wages varying from $50 to $200 per month, according to the type of mining they will undertake. Their passages are being paid.

Rent is Cheap.

With the exception of two married men who are taking their wives with them, the others are single, and they said that for a room for a single man they will only have to pay $3 a month rent. They will be provided with a radio in each room, and the Soviet has also undertaken to supply them with mining clothes, they stated. As to work, they will put in five hours a day in the pit for five days a week.

One of the group is a Russian who recalled that he served in the Russian army during the war, and was held prisoner by the Germans for 14 months.

In the spring a party of more than 10 workers left Montreal for Russia and during the summer there have been various other groups. The group now sailing on the "Majestic" will complete the journey on a Soviet ship from London to Russia.

1936 WILL SEE SEAWAY DONE

Prediction is Made by Chairman of Ohio Waterways Commission

LET CONTRACTS IN 1932.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 15 — Early ratification of the treaty between the United States and Canada, assuring completion of the St. Lawrence Waterway by 1936, was predicted here last night by George E. Hardy of Toledo. Mr. Hardy spoke before the Michigan Ports Conference. He is chairman of the Ohio Waterways Commission and vice-president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

"The official announcement on Oct. 8 that the two governments would proceed to negotiate a treaty at once was most welcome to those who for more than twelve years have been advocating and working to open the Great Lakes to world shipping," said Mr. Hardy. "The treaty will be ready for submission to the United States Senate in December, and finally approved ready to take bids and let contracts on the international section before the close of 1932."

The proposed seaway is the greatest public improvement before the world to-day," said Mr. Hardy. "Measured by the benefits that will accrue to more than 40,000,000 persons in the heart of North America, it will be of infinitely greater value than the Panama Canal and will cost less than one-fourth as much."

Past accomplishments in harbor development on the Great Lakes are insignificant to what the immediate future holds because of the St. Lawrence Waterway," said Mayor Daniel Webster Hoan of Milwaukee, President of the Great Lakes Harbors Association.

HUGE RUM RING IS DISCOVERED VESSELS TAKEN

Raids Reveal 2 Outlaw Radio Stations, Truck Fleets, and "Booze Navy."

22 ARRESTS MADE.

Captives Raise $95,000 Bail in Half Hour and Are Freed

PHILADELPHIA Pa. Oct. 15.—(CP)—Raising $95,000 bail within half an hour, twenty men and two women arrested yesterday as suspected members of a huge rum running and wholesale liquor selling ring were released after a hearing before a U.S. Commissioner. The arrests followed investigations of more than six months by Federal authorities.

Five simultaneous raids uncovered two outlaw radio stations, a fleet of motor trucks, a large warehouse, two cutting plants, a like number of "central executive offices" and records which showed a "booze navy" of five rum runners and a mother ship. Operations were backed by a money pool of great size, Federal men said. Federal Attorney Well set the figure at $1,000,000 while Assistant Attorney Haywood Hardy said it probably was more than $5,000,000.

A few hours after the raids, coast guards off Cape May, N.J. captured the suspected mother ship Dan and Edna, a vessel of British registry, and one of the runners, Winnie of New York. The former vessel was without the 12-mile limit, and was allowed to remain free.

C.P.R. COMES TO AID OF NEEDY

Governments Refuse to Pay for Carrying Clothing to Needy in Saskatchewan.

NOW CARRIED FREE.

Although the freight car of clothing which was to have been shipped to the distress areas of Saskatchewan by the congregations of the six Peterborough United Churches has been cancelled, still the local churches will play a part in sending relief to the impoverished western farmers.

The local United Church relief committee, which had the preparation of the freight car load of clothing in hand, was informed this week that all the money subscribed by the Provincial Government of Saskatchewan and the Federal Government for shipping materials into the distress areas had been used up.

Volunteered the Service

However, bales of clothing have been made ready and will be carried to Saskatchewan by the Canadian Pacific Railway free of charge. The C.P.R. volunteered this service to the local committee and the work of preparing the clothing, which had been suspended, has been continued.

Also the six United churches here have joined in "adopting" two church charges in Saskatchewan—Mackinch and Drinkwater. These churches would have been closed for lack of funds had not the Peterborough churches come to the rescue. The local churches will pay all expenses of those two charges in the stricken area for one year. The churches must be kept open, the Peterborough congregations decided, and willingly accepted the burden of supporting those two charges.

1,300 YEARS OF INDIAN HISTORY PICTURED BY ARIZONA FINDS

Traces of Annual Basket-makers Discovered on Isolated Mesa.

IGNORANT OF BOW, ARROW.

(By F. B. Colton, A. P. Science Writer.)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 15.—(A.P.)—Thirteen hundred years of unbroken Indian history are pictured by remains uncovered in Arizona.

On top of an isolated mesa, where Indian tribes lived almost continuously for thirteen centuries, Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, Jr., of the Smithsonian Institution has excavated what he believes to be the most complete cross-section of Indian development ever discovered in the south-west. He spent the summer at the site.

Skeletons, dwelling and implements in successive layers on the mesa trace the rise of Indian civilization from the primitive basket-makers, who were ignorant of the bow and arrow, to the highly-cultured Pueblos, who lived in masonry "apartment houses."

The mesa was occupied from early times. Dr. Roberts believes because several springs supplied it with water and its steep sides and commanding view of the surrounding country made it easy to defend.

Basket Makers.

At the oldest level on the mesa were found skeletons of the long-headed basket-maker people, who porbably came to America in one of the migrations from Asia across Bering Strait, centuries before the time of Christ. They were too ignorant to use handles on their crude stone axes and propelled arrows only with a throwing stick which gave the throwers arm added leverage. The basket-makers lived in pits dug in the ground, covered with brush and earth. They were good at weaving baskets and cloth, and grew corn.

At higher levels Dr. Roberts uncovered houses of the Pueblos, who came to America in a later wave of immigration than the basket-makers, and superseded them on the mesa. The houses show gradual improvement from the primitive pit dwellers to large stone structures from two to four stories high and as much as 120 feet long by 90 feet wide.

In the houses and buried with dead bodies were found beads, pottery, bone and stone implements and weapons illustrating the gradual improvement in arts and crafts over the 1,300 year period.

An O.P.A. Director

CANCER RESEARCH INSTITUTE URGED UPON PROVINCIAL GOV'T

Suggestion is Placed Before Ontario Royal Commission on Cancer

MEET OPEN TO PUBLIC.

TORONTO, Ont. Oct. 15. (CP)—Recommendation of representatives of the Academy of Medicine, that an institute for cancer research, diagnosis, a treatment and distribution of radium be established by the Provincial Government was presented to the Ontario Royal Commission on Cancer sitting at Parliament Buildings yesterday.

Yesterday's sitting which follows the commission's tour of Europe and this continent, is the first to be held in Toronto at which the medical profession and the public have been invited to make suggestions. Dr. Oscar Klotz, Dr. George Wilson and Dr. George Young, all of Toronto, composed the committee which presented the suggestions of the Academy of Medicine.

Each of the three doctors held varying opinions as to the detail of organizing the suggested institute though all agreed on the necessity of such a foundation which would work in co-operation with all existing units.

None in Canada

Dr. Klotz, pointing out there was no research foundation of a comprehensive nature anywhere in Canada at the present time, suggested a definite provision should be made for competent men to do research work in co-operation with the clinical work of the University of Toronto.

Declaring a cancer institute should be the forerunner of state medicine Dr. Wilson said a cancer institute should be a big diagnotic clinic attracting people from all over the province and should have a full-time staff of trained men. He thought they should work under direct Government control though in close contact with the university. He thought the director of the institute should be a physician in preference to either a radiologist or a surgeon.

Agreeing with his colleagues generally, Dr. Young maintained, however, the diagnostic department of the institute should be emphasized and that the patients' own physicians should make the treatment under the direction of the institute.

N. YORK CROWD CHEERS AIMEE

Evangelist Has Now Become a Platinum Blonde—Husband With Her.

EXTREMELY HAPPY.

NEW YORK, October 15. — Aimee Semple McPherson, now a platinum blonde, came to New York recently with her new husband, David Hutton, to be greeted by hundreds through the concourse at the Grand Central Terminal.

Rhapsody in Blue.

She was a radiant rhapsody in blue—elf-blue travelling suit, blue hat of not quite the Empress Eugenie style, blue stockings and blue shoes. She wore orchids. From under her hat peeked platinum-blonde hair.

One reporter recalled her hair had been of titian tint, and remarked to her about the change.

"Why my hair has always been this color—brown," Aimee replied.

Then she got to talking about David, her four square gospel tabernacle co-worker and husband.

"He sings like an angel," she said. "He says he fell in love with me the first time he saw me," she continued. "I suppose I ought to say the same thing but as a matter of fact it was his voice that won me."

Won Aimee's Heart.

The song that won Aimee's heart, she proudly announced, was "Nay, I will not let You Go."

"And as I listened I felt myself blush to the roots of my hair," she added. "He was singing directly to me." That was four months ago, and the first time she had heard her husband-to-be sing. "I knew then, that I had someone to love."

"We were terribly in love," she said.

Returning to the topic of her recent marriage, she said "Yes, ours is a perfect marriage from three points of view: friendship, love and evangelism."

She is en route to Boston to conduct services.

Hutton had little to say, and Aimee continued: "David is a great help to me in my evangelistic work, but he makes me better looking,' she said. "Everybody tells me how wonderful I look since I was married. It has made me feel younger and happier."

Smiles Sweetly.

A callous reporter asked: "Have you been kidnapped lately?"

Aimee smiled sweetly and said: "You can laugh at that kidnap story all you want, but it tripled my membership in Los Angeles. The angel of the Lord is always working in his field to shepherd his flock."

Asked about a certain Joan St. Pierre, who threatened Hutton with a breach of promise suit, David laughed and said jokingly "Why I never saw that girl but nine times in my life."

Their conversation with reporters ended, Aimee and David went on their way to Newark to board an air liner for the trip to Boston.

Prominent In Britain's Politics

At least two prominent young members of the House of Commons will now go to their old constituencies to fight for re-election at the present general election campaign. William Henderson (left), second son of Right Hon. Arthur Henderson has decided not to stand for re-election in order to look after Labor's publicity, while Oliver Baldwin (lower right), son of the Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin has also dropped out. Major G Lloyd George, son of Right Hon. David Lloyd George (top, right), has resigned from his junior ministerial post owing to lack of sympathy with the MacDonald National Government scheme.

OFFICER INSPECTS AMBULANCE UNIT

Local Division of St. John Ambulance Brigade Inspected by District Superintendent.

Making a particularly smart turnout, the members of the local division of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade in command of Divisional Superintendent S. Berry were last evening inspected at the Y.M.C.A. by District Superintendent G. Debney, M.S.M. of the district staff.

Awards were presented on behalf of the Chief Commissioner for the Brigade by Divisional Surgeon G. Murray Fraser, to the following in recognition of their work and services in connection with the local division: Labels—Div. Supt. Berry; Ambulance Officer Brazendale; Medallions—Sergt. L. Tompkins, Corporal R. Blair, L.-Corporal J. Barners, Ptes. A. Barnes, L. Tompkins, T. Smart, D. Smith, C. Fenner, H. Buckley and C. W. Holland.

The parade slate in addition to the above mentioned officers also included Superintendent Miss E. Simmons of the Nursing Division, seven ambulance sisters and sixteen N.C.O.'s and men.

The tests were the same as those used in the Empire competitions in London, England, in June last, and although of a somewhat stiff nature all ranks acquitted themselves well and earned high praise from the inspecting officer.

Italy is launching extensive programs for public works during the winter.

Arrangements Made For Presentations

Members of Central Home and School Association met in the Kindergarten Room of the School on Tuesday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Wilfred Boorman, president, was in the chair, and routine business was discussed.

Mrs. W. Flannery, convenor of the Relief Committee gave a report, which showed the work again under way, and brought [illegible] the members the necessity of supporting this most important [illegible] of the Association.

Final arrangements [illegible] completed for the presentation of entrance certificates in the Legion Hall on October 23rd when a large attendance of members and friends is anticipated. The members thought it advisable to engage Legion Hall for the occasion as in former years the lack of room at the school made it inconvenient for a large crowd. A splendid program, including the Cheerio Entertainers, has been arranged. Further notice will be given in the press.

Winners Announced for Bowling Competition

CLUB HEAD PRAISES MEMBERS FOR CO-OPERATION IN MAKING PAST SEASON SUCH A SUCCESS

Stresses Importance of Work Done by the Twenty-six Committees.

315 ACTIVE MEMBERS.

Some Five Hundred Prizes Awarded by Club in Competition.

A good turnout of bowlers gathered round the festive board at the McDonnel street Clubhouse last evening on the occasion of the second annual banquet of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club Limited.

President J. D. Fitzpatrick was in the chair and gave a comprehensive review of the season that has just drawn to a conclusion, paying high tribute to the entire membership for their co-operation and support which places the local club second to none in the entire district.

Roy E. Disney who shared largely in the president's estimation for the work he has accomplished as secretary of the club, pointed out in the course of a brief address that the club has an active membership of 315 persons, and a list of shareholders approximating some 500 people.

He concurred with the president's remarks that the clubhouse and plant which is beyond compare in the whole of Ontario, possesses full capacities for a largely increased membership, and also urged the members to work towards the common end of boosting the club particularly in regard to an increased number of lawn bowlers next season.

Membership Standing

The present membership is made up of 147 men bowlers; 59 lady bowlers; 36 men and 25 lady tennis players; 17 boys and 27 girls, junior members; and 4 associate members.

Mr. Fitzpatrick in the course of his review of the season's activity stressed the importance of the importance of the work that has been performed by each of the twenty-six committees. He made special reference to the house committee under chairman Mark Bredin and the games committee with Ben. Chesler at its head.

Both these committees, and indeed the same may be said for most of the other committees, functioned with clockwork precision throughout the year, meeting at least once a week in the wintertime and more often than that during the lawn bowling season.

Mr. Chesler was personally complimented by the president for his work and on the fact that the schedule games were carried through on time. He also made mention of the services performed by the greens committee under Walter Oke, and the "Friday Night" committee headed by A. Gillis, and which engineered the Friday night tournaments without a hitch.

As chairman of the publicity committeed H. B. Cowan was also the recipient of high praise and in connection with thanks to him the name of The Peterborough Examiner was also coupled.

For his untiring work as treasurer and for the part he took in the stock selling campaign J. T. Braund also received the thanks of the chairman and the membership.

President Fitzpatrick was most thorough in his appreciation to all who have made and who are making the club what it is, and as Past-president Mark Bredin pointed out he omitted no one in his remarks about the past season except the president of the club. "There are not many men in the club who have worked so hard for its success this year as Mr. Fitzpatrick. He has put in duty on every committee and has attended at practically every meeting of the games committee and at all other committee meetings was there if it was at all possible," remarked Mr. Bredin.

Five Hundred Prizes

He also stated that during the season the games committee had handled some 500 prizes awarded by the club to its members and visiting bowlers in competition.

The treasurer, J. T. Braund, had some constructive observations to make regarding the finances of the club, and gave the members the assurance that the money had been handled carefully and spent as judicially as possible in a manner which he thought would meet with the approval of all concerned.

The ladies of the club who looked after the catering, and who left nothing to be desired in this regard were accorded a hearty vote of thank on the motion of the chairman. Speeches were interspersed with community singing and solos by E. Coleman, Robert Hendry and George Coleman, gold medallist. Martin Chenhall, A.R.C.O. provided the accompaniments.

Responses were made by the chairmen of the various committees and several of the newer members of the club were called upon for a few remarks. Without exception they were all agreed that they had had a splendid season of good healthy sport and companionship in the club, and in some cases assured the chairman that they had new members lined up ready for next season.

Reg Fox, an old associate of the club, and previous to leaving this city a short time ago, one of the club's most enthusiastic members was also present, and was called upon for a speech.

The prize winners were as follows:

GALT REFUSES SMITH FALLS' REQUEST

Waist-High Balls Bad for Simmons

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 15.—(CP)—The batting weakness of Al Simmons, whose nine hits led the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series, is described by Gabby Street, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, thusly:

"Simmons batting weakness was a space about a foot in diameter, waist high, through which Card pitchers tried to throw their offerings. And when they didn't find that spot, good night."

RUGBY TOURNEY IN AID OF POOR

Yale, Dartmouth, Holy Cross and Browns Taking Part.

WEST FALLING IN LINE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15 (C.P.)—A quick response to Owen D. Young's call for football to help the unemployed has brought the prospect of what probably will turn out to be the greatest gridiron carnival the United States ever has seen in the first two weeks of December. To-day, less than 24 hours after the chairman of President Hoover's committee on the mobilization of relief resources issued his request for football aid, games have been arranged involving ten of the East's outstanding football schools; the Western Conference has laid the groundwork for more battles, and various other colleges and even professional teams are falling in line.

The Army-Navy game at New York, Dec. 12, originally the one big charity clash, now takes place as the climax of a great football festival, while two gridiron tournaments involving Yale, Dartmouth, Holy Cross and Brown on the one hand and Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia on the other, have been arranged for the week preceding the service clash.

The two tournaments, which bring a new idea into Eastern football, were announced last night through E. K. Hall, chairman of the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee, at the request of the colleges. The four New England institutions will meet in the Yale bowl, Dec. 5, while the others will come together at New York, Dec. 9. In each tournament, two 20-minute preliminary games will be played, with the opposition decided by lot, and the two winners will meet in a 20-minute final.

CANUCKS TIE BOWLMEN FOR LEAGUE LEAD

Former Takes 10-9 Decision From Sugar Bowl in Tuesday's Games.

BRIDGENORTH WINS 5-2.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—There was even a larger crowd than usual in attendance at the ball game on Tuesday night in the Rink. The first game was between the Canucks and the Sugar Bowl team and the win of the former in a score 10—9, in a five-innings' fixture, ties these teams for first place in Senior section. If City Service defeat Decks' on Friday night, the tie with be a triangle, and there will be a very stiff battle. The games are all keen, but Tuesday's game was close in nearly every instance. Price struck out eight of the Sugar Bowl team, while Corbett scored three of the runs for his aggregation.

The umpires were E. Connors at the plate, and L. Forsythe at bases. The line-up was:—

Canucks.—Price, p; Ranger, c; Jones, 1b; Crary, 2b; Creighton, 3b; Hefferman, rss; Curry, lss; Guerin, rf; Rainey, lf.

Sugar Bowl.—Simmons, p; Calladine, c; McLeish, 1b; Dundas, 2b; Weese, 3b; Sturgeon, rss; Willshaw, lss; Corbett, rf; Dallin, lf.

Sugar Bowl ..... 0 6 2 0 1— 9

BRIDGENORTH WINS 5—2

The second game, which ran seven innings in less than an hour's play, was chiefly remarkable for the small score and the number of strike-outs. Forsythe struck out 20 and Fitzgerald 13 and walked 1. Connors' home run was a feature of the third innings. The score was 5—2 for Bridgenorth. Nicholls and Darling were the two contributors to the Selwyn counters, while Connors scored three for Bridgenorth; Forsythe and Hardill making up the total with one each. E. Briant at the plate and R. Chittick at bases were umpires and had a lively session, as both teams had a regular retinue of fans who were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the good plays. The line-up was:—

Selwyn.—Fitzgerald, p; J. McConkey, c; D. McConkey, 1b; Shearer, 2b; Darling, 3b; Wilson, rss; Olsen, lss; G. Nicholls and Blewett, field.

HEAVY SLUGGING

The third and last game ran up the large score of 23—22 in the hard-fought battle between "Curly" Northey's Business Mens' team and Rufus Payne's Warsaw boys. The former team was short several of its star performers and filled the ranks with school boys, who did very well, but were hardly big enough to figure in a man's game. The youngsters were plucky, but were outclassed. There were three home runs which, was a record for the league this year; Harold Hamblin and Joe Blewett making one each for the Business Men, and Bob Bell one for the Warsaw team, the winners in the game. The score was tied over and over again, and the game was snappy from first to last. The umpires were E. Connors at the plate, and A. Chittick at bases.

The line-up was:—

Business Men.—L. Sabatino, p; C. Northey, c; H. Hamblin, 1b; O'Neill, 2b; Charlton, 3b; Blewett, rss; Chittick, lss; Loyst, rf; Allen, lf.

Warsaw.—Hamblin, p; Darling, c; H. Payne, 1b; Bowen, 2b; Sloan, 3b; R. Payne, rss; Bell, lss; Thompson, rf; G. Payne, lf.

Score by innings:—

Business Men ... 2 1 6 0 4 7 2—22
Warsaw ..... 2 1 4 2 5 6 3—23

The games on Friday evening will be as follows:

7 p.m.—Decks vs. City Service.
8 p.m.—Bridgenorth vs Business Men;

and at 9 p.m. the tie game between Selwyn and Warsaw will be played off; the game was played on Sept. 29 and resulted in a score of 11—11. This play-off will be worth seeing as the teams are well matched.

On Tuesday evening, October 20, a horseshoe tournament will be held, the draw being made at 7 p.m. This will be a special feature of the evening's program.

Appeals To Rugby Colleges For Aid

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 15.—(C. P.)—A trumpet call to college football to hit the line for the unemployed was sounded today by Owen D. Young.

Rallying college officials, players and students to the cause, the electrical magnate disclosed that the nation-wide drive to have college elevens roll up a golden barrage against want is already under way.

BRITAIN'S EX-CHAMPION NOW A BARBER

Phil Scott, the so-called heavyweight championship contender, who has star-gazed from more rings than any other boxer, was definitely and finally knocked into retirement by Larry Gains, the Canadian champion. Although his British supporters admit that he is no longer champion or even a contender for a championship, they do admit that he is a first-class barber. Here he is in his barber shop at Thornton Health, England, where he is said to regale his customers with tales of how he almost whipped everybody.

SMITH FALLS FANS WRATHY OVER REFUSAL OF TERRIERS

Eastern Champions Seek Series With O.B.A.A. Titlists for Ontario Honors.

ANVIL CHORUS IN SESSION.

SMITH FALLS, Ont., Oct. 15.—This railroad town, still celebrating its first Eastern Ontario baseball title today, had a dash of cold water tossed on its aspirations for Provincial honors when word was received that Galt Terriers, O.B.A.A. champions had definitely turned down the challenge for a Provincial series recently forwarded by the Eastern Ontario Association.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific Recreation Club, and the E.O.B.A. were up in arms over the refusal of the older athletic body to accept the Smiths Falls challenge, and public opinion was all for having the local baseball club press its claim for a series with the O.B.A.A. winners, with the Provincial title hanging in the balance.

Manager Is Indignant.

Harry O'Neil, manager of the greatest team to ever represent Smiths Falls was highly indignant over Galt's refusal to accept the gauntlet flung down by his railroad club. To newspapermen he offered his opinion that the Eastern Ontario Baseball Association was fully as important an amateur body as was the O.B.A.A. and had every right to compete against the Western winners for the Provincial title. He intimated that the O.B.A.A. officials had deliberately refused to recognize the senior rating of the Eastern Baseball Association, and had declared their intention of claiming the Ontario title and possibly the right to represent Canada in the Olympic games next year.

Canadian Pacific Recreation Club officials were not a bit backward in stating their opinion of the treatment of the local team, and the E.O.B.A. was receiving from the western loop, and were emphatic in announcing their intention of bringing Smith Falls' claim to Ontario baseball honors before the Province as a whole.

Anxious For Game.

The prospect of additional glory in possible selection as Canadian representatives at the Olympics set an already simmering baseball pot over the boiling mark today, and members of the railroad team all expressed a strong desire to play the Terriers for the Provincial title.

Smith Falls, after watching the railroaders decisively subdue the best teams Eastern Ontario can offer, unhesitatingly state that the local squadron can down the O.B.A.A champions if a series can be arranged, and many taunting remarks as to the worthiness of the Terriers to hold the Ontario championship were heard today as baseball fans gathered along the streets and heatedly discussed the baseball angle.

Hammers were clanking merrily on Galt's and the O.B.A.A. reputation as the anvil chorus of disgruntled and thoroughly aroused baseball fans went into action, and the opinion that Smith Falls was entitled to equal rights with the Terriers, and a square deal was undoubtedly unanimous.

Canada grows this Tobacco for You

Handy Pocket Tin 15c.

½-pound, screw-top humidor, 75c.

From a photograph of one of Canada's vast tobacco plantations in Southern Ontario, where Picobac is grown, ripened and cured.

Picobac's the name. It comes to you from southern Ontario—the land of plump, tasty peaches and melons—and unexcelled Burley tobacco. It's a gift from Canada's tobacco plantations to Canada's pipe smokers, and all who smoke it show good tobacco judgement.

Picobac is grown only from the finest Burley seed. It's always mild, mellow and long-burning, with a rich flavour that's easier to experience than describe.

—and don't forget, you get more tobacco for your money.

JACK SHARKEY SHOWS VARIETY OF MOODS IN CARNERA BATTLE

Boston Gob is One of Queerest Cases in Boxing Ring Annals.

SAVED FROM FUTILE ACT.

By JOHN KIERNAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. — Jack Sharkey hit Carnera Carnivorous (Horribilis) with a lovely left to the chin and things began to happen in a big way. As tall as the mighty oak on Mount Ida beneath the woodman's pow, Primo wavered, spread his arms abroad and crashed. Dust from the canvas rose in huge clouds. The ring platform quaked and quivered under the terrific impact of that gross tonnage.

It was an awe-inspiring sight, like the dynamiting of a mountain, the collapse of some huge bridge, the toppling of some gigantic chimney. One moment Primo the Ponderous was standing there, huge, impressive, menacing, almost overwhelming in a monstrous way, the mammoth of the prize ring. The next moment he was a vast, mountainous inert and helpless mass plunging backward to the canvas. The very crash was astounding. The steel grand stand seemed to quiver under the shock. In the Stevens kitchen under the right-field stand the gas blew out and the pots and pans danced the rumba on their hooks. Doubtless the seismograph at Fordham University registered the shock on the revolving drum.

But that was the only the start of the fun.

Jack Sharkey's Turn.

When an oak tree falls, it stays down. When a building, a bridge or a gigantic chimney collapses, that's the end of it and the wreckers haul away the debris. But Primo the Ponderous rose up again. He did it on the instalment plan. Almost up, he caught a sign from his corner and sank to one knee again. He had gone down this second time without being hit.

Then Sharkey began to perform. It was his turn to steal the spotlight. He barked at the referee that Carnera had disqualified himself. He waved his arms and raved. The referee signed the men to continue fighting. The Sharkey who laid low a huge opponent with one blow disappeared and the hysterical Sharkey who put up that weird performance with Phil Scott stood in his place. But he didn't stand there long. Sprinting across the ring like a Charley Borah or a Percy Williams, he tried to take a headlong dive through the ropes. It was a fine swan dive as far as it went. It might have earned him a trial on the flying trapeze. But his stout manager blocked his exit and Jack bounced back into the ring.

That saved him. He was about to perpetrate one more foolish and futile act in a career quaintly sprinkled with such episodes. This time Sharkey had to take the second guess and stay in there. Thereafter he fought as so many spectators believe he always could fight if he would control his temper and concentrate on doing the other fellow some damage.

A Queer Case.

Once he began to work on Primo the Ponderous, Sharkey put in a brisk and entertaining evening. He labored industriously at his trade of parking leather on Carnera's huge frame. He was in there earning his money. He was showing that he was a first-class fighter.

But he was showing something more and that's the part that makes Sharkey such a queer case in ring annals. He was showing up the Sharkey who dawdled with Heeney, who sulked with Risko and who loafed almost insolently with Walker. He was proving that he had, in a way, baited the spectators at those matches. He had not earned his money. He gave little or nothing in return for big purses.

But when he came to what might have been the last turn in the road for him, he slammed and banged a huge opponent all over the ring. In the fifteenth round Sharkey was merely punching the heavy bag. He was rocking Carnera from side to side. But he was putting his heart and head and all his muscles in it. He was giving all he had. If he had followed that line of action through his career, the great boo that greeted his entrance into the ring would not have been heard at Ebbets Field on Monday night. He would have received on his entrance the tribute that he received on his victorious exit, roun's of ringing cheers for a good fighter who put up a real fight.

Art Smith Accepts Canadiens' Terms

TORONTO, Oct. 15—Art Smith, hard checking defence player who played with Ottawa Senators last year, will perform this season with Montreal Canadiens. Listed among the six Ottawa players not allotted to any National League club following the suspension of the Ottawa franchise, Smith has agreed to terms offered him by the world's champions, and will report there at the start of the training season.

He went to Senators at the start of last season from Toronto Leafs in the deal that brought the "King" to the Queen City. A hard hitting player with a good turn of speed, he should work in well with the Canadien outfit.

Leo Bourgeault, Ray Kinsella, Art Gagne or Pettinger have not yet been picked up by any club.

R. McLAUGHLIN LEADING FIELD

Averages 166 Points in First Day's Play of Singles Tourney.

FOR FOUR COUNTIES.

Only ten horseshoe pitchers took part in the Four-County Singles, yesterday afternoon, owing to the rainy weather, the other entries failing to show up. Consequently, the tournament had to be continued this morning. Victoria, Durham, Northumberland and Peterborough pitchers were eligible to try for the prizes. The competition called for each contestant to pitch 100 shoes for a possible 300 points.

At the close of the afternoon yesterday, Russell McLaughlin of Burketon led the field, throwing 41 ringers to bring his score up to 166 points. His brother, W. McLaughlin, had one more ringer, but just 154 points to come second for the day. Twenty-year-old Roy McLaughlin was next with 153, followed by W. Fairbairn of Lakefield with 152. The next highest count was 148 made by W. Nichols of Bridgenorth, while J. Cole of that village had one point less. D. A. Allen of Lakefield followed with 142, being trailed by J. Smith of Burketon with 117, H. Gravelle of Lakefield with 111, and H. Fowler of Best's Station with 38 points. The remainder of the singles were to be completed to-day.

Bowling Notes

Pin Boy

The season of the year when the bowling fans thoughts turn to the pastime of toppling five pins has arrived and consequently the crash and rattle of tumbling maple is continually heard during the evenings in the vicinity of the Duffus Recreation Academy where the majority of local bowlers are working the kinks out of their arms in preparation for a strenuous season.

Thanksgiving Day was the busiest day for the pin boys so far this season as most of the dyed-in-the-wool followers of the game turned out to try their skill in securing either a turkey or a goose with the result that the competition was exceptionally keen. Mrs. W. Zeihr walked away with the ladies' prize, a turkey when she spilled 538 pins to lead the high three scores. Leo Martyn showed quite clearly that his bowling arm has not slowed up any by smacking 852 pins in three games which gave him a turkey also. Fred Hickey's five game total of 1192 took the goose.

The aggressive Caledonian Club eight teams strong was the first organized league to use the alleys this season as they started their program last Saturday night and hope to enjoy a perfect season. This is a mixed league of men and women. This week most of the larger leagues will be starting off, chief of which are the C. G. E. Engineers with eight entries, the C. G. E. Shop League with more than twenty-six quintets of maple smashers and the Examiner League composed of four girls' teams and eight of men.

The pilots of the Mens' City League will hold a meeting soon to make the necessary arrangements for their first annual banquet which will be held in the very near future. This evenings' entertainment will take the place of the trip to the C. B. A. tournament at Toronto which usually climaxed the season and undoubtedly the league will begin bowling shortly after the feed.

Four bowling alleys have been opened at Port Hope it has been learned and this fact may encourage inter-alley competition to some extent as the jump to Oshawa was usually so far as to discourage frequent visits.

Together with this is the fact that locally the new Y. M. C. A building on George street houses four splendid alleys which are crowded every evening by the members while the K. of C. who have not as yet started the season will operate the four alleys again and with three recreation centres going continually, five pins should be given a decided boost.

CASUAL COMMENT

To-morrow's horseshoe tournaments at the Plowing Match ought to draw record entry lists and crowds. The open tourney for men will be a great battle with some of the classiest tossers in the province at it. And a large turnout is expected in the ladies' open singles which start at two in the afternoon. Gold medals and other prizes will be given the winners.

• • • • • • •

Two veterans of the barnyard-golf sport from down St. Catharines way arrived yesterday. H. Brady and G. Wiley have won matches all over Canada, the latter being one of the oldest and finest pitcher in the game to-day. They will be seen in action to-morrow.

• • • • • • •

W. Fairbairn, of Lakefield, is a pretty consistent player. We watched him for a while yesterday, and it was just one ringer after another. However, the McLaughlin clan from Victoria had an edge on the field during the afternoon, as they did the previous day.

• • • • • • •

Two of our local exponents of the game, T. Drum and F. Doughty, were entered in the singles but they postponed their trys until to-day when the rain began to come down. Well, it's no fun tossing shoes in the midst of a shower, but just think of the swell alibi of slippery irons that could be used if necessary.

• • • • • • •

We asked Mr. Campbell, who represents the Diamond Clock Horseshoe Company of Toronto at these tournaments, just what he thought of the pitchers of this district. His answer was, "Why, you have some real good shoe tossers in these parts, some that might go far if they would get into more regular matches, as they need confidence more than anything else. At that though, they're improving each year around here."

• • • • • • •

November 11th is the tentative date set for the amateur boxing show here, it was pretty well agreed upon last night when the local fight moguls met. The session was held in their new quarters on Hunter street where the boys are working out these evenings. The date will be definitely known within a few days.

• • • • • • • • •

Jerry Coughlin has a bunch of mittsers rapidly rounding into shape, some of them well-known ringmen around here, including a few scrappers who were favorites when the bouts used to be held at Victoria Hall. Just where indoor matches will be held this winter has yet to be decided upon as there are several suitable spots around town.

• • • • • • •

The All Saints' Athletic Club is figuring on having a number of local simon pures showing in the squared ring this winter, and between the two clubs and boys from Lindsay or Toronto every once in a while, several classy fight cards should be run off during the cold weather. There's no doubt but this is a real boxing town as long as the fans get plenty of action.

• • • • • • •

Incidentally, these two clubs, Fosters and the Saints, will have relay teams representing them in the "Y" road races Remembrance Day. The entries are beginning to come into Doug Loomis and as it's first come, first served, others teams should shoot their names in.

• • • • • • •

The local Lawn Bowling League, which wisely entered the Central Ontario Lawn Bowling Association this past year, is now thinking seriously of going in with the provincial body, and so getting into the Ontario playdowns, and perhaps the Dominion playoffs. It is a great idea, and it's just possible that some of the finals might come to Peterborough next year. It will be discussed further at an early meeting.

Davis Is Sentenced To a Six-Month Term

Convicted on Friday of stealing $3.60 from the Red Indian service station on September 10, Ralph Davis was sentenced this morning by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. to six months in the Ontario Reformatory. The fact that Davis had time to steal only $3.60 from the cash register before he was chased by David Tucker, manager of the station, saved him from getting a longer term.

"In view of your criminal record I should naturally have given you a more severe penalty," the magistrate told Davis. "But under the Code where less than ten dollars is stolen the maximum is six months."

In a plea for leniency, Davis stated that he was a married man with five children and "There's a tough winter coming on, Your Worship."

W. M. SINGER'S UNNAMED COLT WINS THE MIDDLE PARK STAKES

Golden Hair Hose Clinches Position as Challenger for Epsom Derby.

RACE WORTH $20,000.

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 15. — (CP)—W. M. G. Singer's unnamed colt by Gainsborough out of Golden Hair to-day decisively won the Middle Park stakes, and practically clinched the position of being challenger for the Epsom derby next year.

The Golden Hair colt won by two lengths over Leaningdale, with E. Esmond's Short Hand third another length and a half back. Five ran the six furlongs of the great fixture for two-year-olds.

The winner started odds on favorite at four to eleven, Leaningdale at 100 to eight and Snort Hand at four to one.

The triumph duplicated victories in previous important events, including the famous Champagne stakes at Doncaster last month, when the Golden Hair colt was also odds-on favorite.

The Middle Park stakes has been run since 1866 and is worth approximately $20,000. Two more important races for two-year-olds remain, the Criterion stakes and the Dewhurst Plate, but even before these are run the Golden Hair colt stands as the finest two-year-old of the season.

Fortune In Gems Is Found In Trunks

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15.— (C P.)—Mrs. Ida Wood's forty trunks have produced a fortune in gems nearly equaling the $900,000 fortune in currency she carried on her 70-pound person.

The examination of the last of the trunks was being continued today. Many pieces of jewelry found yesterday had been stripped of their jewels, Mrs. Wood apparently having taken out the stones and hidden them separately. Most of the stones were found in different hidding places. Some still are missing. Her nephew and guardian, Otis Wood, was hopeful the missing gems would be found in the trunks that remained to-day to be searched.

WINNING POINTS SCORED IN LAST MINUTE OF GAME

A strong, battling attack in the final quarter, which persisted in the face of several repulses, brought a last-minute victory to the Tricolor of Queen's University, Kingston, at Varsity Stadium on Saturday, Oct. 10, in the opening game of the intercollegiate season, and the points that gave the 1930 champions a 3 to 2 victory over Varsity were scored with but 51 seconds to play. Up until the last minute of the game the visitors had been held scoreless, while the Blue and White had scored two singles, one in the second on a touch in goal, and the other in the third on a rouge, both on kicks by Jack Sinclair. For three-quarters of the game the Blue looked much the better team, even if their margin in points was small, but in the final period Queen's came strong and battled through to victory. Here we see TOP—a bunch of the Kingston visitors rally round to stop a Varsity end run. The laddie with the ball is being brought down very definitely. BOTTOM—Talk about moral support! Look at these fair co-eds rooting for the old Alma Mater. In another minute they'll be out on the field too.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

FARMER BROWN'S BOY SEES BIGHORN.

Each one some talent doth possess
To make of living a success.
—Old Mother Nature.

Of course, if we do not make the best possible use of such talents as we have been given we cannot hope to attain success. And what is success for one may be failure for another. Success does not necessarily mean the doing of great things; it means making the most of such opportunities as you may have. So one with few opportunities who makes the most of these is as truly successful as one who makes the most of great opportunities. Old Mother Nature has given to each certain talents peculiarly adapted to the needs of life in the locality where each must live. Who makes the best use of these talents lives successfully.

To Farmer Brown's Boy the steep, barren, rocky upper slopes and rock slides of the great mountains seemed the last place in all the Great World where anyone could live or would want to live, yet he had found Whistler the Marmot and Little Chief the Pika and Billy Surefoot the Mountain Goat living there, and, to judge by what he had seen, happy and content with no desire to live elsewhere. And this was true, for to each had been given certain talents peculiarly fitting him for life in such surroundings so that he could succeed where others would fail.

Thus Billy had been given surefootedness, perfect balance fearlessness in climbing steep rocks and a warm white coat for double protection. All these Billy had made the best possible use of, so that he not only lived well and happily on those inhospitable mountain slopes, but had no desire to live anywhere else. He had made a success of living.

Farmer Brown's Boy was thinking of these things as he climbed the upper slopes of a neighboring mountain and wondering if he would find there anyone else as well adapted to life amid such bleak and forbidding surroundings. At the foot of the mountain he had passed through a forest of great trees. The higher he climbed the smaller became the trees, until they were no longer as high as his head and at last ceased altogether. He was above the tree line. Above were rocky slopes and mighty cliffs. It was a world of rock with grasses and other low-lying plants only in sheltered places. He sat down in the shelter of a big rock, for the wind was strong and not too warm, and he was tired and heated and out of breath.

Not a living thing had he seen since leaving the trees behind. There had been no sharp warning whistle of a Marmot no bleating bark of a Pika or Cony, no glimpse of Talons the Golden Eagle, nothing to indicate that anyone lived in these rocky wastes. From where he sat he had a wonderful view of magnificent cliffs and crags and towering snow-capped peaks. It was truly magnificent and awesome, but at the same time it was desolate.

"No matter how grand a scene may be, without some living thing it is depressing and gives one a feeling of desolation," thought he. "From here I cannot see even a green plant, nothing but rock and white snow-caps. It is wonderful but it needs life to make it anything but desolate."

And then Farmer Brown's Boy gave a little gasp of surprise, delight and excitement and for a moment held his breath. In that moment the whole scene had undergone a wonderful change. It was no longer desolate, for with head held high, outlined sharply against the sky, a newcomer had stepped out on a ledge high above him. His coat was grayish brown, somewhat like that of Lightfoot the Deer, with a creamy white patch around the tail which was very short. He was about the size of Lightfoot, but his legs lacked the slim grace of the latter's and he was heavier built with a thicker neck. Nor did he have spreading graceful antlers like those of Lightfoot. Instead he wore a pair of great thick horns that curved up over his head and out and down on either side of his face, the tips even turning upward again.

Farmer Brown's Boy never had seen him before but knew him instantly. "Bighorn!" he exclaimed under his breath. "Bighorn the Mountain Sheep! He is magnificent. Never will I forget this sight."

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 15th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 3:10 p.m. to 5:20 p.m., and from 8:45 p.m. to 10:35 p.m. The danger hours are from 11:35 a.m. to 2 p.m., and from 5:55 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The stars presage a day of quiet happiness on October 15th, although there will be no special achievement accomplished. There will be, apparently, no inducement to exert one's strength or to test out one's ability. Routine and obligatory work will be the safe bet, and nothing out of the ordinary should be attempted. Toward eventide, conditions become unsettled.

A child born on this October 15th will be excessively optimistic. This will help it at times, but on other occasions it will be a drawback, as it will never be in the frame of mind to discount dangerous contingencies. Its horoscope denotes many ups and downs, a life full of happenings, and much travel.

You, if born on October 15th, are impetuous, mercurial and shifting. You have too exalted an opinion of yourself to ever become a good executive or control others. Your temperament is too changeable to inspire respect for your opinions. You are too variable to warrant or bespeak confidence. On the other hand, you can be, when you so desire, sympathetic and kind. If the one on whom these virtues are expended does not, however, fall in with your wishes and acquiesce in your ideas, sympathy and kindness are replaced by indifference and "stoniness." To secure your co-operation or assistance, it is necessary for the one seeking it to sink his or her individualism, and follow your lead.

If a woman, and married, your home will be run perfectly, your children will be well trained—as distinguished from "brought up"—and, if he allows it, you will dominate your husband. The result will be machine line, but not very human, and it will not endure as a permanent institution.

Both men and women, born on October 15th, are slaves to what they consider their duty and principles, and in their own domain resent any elasticity. If in business, they should go it on their own, as frequent clashes (Copyright, 1931, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

J. R. Hickson, South Ops, Taken by Death—Born in Ennismore.

PERJURY CASE.

LINDSAY, Oct. 14.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The death occurred yesterday in South Ops of J. R. Hickson, in his seventy-fifth year. The deceased was born in Ennismore Township, Peterborough County, where he resided for a great many years before coming to this section. He is survived by two sons and seven daughters. A son, Leo, and a daughter, Mrs. John McCabe, reside in Peterborough. Funeral takes place to St. Mary's church and cemetery, Lindsay, on Thursday morning.

William Millen, Jr., of Gooderham, has been committed for trial by Police Magistrate Jordan on the charge of perjury laid by the Crown. This charge was laid immediately after the accused had been acquitted by His Honor Judge Swayze on the charge of stealing a mackinaw coat. R. I. Moore, counsel for Millen, does not intend to have the case tried until the Court of General Sessions some time in December, when accused will be tried by judge and jury.

From Cavendish, Peterborough County, come a story of the depredations caused by a wolf pack. Two head of cattle, the property of James Hutchinson, of that township, were attacked in the field and killed by prowling wolves, two of which fell before Mr. Hutchinson's rifle. Wolves are reported plentiful in the norther part of the country, and the farmers are greatly disturbed at their boldness in raiding barnyards, etc.

COMPRESSED AIR DRIVES AUTO 150 MILES AT 35 MILES AN HOUR

Machine Carries 200 Pound Pressure Tank—Uses 10 Pounds Every 1.3 Mile.

MUCH TO BE DONE.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 15.—Roy J. Meyers, Los Angeles inventor, believes both motor cars and airplanes eventually may use compressed air motors, eliminating the fire hazards and weight of fuel.

The inventor, who has experimented with air devices for two decades, this week demonstrated a car of his own design which achieved a speed of 35 miles an hour on a 150-mile trip from Los Angles to Bakersfield, Calif.

But much work remains to be done, Meyers said, adding that 'I wish I knew myself when it can be put in general use.

A tank with a capacity of 200 pounds air pressure drives the experimental car.

Meyers said the fuel consumption averages about ten pounds for every 1.3 miles traveled and leakage of air is but ten per cent. The only noise is the hiss of air from exhaust valves.

The automobile, demonstrated before newspapermen and the backers of a company formed to finance the invention, has a radial engine with six cyclinders mounted on a standard chasis.

By a single throttle, the driver feeds air into the cylinders, forcing the pistons up and down. A device has been developed to recapture the spent air and compress it anew. The full tank is heated by a battery, expanding the air.

Meyers' other invention include a compressed air car brake.

BOWLING LEAGUE IS RE-ORGANIZED

Loop Fostered By Men's Class of Mark Street United Church.

The Mark Street United Church Bowling League has re-organized for the year, with carpet bowling matches being held each Wednesday evening, at which players from all over the city participate. Thomas Hendry is instructor this year, and James Ellis is president. The League is fostered by the Men's Class of the church, which meets every Sunday afternoon.

Next Sunday evening, the club will have the church filled with men, and the Rev. Charles Daniel will speak on the subject, "Men, men, men, are useful now and then!" A special men's choir, a quartette from the west side and an informal singsong starting at 6.45 will provide an entertaining evening for members.

Astor Estate Refund May Be Set Aside

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15. (CP) The New York American says the United States Government will move to have set aside the $10,000,000 in taxes and $6,000,000 in interest, which the Government refunded to the estate of Viscount William Waldorf Astor.

The newspaper says that Assistant Federal Attorney Coleman of New York, recently returned from a trip to England where he obtained depositions from Viscount Astor's servants, learned that Viscount Astor set a trust fund of $48,000,000 aside for his two sons in anticipation of death, thus evading an inheritance tax.

Federal Judge Caffey, who ordered the refund on July 1, will be asked to reconsider his decision in view of the depositions, the American said.

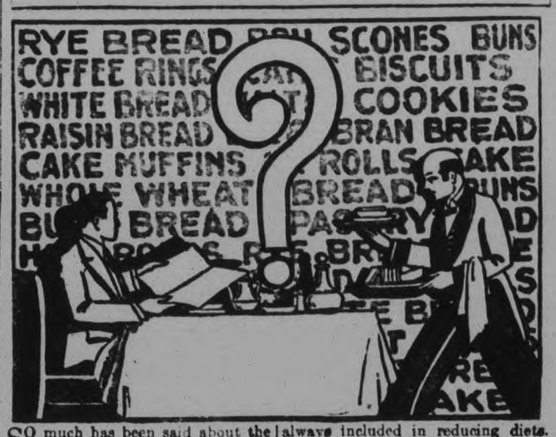
Food Expert Finds White Bread Attack Unjustified



SO much has been said about the value of whole wheat bread, some of it correct and some exaggerated, that it has been overdone by the extremists and the pendulum is swinging back again to a wiser variety in bread, according to Dr. R. E. Lee, research director of Standard Brands Limited, in a talk before Canadian bakers.

"Periodically," says Dr. Lee, "the agitation for whole wheat bread breaks out like an epidemic, runs its course and dies out. No one can justly attack bread, be it white or brown. Both have a place in the diet. Flour is one of the most completely digestible foods we have. All varieties of bread are good, but one would not think so after reading the articles of those who advocate the use of only whole wheat bread.

"A diet including too much coarse bread so stimulates the intestinal muscles that food materials are not as completely absorbed as when they pass through the alimentary tract at a normal rate. This is why whole wheat bread is always included in reducing diets.

"Much that is written about white flour is carelessly applied to white bread, forgetting that white bread as made today is a highly supplemented food, containing salt, fat, milk, yeast and usually malt extract.

"White bread should have as prominent a place in the diet as any other, but no single variety of bread should be exclusively eaten. The value of variety of breads is unquestioned. Variety of breads not only supplies a variety of ingredients so helpful in supporting maintenance in normal growth, but it stimulates the appetite. A tired appetite will often result from an unbalanced diet. Refresh it with variety and see it respond.

"Everyone should eat plenty of bread, for it is a splendid aid to the body, but we should be careful not to dull our appetite with sameness. We should discover new delicacies in the variety of breads in the bake shop just around the corner."

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 4

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

It was three days before Tarzan located the point at which von Harben had been abandoned by his men, as a heavy rain and wind-storm had obliterated the trail, but at last he stumbled upon the tent, which had blown down, but nowhere could he see any signs of von Harden's trail.

Ascending diagonally and in a westerly direction in the hope of crossing von Harden's trail, Tarzan moved in the opposite direction from that taken by the man he sought. Presently he encountered an almost perpendicular barrier along the base of which he picked his way among the rocks.

So engrossed was the ape-man in the dangerous business of picking his way along the mountainside that he gave little heed to anything beyond the necessities of the trail, and so he did not see the little group of black warriors gazing up at him from the shelter of a clump of trees far down the slope.

As Tarzan advanced his body was pressed closely against a granite face of the cliff while he sought a foothold upon the ledge of loose rubble. Where the footing was narrowest a stone gave beneath his foot, throwing him off his balance. Nkima shrieked and leaped from his shoulder as Tarzan lunged down the embankment.

Chicago Tribune Solves the Problem Of Printing Colors in Daily Papers

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15.—The Chicago Tribune announces it has signed contracts to purchase nine press units which will make it possible to print pages of its daily newspaper in "every color and shade in the spectrum."

"The same color schemes produced in many magazines and weekly publications," it was said, "will be available for editorial and advertising purposes within two or three months."

The problem of producing color combination and printing one color over another at the speed necessary to publish a daily newspaper has been solved, the Tribune said. Clear color effects, comparable with color printing of comic sections, have been obtained.

The Tribune will print four pages of full color combinations daily, and "an indefinite number of two color pages which have been available for some time." Red, blue and yellow inks will be used to achieve "any color combination, even black.

An experimental color press unit in the Tribune plant has proved a success, the newspaper said.

Weddings

JUSTICE—CAMPBELL
A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized this morning at Knox United Church Manse, when Rev. William McDonald united in marriage Mary Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell, Westcott street, and Claude Wellington Justice, B.Sc., Noranda, Quebec, son of Mr. and John Justice, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The bride wore a lovely gown of beige chiffon and lace, fashioned on long tight-fitting lines. Her hat was a small two-tone beige knit velvet, with shoes and gloves to match, and her only ornament was a rope of pearls.

Mrs. William Archibald was her sister's only attendant, wearing a pretty blue gown of lace-trimmed chiffon and matching hat. Both bride and bridesmaid wore corsage bouquets of Ophelia roses.

William Archibald acted as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a brown leather purse, to the bridesmaid a crystal necklace and to the best man a scarf.

Following a honeymoon spent motoring through New York State, via Toronto, the bride and groom will take up residence at Noranda, Quebec. For travelling, the bride wore a becoming brown and beige ensemble. Her dress was of brown chiffon velvet with beige eyelet lace trimming, with brown velvet hat, shoes, gloves and purse to match. With these she wore a coat of brown Chongo cloth with collar of beige caracul.

Obituary

Mrs. Margaret Langley McCarthy
The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Langley McCarthy, was held this morning from her late residence, Park street, to the Sacred Heart Church, at nine o'clock.

Rev. C. J. Carroll, of St. Peter's Cathedral, celebrated the Requiem Mass, and the children's choir of the Sacred Heart Church sang the Requiem music. The church was filled with friends from many walks of life, who knew and loved Mrs. McCarthy for her refined sweet disposition.

Rev. Father Carrol, speaking at the close of the funeral Mass, took for his text "The Souls of the just are in the hands of the Lord and the hand of Death hall not touch them." We are gathered here this morning as a mark of sympathy towards the bereaved, and as members of the Church on earth we are here for a loftier purpose, to pray that God may have mercy on her soul. God in his mercy has not revealed to us death in the future detail. Sufficient for us it is to know that it is once appointed for us to die, and we know death is no respecter of persons it strikes the young the old; it knocks on the door of the humble, and the castle, and the home of the rich, and despite its certainty, yet it holds for us repugnance, because through sin did death come into the world. Therefore death is something unnatural and opposed to human nature, but as Christians we look upon death in a slightly different manner, as Christians we know it is the introductory chapter of Eternity and we know that Christ paid the infinite ransom for sin on Calvary and that if we serve God faithfully here on this earth, we may hope for a merciful judgment. We are destined to death in order that we may enjoy God in Heaven for all Eternity, and the Reverend speaker continued, that is the purpose of our creation.

It is not the mind of the Church to eulogize on the life of the deceased, but we know that this good woman who lies here, was imbued with charity and qualities of mind and heart that her life was directed in such a manner, that she honored God, loved her neighbor and exericised charity in her daily life.

Her memory shall be long remembered for her persevering years of labor as librarian in St. Peter's Library and her life because it was one of refinement and culture.

Our prayers go up to the Divine Judge that He may be merciful to her and grant her eternal rest. May she rest in Peace.

The pallbearers were: Jno Langley, (brother) of Toronto; H. Charles Langley (brother) of St. Catharines; J. F. Mackenzie, N. E. Phelan, R. M. Glover, A. J. Doherty.

MRS. VITO MICCOLI
The funeral was held on Tuesday of Mrs. Vito Miccoli of 270 Reid street who passed away on Saturday last at the age of 42 years following a lengthy illness.

Following the funeral service conducted by the Rev. Father Costello of Sacred Heart Church, interment was made at St. Peter's cemetery.

The late Mrs. Miccoli leaves her husband and seven children Andrew, Mary, Annie, Louisa, Livia, Matilda, Jean.

Baldwin Is Elected By Acclamation

NO OPPOSITION FOR TORY CHIEF IN HIS RIDING

Is Only One of Four Outstanding Party Leaders So Honored.

FIGHTS FOR 551 SEATS.

Total of 64 Candidates Acclaimed, 58 Being Gov't Supporters.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(C. and A.P. Cable)—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader and a member of the National Cabinet, was the only one of the four outstanding party leaders elected by acclamation when nominations were made today for the general elections, polling taking place October 27.

Mr. Baldwin was elected without opposition for Bewdley, Worcester, the constituency he has represented since 1908. In the last general elections he was re-elected with a majority of 6,832 over the combined vote for Liberal and Labor opponents.

64 Acclamations

A total of 64 candidates have been elected to the new House of Commons by acclamation. Polling on Oct. 27 will be for only 551 seats. The total of acclamations is unusually large, owing to the efforts of the different government parties to avoid conflicts between their respective candidates.

When nominations closed today, including the elections for the Scottish universities, the unopposed elections were as follows:

Conservatives	46
National Liberals	12
Labor Party	6
Total	64

Rt. Hon. Ramsay Macdonald, Prime Minister, faces official Labor and Communist candidates in Seaham, Durham. He is a Nationalist Labor candidate, while the Labor party, of which he was formerly parliamentary chief, nominated William Coxon. In 1929 Mr. Macdonald was re-elected by an overwhelming majority.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson leader of the Labor party, chief Opposition faction, has a fight against Admiral Campbell, Conservative and a Communist candidate in Burnley. Mr. Henderson was re-elected in Burnley in 1929 in a three-cornered contest, on a minority vote.

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, head of the free trade faction of the Liberal party, will have a straight fight in Carnarvon with Captain F. Page-Courley, Conservative. In Carnarvon in 1929 Mr. Lloyd George had a majority of 4,593 over the combined vote for Conservative and Labor opponents.

Missing Since Fire Woman Found Alive

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 15.—Reports to the effect that a woman had been burned to death when a Bay street north house was destroyed by fire yesterday were disproved this morning when Mrs. Dominic Sylvester, the woman in question, walked into the fire department office and asked what all the fuss was about. She had been staying with friends, she said, and no one was in the house when the explosion occurred.

Police and officials of the Fire Marshal's Department will conduct an investigation into the explosion and fire. The rumor that a woman had lost her life in the blaze was started last night. It was known that she lived there and she had not been seen leaving the place.

Entire Family Lose Lives In Oil Fire

FLINT, Mich., Oct. 16—(CP).—A family of three, Mr. and Mrs. Morris McMillan, each 22, and their two-months-old baby, lost their lives in a fire following an explosion which resulted from pouring oil on the embers in a coal stove in their home last night.

"Ma" And New Hubby On Vaudeville Tour

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—It is now the vaudeville team of Hudson and Kennedy.

Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, and her new husband, Guy Edward Hudson, whom she married twice to overcome legal entanglements over his undissolved mariage to another woman, will go on the stage.

They refused to say what they would do for how much they will earn, but it was said that Radio-Keith-Orpheum had signed them for a 13 weeks tour at $1,500 a week—between them. If they "click" it means an extension for 27 weeks more.

RELIEF PLANS HANDED TO U.S. BY LABOR BODY

President Green Pledged to Get Aid of Every Hungry Man in Country.

CAPITAL DENOUNCED.

Schemes Invade Fields of Industry, Economics and Politics.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 16.—Labor handed an officially approved unemployment relief program to the United States today, and went to put its ideas into practice.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, who said he also represented the "voiceless millions who are unorganized," stood pledged to "go to congress if necessary and demand appropriations to relieve every hungry man, woman and child in the country," if the nation failed to aid the unemployed adequately in other ways.

Before adjourning last night, delegates united behind officers and executive council, approved what is described as "the first definite plan evolved," and announced they would move definitely into the fields of industry, economics and politics to relieve depression.

Chief Points

Here are the chief points in Labor's program:

Maintenance of the U. S. wage standard, to keep up purchasing power.

Shorter working hours, on the ground that industry should share the benefits of the machine age with labor, and because machines have slashed down the number of jobs.

Prohibition of child labor, so that parents and others with dependents may have available jobs.

National planning to balance production and consumption.

Employers to take on more workers, the idea being that industrial leaders, like ship captains, should take responsibility on their own shoulders, be the last to leave sinking ships, and should "care for their men as a father cares for his children."

Creation of work through public building and construction on the theory that the nation is obligated to look to the welfare of all its citizens, although the convention voted down emphatically the unemployment insurance or "dole" system.

Strengthening of employment agencies, equitable distribution of all work, more even distribution of wealth; through taxation in the higher brackets and stimulation of industry by resumption of brewing of mild beer.

Besides these salient points, the A. F. L. approved a detailed system for relief, divided into temporary and permanent relief through public appropriations and private funds was the outstanding suggestion for immediate aid.

In offering the program, labor leaders denounced capital and industry for "failing to offer a single idea for unemployment relief and depression—except wage cutting."

METHODISM LEADERS MEET

ATLANTIC, Ga., Oct. 16—Leaders of Methodism from all over the world convened here to-dey for the Sixth Ecumenical Conference of the Church, to study its problems of service under modern developments.

The gathering included 550 delegates, among them 420 from over the seas. The conference has no legislative power but constitutes a forum for an exchange of world ideas on church matters.

JAPANESE SHIP DECKS AWASH CALLS FOR AID

Steamer President Jefferson, 80 Miles Away, Heads for Spot.

IN NORTH PACIFIC.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh Among Passengers Aboard Rescue Ship.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16 (CP)—A wireless message intercepted by the MacKay Radio station here to-day said the Japanese freighter Yonan Maru, in distress about 500 miles west of Dutch Harbor, Aleutian Islands, was in a sinking condition.

The message, sent by the steamer President Jefferson, said water was pouring into the Japanese freighter's hold in great quantities but did not explain how the stricken vessel had been damaged. The President Jefferson was about 80 miles from the Yonan Maru and proceeding to the scene with all possible speed.

Decks Awash

A later message from the President Jefferson said the stricken freighter had reported its decks awash and the ship sinking rapidly.

Among the passengers on the President Jefferson were Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh who are returning from the Orient where their air tour was interrupted by the death of Mrs. Lindbergh's father, Senator Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey.

The Yonan Maru left Portland, Ore., for Shanghai September 30. She is a vessel of 8,000 tons and measures 423 feet in length. She carries a crew of about 40.

BIG CONVENTION COMING TO CITY

Ontario and Quebec Convention of Baptist Church Meets Here Next Week.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS.

Peterborough will be host next week to the annual convention of delegates attending the Baptist Churches of the Convention of Ontario and Quebec which will be in session here from October 19 to 23.

Outstanding speakers of the Baptist Church will address the convention which is aimed to give inspiration, help and guidance to the delegates.

Stressing the importance of the convention, A. L. McCrimmon in the Canadian Baptist says: "This period of world depression demands communal consideration and co-operative action. Baptists cannot afford not to be intelligent about their work. We need the inspiration of such a gathering. In our individualism we should go the second mile in co-operative activity. The convention will weld us more closely together, fortify us against the pessimism of the day, give us a balanced view of our years operations, inspire our organizations in their tasks and send us into the year's work before us with our hearts courageous and sacrificial."

It is aimed that every pastor in the convention of the two provinces should attend this week of prayer and thought in Peterborough.

Stiff Opposition Seen For Thomas

DERBY, England, Oct. 16 (C.P. Cable)—Labor is planning a concentrated fight against Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, former member of the Labor Cabinet, who is now with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in the National Government. Among the speakers who come here on behalf of Mr. Thomas' Labor opponent are Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander and Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, both of whom were colleagues of Mr. Thomas in the Labor Cabinet.

Estate of Senator Dwight Morrow Reported Close to Twenty Millions

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16.—The New York American, quoting "an informed source," says the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey left an estate of "close to twenty million dollars."

Only half of the total, according to the American, is subject to inheritance taxes, the rest of the fortune being in the form of accounts carried in the names of members of his family and others. These accounts, estimated at $10,000,000 are technically not part of the estate.

The newspaper understands Mrs. Morrow is named sole executor, and to her will go a life interest in the estate after bequests to friends, servants and charities are taken out.

YORK COUNTY PLOWMEN CAPTURE THREE IMPORTANT SOD CLASSES ON THIRD DAY OF GREAT SHOW

Wilbert McFadden, of Millbrook, Second in Boys' Class.

ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Praises Work Done at Match.

York county plowmen stepped into the limelight in Thursday's schedule of the International Plowing Match, virtually sweeping through three important classes.

In the sixth class, using high cut plows in sod, men of York won the first four prizes and in the two tractor classes the contingent from around Toronto carried off seven of the ten prizes, perhaps proving thereby that proximity to the bright lights does not militate against proficiency and ambition in farm work. Only four counties were represented in the list of tractor prize winners, York having seven; Peel one, George Hawstrawser of Malton; Frontenac one, G. E. Sheppard and Halton one, Victor Hall of Hornby.

And as an evidence of their versatility with the plow, York men turned in splendid work in the high cut class, which farmers know is a sort of specialty in match competitions and not generally used in every day work on the farm. The Trans and Timbers left the mark of their ability on four sections of ground which were awarded the first four prizes. In this open class these veterans of other competitions lived up to their reputations with a class of work that held the attention and won the praise of every farmer who went out to the westerly field and looked over the almost perfect workmanship of these winners.

Prizes for the District

Plowmen of this district gave a good account of themselves in Thursday's classes. Wilbert McFadden of Millbrook was second in 7th class for boys under 18; Howard Blewett, Harold Collins and Ed. Kennedy of Lakefield R.R. 2 were 3rd, 4th and 6th respectively in the eight class for jointer plows; and Vernon Campbell, Alex Carlow and Stewart Nelson, all of Peterborough county, were 1st, 2nd and

ANTI-CATHOLIC RIOTING STARTS

Excitement Over Religious Issue in Spain Runs High.

ARRESTS NUMEROUS.

MADRID, Oct. 16 (A.P.)—Anti-Catholic riots in which injuries were numerous broke out at several points to-day as the Cabinet considered a measure which would empower provincial governors to declare martial law at their discretion.

At Barcelona a group of Catholics was leaving the cathedral after a memorial service for Don Jaime de Bourbon, late Pretender to the Spanish throne. Across the street a group of anti-Catholics hooted and jeered.

There was shooting before police broke up the disturbance and several persons were wounded. Arrests were numerous.

At Vallavolid a group of women was distributing pamphlets supporting the Jesuit order. A mob of anti-Catholics surrounded them and they were roughly treated before police arrived. Eighteen persons were hurt there.

Dispatches from other points indicated that excitement over the religious issue was running high.

NOMINATION HIGHLIGHTS

By GEORGE HAMBLETON, CP Staff Writer)

LONDON, (CP Cable).—For the first time in British history the issue will lie between two women candidates in a fight for a seat in the general elections on October 27. In East Islington today Mrs Leah Manning, the Labor member in the last house, and Miss Thelma Cazalet, where the only candidates nominated. Miss Cazalet is a Conservative.

Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal, and Home Secretary in the National Government, has a three-cornered fight in Darwen, Lancashire. Captain Graham declared he was fighting both the Socialists and the Liberal "shilly-shally." In 1929 Sir Herbert was elected with 15,714 votes to 15,252 for Sanderson, Cons., and 7,504 for Ramsen, Labor.

Dr. Whitfield, Labor candidate in St. Marylebone, London, is blind and was assisted to the nomination rooms today by his wife.

Christopher Flanagan, a Communist who is serving a prison sentence in Manchester, was one of the candidates nominated in Gorton, Manchester.

When James Maxton, fiery member of the Independent Labor party, lodged his nomination papers with the sheriff in Bridgeton, Glasgow, he wanted to know if a cut of ten percent in the deposit would be accepted. He pointed out the polling officials' fees had been reduced. The sheriff however said there was no alternative but to accept the

YIELD OF WHEAT HAS BEEN LIGHT IN WHOLE WORLD

Hon. T. L. Kennedy Addresses Peterborough Kiwanis Club at Noon.

MOST OPTIMISTIC.

Wheat Will Again Be Bringing High Price in Two Years.

"It's going to be, "Good-bye, depression'," declared Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, in concluding a brief optimistic address given at noon today to the local Kiwanis Club, in which he again expressed the opinion that wheat would be bringing a high price in two years' time.

Hon. Mr. Kennedy stated that he based his opinion for higher wheat prices in the near future on the fact that the wheat crop throughout the world this year had not given nearly the expected yield. Also he stated that the wheat crop for the next several years would be small because the farmers will be unable to use their power machinery, which formerly made a big harvest possible.

"I see by the papers to-day that a famed British economist states that within two years wheat will be selling at famine prices," Mr. Kennedy said. "I was criticized when I said several days ago that wheat within two years would be bringing high prices. I still think that wheat prices will be high within two years and others in authority share that view."

Basis for Opinion

The speaker then briefly explained the basis for his opinion, stressing the fact that western farmers had been forced to hand back their expensive machinery because of payment failures, which would greatly reduce the yield. Also he declared that the wheat crop throughout the world was greatly less for the first eight months of the current year.

"If wheat goes up in price, then livestock will go up and its going to be good-bye depression for the farmers and for everyone else," he said.

Supporting his view on the trend in wheat prices, he said that a few months ago the pulp mills in Canada were almost closed down, but to-day pulp is selling for a record price and all the mills are busy. This was true, also, of the Canadian gold mines, with gold selling at $22.50 an ounce, an all-time record price.

JURY INDICTES BISHOP CANNON

Charge Violation of Corrupt Practises Law in 1928 Presidential Campaign.

CONTRIBUTION NOT LISTED

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 16 (A.P.)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., was indicted by a Grand Jury today for violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Law during the 1928 Presidential campaign.

Miss Ada L. Burroughs, of Richmond, was indicted with the Southern Methodist churchman for conspiracy to violate the Federal statute.

Cannon was chairman of the headquarters committee anti-Smith Democrats in the 1928 campaign, and Miss Burroughs was treasurer.

The indictment was based on the failure of Cannon and Miss Burroughs to report contributions of Edwin C. Jameson, New York capitalist and Republican.

Jameson gave a total of $65,300 to Cannon.

The Grand Jury ruling was reached after a brief inquiry during which a score of witnesses testified. With few exceptions they were the same witnesses who appeared in the Senate campaign funds committee investigation of the Bishop's activities.

Findings of the Senate committee, led by Senator Nye of North Dakota, prompted the Grand Jury action.

The committe also was given evidence that former Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey contributed $10,000. No accounting was made of this sum in the Bishop's reports.

Entry Is 66 Ahead Of Stratford Match To Set New Record

Aces of the County's Plowmen at Work To-day, Although the Third Successive Day of Rain Has Wilted Last Hope of Big Attendance of Visitors.

IN EVERY OTHER RESPECT MATCH BEEN BIG SUCCESS AND INCREASED ENTRY IS ASSURED AT 1932 CONTEST

Entries this morning for the final day of the International Plowing Match increased the aggregate for the four days to 503 competitors, 66 more than at Stratford last year, and a new high record for the annals of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

Today's classes were all open, three of them for tractors and the fourth was for jointer plows with teams, bringing out the county's plowmen, veterans and some of the champions of other years.

For the third successive day rain wilted the last hope of a big attendance of visitors, but the directors and the local committee were resigned to the whims of the weather, even to the ultimate disappointment of the change from the burst of sunshine early this morning to the return of the clouds and their light rain. At noon today the prospects had improved again, but it was a belated respite, although there was no doubt but that today's attendance would be quite large.

Unqualified Success.

In every other respect the annual match has been an unqualified success, and Peterborough has at least set up new tones of interest and enthusiasm in plowing and new numbers of competitors that will not be easily duplicated wherever next year's match is held.

PLOWMAN DIES WHILE SLEEPING AT FARM HOME

Thomas Chambers, of Bethany, is Found Dead in His Bed.

ENTERED MATCH.

Took Part in the Inter-County Match Held on Tuesday.

Thomas Chambers of Bethany, one of the plowmen who had competed in the inter-county match on Tuesday, was found dead in bed this morning at the home of A. B. Preston, on the Peterboro-Port Hope highway, where he had been a guest since Monday.

Dr. T. W. H. Young, coroner, found that death was due to natural causes.

Mr. Chambers lived in the village of Bethany with his sister, Mrs. Smith. He was about sixty years old. An experienced plowman, he had decided to take part in the inter-county competitions which were held on the opening day, Tuesday, and in the fourth class for narrow cut in sod, he won fourth prize, amounting to $8. Thursday evening he received his cheque at the headquarters tent, and retired at the Preston home, apparently in normal health. This morning he was absent at the usual breakfast hour, and Mr. Preston waited until nine o'clock when he went to Mr. Chambers' room to call him.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed early this afternoon. Mr. Chambers had been a competitor at county and district plowing matches for a number of years.

3,000 Jobless Clash With Cardiff Police

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 16 (C.P.)—Three thousand jobless men gathered in the Public Square here today to protest cuts in the dole, and there was hard fighting when police with drawn clubs directed the mob to disperse.

The gathering began against police orders, and the crowd became unruly when Communist speakers began their exhortations from soapbox platforms. One group tried to force its way through a police cordon at the edge of the crowd and the fight began.

When it was over several were in hospitals with broken heads, half a dozen of the leaders were arrested, and the police had seized a Red banner.

$170,090,130 Needed To Feed The Needy

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 16—(C.P.)—At least $170,090,130 will be needed to protect the needy unemployed in 314 cities from the pinch of hunger and cold during the coming winter.

Figures giving this amount as the minimum necessary have been compiled by the Association of Community Chests and Councils and handed to Walter S. Gifford, director of the National Unemployment Organization.

Although recognizing the figures as mere estimates and covering but part of the nation-wide problem, Gifford described the report as "reassuring."

LLOYD GEORGE BLAMES TARIFF FOR U. S. PLIGHT

Claims as Result Spectre of Bankruptcy and Deficit Loom Large.

POINTS TO GERMANY.

Advises Voting Free Trade Labor in Preference to Food Taxing Tories.

LONDON, Oct. 16 (A.P.) — Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George points to the United States as a country in which high tariffs have not spelled prosperity.

The veteran Liberal leader, advising his followers to vote for Free Trade Labor candidates in preference to "food taxing" Conservatives if there was no alternative, said in a radio address last night:

"To insure that their natural and accumulated wealth should be enjoyed by their own citizens alone, they (United States) build up the highest tariff wall in the world.

"Yet there is more actual privation in one United States city than in the whole of Great Britain.

"The spectre of bankruptcy is stalking through that rich country whose streets two years ago seemed paved with gold. This year there will be a deficit of £300,000,000 in the Federal budget."

Points to Germany

Mr. Lloyd George declared tariff barriers constituted one of the main causes of the slump in world trade. Despite tariffs Germany, for instance, was experiencing the worst trade depression it had ever known.

What chance would there be for a free hand or an open mind, if the majority in the next Parliament consisted of Tory members pledge to protection? "If the Liberals want even a fair hearing for free trade in the next Parliament they ought to vote for men who will present a case for it with conviction," he said. "There has been too much free trade talk with a stammer to secure a hearing in contending against the voice of the hustings," he added. "Free trade is in danger of going by default."

Socialism Danger Remote

Unless something is done to present the powerful facts in favor of free trade, Mr. Lloyd George said,

JAPAN LOSES FIGHT TO BAR U.S. DELEGATE

League's Invitation to Help in Arbitration Muddle is Ratified.

WAIT WASHINGTON'S REPLY

International Observers See Action as Good Omen for Settlement.

GENEVA, Oct. 16 (A.P.)—The Council of the League of Nations formally ratified over the objections of the Japanese delegate to-day its invitation to the United States to engage in arbitration of the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Chairman Aristide Briand, in summarizing the council's decision said that the objections of a constitutional and juridicial nature raised by Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese delegate, remained in reserve.

Vote 13 to 1

The Council again over-ruled by a vote of 13 to 1 the Japanese delegate's objections and declared that the question was purely one of procedure, requiring only a majority vote. It was made clear that the United States representative would not have a vote on the merits of China's appeal.

Supporting thei nvitation were the delegates of France, Great Britain, Italy, Germany, Poland, Spain, Norway, China, Peru, Ireland, Jugo-Slavia, Guatemala and Panama. Only Japan voted against it.

International observers regarded the Council's action, despite Japan's determined stand, as evidence of the League's vigor and a good omen for the ultimate happy settlement of the Manchurian affair. The Council awaited a reply from Washington and expressed hope that Prentiss B. Gilbert, United States Consul General, soon would assume his place at the conference table.

M. Yoshizawa had contended that the question of United States participation in the discussions was a matter of substances rather than procedure and as such required a unanimous vote for adoption. He disclaimed any political motive and bespoke his nation's friendship for the United States.

Japan must hold to its objections, he said, "at least until the doubts it has expressed should be removed." His expression was interpreted by some observers as tantamount to a

GERMAN REDS STAGE RIOTS

Six Wounded in Communist Demonstrations in Parts of Berlin.

30 ARE ARRESTED.

BERLIN, Oct. 16. —(AP)— Communist demonstrations were staged in various parts of Berlin last night on the eve of the critical Reichstag session at which Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's new government will meet its first test since the Legislature was reconvened Tuesday.

One policeman and five Communists received gunshot wounds during the demonstrations and 30 persons were arrested. Late tonight order was restored.

The attempt by Communists and by the United National Socialists (Nazis) and Nationalists to bring about the downfall of the government was expected to fail. Chancellor Bruening counted on the support of the middle parties to tide him over.

The opposition continued its assault on the government in the Reichstag and out.

The government must obtain the support of 289 members. The Social Democrats, Centrists and Bavarians are expected to provide 243 of these votes and Chancellor Bruening is counting on minor parties with a total of 67 members to supply the additional 46.

ENTERTAINERS GIVEN BIG HAND AT KIWANIS FAIR

Antics of Two Comedians Catches Eye of the Spectators.

GLOOM CHASERS.

A great "hand" was received last evening by the entertainers who occupied the stage in the large, brilliantly decorated drill hall at the Armouries, where the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Annual Exhibition is in progress, and which concludes on Saturday night. It was intermittent applause of a spontaneous nature offered by a large, appreciative crowd, fully in sympathy with the unselfish work which the Kiwanis Club is fostering in aid of Jackson Park Health Camp, and cognizant of the efforts of the mirth raising comedians, Jeeves and Rafferty, who starred with the original Dumbells Company.

The absurd and amusing antics of these two comedians, "caught on" from the first night of their appearance, and in the interim their fame as gloom chasers has evidently gone abroad. At any rate an appreciable increase was noticed in the attendance at the exhibition last night as compared with previous evenings of the week, and so far the aggregate number of paid admission is on a par with the figures of corresponding years. With the largely increased attendance that is confidently looked for this evening, and the record attendance that should be on hand Sat-

Tragedy Unnoticed By His Classmates—Body Found Three Hours Later.

TORONTO, Oct. 16 —With forty-three boys swimming and playing about within a few feet of him, 16-year-old Manuel L. Green, 688 Crawford Street, mysteriously, and unnoticed by pupils or supervising teacher, drowned in Harbord Collegiate's newly opened swimming pool yesterday afternoon.

Green was alive in the water, hanging on to the edge of the pool at the shallow end, at 2:45 in the afternoon—seen there and spoken to by two of his roommates — and apparently nothing more was seen of him until his body was taken out about 5:30 p.m.

Not only his own class of forty-four boys had used the pool for the rest of their swimming period, but apparently the school football team returning from practice for a plunge, dived and splashed about for some minutes before Archie Dickson, assistant coach, detected the lad's body at the deep end of

HIGHWAY EXHIBIT OBJECT LESSON

Traffic Scenes on Modern Highway Demonstrated at Kiwanis Fair.

AROUSES INTEREST.

Constituting a real object lesson to automobile drivers as to many of the underlying causes of highway accidents, and in a manner that cannot help but impress itself on the consciousness of the onlooker of whatever age he or she may be, the exhibit of the Provincial Highways Department at the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Fair still continues to attract considerable attention.

Made for the Department of which the Hon. Leopold Macauley is head by the Stallworthy Studios of Toronto this ingenious mechanical exhibit was conceived by K. Cockburn, secretary to the minister, and is in charge of Charles Carson, an old Peterborough resident, who has seen five years service as an apostle of "care, courtesy and commonsense" on the highways of this province. T. Burton, formerly with the studio that built the exhibit has charge of the mechanical details, while Len Rocker, the third member of the Department's staff, is sharing in the common task of distributing the government literature. "Hints for Motorists," is one of the pamphlets that has been distributed in large numbers. It contains twenty-four excellent suggestions of real interest to every automobile driver, and which if taken to heart, will in itself be an unbounded factor in cutting down the annual toll of life that is taken through highway acidents.

The exhibit itself is some twenty-eight feet in length and about six feet in depth, representing a panorama of typical Ontario countryside complete with villages, highways, level crossings and other minute detail, planned to scale. On the move, electrically controlled, are a number of motor vehicles of all descriptions, with little red automobiles, symbolic of the reckless driver, and which are to be observed disregarding all the rules of the highway as dictated by the principals of "care, courtesy and commonsense." These model red cars, cut-in on traffic, pass other cars on hills, drive over the brow of blind hills at high speeds, race the model train to the level crossing and take numerous other chances with their own safety and incidentally place numerous others cars in jeopardy.

The simile is to be seen on the highways every day in actual practice. Much of the bad driving is probably caused by mere thoughtlessness, and certainly one cannot view the exhibit without coming away with food for thought, if nothing else. And that is just what it was designed for, and its reason for being sent on tour by the department.

By its very novelty the exhibit has aroused great interest among the drivers of to-morrow—the children of to-day, and would appear to be destined as a great medium for educating the motoring public to the growing necessity for driving with the mind as well as the hands.

the tank, in eight feet six inches of water.

As If Swimming

Murray Greenspan, member of the football team, brought the body to the surface, and he and Coach Dickson hauled it out on the side of the tank, where physicians quickly ascertained that life was extinct. Greenspan said that when he saw the body under water Green was face down, with arms outstretched, and at first glance appeared to be in the midst of a swim-stroke. Greenspan dived to him, and, first seizing him by the back of the neck in anticipation of a possible death-struggle, and then locking his arm about the body, brought Green to the edge of the tank.

To what extent the allegedly opaque water, colored, it is said, by chloride of lime cleanser, was responsible for the tragedy will be determined by Coroner's investigations, but one of the lads told The Globe he had difficulty in locating a swimmer's leg under water when he playfully sought to grab it. The water in the tank, it was said, was not sufficiently clear to make objects on the bottom distinctly visible.

Last night's bill of entertainment was further augmented by the appearance of Peterborough Harmonica Band, who provided a series of snappy old-time and modern musical selections. The number had popular appeal and went over big. The members of this novel band are as follows: Frank Clark and Harry Hodson, banjos; Walter Fitzgerald and Max Peters, violins; Fred Skitch, bass viol; Wilfred Freel, piano; Herbert McCannon, Clarence Rose, Bert Arnott, Jack Freeman, and Clarence Crouter, harmonicas.

Every patron at the Kiwanis Fair each evening has an equal chance of winning a valuable door prize and rafle prize. The former, a load of hardwood donated by the Scott Coal and Lumber Company, was won last evening by the holder of ticket number 10,723; the latter a model ship donated by Richard Hall Ltd. goes to the holder of ticket number 201. Prizes may be obtained on application to Wilfred Freel, in the absence of Vernon E. Morphet, vice-chairman of the Fair committee, who is indisposed.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist, and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Reading Appeals

Lord Reading, Great Britain's representative, appealed to the Japanese spokesman not to maintain the stand which he said he presented with such "persistence, emphasis and ability." He pleaded for unanimity in inviting the United States "to assist in meeting successfully the greatest test the League has faced and in avoiding developments which might lead to grave developments for the world."

"We are not asking a non-member to become a member of the League," he said. "That would indeed require unanimity."

Supporting the British delegate's view, M. Briand declared it was the Council's right in a grave crisis to arm itself with all the information possible from every source. He complimented Yoshizawo on his "vigor and persistency."

The Japanese smiled wanly, thanked the chairman, but said he was unable to modify his position. The Polish delegate said his affirmative vote would fully reserve the constitutional question raised by Japan. The German representatives appealed to both sides to be moderate and to assist the League's work.

tariffs will be in force in only a matter of weeks. The danger of Socialism is remote, he thought. There is no real probability, in Mr. Lloyd George's judgment, of an independent Socialist majority.

"I earnesly hope, therefore," he pleaded with his unseen audience, "that the Liberals will in every case cast their votes for free trade candidates. I think so many are quite indistinguishable from Tory protectionists that the choice left to the elector is too often between the food-taxing Tory and free trade Labor candidates. Between the two I should have no hesitation in the circumstances which govern this election," he said. "I am neither a Tory nor a Socialist, but a Liberal. But I weigh the probabilities. Protection is an impending peril. I should cast my vote to avert that calamity."

OSHAWA PLANT OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Factory Manager Says Firm Will Be Busier Than in 1930.

BUILD BUICK BODIES.

OSHAWA, Oct. 16.—Announcement made on behalf of General Motors of Canada by the company's factory manager, Colonel Frank Chappell, at the "good-will mass meeting" held yesterday in King Street United Church is very encouraging news for this city.

Mr. Chappell stated that his company expected to be busier than last year. "More cars will be built and more parts will be built in Oshawa," he said. He also stated that all Buick bodies would be built in Oshawa. Formerly a large number of these were imported, and it is expected that this will undoubtedly mean additions to the present equipment and plant. It is also presumed that there will be an increase in the number of employes.

Other speakers included Frank Chapman of Pickering, representing the rural community; F. W. Watkinson, secretary of the Central Council of Ratepayers' Associations, representing labor; F. L. Fowke, ex-M.P., representing the citizens generally, while Rev. Amos Thomas of Toronto brought a message from that city.

United Farmers Name Alberta Candidate

RED DEER, Alta., Oct. 16.—(CP).—Nomination of a candidate by the United Farmers of Alberta yesterday brought assurance of a three-cornered fight with a five-way race still a possibility in the forthcoming provincial by-election. The vote was made necessary through the death of G. W. Smith, U.F.A. Member of the Legislature for the Red Deer constituency.

Planes Begin Rescue Of Ice-Bound Sailors

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 16 (C.P.).—Airplanes have reached the steamer Baychimo, frozen in the ice several hundred miles north of here, near Wainwright, messages received here yesterday said, and the "rescue" of a number of passengers who faced a winter in the Arctic was begun.

The planes, cabin ships flown by Pilots Vic Ross and Chester Brown, arrived near the Baychimo yesterday morning. The Baychimo, a Hudson's Bay Company ship, was caught in the ice pack several weeks ago.

When persons receiving the dole at Forbes, Australia, were informed recently that they could not substitute articles for those mentioned in the schedule, they gathered in a large crowd outside the dole depot and refused to accept any goods.

MALONE'S OLDEST RESIDENT RECALLS GOLD MINING DAYS

Mrs. Ellen Richardson Remarkably Agile Resides in Original Hotel.

ONCE BOOM TOWN.

MARMORA, Oct. 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—In the dwelling erected by her husband half a century ago to serve as the hotel at Malone when that village was involved in the gold excitement, resides Mrs. Ellen Richardson, the oldest villager and a kindly soul. She is now in her eighty-third year and with the exception of a partial deafness, has wonderful use of her faculties.

She was born in Montreal, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson, and so did not forfeit her maiden name upon marriage. A twin sister, Mrs. R. Shortly, who resides at Dakota City, Nebraska, is equally agile as Mrs. Richardson. The Richardson Mine at Eldorado, from which gold was first mined in Ontario, was on the property of John Richardson, father of George Richardson, the deceased husband of the present Mrs. Richardson.

When the old hotel was first operated, between 16 and 20 of the employees at the neighboring mine boarded there. For a period, the building was rented by Sam Stanlick, after which the Richardsons returned to residency to maintain a boarding house there. To-day, in that neatly-kept home memories steal back again and again to the hostess of other years of the days when Malone and Eldorado thrived. And it all goes back to the time when John Fiegle found gold on his property and kept out intruders with a protecting barricade.

District Churches

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

STIRLING, Oct. 16 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Sunday, A. Lowry, of Knox College, Toronto, occupied St. Andrew's pulpit in the absence of Rev. A. N. Reid, M.A.

In the evening he took his message from the text, Gal. 6, 2, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ."

Mr. Lowry had been preaching during the summer months at Cape Breton. In this place the W.M.S. flourished and was exceptionally strong. Ministers here will not endure the hardships of a winter hence they are called Mission Stations although they have erected churches. Families there are raising their sons to be ministers and they have sent out sixty ministers in sixty years which is a record. Let us prove that we can live our gospel as well as preach it. Do not stop giving to those less fortunate until God stops giving to you."

CUTTING DOWN THE FIRE RISK.

Fire Prevention Week is over, but The Examiner believes that advice about making property safe from fire risks should not be confined to any particular week, but is of importance enough to be brought forward at any time.

In this connection the Ontario Safety League has issued a special bulletin that is well worth reproducing.

A general observance of these few simple instructions is likely to prevent destructive fires and possibly loss of life.

"Warn the members of your family relative to the dangers of matches, smoking and the use of inflammable fluids. See that fire extinguishers are installed in the kitchen and basement of your house. Have your spark screens for open fire-places in good shape. Have metal receptacles for ashes from your furnace, remove rubbish from empty rooms, cellar and yard. Have an electrician go over your house wiring. Inspect, clean and repair your chimneys and flues."

These operations might well be made the opportunity of giving some local unemployed man a temporary job.

TO ELIMINATE JAY-WALKING.

A constant complaint from motorists—and it is founded upon solid facts—has reference to jay-walking indulged in by pedestrians.

It must be admitted that many people are careless about when, where and how they cross city streets and their failure to protect themselves by being vigilant, is a source of anxiety to motorists.

At the same time, the man at the wheel is responsible to a considerable degree for the jay-walking complained of.

The Ontario Safety League has recognized that fact by issuing a special bulletin to drivers, which reads as follows: "You can cure the pedestrian of jay-walking by establishing his confidence in the greater security of the cross-walks. Drive carefully—and with courtesy—at all intersections."

This advice is timely and necessary.

There are many drivers who show little regard for pedestrians; they fail to pull up at stop streets until their car is over the crossing; they rarely are courteous enough to give the man on foot the right-of-way, and when they make a right turn at a corner protected by lights they often do it at such a speed as to endanger the lives of pedestrians.

If accidents are to be eliminated there will have to be co-operation between the motorist and the pedestrian; the first will have to be courteous and careful, while the latter will have to cross at intersections and have some regard to traffic lights.

HAS DONE GOOD WORK.

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Trent Waterway-Iroquois Trail Association yesterday were decidedly satisfactory in the evidence they gave of a most useful year's activity in working for the interest of this section of the Province and because of the fact that the organization has had a balanced budget.

The election of W. M. Fowlds, of Hastings, as president for the coming year gives the association a hard working and energetic executive, who can be counted upon to give able leadership, and there promises to be no let-up in the efforts of the organization to advertise the charms of this district and in general to promote the advancement of the communities along the Trent Waterway.

In this connection it is gratifying to note that the Waterway Association intends to press for the completion of the sections of the canal not yet finished, and that the effect of such a program upon the tourist traffic is to be brought to the attention of the Government.

The completion of the canal might well be included in the unemployment relief program; it would afford work to a good many jobless men and would eventually mean a notable increase in tourist traffic and thus in the amount of money circulated in the district by these visitors.

In striving to have the Trent Waterway finished the association should have the hearty support of all municipal governments and the members representing constituencies bordering on the waterway.

MAKING IT CLEAR.

An item which appeared in the news columns of The Examiner a day or two ago in reference to income tax returns has apparently been misunderstood by a number of readers, who have been giving themselves unnecessary worry as a result.

The law in regard to these returns should be familiar to all Canadians by this time.

All persons who are liable to income tax are required each year to secure and fill in the official forms and thus supply income tax officials with the details expected of those who are in receipt of sufficient income to come within the levy.

Other people whose incomes are not large enough to be taxable do not make returns to the Government unless—and this is where confusion arises—income tax forms are mailed them.

Everybody who does receive forms from the income tax department must fill in the particulars and return the documents, whether they are liable to be taxed or not, and ignorance of this particular section of the act has caused considerable trouble.

To recapitulate you must make returns if your income is taxable, or whether or not your income is taxable if income tax forms are sent you by the department; otherwise those not liable to taxation are under no obligation to make returns to the income tax officials.

PLOWING MATCHES HELP PROMOTE RURAL WELL-BEING.

Cultivation of the soil is likely to remain one of the most important industries in Canada for many generations, and the better the work is done the more likely are the rural districts to enjoy a prosperity which is the background for the well-being of all other classes of the community.

Fundamentally the plow is one of the major implements of human progress. There are few sights on earth more satisfying than a fine field of grain ready for harvest, full-headed, weedless, just "aching for the binder." What a sense of well-being it creates! But to the true farmer there is equal satisfaction—plus the anticipation of hope for a rich reward of work well done—in the sight of well-plowed acres, every furrow true.

Recognition of this fact has led to plowing demonstrations and competitions in the rural districts, so that men of local reputation may show their skill against the best from other districts, even from other countries. Here is friendly rivalry of the finest type which is highly educational. Merit meets its due reward before immense gatherings of friends, relatives and rivals, and everybody profits by the "get-together spirit." The skill displayed by the competitors, whether they operate horse-drawn or tractor outfits, usually rises to be worthy of the occasion.

Naturally the manufacturers exhibit the best and most recent inventions tending to improve conditions of farm life and stage special demonstrations.—Montreal Witness.

SOME SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Exports of Canadian butter out of Montreal to the United Kingdom, in the present calendar year to the end of last week, were 133,263 boxes. In the corresponding part of 1930 there were shipped only 160 boxes.

Exports of eggs in the same period were 2,500 cases, a small quantity, but yet more than double the total for nine months of the previous year.

Cheese shipments from Montreal to the United Kingdom amount to 575,154 boxes, an increase of more than 50,000 boxes over 1930.

During the week to September 17 export clearances of Canadian wheat were 2,765,801 bushels, and for three weeks to that date 7,774,319 bushels. For the first six months of this year half the wheat imports of Scotland, and 26.6 per cent. of imports to the United Kingdom, were from Canada.

There is much less wheat in the country than a year ago. Official returns showed 114,444,355 bushels in store September 18, as compared to 142,212,812 bushels in the corresponding week of last year.

Development of the export business in dairy products is a splendid indication of agricultural progress. Not many months ago we imported large quantities of butter; now we are meeting domestic demands and selling thousands of boxes. The collapse of grain prices has brought home very emphatically to Canadian farmers the virtues of mixed farming: the cow, the pig and the hen are acquiring standing and repute again.

Even in Southern Saskatchewan, hard-hit by drought, there is confidence and optimism. Recent rains have washed away the pessimism, authorities already are predicting bumper crops in 1932. Mr. Robert Weir, the Federal Minister of Agriculture, expects improvement in the wheat situation, declaring the foreign buyer will demand Canadian wheat because of its superior quality.

There is justification for confidence in Canadian agriculture. Even at low prices the production of 1931 has made imposing financial returns, and necessity has forced a keener effort to reach out into world markets. Hard times are teaching our agricultural industry a new resourcefulness, giving it an outlook not limited to a horizon of wheat, and if good times see the lesson not forgotten it will have important and beneficial effects on the Dominion and the nation's economic life.—Ottawa Journal.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

(London Advertiser)

A social worker desiring to study the condition of the unemployed at first hand went into a park where some were gathered, and stumbled over a sleeping man. The sleeper awoke, and supposing the visitor to be in the same plight as himself, asked him if he had been present when some food was distributed. Receiving a negative answer, he drew half a sandwich out of his pocket and offered it to the visitor, saying that he had received two. In another case the children of an evicted tenant were found sleeping in a neighbor's house. The poor, it has been said, are good to each other, and they give without condescension and without questioning or lecturing, but as brother to brother. This is the spirit which animates the people of the sorely stricken part of Saskatchewan.

These people are suffering through no fault of their own. They had not been speculating or indulging in extravagant luxuries. In addition to the troubles which they shared with other Canadians, they had to face drouth and winds which drove away the surface soil in clouds of choking dust. Their difficulty was not one of marketing their products, but lack of food either to sell or to eat. Having made themselves homes and for a time obtained comfort and independence, they now have to begin life all over again. Their courage and helpfulness one to the other are admirable, and they deserve the aid and sympathy of those who, in spite of the depression, are living in comparative comfort.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Even the bad weather could not prevent the international plowing matches from registering a new record so far as competitors was concerned.

Put the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition triumphantly over the top to-night and to-morrow. Remember, it is in aid of a most worthy cause.

The British election campaign is just about as easy to understand as is the theory of relativity.

There is still hope for Canada. Premier Bennett has not yet lost the knack of putting over an effective speech.

Premier Taschereau of Quebec has to some extent at least tossed his hat into the British election campaign.

With no election in sight either in the provincial or federal arena, Mr. Hepburn would seem to be wasting a lot of ammunition that would be more effective if saved for the battle front.

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—Receipts of fresh eggs were still light yesterday on the local market, and though prices did not advance beyond the increase of the week, there were hints of higher levels by the end of the week. Local wholesalers were quoting steady prices to country shippers, but intimated that real good lots would command more money than generally quoted for ordinary lots. Brokers were trading on the steady basis of 40c to 41c for extras, 38c to 37c for firsts, and 19c to 20c for seconds, graded and in free cases. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 47c, extras loose at 45c, firsts loose at 40c, and seconds loose at 20c to 22c. Country shippers were quoted 37c for extras, 32c for firsts, and 16c to 17c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned.

Poultry

New poultry lists showed prices steady with the decreases made following the holiday, or generally 2c per pound below levels offered for alive and dressed birds last week.

Butter

Trade in butter was slow, with prices steady at 20c to 20¼c for No. 1 creamery solids, and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2. Sales were made to out-of-town points at current prices, but trade locally was generally slow.

Cheese

New cheese was a slow seller, and brokers' prices were nominal at 12c for large, 12¼c for twins, and 12½c for triplets. Prices to retailers were steady at 13c for new large, 13½c for twins, and 13½c for triplets, and 17c for old large, 17½c for old twins, and 17½c for old triplets, with old Stiltons at 20c and new Stiltons at 15½c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—Egg prices were higher an dbutter and cheese quotations declined, while potato prices held unchanged on the produce and dairy market yesterday.

The continued scarcity of fresh eggs sent carlot prices of Ontario or prairie extras and firsts up a cent. Extras were quoted at 40c and firsts at 32c, while seconds held steady at 19c a dozen. Quotations to retailers were unchanged and receipts were 1,558 cases.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter, in carlots, lost a quarter of a cent at 19½c to 19¾c a pound. To retailers, solids at 21c to 22c and prints at 22c to 23c a pound were both unchanged. Receipts were 103 boxes.

Ontario cheese declined an eighth of a cent at 11¾c to 11¾c and Quebec cheese was off an eighth to a quarter of a cent at 11⅞ to 11½c a pound. Receipts were 2,127 boxes.

Montreal potatoes were unchanged at 30c to 40c per 80-lb. bag and New Brunwick Cobblers were 45c to 50c and N. B. Green Mountains were quoted at 50c to 55c per 80-lb. bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Fresh upturns in grain prices, despite active profit-taking sales, went hand in hand yesterday with renewed attention to the warlike strain between China and Japan.

Indications were that the Orient had been a good purchaser of wheat on the Pacific Coast, and it was announced that China had bought three cargoes today in Canada.

Liverpool advices said the maximum pressure of wheat supplies had now probably been experienced, and that more than half of the world's wheat requirements were still to be obtained from North America.

Wheat closed irregular ⅛ off to ⅝c up, corn unchanged to ¼c higher, oats at ⅛c ⅝c decline and provisions unchanged to 5c advance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16. — Wheat prices lost still further ground on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Losses at the close were from ⅛ to ½ cent lower than Wednesday. October was down ⅛c at 54⅝c, November, ⅝c at 54⅞c to 55c; December ¼c at 54½c; and May ⅛c at 58⅛c.

A pause in export demand continued yesterday, but a broadening of outside support absorbed much of the hedging by elevator interests and prevented the market from declining more than a fraction. Volume of trading reached only moderate proportions.

Foreign news was featured by the large movement of wheat from Black Sea ports, the bulk of which came from other countries than Russia. Rumania and other countries were large contributors. The forecast of Argentine shipments indicates only about 750,000 bushels to move out this week, compared with nearly 2,000,000 last week.

Cash wheat trading was slow. Spreads on Durums averaged from unchanged to one cent higher. Coarse grain interest was indifferent, with prices following the trend of the wheat market.

DID THEIR DUTY

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—While appreciating the viewpoint of "Workless" in his letter of Wednesday, I would like to call his attention to the fact that Chief Newhall was merely taking precaution such as his position obliged him to do.

Blame the system not the Chief of Police, "Workless"—the men higher up, "the powers that be," the men "behind the gun."

Yours truly,
Workless Too.

PLOWING.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: Agriculture in England is preparing to adopt the Russian method of "collective" farming. This is rendered desirable by the adoption in England by degrees of machine farming. Tractor plowing, drilling, harvesting (cutting and threshing by combines) has with artificial drying, so speeded up agriculture there that it removes the hazard of bad weather, rats and mice, and the many drawbacks of slow farming.

It leaves tractors, combines, etc., idle at the very time of the year others might use them. This has given rise to "collective" farming which requires superintendence by a government or a society or company but produces a finer article, more of it, at a much less cost. This plan is in vogue in our west, also, but the cost of a surplus in transportation gives the home producer in Britain a great advantage. "Collective farming" is now being suggested for our west.

THORNTON LAUDS SPIRIT IN WEST

Finds Resentment at Eastern Idea They Are "Down and Out."

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16—Returning yesterday from his annual tour of inspection of the company's western lines, Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, paid high tribute to the spirit which he had remarked among the people of Western Canada, and pointed out that the true picture of that region was by no means one of gloom.

"There is no use in denying that certain sections of the west are exin some parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta," Sir Henry said, adding: "but in the northern part of these provinces the crops have been quite good, and in those sections in which results have been disappointing they have relief works and other government aid under way and the situation is being taken care of.

"I found in the west," he added, "a certain resentment at the idea that the east were looking upon them as "down and out."

"Of course," Sir Henry concluded, "the difficulties are there, but they are being met in wonderful spirit. This is not the first crisis which the world and Canada has had, and it will not be the last. The thing to do is to guard against panic, against becoming stampeded, and the country is bound to come through."

CANADIAN HANDICRAFT WORKS DISPLAY SKILL IN MANY LINES

Annual Exhibition of Guild Opens in Art Gallery, Montreal, Saturday.

BIG ENTRY LIST

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16 — Handicrafts are not a lost art in Canada. In fact, they are probably in a more flourishing state than any other product in the Dominion, since many who have been deprived of their regular employment are turning to the traditional occupations of their parents—and their mothers—to while away their enforced hours of leisure.

The heights to which the crafts of the native Canadian and those brought to this country by the new citizens from over the water have the delightful collection of work which has been assembled for the annual exhibition of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild which opens in the art gallery at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday. Dr. Victor Morin, President of the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal, will formally open the display.

The collection on view ranges from cupboards, model ships and a locomotive to quilts, sewing baskets and baby clothes, all of which are marked by originality of design and the exquisite skill of workmanship. A most amusing piece of furniture for a child's room is an outstanding piece in the collection. It is a double-doored cupboard bearing the legend of and illustrating a French-Canadian Chanson. The carved heads of the two leading figures in the song project above the doors, while the black cat which they are searching perches on the top shelf and the general activity of the other characters is painted on the doors.

Striking Models

The wood-carving section contains many other striking things. A model of the Shawinigan Technical Institute is complete to the tiny sash windows that actually slide up and down and the doorway that swings open on hinges. Then there are exact replicas in wood of a modern locomotive and steamship displaying that infinite capacity for taking pains which has been termed genius, and a colorful French Canadian kitchen with the good wife drying dishes by the sink while the men folk chat. A new departure in the exhibit is the inclusion of several violins made in Canada by Hungarian craftsmen. These are not only good to look at but have a full rich tone.

Then there are the quilts, hooked and braided rugs, homespun frocks, fine crochet work and smocking for which the guild displays have long been noted. The rugs this year are particularly charming with their "home-made" designs of the Quebec countryside.

McGILL PICKED RETAIN HONORS

29th Annual Senior Inter-collegiate Field Meet Opens To-day.

IN MONTREAL STADIUM.

MOLSON STADIUM, Montreal, Que., Oct. 16.—(CP).—To the accompaniment of the heavy rain, the twenty-ninth annual senior intercollegiate track and field meet started here today with the McGill University athletes picked to retain their championship.

The possibility of a large number of records being smashed seemed slight as the track was heavy due to yesterday's bad weather and the rain just before the start.

Summaries:

880 yards run—1, R. G. Sampson, McGill; 2, F. M Bourne, McGill; 3 Stewart, Toronto. Time 1 58 3-5 (new record).

One mile run—1, Phil Edwards, McGill; 2, R. C. Goode, McGill; 3, Graham, Toronto. Time 4.31 (new record).

Montreal Firm Is Suspended To-Day

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16 (CP.)—The firm of Beaulieu and Duncan was suspended from trading on the Montreal Curb Market to-day under sections of the constitution providing for bankruptcy of members.

G. A. Beaulieu, who held the firm's seat on the curb, was suspended, it was announced on the ticker.

At noon to-day no petition in bankruptcy had been fyled in the Bankruptcy Court.

POWER ISSUES ARE SUSPENDED

Trading in Montreal and Shawinigan Power Stopped on New York Exchange.

OFFICIALS' REQUEST.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16.—The suspension of the common stock of Montreal Light Heat and Power and Consolidated and Shawinigan Water Power from trading on the New York curb market was made at the request of officials of the Montreal Stock Exchange, it was revealed today.

When England abandoned the gold standard, the local exchange pegged Montreal Power common at 38 and Shawinigan at 33. Since then trading in both issues had been very light.

Power Sank 10 points and more below 38 on the New York curb, but by regulation of the Montreal Exchange, traders could not buy power on the New York curb.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET CLOSE

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16.—(CP).—Stocks advanced in quiet trading today and the market closed with a strong tone. U.S. Steel, American Can, National Biscuit, New York Central, Southern Pacific, and Northern Pacific gained 2 points or more, while American Telephone, American Tobacco "B", Eastman, Allied Chemical and Union Pacific rallied 3 to 4. Sales approximately 1,500,000.

Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16.—(CP.)—Toronto Stock Exchange market was some firmer in the afternoon and small gains were shown by majority of pivotal issues. The volume while slightly improved in the afternoon over the forenoon, nevertheless indicated a lack of public interest.

Massey-Harris supplied most activity of any individual issues. The stock dropped to a new record low of 1⅜, then firmed to 1¾ at the close. It had closed at 1¾ last night.

Brazilian Traction at 10 1-8. C.P.R. just above 16. Ford of Canada at 12⅜, International Nickel at 10 were all up ⅛ point or less. Bell Telephone, Steel of Canada, Walkers, and Noranda closed unchanged.

Dominion Stores was off slightly at 17. B.A. Oil sold under 9 and Imperial at 10¼ was below last night's final. International Petroleum came out at 10 and moved up to 10¼.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16.—(C.P.)—Stock prices fluctuated aimlessly within a narrow range to an irregular close on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market today. Trading remained at low ebb and changes on end, of which the majority were recessions, were relatively unimportant.

Among the higher-priced gold stocks, McIntyre and Tech Hughes dipped 25 apiece, the latter appearing to be under light selling pressure. Lake Shore turned over in the afternoon at $236.50 for a gain of 50, and Wright-Hargreaves and Nipissing advanced 5 each.

In the cheaper sections Macassa and Premier Gold lost 3 apiece, Siscoe a cent and Brownlee and Moffatt-Hall fractions, while Eldorado and Moss recorded slight gains.

Noranda met improved demand in the afternoon and closed up 35, but International Nickel and other interlisted stocks were just holding in dull turnover.

RADIO DONATED

The Relief Association has had donated a C.G.E. Battery Radio in good condition, which is to be sold and the proceeds turned over for relief purposes. Anyone who can use a battery radio, can secure particulars at The Examiner Office. This radio would be specially useful where there is no electric connection. 2d, dh

GOTHAM STOCKS HIGHER TO-DAY QUIET TRADING

Increased Reserve Rate Regarded as Constructive Element on Wall Street.

RAILS ADVANCE.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Securities markets generally viewed the increased reserve rate as constructive, and in the main, prices crept higher in quiet trading today.

Stocks pushed slowly upward, under the leadership of the rails. After some hesitancy in the first half hour, and while the high grade low-yield bonds were naturally depressed by firming money rates, the higher-yield issues moved upward along with stocks.

Gains of 3 to 5 points were registered in such rail shares as New York Central, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, New Haven, Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson and Santa Fe. In the industrials gains of 2 to 4 appeared in U. S. Steel, American Can, Eastman, Allied Chemical, Dupont, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Tobacco "B", Coca Cola and others.

Bankers explained that since the easy money policy had failed to stimulate business and had been only partially successful in checking the flow of unwanted gold into this country, a return to a more normal basis could scarcely be regarded as adverse.

The weekly Mercantile Reviews were somewhat more cheerful, reporting better retail trade in many cities, and signs of restoration of confidence. Furthermore, the foreign trade figures for September showed a fair seasonal gain over August.

Trading Suspended Two Montreal Stocks

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16 (CP)—Acting at the request of the Montreal Stock Exchange, the New York Curb to-day suspended trading here in the common stocks on Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company and Shawinigan Water and Power Company.

It was said that both issues had been selling at higher prices in Montreal than in New York and that because of restrictions on arbitrage the former exchange had asked that dealings here be stopped.

Montreal Leaders Hold Firm To-Day

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16 (CP)—Stock prices were generally firm in slow trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning.

Conservative and Labor candidates joined in objecting to the candidature of Martin Woodruffe, one of Sir Oswald Mosley's "new party" men at Chatham. They claimed he was not 21 years of age. Mayor Whyman said he had no power to adjudicate a candidate's age as the papers were in order the nomination was accepted.

Both at Derry and Stockton-on-Tees would-be Communist candidates failed to gain nomination because they didn't have the necessary deposit fee.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, Conservative, and First Lord of the Admiralty in the National Government, was nominated for West Birmingham on his 68th birthday anniversary. He received a present of a black cat, "for luck", from his daughter Diane. Sir Austen has represented the seat since 1914.

In East Leyton, the Liberal candidate's nomination papers were ready half an hour before nominations closed but the deposit money did not arrive in time. In West Leyton Sir Wilfred Sugden, National Conservative, went to the nomination rooms and found that J. T. Hilary, until last night his Liberal opponent, was today his supporter.

VANCOUVER DOCTOR EXPLAINS CAUSE OF ANAESTHETIC DEATHS

Predicts New Anaesthetic Deadening Nerves But Not Causing Unconsciusness.

X-RAY BEFORE OPERATING.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16 (CP)—Presentation of papers by Dr. W. N. Kent, General Hospital, Vancouver, B.C., and Dr. Wilder H. Bancroft, Professor of the Department of Physical Chemistry, Cornell University, marked the opening here of the Congress of Anaesthetists.

Dr. Kent reported on the actual cause of deaths under anaesthetics, which heretofore were attributed to the increase in the size of the thymus gland in the neck.

The enlargement of this gland, Dr. Kent said, was the result of its efforts to keep life in the body. The actual cause of the deaths, he said, is the involution of the adrenal glands after birth or a disease which causes the cortex of these glands to become so diminished that the patient is living on an adrenal reserve just short of sustaining life, but which succeeds for a time with the aid of the thymus gland.

The anaesthetic, he said, has a profound effect on the adrenal gland, and those patients lacking the necessary adrenal cortex may have their lives snuffed out as the flame of a candle.

Guard Against Death

With this information before him, it was pointed out, a physician could guard against deaths under anaesthetic by an artificial increase of the adrenal reserve before the operation.

It was said that X-ray treatment of the enlarged thymus gland would eliminate any danger of death of what formerly was considered the greatest cause of fatalities under anaesthetics. He said the adrenal reserve could be increased by feeding the patient a soup made of the cortes or outer portion of the gland. Dr. Kent said no child should be anesthetized for a tonsillectomy until an X-ray examination was made of the child's thymus gland to learn if adrenal cortex exhaustion were present.

A new general anaesthetic soon will be produced which will deaden the sensory nerves of the patient's body, but will not cause unconsciousness, Dr. Bancroft predicted.

Regaining consciousness, though his sense would be deadened to any pain, the patient thus would be able to co-operate with the physician during the operation, Professor Bancroft said.

QUEENSBORO W.M.S. HEARS FINE TALKS

Splendid O.R.E.C. Program Planned for Cooper Church October 21.

QUEENSBORO, Oct. 16. — The October meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. J. F. Everson, the president, in the chair. "I love to tell the story" was the opening hymn. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison, and all joined in repeating St. Matthew 19 and 20. The roll call was answered by repeating a Scripture verse containing the word "faith." Mrs. Charles Thompson gave a paper on "Finding God everywhere." Mrs. George Holmes read a paper entitled, "The gift of gold," which was a mite box story. Mrs. Bruce Leslie read a paper entitled, "Chow Joe," which was the story of a Chinese traveller who had been converted through hearing a missionary give an address. Two years later the two met and the Chinaman told the story of how he had heard the missionary two years previous, and had tested out his message to find Jesus his best friend. The Chinaman was giving one-third of the profits from his business to the spread of the Gospel among his own people.

Miss Marion Love gave a paper on temperance, which was an excerpt from an address given by Sir George Foster at the World W.C.T.U. convention in Toronto, in which he stated that the government control of the liquor traffic is a failing, fading experiment. He described the liquor traffic as an inveterate enemy of the child, the home and home happiness. The child is the raw material upon which the traffic works and without the child the traffic lapses and dies and becomes extinct.

Mrs. Everson read a paper, giving some interesting information about "Kagawa," the most-talked-of man in the world to-day. He was born in 1888. He was raised by an uncle, who took him to a Bible school that he might learn English, and here he learned about Jesus and became a Christian, and was educated and graduated for the Christian ministry. He spent thirteen and one-half years in the slums of Kobe, where he organized all kinds of relief work for the poor and afflicted, including baby clinics and milk centres. Night schools, sewing classes, a brush factory, cheap restaurants, lodging houses were initiated by him, as well as many other enterprises to relieve distress, and bring happiness to the people. He conducted open air meetings as well as preaching services and prayer services indoors. His work was so effective that the Government set aside $10,000,000 for the reclamation of the slums.

He is the originator of the Million Souls movement, now known as the King of God movement, which is now quickening the imagination of Christian people everywhere. His aim is to win a million people in Japan for Christ and His service.

He has written forty-five books, weighs 110 pounds, and cannot see without the use of a lens which he carries in his pocket. The royalties from his books all go to his work.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Leslie, and the roll call will be answered by a verse containing the word "love."

"There is a green hill far away" was sung, and Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Leslie closed the meeting with prayer.

The O.R.E.C. convention for the township of Madoc will be held in Cooper United Church on Wednesday, October 21st. There will be an afternoon and evening session. Reports will be heard from the different township officers as follows: Children's work, Miss Ida McCaw, Queensboro; Girls' work, Miss Francis Keene, Hassard's; Boys' work, Stanley Rollins, Cooper; Young People, Mrs. G. W. W. Rivers, Madoc; Adult Bible Classes, Mrs. W. A. Blair, Hassard's; Home Department, Mrs. David Blakley, Harts; Missionary, Mrs. George Robinson, Eldorado; Temperance, Mrs. John McCaffery, Harts; Teacher Training, Rev. J. F. Everson, Queensboro; President, Mrs. Fred Sagar, Queensboro; Vice-President, George West, Madoc; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. James Keene, Madoc.

Trenton Man Loses Case Against Bank

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16—(CP)—An action brought by W. R. Bonter of Trenton, against the Bank of Montreal for $300,000 damages for alleged wrongful conversion of stock, was dismissed with costs today by Mr. Justice Masten.

The plaintiff based his claim on the allegation that stock worth $38,000 in 1924, had been deposited with the bank in trust for his late wife, Evelyn Bonter, to obtain a loan for $1,000.

In dismissing the action His Lordship stated there were numerous discrepancies in evidence for the plaintiff.

FIRST INTEREST IN IRON ORE MARMORA TP. STARTED IN 1820

Sessional Papers Reveal Start of Industry by Charles Hayes.

HARD STRUGGLE.

MARMORA, Oct. 16 (Examiner Correspondence)—Sessional papers establish the fact that it was in 1820 that the Township of Marmora first began to attract attention by reason of its immense deposits of iron ore.

In that year, Charles Hayes, whom Nicholas Flood Davin in his publication of "The Irishman in Canada" in 1877 describes as being of Irish birth, began to take steps for the making of iron at Marmora, and on Oct. 26th of that year, the following Order-in-Council was adopted. "Mr. Charles Hayes being heard on a proposition to establish iron works at the Crowe River in the Township of Marmora in the Midland district. His Excellency with advice of Council was pleased to grant permission to him to open a road from the Crowe Lake to Louis Rosebush's in Sidney as nearly on a straight course as the reserve for roads in the prospective area will admit and to erect works near to the said lake on Crowe river, promising to confirm a location of twelve hundred acres comprehending the site of the works and the buildings inhabited by the laborers by grant of the land so soon as the Executive Government shall be satisfied that works are so complete as to manufacture bar iron and hollow ware; and His Excellency with the advice aforesaid, promises to reserve other twelve hundred acres in the neighborhood to supply fuel for the work, and that the grant of land be without the Crown fee, paying only the fee to the patent officers. It is further ordered that he be preferred for one year in the lease of such Crown or Clergy reserves as may be found within this grant and the reserve for fuel."

The tract of land reserved for fuel originally included the whole of the first and second and part of the third concessions of Marmora Township, but subsequently it was substituted by the half of the first four concessions of the township to make with Marmora Lake, as it was then described, an area of 12,000 acres. On Oct. 1, 1821, Mr. Hayes applied for an extension of time, stating that he was deeply engaged in the erection of his works and "hade a vast number of men employed."

Survey Made

Earlier in that year, namely Feb 26, 1821, he had written to the Governor's secretary a letter in which he had mentioned that he had made a survey from the 13th lot in the first concession of Rawdon Township in a straight line to the rear thereof and thence to the Crowe Lake in the Township of Marmora and had a road cut throughout which he thought to be 15 miles in length. With respect to the reserved tract of 12,000 acres, Mr. Hayes discovered that the deposit of ore was outside of the limits of Marmora Township and so submitted to the Government an offer to make a survey of the three adjoining townships in which iron ore was likely to be found and to accept a percentage of the lands as his compensation for the work.

His Excellency the Lieut. Governor, with the advice of the Council, granted the request in an Order-in-Council.

The three townships concerned were Mora, Ninia and Carlos now known as Belmont, Lake and Methuen. On June 7, 1823, Mr. Hayes memorialized the Government for issue of the patents for the grant of 1,200 acres located as a site of the works, having fulfilled the conditions of the original Order-in-Council. As the patents were issued in August of that year, it is inferred that the furnace and works for the manufacture of bar iron and hollow ware were then completed.

That same summer with surveys almost completed, Mr Hayes solicited the Government for permission to locate in the township of Belmont the whole of his percentage for the three townships.

Two grounds were advanced for this request: (1) That the great body of ore upon which the memorialist relied was within the township of Belmont; (2) That in the township of Belmont as a lake to which from the iron works was a line of water communication and from which Mr. Hayes contemplated the cutting at a future period of a canal to connect it with the River Trent. Sir Perequine Maitland was the Lieut. Governor to whom the memorial was sent. The patents were issued in July, 1824, and covered areas of 8,534 acres in Belmont including lot 8 in the 1st concession upon which is the Big Ore bed, or Blairton Mine as it was later termed.

First Trouble

That same year Mr. Hayes appears to have encountered his first difficulties, for in September, 1824, he made an assignment in trust of a portion of his property to Peter McGill, Anthony Manahan and Robert Hayes.

In February, 1825, Messrs. McGill and Manahan surrendered their trust to Charles and Robert Hayes and in June of that year the property was sold in part to Mr. McGill, who carried on the works for some time in that and the succeeding year. In 1828, Mr. McGill unsuccessfully sought the aid of the Legislature for a loan of ten thousand dollars. In October, 1830, he sold the property to a Mr. Hetherington. An act to incorporate the Marmora Foundry Company was procured from the Legislature in 1831 upon the petition of Messrs. Hetherington, McGill and Manahan with an authorized capital of fifty thousand dollars. The object as set forth in the preamble was to acquire the Marmora Iron Works "to the end that the said iron works and manufactory should be conducted on an extensive scale, so that His Majesty's subjects in this province may have a cheap and accessible market for a supply of iron wares independent of any foreign country. A further object was "that the said company will be capable of furnishing such ordance, military and naval stores as His Majesty's Government may require in this province in peace or war."

Further interesting matter on later developments in connection with the works will be furnished in a later story.

YIELD OF WHEAT

Lindsay, the speaker of the luncheon, traced the life of Robert Burns, the immortal bard of Scotland. Pat Rafferty and Charlie Jeeves, of the Original Dumbells, and entertainers this week at the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition, gave several songs and jokes in their own inimitable manner.

C. S. Brown, chairman of the meeting and chairman of the general committee of the exhibition in the armouries, stated that everything was ready for a record attendance to-night and to-morrow.

MILLIONTH FORD CAR

It was just a Ford—a nice shiny new one—but it attracted considerable attention, many passers-by stopping to look at it as it was parked at the curb on George Street near Charlotte this morning. And the reason for the interest shown was emblazoned on both sides and the back in large white letters proclaiming that this was the millionth Ford car made in Canada.

TO-NIGHT IS HOLLYWOOD NIGHT

AT THE ARMOURIES

MOVING PICTURES WILL BE TAKEN TONIGHT OF THE

Produced-In-Canada Exhibition

The Metropolitan Film Productions of Toronto will take moving pictures of the big Fair shooting scenes from different parts of the building and from several angles. These will constitute part of a picture that is being prepared of the whole city of Peterborough. The picture when completed will be shown at the Regent Theatre. One thousand candle power studio arc lights will be required while the picture is being taken. Come and get yourself into the movies.

The crowds thronged the big Fair last night, they marvelled at the extent of the exhibits, they applauded the fine stage performance which is presented each evening at 9:45. They enjoyed the hits of Jeeves and Rafferty from the "Dumbells" who appear nightly with Mose Yokum at the piano. The Peterborough gold and silver medallists of this year's Canadian National Exhibition will also be on the stage tonight.

There are Carnival games and amusements, with generous prizes and on the square. There is only one night more. Don't miss the big show.

COUNCIL PASSES BUILDING PLANS

Bid for Street Railway Rails Turned Down by Aldermen.

BUILD STORM DRAINS

The plans for the city rest room to be built on the market square by the City Trust were passed unanimously last night at a special meeting of the City Council. The plans were drawn by W. R. L. Blackwell and call for one-storey brick building, 24 feet by 42, with basement. There will be two waiting rooms, a women's rest room and lavatories for men and women.

Bid Refused

Abraham Low entered a bid of four dollars per ton for the purchase of the street railway rails, but the offer was turned down the Council deciding to store the rails until the price of steel is higher.

Authority was given the City Engineer to construct storm drains on the south of the De Laval running westerly and on the north side of Lansdowne street between Park and George streets. This was included in the city's unemployment relief program.

Prices will be secured on new pumping materials for the Engleburn Avenue sewer pump, the old pump, which has been in use for twenty years, having worn out.

YORK COUNTY PLOWMEN CAPTURE THREE IMPORTANT SOD CLASSES

4th in the two-furrow competition. In this last class the number of entries was comparatively small. These three men also won the first three prizes in the two-furrow contest on Thursday. Stewart Nelson by the way, was injured in a traffic accident near the plowing fields Monday evening, and has not yet fully recovered from its effects.

Durham county plowmen were conspicuous in the results of the third class which was on Wednesday's program, but the judges' awards were not anncunced until last night. Mervin Smith of Cavan township won first place. Howard Muir of Courtice was second, and three other prizes went to Durham men, and the third prize to George Magee of Omemee, in Victoria.

Attendance Was Large

Thursday's comparatively large attendance, in spite of the rain, afforded an index of the large numbers of visitors who would have been here on the two middle days if the weather had fulfilled its promise of Tuesday. For example, four men arrived late in the afternoon after driving nearly three hundred miles. They had intended to come on Wednesday, but the rain kept them at home. Thursday morning was just as discouraging when they first looked out, but they discussed the trip by telephone and decided to take a chance, and on the way passed through a belt of sunshine. How many others, however scanning the same prospects, preferred not to risk the dismal and wet outlook in the morning when they would otherwise have been on the road.

Deputy-Minister Present

Thursday's attendance was quite satisfactory in the existing conditions, and the day's plowing was generally of high class; and a great deal of it excellent. Every evening the provincial directors have held committee meetings in the board room of the Duffus building. At the concluding meeting last night the directors were visited by J. B. Fairbairn, Deputy-Minister of Agriculture in Ontario. According to Mr. Duffus's report of the conference at which the day's competitions were discussed, Mr. Fairbairn congratulated the directors and the local committees on the success of the match, and the efficiency with which every detail had been arranged and anticipated.

Three Ennismore Boys

Mr. Fairbairn referred to the enthusiasm shown by boys in their class, and especially mentioned the three sons of James Crough of Ennismore who competed in that class which was reserved for boys under eighteen years. The eldest of the Crough boys is twelve years old and the youngest is eight. They were coached from the side lines by their father. The smallest lad is called by his family Tim Joe, and the enthusiasm of the boy and the earnest and eager manner in which he talked to his team so delighted Mr. Fairbairn that he related the incident to the directors, remarking that so long as the young people of the farms were acquiring such interest in plowing and also the experience from competitions the work of the Ontario Plowmen's Association deserved every commendation and support. If the Crough boys did not win any prizes Thursday, they are still young and they were in high class company. And they are not entirely overlooked, for they will each receive the five dollars in gold which Mr. Duffus is giving to every boy under fourteen years who entered the match and finished his work, but did not succeed in winning the prizes awarded by the judges. It was stated that James Crough has twelve children in his family.

Progress in Plowing

Both Mr. Fairbairn and James McLean, of Richmond Hill, briefly reviewed at the executive meeting the development of the Ontario Association, and stated that Thursday's plowing was excellent. Another old plowman who expressed the same opinion was Wm. Doherty of Toronto, honorary treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association. They also paid an unreserved tribute to the local committee for the facilities which had been provided for the match.

Mr. McLean recalled a provincial match which was held at Brantford about fifteen years ago when it was thought that the plowing of that day could not be improved. As a matter of experience there had been since then gradual progress and the plowing of to-day was better than ever. This was particularly apparent in the work done by the boys, and Mr. McLean also had an approving word for the three Crough youngsters, expressing the hope that the would make real plowmen as they grew up.

Mr. Duffus told The Examiner last night that Riley and Hickey, George street clothing shop for men, had been so impressed by the work of the local committee and by the record list of entries that they had offered a suit of clothes as a prize to be given in any class the committee decided.

Clear Sign of Enthusiasm

Proof of the enthusiasm of the plowmen was seen in the large entry list in some of the classes. Many of the men paid their dollar entry fees on Wednesday and Thursday in classes of from 40 to 60 entries in which they know only seven or eight prizes were given. Although the great majority could not win, yet the plowmen went back to work on the second day just as keenly as on the first. It was that spirit which was the essence of the competitions.

MISSION SERVICE OPENED THURSDAY

Members of Canadian Church Army Conducting Services in City.

On June 24th (St. John Baptist's Day) 1930, there was dedicated in the city of Toronto a motor van for mission work in the Diocese of Toronto. This van was donated by the Toronto Anglican Young People's Association to the Canadian Church Army; and is one of four such motor mission vans now operated by the Church Army in Eastern Canada, the other vans work in the Dioceses of Ontario and Ottawa; and on Prince Edward Island. Each van carries two trained and commissioned Evangelists, who conduct Mission services and visit the people in their homes. The vans operate from the month of May or June up to the month of November, and last year the Toronto Diocesan van was engaged in thirty-two short period Missions during that time. The Mission van is now paying its first visit to the Deanery of Peterborough; it began by holding a successful Mission in the Deer Bay Settlement (Harvey Township) and at St. Matthew's Church, Hall's Bridge, both in the Stony Lake Mission Parish. Next the Apsley Mission was visited where the Evangelists held missions at St. Andrew's Church, Owenbrook, and St Paul's Church, Lasswade. St. Mark's, Warsaw, was next the scene of operations then on to St. George's, Hastings, and St. James', Roseneath. In all these places splendid congregations have greeted the Evangelists in their preaching of the gospel. On Sunday last the Evangelists, Captains R G Bewley and C. M. Stanway, began a four days' visit at St Mark's, Otonabee, and here as elsewhere excellent congregations have attended the services. The opening of the Mission at St. Mark's coincided with Harvest Thanksgiving services, Captain Stanway preaching at the morning service, Captain Bewley in the evening. The church was tastefully decorated with 'fruits' of the harvest.

The work of the van for this year is drawing to a close. Two Missions remain to be held first at St. George's, the second at All Saints churches in this city.

St George's will be visited from yesterday (Thursday) until Sunday, October 25; on this latter date the Evangelists commence a Mission at All Saints Church.

SURGERY NOW ABLE TO OFFER PARTLY NEW KNEE TO HUMANITY

Lining Strap of Ligament From Other Parts of Body Binds Leg Bones.

OPERATION SUCCESS TWICE

(By Howard W. Blakeslee, A. P. Science Editor)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16.—Surgery now offers one a partly new knee. A living strap of ligament is made from other parts of the body and used to bind together the upper and lower leg bones at the knee.

This operation has been performed twice, and its technique was explained at a general session of the American College of Surgeons last night by William R. Cubbins, M.C., of Chicago.

The problem is like that of the Stone Age man who wanted a hammer. He rounded a cylindrical stone so that it had knobs on both ends with grooves between them. He drilled holes or notches in the end of a wooden handle. He went to nature for leather thongs which he wound around the stone grooves, crossing them and drawing them down through the openings in the handle.

In the knee the two knobs corresponding to the stone hammer head are the normal contours of the lower end of the upper leg bone. The surgeon has to drill the holes. The new "thongs" in the operation replace or reinforce the cruciate ligaments which naturally bind the upper and lower leg bones like the stone age hammer. They are called cruciate because they cross each other in the form of a letter "X".

Uses Muscle Membranes

Dr. Cubbins, M.D., of Chicago obtains the material for his new ligaments from the tough membrances covering the large muscles above the leg of the persons who needs the knee repairs. One comes from the muscles of the side of the upper leg and the other from the muscle at the back. The strips from each are nearly a foot long and more than an inch wide.

After they are laced into place at the knee, they are sewed to the membrane covering the bone. The cruciate ligaments may be injured by falls, bumps and twists. If they are weakened the knee might easily be dislocated.

This strap is only a small part of the complete knee mechanism. Surgery previously has perfected several other knee repair jobs. Pieces of bone from other parts of the body are grafted into the knee.

When the semi-lunar cartilege, the "ball-bearing" of the knee, is injured, surgeons can smooth it down. In housemaids knee they have learned to reduce the excess knee joint fluid by cutting out a section of the synovial membrane which secretes the fluid.

Cancer Pointers.

A cancer conference and symposium was held all day to-day. Some of the points emphasized were that everyone should know that cancer does not begin as cancer, but just in some sort of an irritation. That beautiful women who take care of their skin never die of skin cancer, and that the disease has so many ramifications that there are 110 names for its various parts that have been studied in the last 30 years.

Sir George Lenthal Cheatle of London, listed the symptoms which he said the public should know and watch, realizing that they are common to other diseases than cancer. These were: A sore place, however small, on the tongue, inside the mouth, lip, throat, or anywhere on the skin; bleeding from undetermined cause; pain, however slight and transient it may appear to be; indigestion and constipation. The nature of a lump anywhere, however small, should be determined at once.

Officers Elected "Y" Leaders' Corps

The Leaders' Corps of the local Y.M.C.A. held their election of officers at the first meeting this season on Wednesday, October 14. Following officers were elected:

Hon President, D. A. Loomie; President, N. H. Hamilton; Vice-President, R. F. Kitchen; Secretary-Treasurer, A. Ward.

Mr. Loomis, speaking of the year's program said that the very much increased membership in the new "Y" would mean increased demands upon the Leaders' Corps. The new pool would require a new branch of swimming leaders able to take care of, and instruct, classes in the pool.

In order to take care of this, plans were formulated for immediate action in forming new classes of instruction. A duty schedule for the year was drawn up, whereby each leader has a specific class assigned to him in which he acts as assistant to the Physical Director.

After the routine business had been disposed of, an outing at Clear Lake was planned for next week-end.

Under Spain's proposed agrarian reform 60,000 families would receive grants the first year.

General Election In Ireland In The Offing

Unless there are radical changes in the political and economic conditions in the Irish Free State, an election is inevitable, so say press reports from the land of the shamrock. Above are the two most prominent political leaders in Ireland at the present time who, if an election is called, will lead their respective parties into bitter conflict. Left, Premer Cosgrave, in typical fighting mood, while at the right is E.: De Valera, the Oppostion leader.

EDGAR WALLACE SEEKS ELECTION

Famous Writer Follows Leadership of Lloyd George—Continues Writing.

RUNS IN BLACKPOOL.

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 16—(CP Cable).—The election contest in this celebrated amusement centre is one of the most enlivening of the entire British election campaign, being a straight fight between Captain Erskine Lost Conservative, and Edgar Wallace, famous writer of detective stories and plays. Mr Wallace is a Literal and he acknowledges the leadership and aims of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George.

Blackpool, which has more dance halls, amusement parks and picture-palaces to the square mile than any other spot on earth has been represented in the House of Commons since 1924 by Sir Walter de Frece, Conservative. Sir Walter was re-elected in a three-cornered contest in 1929 on a minority vote. He is retiring, largely to devote his time to his invalid wife—formerly Vesta Tilley, celebrated impersonator of male characters on the vaudeville stages.

Wallace's output of plays and novels, as is well known, is prolific; so much so in fact there is a widespread rumor the printing presses have fallen behind. Despite the rigors of the campaign he is pursuing his writing although it is mainly confined to autographing books that are being left by the hundred at his hotel.

Mr. Wallace has great admiration for Mr. David Lloyd George and he hopes to be able to travel by air down to Carnarvon to aid the veteran Liberal Leader in his fight for re-election in that constituency.

DEBATE LOOMS OVER DIVORCE

Spanish Deputies for First Time in Centuries Will Discuss Question.

SETTLE RELIGION CASE.

MADRID, Oct. 16 (C.P.).—A constitutional article which would legalize divorce in Spain for the first time in centuries will be debated in the National Assembly tonight.

The Assembly already has introduced the issue, Article 41, together with a number of amendments, and it is expected that the discussion will rival in intensity that which led to the resignation of Don Niceto Alcala Zamora as President, in favor of Don Manuel Azana.

The religious section of the constitution was completed last night, and an article guaranteeing freedom of worship was adopted. It provides for "liberty of conscience and the right to practice any religion compatible with public morals."

Catholic and agrarian deputies from the Basque and Navarre provinces boycotted the Assembly in protest against recent legislation divorcing Catholicism from the Government and threatening church orders with dissolution.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 16.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The regular session of Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge No. 176, was held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Tuesday evening, the special feature being the official visit of the district-deputy president, Sister Davidson, of Lindsay, and her installing staff, the annual installation of officers being carried through in a very efficient manner.

Bride Of The Week Honored By Friends

MILLBROOK, Oct. 16.—(Examiner Correspondence). — A very pleasant social gathering, which took the nature of a surprise party, was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Second line, Cavan, on Wednesday evening of last week, when over one hundred friends and neighbors gathered to do honor to one of the daughters of the home, Miss Isabelle Armstrong, R.N., whose marriage to William Hutchison, of Otonabee, took place in Christ Church, Bailieboro, on Thanksgiving Day.

Ex-Warden James L. McCamus acted as chairman for the happy party, and in the course of his felicitous address, extending greetings and best wishes, presented the bride-to-be with a miscellaneous shower, numbering many beautiful and useful gifts, attractively arranged on a central table beside which the guest of honor had been given her seat, her entrance to the room being heralded by the wedding march, played by Mrs. W. Lunney.

On behalf of the congregation of Christ Church, Bailieboro, Howard Fair and Arnold Brown presented Miss Armstrong with a handsomely upholstered occasional chair and a wicker fernery, her words of response to the double presentation being feelingly expressed, all present joining heartily in singing, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Other items on the enjoyable program, which featured the evening, were readings by Miss Dorothy Hall, who is a pupil of Mrs. W. McKee-Bingham, Millbrook; solos by Mrs. William Lunney, piano solos by Miss Gwendolyn Hutchison, and community singing, for which Mrs. Lunney played.

Music, the service of dainty refreshments and other entertainment completed a most delightful occasion, many personal expressions of good wishes for future happiness being extended to the "bride" as good-nights were spoken, and the many car-loads of guests drove off on their homeward way.

Quartet Records Are Well-Known Classic

Music lovers in Canada will welcom the announcement of the inauguration of a Canadian musical masterpiece series on Victor Records, the first release of which is the Quartet in F Minor by Haydn. In assigning to Hart House Quartet the task of recording this well-loved suite, Victor could hardly have chosen better in all the length and breadth of the world. Fitting tribute has been paid to the musicianship of the four artists who make up this internationally famous group, and their interpretation of the Quartet is something which will add to an already established position in the world of music. The Haydn suite, Opus 20, No. 5, is reproduced on three double-sided discs.

ANNIVERSARY HELD BY CAVAN CHURCH

Rev. George McColl, Toronto, is Special Speaker for Occasion.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAVAN, October 15. — Very successful and well attended anniversary services were held in Cavan United Church on Sunday, Oct. 11, when the Rev. George McColl, of Toronto, was the special speaker, morning and evening.

A large and appreciative congregation listened to an eloquent and inspiring sermon in the morning, preached from the text, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." — John 3:16.

The Rev. J. E. Whithame, pastor of Cavan United Church, conducted the service, and introduced the speaker.

The Rev. Mr. McColl in opening his subject, stated that the holiest thoughts that a man can think revolves around God, yet so often we hear His sacred name lightly spoken. There are different conceptions of God. In a series of articles running in a periodical written by men of different nations, there was a vast difference in their conceptions of God. Yet the common denominator for all is comtained in the creed: "I believe in God, the Father, etc."

Reverence, adoration and praise, is in our highest conception of God.

Many different verbs follow His name: Created, spoke, appeared, descended, but the most significant one is that contained in our text, "loved." Love is not detached. It is in all and through all.

Love is the greatest attribute of God.

"When I view the sky by night, with its constellations of stars, I am impressed with the infinite power, wisdom and knowledge of God."

Love has no form, or shape or color, yet we absolutely believe in love. There is a spiritual reality which we all feel.

The apostle gives us the best way to demonstrate to ourselves that God is love. "See it in Christ's ways, life and death."

"God so loved the world," not only men and women, but "Man and beast and bird, both great and small—the whole universe."

Where love is in the affairs and transactions of man, we only see in part. To see all is to forgive all." A cleansed vision gradually begins to see Love came out of all.

It is God's world. All things in the world are ours—are free, and absolutely come to us through Christ Jesus.

Love can never recant, sidestep or equivocate—must be loyal and true. Calvary tells me that God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, and His Son gave Himself willingly on Calvary; He transfused His blood for the world. There is a fresh start for every man on Calvary. Every man who comes to God must believe and belief is simply trust. We must take Christ at His word and commit ourselves to Him.

Things that help you and me are right at hand—are the stern realities of life.

The touch of Christ fortifies and regenerates the life. "Whosoever believeth on Me shall have life." God is able in His greatness and goodness to fulfill His promises."

The choir sang "I came to the Garden alone." The music added to the service.

Many acquaintances from the adjoining circuits came to hear Mr. McColl preach, and after the service many lingered for the pleasure of a few minutes conversation with an old friend.

In the evening his text was also in John, chapter 1, verses 11 and 12. Again the church was well filled and the service much enjoyed. The choir sang an anthem, Miss Tinney taking a solo in it.

Miss Helen Kennedy sang a solo in pleasing voice and a quartette was sung by Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. R. S. Staples, Mr. Reginald Sutton and Mr. F. M. Staples.

The financial objective of three hundred dollars was reached.

Weddings

BIBBY—DIAMOND

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 16 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Saturday, October 3rd, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. Samuel Diamond, Seymour township, when their only daughter, Edna Berdetta, became the bride of Mr. Wesley Walter Bibby, of Toronto, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bibby of Campbellford, the Rev. F. G. MacTavish officiating.

The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father and took her place beneath the arch, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss V. Tinney. She was daintily gowned in a dress of princess blue georgette and radium lace with white shoes, hose and gloves to match and wore a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses.

Miss Florence Bibby, sister of the groom was the bridesmaid and looked charming in a dress of eggshell georgette over gold and carrying a bouquet of carnations. Theo Heatlie of Toronto supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the bride and groom to the number of fifty-five. The house was daintily decorated throughout with white streamers, and bells and bouquets of autumn flowers.

Later the happy couple left mid showers of confetti and good wishes the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue crepe trimmed with white and wearing a hat and gloves to match. The grooms gift to the bride was a lovely purse, to the bridesmaid and pianist a silver compact and to the best man silver cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Bibby will reside in Toronto.

On Wednesday evening, October 7, friends and neighbors to the number of 200 gathered at the home of the bride's parents and tendered Mr. and Mrs. Bibby with a miscellaneous shower. The many useful and costly gifts showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held in this community.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The playwright, Sir James Barrie, who has brought much pleasure to millions of persons by his whimsical plays, full of the understanding of human nature, says: "Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep if from themselves."

• • • • • • •

This is worth thinking about, and not merely reading and taking passing note of. Sunshine is a symbol of happiness.

• • • • • • •

In the realm of physics, the sun is light, dispelling clouds and making the world gay, full of color and life. In the mental sphere happiness has the same effect.

• • • • • • •

It is its sun.

• • • • • • •

The clouds are worry, fear, discouragement, and negative thoughts. Happiness dispels them for one cannot be happy and be worried, fearful, or discouraged, at the same time.

• • • • • • •

Neither can one be truly gay and be unhappy.

• • • • • • •

No persons can see things in a glowing, colorful light without this mental sun. It is an attribute of life.

• • • • • • •

Sir James Barrie's statement suggests a pleasant remedy, a method of relief from one's own listlessness, and depression. It is, in a way, formula for making the sunshine effective so that not only does another but also onesself, bask in the invigorating rays. It is a prescription each person can fill.

• • • • • • •

It is entirely agreeable. It lacks all the bad flavor of ill-tasting medicine. It is joyous to take and to give.

• • • • • • •

It may be just a word, a smile, some little act that is done or it may be a greater thing. Whatever it is, it must be sincere. A gesture, however magnificent, does not bring the sun from behind mental clouds.

• • • • • • •

Happiness is as real a sunshine in the mental and spiritual realm as are the rays of the sun in the physical world.

• • • • • • •

Little gifts, perhaps of flowers, from a happy heart, may bring sunshine to a life.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

WATCHING MENTAL DEVELOPMENT

It is certainly gratifying to see that the mental deevlopment of youngsters is now as carefully watched just as is the physical. Every parent is naturally anxious that the youngster should grow strong and free from sickness, usually letting the mental development look after itself.

Generally speaking this is very wise, because if the parents and grandparents are normal individuals, the youngster is likely to be normal mentally also. It would therefore be unwise to be unduly concerned about the average youngster from the mental standpoint.

However there are little points to watch and remember that are what might be called danger signals in the behavior of the youngster. They come under two heads. The first includes those indicating a defect in the higher judgment, such as inability to concentrate, forgetfulness, inability to make decisions. In this same class may be mentioned dream states, castle building, unreal imaginings.

The second class is where the emotional state is affected, where there is a strong impulsiveness, or great depression.

Now there is not usually much tendency toward insanity during the first ten years of life, but in the second ten years when the boy is between 14 to 16 and the girl 13 to 15, when they are emerging into manhood and womanhood that the young people should be watched. There is so much change, mental and physical, going on at this time, the development is so rapid and so much stress and strain to the educational and the social life, that some youngsters just can't adjust themselves to their surroundings. Statistics show that there is a sharp rise in the admissions to mental hospital at this time.

What is the best way to have the boy and girl adjust themselves to life?

See that they play games, engage in the various activities of school life. A boy or girl playing or working with other boys and girls learns to adjust himself or herself to the rights and privileges of others, and to obtain in a natural manner his own rights and privileges.

Just as soon as a patient in mental hospitals learn to adjust themselves to the life of the community, they are released from the hospital.

If youngsters can learn this at play, in school, by mixing well with others, it will lessen the number of admissions to mental hospitals.

CONDITIONS IN WEST GREATLY IMPROVED

C. O. Stillman of Imperial Oil Company is Impressed by Improvement.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 16—That there is a sound basis for the more optimistic reports relating to Western Canada and that the breaking of the drought in this district has strengthened the confidence of Canadians everywhere was the opinion expressed by C. O. Stillman, president of Imperial Oil Ltd., who was a visitor to Regina recently in the course of his annual business trip through the West.

While admitting that conditions are difficult in Canada at this time Mr. Stillman said he saw no reason why a country with the resources of Canada should be apprehensive as to the future and he thought that no nation in the world has more reason to be hopeful.

The present depth of moisture in southern Saskatchewan promises very much better times for this district next year he said and he felt particularly grateful that what is perhaps the finest tract of wheat land in the world was again coming into shape to raise crops. The extraordinary long period of dry weather seems to have been a freak of nature the repetition of which is not to be expected.

Mr. Stillman said that reports he has received indicate that farmers are increasing their livestock and he felt that this would not mean smaller grain crops but would mean the marketing of more grain through feeding.

GOOD TRAINING IS NECESSARY

If Young Housewife Would Bake Cakes Pleasing to the Palate.

COOKING LECTURER HERE.

"It looks terrible but it tastes all right."

There was never a housewife who hasn't at one time or another voiced that remark. Sometimes she said it with tears, sometimes with defiance, but as a rule with shamed resignation. She knew, and nobody knew better, how much appearance can do to coax to life a flagging appetite. What she didn't know was that the fallen cake, the unhardened frosting, the collapsed pie were not the result of a malevolent imp who lives in the stove but the sure result of cause and effect and nobody's fault but her own.

Far otherwise with Miss Claire Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools; her cakes never fall, her pies never go blah in the making, her muffins never sink in the middle. That is the result of scientific training; a thorough knowledge of how to combine ingredients for perfect results. Nothing can go wrong if cookery is made scientific—as it should be made.

She whips into being the most magical of cakes and pies and whatnots with the smoothest of curves, the fluffiest of content, the most eye-intriguing of colors and she tells her audiences there isn't one before her who cannot do exactly the same. In fact she is rather of the impression that it is easier to do things right than to do them wrong.

It was the failures in cookery as much as anything else that helped the delicatessens install cash registers, failures, that is, and the fact that woman's life has broadened to take in so many more activities, each of which demands its portion of time. And that brings you to the stock excuse of the housewife whose table holds up a dubious appearing or tasting dish.

"I rushed things so. I knew they wouldn't be right."

The De Both Home Makers' Schools have discovered and their lecturers are busy all through the year and throughout the country proving that speed in cookery can be obtained as easily as speed in stenography, or anything else, and the cause of failure is not swift work but haphazard work. In fact the average woman spends too much time in the kitchen, and half Miss Andree's efforts are aimed at eliminating kitchen hours.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL TO SPONSOR SHOW

Nomination Committee Appointed at Meeting of Local Organization.

The regular meeting of the Local Council of Women was held in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, with the President, Mrs. F. H. Dearborn, presiding. The main item of interest at the meeting being the nomination lists. This year there will be several vacancies on the National Executive, as officers are limited to a five year term. The matter was left with the executive of the local Council.

Another item for discussion was the nomination papers for nominating the local executive.

It was decided to sponsor a presentation at the Regent Theatre in the near future and affiliated societies were asked to co-operate and make it a real success by selling tickets.

Guest Speaker

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. J. E. J. Millyard of George Street United Church, who took as his subject, "The Power of An Idea." In his introductory remarks he spoke of man's ability to think as one of the things which differentiates him from every other thing on the earth. Although animals may exhibit a degree of intelligence and a certain ability to think, it is on a lower level than man's. The proof of this statement is the improvement man has made in culture, reaching higher and higher stages through the ages.

He mentioned a couple of examples, namely, Wild geese and bees that seem to show a certain amount of ability to think, yet they make no progress, while with the human race progress is noted in each generation. In mankind there are always creatures of impluse influenced by habits, hereditary environment and circumstances, but there are others who do the thinking. To these the world owes so much. They are often not appreciated, sometimes laughed at, slandered and have been martyred, but they have succeeded in getting somewhere.

He referred to two ideas that man has in common: (1) The idea that man has a right to be free and not be a slave; (2) That a man has a right in his freedom to live according to a certain standard. A right for a job and a proper return for his work. For a great many years there has been employer and employee, but there is something in a man, that demands that he become a part with his employer. In Russia they think Communism will settle all the difficulties, but there is something better if only a solution can be found, and our capitalists seem slow to realize that they should take up the matter.

Not long ago men thought it was right to settle private disputes by duels. In 1833 there was a duel fought at Perth, Ontario, and a man killed and no action could be taken against his antagonist. Now a general idea has developed that even disputes between nations should be settled peaceably. Mr. Millyard said, "This shows great progress of thought within the past few years, and we hope and believe that out of this present turmoil there will come a better day as the result of an idea."

A hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Millyard was suitably expressed by Miss Lancaster and extended to the speaker by Mrs. Dearborn.

LIFE OF TENNYSON READ AT MEETING

Good Program Provided by Members of Stirling St. Andrew's Guild.

STIRLING, Oct. 16. (Examiner Correspondence).—The members of St. Andrew's Guild held their regular meeting recently when Arthur Duncan acted as leader and Mrs. Rollins read the scriptural lesson.

Mrs. Eggleton and Miss S Smith sang a duet, "Sweet and Low" followed by a recitation "Charge of the Light Brigade" from Tennyson, by Harold Baker. Miss Margaret Rosebush recited, "The Brook". The choir contributed the number, "Crossing the Barr" followed by a paper on the life of Tennyson, given by Mrs. Meiklejohn.

Alfred Tennyson, the son of an Anglican clergyman, was born at Somersby Rectory, Lincolnshire, Aug. 6, 1809. He was the fourth of 12 children. His parents were cultured and educated and Tennyson enjoyed the use of a wonderful library of his father's, being compelled to memorize good poetry. Living in secluded district he became a great lover of nature, receiving impressions from which he wrote The Daisy, The Brook and others of a similar tone.

When he was a lad of 15 Byron died. He said, "The whole world is in darkness" and went out and carved on a stone, "Byron is dead." He was a worshipper of beauty. His narratives were richly pictured and melodiously tuned. He won his public with his touch of sentimentality.

In 1836 he went to live near Carlyle where he absorbed much of his spirit. In him he found a support for his religious life which was sorely tried by doubt.

In his poem "Lockesly Hall" he made a protest against class disdinctions where love is sacrificed to rank, and gold is made the supreme test of success. Tennyson became very much attached to Arthur Hallam a friend and college mate. Hallam was engaged to marry Alfred's sister Emily. Arthur Hallam went on a trip with his father and died suddenly, a blood vessel bursting in his brain. This affected Tennyson very deeply; to his memory he wrote, "In Memoriam." This consists of 131 lyrics, composed at intervals during 17 years.

In the beginning the early phases of grief are touched upon, moods of stunned and bewildered sorrow, gradually the personal pain, merges into anxious speculation, concerning the mystery of death, and the hope of immortality, through states of doubt, despair and anguished question, the poem mounts into a region of firm though saddened faith. It ends in music, breathing hope and fortitude of heart.

Tennyson was engaged ten years but finally married Emily Sillwood at the age of 41. He was very careless about his manuscripts. The pacts of "In Memoriam" were left in a boarding house and it was just by accident that it was found again. In his poem "Charge of the Light Brigade" he ministers to the national pride and fired their courage.

He tried every range of poetry from descriptive to drama.

In stature he was unusually tall, rather majestic appearance, had a great shock of rough dark hair and laughing hazel eyes. He was rather shy, very affectionate and a close observer of nature. He was athletic, his only defect being that his eyesight troubled him a little. He called his first son Hallam after his friend. His second son, Lionel, died at sea on his return from India.

He could mold his poetry in the blue mystic of twilight and in the opaline haze of sunset would produce a mirage of loveliness. His poem, "Crossing the Bar" may be taken as his farewell word spoken with solemn gladness as he sails into the mysterious sea of death. Tennyson died on Oct. 6, 1892 at the age of 83 years.

CERTIFICATES ARE PRESENTED SUCCESSFUL ENTRANCE PUPILS

King George Home and School Association Holds Successful Meeting.

HALLOWE'EN PROGRAM

On Tuesday evening, a capacity audience gathered at the October meeting of the King George Home and School Association, when the entrance certificates were presented to the graduating class.

Following the usual business a jolly Hallowe'en program was given by several of the junior pupils and a group of senior girls, the room being dimly lighted with jack-o-lanterns to give a proper atmosphere.

Mr. Mowat, in his address to the members of the entrance class, congratulated them on their success. The class, thirty-eight in all, passed one hundred per cent. He emphasized the importance of choosing wisely a course of study, whether business, academic, or technical, and of obtaining as good a secondary education as possible. He also pointed out in later life the benefit of learning to make the most of leisure time. A reasonable amount of homework is a training in habits of independent thought and study, and to pursue successfully a course in secondary education, one must do homework.

Mr. Munro spoke a few words to his out-going class. He reminded them of his old quarrel with them, the times when they did not make use of the best that they have, and urged them to always watch their efforts. He made special mention of their fine school spirit and of the way in which they had helped with playground discipline.

Mr. Mowat, assisted by Mr. Munro, then presented the certificates and school colors. Each student was also given a dainty basket of candy prepared by the president, Mrs. Craig. To show their appreciation of their principal, Mr. Munro, the pupils of the entrance class gave him a brief case. The presentation was made by Madeline Blade and Clarence Lipsett.

Trinity Church Y.W. Are Planning Bazaar

The members of the Young Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. R. Hoover, Park street, with Mrs. A. Parker, president in the chair.

After the opening exercises the various reports were given and Miss Edith Preston was appointed Missionary Monthly Secretary and Corresponding Secretary while Miss Olive Armstrong was given permission to send for the new study book on Korea.

The idea of obtaining the banner at the annual rally on an efficiency basis was presented and the particular points discussed. Miss Olive Marshall read an encouraging report on systematic giving, after which Miss L. Stewart, temperance secretary, read an article on "Canada's Liquor Bill" and plans were discussed for a bazaar to be held this fall and committees were appointed for the various departments.

Miss Miriam Richardson presented the fourth chapter of the study book in an interesting way, dealing with Industrial Problems in Japan.

The collection of talent money amounted to $72.

After the close of the meeting, dainty refreshments were served.

"THESE HARD TIMES"

"The hard times and scarcity of money makes it more important than ever to economize. One way I save on clothes is by renewing the color of faded or out-of-style dresses, coats, stockings, and underwear. For dyeing, or tinting, I always use Diamond Dyes. They are the most economical ones by far because they never fail to produce results that make you proud. Why, things look better than new when redyed with Diamond Dyes. They never spot, streak, or run. They go on smoothly and evenly, when in the hands of even a ten year old child. Another thing, Diamond Dyes never take the life out of cloth or leave it limp as some dyes do. They deserve to be called 'the world's finest dyes!'"

Western Ontario 'Shoe Tossers Win Dominion Title

WELLAND COUNTY ENTRANTS WIN HORSESHOE DOUBLES CONTEST DEFEATING YORK COUNTY TEAM

Two Teams Tied in Final With 4 Wins and Total of 246 Points Each.

McLAUGHLINS THIRD

Twelve Teams From Wide Sections of Ontario Entered the Tournament.

G. Wiley and H. Brady, of Fenwick, County of Welland, won the Open Doubles in the horseshoe tournament at the International Plowing Match here yesterday afternoon, making them doubles champions of the Dominion. With two teams deadlocked at the finish, an extra fifty-point match had to be played, something unusual in horseshoe tourneys, and close to five hundred fans crowded around as the experts fought it out, with the Fenwick team winning over A. Steel and D. A. Tiffin of Islington, County of York.

Yesterday's match drew twelve teams from all over the province, it being an open championship tournament. Three prizes were given, first being gold medals by the Royal Winter Fair with a local cash prize of ten dollars, second being silver medals and five dollars, and third two pairs of Diamond Calk shoes. With the Wiley-Brady team winning first, the Steel-Tiffin combine was second and Russell and Roy McLaughlin of Burketon, Victoria County, came third.

The draw was made in three sections with three thirty-point games to the series, and the two top teams playing in the finals. In the first section, Steel and Tiffin won handily with three games and 90 points. F. Doughty and J. Cole, of this city, were second with two games and 63 points. W. Nichols and H. Gravelle of Bridgenorth, with one game and 73 points, and F. Ventriss and A. J. Everett of Belleville, with no games and 65 points, followed.

In the second section, L. McKay of Reaboro led the way with three wins and 90 points, followed by Wiley and Brady who had two games and 66 points. E. Johnston and B. Barrett of Ennismore trailed them with one victory and 38 points, while H. Fraser and W. McLaughlin of Tyrone, Durham County, had 65 points but no games.

The third section went to the McLaughlin team from Burketon with three games and 90 points and T. Drum and A. E. White of Peterborough with two wins and 80 points. B. Tully and H. Fowler of Bridgenorth were next with one game and 58 points, with A. Loyd and W. Gartley of Belleville behind with no wins and 43 points.

The final was the round-robin system of play-offs with five fifty-point games staged. An unusual feature was the tie between the Steel-Tiffin team and the Wiley-Brady combine at the finish, each winning four games and having 246 points, showing great pitching. The McLaughlin pair were next with four wins and 222 points, while Drum and White took two games for 187 points. The McKay team, with one game and 163 points followed, and the Doughty-Cole duo were sixth with no wins and 133 points.

One fifty-point match between the deadlocked leaders was staged. They started off even with each in turn dropping on ringer after ringer, but the veterans from around Welland County began to pull ahead by degrees. They finally won out 50 to 25, having pitched 19 ringers to their opponents' 14. Both teams received hearty congratulations from the crowd.

Experiments on himself with a new form of rubber mask for administering oxygen and gas are believed to have caused the death of Dr. Gilbert Blurton, who recently was found dead in his room in West Bridgford, England, with the mask over his face.

New York Rangers Train In Montreal

MONTREAL, Oct. 16. — In the midst of football, sport fans are beginning to think of hockey. The professional hockey camps are stirring to life, and National Hockey League officials are busy making up the 48-game schedule for each team.

According to a tentative schedule, that has not yet received the final official seal of approval, the long grind will open on Nov. 12. On that date Chicago's Black Hawks plays the world's champion Canadiens here.

Chicago will train at Pittsburg this year, it is reported; Detroit at home, the New York Americans at Galt, Ont., and the New York Rangers at Toronto. Boston's training quarters have not been announced. The Leafs will train just outside of Toronto, and the Maroons and Canadiens will train here in Montreal.

CANADA WILL SEND ATHLETIC TEAMS TO THE OLYMPIC GAMES

Other Teams to be Invited to Canada Following Los Angeles Meet.

BULLETIN ISSUED.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—Following a meeting of the Canadian Olympic Committee which was held yesterday behind closed doors at the Royal York Hotel and at which the representatives of the press were excluded, the following statement was issued to the press by Secretary M. M. Robinson:

"Every effort will be made by the Canadian Olympic Committee to send representative teams to Lake Placid and Los Angeles in 1932. The money to send such teams will be raised by Government grants, private and general subscriptions and assessment of gate receipts of athletic meets.

"Various governing bodies of sports concerned will be requested to raise a percentage of the cost of sending athletes to the Olympic Games.

Invite Other Teams

"British, German, French, South African, New Zealand and Australian teams will be invited to compete in Canada following the Olympic Games competition.

"British Columbia will be asked by President Horkin of the A.A.U. of C. for a definite declaration of their intentions as to the Olympic track and field trials."

While the meeting was supposedly called as a meeting of the Canadian Olympic Committee, it in reality resolved itself into a roundtable conference of members of the Canadian Olympic Committee and outstanding executive officers of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Meeting at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 16. — The Vancouver Exhibition Association's offer to stage the 1932 Canadian Olympic trial at Hastings Park will be discussed in detail at a meeting between executive members of the local board of the A. A. U. and Manager J. K. Matheson of the Exhibition Association within a day or two, President A. Riley of the local board stated today.

The exhibition body's proposal to put on the trials, bearing all the expense, but also taking all gate receipts, was brought up at the annual meeting of the local board and left to the incoming executive with power to act.

The situation has been thoroughly gone over and the Exhibition Association will now be interviewed with regard to certain modifications of their original offer.

Brown To Box Huat For World's Title

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16.—Panama Al Brown will toss his bantamweight crown into a Montreal ring on Tuesday, Oct. 27, and Eugene Huat of France will attempt to pick it up.

Brown, now on the high seas en route from Europe, yesterday wirelessed acceptance of terms of $7,500 in United States currency for the title scrap. The local promoter, Armand Vincent, tried to persuade the dusky Bedford, Mass., titleholder to accept the stake in Canadian funds, but the latter's shrewd manager, Dave Lumiansky, held out for the extra bit of change that the premium on American funds would mean.

The bout will be held at the Forum, scene of Brown's last defence of his title, to gain a decision over Pat Sanstol, Norwegian born Montrealer. Vincent announces a top price of $5, considered a new level for a world's championship bout. The little sluggers will go 15 rounds, barring a knockout.

Macfadden Printing Magazines In Canada

First evidence of the output of Macfadden Magazines of Canada, Limited, is presented by the appearance of the November edition of True Story magazine on the news stands to-day. This is in compliance with the recent statement that the newly chartered organization will print six monthly magazines in the Dominion. True Story Magazine, formerly printed by the Publications, Inc., of New York, is now printed in Toronto by the Canada Graveur Company.

The Macfadden Magazines of Canada, Limited, has established offices at 80 King Street West, Toronto, and additional branches will be opened as the growth of the Canadian business makes advisable. By its decision to produce the more than a quarter of a million copies of these magazines sold in the Dominion each month in Canadian printshops, the new organization is doing a full share to alleviate unemployment, a large number of workers being required to handle the output and to operate the system of distribution.

Hymn "Take time to be holy."

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. I. Lawson, Miss B. G. French was appointed to take her place for the meeting. The accounts arising from the event of the fowl supper was ordered to be paid. The treasurer, Mrs. John Scott reported the total receipts of the fowl supper to be $123.86. It was decided for each member to give ten cents at the November meeting instead of serving the usual afternoon tea, also to have a program for that meeting.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

TOWNSEND BOUT TOPS N.Y. BILL

Vancouver Welterweight Will Find Paulie Walker No Easy Mark.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 16. (CP) A welterweight duel between Billy Townsend, Vancouver, and Paulie Walker, Trenton, N.J., tops Madison Square Garden's weekly boxing card to-night.

Townsend, hard-pressed to win over Billy Ran, Polish socker, in his debut last week, perhaps will find Walker a handful. The New Jersey boy, a puncher who can take it, fights as though he likes it.

Townsend had to get off the floor to beat Ran on a decision that failed to meet with unanimous approval from the fans and he may find himself floored again if Walker should connect squarely.

Originally Walker was to have met Benny Leonard but Benny was banned from the Garden by the New York State Athletic Commission after his unsatisfactory fight with Paul Silvers.

WILL DEFEND HIS TITLE

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—(CP).—Bat Battalino of Hartford, Conn., world featherweight champion, will defend his title against Earl Mastro, Chicago Italian sharpshooter in the Chicago Stadium, November 4.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis obtained Battalino's signature in New York Tuesday and late last night signed Mastro.

CASUAL COMMENTS

The three cash prizes for the county singles at the Horse Shoe tournament yesterday morning went to Russell McLaughlin of Burketon, L. McKay of Lindsay and F. McKay, also of the town on the Scugog. L. McKay had forty-two ringers, one more than McLaughlin, but the latter had seven more points.

• • • • • •

There was a real crowd around for the open doubles in the afternoon, representing the Dominion Plowing Match Association, with some of the leading pitchers in the country participating. The veterans from St. Catharines, Wiley and Brady, won out but they had to play off with Steel and Tiffin, the Islington tossers, who tied them in the finals.

• • • • • •

It was a pleasure to watch these fellows throwing the shoes, some of them using a double turn and others just twisting the shoes once in the air. It wasn't at all unusual to see four ringers around the stake in one side, and very few shoes were thrown with no count being made.

• • • • • •

The McKay team defeated Wiley and Brady badly, 30 to 6, in the elimination round, and the latter pair revenged themselves by handing the Lindsay tossers a 50 to 7 walloping in the finals. As a rule every game was close, there being little difference between any of the pitchers.

• • • • • •

Little Roy McLaughlin has been a "boy wonder" on the courts down there this week, and has a regular gallery of followers every day. He helped his partner finish third yesterday, pitching with the best of them. He is not all nervous and can circle the peg regularly. We'll bet he is a Canadian champ within a few years' time.

• • • • • •

Grove School's second rugby team won over Trinity College Juniors 15 to 10 the other day after a hard tussle. Dawe, Burgess and Fletcher carried the brunt of the attack for the Lakefield outfit, with Burgess scoring two touchdowns.

• • • • • •

Fred Goyer, Dundas ball player and former Central League star twirler, has been awarded $2,500 damages for the bad car accident he was in in September, 1930. Freddie lost five month's work, as well as being out of baseball since.

• • • • • •

Smith's Falls are plenty peeved at the Galt Terriers for their refusal to meet them in a post-season series to see which is the best team in the province. Galt is the O.B.A.A. champs, while the Falls won the E. O. B. A. title winning ten straight play-off games.

• • • • • •

It seems that a possible trip to Los Angeles next year has the Railroaders rarin' to go and they think Galt is afraid to meet them, while the latter team refuses on the grounds of lateness in the season. Of course, the O. B. A. A. champs are considered the best team in Ontario each year, but aren't they taking in a lot of territory?

• • • • • •

It's just possible that the winners of the Eastern Ontario finals may be a little better, and as long as half the province feels that way about it, the O.B.A.A. title isn't nearly so impressive. With "Irish" Rasson on the mound for the Railroaders, we wouldn't bet very much on any team, even one with Kress twirling.

• • • • • •

According to the Lindsay sports writer, and he should know after last Saturday, Coach Legon's classy P. C. I. squad should sail right through to the interscholastic championship this fall, barring accidents. There's no doubt, the present Collegiate crew is a real threat, comparing favourably with any of other years, and they may make a real name for themselves, at that

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

TORONTO GRID TEAMS FACE ELIMINATION TEST SATURDAY

Argos and Varsity Will Meet Stiff Opposition in M.A.A.A. and McGill.

BOADWAY ON SICK LIST.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16. — (By the Canadian Press.)—With Toronto Varsity pushing off tor Montreal, Hamilton Tigers moving to Ottawa, Montreal Winged Wheelers journeying to Toronto and Western leaving for Kingston for to-morrow's games, to-night is considered an off night in Eastern Canadian football circles. With the exception of Balm Beach, Dominion champs, all squads will see action to-morrow.

A strong feeling of confidence prevailed throughout the University of Toronto camp last night after the players had completed their final efofrt in preparation for the week-end game with McGill. The Varsity squad have concentrated considerably on the forward pass throughout the week's drills and Coach Harry Hobbs now plans to use the new aerial heave to advantage in to-morrow's encounter.

The "Ornhuns" who pulled a surprise on the holiday and handed the Dominion champions a setback in a league fixture are confident of making it two straight victories when they engage the Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers on Saturday. The University second team will send its strongest line-up into action as a win will strengthen their hold on the league leadership.

McDermott Is Ill.

McDermott, the hard tackling snap of the Univerrity of Western Ontario will be lost to his team when the Londoners engage Queen's in Kingston to-morrow. The snapback developed a badly ulcerated tooth and was sent to the hospital yesterday. Otherwise the Mustangs are in excellent condition and will take a lot of beating from the College champions. Bill Breen's crew have hopes of winning tomororw's fixture and resting at the top of the Inter-Collegiate heap for the first time since their entrance to the union three seasons ago.

When another football player came out of retirement last night it was an excellent break for Coach Buck McKenna and his Toronto Argonauts. Billy Bell, who played excellent football last season for Varsity seniors, put in his initial appearance of the season and drilled with the Scullers last night. While he will not see action tomorow he is expected to be an ideal addition to the Oarsmen's backfield. He will in all probability team up with Frank Turville on the Argos backfield when the Toronto crew meet Ottawa a week from to-morrow.

The Big Four champion Hamilton Tigers will journey to Ottawa tonight for their important fixture in the capital to-morrow with the Rough Riders. Ray Boadway, secondary defenceman, is likely to be the only regular not to make the trip. The Tigers have drilled considerably throughout the week on the use of the forward pass and Billy Hughes' proteges are expected to use the pass extensively against the Ottawa aggregation.

Wins Nalco Cup

H. KEITH

of Woodstock, winner of the 1931 Nalco all-Ontario Golf Trophy. The Nalco Trophy is presented by the Northrop & Lyman Co. Limited, and is open to all druggists of Ontario. Matches are played at all important points in the province, and the winners of the various groups met at the Lake Shore Golf Club in the final play-off. Mr. Keith is a well-known athlete, having played lacrosse with the Dufferins of Orangeville, and on the Senior O.A.L.A. Championship teams with Riverside of Toronto in 1921 and Weston in 1923.

District winners were as follows: L. R. Staples, Toronto; W. H. C. Jackson, Parry Sound; G. R. Wood, Hamilton; H. Keith, Woodstock; W. G. Smith, Welland; H. M. Derbyshire, Windsor; Percy Bond, Peterborough; J. W. Garneau, Ottawa.

Each of the district winners is the recipient of a handsome trophy, which is the property of the district winner for one year, following which a miniature one is presented them.

Rugby Only Sport On Paying Basis

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 16 (C.P.)—Football which out of a gross income of $1,140,568.63 the past fiscal year yielded a profit of $600,456.92, is the fairy godmother in sports at Yale University.

Out of sixteen sports generally followed by undergraduate Yale, and itemized in an accounting way, only football has been a paying proposition for years.

Hockey, which is the major winter sport, has had an increase on both sides of the ledger without a paring down of the net deficit.

EARL SEIBERT TO GET CHANCE ON GOTHAM RANGERS' DEFENSE

Lester Patrick to Team Kitchener Youth With Ching Johnson.

TRAIN IN TORONTO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League and the Springfield Indians of the Canadian-American League will commence training activities the middle of next week at the Ravina rink in Toronto.

In announcing his plans Coach Lester Patrick of the Rangers stated that he anticipated no difficulties in the signing of his star players.

Frankie Boucher, Ottawa centre ice star, who was reported a holdout some weeks ago, is expected to arrive at Toronto with the other members of the team forming the first flight.

In addition to the regulars of other years, Coach Patrick has an impressive array of youngsters seeking a berth on the blue-shirted squad and, with these and several players secured via the market the "Silver Fox" is confident of providing a keener opposition in the coming season.

One of the major shifts on this season's team is expected to bring about the pairing of Earl (S.I.) Seibert a newcomer, on the defense with the veteran, Ching Johnson. Seibert, a husky product of the Kitchener, Ont., City League and amateur ranks, has been the property of the Rangers since he made his professional debut with the Springfield team of the Canadian-American League. He starred with the Indians, and would have been moved up to the "big time" sooner, but the wisdom of Seibert's family, many of them hockey stars in the old days, prevailed. And the youngster has now had a thorough schooling.

Patrick last year experimented largely with Frank Peters and Joe Jerwa, a Western League defenceman, on the back line with Johnson. Before that there had been the massive "Taffy" Abel and the much less gigantic Leo Bourgeault. Patrick has every confidence Seibert and Johnson will form one of the best defenses in the National League.

"Seibert is the best defence prospect I've ever seen" was his comment.

Recently the Ranger mentor was discovered at a hurling match, and discreet inquiry revealed he had picked up a number of pointers from the good old Irish game which he plans to inject into the popular ice sport probably much to the consternation of rival managers.

CHALLENGER IS MUCH SMALLER THAN BLUENOSE

Gloucester's Pride is Fourteen Feet Shorter on Water Line.

CARRIES LESS SAIL

Stirring Spectacle to be Renewed After Lapse of Eight Years.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 15 (By The Canadian Press) —The heavy betting on the schooner races to be held off Halifax this month for the international trophy and supremacy of the North Atlantic will be withheld until the morning of the first event. For a comparison of the two competing vessels shows that the weather will have much to do with the result. Bluenose, holder of the trophy and title by right of conquest in 1923, is a much larger boat than Gertrude L. Thebaud, pride of Gloucester. A heavy wind is expected to give the Lunenberger an advantage, while breezes would whisk the lighter vessel along at a good clip.

Thebaud, designed by Paine, Belknap and Skene, built by Arthur D. Story at Essex, is nearly fourteen feet shorter on the water-line with smaller spars, booms and gaffs, and spreads 3,000 feet less canvas than the Canadian contender. She is a comparatively new vessel, having been launched on March 17, 1930. Captain Ben Pine who piloted Thebaud to victory over Bluenose last fall in the Lipton cup races with no title at stake, will be at the helm.

Bluenose, designed by W. J. Roue of Halifax, was built by Smith and Rhuland at Lunenburg and launched on March 26, 1921. The average life of a fishing schooner on the Grand Banks is from twelve to fifteen years, so Bluenose is nearing the end of her days. She soaked up a lot of water during her ten years on the Banks and is now on the marine slip at Lunenburg undergoing a drying process. Captain Angus Walters, the most famous schooner skipper on the eastern seaboard, will sail Bluenose with a crew of picked Lunenburg fishermen.

Measurements.

The following table shows the measurements of the two vessels compared with those of the ill-fated Columbia, last American ship to buck Bluenose for international honors:

Renewal of this stirring spectacle of the sea after a lapse of eight years serves to recall now the history of the schooner races. They were established in 1920. In the fall of that year, following the rather tame performance of the America's cup, which remained at their moorings when it blew a good breeze, the idea was conceived of stacking real heavy-weather vessels one against the other. And so came into being the Nova Scotia fishermen's races.

Eight grand bankers, from Lunenburg and La Have, came to Halifax and staged a stirring contest on October 11, Captain Thomas Himmelman winning with his Delawana. Captain Angus Walters, then skipper of the knock-about Gilbert E. Walters, finished second. The Walters lost her foremast at the start of the last leg when she and the Delawana were on about even terms and there has been high argument in foc sles ever since as to whether she thereby lost the race.

Drowning Mars Race.

A sad incident after this race was the drowning of Captain Calvin Lohnes, who was knocked overboard by the mainboom of his vessel as she was sailing down Halifax harbor for home the day after the contest. In the list of contenders, too, was the name of Captain Albert Himmelman, giant skipper of the big Independence, who subsequently went to "the port of missing ships on the Keno.

Delawana having won the first Nova Scotia race, a challenge on her behalf was sent to Gloucester, and was accepted, the schooner Esperanto being nominated to uphold the honor of the Stars and Stripes. Under the guidance of Captain "Marty" Welch, Esperanto came and saw and conquered, sailing home with the international trophy and $4,000.

Thus ended the schooner races of 1920. They were continued the following year. Eight schooners competed in the Nova Scotia classic, two races being held on the point system. The most striking feature of this series was the initial appearance of the Bluenose which had been designed, as most everybody knows, by W. J. Roue, Halifax yachtsman, as a new type of fishing schooner for Nova Scotia. She won with ease from Delawana and Canadia, Captain Joe Conrad's new entry from La Have—her most dangerous rivals. The elimination races having proven the worth of Bluenose, an international race was arranged. Esperanto, 1920 winner of the trophy, had met her doom on the Sable Island sand bars in the summer of 1921, so Gloucester selected the Elsie, of similar type, to replace her, with Captain "Marty" again at the helm. The clever little skipper and his handsome little craft sailed a splendid race, but Elsie was no match for the more powerful Bluenose.

After this setback Gloucester decided to make a really serious attempt to wrest back the title. Captain Thomas McManus, father of a hundred or more fishing vessels operating out of that port, was commissioned to design a new sweet-lined schooner, the Henry Ford, and Gloucester pinned high hopes on her. Elimination races were arranged as usual. Off Halifax the Bluenose matched her speed with her old rival, Canadia, and two new Lunenburg-built craft, the Mahaska and Margaret K. Smith. Only one race was held, lack of wind preventing the finish of the second scheduled event. Bluenose came up to expectations though the Canadia gave her a good race for her money. However, the committee selected Bluenose as the proper defender and despatched her for Gloucester under convoy of H.M.C.S. Patriot. Meanwhile the Yankee schooners were staging a merry series of races in which the new Henry Ford was victor.

Considerable trouble developed in the subsequent battle between the Ford and the Bluenose, the Canadian boat finally winning the series, after a hard fight and much unpleasantness.

Bad Year for Racers.

Next year was a bad one for schooner racers. The Gloucestermen, not downhearted over the Ford's failure to lift the tankard, commissioned W. Starling Burgess, noted Boston architect, to design a boat to beat Bluenose Burgess turned out Columbia, a real honest-to-goodness fishing schooner but a mighty speed vessel. An unfinished race at Gloucester, in which Columbia showed her heels to Henry Ford and Elizabeth Howard, convinced the challengers that in this new schooner they had a foeman worthy of the Bluenose, and they sent her up to Halifax with high hopes. She made Angus and the Bluenose hum but they were able to beat her to the finish line each time. Unfortunately in the second race Bluenose went on the wrong side of a buoy —not a mark, buoy, mark you, but one of a number which had been designated by the sailing committee as to be left to port or starboard, as the case might be. Captain Ben Pine, who helmed Columbia, protested and the committee gave him the race. The series was officially left unfinished, the prize money of $5,000 being divided between the two schooners.

That ended the international cup races until this year when the competition is being revived to stimulate interest in the fisheries, now at a low ebb. Bluenose and Thebaud met last year off Gloucester in races for the Lipton trophy, with no title at stake. Thebaud trimmed Bluenose in that series and she is coming down this year with the intention of lifting the international tankard. Can she do it?

REGULARS OFF FOR RUGBY TILT

Armstrong, Clark and Brackenridge Will Be Unable to Make Oshawa Trip.

INTERMEDIATES HERE.

The P.C.I. Intermediates stay at home again this Saturday to entertain the classy Port Hope team at James Stevenson Park. The local boys have two wins to their credit against only one loss and they have to add to the winning column to stay up with Bowmanville who have yet to meet defeat.

The 'Petes' took a close decision from Port Hope in the Lakeshore town two weeks ago when they won out by three points but by losing to the visitors on Saturday will practically eliminate the championship hopes that they have entertained since handing Oshawa a 32-4 beating last week. All the regulars will be in action and when at full strength they have a line that shows high class form and the back field of White and Tranter leaves little to be desired.

The Senior 'Petes' will undertake to make it two straight over Oshawa when they invade the Motor City on Saturday but will face a big task as Armstrong, Clark and Breckenridge will not be able to see action.

The former suffered a painful hip injury in Saturday's game in Lindsay and it is unlikely that the big fellow will be of much use for at least another week. His absence will be felt greatly on the line where he is a tower of strength and he tallied the winning touch against Oshawa in their heroic battle a couple of weeks ago.

One bright feature in favour of the Garnet and Grey team is the return to school of Dick Greene, former P.C.I. half man and a star with U.T.S. two years ago when they made their fine bid for the Ontario title. Greene will add a great deal of experience and strength to the line as he held down a flying-wing position with the Rodden-coached team and should prove invaluable to Coach Legon's crew as they near the completion of their regular schedule.

The result of the Senior tussle in Oshawa will be watched with interest by many fans, as a loss for the Peterborough team will put Oshawa in a tie with the locals and in all probability a sudden death fixture would have to be staged at the completion of the schedule as both Oshawa and the locals have defeated the other two entries with little difficulty.

ATTEMPT TO BEAT WORLD RECORD IN PONY JUMPING AT RODEO SHOW

Last Night's High Jumping Best Horsemanship Ever Seen in Peterboro.

BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT.

As an added attraction at the Welsh Brothers' Rodeo Show at the Brock street Rink, Josie Welsh is to attempt to break the world's record for pony high jumping, that now stands at six feet, two inches for ponies of fourteen hands, two inches and under.

Last night's high jumping events constituted the finest horsemanship seen in Peterborough in a long time. Peter Welsh, Jr., riding Pirate, Bob Watson on Grey Lady and Josie Welsh on the pony Two Step. Grey Lady went out of the contest at five feet three inches and Pirate at five feet nine inches while the audience requested Josie Welsh to try Two Step at the top of the jump, which measured six feet and one half inch after taking down the top pole. On the first attempt Two Step came back to clear beautifully.

Henry Nickol of Medicine Hat, Slim Hill of Estevan, Louis Welsh of Calgary, Joe Wilson of Lundbreck and Josie Welsh also gave some splendid, clean virile exhibitions of bronc and steer riding and many of the boys bit the dust.

There are thrills and spills aplenty provided by this outfit from the Canadian West, and everyone who has witnessed their thrilling exhibitions of horsemanship and plucky daring have been impressed by the ardour which the boys put into their work, unmindful of bruises and broken bones.

Last evening Powder River Thompson was slightly injured when a steer turned in the chute and caught the rider on the side of the nose with a cruel-looking horn. Curly Smith also suffered injuries to his leg when heavily thrown by a steer. And the crowd got a great thrill when Ranver Granger went the full length of the arena on a barebacked bronc, to be pitched with a resounding thud against the large doors at the entrance.

CAREER OF CRIME ENDS IN PRISON

Los Angeles Man Held for 2 Murders, 2 Attacks on Girls. Army Desertion.

TRAILED OVER YEAR.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—Everett Frank Lindsay, wanted for murder, army desertion and attacks on two girls, was arrested here last night through the efforts of a restaurant man who turned detective.

Police said Lindsay confessed to the various crimes attributed to him and announced he would waive extradition to Seattle, Wash., to face a charge of slaying his wife.

For more than a year and a half police throughout the Pacific Coast States had been on the trail of Lindsay, whose real name, they said, was Charles E. Murphy.

Officers said charges against Lindsay included the slaying of his wife, the murder of a farmer near Woodland, Wash., ten years ago, attacks upon an 11 year old Napa, Calif., girl and his own foster daughter, also a minor, and desertion from the United States' and Canadian armies.

A MOUNTAINEER AT HOME.

Faith in himself that brooks no fear
Doth mark the hardy mountaineer
—Farmer Brown's Boy

It seemed to Farmer Brown's Boy that never had he seen a more inspiring sight than Bighorn the Mountain Sheep standing as if carved in stone on a ledge a dizzy height above him. From that ledge there was a sheer drop of 200 feet or more, yet Bighorn stood on the very edge with as little concern as if he were on level ground. There was a proud grace in the way he held his head and the great curving horns were a fitting crown.

"I wish I could get nearer to him," thought Farmer Brown's Boy, "but if I move he will see me instantly and go. Perhaps if I keep still right here he will come nearer. I have found that I can sometimes see more by patient waiting for things to come to me than I can by going looking for them. Great Scott! Bighorn ought to know better than to try to come down that rocky slope. He'll break his neck."

Bighorn had left the ledge and started down a slope at one side so steep that it looked at that distance to be almost straight up and down. Of course it wasn't, but it was so steep that no man would have cared to attempt to go down it even with the help of hands wherewith to cling to projecting rocks. Bighorn had no hands, not even claws, only four black hoofs. Still he seemed not in the least concerned. He bounded from one little ledge to another where a slip would have meant a fall that would have killed him. He landed lightly on a jutting bit of rock, his feet close together, balanced for a moment and then jumped to another. He picked his way daintily over a slide of loose stones, sending one or two clattering down to the bottom. He bounded gracefully to a little shelf, paused for a moment to look off, and made a long jump to a ledge below.

So Bighorn came down and Farmer Brown's Boy held his breath at times and then let it out with little sighs of relief as Bighorn continued on his way without slip or misstep.

"A real mountaineer if ever there was one!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy under his breath. "I would like to see you go up and do it in a hurry. I thought Billy Surefoot was good but he lacks the grace of you and always seems to be picking his way with care. I suppose you are just as careful, but you don't show it. Hello! What is it now?"

Bighorn had thrown his head high and was the picture of alertness as he gazed steadily toward a jutting point of rock at about his own level. Farmer Brown's Boy could see nothing but the rock nor could he hear anything, but it was clear that Bighorn either saw or heard something, for there was an air of expectancy in the way he stood. Presently around the rock appeared another head with curving horns, but these were much smaller than those Bighorn wore.

"I do believe it is Mrs. Bighorn," muttered Farmer Brown's Boy, and it was. When she came into full view he saw that she was smaller and somewhat lighter in color than Bighorn. Behind her came two half-grown lambs. Easily the three picked their way down to where Bighorn waited for them. They had not come down the steep slope but had made their way around to join him. Perhaps it was because the lambs were not yet equal to such a feat and the risk was too great.

Bighorn now led the way, the others following. Now and then they stopped to get a bite to eat where little patches of green things grew among the rocks. So little by little they drew nearer to where Farmer Brown's Boy was hidden. Finally in a warm sunny place they all lay down, the two lambs close to their mother and Bighorn near by. It was as peaceful a scene as ever Farmer Brown's Boy had seen in the sheep pasture back home, and it was hard to believe that these were wild, free people, mountaineers at home only on these seemingly inhospitable mountain slopes.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 16th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:20 a.m. to noon, from 3:10 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and from 8:50 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., and from 5:45 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

For all those engaged in professional or scientific work, October 16th holds out bright prospects—so the Stars say. Problems that have hitherto presented difficulties, will be easily solved. Work that was held up will be prosecuted with renewed energy and clear vision. All other lines of endeavor will derive a benefit, although only a slight one, from the planetary influences.

A reasonable degree of success awaits the child born on this October 16th. It will be both ambitious and capable, as well as thrifty and economical. If a girl, it will have strong artistic tendencies, and an almost uncanny sense of color. Boys and girls alike will have happy dispositions, hosts of friends, and bright futures.

You, if born on October 16th, have a lovable disposition, although your character is weak. No one ever appeals in time of stress to you in vain. You speak ill of none. You are kind and generous to one and all—regardless of their merits. In the family circle, your mate and children love you devotedly but do not trust your judgment or seek your advice. They have seen too many evidences of your easy going ways and our gullibility. You have never yet learned the lesson to say "No."

In addition to goodness of heart—and there is no sacrifice you would not gladly make for those near and dear to you—you possess much natural ability, are extremely intelligent and work conscientiously. If you only possessed backbone, you could make a great success of your life. Many opportunities have come your way. You have seized them, and let them slide out of your grasp in order to assist some one else. You persist in helping others, rather than help yourself. As a consequence, your life is muddled and uncertain.

You are very fond of nature and all outdoor sports and recreations. You feel cramped in a city, and only breathe freely when far from bricks and mortar." Your horoscope denotes an atmosphere of great affection, but little material success.

Mrs. C. C. Garside Entertains Millbrook Branch of W.I. at October Meeting.

PLEASING PROGRAM

MILLBROOK, Oct. 16 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. C. C. Garside entertained the local branch of the Women's Institute for its October meeting, the president, Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, taking the chair, and the attendance being gratifying.

The treasurer, Mrs. Garside, reported receipts from the booth at the school fair as satisfactory, and some money had also been received from the sale of bulbs when these were taken up, with the other plants which the Institute had supplied round the cenotaph for the summer season.

A paper on the topic for the day was given by Mrs. John McKnight, and the roll call required answers on Hallowe'en customs and superstitions.

A feature of peculiar interest on the program, and one quite unexpected, was the solo, "The Holy City," by the "Blind organist," Mr. Trenear, formerly of Oshawa, and now with the Canadian Institute for the Blind, Toronto. Mr. Trenear plays his own acompaniments, and has a clear, high tenor voice, rich in quality, and his singing was greatly enjoyed by the listeners. After discussion acceding to a request, the Institute will sponsor a benefit concert on the first Friday evening in December at which Mr. Trenear will provide the program, using the pipe-organ by preference, hence the entertainment will be, it is expected, in Saint Andrew's Church.

A piano duet by Misses Dorothy McDowell and Mary Nattress was warmly encored, and at the close of the meeting the committee in charge, Mrs. Edgar Fallis, Mrs. Alex Harkness, and Mrs. Harvey Sanderson served dainty refreshments.

Annual Party Held By Little Helpers

Despite the very inclement weather of Wednesday afternoon, there was a good attendance of "Little Helpers" of the Font Roll with their mothers in St. George's Church basement for the annual party. The guests were received by the rector and Mrs. Hughes, after which a short service, consisting of hymn and prayers, was used. The mothers spent a social time together, while the little ones played games, and enjoyed the toys which had been provided for their use. The service of refreshments by Mrs. W. Stephenson, Mrs. C. Cole and Mrs. S. Parkes, members of the Women's Auxiliary, was a much appreciated part of the afternoon's program, and one to which full justice was done. The "mite boxes" brought in by the children realized a very substantial sum, the secretary, Mrs. W. Stephenson, having a busy time counting up the contents of the boxes.

Move Would Give Empire Producer Greater Share of British Market.

WIDELY ENDORSED.

LONDON, Oct. 16 (C.P. Cable).—Great impetus to the movement for guaranteeing the Empire producer a greater share of the British market as against the foreign producer, is given in an authoritative report issued to-day. It comes from a joint committee of the Central Chamber of Commerce and the Empire Economic Union, and has the endorsement of the Federation of British Industries.

The main conclusion is the British Government need not await another Imperial conference nor complete negotiations with the Dominions before going ahead with some sort of a quota scheme guaranteeing a fixed price to the domestic producer as well as giving the Empire producer a fixed share of the British market.

"Regarding products, we can produce in Britain but not sufficient to meet our whole demands," the reports says, "it must be left to the Government to decide how far we should act on our own initiative without waiting to negotiate with the Dominions, and how far assistance to our agriculture can be held up pending a Dominion conference. But in many instances the advantages given in return might justify a more substantial measure of protection against the foreigner and a greater measure of preference to the Empire producer than would otherwise be contemplated.

Combination System

"The question of what can only be adequately dealt with by a system combining the quota and a guaranteed price." The report suggests the minimum quantity of home-grown wheat of milling quality to be converted into flour in the United Kingdom should be fixed annually by the President of the Board of Trade, acting in co-operation with a wheat advisory Council. The guaranteed price to be paid by the millers for home-grown wheat of good milling quality would be similarly prescribed. The millers would receive a refund from the Treasury based on the difference between the guaranteed price to the domestic farmer and the ruling world price, calculated on the basis of relative prices of British wheat and foreign wheat of comparable quality over a period of five years.

"It is contemplated that a reasonably high duty on foreign flour, for instance 33 per cent. ad valorem, with free Empire entry up to a maximum total to be agreed on, normally would be sufficient to prevent the scheme from being interfered with by the excessive importation of flour," the report declares.

"The machinery set up for the administration of the quota system for home-grown wheat might also lend itself to the adoption of a quota system though without any guarantee of price, for Empire wheat," the report concludes.

American machines may be used for removing snow from Swiss roads.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE — NO. 5 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

As Tarzan fell from the cliff his body was brought to a stop by one of the many stunted trees that clung tenaciously to the wind-swept slope. Terrified, Nkima scampered to his master's side and pulled and tugged upon him in an effort to raise him, but the ape-man lay motionless, a tiny stream of blood trickling from a cut on his temple.

The black warriors, who had been watching them from below, clambered quickly up the mountains. Little Kkima made a futile and pathetic effort to keep them away from his fallen master, but they brushed him aside. Tarzan, unconscious, was surrounded by warriors of the Bagego tribe and carried to a hut in the village, a prisoner.

The next day Lukedi, one of the Bagegos, carried a gourd of milk to the hut. He shuddered with fear as he saw the figure of the giant white man who was sitting in the dim light on the turf floor, his wrists bound together behind his back and his ankles made secure with tough fibre strands.

Tarzan demanded that his bonds be loosened so that he could use his hands to drink. Lukedi called two slaves, who covered the ape-man with spears while Lukedi cut the fibre strands. Then an old, rusted slave chain and an ancient padlock were brought and Tarzan was fastened to the center pole while two men with spears stood guard.

Surgeons Discuss Aviation Accidents

NEW YORK N.Y., Oct. 16 (CP) Increase of accident injuries in aviation, as well as among motorists and industrial workers, was the subject of discussion to-day before the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

The discussions centered chiefly on the ways of conserving the safety and health of the automobile and plane riders and workers.

Dr. William R. Cubbins of Chicago, in a paper prepared by himself and Drs. Arthur H. Conley, James J. Callahan and Carlo S. Scuderi, said that flying and motoring accidents caused surgeons to give special attention to treatment of knee fractures. He described the technique by which surgery is attempting to prevent stiff knees.

"DIRTY WEATHER" FORECASTED FOR NORTH ATLANTIC SERIES

Bluenose and Gertrude L. Thebaud to Battle for Schooner Supremacy.

RACE STARTS SATURDAY

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 16 (CP)—Heavy fog blankets the salty course where two white-sailed Grand Bankers will battle for supremacy of the North Atlantic and the forecast is for "dirty weather" tomorrow when the first of the race series will be held.

Bluenose Canadian holder of the international trophy, and Gertrude L. Thebaud, United States challenger, are rolling the swell at their docks, undergoing a final grooming before the opening gun at nine o'clock on the morrow.

Two confident skippers are looking over their charges with apparent satisfaction. Captain Angus Walters, who has sailed Bluenose since she was a baby in 1921, decided that a small leak that developed on the run up from Lunenburg was not worth worrying about and is ready to take his chances with her as she stands. Captain Ben Pine is more worried about himself than Thebaud which he claims is in ship-shape. The Gloucester skipper's eyes are bothering him as a result of sinus trouble which forced him to travel to Halifax by train rather than on his boat.

Bluenose and Thebaud had a look at the course yesterday and will remain at their docks until the morning. During the workout they met off Chebucto Head but neither seemed anxious for a brush both skippers preferring to hide their lights under the bushel until the title was at stake.

"Give us a wind along with the dirty weather and Bluenose will do what we want her to do" declared the wiry Captain Angus at noon today. "She's not quite the racer she was when we won the tankard but she's O.K. despite the fact that she was on the rocks since then."

Captain Pine was not discussing the chances of Thebaud to repeat her performance of last year, when she trimmed Bluenose off Gloucester in a Lipton Cup race with no title at stake, but he expressed confidence in his ship and crew of veteran fishermen.
